Bevan Denies Revealing Cabinet Secrets

LONDON (CP) — Aneurin Bevan, leader of the Labor Party's left wing, today threw back party leader Clement Attlee's rebuke yesterday in the House of Commons. Bevan hotly denied he had committed a breach of constiutional propriety by referring in a speech during Wednesday's economic debate to a confidential discussion that took place in a meeting of the former Labor cabinet. Attlee, in the first serious open breach with Bevan, yesterday criticized the Welshman's action, saying there was a well-established rule against government members revealing confidential cabinet discussions.

ARMED WITH RECORDS

Armed with several huge volumes of records, Bevan said in the house today: "I plead not guilty to constitutional impropriety. On the contrary, what I have done is strictly in accordance with precedent."

Attlee made no reply. He had objected to Bevan's contention that several precautionary words in one of his speeches had been inserted at Bevan's insistence.

Bevan's statement presumably closes his clash with the official leader of the Labor Party. No other member of the party sought to involve himself in the controversy.

The fresh row was an echo of the clash which resulted in Bevan's quitting Attlee's cabinet in 1951. Bevan and two supporters resigned because they considered the Attlee government's arms drive was too big and too fast for the wobbly British economy and would threaten socialist measures such as the free health service.

CHURCHILL PLAN APPROVED

Churchill won parliament's approval yesterday of his plan to stretch out the £4,000,000,000 arms program from three to four years and change the whole pattern of defence building in order to save the country from bankruptcy.

During the debate, Bevan reminded parliament of his long-time position and claimed he personally had persuaded Attlee to insert escape clauses into Britain's rearmament undertakings. The escape clauses were designed to release Britain from her commitments if the United States did not come along with certain kinds of aid.

Attlee claimed this was a cabinet secret and he would not confirm or deny anything Bevan had claimed.

Second Riot Features Olympic Game

HELSINKI (CP)—Uruguay defeated Argentina 68-59 today in a nightmarish Olympic basketball game that featured a riot and ended with only seven players on the floor.

The victory gave Uruguay third place in the Olympic tournament final standing. Argentina finished fourth.

When the riot broke out, players and supporters of both teams exchanged blows and kicks in a melee that surged all over the floor.

The Uruguayan team was involved in another riotous out-break earlier in the tournament when Referee Vincent Farrell of Newark, N.J., was attacked at the end of a game between Uruguay and France.

Today, police and cooler heads among the spectators finally restored order after five minutes.

The fighting started after a mix-up under the basket which sent two Uruguayan players and one Argentine sprawling on the floor. They came up swinging and players and coaches from both benches rushed out to join in.

The game finally got under way again after about 10 minutes of arguing.

In an earlier game Bulgaria defeated France 58-44 to win seventh place. The loss left France eighth.

Full Splendor At Coronation

LONDON (Reuters) — David Eccles, minister of works, promised today that all the tradition and splendor of the past will be scrupulously observed at the Queen's coronation next year to make it "the most glorious and moving pageant in the world."

Eccles, in charge of public arrangements for the coronation, told a press conference his ministry had been busy for months on the design of fabrics and carpets for Westminster Abbey, where the Queen will be crowned June 2.

He said it is his responsibility to set the stage and build a "theatre" inside Westminster Abbey, to provide seats and standing room, decorations along the processional route (on crown property) flood-lighting, fireworks, and "those other expressions of public rejoicing."

He said that in 1937 it took five months to prepare the abbey for King George VI's coronation when seating was erected for 7,600 guests. "We cannot squeeze any one more in this time."

Find No Trace Of Missing Bride

LIVERPOOL (Reuters)— R. W. King, whose bride of two weeks vanished mysteriously from an Atlantic liner early Wednesday, said today he plans to return immediately to Canada.

"I want to get home as soon as possible," said the Edmonton electrician whose dream honey-moon was turned into tragedy. "This has been a terrible shock."

No explanation has been advanced for the disappearance of Vienna-born Benita King, 22. Her dress, shoes, handbag and sunglasses were found on the deck of the Cunard liner Ascania after her husband awoke to find her missing from their stateroom.

She had been to the ship's dance that night without him. He had remained in the cabin reading, then dropped off to sleep.

U.S. Developing A-Powered Ship

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, reporting progress on atomic-powered submarines and aircraft, today launched a new project: development of giant atomic-powered warships. The Atomic Energy Commission announced it had asked the Westinghouse Electric Company to develop an atomic engine capable of propelling "large vessels such as aircraft carriers." This immediately revived speculation that atom-powered battlewagons and giant commercial liners such as the Queen Mary and the United States could easily make 100,000-mile cruises at top speed—and without refueling.

Such estimates are based on the fact that a pound of fissionable uranium or plutonium could generate as much power as 1,500 tons of coal or 200,000 gallons of fuel oil.

REPORT PROGRESS

The A. E. C.'s announcement came only a few hours after release of its 12th semi-annual report to Congress in which the commission reported progress on the development of nuclear-powered aircraft and on two different types of atomic engines for submarines.

The fact that A. E. C. awarded the contract for the large-vessel project to Westinghouse indicates it believes that at least one submarine engine project is definitely assured of success.

This appears likely because Westinghouse is building an atomic submarine engine at Arco, Idaho, which is scheduled to be installed in the navy's projected atomic submarine, the Nautilus.

Evidently the navy, too, has no doubts that the engine will work, because the service has already laid the keel of the Nautilus.

Meanwhile, another projected atomic submarine engine is being built by General Electric at West Milton, N. Y.

MAY REACH 35 KNOTS

The designed power of the engines has not been disclosed, but President Truman gave an idea of it when, in speaking at the keel-laying of the Nautilus, he said the sub would cruise underwater at "more than 20 knots." Unofficial observers have speculated that atom-powered subs would be able to achieve 35 knots.

Atomic-powered ships could not sail the seas forever—like the storied "Flying Dutchman"—because uranium-fueled atomic furnaces must have their ashes dumped, somewhat like a coal furnace at home. And spent fuel would have to be replaced.

But for all practical purposes, their cruising ranges would be unlimited.

River Rises Two Feet, As Gates Opened

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) —Sault officials expressed alarm today after water in the St. Mary's River rose more than two feet in 24 hours, heavily damaging shore properties.

The water rose following the opening of 15 of 16 gates in a compensating dam holding back the waters of Lake Superior. Ottawa officials said the dam was opened because the lake had reached "dangeriously high levels" which threatened shore communities, roads and railways.

Last night George Nixon, Liberal member of parliament for Algoma West, telephoned Ottawa to ask that more of the gates be closed. today Mayor C. Herb Smale wired Resources Minister Winters asking that he intervene to close some of the gates. He said the city's sewage system is being slowed and basements are in danger of being flooded.

Gen. A.G.L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the International Joint Commission, said at Ottawa the commission sanctioned opening of the gates because Lake Superior levels had climbed to a few hundredths of a foot below the maximum height allowed under a Canada-United States agreement.

Today drivers are having trouble getting autos aboard ferries to cros the river here and company officials say the water will have to stop rising or the ferries will be forced to cease operations.

Workmen at many riverfront docks hurriedly moved equipment and supplies inland. Gravel, sand and coal piles are being eaten away by water. Steamshovel and railroad tracks are submerged.

The provincial air service base is using only one of its slipways. A further six-inch rise will flood its hangars.

Handy Electronic Brain Can Do Income Tax

NEW YORK (AP)—A relatively handy-sized electronic brain that can figure out your income tax or test the performance of a guided missile was unveiled in Brooklyn yesterday.

In a lighter moment at the demonstration, the machine defeated all comers at a game of nim, which is to tic-tac-toe like chess is to checkers.

Replete with tubes, wires and flashing lights, it is about seven feet by 10 feet and sells for $62,500.

44 Miners Injured At British Pit

BISHOP AUCKLAND, Durham England (Reuters)—Forty-four miners were injured at a pit near here today when a train of coal cars in which they were riding underground crashed into a line of stationary hoppers.

Doctors and rescue teams were rushed from nearby collieries. The injured men were mostly suffering from shock and minor injuries. The accident was believed to have been caused by a coupling snapping.

Believe Lion Near North Bay

NORTH BAY (CP)—A strange animal, the footprints of which indicate it may be a 200-pound mountain lion or cougar, has been seen roaming near Field, about 32 miles northwest of here.

The unidentified animal was first spotted last week by E.F. Tremblay and A.D. Anderson of the Ontario Lands department.

Trappers and woodsmen in the area have been asked to report any strange animal tracks found. Tom Cusson and Henry Haskins, wild life specialists, found a large footprint which they say was made by "an animal of the cat family weighing from 120 to 200 pounds."

It is believed the animal may have come from Michigan, where they have been seen, or may have escaped from one of two carnivals that have toured this area recently.

Hamilton Steel Workers Get Increase Equal To U.S.

HAMILTON (CP)—C. H. Millard said today that workers at the Steel Company of Canada plant here will receive a base pay rate equal to the base rate recently established in the United States steel industry—$1.43½ cents an hour. Mr. Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers of America C.I.O.-C.C.L. said in a statement that the agreement was approved by the union's basic steel committee as its immediate aim for other sections of the Canadian basic steel industry.

He was disclosing details of the settlement reached this week after lengthy negotiations with Stelco. Approval of the settlement will be recommended to Stelco workers at a meeting tonight.

The basic steel committee also represents unions of the Algoma Steel Corp. Ltd. at Sault Ste. Marie and the Dominion Steel and Coal Corp. Ltd. at Sydney, N.S. The statement said the latter two companies will be notified "that our demands have been adjusted accordingly."

"The union and the steel company have agreed to a program of job classification in accordance with the plan used for job classification in the American industry," the statement said.

2-YEAR AGREEMENT

"As in the American settlement, the Stelco memorandum calls for a two-year agreement with a wage re-opener in the spring of 1953. The agreement is retroactive to April 1, 1952 and will expire on April 1, 1954.

"...The cost-of-living bonus of nine cents has been ended and the base rate has been increased by 16½ cents an hour to $1.43½."

Of this 7½ cents will be retroactive to April 4, 1952, the first pay period after April 1, 1952.

MORE

The agreement sets up a new wage structure with a pay difference of four cents an hour between job classes.

"Beginning April 1, 1953, a sum of 13 cents an hour will be set aside in a pool. When the job classification program is completed, the new rates will be paid retroactive to that date."

Shift differentials have been increased to five cents and seven cents for afternoon and night shifts, from three cents and four cents. This also is retroactive to April 4, 1952.

Jackson Tries Don Jail Break

TORONTO (CP)—An attempt by Leonard Jackson, accused of murder, to break out of Toronto's Don Jail was disclosed today.

The disclosure came in the appearance before a Toronto court of 30-year-old James Morrison, a Don Jail guard, on a charge of attempting to facilitate the escape of Jackson. Morrison pleaded guilty and was remanded in custody to Aug. 3 for sentence.

The guard was arrested last night at the jail.

Jackson and Steve Suchan are charged with murder in connection with the March 6 shooting here of Sergeant of Detectives Edmund Tong.

Railways Adjourn Talks For Present

MONTREAL (CP)—Contract negotiations between Canadian railways and railway brotherhoods have been adjourned by the railways until further notification.

Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of labor who is acting as conciliator, said the railways wished to "consider" contents of discussions so far and will notify him when they are ready to continue the talks.

The 17 brotherhoods, representing 125,000 railway workers, are seeking a general wage increase of 45 cents an hour.

The negotiations were adjourned yesterday.

New Excuse For Russia

Envoy Criticizes Red Poster Bitterly Attacked By Pravda

MOSCOW (AP)—Pravda today bitterly attacked United States Ambassador George Kennan—without mentioning his name—for protesting against a Soviet poster picturing Russian planes chasing American aircraft.

In a lengthy editorial by its leading political writer, Y. Viktorov, the Communist Party newspaper also accused a long list of U.S. political leaders, magazines and newspapers of "warmongering."

The poster, displayed in Moscow in connection with Soviet aviation day last Sunday, referred to clash between U.S. and Soviet planes in April, 1950, in the Baltic area, in November, 1951, in the Balkans, and the same month in the Far East.

Kennan protested against the poster and refused to attend the show.

Pravda declared that "certain persons from American official circles would like to distract the attention of millions of Americans from their aggrressive plans, from their criminal policy of unleashing a new war.

"For these purposes the war mongers put into circulation by all means—lies, deceit and slander. Vain efforts! By their false game these gentlemen give themselves away as enemies of peace and the security of peoples."

Pravda asserted the poster was based on facts—"in all these cases, unasked guests were given a needed lesson. It serves as one more warning for those who would try to violate the inviolability of Soviet borders."

The state department in Washington said last week that Kennan had told the Russians the posters were an admission that Soviet fighters deliberately attacked the American planes.

Two of the three incidents depicted on the posters involved navy planes, each with 10 men aboard, which the U.S. charged were shot down by Russian fighters over international waters. No trace of either has been found.

The third was the case of an American supply plane forced dow by Soviet fighters in Hungary after it lost its bearings on a flight from West Germany to Yugoslavia. Hungary charged the U.S. airmen were spies and the U.S. was forced to pay $120,000 for their releaso.

Boat Motor Fails On Fishing Trip; Found By Plane

BARRIE (CP)—Four Oshawa residents were found safe on Lake Simcoe today after spending more than 20 hours on the lake in an open boat after their outboard motor failed. Rescued were: Alex Keenan, 46, his daughter, Kathleen, 14, his son, Ross, 19, and his daughter's freind, Ann O'Connor, 14. During the night police searched the shore of the lake, 40 miles north of Toronto, and private boats hunted over the water. A search plane piloted by Sam Rowe of Orillia sighted the missing boat today and directed a cabin cruiser to the scene. The four were in a 14-foot plywood skiff and were in good condition despite the cold night on the lake.

Kathleen said it was bitterly cold in the open "but we had several heavy coats."

MOTOR SEIZED

"The motor seized," said Mr. Keenan. "We worked on it for hours but couldn't get anywhere with it."

Miss O'Connor said the party had only one orange and three bottles of pop.

"It was the longest 20 hours I ever put in," said Kathleen.

Ross said he and his father spent most of the night trying to paddle "to somewhere." The girls helped too but "it was useless. The wind just kept us out there and we couldn't do anything about it."

The four set out yesterday for an afternoon's fishing. They were not missed till sunset. Then Mrs. Keenan, knowing her husband couldn't swim and the children were "poor swimmers," became worried and asked fellow campers to search for them.

Talks Opened On Saar Valley

PARIS (AP)—France and West Germany opened formal negotiations today on the future of the Saar Valley, the tiny frontier area which has been in dispute between the two countries for years.

If the dispute is settled by Sept. 15, the headquarters of the six-country Schuman plan for pooling West Europe's steel and coal production may be located there.

The French have proposed that the 1,000 square miles of coal-rich territory be "Europeanized" as a home for the Schuman plan. West Germans maintain that the area is German territory and should be returned to them.

The Saar, part of Germany before the Second World War, now controls its own domestic affairs but is linked economically with France.

UK Parliament Ratifies Bonn Conventions

LONDON (Reuters)—Parliament today gave final approval to ratification of the Bonn conventions, which end the allied occupation and bring West Germany into the European army.

Britain is the second country to approve the conventions. The United States Senate already has done so.

The House of Commons vote was 293 to 253, giving the Conservative government a majority of 40.

Minutes before the government had mustered a majority of 34 to put down a labor amendment urging that ratification be postponed. It was after this first 294-to-260 vote that the opposition demanded a vote on the government's motion. Amid cries of "shame" and "disgraceful," the members prepared to vote.

During the debate foreign undersecretary Anthony Nutting rejected the opposition's contention that early ratification would prejudice negotiations with Russia.

Packers, Union Have Reached New Agreement

TORONTO (CP)—F.W. Dowling said today that agreement has been reached between the United Packinghouse Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) and the big three of Canada's meat-packing industry—Canada Packers, Burns and Company and Swift Canadian co.

Mr. Dowling, Canadian director of the union, said in a statement the agreement covers 10,000 employees in 22 plants of the three companies. Terms of the agreement will not be disclosed until they have been approved by the union's membership. The union's 23-man policy committee already has approved them.

The statement said about 3,000 employees in smaller independent plants are expected to be affected as these usually follow the lead of the big three.

Alfred Barber, president of Local 210, U.P.W.A., represented some 200 Peterborough workers in the Canada Packers plant here in the Toronto negotiations.

The union originally asked for a 40-hour week and a substantial wage increase; guaranteed annual wage; better hospital and surgical plan; improved vacation plan; a pension of $125 a month at the age of 65, and 10 paid annual holidays. This includes the eight statutory holidays, plus Remembrance Day and Boxing Day.

Illegal Gold May Be Canada's

SUDBURY (CP)—Police Chief J.D. Burger said today he believes that $92,000 worth of illegal gold seized at Singapore may be the bullion stolen at the Canadian Pacific Railway station here last May 29. The gold here was estimated worth more than $90,000.

He sent a cable to British customs officials at Hong Kong asking for more information. A Singapore dispatch Tuesday said customs officials there seized the gold aboard the vessel Sangola on its arrival from Hong Kong, the biggest haul of illegal gold ever made at Singapore.

An analysis of the gold, Chief Burger said, would show whether the bricks are the ones stolen here. The gold was taken by two men who walked nonchalantly off the crowded railway platform after lifting them from a mail car on which they had been placed for transfer to another train.

The gold was en route to the mint at Ottawa from Trail, B.C.

Clifford Buckley, 39, of suburban Minnow Lake, a C.P.R. baggage porter who helped unload the bricks from a railway mail car, was recently committed for trial by a higher court on a charge of theft of the gold. Two other men are sought.

$25,000 Oshawa Fire

OSHAWA (CP)—Fire early today caused $25,000 damage to a restaurant and bake shop in the main business section of this city. Firemen kept the blaze from spreading to two adjoining buildings.

Order Corruption Purge

Egyptian Army Withdraws From Country's Politics

CAIRO (AP)—Gen. Mohammed Naguib, leader of the military coup which ousted King Farouk from Egypt's throne, today announced the army's withdrawal from politics but warned that corruption must be purged from the country.

At the same time, the powerful Wafdist party called on the country to stay out of the western-proposed mid-east defence pact and to refuse negotiation of its Suez Canal and Sudan disputes with Britain.

The strongly-nationalist Wafd, which dominated the lower house of parliament before its dissolution last March, also asked the revival of the old parliament. The new government already is considering such action because parliament must approve the regency council which will rule for infant King Fuad II.

Naguib sounded his call for a complete clean-up of Egyptian private and public life at a press conference shortly after he made public the text of his abdication ultimatum to Farouk July 26.

The general said "henceforth we will leave all political matters in the hands of the government which is governing under the constitution—a government for whose establishment we have struggled."

Urging all citizens to follow the army's lead in cleaning up their private lives, Naguib said the military demanded that all political parties and societies take similar measures.

U.N. Pilots Down 3 Red Jets

Allied Infantrymen Recapture Crest of Old Baldy

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The United States fifth air force said United Nations pilots shot down three Communist jets and damaged two over North Korea today as clearing weather brought renewed intensity to the war.

The U. S. eighth army said bayonet-wielding Allied infantrymen recaptured the crest of Old Baldy Hill in a bloody eight-hour fight on the western front.

The Russian-made MIG-15 jets were shot down in the first all-jet battle since July 23. Planes from a flight of 32 U. S. Sabre jets battled elements of more than 60 MIGs for 10 minutes near the Korea-Manchuria border. Allied losses, if any, were not reported.

REDS LOSE 32 PLANES

A monthly air force summary reported that the Communists lost 32 planes in July, the United Nations 19.

Supported by fighter bombers and artillery fire, Allied soldiers stormed Old Baldy from two sides Thursday night. By dawn Friday, they had forced an estimated 200 Chinese Reds down its mud-caked slopes and immediately began digging in.

Recapture of the strategic outpost west of Chorwon marked the first intense ground fighting since last Saturday, the first of six days of heavy rain.

The surprise Allied pincer movement came just 10 days after a Chinese battalion seized the barren crest.

New Trial Ordered For Sleeping Sentry

WASHINGTON (AP)—The court of military appeals yesterday ordered a new trial for a 20-year-old New Jersey soldier who was court-martialled and sentenced to 10 years at hard labor for allegedly sleeping on sentry duty at the Korean War front.

The soldier is Pte. Warren G. McConnell of Alloway, N.J.

After his conviction by a court martial in Korea, Dec. 10, 1951, McConnell wrote a letter to his father saying he had been without sleep for 72 hours and was "numb all over" when he drew sentry duty on a bitterly cold night.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office in Toronto at 930 a.m. E.D.T., today:

Over southern Ontario the weather was clear and cool again last night. Early morning temperatures today were near 40 in the Muskoka and Haliburton resort areas and in the mid-40s in some localities of southwestern Ontario.

A weak disturbance moving southward across northern Ontario caused considerable cloudiness and occasional showers or thunder showers in these northern districts. This disturbance is forecast to push southward across most of the province today and Saturday accompanied by a few showers or thunderstorms. In the warming trend ahead of the disturbance temperatures should reach 80 today and the mid-80s Saturday over southern Ontario. Following the disturbance is another northwesterly flow of cool air from northern Canada.

Lake Ontario and Northern Lake Huron regions; Toronto city:

Sunny today, clouding over after midnight tonight. Saturday sunny with a few cloudy intervals. Chance of a thundershower late tonight and again Saturday afternoon. Warmer today and Saturday. Winds light. Low tonight and high Saturday at Wingham and Trenton 55 and 80, Toronto 60 and 85.

Summary for Saturday: Warmer. Chance of thundershowers.

Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions; North Bay city:

Cloudy today with a few showers or thundershowers beginning this afternoon ending early Saturday. Sunny and cooler Saturday. Winds southwest 20 today, light Saturday. Low tonight and high Saturday at Muskoka 55 and 75, Killaloe 55 and 80, North Bay 55 and 70.

Summary for Saturday: Sunny and cooler.

Begin Purchase Of Army Tract

OTTAWA (CP) — Purchase will begin within two weeks of a 20-by-30-mile tract of land northwest of Saint John, N.B., as a training ground for major formations of Canada's expanding army, defence Minister Claxton announced today.

The new area is expected to cost more than $25,000,000 and will take from two to three years to build. Accommodation will be provided to train a brigade in permanent quarters year-round and a division in emergency quarters.

The area is situated in sparsely-populated parts of the counties of Queens and Sunbury west of the Saint John River Road. It includes parts of the parishes of Petersville, Hampstead, Burton and Gagetown.

Ready To Contribute Million Soldiers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Australia and New Zealand are ready to contribute 1,000,000 fighting men to the defence of Japan, the United States, or the Philippines if the Soviet Union attacks in the Pacific, the Australian ambassador to the U.S. said yesterday.

Sir Percy Spender told members of the Commonwealth Club the obligation to supply a fighting force is in the terms of the mutual defence pact among Australia, New Zealand and the U.S.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3 7-16 per cent, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Thursday's noon rate was 96 9-16 cents.

The pound sterling was $2.69¾ against $2.68¾.

Driver Fined $1,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Joseph Briggs was fined $1,000 yesterday for driving without a licence—one of the stiffest fines in traffic history. Briggs, 31, had been ticketed five times in 18 months for the same offence.

C.C.F. Loses Out On Forming Minority Gov't

VICTORIA (CP)—The Social Credit party is expected to be asked today to form a minority government in British Columbia, ending more than 1½ months of "caretaker" administration.

This move, which will formally end the Liberal Administration crushed in the June 12 election, became imminent after an appeal court decision yesterday erased faint C.C.F. hopes of riding into power on a recount.

The decision, in effect, cleared the last roadblock remaining in the path of Social Credit.

The C.C.F. wanted a recount in the closely-contested Vancouver-Burrard riding, where C.C.F. candidate Grant MacNeil lost by 246 votes to Social Crediter Bert Price.

A C.C.F. victory in Vancouver-Burrard would have reversed the present strength of the two parties, giving the C.C.F. 19 seats to 18 for Social Credit.

NO JURISDICTION

Three justices of the B.C. court of Appeals agreed yesterday that they did not have the jurisdiction to hear a C.C.F. appeal from a county court decision which ruled against the C.C.F.'s request for a recount.

Chief Justice Gordon Sloan said the lower court decision "can be appealed only in the case of a recount." As there was no recount there could be no appeal.

The oral judgment said that the tenor of relevant sections of the Elections Act "clearly indicates it was the intention of the legislature that an appeal could only be brought after the completion of a recount."

"In this case, the recount was never entered upon by the county court judge—J.A. McGeer—much less completed. Therefore the appeal is quashed."

Judge McGeer earlier this week dismissed the C.C.F. application on a technicality. The application designated the riding simply and incorrectly as "Burrard" instead of Vancouver-Burrard.

The party standing in the legislature is: Social Credit 19, C.C.F. 18, Liberals seven, Progressive Conservative three and Labor one.

P-C APPEALS

Premier-designate W.A.C. Bennet arrived in Victoria yesterday, saying he hadn't been summoned by the Lieutenant-governor and smilingly insisting he was simply on a holiday.

But he did say he believed B.C.'s next government should be seated as soon as possible "for the welfare of the people."

There was one other election development yesterday. Progressive Conservative A. Reg MacDougall, Q.C., announced he will appeal the recount which Tuesday cost him re-election on Vancouver-Point Grey's "A" ballot. MacDougall, winner on the original count, lost out to Liberal T.R. Burnett in the judicial recount.

Report Prices Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices were mixed and trendless today in early afternoon stock market trading.

Industrials weakened as profit-taking skimmed yesterday's advance. Golds slipped slightly but base metals held firm. Western oils were mixed.

Activity concentrated on a list of selected stocks but trading was slightly more active than previous slow dealings. Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,087,000 shares.

In industrial issues, utilities were weak as major stocks dropped fractions. Papers, constructions, steels, liquors, refining oils and miscellaneous issues were firm but others were mixed.

Senior golds were weak but some secondary issues drew support especially in prospects and holding companies.

Base metals advanced cautiously in early trading led by a few strong issues.

Higher-priced western oils advanced but most issues showed small declines.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials down .09 at 329.98, golds down .45 at 92.56, base metals up .50 at 199.13 and western oils up .33 at 139.46.

Ceiling Collapses At Texas Theatre

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A large section of plaster ceiling collapsed in the old Queen theatre yesterday, injuring 13 of a youthful audience that had come to see a Tarzan thriller. Three were hurt seriously.

The ceiling fell in six minutes after the theatre began its first show of the day. Panic-stricken youngsters—most of them 6 to 15—rushed from the theatre. Three children had to be dug out. Two were unconscious but quickly revived.

Will Not Interfere Over Dam Gates

OTTAWA (CP)—The Resources department will not interfere with the International Joint Commission action opening the dam gates controlling Lake Superior waters, an official said today.

He said the department received several requests for such action from Sault Ste. Marie authorities.

The officials said the resources department could in some cases make certain recommendations to the commission but in this case flooding posed a greater threat to the Lake Superior region than to the lower lakes and the Sault area.

Workers At PUC Get Wage Boost

Employees of the Peterborough Utilities Commission have been re-rated as the result of an analysis of wages made by a special committee.

Estimated extra cost to the P.U.C. will be $112.86 a week, or $5,868 a year. There are 124 employees who will be affected.

Approval of the new ratings was given Wednesday at a meeting of the P.U.C. There was little discussion as the matter had been thoroughly threshed out before.

Gordon S. Matthews, chairman, queried the wisdom of passing the new rating schedule with Commissioner Dr. Gordon S. Langley being present. But Ross L. Dobbin, manager of the P.U.C., said Dr. Langley was aware of the changes.

Recently the P.U.C. signed a collective bargaining agreement with the Independent Peterborough Utilities Commission Employees Union.

The agreement covers the bulk of the employees but excludes office staff, confidential workers, foremen and anybody above the rank of foreman. It stipulates the hours of work, overtime pay, includes a standard cost-of-living clause, and the union checkoff on the request of the employee.

India Again Adopts Role As Conference Peacemaker

TORONTO (CP)—India has again adopted the role of peacemaker, this time at the 18th International Red Cross Conference.

Shri R.R. Saksena, India's high commissioner, asked the conference to bring East and West together to form an impartial body to investigate Communist charges of alleged United Nations atrocities in Korea. He said he was confused by conference meetings which so far have consisted mainly of Communist charges and hastily-passed votes ignoring them.

One of the main centres of attack by the Soviet bloc has been the International Committee composed of 25 Swiss citizens. Communist delegates have termed the committee a tool of the West.

"It is not sufficient merely to pass resolutions endorsing the I.C.R.C.," said Mr. Saksena. "We should have taken advantage of the presence here of delegates who are not satisfied with the operations of the I.C.R.C., and tried to reduce their grievances."

One of the first effects of the Communist propaganda appeared yesterday as the Chinese Nationalist delegation withdrew from the conference.

Dr. J. Heng Liu, head of the delegation, told a press conference he was leaving because the Red Chinese delegation had been seated and because of its attitude since it arrived.

"The unfortunate fact is—and no man of goodwill will deny it—this conference has been made into a political forum, political in its worst sense. The presence of the Communists made this inevitable."

At the conference preliminary hearings last week, each Chinese delegation protested the presence of the other. Conference heads decided to seat both groups.

There was little activity during yesterday's sessions as more than 600 delegates visited Niagara Falls to tour a $300,000,000 expansion project of the Ontario Hydro Commission.

Steel Company Signs Temporary Pact

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Production of defence-vital steel got another boost today as Crucible Steel Co. prepared to resume work.

Crucible and the United Steelworkers Union (C. I. O.) signed a temporary agreement yesterday which will result in the company's 14,000 employees returning to their jobs immediately.

The agreement is similar to the strike-ending pact which the union and the six biggest steel companies in the United States agreed upon last week. It provides an average 21-cent-an-hour pay boost for men now getting nearly $2 an hour.

PROVIDES UNION SHOP

Crucible's contract continues to provide a union shop whereby all new employees must join and remain members of the union. The Steelworkers' contract with the "Big Six" provides a modified union shop which permits new employees to withdraw from the union between the 15th and 30th day of employment.

Crucible has plants in Pittsburgh, Midland, Pa., Harrison, N. J., and Syracuse, N. Y.

Although the union reached a strike-ending agreement with the "Big Six" companies, it now is negotiating a complete contract. Negotiating sessions are under way with U. S. Steel and other firms. There was no report of progress from yesterday's first meeting with U. S. Steel and it was indicated the sessions may be lengthy.

NEGOTIATING CONTRACTS

Meanwhile, the union is negotiating contracts with some firms which thus far have not gone along with the agreement which ended the 55-day strike against the big producers.

As the steel industry roared toward full production the auto industry's big three producers—General Motors, Chrysler and Ford—announced plans for stepping up lagging production.

Chrysler says it will reopen its foundries next week and hopes to have 55,000 employees back the following week.

Ford plans to resume five-day operations next week at its 15 division assembly plants, affecting 22,000 employees.

General Motors said its vast production network will remain crippled indefinitely. However, it said it will have 5,200 workers back on the job at Saginaw, Mich., Monday and 23,000 at Flint, Mich., by the middle of next week.

Lose Navigation Marker In Lake

WINDSOR (CP)—Lake St. Clair yachtsmen and fishermen have lost a navigation marker through the ceaseless pounding of the Lake's waves.

Eighty years ago Samuel Stover built a 50-foot observation tower of sycamore wood on his Lake St. Clair estate 10 miles east of Windsor.

Stover and his friends could see lake ships moving through the Lake St. Clair channel from the top of the gleaming white structure.

Conversely, lake sailors could see the red-topped tower 40 miles away. They used it to plot their courses.

The sycamore wood weathered well but waves cut away the 50-foot strip of land between the tower and the lake. Wednesday night winds gave a final push and the tower crashed down.

Angry Canal Gates Opened

DETROIT (AP)—Bert Robb, director of Michigan's waterways commission, said last night he was "totally surprised" by the release of Lake Superior waters into the lower lakes and was bitterly critical of the move.

"Residents of the lower lake areas already have taken it on the chin to the extent of more than $31,000,000 from high waters, and now they dump more water on us," said Robb.

He commented on an announcement in Ottawa by Gen. A.G.L. McNaughton, Canadian chairman of the International Joint Commission. McNaughton said the dam gates at the Sault Ste. Marie locks were lowered because high Lake Superior waters were threatening shore communities and transportation facilities.

Robb, who also is chairman of a group representing all state agencies affected adversely by high lake levels, disputed McNaughton's statement. He said Col. John Bristor of the United States Army corps of engineers here, a representative on the board of control of the joint commission, had assured the state that the gates would remain closed. He added that state officials had not been notified of the move.

Finish 2nd Section Of Oil Pipeline

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Completion of the second 60-mile section of a $10,000,000 oil pipeline from Sarnia to Toronto was announced today by Imperial Oil, Ltd.

First portion was completed from Sarnia to London this spring. Now it has reached Waterford. A pumping station is to be built at Waterford. Next step will be a spur line to Hamilton which will run for 5,300 feet across Hamilton harbor.

Maj. Sammy Lee Wins Diving Championship

HELSINKI (CP)—Maj. Sammy Lee of the United States won the Olympic platform diving championship today, retaining the title he took at the games in London in 1948.

Joaquin Capilla of Mexico was second, Hunther Haase of Germany third and John McCormack of the United States fourth.

3500 People Attended Oliver Farm Sale

DUNDALK, ONT. (CP)—More than 3,500 yesterday attended a big auction sale at the farm of Farquhar Oliver, Liberal house leader in the Ontario legislature. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver have bought a house in nearby Priceville, some 40 miles southeast of Owen Sound.

Proceeds from the auction totalled $27,350. The farm, in Artemesia Township, was one of the best-equipped in the district. More than 100 head of cattle were sold.

Steamship Company Grants 10-Cent Raise

CLEVELAND (AP)—Interlake Steamship Company announced today it has granted 10-per-cent wage increases to the 1,200 sailors manning its Great Lakes fleet of ore carriers.

Interlake is operated by the Cleveland iron ore firm, Pickands Mather and Co. The wage hike, subject to approval by the wage stabilization board, is effective Sept. 1.

In Buffalo, unionist Joseph P. Molony called the increase "the first tangible result of the C.I.A.-United Steelworkers organizing drive among the Great Lakes Sailors."

Watched Police Citizen Fined

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—Everywhere that Detective Superintendent John Lamport went on his rounds of detecting citizen Frederick Mardlin went too. The officer finally got an uncomfortable impression of being watched.

So today he hailed Mardlin before a magistrate. It is against an act passed in the reign of King Edward III (1312-1377) to shadow the police.

Mardlin said he thought high police officers ought to be watched, and that he was merely doing his duty as a citizen.

The court held that according to King Edward's old law watching cops too intently could be disturbing to the peace Mardlin was required to post £10 as a guarantee that he won't do it any more.

Ontario Gov't To Investigate Taxes In Twp.

TORONTO (CP)—Threats of secession, screams of protest against high taxes, clamor over lack of schools, sewers and other amenities—these mark Toronto's growing pains.

The situation, paralleled in other Canadian cities under the impetus of Canada's post-war expansion, has been brought to a head in Toronto Township, a few miles west of the city, where residents are enraged by a tax increase as high as 300 per cent.

Yesterday, William Bayliss, president of the Lakeview Businessmen's Association, proposed formation of a new city between Toronto and Hamilton with an approximate population of 25,000.

The association is investigating the possibility of the secession of Lakeview Village from the township to join with other tax-beleaguered suburbs in search of relief.

NOTHING NEW

Such proposals are not new. York Township, on the city's northwest edge, has heard them before. With a population of more than 96,000, it would have become one of Canada's larger cities if the proposal had carried.

The suburban problem's many angles are pointed up by the fact that in 1941 there were 233,034 residents in the Toronto suburban areas. The 1951 census showed a jump to almost double this figure —441,716.

This often has resulted in a tug-of-war between newcomers and rural-minded councils, which have few industries to support the many services demanded. Hence the heavy taxes.

Baby Under 2 Pounds Reported Doing Well

KINGSTON (CP)—A baby girl who weighed less than 1¾ pounds when born three months premature last Monday is reported doing well in a hospital incubator.

She is the first child born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shaw. The birth was at the home of Mrs. Shaw's mother, Mrs. Lena Mitchell without help of a doctor. A neighbor, Mrs. L. Jamieson, assisted.

The child is expected to stay in the incubator until her weight reaches five pounds. Hospital officials say this will take about three or four months.

World Bank Keeping Dollar Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The World Bank said yesterday its charter required it to continue to value the Canadian dollar in its capital subscription at approximately 90.2 cents, U.S., for book-keeping purposes until Canada fixes a new par exchange rate.

Canada abandoned the 90.2 par rate for its dollar in the fall of 1950, allowing the exchange value to move in response to supply and demand in the foreign exchange market. Most of the time since, the Canadian dollar has gained on the U.S. dollar. Currently it has the market worth of about $1.03 U.S.

Officials of the bank said Canada, to meet a membership subscription assessed in gold value—$35 U.S. to the ounce—turned in 57,50,000 of its dollars several years ago as being worth 90.2 U.S. cents a piece, because that was the par figure then fixed by Canada and the world monetary fund.

Should Canada fix a par at the current market of $1.03, they said, the bank would return some $6,000,000 (Canadian) to Canada.

OUTBOARD MARINE EMPLOYEES were presented Thursday with watches in recognition of 15 years or more of service. A group of 20 were recipients, with Clarence B. 15-Year Workers At Outboard Receive Watches

Twenty Outboard Marine Co. employees were presented Thursday with watches to mark 15 years of service with the company. President Clarence B. Neal made the presentations at a ceremony held in the firm's board room.

Speaking of the "remarkable growth and expansion in our company" during the past 15 years, Mr. Neal congratulated the group on their loyalty and the work they had done to make the growth possible.

The watches, he said, were not presented as mere gifts, but were emblematic "of the value which your company places on the loyalty and goodwill of its employees."

Following are the names of those who received the watches:

L. W. G. Warren, J. A. Ferren, S. C. Kerneghan, N. V. Damario, J. D. Graham, E. A. Armstrong, C. H. Hotston, V. E. Minicola, P. McArthur, J. Boyle Jr., J. O. Kennalley, S. R. Mitchell, T. G. Smith, G. N. Rutherford, C. F. Brien, M. W. Douglas, H. Neal, D. R. Jackman, W. J. Harland, L. H. Leal.

PROTECT THE GARDEN HOSE — by hanging it up on shady side of house after use so that it is thoroughly drained. All you need is a small pulley under the eaves and a rope used the same as on a flag pole.

GOOD SUPPORTS for such flowers as peonies and delphiniums may easily be fashioned from stakes, 1-½ or 2-inch square, painted green. Screw in hooks at one-foot intervals to support wire loops or wooden hoops.

MRS. THOMAS JAMIESON

HAVELOCK (ENS) — Mrs. Agnes Jamieson, 81, widow of Thomas Jamieson, died on Wednesday morning at the Stouffville Rest Home, Stouffville.

Mrs. Jamieson's death followed an illness of four months. She had lived in Havelock for eight years, coming here from Toronto where she resided at 94 Raglan Avenue.

She was a member of Knox Presbyterian Church, Dorcas Rebekah Lodge No. 98, and Prosperity Chapter No. 63, Order Eastern Star.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Thomas McGul, of Toronto; three sons, Willard, of Winnipeg; Clifford, of Toronto; Harry, of Havelock; six grandsons, Allan Jamieson, of Three Rivers, Que.; Thomas E. Jamieson, Barrie Jamieson, of Toronto; Robert Baines, of New Toronto; Gerald Baines, of Hamilton; Graydon Baines, of Stouffville; three granddaughters, Eleanor Baines, of Toronto; Anne Jamieson, of Winnipeg, Man., and Marjory Palmer, of Detroit, Mich.

The Rev. R. D. Duncanson, of Knox Church, Havelock, conducted the funeral service at McDougall and Brown funeral home, Toronto, today, at 2.30 p.m.

Farm Worker Injured

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A new Canadian farm worker from the Rodney area is seriously ill in St. Joseph's hospital here after being crushed between two wagons during harvesting operations yesterday. Doctors said the man, Antonias Grigas, 42, suffered back and chest injuries and was in serious condition.

Three Convicted Of Stealing Dog

BANCROFT—(ENS)—A total of $232.00 in fines was levied as Magistrate R. C. Jackson presided over a varied docket of cases in Bancroft magistrate's court on Wednesday. The cases heard ranged from infractions of the Liquor Control Act to a charge of assault occasioning actual bodily harm against a Whitney man, the aftermath of a dance hall fight.

Donald Matin, Pat Dubreuil and Leonard Kuiak were each placed on a one-year suspended sentence and ordered to pay court costs of $17.50 upon being convicted of the theft of a pet spaniel from the Arlington Hotel, Maynooth. The dog was recovered several days after its disappearance from hotel by a member of the Bancroft detachment of the provincial police. The three men are all Whitney residents.

Gordon Highland, Whitney, was assessed a fine of $50 and court costs of $15.50 as the result of a conviction of assault occasioning actual bodily harm on another Whitney resident, John Dargus. The charge arose as the aftermath of a fracas at the Lake St. Peter dance pavilion last week, in which Dargus sustained a broken nose and other injuries.

A summer resident at Lake Baptiste, Bruce Canning, 17, was convicted of driving while his license was under suspension as the result of being involved in accident near his home last week. Canning paid a fine of $25 and costs after pleading that he was unaware his permit was still suspended.

Causing a disturbance at the Papineau Lake dance hall last weekend cost Arthur Pesheau, Combermere, $10 and costs after charges were preferred by the owner.

Five other district residents paid fines of $15 and costs for breaches of the Liquor Control Act. Several other cases of a more serious nature were adjourned to the next court.

Sir Wm. Griffiths Dies In England

REDHILL, Herford, England (Reuters)—Sir William Thomas Griffiths, 57, vice-president of the International Company of Canada Limited from 1945 to 1950, died in hospital here Wednesday, it was announced yesterday.

During the same years, he was chairman and managing director of the Mond Nickel Company Limited.

The son of a Welsh clergyman, he was a recognized metallurgical expert and published a number of papers in scientific and technical journals. He was a research metallurgist from 1921 to 1926 and from then until 1945 was manager of the research and development department of the Mond Nickel Company Limited.

In 1948 he was awarded the Simms gold medal by the council of the Royal Aeronautical Society for a paper on high temperature alloys for gas turbines.

He was a member of the grand council of the Federation of British Industries, had served on the councils of the British Iron and Steel Research Association, the British Non-Ferrous Metals Research Association, the British Cast Iron Research Association and the Iron and Steel Institute.

He leaves a widow and two daughters.

Four members of the club will go to Belleville and Peterborough fairs this fall, to enter the judging competitions.

Arms And Man 1st Shaw Play Summer Theatre

Next Monday evening the Summer Theatre makes yet another change of pace, moving this time into the realm of high comedy, with George Bernard Shaw's scintillating and brilliant comic play, "Arms and the Man." This is the first G. B. Shaw play to be produced by the Summer Theatre and it was chosen by the audiences in the program poll at the close of last season.

"Arms and the Man" is one of the funniest plays to come from the pen of the bearded Irish wit, and it remains today just as fresh and amusing as when he first wrote it. Shaw himself humorously refers to the play as an anti-romantic comedy.

The scene of the play is Bulgaria, just before the turn of the century. Into the bedroom of Raina comes Bluntschli to take refuge from the pursuing Russian and Bulgarian armies. He is a Swiss mercenary serving with the Serbian army which has just been defeated by the Russians. Raina hides him in her bedchamber from the searching Russians, and though her father is the highest ranking officer in the Bulgarian army she decides to protect him.

He is a coward not suited to army life, but with a wonderfully human philosophy towards the world. He stays on in the house, and becomes Raina's "chocolate soldier." Even the appearance of Sergius, a striking and pompous officer in the Bulgarian army and fiancee of Raina, fails to disturb him.

The humor and richness of the lines are Shaw at his best. When last produced in London, a few seasons ago, it proved to be one of the greatest successes the Old Vic has ever had; in that distinguished production Laurence Olivier played Sergius, and Ralph Richardson Bluntschli.

TOP ACTORS

In next week's production at the Summer Theatre, Bill Needles and Gerry Sarracini will play the two roles. Also in the cast are Betty Leighton, Patricia Moore, Brenda Davies, Jerry Compbell, Peter Mews, and Ian Clark. Robertson Davies will be guest director at the Summer Theatre for the production.

The musical version of the play, "The Chocolate Soldier," has also proved to be one of the most successful musical comedies ever produced, and it was also made into a popular movie.

Hold No Inquest When Farmer Killed

COBOURG (ENS)—No inquest will be held in conection with the fatality last Friday in which Harold Taylor, of R.R. 5, Cobourg, was the victim, it was announced Thursday by Crown Attorney Harry Deyman, of Cobourg. The cause of the accident was obvious and there are no circumstances in connection with the case which would make an inquest of any use, it was pointed out. Mr. Taylor was killed when his tractor dropped through a bridge on his farm while he was hauling a wagon load of grain. He was pinned under the farm tractor and died instantly.

Holiday Traffic Heavy On No. 2

COBOURG (ENS) — Weekend traffic has already started in spite of the fact that the big rush usually doesn't commence until Friday. Last night and late Thursday afternoon, the traffic stepped up its intensity and a steady stream of cars rolled through town. The tourist office of the Chamber of Commerce anticipates a new record for enquiries. Provincial police will have no holiday and are bracing themselves for the grim job of patrolling the highways in the hope of keeping the accident rate down as much as possible. They are hoping that motorists will drive sensibly but are prepared to cope with the possibility that they will have an accident toll.

Indian Dies During Fast

PATNA, India (Reuters)—Pandit Ramchandra Sharma Veer, 45-year-old ascetic who undertook a 65-day fast to press his demand for a ban on cow slaughter, died here yesterday—25th day of his fast.

Veer Wednesday declined appeals from friends to end his fast on grounds of health.

"I prefer to die if it will help revive a love for cows," he said.

Red Cross And Red Flag

The Communist bloc is attempting to use the conference of the International Red Cross, now meeting in Toronto, as a sounding-board for their propaganda. So far they have failed miserably to impress anybody but themselves.

* * *

They have been seeking to impugn the impartiality of the International Committee on the grounds that it is composed entirely of Swiss nationals. It is true that Switzerland holds a privileged place in the councils of the Red Cross. There are several good reasons for continuing the arrangement. In the first place the Red Cross was founded by Jean-Henri Dunant, the Swiss philanthropist, and the very emblem of the Red Cross on a white background was a tribute to Switzerland, whose flag is a white cross on a red background. In the second place Switzerland herself, with her mixed population of German, French and Italian-speaking citizens all enjoying equal rights and living together happily in a small country, is an object lesson to the world in tolerance. Thirdly the Swiss are perhaps the most internationally-minded people in the world. Newspapers such as the Journal de Geneve and the Basler Nachrichten keep the Swiss remarkably well informed about world affairs. Fourthly it has been shown time and again in recent years how ineffective international committees can be when their members are drawn from different countries: the present arrangement of leaving it all to the Swiss has worked well up to the present.

* * *

Finally Switzerland is a small country with no territorial ambitions. The Swiss have maintained their neutrality since the Reformation. During the Napoleonic wars their country was occupied by the French, but apart from this they have not been invaded or occupied since the fifteenth century. During two world wars they maintained a precarious neutrality, but their military preparedness and the mountainous nature of the country were sufficient deterrents.

* * *

It is not sufficiently known that the Communists have long had a grudge against the Swiss. The Swiss are content with their form of government, which is perhaps the oldest existing democracy. The rights of the individual are tenaciously observed. They were, however, the first to realize the danger of permitting the existence of a party devoted to the overthrow of their system of government. In pursuance of this the Communist party has been banned in Switzerland for several years. There is a contrast between this drastic and under the circumstances justifiable action and the spineless attitude of the Weimar Republic which permitted itself to be strangled by the Nazi movement. But although the Swiss will not have communism in Switzerland there is no evidence to show that the International Committee is affected by a bias against the Communists in its humane work of alleviating some of the miseries of war. The Communist accusations are taken seriously only by a few dupes of the Communists such as the Dean of Canterbury. The rest of the world listens with boredom tempered by nausea.

Poor Consumer

It is always good news to hear that the cost of certain products is going down. The housewife is pleased to know that the price of canned pork has dropped as much as 25 per cent., while eggs are noticeably cheaper. But we must temper our joy; the situation is not as gratifying to the consumer as it appears on the surface.

The pork was bought by the Prices Support Board following the U.S. embargo on Canadian livestock products as a result of the outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease last winter. It was hoped to be able to market this elsewhere abroad and avert a collapse of hog prices in Canada. There being no foreign buyers the government is unloading it on the home market at a reported loss of $8,000,000. Naturally it is the taxpayer that foots the bill. It is obvious, therefore, that the drop in the price of canned pork is illusory, the difference being paid by vegetarians and orthodox Jews as well as pig-eaters. The egg fluctuation is welcome to the consumer, though it is one of those seasonal variations in a highly variable commodity.

There are further rises in the offing. The Canadian economy, always highly sensitive to developments in the U.S., is bound to react in sympathy with present tendencies there. The rise in steel prices as a result of the strike, in which management and labour have joined hands to "soak the consumer," is bound to have varied and far-reaching effects. Wages have been rising, too, in many other industries, such as aluminum, and other groups, such as coal miners, are seeking increases. There is thus a strong upward pressure which will soon make itself felt throughout the country. There is every indication of another general rise in the cost of living which will make the coming winter the dearest in history, canned pork and eggs notwithstanding.

Which Way Did Champlain Go?

In 1615, in company with a Huron war party, Champlain passed from Orillia to the far side of Lake Ontario to make a raid on the Iroquois. Scholars are unable to agree on the course Champlain took, except to admit that he followed in general the present Trent waterway system.

As our news columns reported two weeks ago, an archaeological party is digging into mounds along Rice Lake. Evidence has been unearthed of tribal life there more than two thousand years ago, and skeletons have been found. Is it conceivable that, digging into the life of the area in the time of Caesar, the experts will come upon relics of a much later period, some seventeenth century remnants which may disclose evidence of Champlain's visit, of him who was the first white man to penetrate this district. It is almost certain that Champlain did go through Rice Lake with his Indian party, and its shores have been long known as a favourite Indian camping site. With perhaps only a trace of the past from Rice Lake, we may definitely be able to retrace Champlain's route of 1615, and give Professor G. H. Needler the actual proof his thesis demands.

A Study In Concentration

Ever since the days of Jules Verne the world has heard strange prophecies of the shape of things to come. Dietetically speaking the prospect before us is grim. We are told that the man of tomorrow will live on a diet of processed grass or wood, with a possibility of specially treated seaweed. These foodstuffs will reach us in capsule or powder form, completely dehydrated. All that is necessary will be to add water for a nutritious, balanced and completely abhorrent meal.

We have already had some experience of dehydrated foods. During the war, in order to save shipping space, scientists devised a means of extracting the water from many foods while leaving the residue. It cannot be said that they were an unqualified success; indeed many of the younger soldiers expressed themselves pretty forcefully on the subject. The older campaigners, however, were the first to acknowledge that the new diet was a tremendous advance on the eternal "bully and biscuits" and "M and V" of previous campaigns.

Now comes the ultimate refinement—concentrate of beer. A Belgian biochemist has succeeded in extracting not only the water (about 95%) but also the alcohol and gas through combined vacuum and deep freezing, leaving a powder that can be pressed into any shape and stored for years in practically any climate. All that is necessary to replace the three missing ingredients in their proper proportions to produce what is claimed to be "a beverage which very closely resembles the regular type of American beer"—a claim that is not altogether encouraging to the average Canadian beer-drinker.

Bearing in mind our experiences with dehydrated foods we doubt whether it will be possible to produce by these means a beer that will deceive any but the most hardened palates. Certain volatile and subtle essences are bound to be lost in the process, certain chemical changes are bound to take place to change the flavour. The very elements that have been removed cannot be replaced in exactly the same way. Brewers themselves, tacitly admitting the plenteous use of water in the preparation of their products, extol the virtues of the waters of the rivers on which their establishments happen to be situated. It seems as though the new type of beer will please nobody but those whose aim in drinking beer it is to inebriate themselves in the shortest possible period.

What Kind Of Tree?

Even people who live in or close to the country and know dozens of kinds of trees familiarly are occasionally stumped to identify one they discover in a thicket, or a group along a township lane. For them, as well as for people who can with certainty differentiate only between pine and poplar, spruce and maple, a publication of the Forestry Branch of the Department of Resources and Development is useful and informative. It is called Native Trees of Canada. Its 293 pages classify our native trees by species, describe them and their habitat in the text, and illustrate their characteristic features, usually leaf, bark, winter twig and fruit; a full page of illustrations is given to each kind of tree. It is a very useful book, and worthy of anybody's library who is at all interested in their arboreous environment—which summer months especially reveal. It is available from the Queen's Printer, Ottawa, in cloth or paper binding; the latter at $1.50 a copy.

The Fall Of Farouk

By ROBERT STEPHENS

THE ABDICATION of King Farouk from the throne of Egypt is more than the personal eclipse of a colourful and controversial monarch. It marks the end of a long and exciting chapter in Egyptian history in which the struggle of a poor, unstable, but proud and not untalented people to emerge into nationhood and political maturity has been interwoven with the broader themes of Britain's imperial interests and the clash of contending Great Powers for control of a strategically vital area of the world.

✧ ✧ ✧

SINCE THE END of the First World War when Eyptian nationalists began their first serious campaigns to remove British control over Egypt and restore their country's independence, Egypt's history has consisted of a contihuous three-cornered struggle between the Palace, the WAFD (the chief nationalist party) and the British. The Palace feared the demagogic tendencies of the WAFD and clung to constitutional prerogatives which gave the Egyptian Crown far wider powers of interference in political life than those normally enjoyed by constitutional monarchs. The WAFD opposed the Palace as the obstacle to its maintenance of power through Parliament and popular organisation and thus as a brake on the nationalist struggle against the British. And in the many changes of government which occurred bringing to power either the WAFD with a parliamentary majority or administrations of minority parties or independents holding power either through direct Palace control or through Palace influence on elections, Egyptians saw the hand, either real or imaginary, of the British even after Egypt had become an independent nation in 1936. They also saw—with increasing clarity and bitterness in recent years—that whether Palace or WAFD were on top in this struggle it meant little change in the miserable lot of the mass of Egyptians or in the corruption, extravagance and incompetence of much of the country's ruling class. As a result perhaps the most tragic misunderstanding in all the unhappy tangle of Anglo-Egyptian relations has been the belief created among many Egyptians who sincerely wish to improve their country that Britain's interest is somehow bound up with the continuance of a state of affairs which produces a succession of bad governments maintaining themselves in luxury and their country in servitude.

✧ ✧ ✧

KING FAROUK FAILED not merely because of his weakness as a man but also because of his feebleness as a king. During recent years he had become increasingly unpopular partly because of his private life but chiefly because he allowed his Palace entourage unbridled licence for financial corruption and himself indulged a passion for accumulating wealth even at the expense of the poverty-stricken peasants who form the great bulk of his subjects. He displayed an occasional dilettante interest in social reform yet, either from cynicism or shortsightedness, failed to make any serious effort to lead the ruling landowners of Egypt, of whom he was the biggest of all, to an alleviation of the terrible conditions of their peasantry.

✧ ✧ ✧

HIS DIVORCE of popular Queen Farida and his remarriage to Queen Narriman, forced upon him perhaps by the constitutional need for a male heir to carry on the dynasty, increased his unpopularity which was at its height last summer during his much publicised honeymoon tour of Europe. Many decent Egyptians, though they resented attacks made on Farouk in foreign newspapers, were deeply ashamed that their country should not be represented in more dignified fashion abroad.

✧ ✧ ✧

NEVERTHELESS, despite this hostility, the King's chief rivals, the WAFD party leaders, had themselves so disillusioned the Egyptian public through their corruption, nepotism and irresponsibility that when the King dismissed Nahas Pasha's government after the Cairo riots of January 26, he had a last chance of recovering his prestige and providing a rallying point for the decent elements in Egypt hoping for leadership.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT HE LET this opportunity slip. Not only did he not sweep away the corrupt elements of his entourage. He listened increasingly to their advice which was designed to block the efforts of his reforming premier, Hilaly Pasha, from conducting the purge of corruption which he had promised. For the Palace favourites knew that any thorough investigation of scandals must invariably involve themselves as well as the WAFD leaders and others.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE DEPTH of Farouk's folly was shown in his dismissal of Hilaly as a result of a commercial intrigue believed to involve a leading industrialist in close touch with the WAFD Party. He went one step further on the road to disaster with the inclusion in the cabinet of Hussein Sirry Pasha, who succeeded Hilaly, of Kerim Thabet Pasha, formerly the Royal Press Counsellor and one of the men closely associated in the Egyptian public's eyes with the misdeeds of the Palace. His final and fatal act was to force Hilaly Pasha, who returned as premier after the resignation of Hussein Sirry, to accept as Minister of Defence the King's brother-in-law, Colonel Ismail Sherin Bey.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS ACTION brought to a head growing dissatisfaction inside the army which the King had been chiefly relying upon for his maintenance of power. The dissatisfaction was a result of the use by Farouk of his influence to maintain his favourites in high army posts despite their incompetence and to prevent any proper investigation of corruption in the armed services, such as the scandal of the supply of defective arms in the Palestine war.

✧ ✧ ✧

OF THE TWO TRADITIONAL props of political life in Egypt, the Palace and the WAFD, the former has now collapsed and the second has been tottering for some time, sustained partly by the fact that its unpopularity was slightly less than that of the King. The future in Egypt may now turn on whether the army leadership which has emerged as a new force in the country will carry its coup one stage further and lay low in its turn the corrupt element in the WAFD leadership and clear the path for the country's honest men to begin the task of reconstruction. For if the present army leadership does not take such action there is little doubt that it will be taken in time perhaps by elements more irresponsible and dangerous.

What Oil Has Done To Prairie Economy

(MONTREAL STAR)

ALBERTA has proudly published a short, factual account of the growth of its young oil industry. It tells of production doubling each year since 1947, the year of the first big discovery, of its 3,000 producing wells, its doubling pipeline capacity, one line running east, and the other, under construction to the Pacific Coast. It tells how the one oil field of 1947 has grown to the 25 separate and distinct producing areas of today. It tells even more about the future when it relates the ever-rising sums being poured into development. That figure was $25,000,000 and in 1951 it was $200,000,000.

But perhaps the layman will be interested most of all in the general effect of this discovery on the country as a whole. The report states:

"Savings of U.S. dollars that would have seemed almost incredible only a few short years ago now are reflected in the multiplied output. In 1948, the first year after the Leduc discovery, the dollar saving was $9 millions. A year later it was ten times that sum. In 1950 it was $100 millions. . .

"The manufacture of gasoline from domestic crude resulted in a saving of five cents a gallon in Winnipeg, seven cents in Regina, and ten cents in Edmonton. Assuming the annual prairie consumption to be 30 million barrels at an average of seven cents, this represents an economy of $73.5 millions to prairie consumers. . .

"Increased population, hence increased buying power estimated at $250 millions; revenue to the public treasury which has made possible the almost complete elimination of provincial taxes and progressive reduction of the public debt to a point where debt freedom is in sight."

Letters To The Editor

$1 EXTRA A BED

Sir: Approximately three years ago I was approached on one of your main streets while in my car and asked how I liked your fair city, also if I had any dislikes. This is not entirely a dislike but I believe is in line with your request.

Recently I had occasion to visit your beautiful new Civic Hospital for a short spell and was very grateful for services rendered by all. BUT there was certainly, to my mind, an unethical practice in the manner of charges which I believe could be avoided. In other words I was told my room would be $12.00 a day and upon getting my statement found it was $13.00 a day. Whereupon I asked the reason why and was told there were two prices; one for Peterborough residents, and one for outsiders. Again asking why, I was told that Peterborough residents paid taxes for that hospital.

There is a question in my mind as to the legality of the above and it seems to me to be such a terrible poor practice for tourists like myself coming from the States that I just had to write you this letter and please accept same in the manner of constructive criticism only, as I had no complaint in paying $13.00 a day for the beautiful room I had.

Yours very truly,

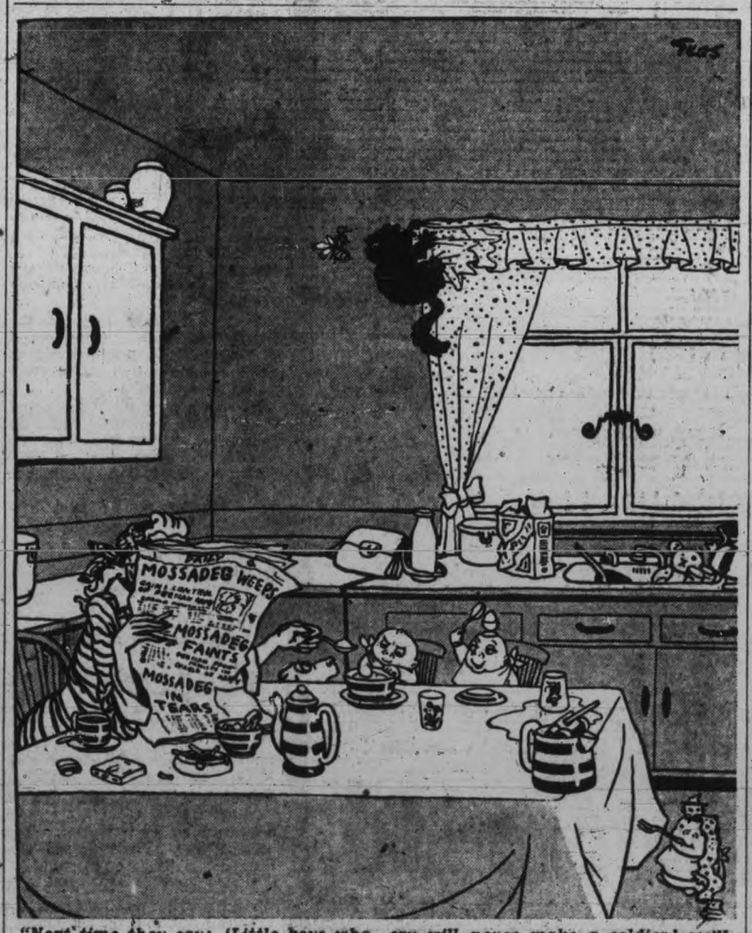
FRED BARTON.

(Ed. Note: There is a surcharge of a dollar a bed a day required of every patient who is not a resident of the city of Peterborough. This is a justifiable surcharge, since outside counties and townships are paying nothing for the annual maintenance and operation of the hospital, whereas the city of Peterborough is paying more than $200,000 a year, or six dollars per capita. The one dollar surcharge is not aimed at American visitors, but at all who use the Civic Hospital who are not city taxpayers.

PRAISE FOR SEA CADETS

Sir: I don't think very many citizens of this city realize the value of our Sea Cadets. These sailors and citizens of tomorrow are one of Peterborough's greatest assets.

If it is all possible, I attend every public appearance they make. It is really too bad; some of our citizens will never profit by the Sea Cadets' good examples in neatness, conduct and good manners.



Down at Bensfort Bridge last Sunday I had a chance to observe the boys when there was no officer standing over them at all times. I must say that they behaved like perfect gentlemen—proud of the uniforms they wore. Also, I must say good luck to the band, and may your music be ever as good as it was on Sunday.

In closing I offer a salute to Lieutenant S. Gardiner and his officers and give a cheer for the boys in blue——the R.C.S.C.C. Howe Sea Cadets.

Yours truly,

B. Y. STANDER.

Peterborough, July 30, 1952.

"Next time they say: 'Little boys who cry will never make a soldier,' we'll say: 'What abo ut Mossadeq?' "

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Lord said unto Moses, Gather unto me seventy men of the elders of Israel, whom thou knowest to be the elders of the people, and officers over them; and bring them unto the tabernacle of the congregation, that they may stand there with thee. And I will come down and talk with thee there: and I will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them. . . . And Moses went out, and told the people the words of the Lord, and gathered the seventy men of the elders of the people, and set them round about the tabernacle.

And the Lord came down in a cloud, and spake unto him, and gave it unto the seventy elders: and it came to pass, that, when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, and did not cease. But there remained two of the men in the camp, the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Medad: and the spirit rested upon them; and they were of them that were written, but went not out unto the tabernacle: and they prophesied in the camp.

And there ran a young man, and told Moses, and said, Eldad and Medad do prophesy in the camp. And Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of Moses, one of his young men, answered and said, My lord Moses, forbid them. And Moses said unto him, Enviest thou for my sake? would God that all the Lord's people were prophets, and that the Lord would put his spirit upon them! (Num. 11:16, 17, 24-29.)

Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God. (I Cor. 2:12.)

Deep River Malcontent

(Ottawa Journal)

The scientists and other workers at the Chalk River atomic plant, that place of many secrets, have their homes in the pleasant community of Deep River. In recent months The Journal has received, in envelopes with Deep River postmark, anonymous and abusive notes scribbled in red pencil on editorials clipped from this newspaper.

Every editor is familiar with such communications and the only unusual circumstance is the place of origin. The Montreal Gazette observes that the mother of a veteran just back from Korea received a scurrilous letter obviously from a Communist and postmarked Deep River, while it suspects a letter to the newspaper complaining about United Nations' intervention in Korea came from the same source.

One of the notes received by The Journal took gutter-language objection to an editorial in praise of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh during their visit here.

The security precautions at Chalk River are elaborate and the "screening" of employees is supposed to be thorough. Details of the work being done there would be helpful to people of ill-will, people less concerned with the peaceful uses of atomic energy than is Canada. Deep River, we are well aware, is not Chalk River, but the R.C.M.P. and security staff in the area should not be comfortable until they have discovered the identity of this malcontent. It may be a hoax, but it would be safer to find out.

Election For President Outmoded

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The electoral map of the United States is more complicated than most foreigners realize. Upon it is imprinted not only the constitutional arrangements of the Founding Fathers but the legacy of the Civil War. The result, in modern times, is to give the Democratic Party a heavy advantage in national elections. These factors could be sufficient to assure the Democrats their sixth term of office at the November poll even when, in the normal rhythm of politics, they are due for a period of opposition. By the mechanics of the Constitution a President is not necessarily elected by a majority of the voters throughout the nation. They do not vote, in theory at least, for a President. They vote in each state for candidates to represent them in the College of Electors, which itself chooses the President.

Canada Having Model Boom But U.S. Foresees Dangers

NEW YORK (CP)—Canada's post-war prosperity has a long life expectancy but over the short run the prospect is not quite so good, Fortune magazine says in its August issue.

In an editorial accompanying 10 pages of articles and pictures on the Dominion's new industries, the magazine of business management says there has been some skepticism lately about Canada's boom—whether it will last when rearmament tapers off.

The answer, Fortune says, is that Canadian prosperity is based "not on gross inflation and promotional bubbles, but on the rational development of her magnificent endowment of low-cost natural resources—resources that the Western world and particularly the U.S. will need more and more as the years roll by."

MODEL BOOM

More than half the articles in the issue are devoted to Canada's "revolution-in-progress" the 12-year boom that Fortune finds "restrained, well balanced, a model expansion."

An article by Gilbert Bruck says the boom has had two contradictory effects on Canada. One is that it has increased her economic dependence on the U.S. the other is to encourage Canada's political nationalism.

"And political nationalism, often blind to a nation's long-term interests, usually begets economic nationalism," the article says.

"Industrial expansion, moreover, often runs into difficulties for which economic nationalism means an easy way out. Canada thus is approaching a critical stage whose outcome will powerfully affect the future of politics and business in North America."

MORE VULNERABLE

This Canadian nationalism could work out badly, the article says.

"The boom, well balanced and un-nationalistic as it may be, is making Canada more vulnerable than ever to problems beyond her control. In relying on exports for a quarter of her income, she puts herself at the mercy of the outside world.

"As a royal commission once phrased it, she is like a small man in a big poker game: when he wins he wins a lot by his standards, but when he loses he loses nearly all. Canada can win a lot and lose a lot too."

Balancing the pressures being exerted for and against low tariffs, Fortune sees Canadian labor, agriculture and a part of industry on the protectionist side, with business, government, consumers and another section of industry backing up freer trade.

Meanwhile, "until Canada's home market develops, she is crucially dependent on the American market." And it is through foreign trade, Fortune adds, that Canadian living standards can be kept high enough to attract the people needed for a bigger home market.

The U.S., market is described as "promising" over the long run for newsprint, pulp, lumber, aluminum, iron ore, many metal products, furs, fish and meat.

But over the short run, trouble could come if U.S. demand fell off in a recession, and if U.S. producers thereupon pressed for protection. What happens, Fortune says, depends not only on the U.S. market but on the farsightedness of U.S. tariff policy.

Series Of Angry Exchanges Develops Between 2 Jurists

MONTREAL (CP)—A series of angry exchanges between two noted jurists developed in today's instalment of Montreal's lengthy inquiry into alleged non-enforcement of anti-vice laws by the police department over a 10-year period.

Judge Oscar Gagnon of the Montreal court of sessions of the peace clashed repeatedly with Mr. Justice Francois Caron, Quebec Superior court justice presiding at the inquiry, as he appeared "under protest" to explain accusations he made by letter in 1942 against the police department.

The first eruption came when Judge Gagnon was asked by a lawyer whether accusations in the letter, which said police had "tolerated" brothels and gaming houses, were "based on personal knowledge."

"None," replied Judge Gagnon, adding tartly: "That's not an accusation. That's a letter."

"Was it pure imagination?" Mr. Justice Caron asked.

"Certainly not," said Judge Gagnon. "The facts I wrote were told to me by the sources who urged me to write the letter."

HEARSAY EVIDENCE

"Did you know about commercialized vice in the city?" Mr. Justice Caron continued.

"That would be merely hearsay evidence."

"I asked you if you were personally aware of the things you mentioned."

"Perhaps we don't understand the laws of evidence in the same way."

"Perhaps not," replied Mr. Justice Caron, "and if you continue answering like that I will forget the respect your position deserves."

As he left the stand, Judge Gagnon said he wished to present his apologies to the bench in case he had not at all times shown the proper respect due to "Mr. Commissioner Caron."

"I'm not a commissioner," Mr. I'm not a commissioner," Mr. Justice Caron interrupted.

"Very well, then," said Judge Gagnon, "as a judge of the court of appeals."

"I'm not that either," said Mr. Justice Caron. "I'm a judge of the Superior court."

ROSENEATH (ENS). — Roseneath township hall was filled to capacity on Wednesday evening by the members of the congregations of Roseneath and Fenella United churches, when a social evening and presentation were held for the Rev. and Mrs. R. C. White, who are leaving for their new home in Bobcaygeon.

O. J. Robins, recording steward of the Roseneath church board, was chairman. The program opened with prayer by the Rev. H. G. Lester, pastor of St. Paul's United Church, Warkworth, and consisted of a piano duet by Misses Carole McMillan and Mary Halstead; a humorous reading by Mrs. Delbert Brisbin; a vocal solo by Mrs. Donald George with Mrs. Frank Down as piano accompanist; a mixed quartette sung by Misses Joyce and Linda Arthur and Messrs. Douglas Coyle and Neil Adams, with Lois Arthur accompanist; a piano solo by Miss Carolyn McKee; a vocal solo by the Rev. H. G. Lester with Miss Carolyn Atkinson accompanist; a quartette sung by Miss Carolyn Atkinson, Mrs. John Goodfellow, Messrs. Warren and Ambrose Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. White were asked to come to the platform and Douglas Coyle, on behalf of the Roseneath congregation, expressed their regrets in losing them and voiced the appreciation for their helpfulness during the past eight years. Andrew Brown, on behalf of the congregation, presented a wool blanket to Mrs. White, an electric razor to Mr. White and a purse of money to them both.

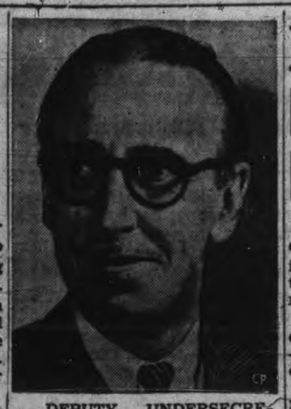
A chenille bedspread was presented by the members of the Women's Association. The president, Mrs. Earl Waldie spoke of the co-operation received and the work accomplished and the gift was presented by Mrs. Fred Norris.

On behalf of Roseneath Y.P.U. the president, Mr. Neil Adams voiced the regrets of that organization and Mr. Reginald Timlin made the presentation of a coffee table in walnut finish.

The Fenella congregation presented a coffee table with undershelf. Mrs. W. I. Montgomery read an address. Mr. Leslie Campbell, treasurer of the church board, voiced his appreciation and the presentation was made by N. C. Leach.

At the conclusion of the presentations, A. J. Campbell, a senior member of the church board, voiced the regrets of all present and wished them health and happiness in their new home in Bobcaygeon.

Mr. and Mrs. White made appropriate replies.



Gets Wish Sooner Than He Expected

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP)—Testifying Wednesday at services in a Baptist church at nearby Doddridge, Ark., Henry Field urged his listeners to rededicate themselves and prepare or death.

"If it wasn't for the commotion it would cause," he said, "I'd like to go right here in my church."

He slumped backwards dead.

Field's death was attributed to a heart attack.

DEPUTY UNDERSECRETARY — Charles A. Ritchie, 45, a native of Halifax, has been appointed acting deputy undersecretary in the External Affairs Department. He becomes the right-hand man to Undersecretary Dana Wilgress, succeeding Escott Reid, the new High Commissioner to India.

Police Recover Robbery Loot

MONTREAL (CP)—Police reported today the recovery of much of the loot taken in an hitherto-undisclosed $80,000 house burglary. At the same time, the entire loot in a $15,000 jewelry shop burglary was also returned.

Officials said no arrests were made because of the recovery of the loot and because evidence against a man held in the case was not sufficient. Attorneys for the two victims decided not to press charges.

The house burglary involved theft of $67,800 in cash hidden in a shoe box and $13,000 of bonds. The exact amount recovered was not indicated.

Lost Chord Clubs Holding Conference

CLEVELAND (AP)—Five hundred persons who talk by a system of controlled belching meet here today to form their first international organization.

The delegates, members of various "lost chord" clubs, have had their larynx or voice box removed because of cancer. The two-day convention here is called the first international meeting of laryngetomized persons.

Left without a voice by their throat operations, the victims have learned to talk by a method known as esophogeal speech. They swallow air and expel it slowly with a "burp" sound, forming words with their mouths as the air goes out.

Hope Full Production Resumed August 15

DETROIT (CP)—Chrysler Corporation announced yesterday that it hopes to recall more than 60,000 workers and to resume almost full production by Aug. 15.

The company said that 6,000 employees in Detroit plants and elsewhere where basic components are made will be called back next week when some 55,000 other workers in Detroit would return the week of Aug. 11.

The company said that "these schedules are based on the availability of steel and are subject to change."

Plants have been closed since July 14 because of the nationwide steel strike which ended July 24.

316 Polio Cases Reported In West Canada

EDMONTON (CP)—The unofficial count of poliomyelitis victims in Western Canada rose to 316 yesterday with four of the latest cases reported in Alberta.

Thirteen have died from the disease in the four western provinces —five in Saskatchewan and four in each of Alberta and Manitoba.

Saskatchewan's fifth death was reported today in Regina. The unofficial number of polio cases in that province is 95.

In Alberta, two new cases were reported today at Edmonton and two at Calgary. The Edmonton cases were two boys, one five and the other 16, and those at Calgary were a six-year-old boy and a 25-year-old man.

Manitoba's total climbed to 84 today when seven new cases were reported. Four of the seven new cases show signs of partial paralysis.

In British Columbia 43 polio cases have been reported.

93-Year-Old Woman To Wed In New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Fred Ellenberg, 73, took out a licence yesterday to marry 93-year-old Mrs. Margaret E. Beebe and told newspapermen:

"We found real companionship. And we decided that two together can live cheaper than two apart these days. It's the twilight of our lives and we're going to enjoy it as much as possible."

The wedding is set for tomorrow. It will be the third marriage for Mrs. Beebe, and the fourth for Ellenberg.

Negro Group Drops Protest Against Family

OMAHA (AP)—A group of Omaha Negroes who had sought to keep a white family from moving into their neighborhood tonight dropped the whole thing.

"I'm withdrawing every bit of it; I'm through with it," said Mrs. Luella Blackson, who Wednesday headed a protest petition signed by 17 Negroes in the south Omaha neighborhood.

Withdrawal came after a flurry of protests directed at the Negro group, mostly from other Negro groups.

Timber Workers Will Be Cut

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—The number of bush workers for timber and pulp and paper companies in the district of Thunder Bay this fall and winter will be fewer than last year. M. K. Morrison, manager of National Employment Service here, said the reduction is due to attempts of the employing companies to spread operations over the year.

He said about 7,500 will be hired this year, as compared with 8,000 or 9,000 last year.

The Canadian Press reported erroneously yesterday, that employment would be cut almost 50 per cent with 2,500 workers compared to 1,500 last winter

British Columbia Attempting To Lure More Industries There

By JACK KOEHLER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Invitations to industry are pouring from an assembly line of information known as the Greater Vancouver Metropolitan Industrial Development Commission.

These bulletins on the industrial climate of British Columbia's lower mainland are bombarding Britain, the United States, Eastern Canada and most of the European nations outside the Iron Curtain.

Goal of the commission is to lure more industry to booming B.C. It is operated under the sponsorship of 11 municipalities which contribute funds on a per capita basis.

In four months, it has made one big catch and is working on some promising nibbles.

BACK TO WORK

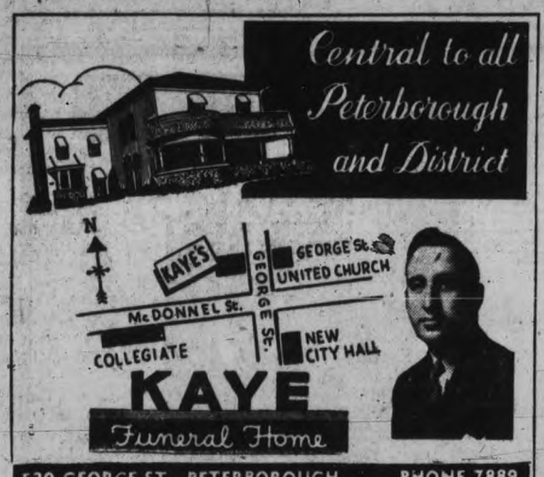
The organization is headed by 70-year-old James S. Eckman, who took on the job after he tired of the retirement he had trapped himself into.

For 38 years Mr. Eckman was president of Canadian Fishing Co. Ltd. Four years ago he had to retire, victim of a retirement rule he introduced earlier in his career.

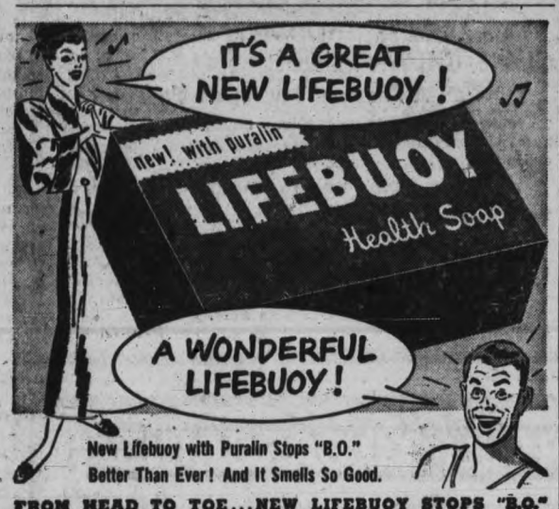
"Tired of doing nothing," he jumped at the chance to head the development commission. And he's keeping plenty busy.

The commission—at present corresponding with about 18 "live" prospects—has furnished information on taxes, labor situation, real estate availability and costs to about 1,500 firms from Montreal to Amsterdam.

DOLLAR TROUBLE



First major success was persuading the Continental Can Company of New York to plan construction of a $4,500,000 project in suburban Burnaby.



Several major industries in West Germany and Britain have investigated the possibility of moving into the Vancouver Area, Mr. Eckman said, but the drawback so far has been getting funds transferred into Canadian dollars.

He's trying to get the Canadian government to loan these firms money with the companies repaying the government once they have established themselves.

"To make British Columbia more self-sufficient we need about 25 different types of industry which are not in B.C. now, but for which we have the natural resources," he says.

At the top of his list he puts industries which produce chemicals textiles, steel, glass and asbestos products, fertilizers and wood alcohol (from lumber waste) tinplate and products for fur tanning.

US Fighting To Pass Russian Point Lead

By JACK SULLIVAN

HELSINKI (CP)—Four Olympic finals went on the line today but the big question that had everybody running around in circles was whether the United States actually can catch up with Russia for the unofficial point-standing supremacy of the 1952 games.

Those with sharp pencils and mental acumen have come to the conclusion that there will be a photo finish when the games end Sunday.

Give and take a few points here and there, there won't be perhaps half a dozen points separating the two countries in the final standing. The standing, before today's events, was: Russia, 523½; United States, 465.

SWIMMING FINALS

Today's swimming finals brought out the men's 100-metre backstroke and the women's 400-metre relay race, in addition to the completion of the men's platform diving competition. There was also the final in the individual-sabre fencing.

Yoshinobu Oyokawa of Honolulu looked to be good enough to take the final, or at least place high, for the United States. He broke the Olympic record yesterday as leader among the semi-finalists. The United States also has two other swimmers in the final. Russia has no finalist.

The United States team is highly regarded in the women's relay, where again Russia has no finalist but plenty of opposition can come from elsewhere. In the men's high-diving, Major Sammy Lee of the United States is already far ahead on points in the two-day competition.

Neither Russia nor the United States can do much about the sabre final.

U.S., RUSS IN FINAL

Both the United States and Russia won their games in the basketball tournament yesterday and advanced to the final to be played Saturday. The United States already has defeated Russia in the tournament. The U.S. yesterday defeated Argentina 85-76 and Russia won 61-57 over Uruguay.

Argentina today met Uruguay to settle seventh and eighth places. Fifth and sixth spots won't be determined until Saturday when Brazil and Chile meet.

One swimming championship was decided yesterday. Joan Harrison, 17-year-old, freckle-faced girl from South Africa won the women's 100-metre backstroke.

Barbara Stark, 15-year-old American girl, placed fifth, giving the United States two points, the only points either leading country scored all day.

TWO FOR AUSSIES

Of the three cycling championships decided, Australia took two. Russell Mockridge won the 1,000-metre time trial and later, with Lionel Cox, won the 2,000-metre tandem. Ebze Sacchi of Italy was first, as expected, in the 1,000-metre scratch race.

Records were made with abandon in swimming preliminaries. In the 1,500-metre men's free-style trials, Shiro Hashizume of Japan broke the record and so did nine others.

Evelyn Kawamoto of Honolulu and Daphne Wilkinson of Great Britain were both timed in 5:16.6 in preliminaries of the women's 200-metre free-style, an Olympic record.

Jerry Nolan of the United States led qualifiers in the men's 200-metre breaststroke trials with an Olympic record. Leo Portelance of Ocean Falls, B.C., caught 15th spot of the 16 qualifying places.

In the boxing tournament Russia moved six men into the semi-finals and the United States five.

The way the blind draw was worked out, there can be no meeting of Americans and Russians in boxing until the finals Saturday night.

BOXING HIGHLIGHT

The highlight of yesterday's boxing program was the knockout of Russia's powerful heavyweight, Aljgirdas Schocikas, by Alfred Nieman, 23-year-old South African carpenter.

The lanky Nieman went right after the handsome Russian. Both are lefthanders and it was learned later that the Russian has never fought a southpaw before.

Neiman kept letting fly with his powerful hammer-like left until Schocikas was laid out flatter than a sickle.

Had the Russian won he would have met Ed Sanders of the United States. Now Nieman and Sanders are drawn against each other.

The prognosticators of points have come to the stage where they figure Russia might finish on top in the standing with a 3½-point margin although the United States has been whittling at a lead of almost 200 points Russia once held until today it was cut to 58½.

SEE 3½-POINT—WIN

It was figured that the Russians might score another 67 points and the Americans 122. That would leave the 3½-point margin.

Semi-finals in boxing and the three aquatic finals today could shatter this calculation.

U.E. Takes Fray In Fine Tilt Against Revoy's

U.E.W. rang up their fifth straight victory since July 1 at the Bowl Thursday night, when they handed Revoy's a 4-1 setback in the opener of a thrilling men's senior softball twin-bill, before a good-sized crowd. The win places the Legrow boys in a virtual tie for first place with Seabrooke's, each with 11 wins and three losses, though the latter have a game in hand, U.E. having played an extra tie game.

Jimmy Driscoll twirled for the shop crew and allowed seven hits; he fanned three and walked a like number. His team had two miscues as did the homsters, in a hard-fought game. Dick West opposed the diminutive U.E. hurler and pitched a remarkable game for sixinnings, blanking the Legrow help on three hits. Led by Reg Leether (who turned in a lovely two-way game), Bruce Taylor and Harold Grafstein, the boys in grey put on a strong rally in the seventh, however, to smack home four tallies and stitch up the ball game. Grafstein's smash to drive in two was the big hit of the inning to score Taylor and Legrow, which, with a wild pitch, an error, a walk and two fielders' choices, told the story.

Revoy's tallied their only run in the sixth when Mackness singled for his second hit and later scored when Perc Elmhirst single off Driscoll's glove. Reg Leether and Buck Legrow each had two hits for the winners for five and three trips to the plate respectively; and Mackness and Elmhirst each had a pair for the losers in four official trips. Leether, Walter Fife, Nelson, White and Bill Wood starred afield.

Royals Edge Buffalo 4-3

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Montreal's Royals are slowly but surely pulling away from the rest of the pack in the once-congested International League pennant race.

Montreal defeated Buffalo Bisons 4-3 last night to increase their lead to 5½ games over the runner-up Rochester Red Wings. The Royals also enjoy a nine-game bulge over the Wings in the vital "loss" column.

Rochester dropped a 3-1 decision to Springfield Cubs as rookie Al Larry stunned the Wings with a five-hitter. Larry retired 19 men in order in one stretch, fanned six and walked none. Rip Repulski accounted for Rochester's only run by leading off the game with a home run.

The defeat also endangered the Wings' grip on second place. Third-place Syracuse pulled to within one half game of Rochester by turning back Ottawa Athletics 4-0 behind the two-hit pitching of Jack Griffore. Griffore fanned seven and didn't walk a batter.

Baltimore's climbing Orioles tied Buffalo for fifth place by trouncing Toronto Maple Leafs 8-2. Marv Rackley led Baltimore's 13-hit attack against Leaf ace Johnny Hetki with three hits.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

We have two tournaments coming up this evening: Men's doubles and ladies' rinks, both drawn from the board at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

Wednesday's tournaments results:

At Peterborough—Rained out.

At Cannington—Rained out.

At Port Perry—Mrs. H. Wilson's rink, high one win.

At Trenton—H. Freeman's rink, high two wins.

At Port Hope—No local winners.

So far as we know there is nothing special scheduled here for Monday, Civic Holiday.

The members of the club are hoping for the satisfactory recovery of two members (Harry Beatty and Ross Hopkins) who met with a bad accident on Wednesday afternoon.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Annual Kawartha Lakes golf tournament on the westend links of Greater Peterborough this weekend had some 500 applications for entry. However, the committee cut the field down to 250 players. They had 401 entries a year ago, but decided against such a big field again. So, the cream of the crop from all parts of the province will tee off Saturday morn and go right through till the afternoon or early evening of Civic Holiday. Defending champion Nick Westlock of Windsor is taking it seriously enough, as he came Monday and has been practising on the course all week. Tourney goes in three flights, handicaps of nine and under, 10 to 20, and 21 to 36. Some great golf should be seen over the weekend.

Ray Tanner and Stan McBride have lined up a golf driving competition for "booster baseball night" at Riverside this eve, if the weather permits. Dick Ouimet captains the six-man team from Kawartha and Mike O'Leary heads the Peterborough Club crew. Each man drives three golf balls from home plate in an attempt to hit the scoreboard in centre field. Six prizes are up and some of the best golfers in the city compete. They will be introduced by Stan and do their stuff just before the 8.30 game. First time to our knowledge any golf has been played on the Riverside course, though we've seen some wild swings there at times.

Redmen Play The Petes

The Friday fixture is a C.O.B.L. one between the leading Belleville Redmen and the Petes, who are currently battling it out with Kingston for second spot. In recent games, the Stewart squad has more than held its own against the Reds, and right in Bella Villa, too. However, the Quinte club is plenty strong and a keen senior diamond contest is pretty well assured. The "booster night" business also includes draws for a TV set and other good prizes only on admission tickets, so it should mean a whopping big crowd. Especially as there is no senior lacrosse here tonight, the Timbermen being in Fergus.

* * * * * *

Time was when C.O.B.L. games here regularly drew 2,000 or more. That was in the early 20s when Heckman, Swanston, Harrison, Rose, Cherrett, Murray, Holyman, Wolff, Hall, Whitehouse and others performed for Jake Solomon. The game revived well for a spell in the middle 30s under Knotty Lee when Kitchen, Deyell, Lepper, Whatley, Starr, Ash, Murphy, Kearns, Foley, Burton and that bunch were in flower. Since the war, it's been rugged going getting up fan interest enough to carry on, though some good ball has been seen. The present Petes, practically all homebrews, are doing okay and are carrying on gamely, despite small gates. They have no intentions of folding up this semester.

Young Petes Win Again

Fresh from two Lakeshore Loop ball wins over Cobourg, Young Petes downed Whitby 4-2 here last night. Steady pitching by Jerry Frizzelle and some timely thumps in a good game gave 'em their seventh win to show they are easily holding their own now in this intermediate circuit. The juniors have beaten Cobourg and Colborne twice each, with single victories against Lindsay, Port Hope and Whitby. Only the leading Bowmanville bunch, who have lost but one to date, haven't fallen before the Menzies-Mein lads, and they received a real scare here last start. Elmhirst was a big help with a double to drive in two and a fine running catch in left. No. 72 ticket won the draw. Locals may have Lindsay here for a postponement Tuesday, but that's not certain yet.

* * * * * *

U.E.W. yanked out a 4-1 men's softball verdict o'er Revoy's in a nifty at the Bowl last gloaming to go into a first-place tie with Seabrooke's, though the latter have a game in hand. Lakefield upset Seabrooke's 10-8 in the nightcap in another thriller with Red Sullivan getting the heave-ho from Umpire Herb Payne for too much criticism. U.E. has played 15, won 11 and dropped three, whereas Seabrooke's have played 14, taken 11 and lost three. Lakefield in 12 has won four, as have Revoy's in 13 starts, Lindsay winning three of 14. Important tilts Tuesday: Lakefield vs. U.E., and Revoy's vs. Seabrooke's.

Juves Win and Jrs. Set

Junior "A" lacrossers go here tonight at 8.30 when Dundas tackles the Filter Queens. It means plenty as they're fighting for third place in the standing, and the top four clubs make the play-offs with the Minto Cup trip west the eventual big prize. Lou's crew have a fine chance yet, if they can win this one and then take Mimico here next home start. Our juves, under Doug. Miller, Jr., came through as expected here last p.m. to dump Orillia 16-5 and erase 'em from provincial playdowns by 31-13 on the round. A neat showing. Bob Allan shone with seven goals, Doug. Hunt and Bob Curtis clicking for three each, and Carl Simmons tough to beat in goal.

* * * * * *

By beating Toronto 12-9 the other night, Mimico took a two-game lead o'er Yorks and Petes; latter go to Fergus tonight....While there they'll arrange for that postponed "father and son night" joust here with the Thistles.... Draw is in for the big weekend golf tourney....Local cricketers, who play in Toronto tomorrow, meet Carleton at the Oval on Monday in a county cricket match....Water ski jumpers are in a show at Wallace Point at two Sunday afternoon; ornamental swimmers will perform also.... Two peewee ball games listed for tomorrow morn, starting at 9.30 in Quaker Park....Foresters and Kesco are in Civic Loop action Tuesday in Ashburnham....Cliff Tanner hopes to have some 300 balls to give out to kids buying tickets to the senior scrap here tonight, first come first served Kids' ducats won't be in the TV draw, just the adult tickets shorthanded due to holidays, U.E. soccer team got sudden notice to meet the Canadian Italians in Dominion Cup play in Toronto on Sunday....The works.

Lakefield Gets A 10-8 Win Over Seabrooke

Lakefield Merchants showed fighting form in the nightcap of Thursday's sizzling men's softball duet at the East City Bowl, when they pulled a surprise victory over the Seabrooke Motor squad by a 10-8 score.

Dick McCracken took the mound for Merchants and held an edge over Lefty Doris, small but sufficient, though the issue remained in doubt till the final out. It was a hard, bitter battle all the way and manager Red Sullivan was banished by Umpire Payne in the eighth for disputing his work too loudly. Tempers flared but the home team stuck to the finish, to merit victory as a large gallery sat on needles throughout.

McCracken allowed 11 hits, struck out two and passed five; Doris yielded 14 bingles, fanned a pair and walked four. His mates had their most disastrous fielding night of the season with seven errors and in the fifth, the fiery madcaps threw the ball around like a mother-in-law's rocking chair. Merchants miscued also but played steadier ball in the pinches to take over third place from Revoys.

Leading hitters in the fray were Bill Twist and Heffernan with three for five each, the latter with a double and two RBI's; McCracken two for five and Cam Wasson two for six for the winners. Rus Scriver had four for four (two doubles) and caught a courageous game for Seabrooke's; while Speed Curry and Neil Thompson hit two safeties apiece, the latter hitting a double and triple. Twist, Henry and Wyatt fielded well.

Young Petes Beat Whitby By a Score Of 4 To 2 In Lakeshore League Fray

Young Petes continued their winning ways in the Lakeshore Baseball League here last night, defeating Whitby 4-2 before a slim crowd. The visitors were 50 minutes late starting the game. The local juniors, coached by Shockey Mein, took an early lead and were never headed. They were in front 2-0 in the second, each side counted one in the fourth, the homesters tallied another next time up, and the intermediates got their last in the sixth. Lindsay plays here next Tuesday and the juniors' home loop schedule winds up Thursday against Cobourg in a postponed replay.

Jerry Frizzelle kept five hits pretty well scattered over the seven-inning route as he whiffed four and walked two. Both Whitby runs were unearned, owing to three Peterborough miscues. Lefty Crawford pitched till out in the fifth for the losers, allowing five hits and two walks as he struck out six. He was charged with the loss. Lefty Sutton relieved and fanned four in an inning and two-thirds, giving up no hits or walks. They received perfect support afield.

SCORED A PAIR

A single by Foley, a walk to McDougall and Elmhirst's double scored a brace in the second. Foley walked in the fourth, stole, moved up on Wilkinson's hit and tallied on a blow by McDougall. Their last one came in the fifth when Byrne singled, took third on a wild pitch and scored on another, Crawford then being yanked. Yuill tripled for Whitby in the fourth and scored on a bad throw. Turansky reached first on a miscue in the sixth, took second on Yuill's single and raced home on a safe blow by Neal.

The Petes' hits were by Byrne, Foley, Wilson, McDougall and Elmhirst, the latter's a double to drive home two, McDougall having one run batted in. Yuill led the losers with a triple and single, G. Ward, Neal and McDonald getting a hit each, and Neal batting in a run. Fine catches by Neal, Elmhirst and Wilson were defensive features in a neat ball game. Teams:

Whitby—Turansky, ss; Yuill, 2b; G. Ward, 1b; Neal, lf; R. Ward, cf; Collins, 3b; McDonald, c; Billinduke, rf; Crawford, p; Sutton, p.

Young Petes — Byrne, 3b; Kearns, 2b; Jensen, cf; Bigford, c; Foley, rf; Wilson, ss; McDougall, 1b; Elmhirst, lf; Frizzelle, p.

Indians' Six-Run Rally Gives Them Win Over Sox

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Little Bobby Shantz, leading candidate for the American League's most-valuable-player award, looks like baseball's "Man of the Year." With a dazzling 19-3 record, the little lefty is a sure thing to become the major's first 20-game winner in '52. Barring a slump he should become the first to win 25 for, Philadelphia Athletics since Lefty Grove in 1932.

Even the 30-win mark, a target nobody has hit since Dizzy Dean's great performance in 1934, is within reach.

Shantz' 19th was a 2-1 four-hitter against Detroit yesterday in the first game of a doubleheader. He struck out seven and walked only two in outpitching young Billy Hoeft. The A's also took the second game, 3-2, with three runs in the ninth off Virgil Trucks. Homers by Trucks and Walt Dropo provided the only Tiger runs off winner Alex Kellner.

Vic Raschi, regaining his old place as New York Yankee ace, won his 10th straight and 12th of the season by 6-2 over Chicago to keep the Yanks three games ahead of the Indians.

Cleveland staged a six-run rally in the eighth to make it two out of three over Boston, 8-2. Joe Tipton's tie-breaking homer off Maurice McDermott started the spurt. Bob Lemon earned his 12th victory with a seven-hitter, including a two-run homer by Del Wilber.

Washington remained 5½ games back of the Yanks by scoring five in the first inning to trip St. Louis 10-5. Sandy Consuegra, relieving Randy Gumpert in the fourth, won his fifth in a row.

Brooklyn widened its National League lead to six games over New York by knocking off Pittsburgh in two games, 7-6 in 11 innings and 4-1. A walk by reliefer Paul Lapalme with the bases loaded gave the Dodgers the first game. Rookie Joe Landrum, just advanced from the Fort Worth farm where he won 15, copped his first big-league start in the second game with an eight-hitter.

Chicago went wild to score nine in the seventh and trim the Giants 11-8. Despite an 11-1 lead, the Cubs had to battle to stave off a late Giant rally. Three in the seventh and four in the eighth on Jim Rhodes' grand-slam homer made it close.

CARDS BLAST BRAVES

St. Louis Cards ripped into Vern Bickford for six in the fifth inning to thump Boston Braves 8-3. Billy Johnson had two singles in the big inning when 10 batters went to the plate.

The Phillies and Cincinnati were idle.

A Chicago crowd of 34,548 saw the Yanks bomb Saul Rogovin off the hill in the fourth to take the lead in Raschi's win. Gene Woodling's double and singles by Billy Martin and Phil Rizzuto drove in the runs.

The loss dropped Chicago into sixth place, a percentage point behind the A's.

Cattle Prices Strong On Light Steers

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario stockyards cattle prices this week were strong on light steers and heifers but weak on cows and bulls. Other classes of cattle held about steady. Calves, hogs and sheep remained unchanged while lambs dropped $1.

The cattle run for the week was 5,466 head, with 200 left unsold at the close. Choice weighty steers sold at $27-$27.50 with one load at $28.75. Good steers were at $26-$27 while common sold downward to $20 and boners as low as $12. Good heifers closed at $25.50-$26, one light load at $26.50. Medium to good cows sold at $17-$18 50 with heifer cows generally $20 and common cows at $14. Canners were downward to $10.

Good bologna bulls brought $17-$18 with heavy beef bulls at $16 and common light bulls from $12-$15. Good to choice fed yearlings were $26-$28 while mediums sold downward to $23. The pick of western stockers and stock calves brought $25.50-$26, one lot at $26.65. Common to medium stockers moved at $18-$24.

Calf receipts totalled 1,359 Price were at $24-$26 for good to choice vealers with common to medium from $15-$22. Thin grassers for slaughter sold from $10-$14 and a few stock calves at $20-$27

Hog receipts were at 3,197 head. Grade A hogs sold at $26 with sows $16 dressed.

12,000 People Watch Stock Car Racing

TORONTO (CP)—Some 12,000 persons contributed more than $25,000 last night to set a Canadian money record for stock car racing as three United States drivers captured the feature 100-mile race.

Lee Petty of Randleman, N.C., finished first, roaring around the 300 laps in two hours and 17 minutes. Ray Dubig of Toledo, Ohio, was second and Pappy Hough of Paterson, N.J., third.

Norm Brioux of Toronto was top Canadian driver in 10th spot among the 14 finishers in the field of 25. Lloyd Shaw of Toronto was 11th and Al Lemieux of Cornwall was 12th.

Buffalo Paying Tribute To Canada

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The City of Buffalo will pay tribute to Canada and the Dominion's recent economic growth in special "Canada Day" ceremonies Monday.

A feature of the day's program will be a rededication of the Peace Bridge on the 25th anniversary of the opening of the highway link between Buffalo and Fort Erie, Ont.

Canada's New Development

Mining Company Executives Find No Time To Relax

BURNT CREEK—This collection of huts and small buildings is Burnt Creek, heart of the iron-ore project in Labrador-Ungava. It lies on the rich ore itself and, in time, these buildings will be torn down so the ore can be mined. Meantime Main Street includes a post-office, bank, doctor's office, laboratory, bunkhouses, kitchens and dining halls, and repair shops connected with the big development.

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

What sort of people do you meet in that wilderness of Labrador-Ungava which is being turned into a land of iron mines, railways and modern settlements?

First, take the executives running the job for Iron Ore Company of Canada, associated companies and the contractors.

They are the most restless men I have ever seen. They never seem to sit down for more than five minutes, and rarely seem to relax.

That's understandable. A lot of money can run away if supplies and men are not kept co-ordinated in a job that runs for 360 miles.

Something unexpected is always happening. Men are lost, or hurt, or killed.

One Saturday Maurice Taschereau, a young Quebec geologist, lost his way northeast of Wacouna Lake. If he had been working for himself or a small concern, he'd likely be there yet.

MANY AID SEARCH

But Iron Ore Company was able to turn out Indians, canoe parties, planes and a helicopter. Even then, Taschereau wasn't found until Tuesday, exhausted and able to last perhaps six hours more.

J. M. Knowles and C. L. Hawkins, two supply experts from West Virginia, were visitors when I was there. For an outside opinion, I asked them about this restlessness I found. Knowles replied:

"That's the way construction men are. They go in, do the job and get out. What impresses me most up here is their willingness to help you even before they know who you are."

In a construction camp, one Saturday afternoon, I saw a poker game that would raise your hair; but the only real relaxation I saw was on a Saturday evening at the swank new yacht club at Seven Islands on the St. Lawrence north shore 300 miles downstream from Quebec.

At Burnt Creek, Que., in central Labrador-Ungava, three of us in the guest house were visitors. The others were geologists and engineers working on the spot.

We three visitors got up at 7 a.m. and everyone else was already at work.

MANY OLDTIMERS

You'll meet some veteran railway builders. Reason: Canada had built hardly any railways since before the First World War, and when the railway into Labrador-Ungava was started there was a scramble for experienced men. Some were borrowed from the big transcontinent railways, some were coaxed away, some came out of retirement. Here are a few of them:

Hector McNeil, native of Arichat, N.S., chief engineer, borrowed from Canadian National.

H. W. Flemming, native of Liverpool, N.S., special engineer, a star athlete at Dalhousie University around 1908, and an artist who has started evening art classes.

John E. Stokes, office engineer, born in Britain, in Canada since 1911, retired from Canadian National.

Albert W. Smith, of St. Lambert, Que., native of Albert county, N.B., bridge engineer. In his spare time he is in a fair way to become the most successful gardener in Seven Islands' sandy soil.

David Livingstone, locating engineer for the Canadian Pacific, who left the Labrador job in 1950 for South America, and then Vancouver. H. Gerald Stairs, native of Halifax, office engineer for the contractors.

The younger engineers are there, too, like John Martin of Toronto, assistant to the chief engineer.

James G. Pickard of Toronto, is general manager for the contractor. He says:

"It's just a job—except there's more of it—railroads, terminals, docks, power projects. Some 200,000 tons of material will cross the Seven Islands docks this summer. That's a lot of stevedoring. We have $8,000,000 worth of equipment spread over 300 miles of territory."

Harold McNamara, former Montreal and Toronto newspaper man, is assistant project manager. His wife, Bunny, a former newspaper woman, is thrilled that she has coaxed enough blades of grass through the soil to call them a lawn.

WOMEN WORKERS

About 90 girls work in the offices at the Seven Islands base camps, some of them with husbands also on the job. Some come from the larger cities but generally they come from small towns or the northern frontier.

There are not many places to go. There are recreation halls and the women have bridge parties, language classes, and sew for the hospital. A drama club has been formed.

Romance and marriage flourish. About a dozen storks will join the airlift to the base camps at Seven Islands and Burnt Creek in the fall.

If you need transportation, Harry Seeley of Dundalk, Ont., theological student at Queen's University, cheerily doubles as company driver and student minister of the United Church.

John A. Rodriguez spends his time in airplanes and helicopters, taking pictures of the project to add to thousands already in the files of the contractors.

At Burnt Creek I heard a young engineer say: "If you want to live, go to Montreal. If you want to save money, stay here."

EDUCATION FINANCING

Maurice Hodgson, first year mining engineer at McGill, said: "A job like this is the only way to make your way through college."

Dr. James B. Mawdsley, head of the department of geology at the University of Saskatchewan visiting the project, expressed somewhat the same idea:

"There never was a time when it was easier to finance an education. A man can stay out a year and get a stake to carry him through, along with what he can make in the summers."

Out in the railway cuts, 20 or more young geologists were examining rocks. One was from India, one from Pakistan, one from South America, some from the United States, but most of them from Canada.

Dr. Thomas Walthier of the geology staff of New York University commented:

"I wouldn't have come up here the last four years if I hadn't liked it."

Most of the 6,000 or so workers are from Quebec and Newfoundland, but others are from all over the world. Mostly, they are there for the reason any person is anywhere—to get or do a job.

But some are in to get away from liquor, or their wives, or whatever has baffled them in life outside.

Turnover is large. In the month to June 4, the contractors lost 512 men of a working force of 3,200. About 10 per cent of the 512 were dismissed. Others pulled out to other places. Some were not used to the bush and got lonesome for their families. Some had a toothache.

Commercial TV Here To Stay Leibman Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Those who have predicted doom for commercial television will have to seek another pastime, reports Max Leibman, producer of the popular "Show of Shows."

Liebman, an intense, dapper, persuasive fellow, is in Hollywood to talk about a movie for his stars, Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca.

"Last spring, there were a lot observers who said TV was going to be in a bad way," he remarked. "That was after Faye Emerson and a few other shows had been dropped. But the wiser heads said, 'wait until late summer; you'll find all the TV network time has been bought up.'

"And that is true already. I understand the only space left in network TV is some in the daytime."

NO SPONSOR TROUBLE

Leibman's own show is booked up for the fall season. The Caesar-Coca production apparently had no trouble finding sponsors, despite a hike in its already-hefty budget. This year the bill will come to $160,000 every Saturday night, a $10,000 boost over last season.

The "Show of Shows" thus amounts to a $6,240,000 investment for the coming 39-week season.

"People are always asking me how we do it," he commented. "There's no formula, except that we have the best talent available in each capacity."

Would the Caesar-Coca offering ever appear on film?

"No, it would be impossible. It would be financially prohibitive to put an hour-and-a-half show on film and do it correctly."

Designates 4 States As Disaster Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. agriculture department today designated the entire states of Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky and Mississippi as "disaster loan areas" as a result of the severe drought.

The action will make it easier for farmers who have suffered losses to obtain federal loans.

2nd Fire In 3 Weeks At Welland Plant

WELLAND (CP) — The second fire in three weeks smouldered early today in raw rubber at the Welland Iron and Metal Company's plant after an outbreak that lasted more than 14 hours and was battled by three fire brigades.

Five firemen were overcome in the fight but suffered no serious ill effects. Much of the plant was gutted in a $50,000 blaze July 8.

There was no immediate estimate of damage in the latest fire. One official said it probably started from cutting torches as a gang of men worked on renovations.

All that remained of the plant following the first fire was the main warehouse, filled with raw rubber owned by the Stokes division of the General Tire and Rubber Company.

10% Increase Boat Crew Told

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Joseph P. Molony, district director and head of the Great Lakes organizing drive of the United Steelworkers (C.I.O.), said yesterday he was informed one carrier had told its crew they would get a 10 per cent wage increase Sept. 1.

"This is the first tangible result of the Steelworkers' organizing drive among the Great Lakes sailors," Molony said. "However, we regard the 10 per cent wage increase as merely the first instalment on the demands we made to all the steamship companies July 17."

The U.S.W. is seeking to organize the crews of all iron ore carrying vessels on the Lakes. The union estimates that about 3,850 men are involved.

On June 17, the union said it wanted benefits equivalent to those given in the settlement of the national steel strike. This would mean a basic wage increase of about 16 cents an hour plus other contract improvements. The present wage of seamen on ore boats was not available.

McNaughton Explains Opening Of Dam Gates Controlling Lakes

OTTAWA (CP)—Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said yesterday dam gates controlling the movement of waters of Lake Superior to lower lakes were ordered opened because the waters of the lake had reached dangerously high levels.

The Canadian chairman of the International Joint Commission said the commission sanctioned opening 15 of 16 gates controlling the lake water after Lake Superior levels climbed to a few hundredths of a foot below the maximum height allowed under a Canada-United States agreement.

If the waters had been allowed to continue to rise, they would have threatened shore communities and transportation facilities in the Lake Superior area.

COMMENTS ON REPORT

Gen. McNaughton was commenting on a Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., report that the gates in the compensating dam across St. Mary's River at the Sault Canal had been opened. The report said all but two of the gates were closed shortly after the start of the United States steel strike. The dam holds back the flow from Lake Superior.

Gen. McNaughton said the decision to allow Lake Superior waters to move into the lower lakes had nothing to do with the steel strike or the movement of iron ore. The Sault report quoted unofficial sources as saying the real reason for opening the gates is to speed movement of iron ore to steel mills. The informants said that if lake levels are increased, draft levels can be increased and the carriers can move heavier cargoes.

NORMAL PROCEDURE

Lifting of the water control, said Gen. McNaughton, was a normal procedure followed from time to time to check the high level threat. When lake levels recede, the dam gates can be closed. They had been closed on June 10 and this had cut the lower-lake levels by about one-third of a foot.

Now with the gates reopened, the lower-lake levels were expected to climb again, but it would take "many weeks," Gen. McNaughton said, before lower-lake levels would increase by "several inches."

VOL. CV. No. 27 — FRIDAY, AUGUST 1, 1952

MAIN STREET TOPICS

FOUNDATIONS POURED

Concrete for the foundation of Oshawa's new city hall has been poured during the past week. Contractors expect the modern building to be completed some time early next year.

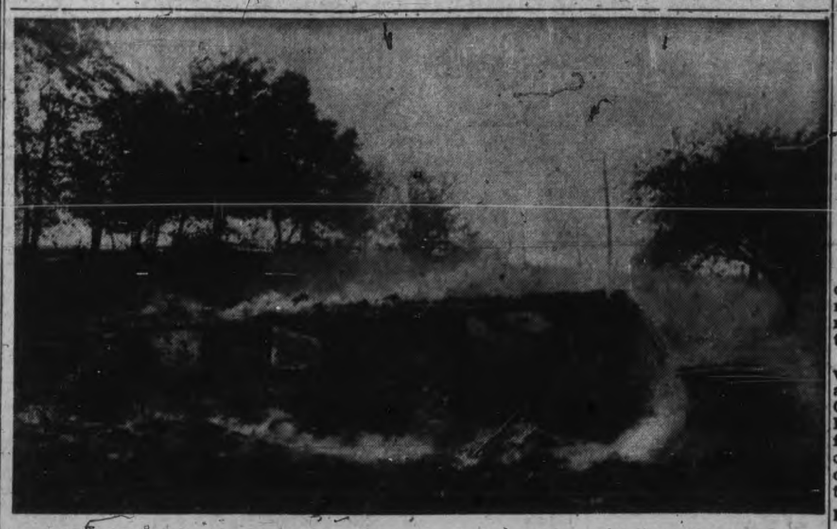
CUSTOMS RECEIPTS DROP

Customs receipts dropped to $247,353.75 in July, after being high in June. Receipts for the same month in 1951 were $724,146.81. Reason for the drop was that one large account was collected from twice during July.

EXTRA SEATS TONIGHT

Extra seats are in prospect for tonight's baseball game at Riverside Park. Even with additional accommodation it is likely that the benches will be overflowing, judging by the interest that has been kindled in the game, and the draw for attendance prizes. A television set tops the list.

TV TUBE SMOKES



Firemen are acquainted with the odd "hot" television program; Thursday night they found that is was a fact. They received a call from Rea F. Kelcey of 71 McDonnel St. reporting that smoke was coming from a tube in a TV set. It was not necessary to use an extinguisher.

TOUR COST $120 EACH

Their tour through 14 eastern states and Quebec and Ontario cost the 181 farmers and their wives of Haywood county, North Carolina, $120 each. They left home early last Saturday morning and are scheduled to return Sunday evening. Every detail of the itinerary had been visited by a pilot who included the Thursday luncehon at the Empress Hotel in the schedule. An extra 20 minutes was allowed for a quick shopping scamper for the women.

WAR ON BUDWORMS

A Peterborough scientist is in the forefront of the war on budworms waged in a $600,000 plane spray operation over 300 square miles of Crown land in New Brunswick. He is Ken Elliott, 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kelly of 595 Chamberlain St., and the picture-story of this war is being told Saturday in the Examiner's Weekend picture magazine. Mr. Elliott, who works with the agricultural department, is shown testing the effects of the spraying operation. Twenty airplanes are used in the spraying, the largest project of its kind ever attempted.

A TON OF HAY inside an old frame barn on the farm property of Robert Hamilton, R.R. 11, Peterborough, helped flames to demolish this building Thursday afternoon in half an hour. The cameraman here caught the last licks of flame as they reached the stone foundation. Cause of the blaze is not known but the loss is estimated at $1,500.—(Parks Studio Photo)

Damage $1,500 As Fire Razes Otonabee Barn

Fire broke out Thursday afternoon in an old barn on the farm of Robert Hamilton, R.R. 11, Peterborough, and within half an hour burned the building to its stone foundations. Loss is estimated at $1,500.

Cause of the fire is not known. Mr. Hamilton, however, had one theory: stubble around the base of the barn was burned Wednesday night and he thinks a spark may have lingered in some of the dried manure or refuse and sprung to life Thursday afternoon.

Included in the loss is a plow and a scuffler—both nearly new—some harness, hand tools, and a ton of hay.

There was no livestock in the barn. Last year it was used as a piggery and the metal feeding troughs were still inside when the building was destroyed.

GETS FRIGHT

Mr. Hamilton got a nasty scare when first informed of the fire. When it broke out he was delivering mail and his young son, Robert Jr., met him on the next concession and told him the house was on fire.

Fearing the forst, Mr. Hamilton headed home toward the wisp of smoke he could see curling up from behind a hill on his farm. He was relieved to see it was the old two-storey wooden barn that was burning.

He made one attempt to get inside and save the plow and scuffler, but the heat from the leaping flames drove him back.

Neighbors stood by to see that the fire didn't spread to his house, some 250 feet away. Occasionally one of them would beat out a streak of flame that started to dart through the stubble of a freshly-mown hayfield.

A call was made to the Peterborough Fire Department but as there is no mutual aid agreement between Otonabee township and the city, the Peterborough fire trucks did not go out.

No Dog Catcher On Duty, Dog Days Gay For City Pups

Dogs are having a great time these days. With no dog catcher on duty since humane society inspector Bruce Menzies resigned a couple of weeks ago, there has been no one to keep an eye on such annoying canine capers as the upsetting of garbage cans and the digging up of gardens to bury bones.

Mr. Menzies is still looking after dogs in the city pound, nowadays elevated to the more respectable name of "shelter" by humane society officials.

The former inspector is also looking after dead cats and dogs, found lying on city streets, according to police.

Mr. Menzies' resignation has left Peterborough and the surrounding district, within a radius of nearly 65 miles without an inspector to investigate complaints about animals being mistreated.

NO EFFORTS MADE

Although Mr. Menzies turned in his resignation to take another position at the beginnig of the month, no efforts have been made to obtain a successor. It was learned today, that no action will be taken to engage a new man, who doubles as dog catcher and pound keeper in the city, until Mrs. S. O. Shields returns from vacation.

Mrs. Shields, who is president of the Peterborough Humane Society, has been on an air trip to Nassau for two weeks and is expected to return the end of this week. Then, the organization will begin looking into the possibilities of trying to find a suitable man to replace Mr. Menzies.

In the meantime, complaints about cruelty to animals are being investigated in the city by the city police and in the district by provincial police detachments.

Today, city police received a complaint that a milk delivery horse with a sore side, was drawing a milk wagon, while the harness was irritating the open wound.

Policemen point out they are busy enough handling traffic, investigating accidents and taking care of their normal duties without having to take on the extra work which is normally the job of the humane inspector.

Until the humane society gets around to hiring a new inspector, the police department will continue to answer complaints about dogs having cats up trees, dogs running loose without tags, pigeons fluttering about with injured wings and those oderous little black kittens with the white stripe down their backs that frequently visit urban gardens.

Aquatic Meets Planned To Aid Swimmers

The Otonabee River and Little Lake Regatta Association was organized Thursday night at a meeting of aquatic enthusiasts at the city hall. The association's immediate plans are for water meets on three successive Sundays to help finance the Peterborough ornamental swimmers in their competitive trip to Florida on Aug. 24. The first such meet is at Wallace's Point this Sunday.

Alf Pink was named chairman of the new association, with Helen Chartren secretary and Bill Thompson treasurer. The executive comprises Terry Hill, Jim Laird, Les Moore, Herb Cardwell and Stewart Brown, with an advisory trio of Police Chief John Thompson, J. Wedlock and Alex Sinclair. The executive will have assistant representatives from the Navy Club, the Sea Cadets, Ornamental Swimming Club and the Lions Club.

The chairman has requested city and district aquatic performers in various boating events and water skiing to list their names with recreation director Alex Sinclair at city hall.

California City Still Shaking

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Bakersfield was still shaking today, 11 days after the big earthquake that took a toll of 14 lives in Southern California.

There were two tremors today but only light ones and nothing to compare with the original shock July 21 or some of the stronger aftershocks.

The shocks today caused no damage.

4 Arrested Crash Park Hill Rd.

Railroad Sign Broken; One Man Charged Causing Disturbance

An investigation into an accident on Parkhill Rd., early today resulted in the arrest of a Toronto man believed to be the driver and three soldiers.

His face swollen and streaked with blood, both eyes blackened and his shirt spattered with blood, George Dunsford, 101 Caledonia Park Rd., Toronto, appeared before Magistrate R. B. Baxter, charged with wilfully damaging city property and causing a disturbance in the police station.

DAMAGED CHAIR

Dunsford, who is said to have told police he was driving the car which crashed into a railroad sign on Parkhill Rd., is charged with damaging a chair when he was being questioned at the police station.

Picked up by police in a George St. restaurant sometime after the accident, when the proprietor alleged he was disturbing customers, Dunsford appeared to have been badly beaten about the head when police first saw him.

A wallet was found near the broken railway sign on Parkhill Rd., which contained papers belonging to Dunsford. He is reported to have told police he was beaten up by two soldiers who left him at the scene of the accident.

PLEADED GUILTY

When the charge of damaging the chair was read by Magistrate Baxter, Dunsford mumbled through blood caked lips he was guilty of damaging the chair but did it "under exceptional provocation."

He pleaded guilty to causing a disturbance in the city hall but said the ruckus was caused under the same circumstances. Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said the officer, Constable Wilfred Perry was not present and asked for a remand for sentence.

Then, Dunsford asked if his plea could be changed to not guilty. Mr. Bradshaw agreed and he was remanded until August 6 on $500 bail.

Meanwhile, three soldiers are being held in custody for military police.

They are: Ronald Bryan, 19, 513 Howden Ave., Michael Huczycken, 20, 180 Henry St., Sidney Nova Scotia and Albert Odette, 19, 352 Armstrong Dr.

Two soldiers were seen leaving the spot where the car hit the sign on Parkhill Rd., and later were seen returning to the spot. They picked up some articles lying on the ground and walked south along the railway tracks.

Huczycken and Odette were picked up at Aylmer and McDonnel Sts. Bryan was arrested at 5 a.m. by Constable Arthur Beardsmore at Aylmer and Charlotte Sts., and is reported to have admitted being with Huczycken and Odette earlier in the night.

According to police, the leave passes of all three soldiers had expired.

Board Recognizes Dissolution Of Union

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario Labor Relations Board announced today it recognizes the dissolution of Workers of Naugatuck Chemicals, an organization formed to act as bargaining agent for employees of the Elmira plant of Dominion Rubber Company, Limited.

Dissolution of the organization leaves the way open for employees to continue an application for affiliation with District 50, United Mine Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

Chilly Night

Lowest recorded temperature Thursday night was 45 degrees above, which made it the lowest July 31-Aug. 1 night in the last five years. All others have been four or more degrees higher. Low temperatures for the same nights in 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951 were: 57, 49, 60, 62.

Utilities To Lay Hospital Main If City Will Pay

The Peterborough Utilities Commission are prepared to complete a six-inch watermain around the Civic Hospital provided that the city pays the whole cost.

General Manager Ross Dobbin estimates that the cost of completing the watermain around the hospital and putting in two hydrants will be $6,900.

There are now two hydrants at the hospital, instead of the seven included in the original sketch plans; and the six-inch watermain does not circle the hospital buildings.

Recently the hospital's insurance underwriters recommended the installation of two more hydrants. There has been an exchange of correspondence on the subject. The Board of Governors want action and the P.U.C. are unconvinced of the necessity of the change.

"What do they fear with the existing arrangement?" was the query made earlier in July by Commissioner Dr. G. R. Langley. Though there is no sprinkler system the building is fireproof.

However the Board of Governors replied: "... It has been called to our attention by our insurance carrier that if disaster in the form of fire should strike, the board would be considered culpable if it had not taken whatever steps necessary to remedy the situation after it was pointed out to them."

The P.U.C. originally agreed to spend $50,000 on water and sewage facilities at the hospital but they estimate they have already spent nearly twice that much.

As the Parks Department intend to landscape the hospital grounds in 1953 the Board of Governors would like any tearing up of the grounds to be done before the landscaping begins.

The problem now seems to have been shifted to city council for a decision.

P.U.C. Lifts Ban Lawn Watering

If you want to water your lawn, well—just go right ahead.

Thursday afternoon the Peterborough Utilities Commission lifted the watering restrictions which have been in effect since July 7. However, if a prolonged hot spell settles in again, the ban on hoses and sprinklers will likely be re-imposed.

"Owing to the cooler weather and the rain, we feel we can move the restrictions for the time being," said Chairman Gordon S. Matthews. "But if we have exceptionally dry weather, they'll have to be re-imposed."

Other members of the commission (Dr. G. R. Langley was absent) agreed. One of them suggested that citizens take it easy at first and not use more water than they need.

Ross L. Dobbin, utilities manager, said it was the first time since 1949 that the peak demand for water had been so great that restrictions were needed.

For the past three weeks residents have only been allowed to use their hoses, sprinklers, watering cans or what have you for one hour at night, twice a week. There was no watering allowed on Sunday.

The Commissioners said Thursday that they regretted that some lawns—especially those freshly sodded, such as the city hall—had been damaged by the scarcity of water. But it was an emergency measure which they hope won't have to be taken again.

France's Big Dredger Sunk By Torpedo

BOULOGNE, France (Reuters)—A wartime torpedo dragged from the mud of Boulogne harbor today sunk France's biggest dredger, the 1,289-ton Pas de Calais II Eleven crew members, including the captain, were killed.

The Pas de Calais was working in the harbor roads when the torpedo appeared, jammed between two of the dredges. A member of the crew climbed out to try to defuse it, but it fell and exploded.

Utilities Commission Moves To Place Underground Electric Wire On George St.

Simcoe To Hunter Street Block First Included In Plan Estimated To Cost $750,000

First step toward eliminating overhead hydro-electric wiring from downtown city streets was taken Thursday afternoon by the Peterborough Utilities Commission. They awarded Par-Tex Foundation Co. of Toronto a $13,000 contract to cut a trench in the sidewalk on the west side of George St. between Simcoe and Hunter Sts., and build a conduit for the wiring. Work should commence soon. The rest of the work of wiring will be done by either the company or the P.U.C. workmen. Total cost of doing the one block, on the west side of the street only, is estimated at $35,000.

FIVE-BLOCK PLAN

It is the initial part of a scheme to put hydro-electric wiring underground in the five-block business section of the city extending from Brock St. south to Sherbrooke St. Total cost is tentatively estimated at $750,000, Ross L. Dobbin, P.U.C. manager estimates.

The work will be extended over a period of time because it is so costly.

Choice of the Simcoe to Hunter St. block was not by chance. The P.U.C. could not bring the hydro service in from the rear of new Metropolitan store, now under construction, because the laneway off Hunter St. is privately owned. And the hydro poles in front couldn't carry a greater load.

OPPORTUNE TIME

The upshot was that the P.U.C. decided this would be an opportune time to begin the underground wiring so long advocated by city planners.

Par-Tex Foundations have a concrete saw that will cut a slit 28 inches wide in the sidewalk. After sufficient excavation a conduit containing 16 ducts for wires will be installed and the sidewalk will be patched up again.

This doesn't mean that all the light poles will be taken down immediately. They will still be used for street lights. However, the bases for new street lights, wired from underground ducts, will be constructed by the company.

"The underground wiring will permit us to handle a heavier electrical load on George St.," says Mr. Dobbin.

"And it should improve the appearance of the downtown section as well."

Extend Limit For Tenders On Post Office

Closing time for contractual tenders for the construction of the proposed postal-customs building on Charlotte St. is reported to have been extended to August 15.

Subsoil tests for footings of the building are said to have gone to a depth that halted interested contractors. This report indicated that they could not find a firm bottom.

That intimation recalls a forgotten stage in the development of downtown Peterborough when the present block bounded by King, Louis and Charlotte St. to the creek was an expansive pond.

According to that story, the creek was dammed at King St., providing a storage bay from which a wooden flume carried water easterly on King St. across George and Water Streets to operate a grist and lumber mill located somewhere at the east end of King St., probably on the lower face of the slope reaching to the river.

"BAY" INTERESTED

Another rumor heard this week was to the effect that the Hudson's Bay Company was interested in Peterborough and particularly in the Charlotte St. site owned by the federal government.

One fact stands out in these reports, namely that the time for tendering has been extended to the middle of August. Rumor affirms that subsoil conditions on that location have raised contractors' doubts about the cost of finding secure footings for the postal building.

GOVERNMENT AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION officials of North Carolina and Ontario exchanged greetings at the Empress Hotel Thursday prior to the luncheon for the 181 men and women of the Haywood County Farm Tour. Miss Mary Cornwell, a home demonstrator in Haywood, is scanning a road map of Ontario with Dr. Harold Worton on the last day of his employment with Peterborough Department of Health. Rear, left to right, is Cliff Morrow, Toronto, field man for livestock branch of the Department; W. A. Corpening, county agent in Haywood, and his counterpart in Peterborough, Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative. The Haywood county farmers, on their 11th annual out-state tour, crossed this week into Canada for the first time.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Benefits Of Strip Farming Proved By John Nurse Topsoil Loss Is Stopped

John Nurse is the only farmer in South Monaghan to adopt the replanning of his farm, featured by seeding in strips across the contour of the knolls.

In that local singularity of practice, he is not setting himself up as an exemplar to the other farmers of his township, or even farther afield. Mr. Nurse is simply preventing rains and melting snow from carrying his valuable topsoil down the slopes and into the swamp.

From two years of experience he is highly satisfied with the results of his decision, his investment and his labor.

"I wouldn't want back one dollar of the money I spent," Mr. Nurse told the Examiner this week while resting after loading a truck with bags of fall wheat. "It was the best spent money that I can imagine, and the replanning is doing exactly what I thought and hoped it would do. I have stopped the loss of soil erosion they call it. This year's crop is the best I ever had in a dry year. I have taken off more hay than I could use, I have more convenience in my field work, and I have rotations that are already working out well."

South Monaghan has a lot of rolling land, and the Nurse farm south and west of Bensfort, on the first concession, is probably typical of its topography.

A CLINCHING RAIN

Mr. Nurse had become uneasy about the gradual thinning of his soil on the rounded knolls. He was aware of the departmental and other recommendations of the benefits of strip plowing and farming. Conviction had probably formed in his thinking about the farm, but he kept postponing action until a heavy rain convinced him that he had to do something.

"It was just about this time of the year in 1949. I had seven acres of summer fallow worked up in fine condition, loose and in good shape for seeding with wheat.

"Then came a heavy shower one afternoon, and it caught that sloping field without any barriers of protection. The loose soil was washed down to the low level. The rain was so heavy that it took out four panels of the fence. In one place it dug a deep gulley.

"Anybody could see what had happened, and what could happen again and again. As I say, a lot of the good soil was swept down into the swamp, and no land can stand that."

There was a short hay crop that season. Mr. Nurse began somewhat indecisively to take the trees out of the fence line. In the course of that chore he took a further step, and probably told the fences they had to go too.

ACTUAL CONSERVATION

In that process of thinking, John Nurse became a practical conservationist. In his own rating of himself, he was just a commonsense farmer.

"That rain really gave me the final push," he recalled. "I engaged Fred Nelson to bring his bulldozer and tackle the growth along the fences. That is a common story of detail. Mr. Nelson worked for me 90 hours. Getting rid of the fences cost $765, and from the results I now know I wouldn't take a dollar of it back."

Mr. Nurse suggested the analogy of the roof. "The bigger it is, the more rain comes off it. That's the way it was on the 40 acres or more of the largest knoll."

Surface water cut some channels four feet deep on the Nurse farm. "Usually every spring," he said.

Well, he took out 400 rods of fence, and combined seven fields into one.

In the meantime, he had written Frank C. Paterson and Ed. Summers of Durham, agricultural representatives, and he was joined in the first stage of replanning the farm by Frank Morwick, Gordon Baker and Tom Lane, of O.A.C., and the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

FARM SURVEYED

Surveys of the farm were followed by the planning of strips across the contours, and the programming of rotations.

Farmers know the alternation of strips. On the Nurse farm, in some areas, there is a three year rotation, hay followed by wheat and in the third year spring grain.

In the four year program, two crops of hay are taken off, followed by wheat, and then oats or oats and barley in the fourth year.

Some of the harvest results this year: Barley averaged 30 bushels or more to the acre; 80 bags of wheat from a strip of 2.7 acres in overall area, the bags weighing 105 to 110 pounds each; 108 bales of hay off two of the smaller strips.

Those are only some samples of the crop. Mr. Nurse has a barn full of hay, and had a surplus to sell. And incidentally, or perhaps primarily, he had no run-off of soil this year. The strip practice has stopped that loss.

GRATEFUL TO O.A.C. MEN

"I would like to say that I had fine co-operation from the government men. They were here three or four times a year. They drew a plan of the farm, and everything was agreeable as we went along. They didn't take anything out of my hands, but were concerned about what I thought, because they said it was my farm, and I knew it better than anyone else. I could not have asked for better co-operation."

If other farmers are interested in what Mr. Nurse has been doing, a radical transformation reflected by the fact that he is yet the first and only replanner in the township, he is happy to talk about his experience. One neighbor appears to be thinking seriously of the strip method, and quite a number have seen it on the Nurse place.

"Most people could do some," he remarked with reference to the rolling lands of South Monaghan.

Mr. Nurse was asked whether he would launch into the scheme if he had to do it all over again. He hesitated in reply, recalling the 50 loads of stone he took off the land in the first year of the new system.

FARM AS HERITAGE

Considering the work and investment merely for himself, Mr. Nurse . . ., but Mr. Nurse isn't thinking only of himself. He is thinking of his young son Allan, 17 years old, whom Frank Paterson calls "the boss." The Nurse farm is a way of life, a heritage, to be sustained in its natural values, in productivity and also with improvements.

"If it were not for my son . . ." Mr. Nurse began in one sentence, but he didn't finish it.

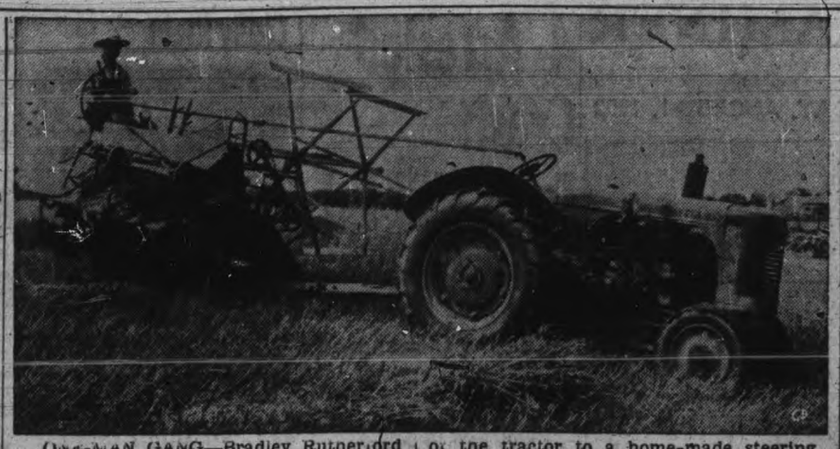
The crop rotations are proving their advantage; and results from a permanent pasture have been so satisfactory that Mr. Nurse is beginning to think of more cattle. He has 20 head. The farm is 100 acres or thereabouts.

All but one of the strips are 70 feet wide; the exception 80 feet. The smaller strips are two to three acres in area; others vary up to 6.2 acres, to mention a detail of the plan.

Replanning signifies departure from the original plan of a farm, and the original is marked off by the old and existing fences.

Benefits from the father's work include the long sweep of strips as a mechanical improvement; none of the old turnings about field after field in plowing and cultivating and harvetsing. That is a modern convenience for the son of the farm, a fruit of the father's labor and also of his wisdom and decision.

South Monaghan has long been noted for good land and fertile farms.



TWO RANCH FARMS

But, up the road, Mr. Nurse said, referring to some general direction, two farms had fallen vacant. One man bought both, and sold the buildings for what he had paid for the entire properties.

They have been ranch land; South Monaghan farms. (How many others may be like them, Mr. Nurse did not say—if he knew.) Ranches, presumably, left to the dubious care of nature; expending nutrients in neglect of maintenance.

Years ago, Prof. O. M. McConkey, then of O.A.C., internationally famous as a soils expert gave a talk here one night on such an essential subject as grass. In some aspects it may have been a revelation to his audience of forty farmers. Grass grows, one field looks much like another, but what of their nutrient and mineral content?

Starve the land, and you starve the grass, and the cattle and humanity that depends on the livestock for health and life. It was a memorable lecture on the rudiments of agriculture which in present day practice has made long strides in farm knowledge and practice.

ONE-MAN GANG—Bradley Rutnerford has worked out a way to operate the binder and tractor pulling the binder by himself on his farm near Stratford, Ont. He installed a steel shaft from the steering wheel of the tractor to a home-made steering wheel on the binder. A small rope from the tractor to the binder allows him to operate the hand clutch. He completed most of his harvest single-handed and quickly.

Wants Floors Retained

"Farm business is still in a serious state, and an announcement from the government that the floor price programs will be maintained until U.S. markets are once more open is being awaited."

That paragraph is quoted from a statement this week by H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

"Some statements in the press would lead the public to believe that livestock producers are not too badly off" in the market effects of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease. "It is thought by some that prices for beef cattle, for instance, are on a par with those of two years ago."

"Since the outbreak, prices of good steers on the Toronto market have dropped 20%. The average price was $32.60 in 1951, and in recent weeks has ranged between $25 and $26.

The same thing happened to hogs. Prices have dropped 22% since early this year. So, the losses to livestock producers have already been heavy.

"In the dairy industry, the loss of the traditional market for thousands of head of top Canadian dairy stock, which normally go each year to the U.S. market, has been a severe blow. Some 55,000 head have been involved this year, which means that the milk from this stock has backed up on the local markets. Much of this has gone to cheese factories, which are already facing the problem of disposing of a surplus product normally exported, but barfed from both U.S. and U.K. markets this year. The backing up of this surplus milk on domestic markets has tended to undermine the whole dairy industry.

50,000 Acres Of Potatoes Planted In Ontario, 180,000 Acres 50 Years Ago

When Ontario had a population of 2,000,000 about 50 years ago, farmers planted 180,000 acres of potatoes. This year with the population of the province more than doubled, only 50,000 acres are in potatoes.

That decline in potato area in Ontario was emphasized by R. E. Goodin, assistant director of the crops, seeds and weeds branch of the provincial Department of Agriculture, at the potato field at O.A.C. Tuesday.

"We have more people, but we produce fewer potatoes," Mr. Goodin said. "I don't believe there has ever been a better opportunity for potato growers to increase their acreage."

A good price is expected for this season's crop, Mr. Goodin said. The potato acreage last year was an all time low in Ontario, and the increase for 1952 is only two per cent.

He said southern Ontario counties, including Essex, had decreased their early potato acreage about 23% this year, and with dry weather that lowered the yield, the market has been short.

"Almost all the early crop down there has been sold already. Ontario imports at present about 5,000 carloads of potatoes a year. We can grow them here. There are thousands of acres of sandy loam that can be built up into good potato land."

WILDLIFE CHIEF—W. Winston Mair, 38, a native of North Battleford, Sask., is the new chief of Canada's Wildlife Service. He succeeds Dr. Harrison F. Lewis who has retired to private life. A veteran of the Second World War, Mr. Mair holds a master of arts degree in Zoology from the University of British Columbia, with specialization in wildlife management. He was chosen following a country-wide competition by federal Civil Service Commission.

700 Women Required For X-Ray Clinic

For a house-to-house canvass urging Peterborough County people to avail themselves of the free chest X-ray clinic, between 600 and 700 women will be required.

This estimate was suggested at a preparatory meeting this week in the Department of Agriculture office.

Members of the Women's Institute, church auxiliaries and others are being assigned the preliminary work of inviting everybody over 12 years of age to have a chest X-ray examination in search of any evidence of tuberculosis.

The mobile clinical unit will be stationed two days at Lakefield and Keene, and one day at Westwood, Norwood, Havelock, Warsaw, Hall's Glen, Burleigh Falls, Apsley, Ennismore, Buckhorn and Lakehurst.

A representative group of rural women discussed with Mr. Carme Bray, of the Ontario Department of Health, plans for the survey throughout the county from September 16 to October 3.

It will be a co-operative community effort by the women who respond to this challenge to intensify the campaign against T.B.

There is no charge for the examination of the pulmonary system. The cost is borne by the Ontario Department of Health and the Peterborough branch of the Ontario Tuberculosis Association whose funds are obtained through the annual sale of Christmas seals.

Through the agency of the government, the public actually pays for this health service, and they are entitled to its benefits.

More will be heard from the Peterborough County women as the September campaign approaches. In the meantime, the people of the townships and villages should decide now that they are going to have their chests X-rayed.

4-H Club Dates

August 4-H Club meetings arranged by Ken Best, assistant agricultural representative, include the following:

Tractor Club: Thursday, August 7, at McIntyre and Nigh Cockshutt shop near the Locks Bridge; at 8 p.m.

West Dairy Calf Club: Friday, August 8, at the farm of Howard Clark, Smith, at 7.45 p.m.

Beef Calf Club: Monday, August 11, at the farm of M. H. Pimmett and Sons, 6th line of Otonabee, at 7.30. Final preparations for Achievement Day will be considered.

Lakeshurst Forestry Club: Wednesday, August 13, Lakehurst Hall, at 7.30.

East Dairy Calf Club: Monday, August 18, at 7.45, at the farm of Earl Doris, Keene Road.

Swine Club: Wednesday, August 20, at the Redmond Walsh farm, fourth concession of Ashodel, at 7.30 p.m.

Two September dates are: Peterborough Exhibition, September 11; and Achievement Day, September 27.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

County Women To Canvass For Health Survey . . . . Dr. Harold Worton Ends Work As Dairy Inspector For City . . . . Ken Fallis Bereaved By Death of His Wife . . . 4-H Club Meetings This Month.

Dairy inspector with the Board of Health since 1945, Dr. Harold Worton ended that engagement Thursday on a note of reminiscence. He has been appointed Provincial Veterinarian, a new position in the livestock branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Worton began private practice here in 1937, and eight years later joined the city's Board of Health on a part-time basis, continuing in that role until he became a full-time official.

"One of the rural improvements in that time has been the snow-plowing of county and township roads," Dr. Worton recalled.

"Winter trips into the country ran into all kinds of weather, day and night, and to make some calls I remember riding on manure sleighs," Dr. Worton said. "Not that I minded. It was all in the line of experience, and I found Peterborough farmers mighty helpful.

My first call was to William Chambers' farm in Otonabee to open a cow's teat. I didn't know the Peterborough roads. It seems strange now, but I landed in Keene, instead of down in the Stewart's Hall community.

Extension of Hydro power into the townships has brought about a big improvement in rural life.

Electricity on the farm has made a big difference, and especially in the dairy branch. The cooling of milk has been greatly simplified, and the result generally is a better quality of milk.

Of the dairy farmers who ship milk into Peterborough for the bottled trade, and that's what I was concerned about, only a few are carrying on today without electric power and its conveniences; they are fewer than ten.

It is easy to have a supply of hot water in the milking quarters of the barn. Some of them have been refined to milking parlors. Dairy equipment has increased beyond the thinking of 15 years ago.

Farmers have facilities that reduce labor and enable them to turn out a high quality product.

I found it a pleasure to deal with the majority of the dairy farmers who ship milk to Peterborough's dairies for home consumption. That is the whole milk for the bottled trade. Suggestions I made for the improvement of the farm dairy were usually carried out. Some farmers didn't even wait for my suggestions. On the other hand the odd few were tardy.

If I hadn't been asked for these comments, I wouldn't be making them. However, I really hope that more of our farmers, especially those in the commercial milk business, would get interested in the herd improvement association.

Why keep and feed boarder cows when you can get good stock these days. I think there is a real opportunity in the conditions today. Artificial breeding means offspring from better sires. A little planning, and that's important, should bring about a better milking herd, increased milk supply, more income, even if quotas are fixed at present.

I'd like to say finally that I appreciate the co-operation I have had from the farmers of this district, and I wish them the best of results from their work."

Dr. Worton will be dealing with health problems affecting the livestock of Ontario, and will coordinate the work being done by the Ontario Veterinary College with that of the other branches of the Department of Agriculture.

KEN FALLIS BEREAVED

Peterborough farmers will read with regret the report of the death of the wife of Ken Fallis, field man for the crops, seeds and weeds branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. His friends here had known for some months of the illness of Mrs. Fallis.

Mr. Fallis has been a fairly frequent visitor in the Peterborough area. He was a big help to the Exhibition Board in its baled hay competition, and also in organizing the Central Ontario Spring Show. New farm practice, particularly in long term pastures, weed control demonstrations were several of the projects which Mr. Fallis has promoted in this area.

The funeral Saturday afternoon will be from Toronto to Gardner's Cemetery, Millbrook, where the committal service will be at 2 o'clock.

BRIEF VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell, of Woodstock, were in Peterborough district several days this week in the course of a vacation. They were on their way into New York State. Mr. Bell is assistant agricultural representative in Oxford County.

Farm Need Epsom Salts?

Does the farm need a dose of epsom salts? In other words, in its balance of minerals, is it short of magnesium?

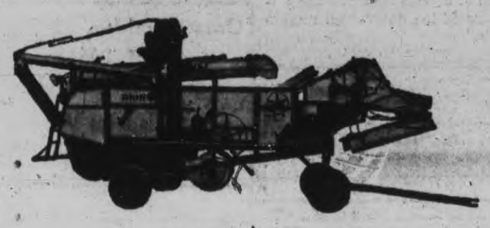
That topic arose in a discussion of the soil fertility problem in this district when Tom Lane, William Pelton and Ken King of the soils department of O.A.C. called at the office of F. C. Paterson one day last week while passing through the city. Ken Best, assistant agricultural representative, was also present.

Talking generally of the area, it transpired that some soils show a deficiency of magnesium.

On lands low in lime, the correct practice is to use dolomitic limestone, which is magnesium carbonate, instead of using calcium carbonate, the common lime.

But, in the Peterborough district there is abundance of lime. The discussion passed on to the elements normally supplied in fertilizers; nitrogen, phosphorous and potash. It was said that the element to be used was magnesium sulphate, that is the common epsom salts.

Mr. Lane mentioned an instance near Plainville, south of Rice Lake. A farmer had some marked, almost spectacular results through application of magnesium sulphate with fertilizer, — about 25 to 30 pounds to the acre.



The effects were prominent over a period of years. Mr. Paterson said Harry Blewett had bought a relatively small quantity to be put on with wheat this fall. Effects would be watched for the extent of growth because it was thought that the magnesium could be used to advantage on soils of this district under certain conditions.

The conversation mentioned copper which had made a marked difference in crop growth in sections of eastern Ontario. It was said that only a small part was required to make a considerable difference in crop growth.

Boron can't be added to high lime soil, and might have to be sprayed if used on turnips, alfalfa, etc. Iodine was used in the Temiskaming district to correct goitre in calves and colts. It was mixed in the salt. This wasn't an academic discussion, but was concerned about actual soils and practice in promoting fertility.

"COOL CONTROL"
THE FOREHAND DRIVE

1 The Backswing: Keep your eye on the approaching ball; before ball bounces, step out and to the side with right foot pointing at the sideline and draw racket back. This motion should approximately line up arm, shoulders and racket wrist, elbow and knees slightly and comfortably bent. Body pivots on hips.

2 The Forward Swing: Eyes must be on ball. Body pivots on ball of right foot as racket moves forward, transferring body weight to left foot. Stroke is continuous, with wrist straightening firmly when ball is hit. Racket swings forward at height on which ball is taken from bounce. Experience and judgment give perfect control.

3 The Follow-Through: This motion of racket and body gives your drive control and your game quality. As racket hits ball, body continues its pivot to the left and racket begins slightly upward line. Arm and racket follow direction of ball and then continue on to cross body till racket head is above and to left of left shoulder.

Yes, it's control that counts, in tennis as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Egyptians Lose All Titles Under New Army Decree

CAIIRO (CP)— Gen. Mohammed Naguib today reiterated that his army coup of a week ago was aimed only at obtaining proper reforms in Egypt and seeing that the constitution was applied in the best interests of the country."

The strong man general told a press conference he will shortly issue a communique stressing the army's intention of refraining from politics. He insisted that he will favor no particular political party.

Naguib also denied that any difference of opinion had arisen between the army and Aly Maher, premier of Egypt's emergency government.

"The government and the army command are collaborating fully with each other," he said.

LOSES TITLE

Aly Maher, formerly Aly Maher Pasha, lost his title along with all other persons under a decree yesterday which did away with the ranks of Pasha and Bey.

Naguib's name was shorter today too. It used to have a Bey tacked onto it.

The royally-conferred titles carried no salaries but meant a lot in prestige and influence.

MAINTAIN ORDER

Naguib, now commander-in-chief of the Egyptian armed forces, said the armed forces were remaining on the alert only because they were responsible for maintaining public order.

Mohamed Azmi, ousted as public prosecutor by ex-King Farouk two years ago when he began to make headway in an investigation into the supply of defective Egyptian arms during the Palestine war, has been reinstated. The inquiry is to be re-opened.

Tomorrow, the Moslem sabbath, prayers will be said in all mosques throughout Egypt for the well-being and protection of the infant monarch, Ahmed Fuad II, now with his father in Italy.

PLAN SPECIAL STAMP

The government is to issue a special postage stamp commemorating the army uprising which culminated in Farouk's abdication.

Farouk himself has been deprived of his title "El Sayed," which indicates direct descent from the prophet Mohammed.

The cabinet yesterday invited foreign investment with a decree permitting foreigners to own 51 per cent of new Egyptian corporations instead of 49 per cent maximum allowed them under a 1949 law.

In another action last night, the cabinet affirmed that Egypt would remain a constitutional monarchy. Naguib said he had assured British ambassador Sir Ralph Stevenson there would be no change in Egypt's system of government.

GEN. MOHAMMED NAGUIB

TAKING OFF ON ITS OWN—A wheel (arrow) which flew off a stock car racer at the Burden Lake Speedway in Averill Park, N.Y., is caught by the photographer as it bounds over a fence and into a group of picnickers. After hurtling the table, the wheel headed for the children seated on the blanket at right, but one of the men in the picture managed to knock it off its course. He suffered minor burns but the children escaped injury. The race driver was also uninjured as he brought his auto to a sliding halt.

Synthetic Oil Industry Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman yesterday visualized a vast synthetic oil industry which he said would return handsome profit and boost the country's oil reserves by "many billions of barrels."

In a report to Congress, Chapman urged that private industry go ahead as soon as possible to develop commercial plants for transforming oil shale and coal into gasoline and other synthetic fuels.

Chapman complained that even with offers of government aid, there have been no takers.

His report estimated it would cost $872,150,000 to $1,184,000,000 to develop a $250,000-barrel-a-day oil shale industry using a gas-combustion process developed by the bureau of mines. It would include facilities in Colorado and California.

Chapman said the Bureau of Mines estimated gasoline could be made from coal at a cost of 11 to 17 cents a gallon. However, the National Petroleum Council earlier this week estimated the cost at 41.4 cents a gallon.

Crushed To Death

MALARTIC, Que. (CP)—Douglas Cole, 24, of Grimsby, Ont., was crushed to death yesterday in a rock-slide at Canadian Malartic Mines when a chute over which he was standing was opened to make way for a further dumping of rock ore. Malartic, in northwestern Quebec, is some 50 miles east of Rouyn, Que.

Aluminum Industry To Get 5% Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said yesterday the aluminum industry will be given a price increase averaging about 5.5 per cent, or approximately half the amount requested by producers.

One price official told a reporter an order will be issued Monday granting a ceiling hike of one cent per pound on raw aluminum—pig and ingot—and five cents on semi-fabricated and fully fabricated products.

Officials said the increase undoubtedly will mean higher prices to consumers for goods made of aluminum or containing aluminum. They said it also will mean higher costs for planes, ships, and other defence products.

Men's balloon blowing — Melville Dines.
All the children then took part in a peanut scramble, after which a ball game was enjoyed.

Army Places Contracts Worth $341,000,000

HEIDELBERG Germany (AP). —The U.S. Army has placed contracts for $400,000,000 worth of equipment from European manufacturers in the last fiscal year, and will turn over $341,000,000 worth of these purchases to North Atlantic Treaty Organization armies, it was announced on Thursday. The army said its huge buying program included $7,000,000 worth of European-produced ammunition, and vehicles for the French forces fighting Communist-led rebels in Indo-China.

OLDEST SPEEDSKATER.—Capt. George Daniel Blondin of Val d'Or, Que., at 84 claims to be the world's oldest active speedskater. He demonstrated his skill at a summer iceskating show at Timmins, Ont. A boat-builder and a boiler engineer by trade, Blondin with his long white Santa Claus beard is well known in northern Ontario and Quebec where he makes frequent appearances at ice shows.

IT WILL PAY YOU TO BUY CHEVROLET
WITH All These Extra Features!

Illustrated — Chevrolet Bel Air

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE CHEVROLET

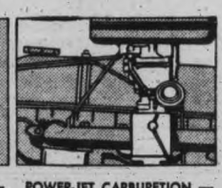
The Leader Leads Again!

YOU'RE MONEY AHEAD FROM THE START . . . YOU'RE VALUE AHEAD THROUGH THE MILES . . . YOU'RE AHEAD ALL THE WAY WITH CHEVROLET

ROYAL-TONE STYLING — You'll admire the big, bright, beautiful Bodies by Fisher . . . the thrilling new front, side and rear-end design . . . their longer, lower, more luxurious look.



GORGEOUS NEW EXTERIOR COLORS — Vivid-fresh-sparkling . . . wide choice of solid and two-tone color combinations . . . most wonderful array of colors in their price field.

GM "SHADE-LITE" GLASS Reduces Glare, Heat and Fatigue — Chevrolet offers "Shade-Lite" glass with exclusive, shaded windshield-tinting for your extra protection. (Optional at extra cost).

NEW CENTREPOISE POWER — Brings new smoothness, new freedom from vibration to low cost motoring; for the engine is now gently cradled between the mountings and cushioned in soft rubber.

POWER-JET CARBURETION — (with automatic choke in Powerglide models). Improved starting and smoother acceleration are achieved by better fuel flow and a fast acting accelerator pump.

SOFTER, SMOOTHER RIDE — Chevrolet's famous Knee-Action ride is now better than ever. All passengers, in both front and rear seats, enjoy a much smoother, softer, more comfortable ride, due to new and improved shock absorber action.

EXTRA-SMOOTH, EXTRA DEPENDABLE POWERGLIDE — Combined with 105-h.p. Valve-in-Head Engine with Automatic Choke — gives finest no-shift driving, at lowest cost. (Optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.)

39-YEAR PROVED VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE DESIGN — Constantly improved and refined over the years, it brings you outstanding performance, reliability and economy; and as a result, it is setting the trend for the industry.

CENTREPOINT STEERING — Control is centred between the front wheels instead of behind the left front wheel. This advanced steering geometry makes Chevrolet surprisingly easy to steer, manoeuvre and park.

EXTRA-SAFE JUMBO-DRUM BRAKES — with Dubl-Life, riveteless linings which last up to twice as long. They're the extra-large brakes in the low-price field. And owners will tell you they're smoothest, safest and easiest operating as well.

Pictured here, you'll find only a partial listing of the many, many extra features offered to you by Chevrolet, the lowest-priced fine car. Buying a Chevrolet puts you money ahead from the start — for Chevrolet still offers you the lowest-priced line in its field. But that's just the beginning! As the weeks and months go by, you'll gradually discover more and more about your Chevrolet's saving ways. You'll notice how its Fisher Body stays bright and beautiful, stays sound and solid — because it's designed to take hard usage. And, as the miles mount up, you'll appreciate the economy and trouble-free performance of Chevrolet's Valve-in-Head engine . . . the smooth restfulness of Knee-Action ride.

Lasting values like these — and many others — explain why you're ahead all the way with Chevrolet, the Leader. Visit your Chevrolet dealer — right away.

LONDON (Reuters)—Armi Helena Kuusela, 18-year-old Finnish schoolgirl who won the recent "Miss Universe" contest in California arrived yesterday by air from the United States. Miss Kuusela said she would stop at Stockholm for an official reception on her way to Muhos, the town where she lives.

Magnifying Mirror A Beauty Monitor

One of the best beauty aids a woman can pull out of her beach bag is a small magnifying mirror. From the beginning to the end of summer a magnifying mirror should be the monitor of every woman's good looks.

One peep into it under revealing sunlight is all that most women need in order to take the slack out of their good-grooming habits. Only one peep, we insist, will tell them what their best friends won't: that their beautiful blonde tresses need a touch-up, for example; that there's dark down on the upper lip which needs the application of a mild bleach or perhaps a depilatory.

Few women will allow eyebrows to run riot, lip lines to smear, or lash make-up to smudge, once they've been shocked into stricter habits of upkeep by their magnifying mirror.

Fox-Lucas Rites

St. Luke's Church, Downeyville, was the scene of the wedding Saturday morning of Frances second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Lucas, to Walter Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fox, Omemee. The Rev. John O'Dette of Huntsville performed the ceremony and said the nuptial mass, assisted by the Rev. V. G. McFadden.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a gown of white French lace, moderne jacket effect, and train. Her veil of white nylon tulle and lace was held with a coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade of red roses.

Miss Norma O'Neill, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, attired in yellow nylon brocaded organdy over taffeta, matching headdress and carrying a cascade of orchid roses. Bridesmaids were Miss Regina Lucas, sister of the bride, and Miss Joan Fox, sister of the groom, both attired in orchid brocaded nylon over taffeta with matching headdress and carrying nosegays of yellow roses.

The groom was assisted by his brother Hubert Fox, and ushers were Paul Lucas and Dominic Fox, brothers of the bride and groom. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Walter Herlihey, cousin of the bride and Carmen and Shirley Lucas, also cousins of the bride, sang "Panis Angelicus" and "Ave Maria" during the mass.

Dinner was served to some 80 guests at Hotel Benson, Lindsay, and a reception was held afterwards at the home of the bride's parents at Downeyville. The bride's mother received in a gown of powder blue crepe and lace dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother, attired in navy sheer, with pink accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. Fox and his bride left later for Toronto, Nigaara Falls, Buffalo, and other points, the bride travelling in white and navy nylon dress, with white and navy accessories.

They will reside in Omemee.

Honors In Music

In the recent piano examinations held by the Royal Conservatory of Music, Toronto, at Albert College, Belleville, with Mr. John Conveart as examiner, following pupils of Mrs. Harold Elliott, A.R.C.T., R.M.T., Stirling, were successful:

Grade 2—Noreen Brooks, first-class honors.

Grade 3—Donalda Heath, first-class honors.

Grade 3—Denton Shortt, honors

Grade 5—Thomas Bridges, honors.

Grade 8—Muriel J. Morton, honors.

Everyone who tried examinations was successful.

Cold Cuts Varied

One of the pleasant things about cold cuts is that there is a flavor and a seasoning to suit everyone. There is even difference of texture, for some cold cuts are hard and chewy while others are soft and mild. Some cold cuts are spicy, some are bland. Some are made with beef, some with pork, some with ham, some with veal, and some with combinations of meats like beef and pork.

You can't go wrong with cold cuts whether you are serving a party platter or simply a family supper plate with potato salad and carrot sticks or other crisp raw vegetables. Cold cuts need not always come to the table with potato salad.

What's Right

After a church service you stop to speak to your pastor, and you have with you a friend who belongs to another church.

WRONG: Feel there is no need to introduce the person since he belongs to some other church.

RIGHT: Introduce the person with you.

Salads To Fit Every Mood And Every Taste

There are salads to fit every mood, every taste, every change of weather. So there's pleasure a-plenty in store for any time of the year. Some of the best salads are the simplest, like the refreshing cucumber and tomato salad, or tossed salads of lettuce, endive, and green pepper. Give them a cloak of French dressing, serve with a casserole, and you're set for dinner.

Come noon, make a salad hearty enough to declare its independence and be a meal in itself—a salad, perchance, like the ever popular chicken, tuna, shrimp, egg or ham salad, all richly flavored with mayonnaise. Add English muffins and tea and you could invite an M.P.

Maybe you're partial to a molded salad, and will take your fruits, vegetables, cheese, eggs, fish or fowl suspended in translucent gelatin. The results are handsome. Some molds are served as main dishes, some are strictly salad, but the fruit molds can double for dessert at a moment's notice. Mostly you'll serve the gelatin salad with an errant cover of mayonnaise or salad dressing. For a dessert salad, add a little whipped cream to the mayonnaise used for topping.

Institute Meets At Coldsprings

COLDSPRINGS (ENS) — The July meeting of the Coldsprings Women's Institute was held on Wednesday night in the hall. Mrs. K. Harper, president, presided.

The secretary-treasurer's report, given by Mrs. Herb McKinley, showed a balance of $338.81. It was decided to donate five dollars to Cobour General Hospital.

Mrs. G. McIntosh and Mrs. K. Harper were named as a committee to have a sign board erected outside the township hall to announce coming events.

The motto: "We are not all gifted for the road to fame and fortune," was given by Miss Annie Moffatt.

Mrs. Harold West was convener of the following program: piano solo, Donald Harris; vocal duet, Marilyn and Eleanor McClelland; humorous recitations, Mrs. T. Wilson, Cobourg.

The guest speaker, Mrs. O. McClelland, of Bethel Grove, gave a very interesting paper on the life of the Rev. F. J. Horwood, Mus.D.; L.T.C.L.; A.T.C.M.

Dr. Horwood was born in England, and at 14 was organist of a church there. After coming to Canada to study, he got his doctor's degree in 1925. He was elected to the Senate of the Toronto Conservatory of Music in 1935. Dr. Horwood was a former minister of the Camborne circuit. He specializes in theory and has formed a music maker's circle for teen-agers with a class of between three and four hundred.

Mrs. Howard moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. McClelland, Mrs. Wilson and all others who took part.

After the National Anthem, lunch was served by Mrs. West and group.

To Lie In State Till August 10

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (Reuters)—President Juan Peron has decreed that the remains of his wife, Eva Peron, shall lie in state at the ministry of labor until Aug. 9, it was announced today.

They will then be moved to Congress to lie in state for 24 hours before being placed in the headquarters of the General Confederation of Labor, where they will remain until a mausoleum is built.

The country is gradually beginning to return to normal after the great display of grief following Eva's death Saturday, aged 33, from an undisclosed disease. The vast queues which earlier congregated around the labor ministry to pass the bier where "Evita" is lying in state have dwindled to more manageable proportions.

Nearly 500,000 mourners have stormed the labor ministry.

THE RETURN OF COTTON as an all-day, all-year fashion fabric has sent print stylists scurrying to world museums for inspiration, with the result that three definite art forms are reflected in cotton's newest designs. The ABSTRACT LOOK (left) saw its source in modern art—as beautiful as it is baffling. Perfectly adapted to sophistry in styling, it has inspired vibrant colors and unusually flattering patterns. The late-afternoon frock is in grey, yellow and white freeform design. The ultra-feminine CALICO LOOK is aptly interpreted in a pie-neckline party frock (centre) whose sprigged rosebud pattern was faithfully copied from an early Colonial calico displayed in a New England museum. The REGAL LOOK is illustrated (at right) by an exact copy of a design worn by Elizabeth II. It's a coat-dress cut on princess lines.

Farouk Manages To Dine Well

ISLE OF CAPRI, Italy (AP)—Rotund former King Farouk of Egypt, who claims he is "no longer a rich man," dined richly with his family last night at one of this pleasure island's most exclusive night clubs.

The unemployed monarch was a guest of singer Gracie Fields at her sumptuous "Cazone del Mare" restaurant.

Gracie, an old friend of the deposed ruler, invited Farouk and his family to her villa for cocktails. Later, the party—which included former Queen Narriman and Farouk's three daughters by his previous marriage—joined regular customers at the restaurant.

It was learned that Narriman brought only four pieces of luggage with her when she followed her husband into exile on 12 hours' notice. She revealed this when she asked her hotel to have her white suit cleaned "as soon as possible.."

"I couldn't salvage much," she confided.

Sink Accessible From Four Sides

ATLANTIC CITY— Among the new products shown at the National Plumbing and Heating exposition here were:

A sink designed to be installed in the centre of the kitchen accessible from four sides.

Sink faucets that can be turned off and on with finger-tip pressure.

Small package boiler that can be shipped and completely assembled and ready for installation with all controls, accessories, piling connections, and electrical contacts.

A showerhead that drains itself automatically and thus flushes out materials that clog the openings.

A new bathtub only 14 inches high, as compared with the conventional 16-inch heights.

A first-floor washroom, bigger than the ordinary lavatory, for the "clean-up" convenience of the gardening homeowner, the youngsters, and the housewife.

Salad Tropicana

Get on the tomato bandwagon, and use them as often as possible during their season. Tomatoes are plentiful, inexpensive, and nutritious.

Salad Tropicana: ½ cup ripe olives, 1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese, ½ cup undrained crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons chopped green sweet pepper, 6 medium-sized tomatoes, salad greens for garnish. Cut olives from pits into large pieces. Soften cheese with a fork and gradually blend in pineapple. Blend in green pepper and olives. Slice tomatoes and arrange on garnished salad plates. Top with cheese mixture. Serve well chilled. Serves six.

Vanderbilts Gave Daughter To Duke Because Of Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Consuelo Vanderbilt Balsan, pawn of a loveless 1890 marriage of United States wealth to a British title, says she was ordered to have a child to prevent Winston Churchill from becoming the 10th Duke of Marlborough.

In her memoirs, appearing in the current issue of the Ladies' Home Journal, Mrs. Balsan recalls her first meeting with the dowager Duchess of Marlborough, grandmother of the duke she had recently married.

"Your first duty is to have a child and it must be a son," the old duchess told the 18-year-old U.S. duchess, "because it would be intolerable to have that little upstart Winston become duke."

(After the 1945 general elections, Churchill was offered the Order of the Garter which he turned down because, he said, he wished to remain a commoner.)

IN LINE FOR TITLE

Churchill was a cousin of the ninth Duke of Marlborough and at that time next in line for the title. Mrs. Balsan divorced Marlborough in 1920 and later married Jacques Balsan, a Frenchman.

One of her two sons by Marlborough became the 10th Duke of Marlborough on his father's death.

In a previously-published installment of her memoirs, Mrs. Balsan told how her socially-ambitious mother, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, opened negotiations leading to the alliance—when Consuelo was 16.

The following year the impoverished Duke was introduced to her in England and later was invited to visit the Vanderbilts in Newport. Meanwhile the young heiress had fallen in love with a young American.

Her determination to marry the man she loved led eventually to a scene during which her mother said "she would not hesitate to shoot a man who she considered would ruin my life."

The girl capitulated after a family friend informed her the scene had resulted in Mrs. Vanderbilt's having a heart attack.

Marlborough, she relates, brought an English lawyer with him to negotiate a marriage settlement with the Vanderbilts. She does not reveal the amount of the final settlement, but subsequent legal proceedings involving the Vanderbilt estate indicated the dowry she took to the Duke amounted to $2,500,000.

"Hatless" Vogue Causes New Trend

PARIS — Youthful, becoming and easy to wear, not to mention gaily colored, the new autumn and winter hats which Parisian milliners have to show will delight most women between 16 and 60. For the older woman it is going to be more difficult to find a becoming hat—unless she changes her ideas, too—which is rather a pity because she is customarily the most faithful follower of the milliners for all occasions.

Because in recent years the hatless vogue has increased, efforts are being made to reduce such details of fashion to a minimum of weight on the head and cost of the purse. For some seasons past the dress designers have supported this trend and by introducing little hats—many of them mere coiffures—into their collections they have struck a serious blow at the hat which is really a hat complete with elaborate trimmings and ornamental workmanship.

$1,000 Agriculture Scholarship Given

OTTAWA (CP)—The Agriculture Institute of Canada today announced the award of scholarships of $1,000 each to 10 young Canadian scientists for advanced training in their chosen fields of agriculture.

The awards winners include J.A. Archibald, Vineland, Ont., for advanced work in soil physics at Michigan State college.

Achieve Slimness In Wrapped Look

NEW YORK—Slim lines in coats are achieved in the wrapped look which encompasses the figure gracefully and ignores any such trappings as buttons or belts. Philip Mangone shows an inviting group of wrap-around coats completely lined in such furs as nutria, mink, civet or squirrel. Yet for all the bulk of the fur and the luxury coatings, the silhouette remains definitely on the slim side.

Some of these coats reverse so that the wearer has two coats in one. The easy casual effect of this silhouette is accented by slot seaming which marks a dropped shoulderline and deep-cut armholes. Some of the models show the lantern sleeve with its easy width through the elbow.

Kitten's ear zibeline is a fabric frequently used for these great-coats. Navy and gray are the outstanding colors.

Harrison Picnic

The second annual Harrison family picnic was held last Saturday at Nicholls Oval with an attendance of 130. Officers for the coming year were appointed at a short business session following the supper.

President will be Mr. Ross Harhison, vice-president Mr. Harold Harrison, secretary Mrs. Gerald Harrison, treasurer, Mrs. Morris Telford; committee members, Messrs. Bill Harrison, Stanley Harrison, George Craft, Mrs. W. J. Stockdale and Mrs. Gratton Telford. Regret was expressed at the absence of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison due to Mr. Harrison's illness, and he was named the honorary president.

The oldest person present was Mrs. Ross Harrison and the youngest was Wendy Clark, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Clark. The most recently married couple was Mr. and Mrs. Merrell Hunt. The family coming the farthest was Mr. and Mrs. G. Metcalf, of Nestleton.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP)—The Pope today sent best wishes to the British people and their royal family today after receiving the Duke and Duchess of Windsor in private audience.

The Windsors, who spent 20 minutes with the Pontiff, were accompanied by Sir Walter Roberts, British minister to the Vatican.

Sunshine Therapy For Oily Scalps

One of the best treatments for an oily scalp—a beauty blight when it turns fluffy hair into lank locks—is ultra violet light. While you can treat yourself aboundantly to the therapy of summer sunshine, take advantage of it.

Keep changing the parting of your hair, as you expose it to sunshine, so that the ultra-violet rays can penetrate to the scalp. However, guard against over exposure to sunshine, for it heats the scalp and causes the hair to become more oily.

Dare to wash your hair as often as shampoos are needed, which can be every day if your hair is that oily and you like it that fluffy. The cleaner your scalp is, the less trouble you'll have with oiliness that attracts dirt and which if allowed to remain too long, can cause irritations.

Don't be afraid to brush oily hair. Brushing distributes the oil by drawing it from the scalp down the length of your hair. The stimulus derived from brushing has a tonic effect upon a scalp by helping to regulate improperly functioning glands..

Grasshopper Line Latest In Fashions

PARIS (AP)—Elsa Schiaparelli pepped up the Paris fashion scene last night with a gay "grasshopper" collection full of the first real fashion news this season.

Taking the grasshopper as a "design of near perfection," she borrowed the wings and put them on suit lapels, coat tails, under the arms and on the shoulders. Her motif, pinned on or embroidered, hopped about from the arm to the middle of the back, to just anywhere.

The grasshopper silhouette featured a "smoothly round, sleek and slender body, swelling back, bouffant skirt and jut-out wings." Some short jackets had a pointed and split tail. There was a hornet sting hat and hornet coat tail with a jutting point.

Other fanciful headgear imitated crickets—feathered or embroidered

Oshawa Teacher Given Respite

OSHAWA.—An Oshawa collegiate teacher has been given a two-year respite in her protest against threatened dismissal. The Board of Education here threatened to dismiss her when she was married.

Mrs. Dorothy Grosart, the teacher, carried her fight against the board's policy of dismissing married teachers to a board of reference appointed by the province.

The board of education passed a motion to the effect that Mrs. Grosart be retained until 1954 as a temporary teacher and head of the French department.

Costs of the hearing were ordered paid by the board of education and amounted to $945. Of this amount, $400 was paid to the chairman of the board of reference, Judge F. J. MacRae of Whitby, $350 to Mrs. Grosart's nominee Herbert Orliffe, and $150 to the nominee of the board of education. The court reporter received $45.

New diet melts off 160 pounds

Helen Fraley proved it can be done—from an almost hopeless 295 pounds, she slimmed to an attractive 135, and never missed having 3 good meals a day. Her day-by-day diet is published in the Journal for the first time. She reveals her reducing secrets and tells you what to eat between meals. Whether you want to diet or know someone who should, be sure to read I Am Just Beginning to Live in the August Ladies' Home Journal.

Widow Should Forget Man Said Of Dubious Character

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow in my middle 40's. My husband died seven years ago, leaving me with a nice home and car. I drew a pension, and am working every day. I have one son who soon will be married. I would like to get married myself. I have met a man who says he loves me and wants to marry me. He has nothing but a steady job to offer. I know he has lied to me, and he also lied to his first wife, who was a fine woman. He was not true to her, and he hasn't been to me. Do you think he wants me, or the things I can give him? Do you think he would change if I married him?

A. W.

ANSWER: The possibility of a man changing drastically at his time of life is most unlikely. Lying and cheating are fundamental characteristics that do not yield easily to reformation.

While it is perfectly understandable that, with your son preparing to marry, you dread the loneliness ahead, believe me, it will be preferable to marriage with a man who will give you nothing but worry. You have an unusually fine life for a widow your age; don't rush to change it for a mess of trouble.

TELEPHONING BOYS

DEAR MISS DIX: My girl friend and I were invited to a class party to which we were asked to bring boys. We particularly wanted two boys from a neighboring town whom we knew fairly well, and since there was no other way of getting in touch with them, we telephoned. A friend of ours said we were wrong in doing so. Who is right? M. R.

ANSWER: There is absolutely nothing wrong in telephoning an invitation to a boy under the conditions you outline. A friendly call of invitation is quite correct, and your friend is in error in criticising your action.

DEAR MISS DIX: Ever since I was a child I have been in love with a boy in the neighborhood. We were brought up together, and everyone assumed that some day we would marry. Now we are both 25 and I think it's time we did marry. However, he never mentions it, but always says he has plenty of time for marriage. I've tried to forget him and go out with other men, but somehow they don't appeal to me. My father says he's on my mind too much. A. R.

ANSWER: You and your noncommital friend have just drifted into a state of taking each other for granted and, unless you take things into your own hands, drifting is all you'll ever do.

You can pin the young man down to a decision as to whether or not he has any intentions of marriage, or you simply tell him you've grown tired of dangling and have decided to play the field. Then, do just that! Stop thinking about the swain who can't make up his mind, and concentrate on others with a little more force.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young married woman. While my husband has been away, I have accepted invitations to a few dances. The occasions were harmless but, when he heard about them he was rather angry. Am I expected to stay home all the time? Besides, he has been drinking quite a bit. T. M.

ANSWER: Whether it suits your ideas of entertainment or not, you contracted a marriage—which carries with it some obligations, one of which is the restriction of your personal liberty. If your husband is annoyed at your attendance at dances, you have no other decent choice but to stay away from them. Your behavior would be enough to discourage him to the point of drinking. You can't expect him to be perfect if you are going to be so heedless of your own conduct. Mend your ways, and he'll change his. Curtailment of freedom is a natural consequence to marriage and one you should have taken into consideration sooner.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have recently graduated from high school and, though I intended going on to college, have fallen in love with a man twenty years older than I, and would like to get married. Do you think the difference in our ages is too great, or do you think I should go on to college?

MINNA R.

ANSWER: Twenty years is quite a difference, age is never an insurmountable barrier if all other considerations are favorable. Since you are quite young, however, the college career has its merits. It will broaden your social life, equip you for possible self-support in the future (a very serious consideration where a husband is so much older) and give you a chance to become more settled. Consult the principal of your school for guidance in the choice of school and course.

ITALIAN FASHION SHOWINGS began this week in Florence, with buyers from all over the world attending the presentations of Italy's finest houses of fashion. The model at the left, standing before the famous Cathedral of Florence, wears an outfit presented by the House of Pucci. The slacks, of black gabardine, are pulled in tightly. The flaring striped jacket of white and black cotton can be worn at the seaside or for cocktails. The hat exaggerates the outfit. At right, two models exhibit cocktail dresses shown at Pitti Palace. The cocktail-evening dress is elaborately designed in black tulle, and the black and white frock is elaborately embroidered, and is worn with matching necklace. Both are creations of the House of Carosa.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Easy-To-Make Fresh Salads Tempt Jaded Appetites

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It's salad week and here is your salad-a-day diary as released by the Canadian Horticultural Council.

For Saturday supper, a down south salad. Two No. 1 cans shrimp, one cup diced celery, two tablespoons chopped pimiento, two tablespoons chopped green pepper, one-quarter teaspoon salt, six tablespoons French dressing, one-third cup mayonnaise, six stuffed olives, two grapefruit, lettuce.

Combine shrimp, celery, pimiento, green pepper, salt and marinate in French dressing. Just before serving mix in the mayonnaise and heap on bed of crisp lettuce in salad bowl. Surround in a ring of stuffed olives and grapefruit sections. Six servings.

If Sunday is warm the council suggests a crunchy summer salad of fresh peas, celery, cheese, tomato, mayonnaise, lettuce.

Combine cooked fresh peas with an equal amount of not-too-finely-cut celery. Add small cubes of Canadian cheese. Moisten with mayonnaise or french dressing. Season to taste with salt, pepper and finely chopped sweet pickles or with pickle relish. Place on thin slices of fresh tomato on a bed of iceberg lettuce.

Monday, wash-day? Then celery-egg-potato salad is the answer.

Ingredients: 1½ cups celery, 1½ cups cooked sliced potato, four ley, one-quarter cup green onion, hard-boiled eggs, one-half cup mayonnaise, two tablespoons chopped sweet pickle, two green onions, one teaspoon prepared mustard.

Sliced celery and eggs are combined with the potato and finely chopped pickle and green onions. Mustard is blended with mayonnaise and added to vegetables. Season to taste, cover and chill. Serve on lettuce cups and garnish with radishes.

Tuesday and Wednesday are days for furit salads—fresh pear, celery, nut salad. Three ripe pears, lemon juice, two three-ounce packages cream cheese, mayonnaise, salt, one-half cup whipped cream, two cups diced celery, one-half cup chopped nuts, head lettuce

Peel, halve and core pears. Sprinkle with lemon-juice. Blend enough mayonnaise into cheese to make smooth and fluffy. Add salt to taste. Fold into whipped cream. Add celery. Arrange pears on head-lettuce cups. Top with cheese mixture and garnish with nuts. Serves six.

Thursday or any day is right for a Canada tomato bowl: Six tomatoes, one-quarter cup parsley, six tablespoons salad oil, two tablespoons wine vinegar.

Peel and slice large ripe tomatoes. Sprinkle with salt and black pepper. Mix finely cut parsley and green onion, tops and all. Add greens to blended salad oil and vinegar. Arrange tomatoes in layers in a shallow bowl, spreading dressing over each layer; chill. Setrom bowl or on lettuce.

Readers' Friday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

By MARY MOORE

Question: May I congratulate you on your column which is the first I turn to every evening . . . I wonder if you or any of your readers could help with a relish recipe calling for beets and horseradish .This is a European recipe used widely by Ukrainians delicious with any meat dish.

M.W.E.

Answer: I'll take a bow for all of the feature contributors to the page—thank you, mam.

Beet Pickle: Two quarts diced or chopped or shredded cooked beets, 3 small onions, 3 green peppers, ½ cup grated horseradish (raw—not bottled), 2 cups vinegar, 3 cups sugar, 3 teaspoons salt. Heat together the vinegar, salt and sugar, and when sugar and salt are dissolved add the horseradish and bring to boil. Add beets, chopped onion and peppers and simmer 20 minutes. Pour into sterile pint jars—4—and seal.

Question: Here is a little help for Muriel D. In the event that her diabetic husband can eat cherries either sweet or sour I have put both in the locker with no sugar at all . . . the sweet cherries are extra good and just like freshly picked fruit if they are put in the jars unpitted and with no sugar. Of course not too many can be put in a jar, but the flavor is excellent. Just cherries—no sugar, water, etc. Ruth A.

Answer: Thanks so much Ruth A. I hope Muriel D. sees that and that if she does follow your lead she will not fill the jars more than ¾ full at the most.

Question: I'm intending to can cherries and raspberries this year. Would you please give a recipe for making a 9-inch pie with canned cherries and also the canned raspberries. I don't know the method for making pies from canned fruits — am okay on fresh fruits, thanks to you.

No Signature.

Cherry Pie (from canned cherries): Line a deep 9-inch pie plate with pastry. Mix together in a saucepan 1 cup sugar (if unsweetened pie cherries are used; if cherries are sweetened 1-3 to ½ cup sugar is enough), 4 tablespoons flour, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Now stir into them 2½ cups canned sour cherries plus their juice (no more than ¾ to ½ cup free juice should be present). Stir this over medium heat until it thickens and boils. Pour into the pastry-lined pan and dot with 1½ tablespoons butter. (If desired a drop or so of almond flavoring may be added also about 8 or 10 drops red vegetable coloring.) Quickly cover with gashed top crust and seal and flute edges. Bake at 425 deg. Fahr. until slightly brown and juice begins to bubble through slits in crust—about 35 to 40 minutes.

Raspberry Pie (from canned berries): Same as for Cherry Pie with canned cherries but use not more than ½ cup juice.

Question: Being English I wish to apologize on (War Bride's) behalf. I have been here just over a year and have found Canadian people very nice, and so helpful. It has been great fun, like going to school again, learning, i.e. scones are biscuits, etc. . . . when one goes to a strange country to earn one's bread and butter we must adapt ourselves to the ways and customs of that particular country . . . when you have time I beg of you help us fat ones to carry less weight around . . . I lived in Paris, France, for many years, and was a big youghort eater. Could you possibly tell me where I could get some? For once I have a spot of it I can make my own . . . I shall watch closely to see if War Bride come out of her shell again . . . if you do hear from her let me know and I will post her some English books to brighten her outlook.

Limey Lil.

Answer: I love your penname, and your cheery attitude . . . I'll wager that will bring a letter from War Bride. I hope you saw column for July 24 in which I referred to you and gave more reducing menus. You forgot to give me your name and address . . . if you will send these I'll send or see that you get some yogurt somehow.

Professor J. A. Roy Wed In Edinburgh

EDINBURGH — (CP).—Emeritus Professor James Alexander Roy, for 30 years Professor of English at Queen's University, Kingston, was married Wednesday to Margaret (Madge) Gordon Fleming of London.

The ceremony, held in a small chapel in the Parish Church of Tolbooth St. John's, near Edinburgh Castle, was performed by Rev. J. A. C. Murray.

The couple, both over 60, have been friends for many years and they purposely chose the parish church for a quiet wedding. Only five intimate acquaintances attended the ceremony and when it was over the couple walked into the busy crowd in Edinburgh's "Royal Mile" and disappeared.

Prof. Roy, a noted educationist, was a lecturer at St. Andrew's University here when, in 1920, he accepted a post as assistant professor at Queen's University. He returned to his native Edinburgh in 1950 on retirement.

6—In Memoriam

ATCHISON—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Ilene, who passed away, August 1, 1949.
God knew that she was suffering,
The hills were hard to climb,
So He closed her weary eyelids
And whispered, Peace be thine.
Away in the beautiful hills of God,
By the valley of rest so fair,
Sometime, somewhere, we know not when
We will meet our loved one there.
—Never to be forgotten by Mother and Father Gallagher.

CONROY—In loving memory of Mrs. Alec Conroy, who passed away Aug. 1, 1945.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweet and tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Sadly missed by her husband and family.

McLEOD—In loving memory of Donald J. McLeod, who passed away two years ago, August 1, 1950.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of the one who once sat there.
—Ever lovingly remembered by his son Hector, daughter-in-law Margaret and Hector and Kathy.

WILSON—In fond memory of our dear father, Andrew Wilson.
"The Spirit Lives."
—His Family.

7—Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Russell G. Killingbeck wish to express their sincere thanks to the attending doctor and staff of the Civic Hospital, also to friends, relatives and neighbours, who in their kindness sent flowers, gifts, cards and made inquiries regarding the accident of their son Kenneth.

The family of the late Mrs. Frank Nichol wishes to extend their heartfelt appreciation to relatives, friends, Rev. A. J. Patstone and neighbours for their kindness and floral tributes during their recent sad bereavement.

High Rainfall Forced Board To Open Gates

OTTAWA (CP)—The International Joint Commission said today the dam gates controlling Lake Superior waters had been ordered opened because of "extremely high rainfall" in the Lake Superior basin since July 1.

It outlined in a statement the reason for opening 15 of the 16 gates of the compensating dam controlling Lake Superior waters. The move has brought some protests from ferry boat operators and the Michigan waterways commission.

Following is the commission's formal explanation:

"On July 30, the international Lake Superior board of control considered the setting of the compensating gates at Sault Ste. Marie, which control the outflow from Lake Superior.

"The board was guided by the orders of the International Joint Commission, which prescribe holding Lake Superior as nearly as may be between elevation 602.1 and 603.6 feet above mean tide at New York and further prescribe a maximum elevation in the St. Mary River just below the locks of 584.5 feet.

"The Lake Superior level on July 30, reached 603.52 feet, only one inch below the upper limit, because of extremely high rainfall in the Lake Superior basin since July 1.

HAD TO ACT

"Accordingly, it was necessary for the board to increase the discharge to 118,000 cubic feet per second by opening 15 of the 16 gates. Based on an examination of the records for the past 92 years, it is expected that Lake Superior and the lower St. Mary river will be kept within the prescribed limits. The action of the board in reducing the flow during May, June and July lowered the peak elevation of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron approximately three inches.

"Should Lake Michigan and Lake Huron follow their normal pattern, opening the gates will not increase the peak elevation, but will merely retard slightly their seasonal drop. The effect on Lakes St. Clair, Erie and Ontario is negligible.

"The board will continue to keep a close watch on lake levels and will prescribe setting of the compensating gates with a view to attaining the maximum benefit to all interested in the levels of the lakes."

HISTORIC MEETING. — After two years' efforts by the leaders of the League of Red Cross Societies the first of a series of informal meetings were held with North Korean Red Cross and government officials on the question of Red Cross relief from abroad being sent to the civilian population of Communist North Korea. The meeting was held in Toronto as part of the International Red Cross conference. Attending the informal meeting are, left to right: Kim Min San, North Korean Red Cross and government delegation chief; Emil Sandstrom of Sweden, chairman of the League of Red Cross Societies; Count Bonabes de Rouge of France, secretary-general of the league; Kim Pai Joon and Ki Sek Pok, both of North Korea.

Jury Says Boy Died Accidentally

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—A coroner's jury last night decided that Brian Cress, 13, died accidentally June 30 from the explosion of a bomb in the yard of his home and no blame was attached to anyone.

Despite evidence from witnesses, the jury refused to identify the bomb. When Crown Attorney Ian Munro suggested the findings should identify the weapon as a mortar bomb, the jury said this had not been proved.

Two policemen, an army officer, the dead boy's father and his two brothers all said it had been a mortar bomb.

The boy borrowed an ax from his father and struck the bomb with it.

The jury did not establish how the boy got the bomb.

Given Four Months For Stealing Battery

Convicted Tuesday of stealing a battery, William John Robinson, 26, 206 Lansdowne St., was sentenced to four months definite and two months indeterminate in Guelph Reformatory by Magistrate R. B. Baxter today.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said the "only solution for Robinson is a penitentiary term." He has a lengthy record of convictions for theft and shopbreaking dating from 1942. He was released April 4, 1952, after serving two years and six months in penitentiary on two concurrent sentences for theft.

Robinson was convicted of stealing a battery from a tractor on the farm of George Bolton, R.R. 10, Peterborough, on July 20, after he had pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Check On Disposal Restaurant Garbage

Department of Agriculture inspectors are checking on downtown restaurants and warning proprietors not to turn garbage over to unlicensed collectors.

It is illegal for any one who owns hogs to collect garbage in the city and to take it to their farms for pig feed, unless the department has approved their method of processing it.

In the last few days, an attempt by one or two farmers in the district to pick up garbage for pig feed has come to the attention of inspectors.

Department officials explain the regulation requiring that all such garbage be properly cooked is designed to prevent the outbreak and spread of the deadly swine disease of hog cholera.

Power Supply Remains Spotty

HAMILTON (CP)—Power supply in downtown Hamilton remained spotty today after five explosions in the 30-year-old underground system throughout yesterday. Localized trouble, probably in transformers in most cases, today left several buildings without power.

A.W. Bradt, general manager of the hydro-electric system of Hamilton, said he hoped full power would be restored this afternoon.

Offered $15 Increase If Arbitration Halted

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP)—Teck Township police have been offered a $15 monthly increase if they don't take their case for more money and shorter hours to arbitration.

The increase, the same as Kirkland Lake firemen received after an arbitration hearing, would apply to inspector, detective sergeants and police constables and be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Boy 16, Drowns

NORANDA, Que. (CP)—Seized with cramps while swimming at his father's summer camp at Long Lake, Jim Biard, 16 of Noranda was drowned yesterday. Other swimmers recovered his body soon afterwards.

Red Charges At Red Cross Called 'Garbage'

TORONTO (CP)—Leopold Macaulay of Toronto, central council of the Canadian Red Cross, today described charges by Communist delgations at the 18th International Red Cross Conference as "garbage."

His brief outburst came while communist countries continued their attacks on the United Nations while the conference discussed various resolutions including a Russian proposal to outlaw the atomic bomb.

"I call them packages of political garbage and they smell," Mr. MacAulay said of the charges. "They ought to be passed on to the garbage can where they belong."

TAKING ADVANTAGE

He said North Korea had the advantage of the services of the International Committee of the Red Cross in locating prisoners of war and determining camp conditions but no such service was available to the U.N.

A few minutes later, Gen. Likolai Slavin, head of the Russian Red Cross delegation, said: "The Canadian remarks with respect to the Soviet draft resolution do not even mention discussion of it. We conclude he favors the use of atomic weapons."

Saucer Pictures Being Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coast Guard headquarters today made public a photograph of "unidentified aerial phenomena" taken by a Coast Guard photographer.

The photo clearly shows four round objects. Each appears to have two identical shafts of light extending across its centre and protruding at the forward and rear ends. The lights are in a "V" information.

The Coast Guard said it has no opinion as to the cause or source of the "objects" and was releasing the picture only because of the widespread public interest in aerial phenomena.

The picture was snapped by Shell R. Alpert, 21, Salem, Mass., air station photographer when he sighted several brilliant white lights through the air station's photo lab window July 16.

Chrysler Operations Resumed Gradually

WINDSOR — (CP) — Production operations at Chrysler of Canada will be resumed "gradually" over the next few weeks, company officials said today.

Some 900 motor plant employees will report Aug. 6 to resume manufacture of the motors. Other employees would be called back as they were needed.

Some 3,700 Chrysler men have been idle since July 11 because of the United States steel strike.

Acheson Attending Honolulu Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson left by air today for Honolulu and a meeting with the ministers of external affairs of Australia and New Zealand to set up an organization for Pacific defence.

Acheson said the main task will be "to work out the machinery of the treaty" which the three countries signed for their common security at San Francisco last fall. The meeting opens Monday.

Sailing For New York

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—American Line officials said yesterday that Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh of Iran is sailing for New York aboard the United States Sept. 12.

End Sitdown Strike Arrest 141 People

CHICAGO (AP)—Police ended a 24-hour sitdown strike at the International Harvester Company's twine mill yesterday, arresting 97 men and 44 women.

There was no violence. The strikers, charged with disorderly conduct, were released later on $10 bond each, provided by the independent Farm Equipment - United Electrical Workers' Union.

The strikers staged the sitdown in protest against the company's plans to move its operations to New Orleans.

98,000 Seats For Coronation

LONDON (Reuters)—Seats for 98,000 persons—enough to stretch 27 miles in a single row—will be provided by the government for next year's coronation, Works Minister David Eccles said today.

But the ministry "cannot provide nearly enough seating room for the great invasion of visitors already clamoring far beyond anything we have known before."

Eccles told a press conference prices of seats on the ministry's stands have not yet been worked out but it might be £5 10s for a covered seat. Measures would be taken to prevent scalping.

Private owners with buildings on the coronation procession route could erect stands with permission of local authorities.

At least 30,000 of the seats will be allocated to commonwealth countries and the colonies. Tickets would go to the Commonwealth high commissioners and colonial representatives in London for distribution.

"It is also hoped to allocate a certain number for foreign countries. The price of these will also be controlled," Eccles said.

Noted Soldier Chancellor Dies

LANARK, Scotland (Reuters)—Lt.-Col. Sir John Robert Chancellor, 81, G.C.M.G., D.S.O., who had a distinguished career as administrator and soldier, died last night at his home near here.

Chancellor was British high commissioner and commander-in-chief in the mandated territory of Palestine from 1928 to 1931.

He earned his D.S.O during an expedition on India's turbulent northwest frontier in 1897.

During the first three decades of the 20th century he held successive administrative posts in the defence establishment and as governor in British territories, including Mauritius and Trinidad and Tobago.

In his later years Chancellor held numerous chairmanships and directorships in international committe and business syndicates.

His son, Sir Christopher Chancellor, is general manager of Reuters.

Six Leading Engineers Arrested In Romania

LONDON (AP)—Romanian authorities have arrested six leading engineers building a big new Danube River canal, charging them with sabotage, Moscow radio announced today.

The projected 60-mile canal, connecting the Danube River with the Black Sea near Constanta, is one of the major links in a proposed waterways network in southern Russia and eastern Europe.

Inquest Ordered

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (CP)An inquest has been ordered into the death of Angus Trudeau of the Spanish River Indian reserve whose decomposed body was found in a nearby bush Wednesday. Three boys stumbled across the remains near a swimming beach.

Headless Body Said Identified

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An Oklahoma City woman today identified the "young girl" whose headless body was found near Yukon Wednesday as her 20-year-old daughter.

Police were openly skeptical.

Mrs. Mabel Pennington insisted the victim of what police termed an apparent revenge slaying was her daughter, Tillie Mae Pennington, who disappeared Monday.

The dismembered body, with the head and hands cut off and the letters "R-A-T" carved on the stomach, was found in a creek bed 11 miles west of here.

The mother said leg scars made the identification positive.

Crime Bureau chief O.K. Bivins was almost as certain she was wrong, saying that a Doctor reported the girl definitely was 13 or 14 years old.

Allows Staff To Join Union

LONDON (Reuters)—David Coupar Thomson, 91-year-old Scottish newspaper owner who insisted for 26 years that none of his staff should join a trade union, has relented after a government tribunal last month advised him to think again.

Labor Minister Sir Walter Monckton told the House of Commons today that Thomson's company now is prepared to end its insistence that employees pledge not to join a trade union—subject to certain safeguards, already agreed by the unions.

Recently, after Thomson dismissed an "underground" trade unionist, other secret members went on strike and gained support from workers of firms supplying the publishing house.

A government tribunal found that both sides were "within the law" but added that it was open to consideration whether the attitude of either was "prudent or expedient."

Brave Gunfire

GOETTINGEN, Germany (AP)—Six East German farmers and their families, braving a Communist shoot-on-sight order, dashed into West Germany Wednesday night with six cartloads of property and 42 head of cattle. The refugees came from Soviet-occupied Thuringia. They said they slipped through a ploughed 10-yard-wide "dead zone" between east and west at a full gallop.

Dewey Has Hopes Power Plan Started Soon

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey has high hopes today that Ontario and New York state at last will be permitted to go ahead with their long-planned $400,000,000 development of water power in the St. Lawrence river.

The state's power authority and the federal power commission joined yesterday in asking the United States circuit court of appeals to dismiss the power authority's suit seeking to force the commission to reconsider its decision against the proposal.

The commission is expected to reconsider voluntarily, in the light of a recent statement by President Truman indicating he now favors the New York-Ontario undertaking.

WILL RECONSIDER

Dewey said in a statement that the commission evidently "is ready to reconsider our case in the light of new circumstances which give every hope that we will be permitted to go ahead" with the 2,200,000-horsepower hydro-electric project.

"After 22 years, we are at last making real progress with New York's great program of developing the St. Lawrence River for cheap water power," the governor said.

In previously turning down the plan, the federal power commission said Congress should designate the U.S. partner for such a project.

Then Congress killed legislation authorizing the U.S. to join Canada in carrying through the seaway and power project. Canada decided to build the seaway on its own side of the river.

If New York's suit is dismissed —and if the international joint commission approves—the U. S. power commission may reconsider the power phase.

Lay Appointed Assistant Chief

OTTAWA (CP)—Commodore Horatio Nelson Lay, 49, has been named assistant chief of the naval staff it was disclosed today by the navy magazine Crowsnest.

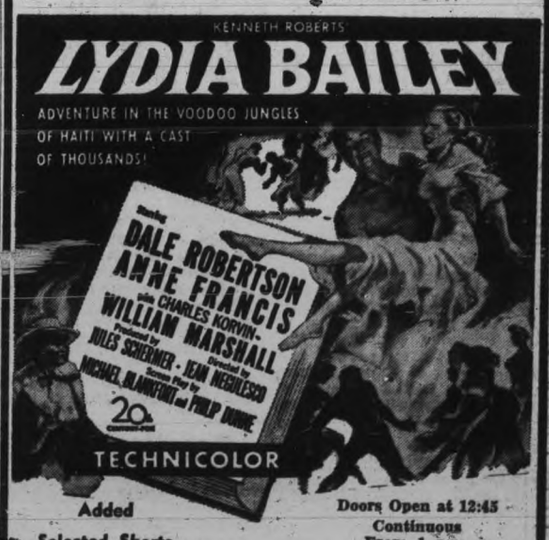
A nephew of the late Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Commodore Lay has been Canada's chief naval officer on the military mission in Washington. He will be succeeded there by Commodore M.A. Medland, 39, of Toronto who has been director of weapons and tactics at headquarters for the past year.

Medland has been given the acting rank of Commodore.

Commodore Lay was born in Skagway, Alaska, the son of a bank manager. He attended high school in Walkerton, Ont., and then started his career as a naval cadet in 1918. His fighting days went from the Dunkerque evacuation of 1940 when he commanded a destroyer to command of an aircraft carrier which was damaged but limped 1,100 miles home in 1944.

Farmers Fear Transport Crisis

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Federation of Agriculture said today it fears a "serious crisis" may develop next fall in rail and lake transportation, affecting thousands of western grain growers and the livestock industry of Eastern Canada and British Columbia.



The 400,000-member federation, national spokesman for Canada's organized farmers, said the crisis may develop in the clash in demands for transportation by iron ore and grain interests and urged the federal government to allot a "reasonable" share of available shipping for grain.

The federation's request was sent to Trade Minister Howe, Transport Controller R.W. Milner and the Canadian wheat board.

To Continue Strike

DUBLIN, Republic of Ireland (Reuters)—Printers here decided by a substantial majority last night to continue the strike which had kept Irish newspapers off the streets for three weeks. They voted against a proposal to return to work while the labor court considered their claim for a wage increase equivalent to about $4.25 a week.

Kawartha Lakes Tourney Draws Top Golfers In Three-Day Competition

Early Saturday morning sees the first tee-off in the annual Kawartha Lakes three-day golf tournament at the Kawartha Club. Two hundred and fifty first-class competitors go after the crown presently held by Nick Weslock of Windsor, who will be here defending the title. Ontario open champion Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener is rated one of the favorites in the big tourney, but many "dark horses" will show before the final round late Civic Holiday.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The Olcott Yacht Club of Olcott, N.Y., yesterday won the Aphrodite Cup at the international junior sailing regatta.

Skipper Bill Stephanski, 15, of Olcott, and crew Wally Miller, 16, of Eggertsville won the Royal Canadian Yacht Club event with 42¼ points scored in six races on Toronto bay yesterday and Wednesday.

Billy Wilson and Al Rae of the R.C.Y.C. finished second with 36 points and Harry Jemmett and Hendry Connell of Kingston Yacht Club were third with 32½.

The Olcott boys finished the series with one first place and five thirds.

WINS POWDER PUFF DERBY

Jacqueline Sharpe, a comely blonde from Beechy, Sask., yesterday won the first "Powder Puff Derby" of the season at Thorncliffe Raceway when she drove Red Guy to a one-length triumph. Red Guy is owned by J. Gram of Philadelphia, Pa.

Guy Zane, driven by Mrs. Wilbur Apthorpe of Chatham, Ont., was second by a nose over Little Willie, driven by Mrs. Mable Holden of Wallacetown, Ont.

TICATS, RIDERS IN DEAL

J. P. McCaffrey, president of Ottawa Rough Riders, last night announced a two-for-one deal with Hamilton Tiger-Cats involving lineman Vince Colizza, middle Bob McMonagle and quarterback Ollie Harras. McCaffrey said Riders agreed to give Hamilton their option on Colizza in exchange for McMonagle and Harras.

WEILL QUITS I.B.C.

Al Weill resigned yesterday as matchmaker for the International Boxing Club and said he hoped to resume management of Rocky Marciano, contender for the world heavyweight title. Weill said he would leave the I.B.C. effective Sept. 1.

Weill has been matchmaker for that I.B.C. for three years. During that time Marciano was managed by Marty Weill, Al's son.

The New York Athletic Commission has ruled that a matchmaker may not manage a fighter.

GOOD TIME BEATEN

Dudley Hanover from the Hayes Fair Acres stable of Du Quoin, Ill., scored a major upset last night when he rushed to the front in the final sixteenth of a mile to overhaul the mighty Good Time and win the $50,000 Nassau two-mile pace at Roosevelt Raceway.

✦ ✦ ✦

MAYER LEADS IN TAM

Blonde Dick Mayer, the Connecticut Yankee who trails 17th on the pros' money winning list, fired a seven-under-par 65 yesterday for a one-stroke lead over Jim Turnesa, National P.G.A. champion, to set the par-wrecking pact at Chicago in the first round of the $30,000 all-American golf meet at Tam O'Shanter.

One of the last finishers in a field of 129 pros, Turnesa plodded in with a 32-34 over Tam's trampled 36-36—72 par layout to keep the front runners well bunched

QUEEN SEES CUP RACE

Medway, a 5-to-1 outsider, nosed out a closely-packed field yesterday to win the Goodwood Cup at Good wood, England, in one of the slowest times on record. Medway covered the 21-furlong course in five minutes, 15 seconds.

Among the spectators was the Queen, paying her second visit to the track in two days.

Baltimore Scores 10-9 Win Over Cards

COBOURG — Lyle Ball came through with a clutch double in the last of the seventh here and climaxed a long uphill pull to give Baltimore Millers a 10-9 win over the Card Juniors in the Cobourg and District softball loop.

The win revived the fading hopes of the Baltimore crew for a playoff berth.

Former Champ Preaches Universal Love

VANCOUVER (CP)—If you happen to bump into this 71-year-old, pink-cheeked man, he'll probably hand you a card reading:

"Compliments of Tommy Burns, former world's heavyweight boxing champion. A demonstrator of universal love. Phone 442. Coalinga, Calif., U.S.A."

The benign old gentleman is Tommy Burns, all right, although it is a bit difficult to compromise his present occupation with the facts of his ring career.

Burns, Canada's first and only world heavyweight champion, lost his title to Jack Johnson in Sydney, Australia, in 1906. James Jeffries retired undefeated champion in 1904 and Burns had disposed of nine other contenders for the title, including Marvin Hart and Jack O'Brien, in his climb to the top.

NATIVE OF HANNOVER

Though he now makes his home in California, Burns, a native of Hannover, Ont., visits Vancouver once a year to preach and spread his gospel of "universal love."

"If I knew what I know now," he said today, "I would never have been a fighter, although I don't regret my career. I had to know the 'other side of life' to appreciate real living."

Burns said his change of heart toward the ring occurred 20 years ago in New York.

"I was running a night club and I had a terrible attack of arthritis. I was in agony, just about licked—then I turned to religion."

Marlene Stewart Doing Well On Alta. Course

EDMONTON (CP)—The pressure always on a champion trying to repeat has shown no apparent effect on the young defending titlist in the Canadian women's open and close tournaments which start here next Thursday.

Marlene Stewart, the 18-year-old Fonthill, Ont., sensation who swept both championships last year, toured the 6,655-yard Mayfair course in a one-under-par 78 practice round Wednesday and continued her par-shattering yesterday.

Much of "Little Ben's" competition—her style resembles that of Ben Hogan—is expected to come from youth before the competition ends Aug. 16 with a 36-hole match-play finish.

The Alberta titleholder, 18-year-old Rae Milligan of Jasper, and Mary Gay, 20, of Kitchener, Ont., will be hard to beat.

Miss Gay succeeded Miss Stewart this year as Ontario women's champion and Miss Milligan's game has improved since last year. She fired an 86 yesterday but she played better today, shooting par in a nine-hole practice round. Miss Gay is expected here today.

Al Barker Wins Crowe's Regatta

Alan Barker with two firsts and four seconds captured the championship cup recently at the Crowes Landing annual regatta. He totalled 14 points, well ahead of his nearest rival Les Crowe who had nine and Seward who had eight.

Barker won his first in the canoe events, in the boys' single canoe and the canoe medley. Also in the canoe events he picked up a second in the Gull Rock Canoe race while other seconds were in swim events, the open, boys 16 years, and the crab race.

Crowe's nine points came on three firsts, all in canoe events, the men's open tandem race, the war canoe and the canoe medley. In the medley champion Barker placed second to Crowe.

Other top point winners were: J. Fuller with eight, C. McIlmoyle and Gail Wilkinson seven each, and Al Chapman, Ron Gillespie and Perrin Rourke, seven each.

Sailing races part in preparation for the annual inter-club meet at Chemong on August 9, highlighted the regatta. Perrin Rourke won one of two firsts in the first event the canoe sailing, edging out Ann Esley. The dinghy race's first place fell to Jack Matthews, while first, second and third places in the open sailing went to Crawford Brown, Harold Knapman and Harry Huff.

The Roxburgh cup was won by Rourke, the Chapman trophy by Matthews and the Crowes Landing cup by Crawford Brown.

Allow Farmers Permits To Frighten Ducks Away

OTTAWA (CP)—Western farmers will be given greater leeway to deal with ducks damaging their grain crops.

Until this year, farmers could obtain permit to kill ducks feeding on their crops, but they couldn't take any action until damage actually was caused.

Farmers now will be able to obtain permits to scare the birds away when they first approach. It has been proved that if waterfowl are scared away at their first approach they will tend to leave fields alone.

But if they are allowed to settle and eat grain for a day or two it is almost impossible to scare them away even by killing many of the flock.

The change in regulations was announced yesterday along with duck-hunting seasons or all parts of Canada varying from 45 to 69 days compared with 59 in 1951; Manitoba 58½ days compared with 51½; Alberta 67 days compared with 60 and British Columbia 66 days compared with 60. Seasons in other parts of Canada will remain unchanged.

Daily bag limit in Saskatchewan will be increased to 10 from eight and remain unchanged in other parts. Daily limit in Manitoba, Alberta and British Columbia is eight; in other provinces it is seven.

No more than five geese may be taken in one day in any province.

The mallard duck is the chief cause of trouble and there are not many mallard ducks in Eastern Canada.

Permits to kill ducks causing damage will continue to be issued until methods for scaring them away become effective.

Westwood Victors

HASTINGS (Special) — Elgin looked like sure winners here for six and a half innings in their first game of a best of three series, as they led Westwood 8-4, but in the bottom half of the seventh, they fell apart and Westwood jumped them for 12 runs, as they raced the base paths dizzy, to win out 16-13.

Scott went all the way for Elgin, and had it wrapped up till his team mates went into a coma in the disastrous seventh. He also helped his cause with a long homer and was robbed in the ninth, when Fireball Humphries made a spectacular catch in deep centre field.

Tanners meet Legion on Friday night in the first game of their series.

Canada Favored In Cup Play

By MAX MCMAHON

MONTREAL (CP)—The three-day first-round North American zone Davis Cup tie starts today, with Canada favored to take Mexico.

Lorne Main goes against Pedro Vega, Mexican team captain, in the first singles match, beginning at Mount Royal Tennis Club at 2 p.m., EDT, with Brendan Macken meeting Mario Llamas in the second.

Macken and Main are more experienced than Llamas and Vega. Macken is playing in his seventh Davis Cup tie and Main in his third while only Llamas has ever played in Davis Cup competition for Mexico before.

COURTS HANDICAP

Then too, the Mexicans are unaccustomed to grass courts while the Canadians are well used to them and are not as easily affected by the humidity as the Mexicans.

The first match should be a tough one, with Main meeting Vega, but should still go to Main.

Lorne uses both hands a lot, particularly from the baseline and when handling a not too wide service. He is as good as many in the game, and better than most, in returning a hard service, while Vega's service is not exactly his strong point.

EXPERIENCE FACTOR

The second match between Macken and Llamas, is expected to have the spectators on the edges of their seats, particularly if the two get to volleying, in which both are strong.

Macken's experience might prove the winning factor here though, as he has acquired tremendous touch and control.

In tomorrow's doubles match, Llamas and Manuel Galeana, the third man on the Mexican team will team up against an as yet unnamed Canadian team.

The winner of the best-of-five series plays here against the winner of the United States-Cuba tie being played this weekend.

Had Hubby Beaten

MONTREAL (CP)—A wife admitted in court yesterday she gave her brother $5 to have her husband beaten up "to teach him a lesson." Mrs. Adelard Levesque said she gave the money to her brother, charged with conspiracy to commit assault, after her husband struck her while under the influence of liquor. Her husband testified he was set upon and beaten by four men one evening while napping on his veranda. He suffered a broken nose and fractures ribs. The brother was committed for trial.

O.L.A. Juveniles Gain Round

Peterborough juveniles, piloted by Doug. Miller Jr., hurdled their first obstacle in the O.L.A. provincial juvenile "B" playdowns here last night by ousting Orillia. They took the game 16-5 to win the home-and-home round 31 to 13, and now advance into the second Ontario elimination round.

Grabbing a 4-0 lead in the first quarter, they led 5-2 at the half and 11-3 going into the fourth of a fairly rugged encounter. The winners drew eight of the 14 penalties, which included majors to Wright and Sutherland for fighting.

Bob Allan sparked the Petes' attack with seven goals in a great showing, and one assist. Bob Curtis had three markers and aided on three more, with Doug. Hunt good for three tallies and an assist. Single goals went to Art Batley, Bob Hobart and Jim Sutherland. Hobart and Batley had two assists each, one apiece going to Gary Orde, and Lionel Bloom. For the losers, T. Hawke scored three, with Udell and Belejak getting one each. Simmons turned in a swell local effort in goal. Teams:

Orillia: J. Hawke, Arbour, Thornton, Woodrow, Bennett, Udell, Belejak, Malloy, T. Hawke, Rosser, Nettleton, Vasey, Surgener, Knight.

Petes: Simmons, Delahaye, Batley, Orde, Ferren, Sutherland, Foote, Allan, Holbrooke, Bloom, Hobart, Hunt, Curtis, Mongraw.

Referees: B. Hill and R. Batley.

Urges Union For Clergy

GUELPH (CP)—Agriculture Minister Kennedy Wednesday suggested last night that rural clergy should have a union to ensure adequate salaries. Mr. Kennedy addressed rural clergy attending the third annual summer school at the Ontario Agricultural College.

Committed For Trial

SIMCOE (CP)—Sten Pakuliski, Toronto, yesterday was committed or trial by higher court on a charge of assault causing bodily harm. The charge arose after Alvin "Bud" Barber, of Nixon, was stabbed on a sideroad near Delhi July 22.

400 Paddlers Enter Regatta

MOONEY'S BAY, Ont. (CP)—Canada's 1952 paddling classic, the 52nd annual Canadian Canoe Association championship regatta, will open today on the Mooney's Bay course four miles southwest of Ottawa.

A total of 21 championship races are scheduled for the two-day affair with four long distance races, the 10,000 metres events, being run off on opening day. Seventeen other events will wind up the regatta.

More than 400 top-ranking paddlers, representing 17 canoe clubs in Ontario, Quebec and Manitoba, will seek individual and club honors. Five points will be given for first place, two for second and one for third.

The club compiling the most points will be presented the association burgee. Co-defenders of the burgee—emblematic of club supremacy—this year are Montreal Grand Trunk and Toronto Balmy Beach canoe clubs.

Finger Injured, Dies

TORONTO (CP)—Bastion Roubos 26, a recent immigrant from Holland, jammed his finger in a machine at Cooksville yesterday and died four hours later in hospital here. Hospital officials said the young man lapsed into unconsciousness while his finger was being treated. Although death is thought to have been caused by a cerebral hemorrhage, a post mortem was ordered.

Given Month For Assault

SARNIA (CP)—Herbert Rogers, 25, of the St. Clair Indian reserve, was sentenced to one month in jail yesterday after he pleaded guilty to assault causing actual bodily harm in connection with the July 15 death of Wallace Washington, a fellow reserve member. Washington was beaten up during a car ride from Port Huron, June 29.

Floor Collapses, 2 Hurt

BARRIE (CP)—Two workmen helping demolish a building were injured yesterday when the second-storey floor on which they were standing collapsed. Ewart Jennett, 41, suffered a fractured thigh, multiple bruises and lacerations to the head and body. Delbert Cloughley, 21, escaped with head cuts and a badly wrenched shoulder.

Grabs Cheques, Cash

TORONTO (CP)—An envelope containing $500 in cash and $5,000 in non-negotiable cheques was seized yesterday from a cashier on a city street. Mrs. Edna Somerville, cashier from a branch of the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, said she was walking to the bank with the envelope when a man came up behind her and punched her on the neck, dropping her to her knees. He then grabbed the envelope and ran.

Canada Won't Bid For Summer Olympics

By JACK SULLIVAN

HELSINKI (CP)—Canada will not bid for the summer Olympic Games until the Dominion becomes much more sports-minded, A. Sidney Dawes of Montreal, president of the Canadian Olympic Association said yesterday.

"I don't feel we would be justified in making such a request and it would be very unwise to do so unless much greater interest in amateur sport is shown by the Canadian public," he said in an interview.

No city in the country has the facilities to organize a summer Olympics, he added.

"In Toronto the Canadian National Exhibition park could be increased to a capacity of 100,000, but the grounds are wanted during the summer. They would not give up the exhibition to hold the games, and Montreal has nothing."

SOUGHT WINTER GAMES

He revealed that he had requested the 1960 winter games for Montreal but the city lacked sufficiently good downhill skiing facilities. The games were awarded to Cortina, Italy.

Dawes said Canada's track and field performances in the current games were "most depressing."

"We didn't make a disgraceful showing and over all our performances weren't bad," he said. "It isn't correct to say that we are weaker in track and field than other countries. In all our sports we seem to place in the middle and I should like to see us at the top."

He said Canada's sports advisory council had recommended to the federal government last January the establishment of a sports training college. To date, nothing had been done but Dawes said he understands the government is "sympathetic to the idea."

He said the college would train sports leaders and coaches and would have a "good effect not only in bettering the health of Canadians generally but in producing better athletes."

17 Fires Blaze In Jail As 700 Convicts Riot

PETERBOROUGH ON MONDAY celebrates Civic Holiday and for citizens of this fair city it is the only holiday in the year that can actually be called Peterborough's. Many cities and towns in Ontario celebrate their civic holidays the first Monday in August, while others mark the second Monday. The wooden faces on the town clock over the old market building has ticked off the civic holidays since 1876. The clock was erected that year over the old city council chambers which were then situated half-way between Charlotte and Simcoe Sts. on the east side of George St. In 1889 when the market building was erected the clock was moved to its present location.—(Photo by W. Riot Squads Guarding Berlin Area

East German Youths Planning Allied Zone Invasion

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin police today poised riot squads to combat a planned invasion of western sectors by thousands of fanatical Communist youths.

The Communist press has egged on the Red free German youth to rush to West Berlin tomorrow to "demonstrate we are for peace." In whipping up enthusiasm, the Communists have recalled the bloody street fights on the boundaries a year ago in which more than 300 persons were injured.

BAN DEMONSTRATION

Western authorities already have banned the demonstration, scheduled to be held in a city park in the British sector. The Communists claim they have not been told of the prohibition.

Red youth leaders announced this morning the meeting will be held as planned and that at least 10,000 demonstrators will rally at four crossings from the Soviet part of the city into West Berlin which have been the scene of frequent brawls. The crossings include the Potsdamer Platz, where the Russian, British and United States sectors meet.

The sponsors said the aim of the demonstration will be to show popular opposition to the West German pact with the western allies.

Big Manoeuvres

SENNEGALER, Germany (CP)—More than 6,000 men of Canada's 27th Infantry Brigade were engaged today in their most realistic field exercise since the brigade reached Germany last fall. The exercise, using live ammunition, is a large-scale rehearsal for the British army of the Rhine operation "Spearhead Two," later this month.

Social Credit Government Takes Office

VICTORIA (CP)—British Columbia's first Social Credit government, which moved into office 50 days after the June 12 general election, will hold its first cabinet meeting today.

Premier W. A. C. Bennett and his 10 cabinet ministers, two of whom are not members of the legislature, were sworn in last night by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace.

Formation of the government, which holds 19 of the 48 seats in the legislature, ended a day of hurried action and marked the formal death of the defeated Liberal administration with the resignation of Premier Byron Johnson.

Politically speaking, all but two of the Social Credit members are rookies. Until the June 12 election Social Credit had never won a seat in B. C.

The new attorney-general is Robert W. Bonner, 32-year-old Vancouver lawyer, and the finance minister is Einar Gunderson, Vancouver chartered accountant. Neither is a legislature member.

ATTACK APPOINTMENT

C. C. F. leader Harold Winch, whose party trails Social Credit by only one seat, attacked their appointment and also questioned the propriety of the lieutenant-governor asking Social Credit to form a new government before all the election writs are in.

The C. C. F. has made a third legal move to obtain a recount in the key riding of Vancouver-Burrard, where the Social Credit candidate won by 246 votes over the C. C. F.

Next to the C. C. F. the Liberals are the most powerful force with

NATO Goals For Forces Facing Cut

Expect 1954 Deadline For Target Will Be Altered

OTTAWA (CP) — Official quarters here now anticipate a cut in the Atlantic Pact's controversial military goals for this fiscal year and a change in the 1954 deadline for building a target of armed strength in Western Europe.

The only influence likely to change this mood is a new outburst of Russian truculence.

This raises two possibilities in Canada:

It will strengthen arguments within the Liberal ranks, t hat Canada should slow down her own three-year military program and spread it over a longer period, something production delays are promising to do anyway. This could open the way for tax cuts in the probable election year of 1953.

The second possibility is an echo of one of the hottest debates the Commons had last session, an echo which might come no later than next week when the national leaders of the C.C.F. meet in Toronto.

It was their contention that N.A.T.O. military goals were unrealistic and disastrous. Their call for a cutback touched off the debate.

NO DECISIONS

So far the apprehensions about failure to meet the Atlantic Pact's 1952 targets have not been translated into decisions. The permanent Pact Council is, however, launching a review of the program in Paris as a prelude to a late-1952 meeting of ministers of the 14 member nations to study the picture.

It would cause no surprise here if the ministers decided it is impossible to meet the widely-publicized goal for Europe of 50 divisions—in being or capable of mobilization within a month—plus 4,000 aircraft.

Not surprising either would be a decision that instead of aiming to have a reported 80 to 100 divisions in Europe by 1954 the Pact nations set their eyes on 1955 or 1956.

Two Shot, 12 Hurt In Bloody Fight; Trouble Over Food

MONTREAL (CP)—Some 700 prisoners, rioting over food, broke out of their cell blocks in Montreal's Bordeaux jail last night, set 17 fires and then clashed with 200 police in a bloody battle. Two prisoners were wounded and a dozen injured in the two-hour demonstration and there were reports last night that one died on the way to hospital. However, a high police official told The Canadian Press early today there were no deaths following the riots.

Today, a tense uneasy truce ruled in the big jail after its second riot in a little more than three months. There were only minor injuries in a two-day outbreak early in May.

There has been no statement, so far, from the jail governor, Dr. Zenon Lesage, or other prison authorities.

The police, using tear gas bombs and firing pistols over the heads of the rioters, drove them back into their cell blocks—but they remained inside only briefly The prisoners smashed the main locks and then spilled back into the yard to yell and taunt the police.

The police, aware that the broken locks made it impossible to keep the convicts behind bars for the night, stood by and allowed them to blow off steam.

Shortly after midnight, quiet returned to the big prison on the city's northern outskirts and the prisoners bunked down as best they could, leaving police still with the problem of getting them back under lock and key.

WOUNDED IN NECK

It was not immediately clear whether police aimed directly at prisoners wounded by gunfire or whether they were wounded by ricocheting bullets. One was wounded in the neck.

After the disturbances in May, an official investigation was promised by the Quebec provincial government, which administrates the prison, but no results have been announced.

Then as now, the rioting came over food. After supper, the prisoners set fires and smashed cell locks and ruled the roost in the prison for a time. The locks eventually were repaired and the prisonners returned to their cells.

Planes, Guns Fail To Stop Lone Red Gunner

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP) The United States Army, Air Force and Navy joined forces yesterday against a lone Chinese machine-gunner.

Eight fighter-bombers, 105-millimetre howitzers, tanks, recoilless rifles and machine-guns tried all afternoon to knock him out of action.

By late afternoon, they had chewed up and burned off the ground all around his log bunker a few hundred yards across a draw from Old Baldy where Allied troops were digging in against accurate Chinese shelling.

But the Chinese machine-gunner lived through it and continued sniping at Allied troops.

Sometimes, he judged shells so well that he didn't even bother to duck inside the bunker.

When the shells started landing close, he dove under ground but always came up alive a few minutes later.

"If he only realized how much attention he is getting," an artillery observer said wryly. "I don't understand how he can come up shooting all the time. But you have to give him credit."

Col. George Mergens, commanding the Old Baldy operation, said the operation probably cost more than $50,000.

No Paper On Monday

Monday being Civic Holiday in Peterborough there will be no issues of the Examiner published. In today's editions will be found the special features and comics which ordinarily would have appeared on Monday.

Rescue Victim Kidnapped By Red Police

BERLIN (AP)—Two West Berlin policemen with drawn pistols dashed into the Soviet sector of Berlin last night and rescued a kidnapped political refugee.

Two less fortunate persons were dragged from west into east Berlin by Communist police, West Berlin authorities said.

West Berlin police headquarters said the refugee, who recently sought political asylum in the west, was seized tonight in the western sector by three men in civilian clothes. The three men were presumed to be Communist police out of uniform.

The two West Berlin policemen saw the seizure, drew their pistols, rushed into the Soviet sector, and forced the captors to release the refugee.

Police headquarters said a youth was grabbed on the border between the American and Soviet sector in the Kreuzberg district. Earlier an unidentified Germ.an was dragged into the Soviet sector from Spandau in the British sector.

Sterling Area Reserves Up

LONDON (Reuters)—The sterling area's gold and dollar reserves rose by $31,000,000 during July, bringing them to a total of $1,716,000,000 as of July 31, the treasury announced today.

Although the figure was by far the largest gain of any month this year, it did not actually reflect a strengthening of the sterling area's financial position. The increase was largely due to external factors such as United States defence aid and gold payments to the European Payments Union. A slump, possibly sizable, is expected in the figures for August.

However, the July increase was in keeping with the steady improvement since the disastrous draining of dollar and gold reserves last year. In October, 1951, the deficit was a disastrous $320,000,000. This rate continued approximately through the first two months of this year. Through the spring it eased until June showed a surplus of $9,000,000.

Chicago Bandits Get $45,000 At Bank

CHICAGO (AP)—Three masked and armed men held 17 persons at gunpoint yesterday in the bank in Lyons, Ill., southwest of Chicago, scooped up an estimated $45,000 in cash and escaped in a car driven by an accomplice.

The gunmen entered the bank and herded five customers and 12 employees into a rear room. Then, one of the bandits scooped the money into a paper sack and they fled.

Drought In U.S. Worst In History

WASHINGTON (AP)—Agriculture Department officials today termed the drought in the south and New England states one of the most serious economic disasters in the history of the United States. Department officials explored new steps to alleviate the plight of farmers and to save livestock herds. The states of South Carolina, Massachusetts and Maine and nine more counties in Arkansas were added yesterday to the department's growing list of drought disaster areas.

The disaster area designation, which qualifies farmers for federal loans where local credit is unavailable, now applies to eight full states and large areas of Arkansas and Missouri. The other states are Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee.

The assistant secretary of agriculture, Knox Hutchinson, pledged the full support of the federal government to the drought-stricken region at an emergency nine-state meeting in Nashville, Tenn., yesterday.

Thus far, the federal government has made no outright grants of financial aid. The disaster loans for the purchase of livestock feed and for planting of new crops must be repaid in one to five years with three per cent interest.

Hutchinson said the intensity of agricultural destruction in the drought regions is a major blow to the country's total crop production.

Truce Staffs Agree On All But 2 Sections

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations and Communist staff officers today signified agreement on the wording of all but two paragraphs of a Korean armistice draft. But they didn't tackle the thorny prisoner-exchange issue, major obstacle to a truce.

The prisoner issue will be taken up when the main truce delegations end a week-long recess tomorrow.

Bank Robbers' Escape Spoiled

TORONTO (CP)—A passing glance by a Toronto detective may have foiled an escape from Toronto's Don jail by a gang of seven alleged bank robbers, including two charged with murder.

Detective Frank O'Driscoll recognized Frank Watson in a passing car as a man wanted by Ottawa police for passing counterfeit bills.

The detective arrested Watson Tuesday and found on him a letter addressed to James Morrison, 30-year-old guard at the jail. O'Driscoll said the letter contained 10 counterfeit $1 bills.

Morrison was arrested Thursday night, charged with aiding the attempted escape of Leonard Jackson, accused of bank robbery and murder. Police said it was apparent that the escape of the entire Jackson-Boyd gang was planned.

The gang includes Leonard, William and Joseph Jackson; Edwin Alonzo Boyd; Allister Gibson; Steve Suchan and Norman Boyd. All are charged with bank robbery. Leonard Jackson and Suchan also are charged with murder in the slaying of Toronto's Sergeant of last March 4, and the attempted murder of another Toronto detective.

In court yesterday the jail guard pleaded guilty and was remanded in custody to Aug. 5. In a statement read in court Morrison admitted Jackson offered him money which was delivered by Watson. He also said Watson asked him to take hacksaw blades into the jail. He also agreed to take guns to Jackson.

Startled Guide Reports Monster In Lake Simcoe

SUTTON—Wellington Charles has been guiding fishing parties at Lake Simcoe for half a century and he can speak with authority on all the normal types of marine or animal life apt to pop up on such excursions.

But something he saw Friday still has the Indian guide shaking his head. He was operating a boat for Mrs. Pauline Nichol of Augusta Ave., Toronto, her 10-year-old daughter June and another girl when the trio cried out that they had seen a large animal swimming through the water.

Without seeing it, Wellington told them it was an otter. Minutes later, when it reappeared he changed his mind. Four hundred yards out from the east shore of Georgina Island the mysterious swimmer circled the boat slowly once, then disappeared again.

Wellington described the sea beast as having a head about the size and shape of a bulldog's with shiny black fur. He says definitely it was not an otter. He has trapped otters in the region many years and thinks he ought to know. He is sure he has never trapped anything like what he saw yesterday, but he has named it the Igopogo, which is not to be confused with the Ogopogo of western legend.

Railway Plans N.Y. Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP)—A strike vote authorizing a Sunday morning walkout of all operating employees on the New York Central railroad lines east of Buffalo was reported here last night.

J.P. Shields, head of the brotherhood of locomotive engineers, confirmed from Cleveland that he was notified of the scheduled walkout in a telegram from local union leaders in New York. He told a reporter he is against a strike on such short notice.

In Syracuse, N.Y., a spokesman for one railroad brotherhood, who asked that his name not be used, said the strike tentatively scheduled for Sunday would be postponed 72 hours, until Wednesday morning. This, he said, would be done as a courtesy to the national mediation board since its offices are closed for the weekend.

Shields said national heads of three other big operating unions, the trainmen, firemen and conductors, have received similar notices of the scheduled walkout. He said they will meet with him today and probably agree to try to delay the strike.

Police Foil Assassination

HAVANA (Reuters)—Police today reported they had broken a plot to overthrow the Cuban government and assassinate the president, Gen. Fulgencio Batista.

Former President Carlos Prio Socarras, ousted by Batista in a coup d'etat last March, had contributed $2,000,000 to the plot, the police said.

The alleged blow envisaged assassinating Batista after the bombing of strategic points in Cuba with planes which were to have been seized from the Cuban army.

About 12 men have been arrested, including five members of the police force.

The presidential palace issued a statement by Batista saying he had been informed, without confirmation, that several radio stations had been broadcasting reports of a military uprising. Condemning these reports as disturbing the public peace, the general said they were completely false.

Some irresponsible elements, who had been maintaining relation with officials of the former government and contacting "gangster" elements in Cuba, had been arrested after being watched, he said.

Milkmen Fired

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—All milkmen in La Plata, capital of Buenos Aires province, have been fired. City authorities said they discovered milk was being adulterated with chalk and water.

Impressed By Discoveries

Frost Visits Site Of Indian Villages

Premier Leslie Frost visited the site on the north shore of Rice Lake Friday afternoon where a Royal Ontario Museum field party has found skeletons and pottery believed to be more than 2,000 years old.

Attracted by news of the discovery, a large crowd had gathered around the barbed wire enclosure surrounding the burial mound that is being excavated when Mr. Frost arrived about 2:30 p.m.

He was accompanied by Minister of Reform Institutions John Foote and said he was "very interested" in the work of the party and "impressed" with what they had uncovered of the early history of the province.

The Premier spent more than half an hour observing the party at work, and chatting with Russell Harper, the museum's chief calaloguer who is in charge of the expedition.

As he looked over Rice Lake from the high bluff where a thriving Indian settlement was located nearly 1,500 years before the discovery of North America, Mr. Frost commented that in our rush to settle a new country, we have "bypassed" much of our history.

PRAISES DELVING

Mr. Frost said that our schools and universities are to be commended for the valuable service they are performing by delving into the early history of the province.

It was in 1895 that David Boyle, of the old provincial museum, first discovered the ancient burial mounds on the farm now owned by Jim Humphreys, 10 miles south-east of Keene where the Trent River flows into Rice Lake.

Mr. Boyle dug into the surface of the mounds and found some human bones, establishing that the mounds were Indian burial places but he did not go beneath a layer of rock about two feet below.

This summer, Mr. Harper, assited by Paul Sweetman, Mary MacPherson of the museum staff and three other members of the

Ask Commission Be Set Up Study Germ Charge

TORONTO (CP)—Proposals which could clear up once and for all the Communist charges that the United Nations has resorted to germ warfare and atrocities in Korea were scheduled for discussion today befor the 18th International Red Cross Conference. Australia has placed before the meeting a resolution proposing that the conference set up a special commission which would be acceptable to both East and West and which would be given — by agreement at this quasi-government gathering — promise of every facility in investigating the Communist charges.

The resolution is similar but more specific than a similar proposal by Belgium and a suggestion made here yesterday by India.

It would be made up "of recognized and experienced bacteriologists, epidemiclogists, scientists, pathologists, entomologists, jurists and such other expert investigators as may be required for the purpose."

The Communists, in attacks against the International Committee of the Red Cross, has refused to let an I.C.R.C. group make the investigation on the ground that the traditionally-neutral body — composed of 25 Swiss citizens—is "neither neutral nor impartial," and is "a tool of the United States."

ON THE SPOT

While the proposals were evidently fraught with difficulties, they placed on the spot a Soviet-bloc delegation which has monopolized the conference with an endless barrage of repetitive charges about Korea since it opened July 23.

Patience of other delegates has worn thin under the repetition of the charges, and the Soviet propaganda speeches have been interspersed with everything from polite requests to refrain from politics to outspoken statements from U.S., Canadian and other delegates that the Russian attacks have "ceased to become boring and silly and have become obscene," and are "political garbage."

Most of the work of the conference to date has been handled by four "commissions," which have dealt in a preliminary way with various phases of Red Cross work. The general commission has dealt with finance, the Geneva Conventions, relations of the Red Cross with the U.N., and similar broad matters.

Also working have been the relief commission, the health commission and the Junior Red Cross Commission.

PLENARY SESSIONS

Next week the conference will hold plenary sessions—with the streamlined work of the four commissions being presented to all bodies for final disposal.

The general pattern of Communist charges has been for one of the countries—usually Russia or Red China—to take the floor first: This is followed by similar speeches from Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Romania, or North Korea.

Main planks in this propaganda platform have been these familiar ones:

1. The bloc opposed admission of Western Germany into the League of Red Cross Societies.

2. It opposed the seating here of Nationalist China. The latter group, which similarly opposed the admission of Red China, pulled out of the conference last Thursday and went home in protest. Both groups had been seated.

3. There have been bitter attacks on the I.C.R.C. despite three votes of confidence by the conference in the I.C.R.C. in one day.

4. Charges of "atrocities" by the "foreign aggressor" in Korea, of germ warfare, and of "inhuman" treatment of prisoners-of-war have been the most prevalent.

5. Most of the charges are levelled, directly or indirectly, at the United States.

6. The Russians have complained that Soviet children, still refugees in West Germany since the Second World War have not been returned.

U.N. Troops Cling To Hill Despite Shelling

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—United Nations infantrymen on top of Old Baldy hill last night withstood a thunderous shelling and beat back two small Chinese counter-attacks.

Communists hurled more than 3,000 rounds of artillery and mortar shells at the embattled hill, on the western front.

The United States Eighth Army said U. N. troops twice shoved back 50-man Chinese attacks. Later a huge searchlight picked up about 35 Chinese trying to sneak through their lines. A staff officer said U. N. artillery killed 20 and machine-gunners got seven more.

12-HOUR BATTLE

Old Baldy, scene of bloody, see-saw fighting for a month, was recaptured by the Allies in a 12-hour battle Friday morning.

Allied infantrymen dug bunkers and entrenchments with log and sandbag support as defence against a possible Chinese counter-attack in force.

Associated Press Correspondent Milo Farneti said the Reds would have trouble moving supplies toward Old Baldy. All heavy-duty bridges on the Yokkok River on the Chinese side have been washed away or knocked out.

STEP UP SHELLING

Except at Old Baldy, ground fighting yesterday was relatively light. However, Reds stepped up artillery and mortar bombardment along the 155-mile-long battle line with the largest shelling since July 18.

Rain and heavy clouds moved in again today and the air war drew to a halt after yesterday's brief spurt.

During the week, only one Allied plane was lost—an F-80 Shooting Star to Communist ground fire. U. N. jets shot down three MIG jets and damaged two yesterday in the only jet battle of the week.

PETERBOROUGH UTILITIES COMMISSION

Amend Rigid U.K. Libel Laws

LONDON (Reuters)—Parliament has passed a bill to amend Britain's rigid libel laws so that newspapers may avoid costly court actions if they promptly publish apologies for alleged defamation.

The House of Lords Thursday night passed this bill which had its third and final reading in the House of Commons June 24.

It now will go before the Queen for royal assent.

Labor member Harold Lever sponsored the measure as a private bill which had the support of all parties.

Under the new bill, a published correction and apology will be enough compensation for unintentional defamation provided the apology is accepted.

If the offer is not accepted, it will be a defence in court to say it was made as soon as possible after the complaint.

An offer to publish an apology at present is no defence.

Official forecasts issued by the Dominion public weather office at 9:30 a.m. E.D.T. today:

Synopsis:
The weak disturbance which has been pushing slowly southward across Ontario brought a few showers to central regions last night and caused considerable cloudiness over southern sections of the province this morning.

Following this disturbance light northwesterly winds have once again brought cool air from northern Canada to all of northern Ontario. The leading edge of this cooler air entered the Georgian Bay region early this morning and is forecast to move southward over the remainder of Ontario today and tonight bringing slightly cooler weather for Sunday.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Sunday:

Lake Huron, Lake Ontario and Niagara regions; London, Toronto and Hamilton cities:

Cloudy with a few sunny intervals today, clearing this evening. Chance of a thundershower this afternoon. Sunny and cooler Sunday. Winds light. Low tonight and high Sunday at Wingham, Trenton and London 50 and 75; St. Catharines, Toronto and Hamilton 55 and 75.

Summary for Sunday—Sunny and cooler.

Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions:

Cloudy with a few showers clearing this afternoon. Clear and cooler tonight. Sunny and cool Sunday. Winds light. Low tonight and high Sunday at Muskoka and Killaloe 45 and 70.

Summary for Sunday—Sunny and cooler.

FEIGNED ILLNESS

A prisoner in the mental wing, inhabited by both convicts and non-convicts, feigned illness, called a guard, overpowered him and obtained his keys. He set other prisoners free and the demonstration snowballed.

The convicts roamed the prison, setting fires, making a shambles of the workshops, library and canteen.

More than 50 carloads of heavily-armed police and a three-alarm contingent of fire equipment raced to the jail, about 10 miles from downtown Montreal. The firemen fought the blazes, bringing them under control, and the police move in on the convicts.

FIRE CHIEF HURT

Chief Emile Drapeau of the Montreal fire department was treated at hospital for injuries reported suffered when struck by a convict wielding an iron bar. He returned to the prison later.

Twelve ambulances were on the scene, but only two men, the convicts reported shot, were taken away. Others were treated in the prison by nine doctors who responded to calls for aid.

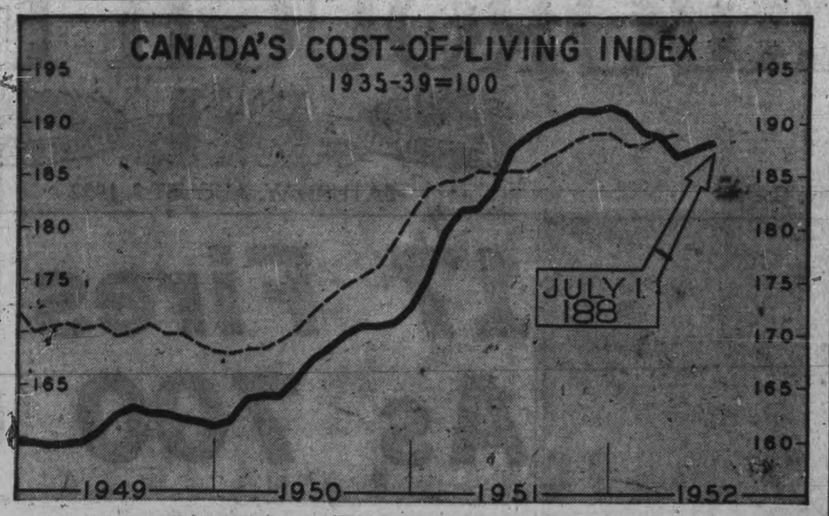
A dozen men awaiting trial before Montreal courts, some on murder charges, were taken from the jail, which has a normal population of about 800, to provincial police headquarters downtown.

Later, to ease tensions, provincial police also removed approximately 100 convicts, some of them reported to be among the ring-leaders of the rioting.

As the convicts milled about in the main yard, one shouted to police strung out behind an iron picket fence separating the yard from the main doorway:

"We could pick the steel wool cut of the corn we had tonight for supper."

Later, a small supply of food was taken into the jail and some was distributed to the convicts.



All of the prisoners in the jail were serving two years or less. Those sentenced to more than two years go to the federal penitentiary at nearby St. Vincent de Paul, Que.

Prince Delighted He Won't Be King

The recent arrival of the baby Crown Prince of Thailand shoved them down the ladder of succession and that's just the way they want it.

AT ITS BEST ICE COLD HAVE A Coke

C-O-L UP AGAIN—The cost-of-living index climbed by seven-tenths of a point during June to 188.0 from 187.3, the second consecutive monthly rise in the prices barometer. Previously there had been a four-month drop from the peak of 191.5 last December. Higher food prices provided the spark for the advance. The dotted line shows the United States Consumers' price index. These indexes measure percentage change in prices in each country but should NOT be used to compare actual levels of prices between the two countries.

Find Missing Clothes For Decapitated Girl

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A young girl's blue jeans and shirt were checked minutely today in an effort to trace the identity of a revenge-slaying victim.

The blood spattered clothing was found yesterday in a pool of water beneath a bridge near Union City, along with the 13-or-14-year-old girl's severed hands and head.

Police said they got good fingerprints, but said there was little hope of identification through them.

No progress was reported in the hunt for the slayer, who carved the word R-A-T on the stomach of his victim.

The hands and head were found eight miles southwest of Yukon, where the rest of the body was found Wednesday.

party, have been busy carefully scraping off the soil of the mounds and removing rocks.

Under a layer of carbon which indicates the entire mound was burned over at one time, and beneath a covering of heavy rocks, they have found skeletons of children and adults.

UNCOVER SKULLS

Two skeletons and three skulls were just being uncovered when Mr. Frost arrived. Once they scrape the earth off what appears to be bones, they begin dusting off the surrounding soil with whisks and paint brushes so as not to damage or move the skeletal remains.

Mr. Harper estimates the bodies were buried at least 2,000 years ago. A layer of olam shells more than a foot deep in places lies just beneath the surface on the brow of the bluff about 200 yards east of the burial mound.

There, Mrs. Harper, who is assisting her husband, has dug up pieces of pottery.

DESIGNS TELL AGE

It is the designs on the pottery which have led Mr. Harper to hazard a guess at the date of the settlement, plus the depth at which they are finding the pieces.

This winter, the various pieces of assorted sizes will be assembled at the museum and after the archaeological jig-saw puzzles are put together, historians will get a better idea of the type of craftsmen the early mound builders were.

Indian burial mounds are found all the way up through the central plain of North America from Mexico. The skeletons are found lying on their sides, and the bodies were buried in a crouched position, which is typical of the way primitive people buried their dead according to Mr. Harper.

However, the interesting features about the mounds now being excavated, the larger Serpent Mounds near Keene, and the similar ones on Sugar Island is that these are the farthest north mounds yet discovered.

Streamline Parliament

This was the first time in B. C. that a cabinet member has been chosen from outside the government. Social Credit also gave B.C. its first full-fledged woman cabinet minister by naming Mrs. Tilly Rolston to the education portfolio.

Mr. Bennett, 51-year-old former Progressive Conservative who owns a chain of hardware stores in the Okanagan Valley, said "it was vitally important that the attorney-general be a lawyer.

"There was not a lawyer among our elected members. We are fortunate in securing a young and brilliant lawyer for this post."

The other cabinet members include a clergyman, a garage operator, a bus driver, a school principal and a railway employee.

Change Cage Rules To Agree With U.S.

HESINKI (AP)—The International Amateur Basketball Federation has changed its rules of play to get in step with the United States and Canada.

Willard Greim of Denver, federation president, said today the changes go into effect at the beginning of the 1953 season. The main amendments are:

Players will be allowed five personal fouls instead of four; all jump balls will be at one of the three circles instead of any place on the court chosen by the referee; and there will be less whistle-tooting by the officials before and after free throws and throw-ins.

23-Pound Muskie Caught In Chemong

Believed to be the biggest muskie caught in Chemong Lake this year is a 23-pounder landed recently by 14-year-old Jim Berry of Pittsburgh. He is the son of James S. Huey, also of Pittsburgh.

The muskie, 46 inches long and 18½ inches in girth, was caught about half a mile out from Nichols Homestead in Little Chemong.

Gratton Michols was the guide.

Shot By Thief

NEW YORK (AP)—William Hopkins, 22, was shot and killed and his father-in-law was wounded early today as a frightened would-be car thief fired three shots at pointblank range. Hopkins was found dead in his parked auto. His father-in-law, Alfred McCullaugh, 50, was wounded in the ear.

Girl 12, Charged

RARITAN TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP)—A five-year-old boy died of a ruptured liver yesterday and police said the 12-year-old girl playmate who admitted beating him with a broom handle will be charged with murder. Capt. Harold D. Peterson said Ulysses Grant Parker, Jr., and Marion Guy, 12, were playing alone yesterday when the beating occurred.

Constable Dies

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—A constable collapsed and died of a heart attack at the wheel of his car last night, but his prisoner stopped the car after it hit two other autos. Harold Ness was taking Glenwood Girdham, 44, to the jail. Girdham told police that when Ness slumped over the wheel his foot jammed down on the accelerator. The prisoner said he turned off the ignition and brought the car under control.

Cheese, Produce And Livestock

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Aggressive buying in oats and barley again highlighted trade Friday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange and prices responded with fair gains. Liberal offerings were well taken.

Oats received support from American shippers, reflecting poor moisture conditions in some parts of the U.S. Barley attracted substantial export demand for continental countries. At least three cargoes of barley were taken, involving about 1,000,000 bushels. Germany was a leading buyer. Industrial interests picked up flax. Rye saw hedging heavier, reflecting deliveries of the new crop. Prices of Class 2 wheat and I.W.A. advanced one-eighth cent.

Major factors behind this sharp switch from the heralded urgency of the Pact's Lisbon meeting of last February are said to be economic troubles in the United Kingdom and other pact countries plus a fairly wide difference in the arms the U.S. said she would deliver to Europe and those she actually is delivering.

The U.K. already has announced changes in her program.

THREAT STILL THERE

It remains true, despite all this, that nobody in authority feels the Russian threat has waned in the least. But it also is true that the general sense of urgency today is less than it has been.

There already are predictions in Ottawa that the government will cut taxes in a pre-election budget next year despite statements by Prime Minister St. Laurent and Finance Minister Abbott that no substantial cuts can be expected until the world crisis lessens.

Defence officials would like to see another $2,000,000,000 defence budget next year. But they may find the cabinet trimming it by a few hundred million dollars. It already is broadly accepted that what started out as a three-year, $5,000,000,000 program will last four years and cost an extra $1,000,000,00 because of rising costs and producing delays.

Fear Attempt Planned Beat Security Screen

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—The Melbourne Herald says today that Australian defence authorities fear some foreign country may try to pierce the security screen around the Monte Bello Islands during the British atomic tests.

The newspaper says the Royal Australian Navy had asked the solicitor-General for a ruling on what action it could take against any unauthorized foreign submarine or ship entering the prohibited area of the test. It said official circles thought it doubtful if the navy had any power under international law to take action against foreign subjects.

"The international court may be asked for a ruling," The Herald adds.

[illegible] says the navy particularly wanted to guard against submarines which could easily come from the China coast on a "training cruise" at a critical stage of the tests. No date has been set for the tests.

Food Prices Put Living Costs Up

OTTAWA (CP)—The high cost of living might accurately be described as the high cost of eating these days. Rising food prices were entirely responsible for the latest rise in the cost-of-living index. They pushed the index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, to 188.0 from 187.3—a jump of seven-tenths of a point during June. Beef, lamb and pork prices all increased during June but the increase in the index was caused mainly by a rise in the price of eggs by 10.6 cents a dozen. The rise from 49.1 cents a dozen in May to 59.7 cents in June was the result of falling production brought on by hot weather.

Clothing and home furnishing prices declined slightly but fuel and light and miscellaneous remained unchanged. Rents were not surveyed and remained at a peak of 147.9.

The increase in the index during June followed a three-fifths-of-a-point rise during May, reversing the downward trend of the previous four months from the high of 191.5 last December.

The food sub-index rose 2.5 points to 239.5 from 237.0. The only food price declines were for fresh fruits and vegetables.

MINOR PRICE DROPS

The sub-index for home furnishings and services dropped to 196.7 from 197.2 in the wake of lower prices for electrical goods and floor coverings. Minor price drops throughout the clothing sub-index brought the barometer down to 209.1 from 209.3.

Meanwhile, wholesale prices for 30 industrial materials declined. The index slipped to 247.7 at July 25 from 249.4 at June 27. The farm products index was down to 243.5 from 248.9.

Wood pulp, raw rubber, raw cotton, zinc, wheat and steers showed wholesale price declines, outweighing increases for western oats, domestic wool, beef hides and white lead.

Farm prices were lower for potatoes, grains and livestock. They increased for raw wool and eggs.

Plan Scholarships Abroad For Canadians

OTTAWA (CP)—The government announced yesterday plans to use blocked balances standing to Canada's credit in France and The Netherlands to provide fellowships and scholarships for Canadians to study in those countries.

The announcement by External Affairs Minister Pearson said it was hoped to extend the plan later to include Italy where there are also blocked balances to Canada's credit.

The fellowships awarded under the scheme will be worth $4,000 for 12 months of study and will be for advanced study in the arts, humanities, social sciences, sciences and professions. The scholarships will be valued at $2,000 for 12 months and will be for advanced students in the humanities, social sciences and sciences.

Mr. Pearson said purpose of the plan is to "enable Canadian students of exceptional promise to work towards a higher degree in France or The Netherlands."

Nomination of candidates will be made by the Royal Society of Canada which will establish and appropriate selection committees. Candidates should apply to the Royal Society at Ottawa before Sept. 1 next.

U.S. Negro Boxer Puts On Helsinki Show

HELSINKI (AP)—Floyd (Pat) Patterson, United States negro middleweight Olympic boxer, has let a little old world charm drape his husky shoulders.

After he won from Stig Sjolin of Sweden last night, Pat followed the European custom and walked over to his opponent's corner. There he shook hands all around and threw in a bow, too.

Back in his own corner Pat met Coach Pete Mello.

"What an actor," Mello said. "Just like Barrymore."

"Yeah?" said the buster from Brooklyn. "Who has this Barrymore licked?"

Oshawa Woman Hurt In Crash

An Oshawa woman was injured when a car and truck collided Friday afternoon on Highway 28, three miles north of Burleigh Falls.

Mrs. Carl Semenuk, 248 Mitchell Ave., was given first aid treatment by Dr. Lloyd Bailey, of Lakefield, for a bad cut on her forehead.

The truck, driven by Robert McNeill, 122 River St., Toronto, was making a left-hand turn into a gravel pit, just as the car, driven by Carl Semenuk, was passing it. Both vehicles ended up in the east ditch. Mrs. Semenuk's head struck the windshield with such force it smashed a large hole in the glass.

Both the car and the truck were travelling south when the accident occurred. An estimated $200 damage resulted to the car and $100 to the truck. O.P.P. Constable Bert Howden, of Apsley, investigated.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

NOTHING STOLEN

A thief Friday night smashed a window in a chinchilla coup owned by R. G. Schwab of 369 Mark St. but nothing was taken. Mr. Schwab breeds the valuable animals which are used for furs. Detective Sgt. W. A. (Bud) Clarke is investigating.

HASTY-PEES RE-UNION

The Hastings and Prince Edward Regimental Association will hold their 1952 re-union in Peterborough on October 11-12. They met here last in 1949 when some 600 attended. Letters are going out to 2,200 on the regimental list and Bruce Castle, president of the Duffy Club, anticipates a record turnout. The Chamber of Commerce is co-operating in contacting the members who are scattered throughout Canada, though mostly in the Peterborough-Cobourg-Kingston area, and is arranging accommodation.

Miss M. Duvall Wins Ball Club's TV Set

The Peterborough Baseball Club congratulates Miss Margaret Duvall, 215 Dublin St., winner of the television set; Leo Rutter, Percival's Furniture; tender-sweet ham; Miss Jane Tivey, 451 Water St., windbreaker; Sam Houlihan, 473 Donegal St., hamper of groceries; Merv Williamson, 182 Rubidge St., theatre tickets; Archie McDonald, 365 Harvey St., sport shirt.

Also the three young boys who won the baseball gloves and baseballs, so kindly donated by George Bennett and Ray Tanner. These were extra prizes for the kiddies, who received balls and autographed pictures at the gate, donated by the Toronto-Peterborough Transport, who also supplied a truck to display the prizes. The ladies were given combs donated by Tilco Co.

The club wishes to sincerely thank all the merchants who donated the above prizes and to everyone who made the "booster night" such an outstanding success. It was a grand turnout by the fans and the officers of the Peterborough Baseball Club hope they continue to support the team in future engagements.

"Dit" Clapper of Clapper's Sports Store made the draw for the various prizes.

The "booster night" was conceived and carried through by Ray Tanner, George Bennett and Ed Alberico.

SECOND STUDENT PILOT to be killed within a week by the crash of a Texan trainer was Flight Cadet James R. McDonald, 18, of Moncton, N.B. Above is seen the wreckage of his craft, which was on loan to the R.C.A.F. from the United States Air Force. This plane crashed Friday four miles northwest of Frankford. Killed last Friday in a similar mishap was Flight Cadet Allan Jackson, 18, of Newmarket.—(W. W. Reid Photo)

Student Dies In Trainer Crash

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A flight-cadet James Roger McDonald, 18, of Moncton, N.B., with only eight-and-one-half hours solo flying to his credit, died in the wreckage of his Texan T6 training plane when he crashed in a pasture field on the farm of Lyle Bryant in Murray township on Friday afternoon. The plane had taken off from Trenton only a few minutes before the crash.

Mr. Bryant was absent from his home at the time of the crash and did not know of the accident until he was informed by neighbors that there was an aircraft down on his farm.

The plane was of the same type that crashed in a field near Castleton a week ago. The pilot of that machine was also killed.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT

One of the many university students who spend their summers training with the R.C.A.F, McDonald was flying about 50 feet above the ground just before the crash.

Observers said the plane came in low over a tree-covered hill and banked sharply. The pilot cut the engine and then opened it again, but not in time to prevent the aircraft from nose-diving into the pasture.

Wreckage was strewn for hundreds of feet, but did not burn.

While there appeared to be no actual eye witnesses to the crash, residents said they are familiar with the sight of 'planes from the Trenton base flying low over the area as it is used as an area for practicing forced and precautionary landings.

DIED INSTANTLY

Coroner Dr. F. M. Dure of Brighton arrived at the scene with provincial police from Brighton and pronounced the pilot dead. He died instantly as the plane plunged almost nose first into the ground.

The crash happened in gently rolling farm country a few miles from the community of Stockdale, on the road between Wooler and Frankford. The plane struck a slight knoll, bounced into the air and came to rest facing in the opposite direction to its line of flight. Air force officials attributed the fact that the aircraft did not burn to the fact that the gasoline tanks were almost full. It is when the tanks are only partially full that the greatest danger of fire exists.

One wing was tossed more than 200 feet from the aircraft, and parts of wreckage were strewn for many yards in each direction. Air Force personnel had to cut away part of the cockpit and drag away some of the front of the plane in order to remove the body. Air Force crash crews and ambulances were at the scene within a matter of minutes of the time the crash was first reported.

Scientist Thinks Saucers Visitors From Other Planet

By VERN HAUGLAND

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bunch of us reporters went hunting flying saucers last night.

We zoomed and banked over the capital city for more than an hour in a chartered airliner, looking for anything strange in the sky.

Not a thing suspicious did we see. Just the sun going down, and after a while a pale half moon. Later there was a haze so that the moon looked like a saucer—but nobody was deceived. And the myriad lights of Washington played no tricks on our eyes.

It was the National Broadcasting Company's idea. Someone there had a hunch a saucer or two might show up, just in time to be televised on last night's "We the People" program.

After all, airport radar had picked up strange unidentified objects over Washington on three nights within the last two weeks.

So the broadcasters hired a plane, invited newspaper men and photographers to come along, and assigned announcer George Skinner to radio back reports to the persons at the program's opening, in the radar control centre at Washington National Airport, they announced hopefully that "you may be the first television audience to see a flying saucer."

Nothing happened.

But on the broadcast, a California scientist said this country definitely has had "visitors from another planet."

Walter Riedel, identified by N.B.C. as senior project engineer, propulsion large missiles, North American Aviation Co., Los Angeles, said he is firmly convinced of this.

Asked why the visitors haven't landed and made their presence known, Riedel replied:

"They might have landed on the ocean or in uninhabited parts of the country—and they might not be ready to tell us."

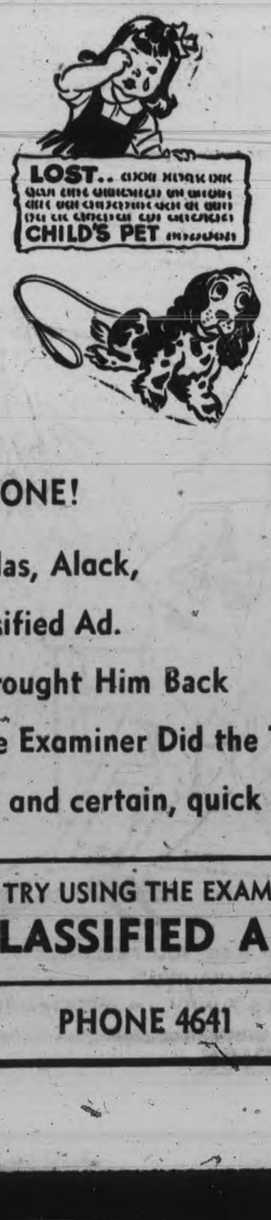
Stevenson And Ike To Control Campaigns

WASHINGTON (AP)—Governor Adlai Stevenson and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower have indicated they plan to keep a strong grip on the direction of their campaigns for the presidency.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, disclosed yesterday that campaign headquarters will be moved from Washington to Springfield, Ill. He named Wilson Wyatt of Louisville, Ky., as his personal campaign manager.

Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, told reporters at Denver that "there can be no boss of this campaign" other than Eisenhower himself. He said the advice of political advisers will get top consideration but the final responsibility is his.

Man Slightly Hurt As Car Goes In Ditch



Charles Genge, 730 Lock St., was shaken up and slightly hurt today shortly after midnight when his car went out of control and turned on its side in a four-foot ditch.

Genge was found jammed behind the steering wheel in the car when Constable W. A. Scott arrived at the scene.

Mathew Cullen, 129 Dufferin St., who was travelling behind the Genge car, told police the car was travelling east on Cameron St. and failed to turn north on Park St.

Genge had a slight cut on his head and complained about an injury to his right shoulder. Extensive damage was done to the roof, hood and right side of the car.

The car knocked down a pole and about 25 feet of a wire fence in front of th house of W. J. Hawkins, 592 Park St. south.

Billion Dollar Que. Power Project Expected To Be Ready In 1956

QUEBEC (CP) — A $1,000,000,000 power project on the 260-mile Bersimis River is expected to be completed by the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission in 1956.

Premier Duplessis said yesterday the project will boost by 500,000 horsepower Quebec's installed capacity which was 6,755,351 at the end of 1951, and will supply Gaspe peninsula.

The development is where the Bersimis River empties into the St. Lawrence about 30 miles west of Baie Comeau, a north shore pulp and paper centre, and involves laying submarine cables across the St. Lawrence—40 miles at the spot—to feed power to all corners of Gaspe.

Plans also include construction of a $20,000,000 village which will become a permanent site in the virgin territory.

Preliminary work has begun and 1,500 men will be employed when the project is in full swing. The project will tap only one-third of the Bersimis' potential.

RAILROAD NEEDED

Duplessis said Gaspe residents were asking that a railroad be built on the north shore, a thing that appeared "more urgent than ever" because of mining developments and civil defence.

"Gaspe is at the very door of Canada and it would not seem logical to leave it open to the enemy.

Rational protection of the country makes indispensable the construction of railroad, telephone and telegraph facilities.

Quebec's industrial expansion was "colossal" said the premier. At present 12,000 persons were employed in various development jobs. Ungava's iron ore development alone employed from 3,000 to 4,000 persons.

A $350,000 12-mile road will be built by the government to link the Chibougamau Explorers Ltd., mine in Dauversiere township with the main 120-mile Chibougamau road.

He said a fall session of Quebec's 24th legislature will be held but he discounted any cabinet reshuffle.

Only appointment announced was that of Hon. Patrice Tardif to the Legislative Council—Quebec's 24-member Upper house—to fill a vacancy created by the death last December of Hon. J.E.C. Oullet.

List Average Salary Of UK Family Doctors

LONDON (CP)—The average net income of 19,580 British family doctors will amount to £2,240 each during the current year, it is estimated by the ministry of health. The figure includes receipts from the National health Service as well as private practice.

The information is disclosed in a memorandum of supplementary estimates of £35,456,000 Parliament will be asked to approve covering additional payments to medical practitiners under a recent award.

For 1952 alone the award calls for distribution of an extra £10,743,000.

Assaults Woman Man Gets Jail

COBOURG (ENS) — Arthur Foote, 31, Port Hope serviceman, who was tried last week on a charge of assaulting a young Brighton woman causing actual bodily harm, was sentenced to three months in jail by Magistrate R. B. Baxter Friday. Last week the complainant related to the court that she met the accused at Little Lake pavilion on July 18 and that she was taken into some bushes not far from the pavilion where she fought off his advances for three hours and finally walked the seven miles to her home. In her struggles she was badly beaten up, the evidence revealed.

Magistrate Baxter said that he had given consideration to the theory that the complainant might have made up the story to justify her late homecoming to her mother but felt that her story was true and that she had been beaten up in the manner described.

Conrad C. Guilbault of St. Jerome, Quebec, was found guilty and sentenced to three months in jail on each of two charges of converting monies belonging to his firm, to his own use. A salesman employed by a Port Hope advertising company he converted to his own use the sum of $345.42 on the first charge and $34.85 in the second instance. The jail terms are to run concurrently.

Fire Loss $30,000

PORT COLBORNE (CP)—Fire yesterday destroyed the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hatch of St. Catharines at Pinecrest, three miles east of here. Two children escaped without injury. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

Plan Ordered To End Joint Ownership

NEW YORK (CP)—Imperial Chemical Industries Ltd., of Britain and E.I. Du Pont Nemours Inc., of the United States have been ordered to present a plan within 60 days for ending their joint ownership of Du Pont affiliates in Canada, Argentina and Brazil.

The order is contained in a federal court decree signed Wednesday by Judge Sylvester Ryan.

The decree is the final judgment in the United States government's anti-trust suit against the two giant industries.

Du Pont and I.C.I. hold approximately 42 per cent of the stock of Canadian Industries Limited. Du Pont has a fraction of one per cent more than I.C.I. The remainder is held by employees and the public.

YEAR DEADLINE

Judge Ryan's decree says the plan should provide for sale of the companies' stock in the affiliates to independent interests or segregation of the physical properties of the affiliates. He directed the the plan be consummated within a year.

Du Pont is responsible for the development of nylon. An agreement between Du Pont and I.C.I. covering nylon has been cancelled, the judgment says.

Last May Judge Ryan handed down an opinion dissolving a once-powerful cartel dealing in munitions, arms, chemicals and nylon. The cartel involved the two firms as well as Remington Arms. All three corporations had been found guilty previously of conspiring to violate the U.S. Sherman anti-trust act.

Dislocates Shoulder In Fall From Ladder

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Morgan Ames, of Campbellford, suffered a dislocated shoulder on Friday evening, when he fell from a ladder while painting a building on Bridge St.

Mr. Ames was uninjured, other than the dislocated shoulder, which was put back at the Campbellford hospital. He was attended by Dr. J. Anderson, of Campbellford.

TORNADO STRIKES — Three barns were wrecked and several damaged by a tornado which struck near Chatham, Ont., causing damage estimated at several thousand dollars. Trees were uprooted, highways blocked, and power and telephone lines levelled in the path of the twister, a mile wide and five miles long. This pile of splintered wood was formerly the barn of Morton Wickwire.

U.S. Expects Living Costs To Hit New High

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States stabilization chiefs look for the over-all cost of living to hit another new high later this month.

"The ugly picture of rising prices is plain to anyone with a desire to see it," Price Stabilizer Ellis Arnall said.

His comment last night followed a Bureau of Labor Statistics report that prices jumped to a record mark—up 1.2 per cent for the two-week period ended July 15 and almost 16 per cent above June, 1950.

BLAMES REPUBLICANS

Republicans were blamed by Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam.

"There's no question that the cost of living is going to rise somewhat and that the 82nd Congress (only recently adjourned) did curb our program," Putnam said in a radio broadcast.

"There's just no question that the Republican party was voting to cripple controls. The Democrats were fighting to keep the power of controls where they're needed."

Arnall said the B. L. S. report shows that the public can expect "rising prices, higher living costs, further depreciation of the dollar; and fewer airplanes, tanks, guns and equipment for the amount of money we are spending for national defence."

The record food prices, Arnall said, still do not reflect effects of the decontrol of fruits and vegetables voted recently by Congress and the extensive drought which is damaging crops in the south and New England.

BOOST DEFENCE COSTS

Meanwhile, government officials estimated that increased ceiling prices on aluminum scheduled to be ordered Monday will boost national defence costs by from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

Arnall's previous estimate that the recent increase in steel prices will add $10 a year to the average living cost of the American family was challenged by Ernest T Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corporation.

Weir said in a statement that Arnall's estimate was "absolutely untrue." He said that if the industry operates at capacity during the next 12 months, the actual price increase on steel will be "only about $10 per family per tin cans and everything else made of steel that the family buys."

Teacher Fractures Leg In Fall From Table

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A Toronto school teacher, Elsie Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, of Grand Road, Campbellford, was taken to Peterborough Civic Hospital on Thursday evening after she suffered a broken leg in an accident at the home of her parents.

Miss Smith was fixing some curtains on a window near a stairway, and was standing on a small table when it collapsed, throwing her about half way down the stairs. She suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, and after being attended by Dr. J. R. Anderson, of Campbellford, she was taken to Peterborough to have the fracture set.

Obituary

MRS. ALLAN McCONKEY

Mrs. Allan McConkey, 66, Peterborough, died Friday following a lengthy illness.

Mrs. McConkey was born in Port Arthur, Ontario, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Moffatt. She was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Her husband, Allan F. McConkey, died in 1950.

The funeral will be held Monday at 2 p.m. from the Comstock Funeral Home. The Rev. Ivan C. Morgan of Murray Street Baptist Church will conduct the service. Burial will be in Lakefield Cemetery.

Hundreds See Sky 'Objects'

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Flotillas of mysterious bright, shiny objects were reported flying high in the sky over south-central New York yesterday. Hundreds of persons said they saw them.

But jet pilots from Griffiss air force base at Rome, N.Y., said they could find nothing.

Residents of Afton, in the upper Susquehanna River valley, lined the streets of the village and many business places were deserted. They said round objects sailed through the skies in large numbers for about two hours. Scattered ones were seen later, they said. All agreed they seemed to appear near the sun and move away from it.

At Sidney, 19 miles north of Afton, Irving Parsons of Oneonta, said he saw 60 to 75 objects shaped like "ping-pong balls" moving very high.

Light Plane Crashes Simcoe Pilot Hurt

SIMCOE (CP)—Ontario provincial police report that a light plane crashed near Simcoe early today, injuring the pilot, 26-year-old Ray Youmans of Simcoe.

He suffered a broken leg and was severely shaken up. The light aircraft was wrecked. It had been used for spraying fields in the vicinity.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

Owing to Monday, August 4th (Civic Holiday) being a Public Holiday, there will be no collection of garbage throughout the City of Peterborough. The following regulations will prevail:

IF MONDAY IS YOUR REGULAR GARBAGE COLLECTION DAY, YOUR COLLECTION WILL BE EFFECTED ON TUESDAY.

IF OUR REGULAR COLLECTION DAY IS TUESDAY, YOUR COLLECTION WILL BE EFFECTED ON WEDNESDAY.

Garbage should be wrapped and placed in covered metal containers. It is very essential that all garbage be put out for the collectors before 7 a.m. on collection days.

A Holiday—If Not Civic

In Canada we still are shy of calling some things by their proper names; a bitch is called a female dog; the belly the stomach, and the August holiday "Civic Holiday." There is not much that is civic about it, since most citizens do their best to get out of the home town in whose honour the holiday is supposed to be celebrated. However, the City Hall does put its flags out, before it closes shop for the long week-end.

* * *

Holding the fort of Peterborough for a few hours this morning—not quite all of the city begins its August holiday Friday evening—we mused if it would not be better to call this holiday, as in England, the August Bank Holiday (bankers seem to set the holiday schedule there) and to have Civic Holiday when most of the citizens were snow-bound and had to stay in town. But would they give any more thought to the city's past, present and future, in cold winter than they do now, lolling on a beach, wheeling along a highway, or guzzling soft drinks? Would more be done to honour the municipality they call home?

* * *

Peterborough's first civic holiday was celebrated on August 27th, 1868, so you see, there is nothing sacrosanct about the first Monday in August. We could move the date, if necessary to the occasion. Why the first one was observed only in 1868—eighteen years after the place had been incorporated as a town—we do not know for certain, but guess that the pomp and pride that the first Dominion Day inspired the year before, might have overflowed into municipal channels and occasioned some patriotic city father to urge the council of the day to ordain a holiday to celebrate the town's identity. Some such overflow might have been expected from the glory of Peterborough's Civic Holiday in 1950, the Centenary year. Were there not then fireworks at Little Lake witnessed by ten thousand citizens? And did not people and council then and there resolve that such good, civic-binding and stirring demonstrations should be continued? No; we err; the big fireworks which drew all Peterborough together as not since the day when an ox was roasted on the market square and all and sundry ate as one maw, were on Dominion Day, July 1st, 1950. On Civic Holiday of the 1950 Centenary year no celebration of any kind was held. If we cannot rise to ceremony and self-display civically on the city's own holiday in a centenary year, what should be expected Monday but what we are to have: simply an August holiday?

* * *

Perhaps, though, there will be some among our citizens who will reflect on the not inglorious past of this city, and her citizens' achievements, consider her present status with reasonable pride, and look to Peterborough of the future with quiet confidence. It is a good city, a pleasant place. Even if we do not make song and dance on Monday as a civic ritual, we can, whether holidaying at home or beyond, be contented and rather pleased that we are Peterborovians, Peterburghers, Peterburians — drat it! what is the word? Anyway, we are proudly it.

Radio In The School

We have heard a good deal recently about the three R's in education. Mr. Dunlop, the Minister of Education, has publicly voiced his desire to get rid of some of the "frills" and to get back to readin', 'riting and 'rithmetic. Admittedly some of our modern educational theorists have flown in the face of the accumulated experience of centuries, and many of their pet ideas have proved to be unworkable. Nevertheless there are many innovations that have come to stay. The modern class-room is spacious and well-lit—nobody would suggest a return to the dingy prisons that were erected seventy years ago. Text-books are bigger and better, more attractively got up and much more varied and plentiful than they used to be.

In many schools today there is a fourth R—Radio. Out of 22,697 schools in Canada 9,817 have taken out free radio receiving licenses, that is to say 43.25 per cent. of the total. 47.8 of Ontario schools are equipped with radio. In addition there are a number of private schools not listed employing radio, for which they have to pay the license.

The costs of originating provincial series of programmes are shared. The province pays talent fees and the CBC provides the broadcast facilities. The provincial programmes supplement the National School Broadcasts.

The general level of the broadcasts is extremely high. They perform a most useful function in bringing to life the pages of the text-books and providing first-hand knowledge of a variety of subjects. Many of these so-called school broadcasts are actually a good deal more adult in their approach to the listener than the majority of the programmes that one hears over the air. A great deal of work goes into the preparation of a series, which may take as long as two years to complete. Some scripts are written as many as four times before they are ready to be put on the air. The CBC and the Ontario Department of Education deserve more credit for the fine work that they are doing in this field.

We would like to single out one programme for special praise. The Kindergarten of the Air, specially designed for tots of pre-school age, is a firm favourite with them and does much to stimulate their imagination.

We look forward with keen interest to the development of television in education, when the CBC has finally got under way with its plans. We have no doubt that TV can and will play an important role in the school in years to come. It is useless for those who decry the baneful influence of television on the mental, physical and moral development of the young to attempt to bypass it, for it has already become (for better or worse) a part of the lives of many families. Even those families that do not possess a set have friends and acquaintances who do, and their children gather there to drink in the latest exploits of Roy Rogers, or whoever the popular hero happens to be. Recent statistics showed that Toronto school children whose parents had a TV set actually spent more time watching TV than they did in class. When TV enters the class room it may be that schoolchildren will be a little less eager for extra-curricular viewing and the balance will be restored.

Gad, Sir, Bevan Was Right

The Churchill government has won a vote of confidence but lost a good deal of prestige. By cutting down Britain's armament programme it has at length subscribed to the view held by the Bevanites, that the present rate of re-armament was beyond Britain's economic strength.

Readers of our pages will note that we often feature the cartoons of the British artist Low. A New Zealander by birth, Low has for many years delighted and exasperated the British public with his series of biting political cartoons. By one of those characteristically strange chances of British life his cartoons, of a strong Leftist bias, appeared regularly in the Daily Express, owned by the true-blue Imperialist, Canadian Lord Beaverbrook, who tolerated him as a sort of court jester. Low invented a character that he named Colonel Blimp, a walrus-whiskered and apoplectic figure, as a symbol of crass reaction. He was always uttering such remarks as "Gad, Sir, Mussolini was right. What these bolshies need is a good dose of castor oil." We have printed the gallant colonel's hypothetical remark at the head of this column in the hopes that we have taken the words out of his mouth.

Undirected Recreation

Within the last few years an enthusiasm for "directed recreation" has grown up, and a group of men and women have been trained in what amounts to a new calling—that of helping people to enjoy themselves. We have no quarrel with directed recreation, but we hope that it will not take too much time from the vastly older, vastly more productive, undirected kind.

A child will come to no harm swimming at an organized, guided pool, or playing games under the eye of a trained and helpful director. But a child will also enjoy itself, and perhaps store away some of the happiest memories of its life, going for a totally unorganized and undirected walk in the woods or fields. Some forms of organized recreation call upon the imagination, but not, we think, so deeply or effectively as lying under a tree reading Treasure Island or David Copperfield. Children need both group games and solitary enjoyment if they are not to be one-sided in their development.

It is a terrible thing to be dependent upon other people for amusement. It is a pitiable adult who cannot entertain himself without finding two or three others to share his fun. Organized recreation is a good thing, but like other good things it must be used with discretion, or we may organize the rising generation into a condition where it is quite unable to organize its own leisure.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Evidently the Red Cross makes the Reds cross.

"A picture that shouldn't be missed," so reads the movie blurb. Don't worry, we shan't.

Now electric power is being switched between London and Paris through a cable beneath the English Channel. Yet Peterborough Utilities Commission have to put out three-quarters of a million dollars to put wires under five blocks of George Street. Britain broke? Paris flat?

EIGHTY TOMORROW—

King Haakon Longest Reigning

By E. MICHAEL SALZER (in Oslo)

WHEN NORWAY DECIDED in 1905 to break away from Sweden, a Norwegian mission including the famous Polar explorer Fritjof Nansen, called on tall, lanky, sport-loving Prince Carl of Denmark, to persuade him to accept the Norwegian crown. Prince Carl insisted on a plebiscite, which Nansen thought was unnecessary, since he would have the personal support of Premier Christian Michelsen and the great Norwegian poet and patriot Bjornstierne Bjornson.

"Oh yes," retorted Prince Carl, "you can say that now, but in twenty years time Michelsen will be dead, Bjornson will be dead, and perhaps you too will be dead. Then the Norwegians may come to me and say "What the devil are you doing in our country?"

✧ ✧ ✧

THE PEOPLE of Norway had their say and chose as their king the man who, under the name of Haakon VII, has throughout his life remained a man of the people.

Norwegian court ceremonial has always been, and is to this day, the most unceremonious in the world. Every day for 47 years (except during King Haakon's exile from his German-occupied country in 1940-1945) any Norwegian citizen could call on his monarch and submit his problems in personal audience. Everyone received consideration; many were asked to stay on for lunch, usually a simple meal with a mixed Norwegian, Danish and English menu. Queen Maud (a princess of Great Britain) whom King Haakon had married in 1896 in the Royal Chapel of Buckingham Palace, (she died in 1938) provided the English dishes, such as saddle of lamb and mint sauce, the King's Danish homeland the crisp Danish pancakes, Norway his favourite milk-puddings.

✧ ✧ ✧

A JOVIAL HOST, King Haakon has the knack of putting his guests perfectly at ease, likes to have children at the table, and with a disarming glint in his eyes, he encourages free and easy conversation. When a Norwegian diplomat brought him "respectful greetings and a big hug" from his little grandson Prince Harald, who lived in America during the war years, which he himself spent in blitzed London, King Haakon said "Thank you," and after a pause, "Well . . . . ?" "That was all, Your Majesty" replied the bewildered visitor. "But aren't I going to get that hug?" asked the King.

✧ ✧ ✧

DURING HIS OFFICIAL duties King Haakon appears rather serious, almost stiff. He dislikes pomp and circumstance, is happiest when mingling with the milling crowds on Holmenkollen Day, Oslo's great winter sports event, which he attended throughout the years always wearing the same, finally almost worn-out skiing costume, until he donned a new suit for this year's Winter Olympic Games. Skiing, sailing, riding, tennis, and, into his seventies, cycling, are among his favourite sports. He shocked the nation into joyful surprise, when he let his only son Crown Prince Olaf take part in dangerous ski-jumping contests and taught him sailing in the wildest storms. He believes that life is a prince's best educator and also let his grandchildren attend ordinary schools. "They must not grow up in a gilded ivory tower," he declared.

✧ ✧ ✧

WITH ADMIRABLE TACT and great skill he has steered Norway through a difficult half century. When he takes the parade in honour of his eightieth birthday in the presence of the King of Sweden and other European royalty, he will be reminded of his arrival in Norway forty-seven years ago, of the annual children's parade on Norway's National Day and of his triumphal return to Oslo on June 7, 1945, precisely five years after he had been forced to flee his country after the German invasion. He will enjoy the rhythmic steps of his soldiers. He likes mathematical precision in everything. His day is arranged according to a rigid schedule from breakfast at 8.45 a.m. to dinner at 8 p.m. He reads all the daily newspapers and weeklies of all parties, carefully checks all documents submitted for his signature without which no law can come into force (he signs about 1,500 documents every year and has made about a thousand public speeches — without manuscript—since his accession) and takes a deep interest in his government's policy without interfering beyond his constitutional rights. The latter are based on strict democratic rules: "The Kingdom of Norway is a free, independent, indivisible, inalienable Kingdom" says the Constitution. "Its form of Government is a limited and hereditary monarchy."

✧ ✧ ✧

A PIOUS LUTHERAN, the King regularly attends Sunday service. He has a wide historical knowledge, has almost every book dealing with twentieth century history in his library, speaks fluently half a dozen languages and enjoys making conversation at table in English, Norwegian, Danish or French. Still healthy and full of energy, he finds relaxation in long, brisk solitary walks, evening leisure in bridge or other card games. King Haakon is shy of all personal publicity, though he gladly receives foreign journalists in private audience, but insists on "off-the-record" interviews only.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE IS THE OLDEST and longest reigning monarch in the world today, yet outside Norway, people know little about him, because he lacks that colourful, spontaneous personality, that made the late King Gustav V, with whom he had lived on strained, if neighbourly terms, a legendary figure. But the sincere devotion of his own people, who love him, just because he is such "an ordinary person," is best proof of his success as a peace-loving, progressively-minded, kind-hearted ruler of his adopted country.

✧ ✧ ✧

ON THE MORNING of his sixtieth birthday he received 1,200 telegrams and with his zest for prompt efficiency he had all of them answered personally the same evening. This time he will need a large staff to emulate his own example. Thousands of well-wishing cables have already poured into Oslo from all over the world, addressed to the King, whose wartime spirit still engenders millions in slavery to hope and courage. He himself never faltered in his belief in final victory and liberation for his country and the little story in his address to Norwegian troops training somewhere in Scotland during the last war, is typical of his spirit. "Once there were two frogs," he told them, "who fell into a churn of milk. The sides of the churn were steep and slippery. One frog gave up hope and sank to the bottom and drowned. The other struggled for all he was worth throughout the night. In the morning he found that the milk had turned to solid butter, and from this springboard he was able to jump to freedom."

'Not Unusual, General . . . It Happens To Old Soldiers'

Canada's TV Costs Still Rising

(MONTREAL GAZETTE)

AFTER a few weeks of special telecasts, such as baseball games, early September is expected to bring the introduction of regular television broadcasting in Canada. Meanwhile, the costs which have been incurred and will continue to be borne by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to bring this modern marvel to Canadians have grown to formidable proportions.

The C.B.C. has already spent close to $5,000,000 for the basic equipment and other capital assets to inaugurate TV, plus the preliminary operating costs for engineering, tests, and the organization and preparation of program production. Its annual gross cost for operation and programming has risen to a level of between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000 a year, and may rise further. There is considerable uncertainty as to how much of this will be offset by revenue from commercial programs and the prospective licence fee for TV receiving sets.

The proportions of the outlay involved, and the very different nature of TV from sound broadcasting, warrant the hope that the expenditures on this account will be publicly reported with clear separation from the C.B.C.'s regular operations in the field of sound broadcasting. This will permit precise public understanding of the financial commitment involved in the C.B.C.'s plunge into the new field, of the deficit likely in the first years, and of how this is to be financed.

So far, the C.B.C. commitments for preliminary test and operating costs, as well as for capital costs for equipment and installations, have been financed by loans from the Government, which to date have amounted to $8,000,000. Of this approximately $4,250,000 has been spent or committed on capital account.

Preliminary costs for engineering, tests and program development amounted to $246,000 in the last fiscal year of the C.B.C., and since then have required an additional $300,000 or more. The remainder of the loan is being held in reserve to cover operating costs in the current year and for the capital cost of the projected Ottawa station, estimated to run between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

These costs and commitments are shown only in part, however, in the recently issued annual report of the C.B.C. for its last fiscal year, ended March 31, 1952, and no separate financial exposition is given for TV. The value of capital assets acquired for TV up to March is given at an amount slightly over $2,400,000. Preliminary TV operating costs are listed in the general statement of income and expenditure of the C.B.C. as a whole, though a separate accounting is given of outlays on account of the C.B.C. International Service.

Furthermore, the TV operating and test costs are classed as a deficit and applied against the general C.B.C. surplus to reduce it to its net announced figure of $3.3 millions, though a footnote states that TV expenditures are being financed by separate loans.

A fully separate accounting of TV finances in the C.B.C.'s next annual report would help to clarify the picture both as to introductory cost and the continuing financial burden which will have to be met out of licence fees, loans or state grants, to the extent that commercial revenue falls short of meeting costs.

Wages of Crime

(Hamilton Spectator)

Only one car, containing his widow, a son and a daughter, followed the hearse of the notorious Waxey Gordon to the cemetery — the gangster who was once a beer baron during the days of prohibition, who owned three or four Cadillacs, lived in a luxurious penthouse, had a score of $200 suits and owed the government close to two million dollars in income tax. Yet he came down to absolute destitution, reverted to petty thieving and died in prison. Does crime pay, wise guys?

GET TO WORK

"Dad, I decided on my career," young George announced. "I'm going to be a detective. Already I'm practising the art of deduction. Let me give you a demonstration. See that pile of ashes out there in the back yard. From that evidence, I deduce that we heat this house with coal!"

"Splendid! Splendid!" father enthused. "Now suppose you go out and sift the evidence!"

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Seeing you have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently: being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever. (I Pet. 1:22, 23.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings, as newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby: if so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious. To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious, ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ. (I Pet. 2:1-5.)

Letters To The Editor

WASTING LIQUID ASSETS

Sir: After seeing Sergeant Bill Aggas disposing of the confiscated hooch in today's "Examiner," I became firmly convinced that not only is this a land of milk and honey, but that beer flows like water. This is indeed, to my mind, a gross mishandling of our country's valuable mineral resources and liquid assets!

IAN M. CLARK.

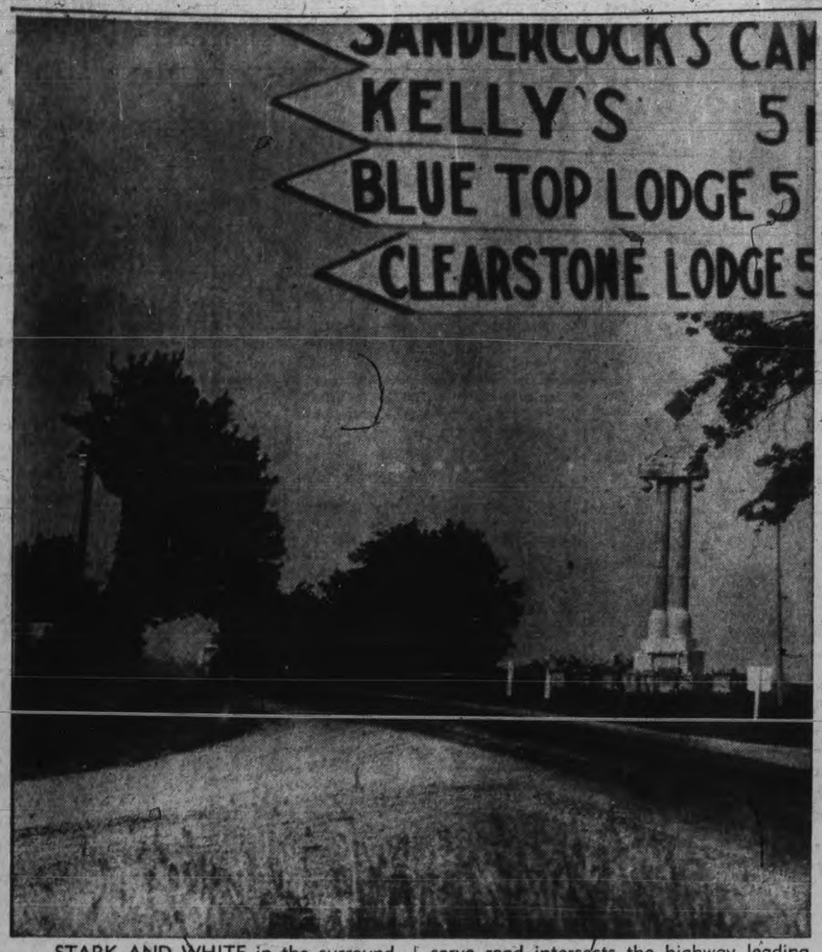
NOT FIFTY IN KITCHEN

Sir: In reply to parts, of Mr. Oscar S. Matchett's letter dated July 29, 1952.

We cannot begin to compare the two hospitals as far as operation is concerned for on first hand, one is publicly owned, whereas the other is privately; the latter never shows a financial statement publicly.

Mr. Matchett, are you at St. Joseph's, aware that, including superintendent, that, which takes in supervisor, technicians, dietitians, and many others, who because of their faith and duty do not receive wages . . .

One other point I would like to say a few words on, and let some light. That is, where did the gentleman get his figures—50 employees in kitchen? Now in kitchen itself we have head chef, one first class cook, one baker, one night cook and butcher. Combined, one second cook, one potman, one cleaning man, and two vegetable men. In salad department and tray conveyor and special diets we have 15 full time girls approximately. We have eight ladies in cafeteria. By the way, it is opened 24 hours a day.



One man on dishwashing from 4 p.m. to 12.30 p.m.; another from 10.30 p. m. to 7.30 a.m., who cleans the whole kitchen up. Above this we have four dietitians, one office girl, making a total of 38 employees. In some departments there are three shifts, others two.

Hoping this will enlighten the taxpayers and keep them straight and not be mislead by Mr. Matchett's letter.

G. W. LINSDELL.

MIDDLE EAST OLYMPICS

STARK AND WHITE in the surrounding countryside, the Alderville war memorial stands at the corner where the Indian Reserve road intersects the highway leading to Roseneath. Gratuitously designed and erected by a Campbellford firm, the concrete monument itself weighs 468 tons.

Find Indian Memorial Astounding

By A. J. THOMAS

One of the most remarkable monuments in the whole of Canada is to be seen by Highway 45 just south-west of Roseneath. It is the memorial to the Alderville Reserve Indians who served in the Great War of 1914-18.

The appearance of this structure is astounding. There at a quiet crossroads, with only a few houses of the Reserve in view, rises a cluster of white cement columns 50 feet into the air, supporting an overhanging cornice from which hang large concrete balls, and above, tilted, is a three-foot square block.

UNUSUAL APPEARANCE

The memorial is extraordinary to look at. It combines some sort of futuristic design which Salvador Dahli might have put on one of his weird canvases, with a kind of cabbalistic effect which might have been achieved by ancient Greeks, more ancient Egyptians, or some secret cult of sun-worshippers. One expects the angles, squares, tilts, balls and columns to have some hidden meaning, as the Great Pyramid is supposed to have, when mathematically analysed.

But it seems that the Alderville monument makes no such pretensions. Its purpose is to memorialize imposingly. This it does.

The structure was designed by a Campbellford firm.

Another remarkable fact about the monument is that it was the first erected in Canada to commemorate the service of Indians in the First World War. The first sod was turned on Sunday, August 21, 1927, by Mrs. Norman Marsden, wife of the chief, and the structure was unveiled on Sunday, September 25, of that year before a crowd of some 3,000 people from the Alderville Reserve, Peterborough, Norwood, Hastings, Campbellford, Keene, Westwood and Belleville.

A party of Indians from Curve Lake motored down for the occasion to do honour to their kinsmen.

The tablet on the memorial notes that Col. Neil F. McNachtan, C.V.O., V.D., was "Our Friend," that the address was given by Col. E. D. Biggs, K.C., presumably at the turning of the sod; and that Judge E. C. S. Huycke of Peterborough and others addressed the assemblage at the unveiling. Major J. M. Bygott was troop commander, R.S.M. E. J. Johnson the firing squad commander, and Walter Low the last Trumpeter.

MEMORIAL DEDICATED

The veterans paraded in uniform and mufti, headed by the Northumberland Regiment of Campbellford and the Cobourg Kilties Band, from the church to the monument for the dedication ceremonies.

Chairman for the occasion was the Rev. H. Wilding, of Alderville, and the speakers were Judge Huycke; Lt. Col. J. W. Odell of Cobourg; Lt. Col. E. E. Snider of Port Hope; Major J. F. B. Bedford, M.L.A. Northumberland East; W. M. Coyle, former Indian Agent; A. H. McKeel of the Campbellford contracting firm which gratuitously designed and erected the memorial, and the Rev. R. Brown of Roseneath. Also on the platform was Captain W. F. Huycke of Peterborough.

Other ex-servicemen who attended from Peterborough were Col. T. J. Johnston and Captain Sidney Whatley (secretary of the Legion in Peterborough.

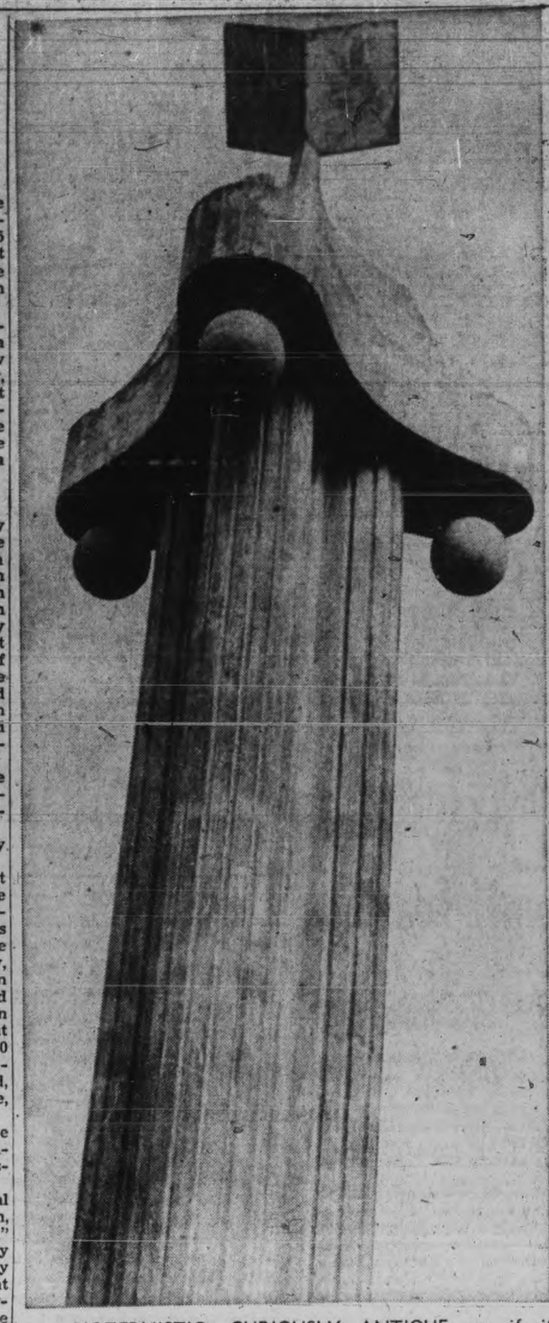
TO HONOR 33

The cement monument was unveiled by Clarence E. McKeel. And there it stood, for the first time revealed that September day in 1927; now, twenty five years later it still stands firm and imposing, honouring the service of 33 men of the Alderville Reserve who served in the armed forces during the war of 1914-18.

A blue marble tablet, prepared by the Cobourg Granite and Marble Works, is set into the ten-foot square concrete base. In the centre column of this tablet are inscribed the names of the nine who did not return: Wm. Blaker, Joseph Blaker, Victor Blaker, Austin Beaver, Smith Comego, Wm. Hagar, Wm. Franklin, Arch. Simpson, Robert Tobico.

Six bereaved children of these were the first to put flowers at the base of the monument.

The names on the side of the tablet (those who served and survived) and of the unreturning in the centre of it are recurring names in the Alderville Reserve. They include five Beavers, six Comegos, four Blakers, three Smokes, a Chub, a Marsden, as well as others given above. In all, 33 names, including the nine killed



CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT

The building of the memorial was an impressive effort in co-operation. The Campbellford firm, as already noted, gave the design and erected it without fee.

The Cobourg Marble Company contributed the marble tablet, and Indians of the reservation brought or bought the material and labored voluntarily, to keep the cost as low as possible. All told 468 tons of concrete went into the structure.

A notable feature of the memorial is the hand-wrought iron chain which encompasses the plot of the monument. It is a very heavy chain, and its design is unusual.

The memorial is well worth seeing: remarkable, astonishing, and very imposing. No hamlet, reserve or town in Canada or anywhere else for that matter has anything like it. It is an achievement which cannot be forgotten.

MODERNISTIC, CURIOUSLY ANTIQUE, as if it were some relic of Grecian or old Egyptian cult, the three-in-one column of the Alderville Indian Reserve Great War memorial rises 50 feet into the air. The concrete cube poised on top is three feet across. The monument was the first memorial in Canada erected to honour the service of Indians in the First World War.—(Examiner Staff Photos).

From No Paving At All To Trans-Canada

Present day problems in highways and highway transportation are the result of the phenomenal growth of automotive transportation during the last half century. In 1890 there was not a single mile of concrete or bituminous pavement on highways or city streets in Canada. At the turn of the century the highest type of pavement in general use consisted of water bound macadam. It was confined to the main thoroughfares of larger cities and towns, while side streets were more or less improved rights-of-way. Traffic itself was almost entirely of the horse and buggy type.

Up to this time, with the notable exception of military construction, roads were built to meet local requirements and were usually of a very low standard. Rural roads were developed at a leisurely pace and there was no reason to believe that the absolute supremacy of the railroad for all but entirely local transportation would ever be challenged. The division of jurisdiction over roads between the federal and provincial governments was predicated upon the continuation of the local nature and secondary importance of road systems. For this reason the British North America Act in 1867 specifically placed roads and road construction under the control of the provinces.

Cars Appear

The development of the automobile, which appeared on the Canadian landscape in appreciable numbers early in the twentieth century, created a large and previously unexpected demand for new roads of much higher standard and for improvement of the old.

Inevitably, the larger political unit, the province, was forced to undertake the responsibility for constructing and maintaining the main highways, because the need for staffs of highway engineers, for large, powerful, expensive units of road building machinery and for the tremendous sums of money required to carry on the large-scale activities were beyond the financial means of local units of government. During the period from 1907 to 1924 the provinces established the necessary provincial organizations to supervise construction and maintenance programs on main highways and they also increased their financial support to municipalities for the building of local roads.

Federal Participation

That the growth of road transportation in Canada during the quarter century following 1904 was phenomenal, is indicated by the increase in motor vehicle registration in this period, during which time it multiplied about 2,200 times:—

1904	535
1909	4,809
1914	72,246
1919	342,436
1924	645,263
1929	1,187,331

In 1919 the federal government acknowledge its concern and interest in the development of roads by passing the Canada Highway Act. This Act established a fund of $20 millions to be utilized by the provinces up to 40 per cent of the cost of construction and improvement of roads designated by the provinces and approved by the federal government. The total mileage of trunk and market roads authorized for this federal aid was as follows:—

	Miles
British Columbia	2,987
Alberta	2,475
Saskatchewan	7,365
Manitoba	4,000
Ontario	1,824
Quebec	2,549
New Brunswick	1,371
Prince Ed. Island	850
Nova Scotia	1,297
Total	24,709

The amount allocated for this purpose by the federal government was not all spent until the fiscal year ending March 31, 1928.

In 1932, the federal government passed the first of a series of legislative measures for the creation of works projects to combat the effects of economic depression. These unemployment relief projects included road building for which the senior authority provided sums of money to be matched dollar for dollar by the provinces. These agreements continued until 1941 when they expired. During that period the federal government spent a substantial amount on roads, much of it on the projected Trans-Canada Highway, particularly in Northern Ontario, where there was a large gap in the east-west artery.

Federal aid during these two periods, in addition to highway construction in national parks and assistance for certain special projects, represented the entire extent of the federal government's participation in road building until it embarked on the Trans-Canada Highway project in 1949. Neither the Canada Highway Act of 1919, nor the relief projects of the thirties were permitted to intrude upon provincial jurisdiction over highways. They had only the status of temporary measures intended either to encourage road building or to alleviate national economic distress.

Since 1920 the provincial highway systems in the nation have been developed along more systematic lines than formerly but the independent programming of the provinces, the nature of federal assistance, and the resistance of the provinces to any intrusion by the federal government into the highway field has deprived the nation of the well-developed and co-ordinated national system of high standard highways that might have now been in existence if an adequate program of federal aid had been in effect during the past 30 years.

On December 10, 1949, the Trans-Canada Highway Act was passed providing for the greatest participation in highway construction that the federal government has undertaken so far. A fund of $150 millions was appropriated to be matched dollar for dollar by the provinces and to be spent on "the shortest practical east-west route" across Canada and each of the provinces. The route was to be designated by the provinces and was to be acceptable to the Trans-Canada Highway authority. Eight of the ten provinces have so far signed agreements which specify the federal government's right to establish design standards, to inspect routes and construction and to audit accounts.

It is expressly stated in the Trans-Canada Highway agreements with the provinces that the arrangement is temporary and will expire in 1956. There are good reasons for expecting, however, that the Trans-Canada Highway Act is the beginning of an arrangement that will continue and expand into a permanent program of federal aid for highways in Canada.

Your Garden:

You Can Get Rid Of Blighting Pesky Japanese Beetles

By HENRY PREE (NEA)

Many home gardeners evidence little interest in an insect or disease until it strikes home. At present the chief annoyance is the Japanese beetle, a chewing insect which has been described and discussed many times by this gardener.

Having once been seen, the Japanese beetle is not difficult to recognize. It is about three-eighths of an inch long and its body is a dark, shiny, metallic green, except for the wing covers, which are a metallic copper or bronze color. A characteristic feature is found in two white tufts of short hairs which appear at the end of the body. On each side, directly in front of these hairy tufts, are four additional tufts of white hair.

The Japanese beetle is three-eighths of an inch long, mostly green in color, allergic to D.D.T.

Japanese beetles have a voracious appetite and are not very particular about what they feed upon. They congregate in large numbers and do a great amount of damage in a short time. The beetles fly readily and may make extensive flights on hot, sultry days.

The insects go through the usual life cycle. The beetles usually appear in late June and become very prevalent in July or August. They sometimes persist in cold weather but the eggs are laid in the soil in July and August. These eggs hatch into white grubs in 10 days and the grubs usually begin feeding on the fine roots of grasses and weeds.

They burrow into the soil to a depth of almost a foot in late autumn and hibernate for the winter. When the soil gets warm in the spring, the grubs again begin feeding. They change into the pupal stage in May or June and soon are transformed into adult beetles.

Lawns can be made practically immune to injury by the grubs by applying D.D.T. or chlordane. These materials can be applied at any time the ground is not frozen.

D.D.T. should be applied to the ground at the rate 1.2 pounds of a 50 per cent D.D.T. powder to each 1,000 square feet of lawn area. To simplify the distribution and to obtain uniform coverage, the material can be mixed with about 20 pounds of sand or milorganite and broadcast by hand or with a fertilizer spreader.

When D.D.T. is applied as a spray it should be used at the rate of two ounces of 50 per cent wettable powder in three gallons of water for each 100 square feet of surface area. In small areas the treatment can be made with a sprinkling can. A single treatment of D.D.T. should remain effective for at least five years.

If a 40 or 50 per cent chlordane powder is used, it should be applied at the rate of 10 ounces to each 100 square feet. If the material is applied as a spray, 10 ounces of the 40 per cent wettable chlordane should be mixed with 25 gallons of water for treating each 1,000 square feet area. Chlordane has given excellent control of the grubs for four years.

The foliage, fruit and bloom of plants can be protected against the ravages of the adult by applying an insecticide which is most suitable for the different situations.

D.D.T. is the most effective insecticide for the control of the beetles. This material is sold in many forms for several different purposes, but the best results have been obtained when the 50 per cent wettable powder has been used. The spray is made up with two tablespoons per gallon of water, or ½ cup of D.D.T. to five gallons of water.

Although D.D.T. is very effective for killing the beetles, it should not be used on small fruit trees until after the fruit has been picked or on other fruit later than two or three weeks before picking.

Both poisons can be dangerous if used on vegetables, so for safety's sake use rotenone dust in the vegetable garden.

Gardening Questions

Q—When do you recommend transplanting evergreens such as red pine, Japanese yews and rhododendrons?

A—Wait until new growth has hardened, and transplant in late July or early August.

Q—Is sulfate of ammonia or nitrate of soda superior to a commercial fertilizer to feed a lawn?

A—Since these chemicals contain but one major element of plant food, nitrogen, the answer is no. Using either of these would be like trying to exist on milk alone. Phosphorus and potash are necessary to all plant growth.

Q—How does one propagate Rose Daphne plants? We have two unusually fine large specimens—but went to increase our stock.

A—The plants can be produced by layering your plants at this time. Select a half dozen or more good trailing branches, cut through the bark on the under side where you want roots to grow and cover that part of the branch with 1½ inches of soil. To keep it in place, pin the branch down with wire, or cover the buried portion with a brick or stone.

Blind Youth

An international conference on the education of blind youth, the first of its kind since before 1914, is being held at Bussum, near Amsterdam, from 28 July to 2 August 1952 to draw up an international charter recommended to the various governments as a minimum programme for the future education of blind children. The countries represented include Australia, Austria, Belgium, Canada, Ceylon, Colombia, Denmark, Egypt, Eire, Finland, France, German Federal Republic, Greece, Guatemala, India, Italy, Japan, Lebanon, Mexico, Netherlands, Nez Zealand, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Union of South Africa, United Kingdom, United States, Yugoslavia. The conference is sponsored by the World Council for the Welfare of the Blind, whose secretary Mr. Eric Boulter, is also Field Director of the American Foundation for Overseas Blind, New York.

A Disgusting Meal On Way From Rice L. To Peterboro'

Mrs. Susanna Moodie describes her journey from Rice Lake to Peterborough in 1832, to make a home north of Peterborough. The excerpt is taken from her book "Roughing It In The Bush."

IT WAS NOW TWO O'CLOCK. We had been on the road since seven; and men, women and children were all ready for the good dinner that Mr. D—— had promised us at this splendid house of entertainment, where we were destined to stay for two hours, to refresh ourselves and rest the horses.

"Well, Mrs. J——, what have you got for our dinner?" said our driver, after he had seen to the accommodation of his teams.

"Pritters* and pork, sir. Nothing else to be had in the woods. Thank God, we have enough of that!"

*—Vulgar Canadian for potatoes.

D—— shrugged up his shoulders, and looked at us. "We've plenty of that same at home. But hunger's good sauce. Come, be spry, widow, and see about it, for I am very hungry."

* * *

I INQUIRED FOR A PRIVATE ROOM for myself and the children, but there were no private rooms in the house. The apartment we occupied was like the cobbler's stall in the old song, and I was obliged to attend upon them in public.

"You have much to learn, ma'am, if you going to the woods," said Mrs. J——.

"To unlearn, you mean," said Mr. D——. "To tell you the truth, Mrs. Moodie, ladies and gentlemen have no business in the woods. Eddication spoils man or woman for that location. So, widow (turning to our hostess), you are not tired of living alone yet?"

"No, sir; I have no wish for a second husband. I had enough of the first. I like to have my own way — to lie down mistress, and get up master."

"You don't like to be put out of your old way," returned he, with mischievous glance.

She coloured very red; but it might be the heat of the fire over which she was frying the pork for our dinner.

* * *

I WAS VERY HUNGRY, but I felt no appetite for the dish she was preparing for us. It proved salt, hard and unsavoury.

D—— pronounced it very bad, and the whiskey still worse, with which he washed it down.

I asked for a cup of tea and a slice of bread. But they were out of tea and the hop-rising had failed, and there was no bread in the house. For this disgusting meal we paid at the rate of a quarter of a dollar a-head.

I was glad when the horses being again put to, we escaped from the rank odour of fried pork, and were once more in the fresh air.

"Well, mister; did not you grudge your money for that bad meat?" said D——, when we were once more seated in the sleigh. "But in these parts the worse the fare the higher the charge."

"I would not have cared," said I, "If I could have got a cup of tea."

"Tea! It's poor trash. I never could drink tea in my life. But I like coffee, when 'tis boiled till it's quite black. But coffee is not good without plenty of trimmings."

"What do you mean by 'trimmings?"

He laughed. "Good sugar, and sweet cream. Coffee is not worth drinking without trimmings."

Often in after-years have I recalled the coffee trimmings, when endeavouring to drink the vile stuff which goes by the name of coffee in the houses of entertainment in the country.

* * *

WE HAD NOW PASSED through the narrow strip of clearing which surrounded the tavern, and again entered upon the woods. It was near sunset, and we were rapidly descending a steep hill, when one of the traces that held our sleigh suddenly broke. D—— pulled up in order to repair the damage. His brother's team was close behind, and our unexpected standstill brought the horses upon us before J. D. —— could stop them. I received so violent a blow from the head of one of them, just in the back of the neck, that for a few minutes I was stunned and insensible. When I recovered, I was supported in the arms of my husband, over whose knee I was leaning, and D—— was rubbing my hands and temples with snow.

"There, Mr. Moodie, she's coming to. I thought she was killed. I have seen a man before now killed by a blow from a horse's head in the like manner."

As soon as we could, we resumed our places in the sleigh; but all enjoyment of our journey, had it been otherwise possible, was gone.

* * *

WHEN WE REACHED PETERBOROUGH, Moodie wished us to remain at the inn all night, as we still had eleven miles of our journey to perform, and that through a blazed forest-road, little travelled, and very much impeded by fallen trees and other obstacles; but D—— was anxious to get back as soon as possible to his own home, and he urged us very pathetically to proceed.

The moon arose during our stay at the inn, and gleamed upon the straggling frame-houses which then formed the now populous and thriving town of Peterborough. We crossed the wild, rushing beautiful Otonabee River by a rude bridge, and soon found ourselves journeying over the plains or level heights beyond the village, which were thinly wooded with picturesque groups of oak and pine, and very much resembled a gentleman's park at home.

FAR BELOW, to our right (for we were upon the Smithtown side) we heard the rushing of the river, whose rapid waters never receive curb from the iron chain of winter. Even while the rocky banks are coated with ice, and the frost-king suspends from every twig and branch the most beautiful and fantastic crystals, the black waters rush foaming along, a thick steam rising constantly above the rapids, as from a boiling pot. The shores vibrate and tremble beneath the force of the impetuous flood, as it whirls round cedar-crowned islands and opposing rocks, and hurries on to pay tribute into Rice Lake, to swell the calm, majestic grandeur of the Trent, till its waters are lost in the beautiful Bay of Quinte, and finally merged in the blue ocean of Ontario.

The most renowned of our English rivers dwindle into little muddy rills when compared with the sublimity of the Canadian waters. No language can adequately express the solemn grandeur of her lake and river scenery; the glorious islands that float, like visions from fairyland, upon the bosom of these azure mirrors of her cloudless skies. No dreary breadth of marshes, covered with flags, hides from our gaze the expanse of heavy-tinted waters; no foul mud-banks spread the unwholesome exhalations around. The rocky shores are crowned with the cedar, the birch, the alder, and soft maple, that dip their long tresses in the pure stream; from every crevice in the limestone the harebell and Canadian rose wave their graceful blossoms.

The fiercest droughts of summer may diminish the volume and power of these romantic streams, but it never leaves their rocky channels bare, nor checks the mournful music of their dancing waves.

THROUGH THE OPENINGS IN THE FOREST, we now and then caught the silver gleam of the river tumbling on in moonlight splendour, while the hoarse chiding of the wind in the lofty pines above us gave a fitting response to the melancholy cadence of the waters.

The children had fallen asleep. A deep silence pervaded the party. Night was above us with her mysterious stars. The ancient forest stretched around us on every side, and a foreboding sadness sunk upon my heart. Memory was busy with the events of many years. I retracted step by step the pilgrimage of my past life, until, arriving at this passage in the sombre history, I gazed through the singularly savage scene around me, and secretly marvelled, "What brought me here?"

Petes Beat Redmen, 5 To 4 On Squeeze Play In Ninth Before 2,300 Baseball Fans

A perfect squeeze play by Freddy Garvey scored fleet-footed Joe Lowrey from third in the last of the ninth with one away to give the Petes a 5-4 win over Belleville here last night. A crowd of 2,300 fans sent a thunderous roar across Riverside Park to cap a cascading clamor marking a local drive from behind a 4-0 deficit in the final frame as the Stewart squad plugged away to tie the count and then bunt in the winning marker. The victory over the C.O.B.L. leaders pulled Petes up to within half a game of the second-place Kingston Monarchs.

It was baseball "booster night" in Peterborough and a record crowd for the season turned out and saw a swell diamond struggle, complete with Sea Cadets' band, golf-driving competition and big draw for prizes. The TV set was won by Miss Margaret Duvall.

SNAPPY PLAY

Play was snappy and close all the way but for a four-run splurge by the Redmen in the fifth frame. With two away, Wright drew a walk and moved up when Stewart booted Gilmour's grounder. Wright scored and Gilmour took third on a two-bagger to left by Mulholland, and Pettitt then cleaned the sacks with a homer to left over the crowd. It was an in-the-park circuit clout with a ground rule covering it.

Apart from those four unearned counters, the Quints crew didn't get a man to second in the seven heats Phil Clancy hurled. Bill Dadson took over to hit for him and the southpaw pitched the last two stanzas, not allowing a run. He gave up but one hit and Clancy only six in smart slab showings, and they had near-perfect support.

FADES AT END

Art Wright dished up a masterful mound display for the Reds for eight chukkers, despite three bobbles behind him, but he faded in the ninth as the fans started a clap-clap monotone. Stewart led off with a walk and Dugan singled. Young's double scored Stewart and put Dugan on third. One more counted on pinch-hitter Don Bigford's single, and Young later tallied on a wild pitch. Dadson doubled to send Bigford scampering in and Wright was yanked for Mulholland. Lowrey scratched an infield hit and Dadson took third. The latter was caught at the plate on Edger's roller to short but Lowrey, who had stolen, took third. Garvey's bunt to short scored him with the winning run.

Dadson and Bigford had one for one each at bat, Young two for three and Lowrey and Edger two in five tries each. Tony Pettitt hit a homer and single in four to drive in three for Belleville, and Pat Gilmour got two singles in four attempts. The losers reeled off two twin killings, while Arn Dugan pulled a dandy running catch in right centre for the homesters. Catcher Bill Huntley had to retire in the third inning with a dislocated finger, Al Menzies taking over his spot. The box score:

Robbed Of Win Soviet Radio Charges

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio's Helsinki correspondent last night gave Russian home service listeners a "we wuz robbed" version of the Olympic boxing semi-finals.

The broadcaster, identified as Snyavsky, said:

"The match between the Soviet featherweight boxer Bulakov and the German Basel showed the superiority of the Soviet boxer. However, the judges, who the other day had shown an unfavorable attitude to the Soviet boxer Dosukhin, again gave the victory to the German, who did not deserve it. This unfair decision was passed by the votes of two judges, a Norwegian and a Dutchman.

"The judges took a similar attitude in deciding the result of the match between Perov of the U.S.S.R. and an Argentine boxer.

"The judges did everything they could to spare the American team difficult matches in the finals."

Yesterday, the official Russian news agency Tass charged that the Soviet fighters were not getting justice at Helsinki.

Juniors Take O.L.A. Tilt From Dundas

Lou Vitarelli had nothing but praise for his junior Filter Queens Friday night as they romped to a 13-3 victory over Dundas at Miller Bowl, in a one-sided lacrosse battle.

"A win over Mimico next Saturday night will tie us for third place," asserted the coach after the game as the husky lads shed their gear. It was the eighth win of the season for the hustling young squad, and a fair crowd saw it.

Peterborough took a 4-1 lead in the first frame, held a 7-1 edge at half-time, and though the visitors fought gamely against their slightly heavier and more skilful foes, the issue was never in doubt as the homesters racked up a convincing victory.

Though clean in the first half, play roughened up considerably in the latter stages of play and Referees Magee and Hill settled more than one melee. There were 18 penalties, 14 in the last half of play, including two majors and a misconduct, of which the visitors drew eight; but no serious damage was done in the hectic fray.

LED SCORERS

Carl Brioux, stalwart defence ace for Peterborough, led the scoring assault on Hambly as he fired four whistling drives into the mesh, two in the first frame. Close behind followed slim Frankie Farley and sturdy Rock Batley with three sizzling goals apiece. Actual point honors went to speedy centre star Roger Smith with a goal and four assists; while the elusive Jerry O'Reilly and burly Bev Groves hit the hemp once and aided on two. Steve Morrissey fired one and Junior Daniels snared an assist.

Joe Hickson again played an outstanding game in the home cage to make the hard ones look easy. For Dundas, it was Cliff Williams, Deaner McKinnon, Butch Keenan, Bob Amsden, and Butch Shortridge for first honors.

Dundas — Goal, M. Hambly; defence, Blanchard and Winegarden; centre, Williams; wings, D. McKinnon, J. McKinnon; rover, Keenan, alternates, Shortridge, Farna, Brazier, Walker, Lebanowich, Amsden, Defrancesco.

Filter Queens — Goal, Hickson; defence, Brioux and Groves; centre, Smith; wings, Farley and Galley; rover, Morrissey; alternates, O'Reilly, Fitzgerald, Batley, McIlmoyle, Daniels.

Officials — Mick Magee, Bun Hill.

Local Cricket Club Has Busy Weekend

The local cricketers have a busy weekend. They play in Toronto today against North Toronto, who beat them at the Oval on July 12 in a council match. They have Carleton County here on Monday at the Oval in a county match for the R. C. Matthews Trophy playdowns.

This latter is actually a match between the cities of Ottawa and Peterborough, the visitors being picked from the Ottawa Valley cricket council. Three of their players have been picked to play for Ontario August 4 in interprovincial competition with Quebec in Toronto.

The county tituar trophy was presented in 1933 by the Hon. R. C. Matthews, member of a well-known local family. It was won by this city in 1948 and by Carleton the next year.

With a river threading its way through our fair city, and a lake smack in the middle of it, 'tis only right that at long last the Otonabee River and Little Lake Regatta Association should be formed. Alf Pink, a tireless worker in local and district aquatic circles, is chairman and it has the blessing of the recreation commission. Present plans call for three water meets on successive Sundays — starting tomorrow — to help raise funds to send our ornamental swimmers to a Florida competition late this month. Water skiing, ornamental swimming, etc., may be seen tomorrow aft at Wallace's Point. The association should gradually grow into a fine community affair.

A brief item on hockey, which begins re-organization in another month. Bunny Morganson of Toronto says an eight-team senior "B" circuit is likely this year for Greater Toronto. Stouffville and Scarboro are in, along with Lyndhurst Motors. Others interested are: Oshawa, Newmarket, Weston, Brampton, and Leaside. A group meeting for entries will be held at Scarboro Arena on Aug. 19. Hm, we had hopes that Samolenko & Co. of Oshawa would ice a senior "B" squad in a Central Ontario league grouping this year, and there was even spring talk of Stouffville grouping with us. As Kingston expects to go down east comes autumn, where does this leave our shrinking group

After That Top Rung

Just three weeks or so left to go in the O.L.A. senior "A" group schedule. This year's setup has the team finishing the schedule in first place declared the O.L.A. champion. The playoffs which follow are to determine the Eastern Canada winner, with that team then going against the Western Canada victor for the Mann Cup. The big series will be held in Toronto this fall. Petes' lacrossers took it all last year, capturing the O.L.A. crown by finishing atop, then ousting Fergus and Mimico for eastern honors, and downing Combines in Vancouver for the Canadian crown and Mann Cup. They hope to repeat.

Both local lacrosse squads came through with victories last e'en. Filter Queens took Dundas 13-3 here in junior play to keep well in the hunt for a playoff berth. Lou's crew clicked well all through, with Carl Brioux, Roger Smith, Frank Farley and Rock Batley prominent on the attack, as Joe Hickson kicked a flock out in goal. They go to Toronto on Wednesday and have Mimico here next Saturday. Senior Petes finished strong in Fergus to wrest a 17-11 verdict o'er Thistles in a rugged encounter. Curly Mason and Bob Thorpe paced their scoring drive and again Moon Wootton shone in the cage. However, Mimico beat St. Kitts 15-10 the same night to keep two games ahead of the pack. They have 34 points, Petes 30, Toronto 28, Hamilton 22, St. Kitts and Owen Sound 16 each, and Fergus 12. Toronto comes here next Friday.

Fans Go Home Happy

A thrilling finish like that last eve before a big crowd in Riverside is what makes baseball, and what sends fans home happy. If the right team finishes strong. It can be pretty heart-breaking, too, for a pitcher tossing fine ball with a 4-0 lead and one out in the last of the ninth. That was Art Wright's tough break, but the Petes pulled it out of the fire and rate a lot of credit. At that, the Reds had four unearned runs halfway through the tidy tilt, so they shouldn't beef. Phil Clancy pitched swell ball and so did Lefty Bill Dadson in the last two frames. A junior, Don Bigford, sure did his part as a pinch-hitter, and ditto with Dugan, Young and Dadson in the ninth, not to mention Joe Lowrey's speedy stepping on Fred Garvey's perfect squeeze to end it on a happy note.

* * * * * *

'Twas a large evening for the Petes' baseballers, and the big crowd seemed to enjoy it all. A guy said to us ere the game: "There must be three or four hundred ball fans here and nearly two thousand folks after a television set!" Well, maybe, but a lot more fans will likely turn out for future senior ball games after last night's exciting number. A minute's silence was observed first for the late Bill Ovens, a fine baseball enthusiast. Gloves and balls put up by Ray Tanner and George Bennett were won by Doug. Barker, Jack Ferguson and Bill Young. Margaret Duvall won the TV set, and other prizes went to tickets 627, 460, 513, 1296 and 400. Dr. Cliff McKee and Dit Clapper did the drawing. Stan McBride was M.C. Jim Clarkson and Errol Hanbidge gave Kawartha golfers a win over the Peterborough team in the driving contest. Moe Norman also taking a few healthy cuts at the ball.

Petes Triumph By 17 to 11 Against Fergus

FERGUS — (Special). — Finishing strong here last night, Peterborough Petes turned back the Fergus Thistles 17-11 in an O.L.A. Senior A fixture, while Mimico was beating St. Catharines 15-10. That left the Mounties still in front with a two-game margin, having 34 points to Petes' 30, with Toronto third with 28, ahead of Hamilton, St. Catharines, Owen Sound and the Thistles. The latter have a postponed game yet to play in Peterborough.

Friday night's struggle was a rugged one before a good-sized crowd, with the visitors drawing nine of the 16 penalties handed out during the fray. The checking was close and hard in every period with a lot of slashing seen on both sides.

Peterborough took a 2-0 lead in the first quarter. They were in front 9-6 at the halfway mark, but only led 12-10 to finish the third stanza. However, Bob Thorpe's team took over in the finale to wrap it up with a 5-1 scoring edge after the close contest to the end of the third. Moon Wootton's stellar goaltending kept down the Thistles as they threatened frequently inside.

Curly Mason paced the Peterborough attack with four smart counters, and he was closely followed by Thorpe with three. The rest of the Petes' sniping was spread around. Don Gear stood out on the attack for the home team as he snared three goals, followed by Bob Dobbie with a brace.

Minor Lacrosse

In minor lacrosse for the past week, Crescents lead the tadpole section with nine points, Combines having six, Yorks five and Thistles two. Petes lead the peewees with 10 points, followed by Athletics with six, as Tigers and Mounties have four each.

Yorks beat Combines 7-3 on Monday with Garvey and Ahearn getting four and three respectively, as LeBarr, Cavanagh and Parks scored for the losers. A's beat Petes 5-4, Parry scoring three to lead the winners and Hunt getting two for the losers. Next night saw a workout and Thursday had Thistles win on a default from Combines, as Tigers lost 13-6 to Petes. Hunt, Clancy, Grant and Jacque led the winners, with Choley best for the losers. Friday saw the tadpole game cancelled and Mounties defaulted Tigers.

Legion Gets First

HASTINGS (ENS) — Legion took the first of the best-of-three playoff series in semi-finals here over Flyers 9-7 before a goodly crowd. They got a run in the second and one in the third, but Flyers tied it in the fifth. Legion added one in the last of the fifth and were never headed. West and Blackburn pitched fair ball on opposite mounds. Monday has Elgin versus Westwood with the latter one up in their series.

Flyers—Montgomery, 1b; McMillan, c; A. Beavis, ss; Richardson, 2b; Stevens, cf; Radford, 1b; F. Beavis, 3b; Blackburn, p; Humphries, rf.

Legion—Phillips, c; Scriver, 2b; Richardson, lf; West, p; Stevenson, rf; Woodcock, cf; Radford, ss; Crate, 1b; Elmhirst, 3b.

Umpires, Lockhart and Mason.

Giants Clip Pirates 7-3 To Tighten Pennant Race As Dodgers Bow To Sox

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Rookie Jim Dusty Rhodes looks like the man the New York Giants have been waiting for since Willie Mays marched off to the army. With seven home runs in 10 games at the Polo Grounds, the Nashville grad gives Manager Leo Durocher needed strength in the outfield to help the club's latest drive on the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. With Rhodes a fixture in left and Monte Irvin back in right field, Durocher made the final move to tighten his outer defence last night when he shifted Bobby Thomson from third base to centre field. Hank Thompson moved from centre back to his old third-base job.

The Thomson-Thompson shake-up didn't click when Durocher tried desperately to fill the hole left by Mays. Hank floundered at third, prompting Leo to restore his "regular" infield.

IRVIN IN ACTION

Leo's latest "operation shakewell" produced the desired result. Irvin, making his first appearance in the starting line-up since he broke his right ankle in a spring exhibition, drove home the first run in a four-run explosion against Pittsburgh's Harry Fisher in the first inning. Rhodes smashed a three-run home and the Giants were off to a 7-3 victory.

The Giants picked up a full game when the Dodgers lost to Chicago, 6-1. New York now trails by five games.

Preacher Roe lost after seven straight 1952 wins, bowing to Bob Rush in the Chicago game. The Cubs chased "The Preach" in the fifth when they ran their lead to 3-0. Hank Sauer's 26th homer with two men on base in the seventh came off rookie Ray Moore, just up from St. Paul.

STOP PHILS' STREAK

St. Louis slugged a parade of Philadelphia pitchers for 14 hits and a 10-5 decision to end the Phils' six-game win string. Four runs in a ninth-inning spurt that included triples by Stan Musial and Solly Hemus and a two-run homer by Enos Slaughter nailed down the win.

Max Surkont threw two wild pitches to batter Andy Seminick in the ninth to give Cincinnati the first run in their ball game against Boston. Eddie Pellagrini's single scored the second to make it 2-0 for the Reds' Kenny Raffensberger over Boston.

Old Satchel Paige helped St. Louis Browns tighten the American League race by dumping the front-running New York Yankees 2-1. Clint Courtney drove in both runs with a homer and single as Allie Reynolds was knocked out Paige came on the scene after the Yanks scored one run off Gene Bearden and had the bases loaded with two out in the seventh. He blanked the Yanks on one hit the rest of the way.

REDUCE LEAD

The Yanks loss and Cleveland's 6-5 triumph over Philadelphia on Larry Doby's 10th-inning home run reduced New York's lead to two games. Doby knocked in two runs earlier with a double and single.

Mel Parnell of Boston's Red Sox set down Detroit with eight hits, 3-1. Boston pulled within 3½ games of the Yanks and fourth-place Washington was only 4½ back after the Senators' 3-1 victory over Chicago.

Ottawa Dumps Syracuse In 7-2 Triumph

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The one bright spot in the bleak International League picture for the cellar-dwelling Ottawa Athletics is the pitching of Mario Fricano former New York Giant farmhand.

Fricano registered his 11th victory of the season last night, hurling a four-hitter in defeating Syracuse Chiefs 7-2. Carden Gillenwater's second-inning homer with one aboard put the Chiefs ahead, but Fricano allowed only an infield hit the rest of the way.

Springfield Cubs banged out 14 hits and an easy 10-5 victory over Rochester Red Wings. Despite homers by Steve Bilko, Ray Jablonski and Rip Repulski, Bill (Spec) Padgett was able to go the route, gaining his ninth triumph.

Toronto Maple Leafs divided a twin bill with Baltimore Orioles, losing the opener 2-1 in two extra innings and taking the nightcap 5-4. Home runs by Marv Rickert and Andy Anderson accounted for three of the Leafs' five runs in the second contest enabling Gerald Fahr to pick up his seventh win.

The Orioles belted 10 hits off Toronto pitchers Hal Hudson and Ray Shore in the opener. Kent Peterson went all the way for Baltimore to gain his third win.

Paul Wanted Power Of Rome Exercised In Righteousness

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

When the Apostle Paul made his great declaration in Romans 1: 14-16, "I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also. For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek," he was speaking as a Roman citizen as well as a Christian Apostle.

Paul was a free-born citizen of Rome in a Roman world in which the mass of men were slaves. Many born in slavery had purchased their liberty with a great price, like the chief captain in Acts 22: 28. Paul, of course, had not seen Rome, though he was to go there as a prisoner, late in his missionary career. Rome was not just a city, but a world power that had brought all of that world beneath its rule. To be a Roman citizen anywhere was to possess rights and privileges unavailable to others.

When Paul was arrested, through the false charges and investigations of his persecutors in Palestine, and could not get justice there, he did what citizens in modern democracies have often done when they have regarded themselves as denied justice in a lower court; they have appealed to a higher court. American citizens have taken their issue right up to the Supreme Court; citizens of the British Empire have had recourse to the House of Lords. Paul exercised his right to appeal to Rome, and Festus, the Roman governor said, "Hast thou appealed unto Caesar? Unto Caesar shalt thou go."

Thereupon followed interesting and great events, the dire peril of the voyage and shipwreck described so vividly in Acts 27, the eventual arrival in Rome, the comparative freedom of his life as a prisoner there (Acts 28: 1, 30-31), his writing of the great Epistles of the imprisonment, such as Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, and Colossians, the long awaiting for the justice he hoped for but never received, and the disillusionment that led him to write so differently about earthly powers, in Ephesians 6: 12, from what he had written, earlier and before that disillusionment, in Romans 13: 1-3.

I think that Paul was disillusioned, but his disillusionment only brought out the more strongly his Christian imperialism. He was essentially an imperialist, with a world view, and a great sense of power. He admired the power of Rome, as power, but as he surveyed its might he saw also the unsoundness of that power, and of all power built upon force and exercised in unrighteousness.

Over against that imperialism he set the imperialism of a world built upon love, and God's redeeming power in the gospel of Jesus Christ.

As I stood in Rome, years ago, beside the great ruins of the colosseum, and observed in its walls the tablet to the Christian martyrs who had been thrown to the lions in its arena, I realized the triumph of Paul and the vindication of his faith. He brought to Rome a power mightier than its own.

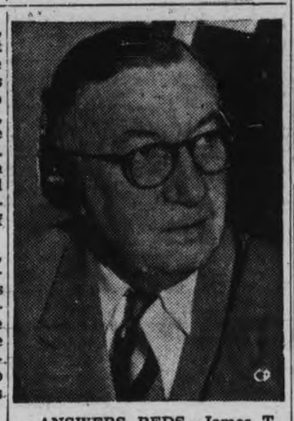
Samuel, Success Or Failure?

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

The story of Samuel, in the two great Books of the Old Testament that bear his name, presents, as I have suggested, some striking contrasts and interesting questions. And an outstanding question at the end of the story is whether Samuel succeeded, or failed.

That he succeeded, in so far as his personal life and integrity are concerned, seems clear. No stain is upon his acts or motives. Even in that blood-stained scene in which he hewed Agag in pieces before the altar (I Samuel 15:32), it was the execution of a perpetrator of atrocities, and it reveals the seemingly gentle Samuel in the character of a strong realist, scorning to put upon a subordinate the act of retribution that he deemed necessary. He made the bloody act an act of religion, and it will always be a question whether religion should be associated with violence. But are not modern executions by hanging, or firing squad, also marked by the attendance of chaplains, or confessors?



It seems clear, also, that Samuel restored a large measure of integrity to the religious life of Israel. The Ark of the Covenant was restored, when its enemies found it too dangerous to keep (I Samuel 5), and its restoration became again a symbol of a restoration of religious integrity. Samuel's leadership, for the time at least, seemed constructively sure and effective. Wherein, then, if he failed at all, did Samuel fail?

He failed, sad to say, in his sons, just as Eli had failed. There lacks evidence that the sons of Samuel were as degraded and licentious as the sons of Eli, but the evidence is clear (I Samuel 8: 1-3) that they did not honor their father by walking in his ways, and they took bribes and perverted justice. That was failure enough.

It is evident that trouble began in that day when Israel rejected Samuel, the trouble that issued in the tragic death of King Saul upon the battlefield, and another crucial defeat for Israel (I Samuel 31).

The narrative itself is confusing. Samuel acclaims Saul as the choice of the people and the divinely annointed king, but in strangely contrasting words (I Samuel 8: 10-18), he gives a dark and depressing picture of what is in store for the people in their turning from him, and impliedly from God, to their trust in a king. Once it was clear that the people were determined to have a king, did Samuel change his own attitude, and seek to surround the new monarchy with all the sanctions of religion? I cannot resolve the discrepancy, but the whole passages and incidents have very interesting bearing on the question of the divine right of kings.

A great philosopher when he was asked to appraise the character and career of a certain man, replied, and declined, saying, "I do not know his end." It was a wise judgment, and concerning Samuel it may be said at least his end showed a diminishing greatness, perhaps partly due to old age. It is in his whole career, with the full strength of his manhood and leadership in mind that he may best be remembered. He never failed in his integrity as judge and prophet, though he failed to achieve all that he had sought to do as a true patriot in Israel.

ANSWERS REDS—James T. Nicholson, executive vice-president of the American Red Cross Society, said Communist tactics at the International Red Cross conference in Toronto were "debasing the Red Cross and perhaps destroying it." He said if the world-wide Red Cross were destroyed, the result would be a "return to barbarism." His remarks followed charges by North Korean delegates that the United Nations were employing biological warfare in North Korea and were slaughtering prisoners on Koje Island.

Urge Greater Social Contact

By JACK GOLDING

LONDON (CP)—A report called "Colored Peoples in Britain," prepared by the Bow Group, an association of Conservative students in East End London, emphasizes the need in this country for greater social contact between black and white population.

A summary of the report was published in the Times, along with editorial-page recognition, and an article dealing with progress towards complete equality of the American Negro.

The report finds there has been a great surge of colored peoples to Britain since the Second World War. Mostly, there are congregated in seaport centres of London, Liverpool and Cardiff. They are largely comprised of seamen and students. Altogether, the report states, there are about 40,000 colored people of various races in the United Kingdom.

NO GREAT PREJUDICE

The Bow report observes that although the colored worker tends to be unstable he is, as a rule, more law-abiding than is supposed. It also found little evidence of any widespread prejudice against him on the part of employers or fellow employees.

The Times agrees more social contact between colored and white people is desirable. But, it says, one of the report's assumptions, that the problem of these people is intrinsically different than that of other peoples who come to the United Kingdom, is open to challenge.

NEVER PROVED

The students' report also states a sharp decrease in colonial students coming to this country would be regrettable because their presence serves as a valuable link among the races of the Commonwealth.

The Times says: "This assumption should be true but it has never been proved. On the parallel case of visits of foreign students to the United States, John W. Gardner of the Carnegie Corporation, has some interesting things to say in the current issue of foreign affairs. He points out that 'at the heart of the whole question of the potentialities and limitations of students exchange is the fate of the student after he has returned home.'

"He asks whether the returned student enters upon a more constructive role in his own society as a result of his experience abroad, what is the effect upon his capacity for leadership and whether he is a stauncher friend of the United States than he might have been.

"Some questions can not be answered."

Strength Of Sacred College Depleted Through Deaths

By JOHN MYERS

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—The possibility that the full complement of the sacred college of cardinals, set at 70 in 1586, may be increased to provide more adequate representation for North America, Asia and Africa has arisen with the recurrence of rumors that the Pope may soon call a consistory to fill the depleted ranks of princes of the church.

This possibility also is seen as increasing the chances of a non-Italian being elected pope in the event of the holy father's death.

The membership of the sacred college, whose duty it would be to elect a new pope, now has fallen to 46—24 less than full strength—with the recent deaths of three cardinals.

27 OVER 70

Twenty-seven of the surviving cardinals are over 70 years of age, five over 80, fourteen between 60 and 70, and five under 60. The Pope is 76.

The three cardinals who have died in the last three months were the church's three senior cardinal-priests.

In order of seniority they were: Cardinal Alessio Ascalesi, archbishop of Naples (May 11), Cardinal Michael Faulhaber, archbishop of Munich (June 12), and Cardinal Giovanni Battista Nasalli-Rocca Di Cornegliano, archbishop of Bologna (March 13).

Forty-seven cardinals have died since Pius XII was elected Pope in 1939, and 23 since the 1946 consistory at which he created 32 new cardinals, the biggest single nomination in history. The previous largest group created at one time was 31 at a consistory held by Pope Leo X in 1517.

For more than two years, reporters at the papal court have been prepared for the calling of a consistory. Reports of its imminence several times reached the point of near-certainty, but were denied by the silence of the Pope.

MAY INCREASE STRENGTH

It is now widely believed that if the Pope does call a consistory, he may increase the strength of the sacred college to more than 70—the number fixed by Pope Sixtus V in 1586. The church has roughly quadrupled its numbers with the addition of millions of members in the "new" territories of North America, Asia and Africa since then.

This trend was already noticeable in 1946 when only four of the newly-created cardinals were Italian. Italian cardinals thus lost their ancient majority in the Sacred College and are now in a minority of 16 to 30 from other parts of the world.

The present distribution of Cardinals also strengthens the possibility of a non-Italian being elected as the next Pope for the first time since a Netherlander became Adrian VI in 1522.

Theoretically, the cardinals may elect any male Roman Catholic as pope, even a married layman. All popes have been cardinals since Urban VI (1378), who was a bishop of Bari.

CANADIAN SPECULATION

Speculation in recent years has centred on the belief a Canadian will receive the red hat. James Cardinal McGuigan, archbishop of Toronto, is Canada's only cardinal since the death in 1947 of Rodrigue Cardinal Villeneuve.

Death of Cardinal Villeneuve left the predominantly Roman Catholic province of Quebec without a representative in the college of cardinals for the first time since 1867.

The speculation about a possible new Canadian cardinal has centred on the figure of Most Rev. Maurice Roy, 46-year-old archbishop of Quebec.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CV. No. 28 — SATURDAY, AUGUST 2, 1952 — PRICE TEN CENTS

MAIN STREET TOPICS

CITY HALL VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gandy of Woodstock were visitors at the City Hall Friday. They were accompanied by Mr. Gandy's father, Mr. Fred Gandy, Sr. Vacation time has brought quite a number of visitors to the muncipal building.

INSPECT PIER

Inspection of the centre pier at Cobourg by Peterborough divers is going on to determine whether repairs will be needed before ships can safely dock there. Diver Fred James said he believed docking would be safe.

LAY WATER MAINS

During June the Peterborough Utilities Commission laid 2,408 feet of six-inch water main. They were Brunswick Ave. and Hilltop St., 524 ft.; George St., Lansdowne to McGill, 835 ft.; Lansdowne St., High St. west, 579 ft.; and Walkerfield Ave., from Albertus to Gordon, 470 ft. Forty-three water services were laid and three were relaid. Two hydrants were installed.

PRAIRIE HARVEST NEAR

"In many districts of the three prairie provinces harvesting will be general in ten to fifteen days," according to the weekly report today of crop conditions and progress in the west. "Moisture conditions are ample, and warm sunny weather is required to bring the expected heavy crop to maturity. Estimated yield in central Saskatchewan is 25 to 30 bus. an acre."

SHORT OF WATER

Although Victoria, B.C., is surrounded by water the city is confronted with a shortage. Utilities cannot lay mains fast enough to meet the rapid growth of population and housing. Mains already laid in some sections of the city are too small. That's the report of recent visitor to the coast. Many other cities of Canada are in much the same position trying to keep facilities even with the pace of community expansion.

REMOVE HYDRO POLES

Twelve hydro poles were removed in June so the city paving program could go ahead. Domestic lighting circuits were completed on Brunswick Ave. and Hilltop St. of the Cobourg housing sub-division. Primary and secondary circuits were rebuilt on Park Hill Rd. from Bethune St. to Boswell Ave. Work was started on rebuilding circuits on Park Hill from Stewart St. to Fairbairn St. Thirty-nine new three-wire and three new two-wire services were connected; 18 were changed from two to three wire; 47 flat rate water heaters were connected.

WITH MOST OF ITS PEOPLE working in Peterborough and Lindsay, Omemee is suffering from a lack of industries in the town. Some people have found the town a good place to retire for peace and quiet, such as Mrs. Jane Poast (upper left). She is Omemee's oldest resident, 96 years old in December. Practically every resident and some visitors have had a drink from the village pump on the main street. Mrs. Howard Vaughan and daughter, Marilyn, of Grimsby (lower left), test the water for coolness. The old wooden bridge and Stehpenson's mill (upper right) provide one of Omemee's beauty scenes. Once a thriving business, the tannery (lower right) closed several years ago.—(Examiner Photos by Grant)

Familiar George St. Corner Was Early Post Office Site

Once Peterborough's post office, the building of Victorian architecture at the northeast corner of George and Brock Streets was a property of the late Harold A. Morrow's family for a century and one year.

A photograph in the Examiner Thursday featured the temporary web of steel scaffolding that has been set up for a paint job.

OBTAINED FROM CROWN 1835

The corner site of the building was part of the lot obtained by Crown patent December 18, 1835, by John R. Benson. His tenure was a scant week. Mr. Benson sold the property on Dec. 26 to Reginald C. Graham.

In 1840 the same land was transferred from the Graham estate to Robert C. Chambers by sheriff's sale deed. Four years later, Mr. Chambers disposed of the half acre including the corner to George B. Hall.

The last transfer at that period was from Mr. Hall to Oughtrey Morrow on July 12, 1844. His property comprised 4,000 square feet. Susequent changes of ownership were by will deeds, first by Oughtrey Morrow to his son Robert A. (Bertie) Morrow, and by the same process on Dec. 21, 1912, to the late Harold A. Morrow.

SOLD IN 1945

On Nov. 1, 1945, Harold Morrow sold the corner building and land to Jane and Agnes Horsfield, the present owners.

The building was probably erected by Oughtrey Morrow, although that is a surmise. For years the premises now occupied by A. B. Burrows and Son was a retail store of Matthews Packing Company, forerunner here of Canada Packers Limited.

Peterborough's first post office was in a log building near the customs house corner between George and Water Sts., on Charlotte St. The original postmaster in 1830 was T. V. Tupper, who was succeeded by J. G. Ferguson.

The office was transferred to Simcoe and Queen Streets, where Ephriam Sanford was postmaster. He was followed by J. S. Carver who retired in 1871.

By that time the postal headquarters may have been at George and Brock Sts. Lieut. Col. H. C. Rogers was postmaster when the office was moved to the department's own building at Water and Hunter Streets in 1888, which was 64 years ago.

H. E. White, present postmaster, succeeded the late Charles Lacheur.

Hugh K. Fallis Named Wm. Ovens' Successor

Hugh K. Fallis has been appointed manager of Campbell's Dairy Products Limited, succeeding the late William G. Ovens, who died suddenly last week on a vacation near Huntsville.

Mr. Fallis has been with the company since 1938, except for five years' service with the R.C.A.F. in the Middle East and Malta areas in the Second World War. He was a flight lieutenant. With Campbell's Dairy he has been cashier. He was born in Saskatchewan and is related to branches of the Fallis family of Durham County. His father, Stanley Fallis, lives at Bailleboro.

Omemee Quiet Village Now Years Of Industry Past

Like many villages its size, Omemee—between Peterborough and Lindsay on Highway 7—was a much busier place 50 years ago than it is today. Oldtimers recall that in the 1870's there were more than 800 people living in the village. The present population is 750. There were a half dozen hotels operating at one time, and men of the village were employed either in the foundry, the tannery, one of the grist or lumber mills, or worked by the day for farmers in the surounding townships.

Today there are no hotels. The foundry stopped operating more than 40 years ago, the tannery closed down about three years ago, and more than 100 of the 750 villagers commute daily to and from industrial jobs in Peterborough and Lindsay.

Grass and weeds are sprouting from the roof of the abandoned foundry and there are many windows broken in the three-storey brick building of the long idle foundry, recently purchased by the Omemee branch of the Canadian Legion.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

However, what the village lacks in industry it makes up for in community spirit. The residents are justifiably proud of their fine community skating rink erected a few years ago and they take a next-door neighbor interest in the good luck and misfortunes of their fellow villagers.

Omeme Horticultural Society is perhaps the village's best known organization, as its members are annual winners in the flower classes at Lindsay and Peterborough exhibitions.

President Wesley Wilson says the object of the society is to create an interest in beautifying homes and gardens. The society also sponsors a junior horticultural society, to foster a similar interest among the young people.

This year, the society will be holding its 12th annual flower show at the Town Hall on August 19, and whoever wins the largest number of points in prizes will be awarded the T. Eaton Co. Trophy.

Duck Shooting Opens Sept. 20

Open seasons on migratory birds were released today by the Department of Lands and Forests.

Duck season in this district opens September 20 and continues to November 15. In these dates, hunters can also snipe for geese, rails, coots and gallinules.

Woodcock season is September 20 to October 27, Wilson's snipe September 20 to October 20.

Peterborough is included in the Northern Zone—the area south of the northernmost C.N.R. line and north of the C.P.R. line that runs through here. In the zone south of here duck season is open October 4 to November 29, woodcock October 4 to November 10, Wilson's snipe October 4 to November 3.

Season on Brant is October 2 to November 1 in this district, October 16 to November 15 in the southern zone.

Bag limits are: Ducks, seven a day, 14 in possession; geese, five a day, 25 a season; rails, etc., 25 a day; woodcock and Wilson's snipe, eight a day, 16 in possession.

E. Vern Morphet Retires, 41 Years At Quaker

After 41½ years with the Quaker Oats Co. in Peterborough, E. Vernon Morphet retired Thursday. For most of his career at the "Quaker", Mr. Morphet was traffic manager.

Marking his retirement, a dinner was held at South Beach Hotel Thursday night, attended by 65 fellow employees and under the chairmanship of company vice-president James Wharry.

Mr. Morphet started work with the C.N.R., then transferred to the Quaker Oats in February of 1911. He joined a department with which the traffic department was then combined. As the firm grew, the department became more important, and finally Mr. Morphet was named traffic manager.

Musically inclined, Mr. Morphet was one of the best-known end men in the minstrel shows popular in Peterborough during the 1920's. It was said at the dinner Thursday night that no well-organized show was complete without him.

Active in the Kiwanis Club, he is also an 18th degree Scottish Rite Mason, and a member of his lodge's octet. At St. John's Anglican Church, of which he is a member, he is rector's warden.

Mr. Morphet's home, at 798 Armour Rd., is one of the best-kept in the city. It is a tidy one-and-a-half storey brick bungalow with a closely trimmed lawn and neat hedges.

At the dinner, Mr. Morphet was presented with a purse of $200. In his reply, he referred to the happy associations he had made at the Quaker Oats.

His successor as traffic manager will be Claire Sullivan, Antrim St.

Best Tourist Season Ever: Fraser

More Canadians Said Kawartha-Conscious; More U.S. Cars In City

"This is the biggest tourist season the Kawarthas has ever had," James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said today.

Mr. Fraser qualified his statement by explaining that his opinion was based on information gathered from resort operator members of the chamber.

"I can't speak for the others," he said, "but many of our members have reported that they have never had such a year as this before.

"Just one example of how tightly booked-up tourist accommodation is here was brought to our attention this week. An American tourist came into the office wanting specific accommodation. We made more than 30 phone calls before we were able to find an opening for him. This is only one of many incidents that has led us to believe that the tourist industry is booming this year.

MORE U.S. CARS

"Another angle is the seemingly more than average number of American cars on the city streets this year. A count during a 30-minute period one afternoon this week showed a total of 49 American cars representing nine states.

"Also a boost this year is the fact that more Canadians are also becoming more Kawartha conscious. Tourists from the Prairie and Maritime provinces have begun to come to this area.

"In our estimation, this year's boom has been the result of many years of tourist promotion. We have traced many inquiries and definite bookings to folders sent out to all parts of the United States and Canada.

"Another important factor is the steadily improving tourist accommodation in the area with the hydro and inside plumbing going into many resorts for the first time."

Civic Holiday Promises Eventful Weekend

Civic Holiday promises to be the most eventful weekend of the season for residents of the Peterborough area.

Three regattas, a golf tournament, a cricket match, to mention the scheduled events for the weekend, are expected to help cause an overflow of traffic in the area.

The weekend events started rolling at 5:50 this morning when the first golfers teed off at the Kawartha Golf Club for the annual Kawartha Lakes Invitation Golf Tournament.

The largest regattas of the season in the area will get underway this afternoon. First on the list will be the Stony Lake power boat races taking place this afternoon at Viamede Hotel.

The 20th Anual Lake Scugog Regatta and Field Day at Caesarea, which draws thousands of spectators each year, also started this afternoon and will continue until Monday.

Sunday the two-day Juniper Regatta, sponsored by the Stony Lake Yacht Club, opens with sailing races for the Visitors and Juniper cups. The Juniper Junior and Senior regattas will take place on Monday.

Also scheduled for Monday is the Belmont Lake regatta.

Water skiers and the Peterborough Ornamental Swimmers will be presenting a show at Wallace Point on Sunday.

Cricket fans will be flocking to Nicholls Oval for a county cricket match between the local team and Carleton.

All in all it looks like a busy weekend. Police are keeping their fingers crossed and hoping that motorists will drive carefully.

Gov't Use Of Oil Revenues Big Issue In Alberta Vote

EDMONTON (CP) — A major issue in the Aug. 5 Alberta election campaign is whether the Social Credit government is making the best use of the millions in revenue it is getting from the province's oil resources.

Opposition groups contend the government is hoarding its oil wealth while the municipalities struggle with an increasing burden of debt and taxation.

The government says its fiscal policies have brought the province from the verge of bankruptcy in 1935 to a position where the provincial debt will be wiped out in 20 years.

MUNICIPAL AID ISSUE

Municipal aid is a big issue. The government is offering a "new share the wealth program of municipal assistance." A new formula for grants to municipalities and school districts would be supplemented by a revolving fund for low-interest loans.

The Liberals promise to take the municipalities into "full partnership" if a Liberal government is elected. Interest-free loans for school buildings are one plank in the Liberal platform.

WOULD CUT TAXES

The C.C.F. says that while the provincial debt has been cut by $58,000,000 since 1944, municipal debt has increased by $74,000,000 in the same period. It promises a C.C.F. government would cut the tax bill of municipal taxpayers.

The Progressive Conservatives, running a dozen candidates in Edmonton and Calgary, favor elimination of certain conditional features of present municipal grants. They also favor revision of the present scale of school grants so that "a fair share of the cost" is contributed by the provincial government.

Gas export is another major issue of the campaign. The government recently authorized export of natural gas to the Pacific coast from the Peace River district in northern Alberta.

The Social Credit platform has come out for export "in the interests of Alberta, after Alberta's present and future needs are fully protected." The Progressive Conservatives also favor export of surplus gas, provided an adequate supply is assured for the province.

The C.C.F. and Liberals are opposed.

Sleeping Beauty Recovering, Treatment Helps

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver 21-year-old "sleeping beauty" sleeps no more. Edna Achtymichuk who left here a month ago in a coma, returned yesterday from the Mayo clinc in Rochester, Minn., full of hope and thanks.

After the pretty co-ed from the University of British Columbia suffered brain injuries in an automobile accident, she remained unconscious for 93 days. Even after she regained semi-consciousness, she could neither walk nor talk. Vancouver doctors held little hope she ever would.

SENT TO CHINA

Her parents, however, with financial aid from many Vancouver residents, sent her to the clinic. Today, speaking slowly and smiling, Miss Achtymichuk said:

"People have been so good to us, and it's so nice they've been thinking about us so much while we've been away. I just want to say thank you to everyone."

Her mother, Mrs. Fred Achtymichuk, said her daughter spoke her first word, "Mama," about two weeks ago. "Now it's a matter of re-education."

"The doctors at the clinic haven't promised she will walk again, but then doctors told me here she wouldn't talk again, either."

Screen Actress Hurt Leaps, Misses Truck

FORT LEE, Va. (AP)—Screen actress Rosalind Russell was injured yesterday when she missed in an effort to leap into the back of a fast-moving army truck.

Miss Russell received a slight knee fracture and a badly lacerated shin that required 17 stitches in the accident, which occurred during the filming of a movie, "Never Wave at a Wac," an Independent Artists-RKO production.

The film actress will be confined to the army hospital here for several days, a medical corps spokesman said.

Slap Witness, Fined

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A woman who slapped a Crown witness on her way out of city court yesterday was brought back and convicted of common assault. Mrs. Lois Butler, 26, pleaded innocent but was convicted of assaulting Karl Eisenmann.

Seconds earlier her husband, William Harold Bugler, 29, had pleaded guilty to forging and cashing an income tax refund cheque, property of Eisenmann, and was sentenced to three months in jail.

Mrs. Bugler was fined $10 and costs, with alternative of 10 days in jail. Eisenmann said the woman said nothing, but slapped him with the back of her hand as she passed after the trial involving her husband.

Russians Claim They Colonized California

LONDON (Reuters) — A Soviet writer last night claimed Russians colonized parts of California years before American pioneers trekked west from New England.

Igor Kukoysky, whose works have won him the Stalin Prize, was broadcasting a story for Soviet youth purporting to describe the "discovery and development of the Russian Americas" in the 18th century.

After describing how Russians under Vitus Bering (1680-1741) settled in Alaska and what is now the west coast of Canada, he declared:

"In their search for richer agricultural lands the Russians eventually landed from 20 ships in the Bay of San Diego where they established friendly relations with Spanish settlers.

BUILT FORTRESS

"They settled in various parts of California," he said. In 1811 the Russians had to build a fortress. Defended by 17 guns it stood up to the Spaniards."

Lukovsky said Russian sailors under Cherikov, Feodorov and Bering visited Alaska and the coast of Canada, where they found the ruins of European settlements at least 300 years old.

Origin of these settlements was unknown, he said, "but documentary evidence found on the spot shows irrefutably they were both Russian and literate." Indians and Eskimos there also knew some Russian.

He blamed corrupt administration for collapse of Russian settlements in North America.

"Eventually, even Alaska was sold by the imperial Russian government, and the last Russian lands on the American continent were given away," Lukovsky said.

Reveal Scheme For RN Reserve

LONDON (CP)—The Admiralty and shipping organizations have worked out a scheme to enable boys to join the shipping industry and enroll at the same time in the Royal Naval Reserve.

If a boy has a specified amount of sea cadet or sea training experience, he may become a junior seaman with advancement to ordinary seaman at the age of 17½ years. Minimum age of entry is 16¼ years. The status of ordinary seaman also demands one year's combined Merchant Navy and R.N.R. service.

The shipping federation and the national union of seamen are glad to recruit young men with sea training, especially naval training. The Royal Navy is also happy to have a supply of potential officers, non-commissioned officers and other ranks available in case of necessity.

Boys entered under the plan will count towards the quota of four reservists in addition to the commanding officer required by a ship of the Merchant Navy in order to qualify for Admiralty warrant to fly the Blue Ensign.

Customs Receipts Down In Five Centres

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Customs and excise receipt reports received from nine Ontario points of entry showed July receipts were down in five cities as compared with receipts in the same month last year. Increased receipts were reported in the four other cities. The following were reports received:

Note Sharpest Gain Of Year On Toronto Stock Market

By DICK BAIDEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Prices climbed for the sharpest gain of the year this week as Toronto stock market investors boosted selected issues.

Industrials posted the largest upswing. The index jumped more than seven points as buyers turned to key steel, construction and manufacturing issues. Trading, however, remained highly selective with a few signs of a broad advance.

Base metals added almost four points to the index. Here, too, buying maintained a "pick and choose" approach. Leading issues, notably Hudson Bay, drew most support but a scattered list of lowe priced issues attracted some speculative interest.

Western oils showed signs of resuming last spring's upturn as cautious buying spread slowly. Albermont and Devon-Leduc moved actively during the week for substantial gains.

METALS LOWER

Golds showed little response to increasing rumors of a possible price increase. Senior issues traded slowly, and, while a few junior producers and prospects showed occasional strong gains, professional observers saw little sign of a general upswing.

Toronto opened the week Monday with a cautious advance. Support strengthened during the session, however, and industrials closed with a firm gain. Base metals drifted lower while golds and western oils made little headway. In Montreal, papers and industrials edged higher.

Metals joined industrials in Toronto Tuesday for a strong advance. Golds showed strength but oils eased. Industrials and papers were firm in Montreal.

Steels sparked Toronto industrial Wednesday with an almost solid list of gains. Base metals also pushed upward but golds turned downward. Papers and industrials were strong in Montreal.

Industrials pushed upward for the fourth consecutive session in Toronto Thursday while golds and oils climbed slowly. Papers and industrials were again strong in Montreal.

UPSWING CHECKED

Mild profit-taking checked Toronto's upswing yesterday. Final-hour support, however bolstered metals. Industrials and papers eased in Montreal.

Selected issues pushed upward in New York Monday but the market as a whole made little headway. Rails buoyed prices Tuesday and steels joined the upswing Wednesday. Rails again led a rise Thursday but prices turned mixed yesterday.

From Friday to Friday, Toronto stock exchange indices showed industrials up 7.26 at 330.12, golds up .53 at 93.18, base metals up 3.89 at 199.03 and western oils up 2.79 at 140.56.

In Montreal averages, banks were down .08 at 30.31, utilities up 1.6 at 88.3, industrials up 6.1 at 220.2, combined up 4.6 at 176.2, papers up 11.84 at 727.4 and golds up .06 at 65.51.

In New York, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed $1.40 to $109.20.

Canadian Dollar Value Creating Many Problems

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canada's dollar, the only money in world markets higher than United States currency has created a few problems—and not only for visitors from the United States.

Canadians, who for years have watched Americans turn up their noses at good Canadian currency, have greeted the reversal in their dollar's fortunes with goodwill, some head-scratching—and occasional chuckles.

The dollar was up 3-32 of a cent at a premium of 3⅝ per cent in terms of U.S. funds today at New York.

FRACTIONS PROBLEM

It's those fractions that cause Canucks to scratch their heads. Those who charge at the current discount rate—and a Canadian Press survey shows that most businesses now are doing so—find the figuring a bit involved. Most get around it by charging from 95 to 97 cents for the U.S. dollar.

Here and there the sign: "American money accepted at par" tickles the Canadian fancy. It wasn't long ago that visitors from the United States got 20 cents more on their dollar. Those were the days when they could offer a $20 bill for a $4 purchase and get back $20 in Canadian bills, along with the article they'd bought.

The effect of that situation still lingers. Recently a U.S. visitor in Yarmouth, N.S., offered a storekeeper a $20 bill and was told there'd be a small amount of exchange.

"Oh, that's all right," the American woman replied gaily "you keep it."

The amused man exchanged the bill at par and said he "felt good about it all day." The visitor owed the merchant about 60 cents.

An anomaly of the present situation is that border cities in the United States are still discounting the higher Canadian dollar.

Among visitors from the U.S. there's been a friendly reaction generally. The comment: "We've had it our way long enough," is typical.

Big Black Bear Shot In Belmont

MARMORA (ENS) — George Wilde, who has a summer resort at R.R. 2 Havelock, recently shot a black bear, measuring more than eight feet from nose to toes and weighing nearly 300 pounds.

He shot the bear as it emerged from the southern edge of Quackenbush's Swamp near the Cordova Road, a mile north of Highway 7.

Mr. Wilde noticed the bear when he was driving back to the lodge along the Cordova Road, along with two Toronto men — Charles Merlocco and Edward Clarke. They were returning from Havelock just at dusk when they saw the bear amble across the road and disappear in Quackenbush's Swamp.

After making a note of the bear's progress, Mr. Wilde asked Mr. Merlocco to drive him home so he could get his rifle and start after the animal. He got the rifle and headed for the south side of the swamp where he estimated the bear would come out.

Shortly afterwards he heard something come through the bush and saw the bear walk along the edge of the swamp and a grainfield. At first it didn't see Mr. Wilde but then it stopped and looked directly at him.

Mr. Wilde took aim and fired from 40 yards, with only the head and shoulders of the bear visible. The wounded animal turned and ran through the swamp but Mr. Wilde was unable to find it in the darkness. Next day, along with a neighbor, he found the bear dead.

Several other people in the Belmont township area report seeing bears. Earlier in the month a mother bear and three cubs were sighted in the swamp.

Held Up To Hold Up

HAMILTON (CP)—Hamilton and Dundas police rushed to the east-end bridge last night after receiving reports of a mass holdup. However, the holdup proved only to be a bus stopped to enable passengers to stretch. Passing motorists saw the passengers standing alongside the vehicle with their arms in the air.

Blame Boys For Fire

TORONTO (CP)—Police yesterday said they believed a fire which did more than $25,000 damage to the A. E. McKenzie Seed Company warehouse was caused by boys who set fire to grass surrounding the building.

Ship Launching

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—The sister ship of the Canada Steamship Lines 664-foot Sir James Dunn will be launched today at the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company. The new grain and coal carrier will be named the Thunder Bay.

Escapee Recaptured

SARNIA (CP)—Charles Kenneth Dale, 42, who escaped custody July 13 by jumping from a train about 30 miles north of Toronto while being returned to Sarnia to face trial for car theft, was recaptured yesterday at Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan.

Close-Tipped Lawn Makes Easy Growth For Weeds

Most of us know what should and what shouldn't be done to keep a lawn happy—but how few of us actually live up to all the rules of lawn care, simple though they may be! Just to remind you again here are those important must's for developing a more luxuriant lawn in the growing season just ahead.

First, about cutting. Many people figure that the closer a lawn, the better tended it will look. A close-tipped lawn isn't a healthy one however, cutting too low keeps the grass plants so small they are unable to develop and store reserve foods—and opens the lawn up to the invasion of weeds. Your lawn can appear just as neat if mowed higher but more often—perhaps twice a week in the most rapid growing season. Lawn mowing is easier, too, if you're not cutting too close to the ground.

Avoid light sprinklings—Number one enemy to the summer lawn is the tendency to apply light, quick sprinklings of water every hot summer day. Application of fertilizers in warm weather is just about as bad. Sprinkling and fertilizing in warm weather is chiefly to the benefit of weeds such as crab grass which grows at a terrific rate in hot weather. Better by far to give your lawn thorough soakings down to a depth of 6" during real dry spells.

Your chief aim should be to keep both the roots and tops of each grass plant as large and healthy as possible. You can accomplish this by following these four rules: Rule 1. In mowing the grass make sure the mower is set high enough to leave grass between 1½" and 2" tall in order to keep weed seeds from moving in. Mowing often will keep a trim appearance, no matter how high the grass may be. Rule 2. To firm your soil around grass roots, roll your lawn in the Spring after heaving caused by alternate freezing and thawing weather. Rule 3. Don't remove grass clippings from the lawn. By mowing often, grass clippings will be short and will settle down between blades of the sod to provide valuable mulching for the roots, protecting them from periods of extreme heat. Too, they will assist in smothering out tiny weeds. Grass clippings will eventually rot, adding further plant nutrients to the soil. Rule 4. In the Fall, just before the advent of cool weather, apply fertilizer. Grass grows most rapidly in cooler weather when most weeds are slowing down. Fertilizer will often give your grass the boost it needs to completely crowd out weeds.

Lastly, a word about trees. Even with the best care, grass can't be expected to compete too successfully with the roots and shade of a large dense tree. At least give the grass a chance by pruning the top of a tree, and perhaps some of the lower branches to open it up for light, air and rain. And above all, make sure all fallen leaves are removed each autumn—these can quickly smother even the healthiest of turf.

Ask Direction On Birth Control

HANNOVER, Germany (CP)—A German woman welfare expert appealed to the World Lutheran Federation Assembly yesterday for "a special directive by the church in the question of birth control."

Dr. Antoine Nopitsch, director of the evangelical mother service, said:

"Modern mankind must be helped through the qualms of conscience on one side and frivolity on the other by a liberating word which speaks of the gift of life as well as the fact that marriage does not exhaust itself merely in procreation.'

"Among many urgent questions, it appears to us that the question of 'birth control' needs a special directive by the church."

$200,000 Damage Suit Says Song Stolen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Musician Ben Pollack today filed a $200,000 damage suit against Paul Mason Howard and Paul Weston, charging that their song, "Shrimp Boats is A-Commin'," was stolen from his "My Cajun Song."

Pollack also named Walt Disney Music Co., publisher of "Shrimp Boats," as co-defendant. Pollack said his "Cajun" piece was written in 1945 and that Howard heard him play it last year.

Social Credit's Old Ideas Now Forgotten In Alberta

EDMONTON (CP) — Alberta's Social Credit government likely will live to come of age if it is returned in the Aug. 5 provincial election.

The party was swept to power 17 years ago during the economic depression. Its promise then was dividends of $25 a month for all from the provincial treasury.

In this election Social Credit, now a model of financial orthodoxy, is seeking its fifth consecutive term of office. If returned, it will have been in power 21 years before the next election normally rolls around in 1956.

Today mention is seldom made of the party's old fiscal ideas. Some of them were tried in the government's first years, but the courts threw out the legislation as unconstitutional.

CLOSE TO ABERHART

William Aberhart, Calgary Bible class teacher who led the party to power in 1935, has been dead nine years. The present premier, Ernest C. Manning, was one of Mr. Aberhart's closest associates and is one of the two original that it was 51 to 6 in 1944 and again in 1948.

A redistribution bill passed in Social Credit ministers still in office.

Mr. Manning is still only 43 despite his 17 years as a minister of the Crown. On Sundays he preaches at the Prophetic Bible Institute in Calgary in Mr. Aberhart's stead. Weekdays he is Premier and provincial treasurer. Soon he will add the job of minister of mines and minerals, administering the oil industry which has made Alberta rich.

Just an even dozen of the 56 original Social Credit members are contesting seats in next Tuesday's election as government candidates. Two other originals, unconverted to the party's present-day policies, are running as independent Social Crediters.

With one exception, the four Social Credit legislatures have all had top-heavy majorities. It was 56 to 7 in the first. Then, in 1940, a group of independents won 19 seats to Social Credit's 36. After 1950, gives fast-growing Edmonton seven seats instead of five. Calgary's representation is increased to six from five. A new rural riding—Bonnyville—is created in the northeastern part of the province.

ONE ACCLAMATION

Next Tuesday, 182 candidates will be in the running for the 60 seats at stake. The government has elected one member by acclamation—Provincial Secretary C. E. Gerhart in Acadia-Coronation. There is a Social Credit candidate in each of the 60 remaining seats.

The Liberals, who held power from the time Alberta became a province in 1905 until 1921, when a United Farmers' government took over for 14 years, are running 55 candidates. The party had three seats in the last Legislature and its leader, J. Harper Prowse, was leader of the Opposition.

C.C.F. hopes of bettering its two members in the last House have been encouraged by the C.C.F. victory in Saskatchewan in June and the party's good showing in British Columbia. Nova Scotia-born Elmer E. Roper is leading 41 C.C.F. candidates.

The Progressive Conservatives have put up a dozen candidates, all in Edmonton and Calgary. The party's last electoral success in Alberta provincial elections was in 1935, when it elected two members.

Six of the government's former supporters are running as independent Social Crediters. These include some who disagree with the government's policies and others who were rejected for renomination. Most prominent is R. Earl Ansley, former Minister of Education who was recently expelled from the Social Credit League.

Argentine Workers Propose Eva Peron Be Made Saint

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentine workers proposed yesterday that Eva Peron be elevated to eventual sainthood in the Roman Catholic Church. Indications are that her body may be permanently displayed to the public in a multi-million-dollar mausoleum.

In a cable to the Pope, the Union of Food Industry Workers, claiming 160,000 members, asked that the proceedings be started for beatification and canonization for President Juan Peron's wife, who died last Saturday after a long illness.

CAN'T TAKE INITIATIVE

(From Vatican City, however, came word that the Holy See is not in a position to take the initiative. A Vatican source said it is customary that such proceedings start in the diocese where the person to be beatified lived and died. The foundation is an heroic practice of the Christian virtues, the Vatican informant said, adding: "While in the case of Mrs. Peron the civil virtues were practised in an evident way, nothing is known about her religious virtues and, at first sight, there seems not to have been any of the heroism required by the church in such matters.")

The move to sanctify the beautiful blond woman who rose from poverty to fabulous political power came as no surprise. Since her death, newspapers in Buenos Aires have stressed accounts of her saintliness. And during her life, many poor recipients of her aid called her Saint Evita (Little Eva).

SET UP FOUNDATION

This was nurtured through the millions of dollars worth of donations in cash, medicine, clothing, food and other items handed out by the vast welfare organization—the Eva Peron Foundation—set up and operated by the first lady.

An announcement from the president's office implied that Mrs. Peron's body may be specially embalmed for permanent public view in a glass coffin, to be placed in a monument to be built in the heart of Buenos Aires.

The announcement did not say this directly but stated that after the first lady's temporary burial Aug. 10 "no one can see the remains of Eva Peron for one year, the period needed for the work of conservation which will give it (the body) absolute corporeal permanence, thus fulfilling the wish of the illustrious departed one.

It gave no details of the embalming, a practice rare in Latin American countries.

Make Little Progress On Truce Wording

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations and Communist staff officers today made a little progress toward agreement on the wording of the Korean armistice draft.

Lieut.-Col. Duncan S. Somerville, top U.N. staff officer, said the U.N. approved Communist-suggested rewording in five paragraphs of the bulky truce document during a 65-minute session.

The changes were minor and had no bearing on the thorny prisoner-of-war exchange issue, which has deadlocked the main negotiations.

The staff officers meet again tomorrow.

The main delegations are scheduled to meet Sunday.

Bag limits: Ducks, seven a day, of which not more than one may be a wood duck; geese, five a day; woodcock, eight a day, and Wilson's snipe, eight a day.

Dates for partridge season will be announced later.

Flies To U.S. Spends One Day

LONDON (Reuters)—A 32-year-old doctor flew 6,500 miles from London to San Francisco, spent one days there and flew back.

On arrival back at London airport last night, he would not say why he made the trip.

Dr. James Cantlie surprised airport officials by boarding the California-bound plane on Tuesday carrying only two paper bags. He told them: "This is a purely personal trip."

Last night he said: "It is a big disappointment. I had hoped not to be back so soon."

He then went to the London club where he is staying—and kept his secret.

Eva Peron's Body May Be On View Permanently

BUENOS AIRES (CP)—President Juan D. Peron's office indicated Friday that the body of his wife, Eva, may be so embalmed that it can be placed on permanent public view.

(In a similar manner the body of V.I. Lenin—father of the Bolshevik revolution—is on permanent exhibition in Moscow and former Bulgarian Premier Georgi Dimitrov's remains are on exhibit in Sofia).

The announcement said permanent burial of Mrs. Peron might be delayed for more than a year and that the body then would be placed in a monument in the heart of Buenos Aires. The phrasing indicated her remains would be placed in a glass case.

The statement said Mrs. Peron's body will lie in state until Aug. 9—15 days after death—and then will be removed from public view for one year after a funeral service that day.

The year period is necessary, the statement said, "for the work of conservation which will give it (her body) absolute corporeal permanence thus fulfilling the express wish of the illustrious departed one."

Elect German Bishop Head Of Federation

HANNOVER, German (Reuters) A German bishop, Dr. H. Lilje of Hannover, yesterday was elected president of the Lutheran World Federation. He will serve a five-year term. Lilje, 52, takes over from Bishop Anders Nygren of Sweden as second president of the five-year-old federation which embraces 45,000,000 Lutherans in 25 countries, including Canada.

VENETIAN SCENE, MEXICO—Mexico City took on the aspects of Venice recently when torrential rains turned the streets into rivers. But traffic wasn't stopped, as picture shows.

Search Ex-King's Baggage

CAIRO, Egypt (Reuters) The well-informed Arab daily Al Ahram said today the captain of the royal yacht Mahroussa had received radio orders while taking Farouk into exile to search the former King's baggage and prevent him landing jewelry, gold ingots and Egyptian antiques.

The order came from the Cairo headquarters of Gen. Mohammed Naguib, who led last week's coup and forced Farouk off the throne, the paper said.

When the captain sent a reply that Farouk objected, Naguib's headquarters instructed the captain not to allow him to land.

The captan then sent a message saying the yacht had already approached the Italian port of Naples and that large crowds had gathered on shore.

He was then told to allow Farouk and his party to land without baggage and added that the Egyptian minister in Rome would attend to the royal belongings.

The newspaper did not unfold the last round of the incident — whether the luggage was searched — but Farouk's baggage has been landed.

Four Naked Women Spark Off Controversy

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff Arthur Willis stopped a speeding car two weeks ago and found four women naked from the waist up.

They whipped on brassieres and observed that men rode bare-chested.

It touched off a flood of mail defending women's rights.

Willis picked out as typical an anonymous letter from Austin, Minn.: ". . . I hope and pray that the women in every state of the United States can go naked from their waist up any time they want to for it is not wrong."

The four women didn't get a ticket. Deputy Willis forgot.

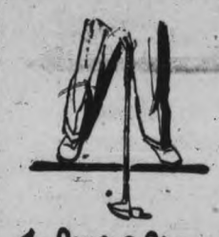
Have New Record

NEW YORK (AP)—A 45-R.P.M. phonograph record that plays up to eight minutes on a single side—nearly twice as long as previous discs of that speed—was announced yesterday by R.C.A Victor. The new 'extended-play' records are of the same 6⅞-inch diametre and play on the same turntable as present 45's.

Many Papers Back Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will have the editorial support of more newspapers than ever before backed a Republican presidential nominee in the traditionally Democratic south.

An Associated Press survey of nearly 100 papers in 11 southern states showed today that 41 have endorsed the general or will do so and past performance indicates several in the "undecided" list will go to him.



At this early stage in the campaign, only 22 papers have come out for Democrat Adlai Stevenson. In 1948, 35 of those questioned this year were lined up for President Truman.

"COOL CONTROL"

THE STANCE

1-Square Stance

Balance and control are 'musts.' There are three basic stances — first, the Square Stance, as above. This stance requires both feet to be placed square to the intended line of flight.

2-Open Stance

All stances require the club to be soled directly back of the ball so that the bottom of the club sits evenly on the turf. If toe of club sticks up, you are too far away. If toe is down, you are too close. In Open Stance, left foot is drawn back from line of flight, and body is turned slightly toward left. Use when slice or fade is desired.

3-Closed Stance

Opposite from Open Stance. Draw right foot back from line of flight. Use when hook from right to left is required. Recommended for driving because of overspin imparted to ball when hit.

It's control that counts, in golf as in every sport — control which brings the balance, the comfort and the extra quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Annual Pie Social Held At Rush Point

HAVELOCK (ENS) — The annual pie social was held at Rush Point United Church on Wednesday evening and again proved to be a very successful event with a large crowd in attendance and proceeds amounting to $62. Robert Curtis, the student minister in charge of the Belmont Lakes area mission, presided for the program, which was presented prior to the main item of the evening of serving of the many kinds of pies provided by the ladies of the congregation.

A hat-making stunt drew forth much laughter from the audience as the Rev. R. G. Newman, H. Hoard, Frank Pollock and Lyle Quakenbush gave a demonstration of their capabilities in fashioning hats for women from paper pie plates, and the following women were used to model the millinery they made: Mrs. W. Embleton, Mrs. George Pollock, Mrs. Earl Cook, Mrs. Harry Agnew.

Another item of special interest was a shideshow under the direction of Robert Curtis, with the following taking part: Rev. R. G. Newman, George Wiggins, Roberta Cooke, Frances Cooke, David, Ruth and Doris Newman. Also assisting were the members of the Youth Caravan who are conducting a Bible Vacation School here: George Simmons, Markaret Baker, of London, Ontario; Margaret Ramsay, of Napanee, and Jean Graham, of Windsor. Other items were a reading by Earl Pollock, a recitation by Rev. R. G. Newman, a vocal trio by Roberta, Dorothy and Betty Cooke with guitar accompaniment by Marie Newton; Donald Pollock sang several solos and Barbara Pollock entertained with several selections on her piano accordion.

What's Right?

You are writing a letter to a serviceman overseas.

WRONG: Tell him about all the little things that have gone wrong at home, and if you aren't feeling well, mention that.

RIGHT: Keep your letter cheerful and fill it with news that will amuse or please him.

Bedtime Snack solves laxative problem

"Constipation made me sullen all day. What a change since I started to use ALL-BRAN regularly! Even my wife notices it!" writes man from Ville Montmorency, Que. If you suffer from irregularity due to lack of bulk, try a bowlful of this toast cereal every night before bed. It may bring back the youthful regularity you thought long lost. ALL-BRAN is the only type ready-to-eat cereal that supplies all the bulk you may need. It's high in protein and iron. Not habit-forming. Kellogg's is so sure you'll like ALL-BRAN that if you're not completely satisfied after 10 days, send empty carton to Kellogg's, London, Ont., and get DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK!

CAN I PAINT? That is a question heard numerous times in every home when the children are growing up. Every one is a potential artist and in his daubing and his pictures he will often portray experiences in his life.

FOR PARENTS ONLY:

Painting Fun For Children All Are Potential Artists

By NANCY CLEAVER

"Can I paint pictures, Mummy?" How eagerly a child asks this question. Painting is such fun! The different colors are fascinating — and there is all the thrill of adventure as a small artist dips his brush into a bottle of paint and then draws it across his page.

Children usually prefer large sheets of paper because they do not feel cramped when drawing on them. Wrapping paper or sheets of wallpaper are both inexpensive and satisfactory.

Some spills are inevitable and so the kitchen is a good location for art work. A low table or even the floor is frequently used by the small artist. But if father is handy with his tools, without much difficulty he can construct a small easel which will delight his son or daughter. A rag for wiping excess paint off the brushes is also needed.

Most small children first of all go through a manipulative stage when they play with their art material. Then they usually go on making their own symbols for familiar objects such as a man, a house, a car or an animal.

Before long they want to portray some experience in their own lives such as skipping, swinging, building castles in the sand on the beach and other happy activities. Their pictures reflect their own thinking about their small world. The blue sky is high overhead and so it is represented by blue paint at the top of the page — which usually is not brought down to meet the horizon. That unpainted part of the page to the child shows the space which he feels is between the ground he stands on and the sky above him. Sometimes a child will paint a picture of a new story which he has heard, or an old bedtime favourite.

Long before he has mastered an extensive word vocabularly, through painting a child can express his thoughts and emotions The observant parent can see something of the child's reactions to his environment in his pictures.

Mother's job is to purchase art material, place it in a cupboard where the child can get it for himself and also provide a place for him to work without feeling he is in the way. Children's paint-boxes are not very satisfactory. It is much better to buy tempra or poster paint in powder form or in small bottles, with a brush for each bottle.

Most children receive far too many directions from their parents — especially from mother. In painting this is a particularly bad mistake. It stifles the inner urge to paint. Any person, little or big, who is concentrating on painting (or any other task!) should have the chance to work in "peace and quiet." Don't press his thoughts and emotions talking!

Leave your child alone to paint what he wants, use the colors he likes and set his own pace. When his picture is done and he wants mother to see it — do take time then and there to admire the artistic production! Hang it up in the kitchen or living room or in the child's room. This will give your child the special pleasure of seeing his own picture on a wall.

Parents often feel very much at sea in taking an intelligent interest in their child's art training. When they were young the emphasis was on attaining skill and producing a certain type of picture. Today, educators realize that only a small proportion of students will become professional artists. Nevertheless art can be a happy activity for every child. It can play an important part in his psychological growth.

One of the best inexpensive books for the mother of a small child is "Art Education in the Kindergarten" published by the Ryerson Press. It can be highly recommended and so can the 16 mm. color film "The Beginnings of Picture Making" by the Crowley Films, Ottawa. Both of these are based on the findings of a study of over nine thousand children in over four hundred kindergartens in Ontario. This research took two years and was under a brilliant teacher, Dr. C. D. Gaitskell, director of Art Education in the Public Schools of Ontario.

Our children are growing up in a world where leisure hours are constantly increasing. This makes the encouragement of creative hobbies such as art one of the most vital tasks of both the home and the school. So do give the potential small artist in your home the material and the encouragement necessary for him to express his thoughts and experiences in his paintings!

Doris Bertrand Wed Today To Robert J. Fontaine

The marriage took place this afternoon in Mark Street United Church, of Doris Mae Bertrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bertrand, to Robert Joseph Fontaine, son of Mrs. Joseph Fontaine and the late Angus Fontaine. The Rev. E. W. Rowland officiated.

The church was decorated with gladioli. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Olive Searles. Before the bride entered, Mr. Sam Castle sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and during the signing of the register he sang "I Love Thee."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an original off-the-shoulder gown of white bridal satin with full length train. The skirt was very full, caught up at the hem with a boy of nylon marquisette revealing rows of tiny pleats of the marquisette on the underskirt of taffeta. Her veil of Chantilly lace was in finger-tip length caught to a Juliet cap of satin and pearls, and she wore satin mittens coming to points over her hands. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white stephanotis.

Attendants were Mrs. Arnold Brown, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Robert Boyle as brides maids, and little Shirley Dwyer as flower girl. The bridesmaids were frocked alike in ankle length strapless gowns of shot taffeta with boleros to match, Mrs. Brown wearing pale green with grey net overskirt and Mrs. Boyle wearing pale rose with grey net overskirt. Both had hats of the same material covered with grey pleated net forming small bonnets, and wore grey net mittens. They carried bouquets of yellow and white 'mums. The flower girl was frocked in off-the-shoulder dress of yellow shot taffeta with a white net overskirt. Her headdress was of matching material forming a band over her head caught with a flower at each side. She carried a nosegay of assorted baby 'mums.

Groomsman was Mr. Robert Boyle and ushers were Jack Bertrand and Herbert Fontaine, brothers of the bride and groom.

The reception was held at Club Aragon where the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of pink taffeta and net and white accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a dress of white silk and mauve accessories and a corsage of deep pink roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to the Southern States. For travelling, the bride wore a two-piece grey and white striped dress and white accessories and she had a corsage of red roses.

They will live at 663 Water St. on return.

Try Iced Coffee

One of the best coolers for the heat is a tall tinkling glass of strong iced coffee.

For bang-up success with your iced coffee, follow these expert suggestions. They will produce wonderful results—if you start with good hot coffee.

PRE-COOLED METHOD

1—Make coffee regular strength —one standard coffee measure (or its equivalent, two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of freshly drawn water.

2—Cool in a non-metallic container for not more than three hours, or, if the container is tightly covered, chill in refrigerator.

3—Serve in tall glasses with ice, adding simple syrup or sugar and cream to taste.

Couple Honored By Relatives On 20th Wedding

WARKWORTH—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Birney were surprised by about 50 relatives and friends on Wednesday evening in honor of their 20th wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Louis King, a niece, entertained at the piano during the evening and was accompanied by Bruce Birney on the violin. Mrs. Donald Birney of Cobourg gave a humorous reading "The Ideal Husband" and another niece, Mrs. Harold Linn gave several piano accordion selections.

Aylmer Harnden, a brother-in-law from Grafton read an address to the honored couple expressing the congratulations and best wishes of their friends and Elmer Bull of Cobourg, on behalf of all the friends, made the presentation of a cabinet of silverware in the daffodil pattern.

Mr. and Mrs. Birney each expressed their appreciation for the lovely gift and a dainy lunch was served which included a decorated three-tiered anniversary cake.

The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Bruce King of Colborne, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ferguson, Gordon and David and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trent, all of Cambray; Mr. and Mrs. Aylmer Harnden and family of Grafton; Mr. and Mrs. David King of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice King and family of Roseneath; Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Tucker and Nancy and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bull of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. George Bull and Miss Helen of Stone School section; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bull and Vivian, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Covert and sons, Ronald and Sheldon; Mr. and Mrs. Louis King and Robert of Warkworth; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Linn of Ivanhoe; Mr. and Mrs. John Bull and daughter of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buttars of Warkworth; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Birney and Garnet of Cobourg; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Birney and family, Mrs. Albert Birney and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Birney and family of Centreton.

Warkworth News

Mr. J. D. Kelly of Toronto who has been visiting at the home of his niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Potter, is a patient in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, for a minor operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Remington and their guests Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Remington of Newburg have returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Mac Remington at Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Diamond and Mr. and Mrs. James Sykia have returned home after spending a week with their sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Howson at their cottage on Lake Kamaniskeg near Combermere.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dorland of St. Thomas have been visiting her sister, Mrs. James Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Weatherson and family have returned to their home at Niagara after vistiing his mother Mrs. Andrew Weatherson.

The Rev. J. M. Ritchie, Mrs. Ritchie and family left on Wednesday for a month's vacation with her parents and other relatives in Regina, Sask.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Thompson and family were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson of Coronach, Sask., and Mr. and Mrs. Ching of Prince Albert, Sask. and Mr. Bruce Thompson and Mrs. Ethel Dawkins of Toronto.

MRS. W. G. MORROW

Mrs. Morrow Celebrates 90th Birthday On Monday

Mrs. W. G. Morrow, 187 London St., will be 90 on Monday.

A birthday celebration was held July 26, a week ahead of time, for Mrs. Morrow and took the form of a family banquet at the Empress Hotel.

Mrs. Morrow, the former Martha Eakins and daughter of the late Martha Rowe and Thomas Eakins, was born in Manvers township, Durham County, on August 4, 1862.

She married William George Morrow, September 6, 1881, and the couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary before Mr. Morrow died in October, 1931.

The family moved to Peterborough in 1902, and Mr. Morrow was a blacksmith on the premises now occupied by the J. J. Duffus garage.

Mrs. Morrow attributes her longevity to never worrying, having a sense of humor and living close to God. She goes to church every Sunday, when the weather is favorable. Although she doesn't hear the sermons, she enjoys the spiritual fellowship.

She has been a devout member of George St. United Church since coming to Peterborough and is a life member of the Women's Missionary Society of that church.

Mrs. Morrow has seen many changes in Peterborough and district since she moved here. Among her recollections are round trips on the open streetcars—an hour's ride for a nickel, and silent movies at Jackson's Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Morrow had 10 children. Seven survive. They are: Robert Ormond, of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan; Mrs. George A. Johnstone (Lillian May), of Regina, Saskatchewan; Thomas Alvin and Clifford Roy, both of Toronto; Andrew Melville, Mrs. Horace W. Ballard (Hazel), and Mrs. Peter G. Wallace (Velma), all of Peterborough.

Mrs. Morrow also has 16 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Three sons have died. Orland James was killed in the First World War. Wilfred D. died in 1914, and Anson William died this year.

WORTH SHOUTING ABOUT

Prepared spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese — mixed with plenty of browned onion and green pepper rings—is a supper to shout about. Cut rings about ¼ inch thick; brown in a little hot shortening in a skillet. Mix with the heated spaghetti.

The best time to water your garden is in the early evening. The water will penetrate into the soil without excess evaporation.

If you wish to remove stains from your rugs or furniture, be sure to wear rubber gloves to protect your hands.

Readers' Saturday Column Conducted By Mary Moore

QUESTION: Would you be able to give me . . . any recipes for diabetics? I remember seeing them in your column, but it is just now that I am on a diet and would like to can some of my own fruit and marmalade. Do you have recipes for baking muffins, cookies, etc?—IRMA M. H.

ANSWER: I will give you the recipes for the jams without sugar which are always in such demand, and which may be made from fruit now in season. I would give you recipes for muffins and cookies too without sugar, but my best advice is to buy the cookbook for diabetics entitled "Diabetics' Menus, Meals and Recipes" by Betty M. West, published by Doubleday, Garden City, N.Y., or "Diabetic Manual" by Dr. Elliott P. Joslin, published by Lea & Febezer, Philadelphia. Both of these are excellent and will be your constant references for most common foods.

SUGARLESS BLACK CURRANT JAM

Four cups currants are washed, drained and mashed in flat-bottomed saucepan. Simmer gently 15 minutes. Add 18 sucaryl tablets (to be bought in drug stores) 6 tablespoons glycerin and ½ teaspoon certo crystals. Stir over low heat until juice is slightly thickened, then immediately pour into jam jars which have been sterilized (boiling water to cover for 20 minutes). Cover at once with new nearly boiling hot paraffin, and add second coating when cold. Work with utmost care as all utensils must be sterile to make this sugarless jam keep. Most diabetic patients keep their jams in the refrigerator.

SUGARLESS RED CURRANT JAM

Wash 1 quart ripe red currants and pull from stems. Mash with potato masher and gently simmer 30 minutes. Add 2 tablespoons glycerin, 9 sugaryl tablets, 1 teaspoon certo crystals, and stir until tablets are dissolved. Finish as Black Currant Jam (above).

SUGARLESS PEACH JAM

Four well-packed cups chopped fully ripened peaches, peeled after dipping in boiling water for 1 minute; 16 sucaryl tablets, 4 ounces glycerin. Simmer peaches over low heat for 30 minutes, then add remaining ingredients and simmer 10 minutes, stirring frequently. Use sterile utensils. Pour into sterile pint jars and seal with sterile rubbers, tops and rings.

QUESTION

Yesterday morning I picked currants and made jam. Since you share so many wonderful recipes and grand ideas with me and thousands of mothers . . . thought you might enjoy trying this recipe (see below) . . . do you know what amuses me? So many housewives in the city complain of being busy but they can buy their fruit and vegetables just when it suits their schedule, but the farmer's wife has to pick them and find or make time to can them . . . I did not have enough black currants for a second batch so used some red currants . . . it is very nice . . . isn't it a thrill seeing jars fill up . . . sometimes you wonder if it is worth while when you are so exhausted with the heat and work, but what a thrill it is to use them in winter . . . do you know what your column is like? Well it is like asking mother how to do this or that but since times have changed mothers can hardly keep up to the latest methods. Thanks for freezing instructions . . . our winter pear trees are loaded . . . they are so hard, then finally ripen so fast they seem too soft. Could you give proper method and possibly some recipes later on?

PEACH-PEAR MARMALADE
(Contributed by Mrs. M. A. M.)

Twelve peaches and twelve pears, 12 apples, 4 oranges, 1 lemon. Put this all through grinder. Put the same amount of sugar as you have fruit. Let stand overnight. Boil ½ hour or until it gets thick. Put cherries in jars to decorate them.

BLACK CURRANT JELLY AND Preserve (contributed by Mrs. M. A.M.)

Four cups black currants, 4 cups water, 8 cups sugar. Put 2 cups water on currants and the remaining 2 cups water on the sugar. Boil separately 20 minutes, then mix the two together and boil 5 minutes. Skim and put in sterile jars. When you pour the two together watch it carefully as it boils right up to top of kettle. Boil the water and sugar in large kettle and add the currants to the syrup. Jam is on top—jelly on bottom. M.A.M.

ANSWER: Such a charming letter—thanks for sharing these recipes. I will have something about pears in the column later on, which I hope will help you. A ten-weeks' old daughter — you're wonderful!

Straw Skirts Newest Craze Of Rome Fashion Designers

By PEGGY MASSIN

ROME (Reuters)—Foreign fashion buyers here are intrigued by Italian accessories offered at bargain prices.

Beautiful hand-made shoes, leather and straw goods, hand loomed and painted fabrics have all charmed many an extra lira out of budgets already depleted.

Straw skirts, one of the newest crazes featured by Paoli, the Florence straw specialists, are made of millinery or rattan straws, or in horse-hair tiered with straw lace. Cut circlewise in bright colors, they are decorated with raffia or jewel embroideries.

Straw is the basis of a line of amusing handbags, in satchel and pouch shapes, embroidered in flower designs. They cost anywhere from $1 to $8.50.

Paoli features a new model in natural tone rattan, with black and yellow leopard spots embroidered all over.

Other purses imitate watermelons, mushrooms or slate-roofed houses.

BAGS AND SHOES

Winter bags in suede or box calf are stressed in bulky but soft styles, with overarm satchels framed with wooden handles. Bamboo and polished wood are popular along with large metal rings.

In shoes, there is feather-weight, soft-as-glove footwear entirely hand-made. New styles concentrate on strip sandals and high vamp pumps with applications of a cuffed effect for trim.

Everything from stoles, which cost about $7, to formal evening dresses are made of handwoven fabrics.

Felt is starred in boxy jackets and full skirts with bright applications and cutouts. A sprightly skirt copies carved totem pole figures blocked off in wide squares. A fringed yarn hemline and belt complete the skirt, which costs about $19.

In jewellery, two trends predominate. The colorful, effective and inexpensive ceramic costume accents, as well as fragile botticelli-inspired evening pieces. The latter features pearls and colored stones suspended or encrusted in the lacey designs of necklaces and drooping earrings.

New symmetrical tiaras are worn on the front of the head, with jewels falling forward over the forehead.

How Your Voice Sounds To Others

Have you ever wondered how people sound to each other?

What tone of voice, for instance, have you heard used when a customer is expressing displeasure with a saleswoman or laundry clerk? Do the words flow softly and sweetly, or must you admit they are a little on the raspy side?

Then there's the woman who screams and screeches around the house at her husband and children, only to turn into a purring kitten when she answers the phone.

All telephone tones, however, are not melodic. Many people think that to make themselves heard, they must scream into the receiver. Actually, soft, well-directed tones prove much more successful.

No doubt you've also been forced to listen to the ear-splitting chatter among friends on a bus or train. Each one seems bent on outshouting the other. Wouldn't it be much pleasanter if they kept their conversations private?

It isn't enough to have a smooth well-modulated voice if it is saved for special occasions only. Listen to you own voice the next time you are angry or in a hurry. Be really critical. If you are not satisfied with what you hear, start practicing voice control.

With determination, you can beautify your voice.

Can Girl With Past Make A Good Wife?

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: For six months I have been going with Edith, and have grown to love her dearly. She is 18, I am 20. At 15 she left school to go to work, and that's when the trouble began. Some of this story is hearsay (although from reliable sources,) and some of it she admits.

She began to run around with men quite a bit older than herself, went away over week ends with some of them, and before long had acquired a very nasty reputation. After two years of this sort of life, she returned to school. I really admire her for that step as it must have been hard to go back, especially knowing that she was being talked about. She comes from a large family and has not had an easy life. She is a sweet looking girl, and certainly doesn't look or act like an immoral person.

After I found out I was falling in love with her, we discussed this situation many times. I know she is sorry for the past. She has been true to me, and I am convinced always would be. I am afraid, however, that I might lose my trust in her, that I would be jealous or suspicious of her every move. We could marry and leave town; I have another year at college, but could transfer elsewhere, but would that be a solution? Perhaps I'm overly sensitive. I guess I have my own shortcomings, too, but do you think we could make a happy marriage under the circumstances?

JERRY

ANSWER: You have a problem that, to my way of thinking, needs more maturity than you, at this age, can bring to it. To make a go of marriage under the circumstances you outline requires understanding, compassion and patience far beyond the scope of a young man of 20.

Consider the possibilities! You love a girl who at a very early age lost her virtue—to be as euphemistic as possible. Her extreme youth, plus a lack of proper guidance at home, are extenuating circumstances. She probably was not entirely to blame for the first, and perhaps subsequent mistakes; however, somewhere along the line she surely must have acquired enough sense of moral responsibility to know that she was doing wrong. Perhaps it took two years for this realization to come to her; perhaps it didn't.

ARE YOU CONVINCED?

At any rate, when she met you her conscience awoke; she changed her way of living. Are you convinced that her reformation is now permanent and complete? That is the question upon which hinges the success or failure of marriage. Can you be sure that she'll make a loyal and faithful wife? If that is the case, she deserves every chance you—and everyone else—can give her to live down the past and build a fine future.

What can you contribute to her future? Can you give her compassionate understanding and forgiveness? Can you accept her promises of fidelity and bring to marriage the perfect trust without which no family can live happily?

To err is human; to forgive, divine, and you certainly will need a touch of divine compassion to evade the pitfalls of jealousy and suspicion that are almost certain to creep into your future. You have a moral obligation to insure Edith's future on a scale that will preclude any possibility of her ever wanting to return to the past, or to feel that you have let her down. She is entitled to a chance of redemption and, if you are the one to give it to her, bravo for you!

You will do well to discuss this situation thoroughly with someone who knows both of you—a minister or marriage counselor would be best.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Recently my girl friend and I went on a double date. It was all very innocent, but the next day at school we heard all sorts of rumors that weren't very nice. The boys are fine boys, gentlemanly and considerate. I don't know how this gossip started.

JOSIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:: You may be sure that gossip seldom starts without some basis. Look back over your conduct on the night of the date. Was there any time at which you did not behave like ladies and gentlemen? I'm sure close retrospection will give a clue to the source of the gossip that followed you the next day.

Omemee Quiet

The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, former minister of Knox United Church, Peterborough, now serving in Omemee, is vice-president of the society, and is well known throughout the district for his hobby of horticulture.

Every spring, his thousands of tulips, and later on in the summer, his garden between the parsonage and the church, on King Street, are a riot of color when his many hundred gladioli are in bloom. Mr. Zufelt has a greenhouse of his own to start seedlings. It's a rare sunday when a bouquet of Mr. Zufelt's flowers are not seen in his church.

Unlike most localities who boast about the excellent fish to be caught in nearby lakes and streams, the residents of Omemee do not claim any record catches are taken from Pigeon Creek which flows through the village, and for a good reason.

They want to keep the good fishing right on their back door steps for themselves, because they realize that an influx of tourists and out-of-towners would soon deplete the stock. On opening day, the Examiner ran a picture of a pickerel weighing seven pounds, the record for the day, but an Omemee man mentioned privately that two pickerel weighing slightly more than seven pounds were taken right inside the village the same day.

Omemee's oldest resident, Mrs. Jane Poast, who will be 96 on December 7, probably speaks for most of the residents when she states proudly, "I couldn't be in a finer place."

Still enjoying good health and looking a young 75, Mrs. Poast walks down the street several blocks to attend services in the United Church every Sunday and appreciates having "fine neighbours." She likes nothing better than to get out for an afternoon stroll and drop in for a friendly chat with her many friends in the neighbourhood.

Village clerk-treasurer for the past 10 years, Horace Hill paused while painting a sign on the village's largest store to comment that the village is a pretty good place to live.

The mill rate, 66 this year, has jumped from 31, when Mr. Hill took over in 1942, and is as high as Peterborough's. However, Mr. Hill explains that assessment in the village is low and that the county levies 14 mills, while the school tax accounts for 21.

Drover Harry Deyell is serving his fifth term as reeve and his ninth as a member of the village council. Two years ago, the fire department was re-organized, new modern equipment was purchased and the village's 16-man volunteer fire brigade supplies fire protection to the surrounding rural area for a radius of six miles at a cost of $5 per year to each farm owner.

FEW EARLY RECORDS

There are few written records of early days in Omemee and a hasty attempt to piece together its early history reveals there was a settlement at Omemee before 1835. Then, it was named Emily, possibly taking its name from the surrounding township. One of the first Anglican churches in the district, Christ Church, since rebuilt twice, was erected in that year.

Laymen of the village held services until 1840 when the Rev. G. C. Street was appointed the first rector. He later served at St. Paul's and St. Peter's cathedrals in Chicago and while rector of Christ Church he ministered to an area that would probably make a newly-ordained minister today protest to his superiors that it would be impossible for him to cover such a district even with an airplane. On his trusty steed Ginger, Mr. Street made a round of charges extending from Lindsay and Bobcaygeon to Grafton and Colborne in the east.

Sometime between the 1830's and 1871, the village became known as Metcalfe. Then in 1871, it was incorporated as Omemee.

VILLAGE FOUNDER

William Cottingham, a wealthy Irishman from Fermanah, Ireland, is credited with being the founder of Omemee. Mr. Cottingham operated a lumber and grist mill in the village and when it was decided to incorporate the settlement as a village, many of his fellow countrymen from Fermanah who had also settled in the village wanted to name it Williamsburg. Although he had taken a leading part in getting the settlement organized as a municipality, Mr. Cottingham is said to have declined the honor of having it named after him. According to Miss Clara Cornwall, whose father, Dr. Vincent Cornwall, came to the village in 1875 and practised for 40 years, a daughter of the mill magnate gave the village its present name.

Omemee is believed to be an Indian name meaning wild pigeon. Another version of the translation is dove of peace, but regardless of its Indian meaning, it was probably chosen for its sound rather than its meaning.

DRUG PRODUCTS

At its peak, the tannery employed about 80 people. When a dwindling market for leather forced its shutdown after the Second World War, owner-manager Charles G. Shaw went into partnership with his sons and formed Shaw Research. The firm produces pharmaceutical products and is the village's only manufacturing concern.

The company provides part time employment for a few villagers occasionally but the only full time staff is Mr. Shaw, his son Brackly and Miss Christine Connell, who handles the office work.

Life moves at a leisurely pace in Omemee. Shoppers have plenty of elbow room to browse around the village's biggest store, Cernegie and Smith, where they can purchase everything from a refrigerator to a week's supply of proceries or a new ready-made suit.

A sign above the front of the locker cold storage plant is indicative of the easy going atmosphere of Omemee. It reads: "U.F.O. Lockers," prompting a stranger to believe the association which operates it must be a hang-over from the days when the United Farmers of Ontario were powerful enough to elect their first farmers' government in Ontario. The unidentified sign painter who painted it apparently misunderstood his instructions and thought the same thing. "It should have been O.F.O., Omemee Farmers' Organization," locker manager Sydney Vaughan explains, but the man who painted it about two years ago must have thought I said U.F.O. and we haven't got around to changing it yet."

FASHION NOTE: All manner of lovely silk scarves will be fashionable for fall. For evening the smartest will be those which have delicate metallic threads of gold or silver woven through them. Prices are designed to appeal to every pocketbook, too. They will range in price from $1.95 to $20 each.

If you feel you must have a snack before you go to bed, milk or fruit is ideal. Anything heavier may cause insomnia.

6—In Memoriam

BUCHANAN—In loving memory of John J. Buchanan, who passed away August 2, 1951.
Gone, dear father, gone forever,
How we miss your smiling face,
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
A happy home we once enjoyed,
How sweet the memory still,
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Ever remembered by his daughter, Doris, John and boys.

CROWE.—In loving memory of Walter J. Crowe, who passed away Aug. 2, 1949.
You're not forgotten, father dear,
Nor ever shall you be
As long as life and memory last
We shall remember thee.
— Fondly remembered and sadly missed by wife, Mrs. Annie Crowe, son Leslie Crowe, Norma, Mary and families.

JAMES—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Melville James who passe daway August 2, 1950.
God called him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still,
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him,
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing,
That grief can call its own.
—Ever remembered by wife and family.

PRICE—In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. G. Price, who passed away August 3, 1945.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we loved,
From memory pass away.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

Negro Player Charges Coaches With Assault

CALGARY (CP)—Stampeder foot ball coaches, Les Lear and Ed Champagne, will appear in city police court this morning on charges of assault, occasioning actual bodily harm laid by Mel Embree, Negro end with the club.

The charges arose from an alleged fracas in the club dressing room, following a football practice Thursday night.

At that time, Embree told police he had made the team and was called into the dressing room by Lear and Champagne. Embree said they wanted him to sign a contract, calling for about half the salary he was supposed to get.

Embree said when he refused to sign he was knocked down by Lear and Champagne and then Lear kicked him in the eye and ribs.

Embree went to the police station Thursday evening to lay a charge, but police advised him to come back in the morning and lay it then.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

For those lawn bowlers who are not going out of town on the holiday, and would like to bowl, there will be a mixed rink tournament on Monday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock. This information came to us last evening. There will be two games in the afternoon and one in the evening and you can have as much fun playing for two bits as you can for a $10 entry fee. We're not sure, but there may be a few novelties thrown in for good measure. However, telephone your name in early and bring a friend. Last Civic Holiday we had 16 mixed rinks in attendance. So come along and have lots of fun for little money.

The winning skips in the ladies' 'spiel last night were Mrs. C. Renaud, Mrs. H. Wilson, Mrs. H. Northrop and Mrs. C. Willison.

Winners of the men's tournament were:

First—S. Ayers and A. Aitkenhead, sk.

Second—M. Young and H. Northrop, sk.

Third—N. Killingbeck and H. Taylor, sk.

Toronto Club Guarding Slim Lead

By CECIL SMITH

MOONEY'S BAY, Ont. (CP)—Toronto Sailing and Canoe Club will be guarding a slim lead when their paddlers take to the Rideau River near Ottawa today for the conclusion of the 52nd Canadian Canoe Association regatta.

The club went to the fore yesterday as members racked up two firsts and a third for 11 points, just two points in front of Montreal Grand Trunk which won a first, a second and two thirds. Third was Radisson Canoe Club of Three Rivers, Que., with five points.

The man responsible for hoisting the Toronto club into first place was Lloyd Rice, 24-year-old textile cutter from Toronto, whose stamina brought him championships in two of the four 10,000 metres events.

Seventeen shorter races are scheduled for today with the club compiling the most points being awarded the Association Burgee, emblematic of club supremacy. Co-defenders this year are Grand Trunk and Toronto Balmy Beach who finished with identical cards last year.

Rice won the 10,000 metres double blade single and the 10,000 metres single blade single. He stroked home 15 boat lengths ahead of Les Birdie of Grand Trunk in the double blade single and scored an upset in the single blade single by coming in one-eighth of a mile ahead of the defending champion, Don Stringer of Sudbury, Ont.

Ken Butler of Toronto Island finished third in the double blade single and Allan McCleery of the Trunk placed third in the single blade single.

Toronto Island Canoe Club picked up a second and third to place fourth in the club standing, Balmy Beach and Sudbury, scored a second to tie for fifth spot.

Only one record was broken on opening day. Jake Beaumier and Claude Robert of Radisson stroked home in 54 minutes and 20 seconds in the 10,000 metres single blade tandem to knock 33 seconds of the course record.

Shufflin' Phil Douglas Dies At Farm Home

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Phil (Shufflin' Phil) Douglas, an outstanding pitcher for the New York Giants three decades ago, died yesterday at his farm home in Sequatchie Valley. He was 62 years old. He had been ill for several months.

Douglas broke into the major leagues with the Chicago White Sox in 1912 and stayed in the big time for 10 years.

Two Canadians Reach Finals

By ALAN HARVEY

HELSINKI (CP)—Two Canadian riders survived the testing cross-country phase of the Olympic equestrian championship yesterday and individually qualified for today's final jumping event.

The Canadian three-man team, however, was eliminated for the team championship as a result of yesterday's event which brought the Swedish trio into the lead.

Hans von Blixen-Finecke took individual leadership after the hard 19-mile test in which 23 of the 59 individual entries were eliminated.

Capt. L. J. McGuinness of Toronto, on the Irish bay horse Tara, and Stewart Treviranus, a fellow Torontonian, on a former Canadian bred race horse Rustum, were the Canadian qualifiers. Tom Gayford, also of Toronto, fell twice and was eliminated at the 29th fence.

Gayford was riding Constellation, a last-minute substitution for Rocket, considered the favorite jumper of the Canadian stables. Rocket was withdrawn after being injured.

Chile Upsets Brazil To Finish Fifth

HELSINKI (AP)—Chile upset a favored Brazilian team today, 58-49, to finish fifth in the Olympic basketball tournament. Brazil wound up in sixth place.

Brazil had overwhelmed Chile 75-44 in an earlier game Monday in the preliminary round.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Batting: Larry Doby, Indians—hit home run in 10th inning to give Cleveland 6-5 edge over Philadelphia after knocking in two runs earlier.

Pitching: Satchel Paige, Browns—stopped Yankee rally with bases loaded in seventh and blanked league leaders rest of way to save 2-1 win.

Canada Has 2-Match Lead Over Mexico In Cup Series

By MAX McMAHON

MONTREAL (CP)—With a two-match lead through singles victories yesterday, Canada pinned her doubles hopes today on Lorne Main and Henri Rochon in first-round North American zone Davis Cup play against Mexico's team of Mario Llamas and Manuel Galeana.

Main defeated Pedro Vega, Mexican playing captain, in straight sets 6-2, 6-0, 6-2 and Brendan Macken overcame a two-game deficit to win over Llamas 3-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4.

Main, a two-handed powerful baseline slugger has a perfect contrast in French-speaking Rochon, noted for a soft drop shot. The Mexicans are using a strict power-house against the Canadian combination with Llamas, a fleet-footed player with a powerful overhand drive and Galeana, who slams every shot.

RESTS MACKEN

Macken was expected to team up with Rochon but Dr. Georges Leclerc, non-playing captain of the Canadian team, said he will rest Macken tomorrow. The Canadian player was tired after he won over Llamas and meets Pedro Vega in a singles match tomorrow.

Main played a skilful game to overcome Vega. The Mexican, suffering from a head cold, didn't extend himself and appeared listless. Main used well-placed soft shots to the fore court and passed him with two-handed ground shots to the baseline.

The highlight of the day was the match between Macken and Llamas. Macken drew on his six years of Davis Cup experience to overcome the fast-moving Mexican. Llamas had Macken running all over the court before he settled down.

Dr. Leclerc was satisfied with his team's play. He said he advised Macken to change his style mid-way through his match to prevent Llamas from passing him with his return shots. Up to that point the Mexican had a decided advantage.

Snead Leading Golf Tourney

CHICAGO (AP) — Irrepressible Sammy Snead unleashed a tremendous long game to offset an erratic putter for a seven-under-par 65 and a five-stroke 36-hole lead in yesterday's second round of the $30,000 all-American golf tourney.

Snead, who yesterday slammed an opening 67, reached the halfway mark with a 12-under-par total of 132 for his finest start in a Tam O'Shanter meet.

Bracketed at 137 as Snead's closest pursuers were Cary Middlecoff, leading money-winner, who shot a 69 today, and Tommy Bolt, with 68.

Of the Canadians, Stan Leonard of Vancouver was best with a 72 to add to his first-round 71 for a 36-hole total of 143. Pat Fletcher of Saskatoon had an 81 to go with his 74 for 155. Rudy Horvath of Windsor, Ont., withdrew after his first-round 78.

Slumping Yanks Switch Infielders With Kansas

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The slumping New York Yankees today switched infielders with their Kansas City affiliate of the American Association.

Andy Carey, a third baseman and shortstop, was purchased from the Blues and second-baseman Kal Segrist, who was obtained from Kansas City two weeks ago, was returned to that club.

Manager Casey Stengel intends to use Carey at third base and move Gil McDougald from that position to second base as a replacement for Billy Martin, hobbled by a swollen right knee.

Here And There

$400,000 FIGHT OFFER

Boxing promoter Sam Silverman said yesterday in Boston that he had wired world heavyweight boxing champion Joe Walcott a $400,000 offer to fight Rocky Marciano at Braves Field Sept. 29.

✦ ✦ ✦

SALAS TO DEFEND TITLE

Lauro Salas of Monterey, Mex., will defend his world lightweight boxing title against Jimmy Carter of New York, former champion, in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden Wednesday, Aug. 27.

Salas won the crown from Carter by a split decision after a 14-round bout in Los Angeles on May 14.

YANKEES BUY SCHMITZ

Johnny Schmitz, lefthanded relief pitcher of Brooklyn Dodgers, was sold to New York Yankees yesterday and will join the American League leaders in St. Louis today. The deal was for cash and Wally Hood, a Yankee farm hand pitcher now at Kansas City.

Schmitz, who came to Brooklyn a year ago in the Andy Pafko deal, appeared in 10 games for the Dodgers this season and had a 1-1 record.

GIRL DRIVER WINS

Mary Lou O'Connor, the blonde slip of a girl from Warwick Downs, Rhode Island yesterday won her first race from the men drivers when she drove Allan Scott to a handy triumph at Thorncliffe Raceway, Toronto.

US Only 24 Points Behind Russ Teams

By JACK SULLIVAN

HELSINKI (CP)—The 1952 Olympic Games move into the final full day of competition today and the question everywhere was not who is going to win this or that championship but who's going to win "it."

The "it" is the unofficial leadership in point-standing of the competing countries.

When the all-important competitions opened today Russia was in the lead with 523½ points. The United States had 499. The final standing could be dramatically close, but the United States had a good chance of wiping out that 24½-point deficit and moving ahead.

CAN TAKE TITLE

The issue appeared to rest with the United States boxers and with the aquatic performers.

If they carry on as they did yesterday, when the United States scored 34 points to zero for Russia, the leadership that Olympic officials frown upon will be theirs.

The Olympic heads say each championship is something in itself and there's no such thing as team or national supremacy. But the man in the street, even here in Helsinki as well as in Saskatoon, or Chillicothe, Ohio, or even in Moscow perhaps, is waiting to see what will happen on that final tabulation of 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the first six finishers in all events throughout the games.

Four championships were decided yesterday. The United States won two, collecting all their 34 points in the process.

THE HIGHLIGHTS

Major Sammy Lee won the men's high-platform diving championship for the United States.

Yoshio Oyokawa, Honolulu swimming star, broke the Olympic record in winning the men's 100-metre backstroke swimming title.

The United States took third place in the women's 400-metre swimming relay.

SET WORLD MARK

The relay was won by Hungary's sensational swimming quartet in not only Olympic-record time but in world-record time.

Hungarians also made a one-two-three sweep in the individual sabre competition of the fencing tournament.

The big surprise, even to the Americans, and a welcome one was the way their fighters battled their way solidly from the semi-finals of the boxing tournament into today's finals.

The semi-finals started with five Americans and six Russians, none fighting against each other because of the way the blind draw worked out.

When the afternoon and night ring sessions ended, all five Americans were in the finals; two Russians moved along.

In the 10 finals today in all the weight divisions, only one clash brings an American and Russian together. Charlie Adams will meet Viktor Mednov in the light heavyweight class. It should be close.

The biggest direct United States-Russia clash comes in the basketball final where the unbeaten American quintet once more meets the once-defeated Russian five. Russia's only loss in the march to the final was to the United States earlier in the tournament. The Yanks are confident they can repeat.

If the Americans lose all five of their final matches they are assured of at least 25 points in the standing tabulation. As "second-place" finishers they would get five points each.

If the U. S. repeats in basketball, that would be 10 points. Russia would get five.

WILD GAME

Uruguay won third place in the basketball tournament yesterday, edging out Argentina in a wild, rough game that included a riotous outbreak of players and spectators. Brazil and Chile met today to decide fifth and sixth places. Bulgaria defeated France yesterday to take seventh place.

In the soccer tournament Sweden defeated Germany 2-0 last night and made sure of third place.

The aquatic finals today presented problems to the point-hungry Americans. They were assured of high placing at least in the women's high diving final. When the first half of the competition ended yesterday Mrs. Pat McCormick, winner of the springboard championship, was well in front followed by two other American women divers. Two Russian girls were in fifth and seventh places.

Russia had no finalists in these swimming events today: men's 200-metre breaststroke, women's 400-metre free-style and men's 1,500-metre free-style.

In the 200-metre breaststroke, John Davies of Australia, Herbert Klein of Germany and two Japanese swimmers appeared to have a better chance than the lone United States finalist, Bowen Stassforth, who was fourth in a semi-final.

THREE IN FINAL

There were better chances in the 1,500-metre final, with Fird Konno, John Marshall and Jim McLane all competing for the United States, but the real threat to an American victory was Japan's sensational Shiro Hashezume, a sensational record-breaker in his semi-final, although the semi-finalists Thursday were all record-breakers. Peter Duncan of South Africa was another possible winner.

In the women's 200-metre breaststroke, Evelyn Kawamoto from Honolulu was the outstanding United States hope. She broke an Olympic record in winning a semi-final. But Australian and South African girls were just as likely to snatch the championship.

The final cycling event of the Olympics was on the program today. It's a terrifying grind of about 120 miles, with both team and individual championships involved.

Russia could pick up scoring points in this race, in which American entrants can't be figured to be anywhere near the leaders.

BOXING PROSPECTS

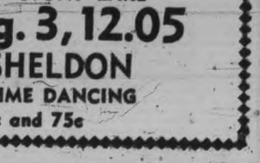
The prospects in the boxing finals offer the United States the best showing American fighters—usually also-rans—have ever made. American mitt men haven't won an Olympic boxing title since 1932, and in the 1948 games at London only one American went as far as the semi-finals.

Three of the United States finalists today were given the best chances of overcoming the winless jinx—middleweight Floyd Paterson, light-heavyweight Norvel Lee and heavyweight Eddie Sanders.

Of the two Russian finalists, one got through the semi-final round yesterday on a default. Viktor Mednov, light heavyweight, moved along when Erkki Mallenius of Finland was unable to compete because of an injured thumb, suffered in a previous fight. The only winner in the ring was Sergej Scherbakov, a clever welter, who easily outpointed Victor Jorgensen of Denmark.

Mounties Cool Athletics 15-10

MIMICO (CP)—Mimico Mounties maintained their four-point lead over second-place Peterborough Timbermen here last night by downing St. Catharines Athletics 15-10 in an Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior A game.



Freddie Sandford rapped in four goals to lead the Mimico attack while Kenny Lytle added three. Jim McMahon scored three of the St. Catharines goals.

12-Year Swim Record Broken At Kelowna

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—A Canadian swim record set 12 years ago by Hamilton's Irene Barr was broken yesterday at the Kelowna regatta by two swimmers from Portland, Ore.

Virginia Pietz and Sally Becker ended one-two in the Canadian northwest championship senior women's one-mile swim, Miss Pietz with a time of 24 minutes, 50.5 seconds and Miss Becker a stroke behind in 24:52.3.

Both times were better than the mark for a 50-yard pool set by Irene Barr in 1940. Her time was 24 minutes, 55 seconds.

Airlift To Ungava Rollicking Service, Always Interesting

By FORBES RHUDE.
Canadian Press Business Editor.

If Labrador-Ungava were to produce a Robert W. Service, he would probably get his inspiration from the airlift.

There's something rollicking about it—that biggest civilian airlift in the world which has carried everything from buns to bulldozers and made possible the building of a railway and the development of iron ore.

It's rollicking and informal but also down-to-business and efficient, with about a perfect safety record.

It is operated by Hollinger Ungava Transport Ltd., a subsidy of Iron Ore Company of Canada, and it is headed by Charles Hoyt, an R.C.A.F. wing commander in wartime who got the supplies in for Goose Bay airport.

MONT JOLI BASE

The air company operates from Mont Joli, Que., on the south shore of the St. Lawrence, first town on the outside to show the immediate effects of the shower of wealth from the brooding land across the way.

It flies supplies from Mont Joli as required, but especially it flies supplies from Seven Islands, 300 miles downstream from Quebec, on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, which receives them by ship. It takes them up 320 air miles to Knob Lake and Burnt Creek, and into the 10 airstrips which dot the way.

Only in the last couple of winters has a tote-road come to its assistance and, after this year, as steel is pushed northward from Seven Islands, its task should become easier.

22,246 PASSENGERS

Last year it carried 33,000,000 pounds of supplies and 22,246 passengers. This year, despite the relief of the tote road, it will carry more than ever. Included in its fleet are five DC-3s, a Canso amphibian, a Lockheed Lodestar, five or six smaller planes, two helicopters, and two chartered aircraft.

Knob Lake airport is smack in the centre of what was unknown wilderness until a few years ago. There are gravel runways, a camp-like office, a putt-putting diesel engine to supply power for the electric lights.

I watched a silvery DC-3 drop in from Seven Islands—beautiful on the outside but stripped down for cargo-carrying inside.

Double doors swung open. A waiting throng cheered and took away to a reception two newly-weds—to total four married couples at nearby Burnt Creek. Trucks backed up to the double doors and unloaded the cargo. Empty steel fuel drums were loaded for the return trip. I got aboard with two other possengers.

One was Guy Simmons, native of Fredericton, in charge of communications up and down the line. The other was D. J. Santer, formerly of Nelson, B. C., who came recently from Sandspit, B. C., in the Queen Charlotte Islands and was headed for Mile 64 as a radio operator.

PEOPLE FROM ALL OVER

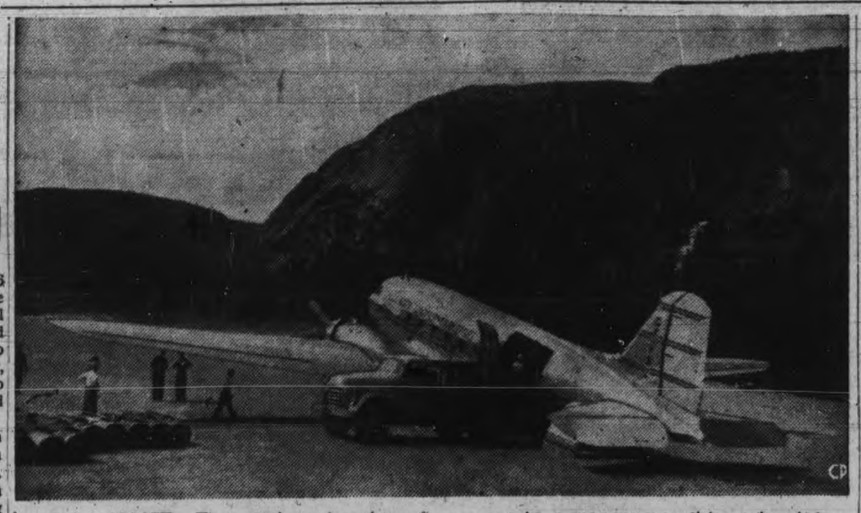
You certainly meet people from all over on that tirlift. The pilot was Al Coggin of Mahone Bay, N. S., formerly with Royal Dutch Airlines.

He was working a shift. He had come up from Seven Islands, was taking the fuel drums and us back, and in a few minutes would be away again to the power project at Menihek Lake. At the busy night office at Seven Islands, now after 1 a.m., he asked:

"What have we for tonight?" He got the reply: "Five thousand pounds and four passengers." Chances are the 5,000 pounds was cement.

The co-pilot was Fred Van Brussel of Toronto, a former flight engineer in the R.C.A.F. who just a year ago got a pilot's licence.

Going from Seven Islands to Knob Lake a few days earlier I had travelled with about 30 men. Some were workers. Some were students still dressed as on the campus, but next day I saw them out along the railway cuts, tapping rocks and getting instruction in what they should look for.



TAKE FIRST PLANE

The motto down there is, "take the first plane you can get—you don't know when you will get another." Fog may close in; someone or a piece of cargo may have a higher priority—a worker for Mile 190, or lumber for Wacouna.

First taste of the airlift was on the "executive plane" the 12-passenger Lodestar, going down from Montreal Pilot Don McClintock and co-pilot Henry Hicks were typical of the cheery crew of young fellows who pilot planes on the Labrador-Ungava project.

Executive office is in Montreal, but officials from there and the United States interests are coming and going all the time.

I saw W. H. Durrell, general manager of Iron Ore, fly down to Seven Islands one evening, talk with his on-the-spot staff till midnight, and then away again next morning.

BIG AIRLIFT—The airplane has been the workhorse in the opening up of the iron-ore project in Labrador-Ungava. Without it this country and its treasures might have slept for many more years. Planes were used to transport everything taken into the far-north development. Here, one of the air carriers, stripped inside to provide more cargo space, unloads supplies at Mile 36 airstrip, in the Valley of the Nipissis River.

Historical Pageant To Mark Elgin County's Centennial

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (CP)—Visitors to this southwestern Ontario city next week will see one of the largest historical pageants ever staged in Canada.

For six consecutive evenings more than 800 men and women from St. Thomas and Elgin county will reproduce scenes from the district's colorful past on a 400-foot, panoramic stage.

Many of the sequences will be from the life of Col. Thomas Talbot, one time secretary to Lieutenant-Governor John Graves Simcoe, who founded a settlement on the shores of Lake Erie in 1803.

His home still is one of the pioneer shrines of southern Ontario, and local historians like to tell of the military exploits of the Irish-born settler who founded a near-feudal estate on his 5,000-acre grant of rich farming soil.

Other scenes will represent the turbulent '60's when two major railroads, to the south and west, made St. Thomas one of the chief transport centres of Upper Canada and a shipping centre for the threshing machines and engines made at the nearby village of Fingal.

WEEK-LONG PROGRAM

Planned in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the incorporation of St. Thomas and Elgin county as separate municipalities, the pageant is only one of a week-long programs of events. Parades, band music, square dances, short demonstrations of all types, a flower show, regatta and mass paratroop drop by members of the Royal Canadian Regiment are also scheduled.

Lord Elgin, grandson of a former governor-general of Canada, from whom the county takes its name, will be on hand with Lady Elgin and Premier Frost to open West Elgin Caledonian games at Dutton, 20 miles west of here Aug 4.

Later, with Health Minister Martin and other officials, they will lay the cornerstone of the new $3,500,000 St. Thomas Elgin hospital. The 330-bed structure is expected to be completed in 1953.

Many changes have taken place since Lord Elgin's grandfather presided over Canada's achievement of responsible government, and risked injury when Montreal mobs burned the Houses of Parliament. From a nameless hamlet on Kettle Creek, greater St. Thomas has become an industrial city of 22,000 persons.

Old Talbot road is now a modern highway. The Talbot estate, shrunken to 650 acres, has only the founder's 16-room "Wilderness Castle" to remind visitors of its former glory.

New Director Of Cobalt Bomb

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Dr. J. Stewart Lott, a science and medical graduate of the University of Western Ontario, today was named to direct operation of Victoria Hospital's cobalt bomb.

Dr. Lott will assume duties Tuesday. He succeeds Dr. Frank Batley who came to Canada from England a year ago and left yesterday to take up a new position at Hamilton cancer clinic.

Dr. Lott was born in Sarnia and graduated from the University of Western Ontario in 1943 with honors in science. In 1946 he received his degree in medicine and during the next four years did extensive post-graduate work in histology, pathology and radio-therapy. In 1950, he was awarded a travelling fellowship worth $3,000 to permit him to study radio-therapy technique in the principal European treatment centres. In 1951, the fellowship was renewed for an additional year.

Allow Gill Nets Until End Of Year

OWEN SOUND (CP)—Commercial fishing for lake trout and whitefish with gill nets of undersize mesh will be permitted here until the end of the year and possibly longer, MacKinnon Phillips, Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Grey North said here yesterday.

Three district fishermen were recently fined $10 and costs each for fishing with nets of under-size mesh. However, Mr. Phillips said he has been assured by Lands Minister Gemmel that further charges will not be laid this year.

Fishermen complained that the mesh of the nets as originally purchased measured the regulation 4½ inches but that they shrank with use.

Army Offers Special Course

LONDON (CP)—A scheme to attract young men of high academic and scientific ability to the technical branches of the British regular army has been initiated by the war office. Selected candidates between the ages of 17 and 20 will qualify.

Those recommended will be granted national service commissions as second lieutenants. After serving six months of regimental duty they will be assigned to the Military College of Science where they will study for a degree in general science or engineering.

Successful applicants will receive antedated regular army commissions after two years at the military college and be required to serve at least five years after completing their degree course.

War office spokesman said the course was being introduced to meet increased demand for technical staff as well as liaison officers possessing highly-specialized training on guided missiles and other scientific subjects.

Treated Inmates Badly Housefather Fired

ST. CHARLES, Ill. (AP)—A housefather who forced inmates of the Illinois state training school for boys under a cold shower and then lashed their naked bodies with a leather belt was fired yesterday and arrested on an assault charge.

R. C. Kilpatrick, 48, who had been in charge of a school cottage for a year, pleaded guilty to the assault charge and paid a $100 fine.

Find Television Neck Latest In Maladies

CHICAGO (AP)—A doctor reported Friday that a new malady has arisen to plague mankind—Television Neck.

Dr. William Kaufman of Bridgeport, Conn., said in a letter published in the journal of the American Medical Association, he has observed the symptoms in several persons.

"The manifestations of this syndrome, which for want of a better named can be called 'television neck' include measurable increased limitations in ranges of neck movement and pain or discomfort in the posterior nuchal region (nape) of the neck," he said.

The condition could be caused by strained posture, which comes from attempting to keep the face roughly parallel with a low TV screen or, when the room is crowded with viewers, from holding the neck sideways.

GAINS ASYLUM IN CAPRI—Former King Farouk (left) of Egypt turns to help his wife from an automobile as they arrive at a hotel on the Isle of Capri. Forced to abdicate by a military coup, King Farouk sought and received asylum from Italy. With him went his infant son, King Ahmen Fuad II, in whose favor he abdicated.

Polio Cases Climbing Across Prairies

EDMONTON (CP)—Western Canada's count of poliomyelitis cases continues to climb.

Four new cases in Alberta and two in Manitoba were reported yesterday bringing to 312 the number in the four western provinces. The number of deaths jumped to 17 with a report from British Columbia that three have died from the disease there.

Alberta's new cases all were reported in the Calgary district and brought that province's total to 88. Five have died in Alberta.

In Manitoba, two boys, both with partial paralysis, were stricken yesterday, boosting the total there to 86.

DEATH TOLL

Manitoba's death toll from polio still stands at four. Saskatchewan's totals at last report were 95 cases and five deaths. British Columbia has reported 43 cases.

In southern Alberta, air cadets from Lethbridge and Taber areas were told they will not be allowed to attend summer camp at Abbottsford, B.C., because of the polio situation. The cadets were to have left tomorrow.

Calgary wading pools have been closed and drained. Theatres there have been requested to prohibit attendance of children under 16. Lethbridge swimming pools and playgrounds have been closed.

Cable Greetings From Hebrides

STORNAWAY, Scotland (AP)—A cable message of greetings and good wishes was relayed through Stornaway tonight from the people of Lewis in the outer Hebrides to the proud residents of the village of Ripley, Ont.

Saturday, Ripley residents begin a three-day reunion to celebrate the centenary of the foundation of the township by 109 families from the Island of Lewis.

Descendants of the original settlers now are scattered throughout Canada and the United States, but the most common names in Ripley still are Macleod, Campbell, Martin Maclean and Mackay. Several natives of Ripley visited Lewis during the second world war and re-established contact with the Lewis branch of their families after a break of more than 100 years.

In its message the town council said: "The people of Lewis feel proud of the island's historic association with Ripley and their ties of blood with its people. In spirit we warmly join as relatives and friends in celebrating the Lewis centennial reunion."

Find Man's Body

SIMCOE (CP)—Believed to have suffered a heart attack and stumbled forward, Cecil Shepherd, 70, was found dead in a small creek yesterday. Owen Richards, Simcoe, and Glen Wales, Port Dover, were working on the pond cottage and went to wash up for their dinner when they spotted the body lying face down in about one foot of water.

Driving Lesson Costly

OTTAWA (CP) — Mrs. Luisa Herzberg, taking her first driving lesson in a borrowed automobile, crashed through a picket fence, churned through another neighbor's vegetable garden, bounced back through the same fence at another spot, ran across a third neighbor's newly sodded front lawn and finally came to a stop. Estimated damage: $400.

Study Of Bird Names Said Half Battle Of Identification

Written for The Canadian Press
By PERCY GHENT

A study of bird names is half the battle in identification. Picturesque names frequently describe physical characteristics.

Baldpate ducks are named for that snowy patch on their bobbing pates. Razor-billed auks really have sharp bills, but they never need a shave. Nuthatches wedge soft - shelled nuts into bark crevices and "hatch" the kernels. Hoot owls, unlike many human folk of the superior type, do give a hoot for everything. Chickadees announce their name in their calls. So do the whip-poor-will, the flicker, the bob-white, bobolink, and many other species.

EASIL IDENTIFIED

Turnstones do just that when hunting for lunch on the seashore. Canvasback and pintail ducks have names betraying their appearance, and you know what to look for when identifying the golden-eye and the shoveller ducks, for the golden eye of one is easy to see and the spatulate bill of the other is a grand tool for exploring the mud.

Laughing loons have a laugh bordering on the hysterical. Kingbirds hold regal sway, and fearlessly, over feathered associates whether smaller or bigger than themselves. Oven birds build nests like a small outdoor oven. Cedar waxwings carry a bit of wax on their wings. Catbirds, though they can sing exquisite songs on occasion, get their name for their commoner caterwauling.

And so the list goes on indefinitely. Cardinals from their vivid coloring; scarlet tanagers for the same reason; the saw-whet owl from his call.

MOUNTAIN "MAGNIFICENCE"

Just back from a trip to Banff, Jasper and the Canadian Rockies, a Toronto amateur naturalist, after his first trip to the west, was asked what impressed him most in the mountain magnificence. "Mountain bluebirds and magpies," was his response. "And the mountains, too, of course," was added as an afterthought.

Record Salad

BRANTFORD (CP)—A tossed salad was served up on highway No. 5 yesterday. It was the biggest district residents had ever seen. A transport carrying 500 baskets of tomatoes, 200 melons and crates of various garden produce hit a soft shoulder and upset. Edward Robinson of Leamington, the driver, escaped unhurt.

First TV Station

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's first television station is scheduled to begin operating next February, Kyodo News Agency said today. A licence was granted today to a commercial syndicate after a long dispute over whether television should be a government monopoly.

Bad Fire In Gov't Library

OTTAWA (CP)—Multi-colored book covers today made a bright mosaic of the corridors of the Parliament buildings. They were strung along the stone hallways to dry after a 12-hour soaking from fire hoses as firemen fought a stubborn blaze in the roof of the 85-year-old building. It will be days before the damage to the valuable book collection can be assessed. Most of it was caused by water cascading into the circular chamber from the high-domed roof where fire broke out early yesterday. The fire, most serious since a 1916 blaze razed the main block of the Parliament buildings except the library, sent three firemen to hospital. Two were overcome by smoke and a third, George de Bellefeuille required 22 stitches to close a head wound caused by a piece of falling masonry.

The firemen kept the blaze confined to the base of a spire which surmounts the stone-walled library wing facing the Ottawa River behind the Peace Tower. They quelled the flames after 12 hours of effort.

However, the library wing remained roped off inside the buildings because of the danger that the 15-foot, iron weather vane may fall through the weakened roof, bringing with it a huge cement cap at the top of the dome.

Many of the 500,000 to 1,000,000 books, periodicals and newspaper files were undamaged. But many others suffered from the water which rose three inches deep on the wooden floor of the library chamber.

VALUABLES ESCAPE DAMAGE

A senior library official, Robert M. Hamilton, said it will take time to sort out the damage. One book that apparently escaped serious injury was an original collection of bird paintings by the famous naturalist Audubon. Also saved was the painting 'The Two Water Mills' by Hobbema, a present from the Netherlands government.

But librarians will work for days to see if other valuable items are intact, including reports of some of the first debates of the legislatures before Canada became a dominion.

Public works crews were ordered to make an appraisal of the damaged roof where copper sheathing hampered firemen's efforts during the height of the blaze. They will bolster it if possible.

Early reports said the blaze was started by a short circuit in the electric wiring but Fire Chief Gray Burnett said he isn't sure that was the cause. He said there wasn't much chance of sabotage, the suspected cause of the 1916 blaze that claimed seven lives.

Trouble Spots In Pacific Studied At Honolulu Parley

By LEIF ERICKSON

HONOLULU (AP)—The foreign ministers of the United States, Australia and New Zealand today continue discussion of "areas of common concern" in the Pacific bounded by such trouble spots as Korea, Indo-China and Malaya. A spokesman for the diplomats said it was too early to name any area under discussion.

With State Secretary Dean Acheson of the U. S. as chairman, Australia's minister for external affairs, Richard G. Casey, and New Zealand's minister for external affairs, T. Clifton Webb, yesterday began implementing a three-power mutual-defence pact.

ADOPT ANZUS AS NAME

Anzus—initials of the three countries concerned—was officially approved as a name for the treaty and its administering council.

Decisions of the first day included:

The Anzus foreign ministers will meet at least once annually.

Deputies will meet in Washington between these annual sessions for "continuing consultations."

The general objective is to establish "the simplest and most informal" political organization which can effectively fulfill the council's obligations.

MILITARY STEPS LATER

The foreign ministers indicated they will complete their discussions of areas of common concern before setting up a military liaison organization to carry out pledges of mutual defence.

The mutual-defence pact was signed in San Francisco last September.

The council's agenda also includes these two subjects:

Anzus relations with other states and regional organizations, and a survey of situations of common concern.

U.K. Specialist, Family Slain

FORCALQUIER, France (Reuters)—Sir Jack Drummond, a food specialist who planned Britain's wartime diet, his wife and 12-year-old daughter, were murdered last night while camping beside the main road in this southern Alps area.

Drummond's body was found today with three bullets in the back. His wife, Lady Anne, had a bullet through the heart. Their daughter Elizabeth had been bludgeoned with a heavy instrument, possibly a rifle butt.

The bodies were identified by the child's school exercise book in which she had been doing vacation tasks.

Delay Seizing Qavam's Estate

TEHRAN (AP)—The Iranian senate unexpectedly dragged its feet Monday on a proposed bill ordering the confiscation of ousted Premier Ahmed Qavam's multi-million-dollar wealth and properties.

The bill, introduced by Nationalist supporters of Premier Mossadegh, got initial approval yesterday in Iran's Lower House, the Majlis, and passed easily through the first reading in the senate Monday.

Offer To Buy Hamilton Club

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Jockey Club has made a cash offer to buy the Hamilton Jockey Club, Limited.

It was announced today the deal can be completed only after two thirds of the shareholders of the Hamilton club agree and they have been given until Aug. 29 to decide. Directors of the club are recommending acceptance of the offer. Club announced purchase of he racetrack at Fort Erie. The club has agreed to purchase, later this year, the Stamford Park Track at Niagara Falls, Ont.

A club statement said acquisition of these tracks, plus operation of a proposed new track "on a site which will be readily accessible to the people of Hamilton, Toronto and other nearby communities," will allow racing for 70 days each year on tracks under the club's jurisdiction.

Light Rainfall In U.S. Too Late To Ease Drought

CHICAGO (AP)—Light rain fell in parts of the United States' southern and eastern drought areas today, but it was mostly a case of too little and too late.

Parched Maine got the biggest break. Light rain dampened most of the state. Showers also sprinkled parts of Tennessee and Kentucky.

The drought that began n mid-June already has destroyed more than $500,000,000 worth of pastures and corn, tobacco, cotton, and vegetable crops. Farmers, faced with burn-out grazing lands, have dumped cattle on the market by the thousands.

RAINMAKERS READY

Professional rainmakers were ready to try their hand at bringing moisture to the drying tobacco and vegetable crops of Connecticut. Stationed in the hills west of the Connecticut valley, they were prepared to fire rain-producing crystals into the sky. They were awaiting favorable conditions—the presence of moisture-bearing clouds.

The U.S. department of agriculture summoned its agents from eight drought-disaster states, plus Texas and Oklahoma, to meet in Atlanta, Ga. Wednesday and Thursday. Plans will be worked out for getting immediate government loans to farmers to buy feed and replant crops wherever possible.

78 Red Towns Warned Of Bombings

Give Civilians Time To Flee Area Of Doomed Centres

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The United Nations said today 78 North Korean towns housing communist military installations are doomed, and that it has warned civilian populations to get out in advance of Allied air raids.

The program of heralding air raids is designed to spare non-combatant lives. It also has the effect of flaunting the allied air superiority over the Communist North Korean and Chinese commands.

At least two of the forewarned towns have been hit.

Lt.-Gen. Glenn O. Barcus, United States fifth air force commander, said the warning program has been underway in Korea since mid-July. Millions of leaflets telling of future bombings have been dropped by B-29s flying out of Okinawa and Japan.

PLENTY OF WARNING

Shortly before an attack begins, Radio Seoul advises the civilians in the target area to get out immediately. The broadcasts continue right up until the time the attack begins.

The bold program was announced as fifth air force fighter-bombers swept central and eastern North Korea Tuesday morning, bombing and shooting up targets behind Communist front lines. Pilots reported destruction or damage to 24 rails cars, nine buildings, a supply dump and one vehicle.

LITTLE GROUND ACTION

Fighting along the ground front was limited to small-scale skirmishes. A front-line officer report no contact during the night with Reds in the vicinity of the western front hill Old Baldy, the battleline's hottest spot in the last few weeks.

U.N. naval headquarters in Tokyo said the British light cruiser Belfast was hit by a Communist shore battery Sunday while shelling in the vicinity of the west coast port of Chinnampo. The ship suffered only minor damage and was able to continue its patrol duty.

The program of warnings of air bombings seemingly was aimed also at counteracting Communist propaganda outcries against what the Reds claim were "wanton bombings" of women and children.

Canada Keeping Planes In U.K.

OTTAWA (AP).—Canada has agreed to keep her most experienced fighter wing in Britain to bolster British air defences until they can be brought up to something closer to adequate strength.

This means that in 1953 she will have sabre-jet squadrons in three overseas countries, Britain, France and Germany.

The No. 2 wing will be the first to go to France to join the Atlantic pact air force, flying directly from Canada.

The second wing, under Group Capt. J. K. MacDonald of Antogonish, N. S., is due to go to the Metz area of northeastern France this fall.

The third wing is expected to go to a base near Zweibrucken, Germany, about 50 miles east of Metz, in 1953.

The No. 1 wing is at North Luffenham, England.

Plan Mock Air Raid Near Niagara Falls

NEW YORK (CP)—Canada and the United States will participate in their first simulated air raid exercise Aug. 23 when a mock atomic explosion will occur at Niagara Falls, N.Y., Lt.-Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, New York state civil defence director, disclosed yesterday.

The explosion will "devastate" a 12-mile area radiating from the southern section of the city of Nigara Falls, N.Y. While Ontario will not be bombed, aid will be brought from Lincoln and Welland counties there to "victims" in the area.

He said that the area had been chosen because it is one of the two most vital sections of the state. The New York city metropolitan area, with a heavy concentration of industry and people, is the other.

Committed For Trial

OTTAWA (CP) — Naval Petty Officer Thomas Burry, 26, of Ottawa, was formally committed for trial today on charges of manslaughter and criminal negligence in connection with a fatal shooting at a naval reserve establishment here. Leading Seaman Joseph E. Morris, 21, of Eastview, Ont., died in hospital April 21 shortly after he was struck in the abdomen by a rifle bullet at the naval establishment. The shooting occurred as Burry and Morris were engaged in cleaning guns.

Spends 7 Days In Wilderness Without Food

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C. (CP)—The terrifying ordeal of seven days in a wilderness without food is over for a Langley Prairie, B. C., prospector-farmer.

Arthur Cameron, 47, was brought out of the desolate country 22 miles north of Stewart, B. C., last night by his partner W. T. (Bill) Rowe of Vancouver who left him there a week ago without food.

Stewart is about 120 miles north of here.

Rowe staggered out of the forest near Stewart last Friday. He said he had left Cameron beside the American River five days before without food.

SLIPPED, LOST FOOD

The two men had been prospecting in the mountains of that area when Cameron slipped coming down a steep mountainslope and lost his food pack.

For days the men only had half rations. When they arrived at the American River all the food was gone.

Cameron said he could go no further. Rowe started a fire, then fought his way through wooded mountainous country to civilization.

FOUND BY LAND PARTY

A land party left Stewart Saturday and found Cameron that night. One man stayed to look after the prospector and another hiked out to Stewart.

Rowe, more or less recovered from his ordeal, immediately set out with another man to bring in his partner as soon as he heard he was alive.

Cameron was taken to Stewart and was due to be flown to hospital here.

Soldiers Steal 5 Trucks Try To Stage Walkout

BRUSSELS (AP) — Sixty-eight Belgian soldiers made off with five trucks last night and tried to start an army walkout against the new two-year conscription term. When they couldn't attract reinforcements, they surrendered.

Shouting against the 24-month draft period and singing the Communist "Internationale," the freedom-seekers drove at full speed into the night from their training camp at Casteau, near Mons.

They went first to Mons for reinforcements. Soldiers in the barracks there would have no part of them. It was the same story at Tournai.

Finally, on the road to Charleroi, four of the truckloads surrendered at a police barricade. The fifth returned to camp and surrendered to military police.

The incident was one of many in southern and eastern Belgium during the last two weeks.

40 In Guerrilla Band Attack Polling Place

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Police killed six guerrillas and wounded 10 of a band of 40 that attacked a polling place about 70 miles west of here today in South Korea's first direct election of a president and vice-president.

Police and troops had been on the alert for just such raids.

Home Minister Kim Tai Sun said the guerrillas fled, leaving a submachine gun and 300 cartridges.

He said police suffered no casualties and voting resumed after a short delay.

About 20 guerrillas killed one man and burned two buildings and a home in a village in southwestern Korea last night. But police said they did not know whether the attack was connected with the election or just another sporadic guerrilla strike.

Overcast skies threatened rain, but government officials predicted 85 to 90 per cent of the 8,218,000 eligible voters would ballot

Youths Use Poles As Javelins

Victim of Accident Rushed To Toronto For Brain Operation

A 12-year-old Toronto boy was critically injured Saturday afternon when the tip of a fishing rod penetrated his skull. The freak accident occurred on Sturgeon Lake near Bobcaygeon when William Westlake, 436 Kingswood Ave., Toronto and a group of other boys were playing with some discarded fishing rods.

The boys were apparently using the fishing rods as javelins and tossing them in the air. The sharp tip of one of the rods which had been broken off jabbed into the head of the Westlake boy. It landed with sufficient force to drive a tiny fragment of bone three inches into his brain.

He was given first aid attention by Dr. W. D. Thomas of Bobcaygeon and then taken by his parents to Civic Hospital in Peterborough.

RUSHED TO TORONTO

Dr. Morris Clarkson, who examined the injured boy at the hospital, decided to take him to Toronto, as brain surgery was apparently necessary.

Although the injury was extremely serious, the boy did not lose consciousness. He was taken to Toronto General Hospital where a brain operation was performed.

He is reported to be still in critical condition in Toronto General Hospital.

Police Capture Three Prisoners

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP)—Three young prisoners who escaped from the Algoma district jail late Saturday night were nabbed by police here yesterday.

The trio were wearing civilian clothes when picked up. Unarmed, they offered no resistance while attempting to fool officers with a story that they were hitch hikers from Sudbury.

The three escapees who will face charges of jailbreaking, are: Fred McLean 18, of Sault Ste. Marie; Vernon Golding, 23, of Espanola, and Forbes Watson, 21, of Sudbury.

McLean was serving an 18-month sentence and the others 12-month terms for car theft and breaking and entering charges.

SPOTTED BY CONSTABLES

The three men were spotted by Constables James Reynolds, Lorne Smith and Jack Johnson while on a routine patrol not far from the jail itself.

The three made their escape by hiding in corridors after getting out of their cells. When the guards began their evening rounds, they pounced on two of them. Keys from the guards provided exit to the outside.

The escapees told police they had hidden in bushes only a half mile from the jail since Saturday. They had not eaten and were heading for Toronto when picked up.

Recover 28 Bodies From Burning Buses After Texas Crash

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Just how many persons died in the flaming hell that resulted when two Greyhound buses crashed south of here early yesterday remained a mystery today. At least 28 bodies had been recovered from the charred shambles of the big 37-passenger highway liners, but a pile of charred flesh and bone remained for classification. Twenty-five persons were injured. Heat from the flames was so intense that molten metal and glass poured in little streams across the cracked highway. Police believed some bodies were completely cremated.

Meanwhile, officials of the Greyhound lines, local police and the Texas department of public safety tried to find out what happened, and why.

DRIVERS KILLED

The two speeding vehicles rammed together and burst into flames about 4 a. m. Two young drivers, Milburn Berry Herring, 24, and B. E. (Billy) Malone, 23, both among the dead, were piloting their vehicles through the pre-dawn blackness of central Texas.

A passenger, Mrs. Dora Daniels, 17, said somebody hollered, "look out!"

Then the buses hit.

"It sounded like thunder," Mrs. Daniels said. "it would blow up and then blow up again, one after another."

WILD PANIC

There was wild panic, horrible misery and death aboard the bus. Outside there was death in the blazing gasoline that spilled over U. S. Highway 81.

Where Malone sat in his southbound bus, searchers found only three pieces of metal—a ticket punch, a cap emblem and a driver's badge.

Bodies were thrown burning from the buses by the force of the impact. Men, women and children tried vainly to get out small windows. The safety exit on one of the buses was jammed by the body of the other vehicle.

Passengers thrown clear of the shambles pulled screaming injured

Queen Mother Has 52nd Birthday

LONDON (AP).—Royal salutes boomed out from London tower, Hyde Park and all naval bases yesterday in honor of Queen Mother Elizabeth's 52nd birthday.

The Queen Mother spent this first birthday of her widowhood quietly at the royal lodge at Windsor. The lodge, smallest of the royal homes, is not far from the chapel at Windsor Castle where lie the remains of King George VI.

With her were her two daughters, the Queen and Princess Margaret, and her grandchildren, Crown Prince Charles and Princess Anne. The Duke of Edinburgh was in Oslo attending ceremonies marking the 80th birthday yesterday of Norway's King Haakon. Queen grandmother Mary sent best wishes from Sandringham.

Hitch-Hiker Has To Pilot Jet At 37,000 Feet

WITH U.S. FIFTH AIR FORCE, Korea (AP).—A hitch-hiking air force master sergeant on his first jet plane ride recently found himself piloting the swift two-seat craft.

The sergeant had to take over the controls of the T-33 jet when the pilot passed out from lack of oxygen, the air force said yesterday. He flew the training ship until the engine quit. He then manoeuvred it carefully down to a level where the pilot regained consciousness.

Master Sgt. Charles E. Hilt, 31, never had been in a jet until he hitch-hiked a ride from Korea to Japan in the T-33 flown by Lieut. Robert W. Macduff.

They were buzzing along at 500 miles an hour 37,000 feet up when Macduff asked Hilt to hold the auxiliary control stick in the rear seat while the pilot worked a navigational problem.

HELD TO COURSE

"All I knew was that if you push forward on the stick you go down and if you pull back you go up," says Hilt. "I held to the course the pilot was flying."

The pilot's head nodded forward and backward occasionally. Hilt didn't realize that the pilot was undergoing convulsions caused by oxygen starvation and was unconscious.

But when Macduff failed to answer over the radio Hilt got worried. And he realized he had just become pilot of a 500-mile-an-hour jet. Then the engine quit.

But Hilt maintained control and by trial and error determined the slowest possible rate of descent. At about 13,000 feet Macduff took over, got the engine restarted at 6,000 feet and landed safely.

Report Soviet Train Explosion

BERLIN (AP)—A Soviet munitions train exploded, killing the train crew and Russian guards, the independent German newspaper Die Welt reported today.

The paper said the explosion occurred near Wittenberg, about 60 miles southwest of Berlin, last Friday.

Quoting the East German railway administration as its source, the paper said that sabotage was suspected. The exact number of casualties was not known.

REDS RIOT IN BERLIN — A young cyclist pauses in his bicycle ride to watch West Berlin police battle with some 200 Communist youths as they break up a "jeeble" Red demonstration in the British sector. The Allied riot police were alerted beforehand and the "battle" lasted a brief 10 minutes. No one was seriously hurt, although many were arrested.

Alberta Voters Go To Polls To Decide Gov't

EDMONTON (CP)—The Social Credit party today laid on the line its 17-year record of government in Alberta, where it gained its first Canadian foothold in 1935 under the late William Aberhart.

The 540,000 eligible voters who were to endorse or reject this record, continued by Premier E.C. Manning after Mr. Aberhart's death in 1943, were encouraged to vote by generally good weather. Today was to be sunny and warm although some showers were forecast for the late afternoon in northern regions.

Polls opened at 9 a.m. MST and were to close at 6 p.m. in the country and at 7 p.m. in the cities.

TWO-WAY VOTING

Under Alberta's two-way voting system proportional representation is used in the multiple-member ridings of Edmonton and Calgary and the single transferable ballot in the 48 single-member constituencies.

In the 1948 Alberta election 19 counts were needed in Calgary and 14 in Edmonton under proportional representation, where a candidate must reach a fixed quota based on the number of seats at stake and the vote total before being elected. But the result of the election was known election night, mainly because of the simpler single transferable ballot system in most of the constituencies where the first candidate obtaining a majority is elected.

Price Of Gold Soars In France

PARIS (AP)—The shaky French economic balance began to crack again today as the price of gold soared on the market here.

Market traders attributed the rise to the sudden jump of eight per cent in wholesale food prices last month, to the widespread epidemic of foot-and-mouth disease among French livestock herds, to the tense Tunisian situation, and to the United States-France dispute on defence orders.

Quotations for all sorts of gold coins traded here rose, while the black market on U.S. dollar currency rose from 404 to 408 francs to the dollar. The official rate is 350.

The trend represents the first setback for French currency since Premier Antoine Pinay took office on a program of a sound currency and a balanced budget.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3 11-16 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today, EDT, Monday's noon rate was 96½ cents Canadian. The pound sterling was $2.69½ unchanged from Monday.

TWO FIREMEN were overcome by smoke and a third suffered a deep scalp wound caused by falling brick as Ottawa firemen fought for almost 12 hours Monday to stamp out a stubborn two-alarm blaze which broke out in the dome of Parliament's historic library. Water and smoke damage to a valuable collection of more than 500,000 books is expected to run into thousands of dollars. Two of the firemen called to fight the blaze, can be seen in this picture climbing the dome as they prepare to combat flames, from which the smoke at right is erupting.

Maj. J. W. White Dies In Ottawa

NORWOOD (ENS)—A former member of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, Major James Walke White, 60 Aylmer Ave., Ottawa, died last week in the Ottawa Hospital. He was 73.

A native of Devonshire, England, Major White came to Canada at an early age and received his education at Norwood, later graduating from the Ontario College of Pharmacy, Toronto. Immediately he joined the R.C.A.M.C and served in the Boer War as a medical sergeant. Remaining in the army, he enlisted for active service at the outbreak of the First World War in 1914 and received his commission overseas in February, 1915.

Major White was appointed officer commanding medical stores at Bramshot and organized the Central Medical Stores in Belgium and returned to London as officer commanding medical stores until his discharge in 1919.

Major White rejoined the RCAMC in Halifax in 1920 as officer commanding medical stores and seven years later was transferred to Ottawa as officer commanding Central Medical Stores, a position he retained until his retirement in 1941. He was a member of the Canadian Legion and of the Independent Order of Foresters.

Surviving are his wife, the former Ellen Mary Scanlon; one daughter Jean at home; one brother, Bishop C. W. White of Fonthill, Ont.; three sisters, Miss Florence White, Mrs. Herbert Beavis, Mrs. Percival Roberts, all of Norwood and several nieces and nephews.

The body rested at Hulse and Playfair Ltd., 315 McLeod Street, where service was held in the chapel at 3 p.m. Friday, with the Rev. W. H. Bradley of Trinity Anglican Church officiating. Interment was in Norwood Cemetery Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Grave side service was conducted by his brother Bishop C. W. White of Fonthill, assisted by the Rev. H. E. Peasgood of Christs Anglican Church Norwood.

Mrs. Kenneth Fallis Buried At Gardiner's

Mrs. Kenneth E. Fallis, a resident of Toronto, formerly of Millbrook, died at her home in Toronto Wednesday, July 30, after a short illness.

A funeral service was held in Toronto Friday evening with Rev. A. Chote of Millbrook officiating. Saturday afternoon Rev. Chote conducted the interment service at the Gardiner cemetery, Millbrook.

Pallbearers were: Norman Finnie, Eric Fallis, Russell Kennedy and William Kennedy.

Mrs. Fallis, the former Alberta Mary Russell, was born in Millbrook, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Russell. She received her education in Millbrook, at the Peterborough Normal school, and Queen's University, Kingston.

She was married two years ago to Kenneth E. Fallis of Toronto, formerly of Millbrook.

Mrs. Fallis had spent her life in the teaching profession and was active on the staff of Kent School in Toronto until a few months before her death. She was well known in teaching circles in Toronto where she had been active for some years. Before going to Toronto she taught at Cork school and at Mount Pleasant, near Millbrook.

Surviving besides her husband Kenneth E. Fallis, Toronto, are two sisters, Mrs. N. W. Finnie (Marguerite), St. Catharines, and Mrs. W. W. Kennedy, Millbrook.

Buffalo Observes Canada Day

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — A United States Congressman today pointed to Canada's great economic growth as one of the chief reasons for the understanding and good will existing between the two countries.

Representative William E. Miller (Rep., N.Y.) spoke to 400 governmental and business leaders of the two countries attending a luncheon here in observance of Canada Day.

Earlier, representatives of the U.S. and Canada met in the centre of the Peace Bridge to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the opening of the structure. The span connects Buffalo and Fort Erie.

Immigration Minister Harris, of Canada, said that any decision made by the U.S. in international affairs "is certain to have an effect on the destiny of Canada."

Mayor Joseph Mruk, of Buffalo, welcomed Mayor Charles H. Price, of Fort Erie, and other Canadian officials and businessmen.

Bordeaux Jail Quiet After Weekend Riots

MONTREAL (CP).—Order returned to Montreal's Bordeaux Jail yesterday, replacing the upheaval and riot that held sway during the weekend.

Most of the 500 prisoners who broke out of their cells Friday night leaving a trail of violence and destruction behind them were back behind bars, their cell doors repaired and reinforced with extra locks.

The prisoners set a score of fires and clashed with police and guards in a series of skirmishes that left at least a dozen prisoners suffering from various injuries.

It was the second outbreak in three months. The first came in May. Both were said to be over food.

There was no immediate estimate of damage in the latest riot but one spokesman said it was not expected to be as high as that in the May revolt when damage was estimated around $600,000.

Mrs. Joseph O'Keefe

The funeral for Mrs. James Joseph O'Keefe, the former Mary Ellen Griffin, who died Sunday was held today from the Anglesey funeral home to Immaculate Conception Roman Catholic Church.

Requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. Clayton O'Donoghue. Also in the sanctuary was the Rev. J. O'Sullivan.

Mrs. O'Keefe was born in Ireland, daughter of the late Patrick Griffin and Margaret Russell and has lived in Peterborough for the past two years, coming here from Montreal.

She was a member of Immaculate Conception Church and of the Catholic Women's League.

She leaves one son, Patrick and one daughter, Mrs. Nellie McMahon, bot hof Peterborough, and one brother, Patrick Griffin of Brooklyn, New York. Her husband, James Joseph O'Keefe predeceased her.

Pallbearers were James Healey, Michael O'Keefe, Vincent McCarthy, Frank Butler, Charles and Joseph McNulty. Burial was in St. Frances De Sales cemetery, Smiths Falls.

Minor Crashes Mar Weekend, Say None Serious

Only a half dozen minor accidents marred the Civic Holiday weekend in the city and district.

Mrs. Jean Eastabrook, 27, 256 McDonnel St., was the only person reported injured as a result of traffic accidents in the Peterborough district.

Considering the number of serious motor accidents that usually occur on a summer holiday weekend, both city and provincial police consider the accident record an exceptionally good one.

Commenting on the "very quiet weekend," O.P.P. Sgt. J. K. Smith of District 8 Headquarters said he believed the weather slowed up traffic. He said the result was that traffic was spread out more than it is usually when motorists begin starting back to the city after holiday weekends.

COMMENDS DRIVERS

Police Chief John Thompson said today he was glad to report that no one was injured in city traffic accidents during the weekend and complimented drivers for achieving practically an accident-free weekend.

Mrs. Eastabrook received crushed ribs and body bruises Monday night when she was thrown violently against the steering column of the car in which she was riding as a passenger.

She was taken to Civic Hospital where he condition today is satisfactory.

The injury occurred in Bailieboro when an oncoming car, driven by Fred Perrin of Cavan township made a left turn and ran into the Eastabrook car, crushing in the left side.

DAMAGE SLIGHT

Her husband James, son Douglas, and father-in-law, Harold Eastabrook of Western Ave., were shaken up but uninjured. The 1937 car received about $250 damage.

Mrs. Eastabrook who was riding in the from seat beside her husband was thrown to the left by the impact and struck the steering wheel and gear shift, crushing her ribs.

Dr. M. E. Hobbs gave her first aid and then drove her to Civic Hospital.

The Eastabrooks were returning to Peterborough from a wedding in Port Hope when the accident occurred ,about 9 p.m. Mr. Eastabrook said he pulled over onto the right shoulder of the road to avoid an accident but the Perrin car crashed into his left side.

4 Vehicles Damaged In Two Area Crashes

Minor damage to the two vehicles resulted Saturday afternoon when an American car and a half-ton truck collided on Highway 28, just north of the Drive-In Theatre.

A furniture truck was backing into a driveway on the west side of the highway and the driver of the light truck, A. R. Gill, of Lakefield, who was travelling south, pulled out to go around it.

As he attempted to do so, the left rear fender of his truck crunched on the left front fender of a northbound car driven by Mrs. Civila Gray, 8 Woodside St., Rochester, New York.

A two-car collision on Highway 28 at Fowler's Corners about 6.30 Monday night resulted in considerable damage to both vehicles.

The accident occurred as Ross Smokum, R.R. 2, Bethany, was pulling out from a service station on the north side of the highway. He told police he did not see an approaching westbound car driven by Donald Kennedy, 82 La Salles Blvd., Toronto, in time to avoid a collision. No one was injured.

O.P.P. Constable Russell Pollard investigated both mishaps.

Sentence Don Guard To Two Years In Jail

TORONTO (CP)—James Morrison, Don jail guard who said last week he tried to help Leonard Jack son escape, today was sentenced to two years in penitentiary.

Jackson faces a charge of murder in the shooting last spring of Sergeant of Detectives Edmund Tong.

Morrison, 30-year-old Scottish immigrant who was on the jail staff three months, said in a statement Jackson asked him to smuggle in guns for an escape attempt and he agreed.

from the flames. But the fire enveloped the wreckage quickly. Bodies burned on the pavement and alongside the highway right-of-way.

Identification of the dead was being made by personal belongings more than any other way. Last night only six were identified.

A scorched red purse identified four of the victims. They were Mrs. Charles Tucker of Georgetown, Tex., and her three young children.

A heroic Negro soldier, thrown clear of the wreckage, went back and kicked out windows and pulled at least two persons from the blazing bus. In the chaos nobody got his name.

The husband of Mrs. Tucker tarried late Monday in Georgetown at the bus station there, 100 miles south of here. "Yes, he knows about the accident," a friend said. "He just doesn't want to go to Waco yet. He doesn't want to see the bodies."

Nelson Tart Dies

COBOURG (ENS)—The death of Nelson Tait, retired undertaker, occurred on Sunday, in his 78th year. He was in the undertaking and furniture store business here for many years and after his son returned from the last war, he retired. Mr. Tait had been in poor health for the last few months. He is survived by one son and three daughters. His son, Douglas, succeeded him in business after he retired.

John Marks Dies In Ottawa Hospital

OTTAWA (CP).—John Marks, 48, of Christie Lake, near Perth, died in hospital here Sunday. He was a member of a well-known theatrical family. He managed several theatres in Ontario until the Second World War when he served overseas for five years.

In 1945, he married Jean Hollworth of Toronto and moved to Christie Lake from Oshawa. He entered hospital here a month ago.

Surviving are his widow, his mother who lives in Oshawa, a brother, Ernest of Oshawa, and sister, Mrs. Frank McGarry of Toronto.

Edwin A. Bradburn

OMEMEE (ENS)—The funeral of Edwin Alexander Bradburn, 81, who died Saturday in Omemee, was held today from the Mackey funeral home, Lindsay. The Rev. V. E .R. Zufelt, of Trinity United Church, officiated and burial was in Riverside cemetery, Lindsay.

Mr. Bradburn was born and raised on the 13th concession of Manvers township, a son of the late Alexander Bradburn and Mary Ann Peel. He married Luella Gilson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Moses Gilson, of Mariposa township, in 1905, and moved to the 14th concession, just north of Janetville, where he and Mrs. Bradburn farmed for 48 years.

Mr. Bradburn was a member of the Janetville United Church and for many years he served on the church board. Since retiring, he and Mrs. Bradburn have lived in Omemee.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Byron Hyland (Hazel) of Omemee, and seven grandchildren. Also left are a sister, Mrs. George Robertson (Maud), of Weston, and a brother, John, of Janetville; two brothers, George and James, and three sisters, Mrs. Samuel Stinson (Elizabeth), Mrs. William Irvine (Mary Helena), and Mrs. Thomas Shea (Isabella Adaline), predeceased him.

Death came to Mr. Bradburn Saturday after a short illness.

Pallbearers at his funeral today were James Bradburn, of Lindsay, Orton Bradburn, of Janetville, Lloyd Western, of New Toronto, Everett Stinson, of Janetville, Arthur Stinson, of Campbellford, and John McLean, Jr., of Lindsay.

FALL INJURES GIRL

Joyce Garner, 9, 1211 Kenneth Ave., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Garner, fractured both bones in her right leg when she fell on some rocks Saturday afternoon. She was given out-patient treatment at Civic Hospital.

BELMONT REGATTA POSTPONED

Civic Holiday inclement weather made it necessary for officials to postpone their tenth annual regatta until Saturday, Aug. 9; events will start at the lakefront in the vicinity of Jim Rogers' resort at 1 p.m.

NO SPROUTING YET

Grain in the field has been standing up to the rain and sun without loss of quality, according to reports from the country. Some of the wheat cut by binders is still in stook, and a lot of oats are not yet cut.

CLEAR LAKE MUSKIE

Max Swanston hooked a 9½ lb. 'lunge Saturday evening in the vicinity of Kawartha Park, Clear Lake. He thereby demonstrated that muskies are to be caught in those waters, although they may not be abounding. Mr. Swanston towed the 'lunge the short distance to the dock without announcing his luck, and Norm Graham, down from one of the cottages, helped in the landing to give it an appearance of ceremony.

NO FOREST FIRES

No bush fires were reported over the long Civic Holiday weekend, A. B. Whetaley, district forester said today. Rain is believed to be the main reason the threat was reduced. Mr. Whealtey reminds campers that under the Forest Fires Prevention Act a fire may be built without prior permission for the cooking of food and for warmth, but a permit must be obtained from the local forest fire ranger if a fire is to be built for burning rubbish or scrub land.

Charge Young Mother With Murdering Baby

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Marion Joyce Ellison, 21, today was charged with murder in the death of her five-month-old son, Robert William Ellison.

Police accuse her of strangling the baby when he cried during the night in the mother's one-room living quarters in central Toronto.

Holdup Victim Flags Wrong Auto

HAMILTON (CP)—A young man jumped on the running board of an old-model car early today and said to the driver:

"Please help us. There's been a holdup at the theatre."

With Marcel Monjoen still on the running board, the driver headed the car for the Clappison drive-in theatre.

A stranger appeared at the door of the living quarters occupied by Monjoen and his wife and Monjoen's wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Dydzak, and spoke to the driver of the car.

Too late, Monjoen realized he had flagged down a getaway car waiting for the four armed men who were raiding the theatre.

On his return to the building, Moenjoen, who had slipped away to get help after hearing the thieves order his father-in-law to hand over his money found his wife struggling with one of the intruders. He swung at the man but was knocked unconscious with a gun butt. The thieves fled in the car.

Dydzak, manager of the theatre at nearby Clappison's Corners, said the bandits forced him to open the safe and took week-end receipts of more than $5,000.

292 Tourists Ask For Information

Civic holiday weekend was a busy three days at the Junior Chamber of Commerce tourist information booth on Charlotte St.

Operator Bill Duignan reports that 292 tourists stopped at the booth for information. Saturday was the biggest day of the three with 124 tourists stopping.

The greatest demand was for road maps and approximately 250 maps of the district were given out.

Numerous demands were also made for accommodation with housekeeping cottages still tops in popularity.

Brilliant Success In Bow To Shaw: Arms and The Man

This week the Summer Theatre gives its overdue bow to Shaw and does it so lavishly, so handsomely and so expertly that the quality of the tribute compensates for its delay. The company has chosen the best-acting of the Plays Pleasant—Arms and The Man (Shaw's 'arma virumque cano' of Vergil).

The two sets and the costuming are distinguished—rich and fanciful and true to Shaw's direction. The bed-chamber in Act I is half rich Bulgarian, half cheap Viennese (contrived), with a romantically beautiful background; there is a like combination of splendor and commonness in the garden set of Major Petkoff's house, used in Act III as well as Act II. (The stove is out of this world and in Ruritania.)

The costumes of both the soldiery in dress and undress, and of the ladies are eye-taking, extravagant in fancy, color and design; Bulgar presumably, certainly in keeping with Shaw's view. Bulgaria is but a name for the scene of this anti-romantic comedy requiring a Byronic fantasy of central Europe and Monday's laundry on the bushes.

THE LOVELY AND THE HERO

There is no need to say that the play is delightful, witty and as produced on the Queen Mary stage in this day, charming with no sting. Betty Leighton plays Raina, the daughter of the Petkoffs, whose romantic love for posturing and heroes is controlled by her feminine, human nature and pricked by her chocolate soldier. Miss Leighton is lovely, winsomely youthful and gives a performance remarkable for its sympathy, its skill and nuances that Shaw demands of his actors.

Gerry Sarracini is her hero Sergius, so romantically heroic that his loftiness is unbearable, by himself and by Raina. Mr. Sarracini looks as he should like the mountain chief veneered by civilization and edged by intelligence. He plays with the sincerity the comedy requires, and the credible extravagance in voice, mood and gesture. He is completely Shavian, even to the pugnacious high bridge to his nose.

CHARM WITHOUT INSOLENCE

The "chocolate soldier" Bluntschli who knows that chocolate creams are as useful as a pistol to a professional soldier, is Bill Needles. Mr. Needles give the part his individual interpretation but plays with more charm than insolence. In fact, he seems altogether too handsome for a Swiss mercenary, too gentle and romantic for an officer of 15 years' warring, and it not "bourgeois to the boots."

Brenda Davies is Catherine Petkoff, mother of Raina, wife of Major Paul. She is handsomely stately, whether affecting the great lady of one of the richest and oldest families in Bulgaria, or being managerial and housewifely in apron; she beautifully blends Catharine's dual personality as wife of a mountain farmer and magnificent quasi-Viennese lady who has the only library in the country and an electric bell.

COMIC BLIMP

Peter Mews is the Bulgarian major patriotically going to the wars but preferring the comforts of home; a bumbling Colonel Blimp, cheerful, ineffectual and bumptious. Mr. Mews gives the part some additional comic turns, using his voice and face with extraordinary mobility.

Patricia Moore as the maid Louka and Jerry Campbell as the senior servant Nicola, take these characteristic Shaw parts with studied appropriateness; Louka pert, beautiful and passionately shrewd; Nicola with the soul of a servant—and the manner, both off and on service.

This excellent cast—there has been none better in the four years' of the Summer Theatre—is brought up handsomely and Guardishly by Ian Clark, the Russian Major Plechanoff.

PLAY DATED

The play is dated—by 1885 and 86 set to the action—and it must be confessed by Shaw. It subtitle is "An Anti-Romantic Comedy". Now, the romance was taken out of war and heroism by the First World War; this play was written before the Boer War.

Thus its vinegar has lost its acid, though it has no mother; we must take it somewhat as a period piece, but not as a revival, for "Arms and the Man" continues to be a stage favourite, with audiences as well as actors. Shaw's wit (thought there were few laughs in the first 15 minutes Monday night) and stagecraft carry it through splendidly into this second half-century; and a good company, a good setting, and good direction—all of which any Shaw play requires (Shaw asserts it in his newest Preface to "Plays Pleasant")—make "Arms and the Man" the brilliant success it was on this week's opening night.

The play is directed by Robertson Davies, the sets designed and painted by Peter Mews.—T. J. A.

Rain Slows Up Cars Fewer Accidents

COBOURG (ENS)—Held back by an intermittent rain which fell in the afternoon yesterday, traffic heading for home did not get fully under way until early evening and then formed a steady stream along the highway. Due to the length of the traffic lines, excessive speed was impossible, which likely accounted for the lack of accidents. Provincial police were on constant patrol during the week-end, watching for traffic offenders. In Cobourg last night, the line of cars frequently extended for several blocks on either side of the main street traffic lights. Rain spoiled things for most people during the afternoon but let up last night and permitted the civic holiday weekend carnival to continue.

Warkworth Woman Sprains Ankle In Fall

CAMPBELLFORD—(ENS)—Miss B. Morrison, 88, of Warkworth, suffered a sprained ankle in a fall down the stairs at her home on Saturday afternoon.

The elderly lady was alone at the time, and waited more than an hour before she called the doctor. It was at first thought the ankle was fractured, so she was taken to Campbellford hospital for X-rays, but these revealed no break in the bones and the lady returned to her home.

Struck By Auto Girl 3 Injured

Three-year-old Judith Wells of King was knocked down and injured by a truck Monday when she ran out onto the road in the village of Cresswell, 18 miles southwest of Lindsay.

She is now in Ross Memorial Hospital with cuts and bruises and slight concussion. The full extent of her injuries will be determined when she is X-rayed later today, but her condition is not serious.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, was playing in front of the post-office in the village where the Wells family were visiting the postmaster. She left a group of several other small children and dashed from behind a parked car out onto the road where she was struck by a truck just pulling up to a stop in front of the post-office.

The impact knocked Judith about six feet. When picked up by her father she was conscious and crying and she was taken to Lindsay hospital.

Driver of the truck, 27-year-old Cecil Dawson of Little Britain, told police that he was coming to a stop when the girl ran in front of his truck and was struck by the bumper.

O.P.P. Constable George Mountsteven investigated.

Rail Conciliation

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Gregg announced last night a conciliation board is being named in an effort to settle the multi-million-dollar wage-labor negotiations affecting 125,000 non-operating railway workers. He has asked that one representative be nominated by the workers and one by the railways and expressed the hope that these two spokesmen will then be able to pick a third man as a chairman.

BUILDING OR REMODELLING?
"THIS SIDING MAKES YOUR HOME BEAUTIFUL AND FIRE-SAFE"

Cedargrain Siding Shingles are another of the famous Johns-Manville asbestos-cement products. They can't burn, won't rot and never require painting to preserve them. (A big saving in upkeep, itself!) With the lovely new colours recently introduced, J-M research developed a smooth-surfaced shingle that retains the smart effect of deep graining. On old buildings or new, J-M Cedargrains combine attractive appearance with permanent sidewall protection.

TRANSITE ASBESTOS-CEMENT PIPE
Transite is the efficient, practical pipe for all pressure lines, sewage disposal and drainage purposes. Non-metallic, it can't rust, won't rot or corrode. Factory-precisioned couplings assure permanently tight joints. This feature in Transite House Connection Pipe, for example, keeps out sewer-clogging roots.

Scholarships From Debts

As a result of the war, France, the Netherlands and Italy owe Canada millions of dollars. These debts were incurred as occupation costs and for Canadian military equipment and service provided during and at the end of the war. By agreement, this money owing Canada is "blocked"; that is, it is not convertible into Canadian dollars for repayment in Canada. If Canada spends the money, she must do it in francs, guilders or lire. The blocking of these debts is a device beneficial to Canada as well as to the debtor countries, for of what use to Canada is more gold pouring into the country if it is both unusable and hampering to trade? If Italy, for instance, used the limited Canadian funds she had to pay these debts, she would have none left to buy Canadian produce which Canadians want to sell.

* * *

One use that can be made of the credit balances which Canada has in these countries is to apply them against services which France, Italy and the Netherlands can provide without interfering with trade. More than four years ago this newspaper recommended that the blocked funds be used to provide Canadians a year or two's study abroad. These countries afford distinctive and important cultural opportunities. If the blocked Canadian funds were applied to selected Canadians' tuition fees at a university or important school, and to their lodging and travel within the country, the advantages to the students, to the countries in which they study and travelled, and to Canada to which they would return, would be incalculably important. We are happy to note that the Canadian Government has now decided to use the blocked balances in France and the Netherlands to provide fellowships and scholarships for Canadians. It is expected that the system will be extended to include Italy.

* * *

Thus, at no direct cost to Canada, and with possible very great cultural, scientific and educational advantages, new scholarships are being established. The scholarships will amount to $2,000 each a year, higher in some fields of study. Mr. L. B. Pearson has announced that they will "enable students of exceptional promise to work towards a higher degree in France or the Netherlands." It is his Department of External Affairs within whose purview the blocked war-time Canadian credits come. The scholarships are not lavish, but in the depreciated currencies of Europe, $2,000 in Canadian terms should enable a scholar to live and work for a year without financial worries. Fellowships to the value of $4,000 are to be awarded mature scholars of established reputations. Candidates for both scholarships and fellowships are to be selected by a special committee, under the aegis of the Royal Society of Canada.

Stuck With Stickers

Each summer the annual rash of stickers comes out on the cars of holiday-makers. These objects are fastened to bumpers and other external parts of the automobile. They carry free advertisement for the various resorts and spectacles that the tourist has presumably visited. There is even a sticker for visitors to the North Pole, though the reader is informed in considerably smaller lettering that this is situate in the state of New York—a somewhat surprising piece of information that shatters our childlike faith in conventional atlases.

While this fashion is most widespread in the United States we venture to prophesy that like so many other things it will in due course become thoroughly acclimatized on this side of the border. Already Fort Henry, which was never called upon to fulfil the functions of repelling the Yankee invader has capitulated to this more peaceful incursion, and visitors have the name of Old Fort Henry duly emblazoned on their chariots.

These emblems are usually affixed surreptitiously while the unsuspecting visitor is inspecting the ruins or quenching his thirst. While they are gratifying to the travel-snob ("see how far we got this summer!") they are embarrassing to the modest violet type (not yet wholly extinct though becoming rare).

Should the Kawarthas continue to act on the principle that a good wine needs no bush, or should we openly encourage the descent of large hordes of back-slapping extroverts with stickers depicting Peterborough Lift Locks (largest in the world) and other attractions? There may be something in the idea, but we have not celebrated our Centennial without realizing that because an idea is new it is not necessarily progressive.

U.S. Coal Workers To Try To Match Steel Workers?

The manner in which economic developments in the United States may affect the economy of this country has often been demonstrated; the latest instance of this occurred during the recent steel strike. The prophecies that the increases granted the steelworkers, and the permission to increase the price of steel, meant the beginning of another round of inflation are thus of interest to Canadians. Also of interest is the fact that John L. Lewis has just made a move that may indicate that these prophecies are accurate.

Mr. Lewis, acting under the contract of the United Mine Workers with the coal industry, has given the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association sixty days' notice of the union's desire to terminate the contract. This association represents the Northern producers in the United States, and that fact may make the move significant, although it is often difficult to discern the motives behind the actions of Mr. Lewis.

The steel industry is just resuming operations after a long and costly strike, and it is known to be strongly opposed to any further interruption of production in the near future. The steel industry is also a large owner of coal production in the North, and it is said to have influence in formulating policy within the Northern producers' Association. It is possible, therefore, that the threat of a strike by Mr. Lewis' miners would produce appeasement in the way of a wage increase from the operators, influenced by the steel industry.

If that happened, Mr. Lewis and his union would then be in a most advantageous position to deal with the Southern Association, which includes virtually all the operators in the South. It would be a case of the steel industry squeezing the Northern operators, and the latter in turn putting the squeeze on the Southern operators—all because of a move made by Mr. Lewis. It would be the sort of strategy Mr. Lewis has shown a flair for in the past.

It will be sixty days before Mr. Lewis can legitimately threaten a strike, and during that time much coal may be mined and piled up as a reserve—a factor which might prevent a cautious man from threatening a strike. Mr. Lewis, however, has acted with great boldness before now in similar situations, and he would not be running afoul of the U.S. Government, in the beginning at least. It would seem almost certain that the notice he has handed in is intended, through some development or other, to make sure that the mine workers match the gains won by the steel workers in the recent dispute.

High Cost Of Underground Wiring

This newspaper has consistently advocated a policy of gradual replacement of the city's unsightly overhead wires by underground cables. We still urge this policy but shudder when we consider the cost.

The Utilities Commission is now beginning to eliminate overhead wiring down town. To do one side of one short block will cost about $35,000. To replace the wires along the both sides of George Street for only five blocks—from Brock to Sherbrooke streets—will cost an estimated $350,000.

This is a shocking price to pay for improving the appearance of George Street. Citizens may rest assured that the Utilities Commission would not dream of undertaking the work simply to bury unsightly wires and eliminate poles. The fact is that the present overhead wires are incapable of bearing the great load which George Street business now requires. They have to be replaced by something heavier. That replacement will be and must be underground cables. So necessity has forced—at great cost—the Commission to a policy of underground wiring.

Whether the Commission will see fit to extend the policy to include residential streets remains to be seen. Certainly it will not do so now, while the municipality is already bearing as much debt and taxation as it can afford. However, underground wiring for residential streets will not be nearly as expensive as the heavy and numerous cables required along George Street, so in time we may expect not to see wires at every glance.

Trans-Canada Marches On

Little by little the grandiose project of the trans-Canada highway makes progress. A new section of road from Britt across the French and Pickerel rivers has just been opened to traffic. The new road is still in an unfinished state, with Bailey bridges across the rivers and a long detour near Sudbury. The new stretch of road eliminates about 100 miles of route by North Bay, which is not designated like Peterborough for the honour of being on the trans-Canada highway.

Naturally the highway will take a considerable time to complete. The enormous distances and the difficulties of the terrain must not be under-estimated. Nevertheless there is a feeling of disappointment at the slow progress. The public should be kept informed by means of enlightened publicity of the steps that are being taken, the difficulties encountered and the means employed to overcome them.

Marshall Plan Success Though Failure

By ANDREW SHONFIELD
(leading British economist)

FORMALLY, the Marshall Plan, which came to an end on June 30, has been a failure; at any rate, the stated objective of "viability" for Western Europe by 1952 has not been achieved. The dollar problem is still with us, and after a period immediately following the outbreak of the Korean war when the problem seemed to be gradually approaching a solution, it now looks once again that the Marshall Plan had failed in its basic purpose. On the contrary, judged by its effect on the daily life of the average European, it has clearly been a uniquely successful operation. One of the earlier reports of the Organisation for European co-operation summed up this achievement neatly in quantitative terms, pointing out that an annual "investment" of 4,000 to 5,000 million dollars of United States aid in 1948 and 1949 had resulted in an increase in Western Europe's total output each year of 30,000 million dollars.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS CONTRAST between the acknowledged success of the Marshall Plan and its formal failure to achieve its original objective, serves to remind us of how far we have moved from the conceptions with which we started in 1948. In fact, apart from the physical changes in the economic structure of Europe that have resulted from the Plan, it has also been responsible for an important process of intellectual evolution. Ideas on both sides of the Atlantic about the relationship between North America and Europe and between the constituent elements of the European community have been progressively clarified in the course of these four years of co-operation. It is not only that the United States has been taught a great deal about Europe; Europe has also learnt a great deal that it did not know before about contemporary America.

✧ ✧ ✧

PERHAPS the most important lesson that has been learnt on this side is about the steadfastness of basic United States policies. There have been frictions and occasional uncertainties — indeed, it would have been miraculous if they had not occurred in the course of a programme which has disbursed some 12,000 million dollars of United States taxpayers' money for the benefit of strangers living at a distance 3,000 miles or more from their furthest frontiers—but throughout, the guiding principles of United States policy have been clearly maintained. These are the minimum of interference in the internal affairs of the European countries themselves and the encouragement of the maximum initiative from Europe in the field of international co-operation, even when this European co-operation ran directly counter to some immediate United States interest.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT CAN BE FAIRLY claimed that the experience of working together in these four years of the Marshall Plan has built up a habit of co-operation between governments, both among the European governments themselves and between them and the United States, which must be counted one of the most important assets of the West in the difficult period that now lies ahead. The asset is no less valuable because its practical significance in any given situation is not capable of exact measurement.

BRITAIN HAS PLAYED a special and somewhat complex role in this process of co-operative development. To begin with, it was Britain, through Mr. Bevin's initiative in seizing on a suggestion made in a public speech in 1947 by Mr. Marshall, then United States Secretary of State, which set the machinery for a European economic conference in motion. Without this immediate demonstration of serious purpose on the European side, the whole idea might well have been still-born. Britain through its wartime experience of close working partnership with the United States was in a position to reassure the sceptics who doubted the feasibility of the proposals or suspected some ulterior United States intention behind them.

In the first creative phase of the Organisation Economic Cooperation, the contribution of the very senior officials seconded by the United Kingdom Government to the Organisation was invaluable. There seemed indeed, to be a contradiction between the enthusiasm shown by Britain for the Organisation and her attitude of complete neutrality towards the projects for European political federation.

✧ ✧ ✧

FROM BRITAIN'S point of view, of course, there was no problem whatsoever in reconciling these two attitudes. Britain is a part of Europe and naturally seeks to work out its policies in active partnership with its neighbours; but it is also the centre of a much larger entity in the Commonwealth and sterling area, which is mainly located outside Europe. It follows that Britain cannot allow itself to be completely absorbed by a European political federation without destroying the other half of its personality. The gradual understanding of this position was one aspect of the process of clarification of ideas which has taken place both in the United States and in Europe during the four years of the Marshall Plan.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHAT HAS BEEN learned by Britain is the wide scope that exists for joint action with the rest of Western Europe, while maintaining the reservations inherent in Britain's membership of the Commonwealth and sterling area.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE EARLY WORK of the Organisation for European Economic Co-operation, the European Payments Union and more recently the arrangement for close collaboration between United Kingdom forces and the European Defence Community are successive stages in a continuing process. As we pass into the post-Marshall Plan period, in which the emphasis has shifted somewhat from economic to military objectives, each of the three main constituents in the Atlantic group —North America, Britain, and Continental Europe—is equipped, as a result of the four years' experience, for a more fruitful partnership in the future.

An American Opinion: LET'S GO, BOYS!

Victoria The Beautiful

(A DISPATCH TO THE LONDON TIMES)

AFTER a voyage—five hours by fast steamer—through the sheltered waters of the Strait of Georgia, never out of sight of land reminiscent of the west coast of Scotland, one arrives in what might be Devon, were there not the changing background of mountains.

Victoria's streets, its shops, its gardens look English. The houses, generally, do not, but the setting has overpowered them. The voices are predominantly English, in intonation if not always accent. The dress is English—tweeds, flannels, brogues. There are English (and Scottish) names on the letter boxes by the garden gates in the hedge-rowed lanes; and motor-cars of English make, some so ancient that modern England seems the proper place for them. Broom blooms on the little hillsides sloping to the Strait; it was introduced rather more than a century ago from the Sandwich Islands by an eccentric Scotsman who was the island's first independent (and transient) settler. The broom is a pest to the farmers now, but it increases the likeness of the region to what many Canadian-born Victorians unaffectedly call "home." There are even larks, sole survivors of a series of attempts to introduce English songbirds.

These phenomena are not all deceptive but some of them are misleading. Victoria is not quite as English as it seems. It could not be, with Canadian national consciousness growing as it has with the development of the country. It cannot be, with the constant pull of American influence, Victoria lies below the 49th parallel, and Victorians go south to Seattle, on the regular steamer route, as naturally as they go north to Vancouver.

THERE IS, however, another factor. The English tradition in Victoria dates from the development of Esquimalt, along the coast, as a base for the Royal Navy in the middle of last century. (Esquimalt is now an important base of the Royal Canadian Navy, with one of the biggest dry docks in the world.) It was the officers of the British Navy who first determined the social character of Victoria. They were the first of the regiment of British retired who decided that Victoria was a good place to live in permanently. They were joined by officers of the Royal Engineers who had worked on the fortifications, and followed by members of the Indian and colonial Civil Services. Life was easy and cheap.

The decline of the pound sterling, together with the high cost of living in Canada, has blocked the sources from which Victoria's English settlement could be replenished. There is talk of English pensioners who have left Victoria, but not much direct evidence. Most of them are probably riding out their personal economic storms. But there are few new settlers to maintain the English tradition.

VICTORIA is not a young man's town. Opportunity there is limited in an era of technical "know-how". The ties of the younger generation with England are slight. It is no longer socially preferable, even if it were financially possible to send children to English schools. The younger generation speaks with a Canadian accent, and is all the better equipped for that. Some Victorians says that Victoria's Englishness is fast becoming a myth; but even they admit that it has made a useful and perhaps lasting contribution to Canadian culture.

Between 1941 and 1951, the census years, the population of British Columbia grew from 817,000 to 1,165,000—a higher percentage increase than that of any of the other nine provinces of the confederation. Some of this increase is of old people come to retire: some is due to immigration from the continent of Europe. (Very few immigrants come to British Columbia from Britain, to the disappointment of British Columbians who are still predominantly of British stock.)

Because of the Rockies and the immensity of the prairies, which make for high freight charges, British Columbia's Canadian markets have natural limits elsewhere in Canada, the prevailing mood is one of optimism, and Mr. Clarence Wallace, the Lieutanant-Governor, believes that the province will advance as much in the next five years as it has in the past fifty.

Letter To The Editor

TREED BY TREE

Sir, In regard to your Peterborough Examiner Monday, July 28, 1952. On your front page you featured a picture which you titled "Like A Giant Broom" and it was also stated that it was located between Peterborough and Norwood. Now if I am not very badly mistaken, you will find this tree can be located between Norwood and Havelock. Am I not right?

Yours truly,
MRS. ROBERT SELF

(Ed. Note: Right; Havelock and Norwood divide the broom; Peterborough can only look on.)

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

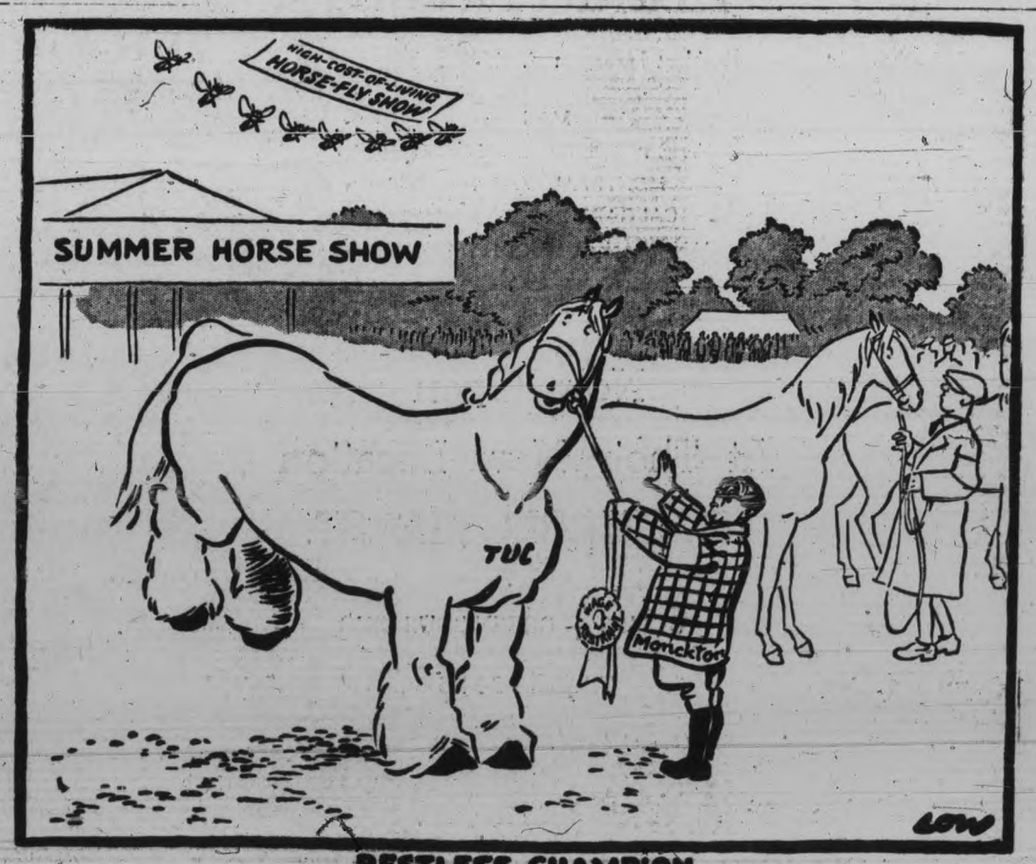
Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils. . . . Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature. . . . And these signs shall follow them that believe; In my name shall they cast out devils; they shall speak with new tongues. . . .

So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God. (Mark 16:9, 14, 15, 17, 19.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place. . . . And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance. . . .

Now when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language. . . . But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judaea, and all thee that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words; for these are not drunken, as ye suppose, seeing it is but the third hour of the day. But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Joel; and it shall come to pass in the last days, said God, I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh. (Acts 2:1, 4, 6, 14-17.)



✧ ✧ ✧

How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation. (Dan. 4:3.)

Mr. Churchill's Home

(Brandon Sun)

Mr. Churchill's country home, Chartwell is near Westerham, in Kent, and this lovely place was recently thrown open to the public at an entrance fee of two shillings a head, the takings going to the funds of the Young Women's Christian Association. Soon after ten in the morning a procession of cars, coaches and buses moved through the village and up the steep lane towards Chartwell Manor, all of them filled with people eager to see the house of perhaps the most famous of living Englishmen. A large number of the crowd were middle-aged women from the surrounding country and from London, but the visitors also included an Australian couple, a young New Zealander, two Indians and two Americans. They wandered about the grounds, where Mrs. Churchill was talking to many people, and stopped to gaze up at the red brick house that dates back to the sixteenth century and where King Henry the Eighth, so it is said, used to stay when he went down to Kent to see Anne Boleyn. They gazed at the view, so lovely and so typical of England, a vista of green fields, woods and streams that stretches over the Weald of Kent away to the South Downs. It was a view which the prime minister must have had in his mind's eye many times during the testing days of the war. General James Wolfe, the hero of Quebec to the English, was born in Westerham and the church has memorials to him.

RESTLESS CHAMPION

Kings Throughout World Having Trouble These Days

LONDON (AP)—Kings of the world, such as there are left, are having troubles these days. King Farouk I of Egypt has been banished into exile by a military coup; other monarchs in the Middle East are under pressure by their peoples demanding better living.

Political upheavals of the Second World War wiped out six monarchies. Other kings have abdicated for various reasons. Some have regency councils ruling for them.

All told, after the surging political developments of this century, there are a score of kingdoms of more or less importance around the world, and an empire or two.

The oldest reigning monarch in Europe, King Haakon VII, 80, sits on the Norwegian throne. He was crowned in 1905.

In England there is Queen Elizabeth II, who succeeded her father King George VI on his death last February. Frederik IX rules in Denmark, Gustav VI in Sweden, Juliana in The Netherlands, Baudouin I in Belgium and Paul I in Greece.

Other monarchies exist in Europe in Luxembourg, Monaco and in Lichtenstein. Kings also hold royal office in Egypt, Iraq, Iran, Saudi Arabia, Yemen, Libya, Jordan, Afghanistan, Nepal and Thailand. Emperors sit on the throne in Japan and Ethiopia.

But a regency council is actually ruling in Jordan, where King Talal is suffering from a mental ailment —and also in Iraq, where King Faisal II is not yet 18 years old. And a regency council will act for the newly proclaimed King Ahmed Fuad II of Egypt, deposed King Farouk's six-months-old son.

Prior to Farouk, the last King to abdicate was Leopold III of Belgium. He stepped aside in favor of his 20-year-old son, Baudouin, July 16, 1951 after a reign of 17 years. His enemies had accused him of being pro-German during the war.

The Second World War saw the end of monarchies in Romania, Italy, Hungary, Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania.

Municipal Board Hears Appeals Education Costs

LONDON, Ont. (CP).—Study of London's plan to make board of education estimates subject to an appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board was promised by the board Saturday as five cities endorsed the move.

North Bay, Oshawa, Sarnia, Woodstock and Port Arthur have notified London their councils have endorsed the London proposal. As the law now stands, city councils must accept the estimates of boards of education, and raise the necessary taxes.

Mayor Rush suggested to council that the right of appeal to the Ontario Municipal Board would give taxpayers protection against excessive estimates of boards of education.

Promise of consideration before the next session of the provincial legislature came from W. A. Orr, deputy minister of municipal affairs.

Mr. Orr recalled that in past years, London council has protested vigorously the controls exercised by the municipal board, particularly on what it considered as minor matters, local improvements and other services. Several resolutions to this effect have gone to the board.

ANDREW McCARRELL

Andrew McCarrell Marks 91st Birthday In Emily Twp.

OMEMEE (ENS).—Andrew McCarrell of Emily township celebrated his 91st birthday Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ivison Fee of Omemee.

Mr. McCarrel is the last of a family of 11 sons and daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McCarrell, early Irish settlers who established the McCarrell homestead on the north side of highway 7, six and a half miles east of Omemee. There Andrew was born and lived until his marriage to Ellen Wilson of Springville, in 1894, when he moved to the farm he had built on just across the road and where he still lives.

His wife died 11 years ago, but he continued to operate his farm with hired help until less than two years ago, when his grandson, Mansel Burley, took it over.

In his younger days he was a lover of good horses and took special pleasure in training colts. In business transactions, it has been said of him that his word was as good as his bond. He is a member of Bethel United Church.

STILL IN GOOD HEALTH

He still possesses all his faculties and enjoys excellent health. From both his parents he inherits longevity. His father reached the 91 mark and his mother the ripe age of 97. They had celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Mr. McCarrell enjoys getting about among his family which consists of four daughters: Lillian (Mrs. E. McCarrell of Peterborough; Ethel (Mrs. Gordon Finley) R. R. 1, Omemee; Mary (Mrs. Warner Casey), of Lochlin, and Irene (Mrs. Ivison Fee), of Omemee. He also has 13 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren, Sunday afternoon when he visited his daughter Mrs. Fee, he was surprised to find 35 of his relatives awaiting his arrival. Supper was served on the lawn and topped off with a special birthday cake. Mr. McCarrell received many birthday gifts.

New York State May Get Seaway Licence By 1953

By JAMES C. MUNN

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is possible, if enough "ifs" are resolved, for New York state to obtain by the end of the year a federal power commission licence to construct the, United States half of the St. Lawrence power project.

One big hurdle was cleared last week when the commission, in effect, agreed to reconsider its December, 1950, denial of New York's application for authority to join with the province of Ontario in the development.

After the commission had refused the licence, the power authority of New York filed suit in the U.S. circuit court of appeals for an order to send the application back to the commission.

The authority, meantime, has not been insistent for a hearing on the suit, filed months ago. This seeming indifference was based on the possibility that Congress might approve legislation authorizing U.S. participation in both the St. Lawrence Seaway and in the power project.

In that event Congress might have designated the U.S. partner in the power project. But it refused to approve the legislation.

President Truman then said his administration would do everything possible to help Canada in getting the power project under way.

This promise quickly bore fruit. The administration, through state department, joined with Canada in asking the International Joint Commission—which controls boundary waters—for approval to build the power works.

The I.J.C. now is giving the matter study. Its approval is considered certain. It is simply a question of time.

In view of these developments, and particularly after Truman said that New York would be the likely partner with Canada in the power project, the New York power authority agreed to join with the power commission in petitioning the court to dismiss its suit.

An F.P.C. spokesman said that despite the already lengthy hearings that have been held on the application, further hearings will be necessary, particularly if private interests should apply for authority to build the dam.

He said everything will be done to speed the matter through the commission.

Other persons in the commission say they believe no decision will be reached until after the Nov. 4 presidential election.

This belief is based on the fact that politics are a part of the St. Lawrence picture and also because it would be physically impossible —or nearly so—to move the matter any faster.

"COOL CONTROL"

OVERHEAD BAIT CASTING

1 Control is all-important. Index finger of right hand grips trigger of rod firmly. Thumb rests lightly on spool. Other fingers press handle of rod into palm. Thumb should be relaxed, rest of grip firm but not rigid.

2 Control comes with experience. Practise moving rod back for cast, applying thumb pressure to allow weight of bait to carry tip of rod back, for extra casting power. Relax thumb pressure when rod begins forward movement; apply again just before bait hits water.

3 Keep arm close to body. Movement comes from wrist and forearm. Fingers on handle open as rod moves back, close as rod comes forward. Concentrate on wrist movement for accuracy. Aim; come back fast; forward twice as fast. Remember — only experience gives perfect control.

Yes, it's control that counts, in fishing as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

1 Killed, 4 Hurt In Collision

BRACEBRIDGE (CP)—A Sudbury man was killed and his wife and two daughters were severely injured yesterday in a two-car collision on No. 11 highway four miles south of Gravenhurst. A Windsor couple in the second car was also injured.

Dead is Stephen Marynuk of Sudbury. A daughter Carol, 7, suffered a fractured skull, broken pelvis and serious internal injuries. She was removed from hospital here last night to the Hospital for Sick Children at Toronto, where her condition is critical.

Police said the accident happened on rain-swept Beaver Creek hill. A car they said was driven by William Doe of Windsor smashed broadside into the Marynuk vehicle.

Doe suffered a dislocated shoulder and face cuts. His wife, Mrs. Helen Doe suffered a broken ankle and face cuts.

Marynuk's wife, Mrs. Peggy Marynuk suffered internal injuries and face cuts. Another daughter, Katharine, 12, suffered a broken leg, broken elbow and a possible broken jaw.

Blows Himself Up After Divorce Agreed

OWENSBORO, Ky. (AP)—Wilbur Hicks, 32, blew himself up with an explosive in a tavern last night after telling his wife she could have a divorce.

The blast, which killed Hicks instantly, injured his wife and Harold Feldman, 32. The latter was sitting in a booth.

Officials said Hicks had hidden a half stick of dynamite or some other explosive in his belt under his shirt. It was set off when Hicks touched a wire wrapped around the explosive to a flashlight battery in his pocket.

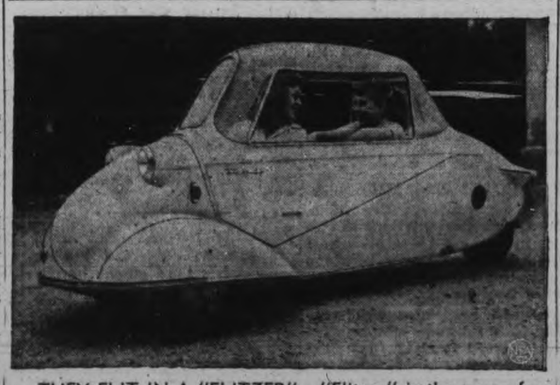
The delegates who were members of the Canadian expeditionary force in the First World War passed a resolution asking for free hospitalization for Canadian veterans of all wars, including the Korean conflict.

20-Pound Muskie From Crowe Lake

MARMORA (ENS)—Forrest Dennis landed at Crowe Lake a nice muskie on Sunday which weighed 20½ pounds and measured 40 inches. Mr. Dennis was using a worm for bait which attracted a small fish, the species of waich this inveterate angler could not determine, as when reeling it in it was grabbed and swallowed by the muskie. It took about 15 minutes fo rthe angler to land his beauty. Mr. Dennis was accompanied by Dr. Egan of Buffalo, N.Y.



Al Stiller Winner Of Bicycle Race

WINNIPEG (CP)—Al Stiller of Chicago yesterday won the annual 150-mile Winnipeg-to-Kenora Canadian championship bicycle race.

Ted Ernest, also of Chicago, was second and Bill Bullman of Winnipeg, 1951 winner, third.

The finish was the closest in recent years, no more than a bike length separating the first three riders.

Pat Murphy of Delhi, Ont., was fourth, and Art Johnson of Toronto fifth.

THEY FLIT IN A "FLITZER"—"Flitzer" is the name for this new German auto-scooter, being tried out by a couple of young women in Frankfurt, Germany. Fritz Fend, its inventor and manufacturer, is displaying it there. The tiny car, which can be entered only by swinging open the whole top, has been clocked at well over 60 miles an hour.

"At last I've got a real truck!"

OVER THE ROAD... OVER THE ROUGH ...GMC can take it!

Whatever the load, whatever the job, men who really know trucks are turning more and more to GMC's for the complete answer to their needs.

That's because GMC's are designed, built, powered and priced to be real trucks—to give you exactly the kind of economical performance and rugged dependability you require.

For instance, GMC gives you the widest range of truck engines in the industry—GMC valve-in-head gasoline engines from 92 to 200 h.p.—GMC exclusive two-cycle Diesels from 110 to 225 h.p.

What's more, GMC trucks combine the most modern advances in truck design with the ability to stand up to the toughest jobs. And they offer you the widest choice of models, wheelbases and GVW ratings—including two great new lines in the 19,500 - 45,000 GVW range.

Why not let your GMC dealer recommend a GMC truck, tractor or six-wheeler with exactly the right combination of engine, axle, transmission and frame for your particular job? It will be a real truck—in every single detail!

Kesselring Winner With 284 Kawartha Club Tournament

Gerry Kesselring won the Kawartha Invitation Golf Tournament and the Lord Calvert Trophy Monday, averaging par over the 72 holes of play. Seven strokes off the hot pace set by Kesselring was Windsor's Nick Weslock, with a 291. Weslock, last year's Kawartha winner, was trailed closely by Moe Norman of Kitchener Rockway with 292. Kesselring started off Saturday with a two-under par 69, followed it up Sunday to head the qualifiers with a par 71. In Monday's first round, he duplicated his Saturday score, then slipped six strokes to finish with a 75. Weslock was five strokes over Kesselring in the first round, then came back Sunday to shoot the best round of the three-day tournament. His 68 was three under par, two strokes over the course record.

Moe Norman, 1950's winner, didn't break par, but shot steady golf for three days, winding up with a par on his fourth round. On the three rounds previous, he was one, two and five over.

In fourth place was Keith Kirkpatrick, of London Heights Club, with a 301 total. He shot a 70 Saturday, then 73, 78, and 80. Fifth spot went to G. Ball, of Westmount Club, with 302, and sixth to D. McKellar, Scarboro, with 304.

KAWARTHA MAN WINS

Net winners in the first flight were J. Haldimand, of Kawartha —only home club winner in the first flight—with a 313-36-277. Bernie Johnston, of Glendale (Hamilton) placed second in the net winners with a 303-24-279.

Third was Grant Shirk, of Westmount, with 304-20-284, fourth was J. Gibson, Cedar Brae, with 319-32-287, and in fourth was Joe Martire, Glendale, with 312-24-288.

The course was in near-perfect condition for the assault of 274 golfers, not all of whom finished. High scores on Sunday caused a few to pick up, and the steady rain Monday morning forced some of the qualifiers for the final 36 to call a halt.

Second place Nick Weslock told club officials he thought the greens were in better shape than for last year's tournament—this, despite four putts on the 12th in one round.

Bad weather, which has been a problem in previous Kawartha tournaments, finally cracked down Monday morning. Rain started about the time the first threesome tee-ed off—at 6 a.m. It kept coming until about noon, and left the course slippery and the greens slow for the final round.

Low gross places in the second flight were closely contested, with D. McGee, of Scarboro, having a six-stroke edge of W. Rylands, of Glendale. They had 322 and 328. D. Marquis, of Scarboro, was third with 331, J. Mann, of Toronto, fourth with 332, H. Manuel, of Islington, fifth with 333, and R. Burns, of Sarnia, with 335.

Winners of net prizes in the second flight were separated by only 12 strokes. R. Crichton, of Islington, topped this group with 340-64-276. H. McLean, of Kawartha, was second with 338-56-282. Third was G. Nicoll, of Glendale, with 332-48-284, in fourth place came B. Fountain, of Mississauga, with 358-72-286. Fifth was W. MacDonald, Glendale, with 339-52-287, and sixth was H. Philp, of Weston, 352-64-288.

Third flight gross prize-winners were: W. Durant, Kawartha, 364; L. Ward, of Humber Valley, 379; and Chester Grant, of Kawartha, 385. Low net winners in the third division were R. Burns, of Peterborough, 404-120-284; J. MaGahey 384-92-292; and J. Rowe, Kawartha, 308-96-292.

Chedoke Golf Club, which has won the team prize each year for the past four years, wasn't in the running this year. Top team was from Kitchner's Westmount Club, composed of (with their scores): Gerry Kesselring, 140, Grant Shirk, 148, G. Ball, 151, D. Heller, 156. Total was 595.

In second place was Toronto Scarboro, with D. McKeller, 151, W. Givens, 152, W. Tredway, 152, and R. Pezzack, 161, for a total of 616. These scores were taken from the first two rounds.

By DON GRANT

Watching the sports scene from the sidelines for the past year, the next two weeks will see me warming the sport box bench at various games as friend Cec enjoys the balmy breezes, cool waters and sunny days on his annual rest period.

As he trips away for his two weeks holidays, many Peterborough factory workers and their families are returning to the city after the annual layoff.

For these people the following is a brief recap of the sporting events during the past two weeks.

Probably at the top of the list is the hot pace now being set by the junior baseball club, coached by Shockey Mein and Al Menzies. These lads, playing in the Lakeshore Intermediate League, have won their last seven out of nine starts. The only team they haven't beaten is the Bowmanville Roses; recently they nearly plucked that bloom.

Before entering junior playoffs this month, probably around August 20, the juniors have several more lakeshore games to complete. One will likely be held tonight at Riverside against Lindsay. In a nifty contest in Lindsay two weeks ago, the Petes won out 3-2.

Senior Petes Are Hottest Club in League.

The senior baseball Petes have not been sitting back on their haunches. In fact they are presently the hottest club in the league. Pitchers Phil Clancy and Bill Dadson have been leading that parade in the C.O.B.L. and last Friday helped edge league-leading Belleville Redmen 5-4.

That crucial game was a booster night, free baseballs for the kids, draw for baseball gloves, T.V. set and other goods. The season's best attendance was achieved, 2,300, and the fans went home well satisfied.

The Petes squeezed out the one-run win in the last of the ninth with a five-run rally, topped off by Joe Lowrey scoring on a squeeze play featuring Fred Garvey.

The Petes renew their feud with Kingston Thursday at Riverside under the lights.

Lacrosse Teams Fight For Playoff Positions

In lacrosse circles the Timbermen, coached by Bob Thorpe, and Lou Vitarelli's juniors, are scrabbling for good playoff positions. Last week the Timbermen won games over Owen Sound and Fergus in away games to keep battling for the second slot with Toronto Yorks. These teams tangle Friday at Miller Bowl.

As far as the lacrosse juniors are concerned, they'll be in action on Saturday against Mimico. These clubs are running neck and neck for third place in the Ontario league and the game will be a "must" for Lou's boys.

Canada's Largest Amateur Golf Tourney

The weekend's feature was Canada's largest amateur golf tourney, the Kawartha Open. Highlighting the 250-man invasion were Gerry Kesselring, Ontario champion, Nick Weslock, Moe Norman and Keith Kirkpatrick. These four golfers, probably Ontario's best amateurs, were followed closely around 72 holes of golf by large galleries.

Spectators didn't realize that they were watching three-quarters of Ontario's team in the Willingdon Cup play later this month. Gerry, Nick and Keith along with Phil Farley of Toronto will compete with other provinces in British Columbia.

Most golfers attending the Kawartha tourney, will move to Kingston Wednesday for the Ontario medal championship, now held by Kesselring. As ever Gerry figures his biggest threat as Nick Weslock, followed by Gord Ball of Kitchener, Jack Nash of London, Keith Kirkpatrick of London and Kitchener's Moe Norman.

Kesselring, winner of the Kawartha, will move to Seattle, Washington, on August 18 for the U.S.A. open championship. There he figures he has "got a chance, providing I get the breaks at the right time."

A little rusty on sports, I would appreciate a telephone call from anyone wishing games mentioned. Best time is between 8:30 a.m. and 10 a.m.

Whitakers Down North Toronto

Whitaker's cricketers were in Toronto on Saturday to play a return match with North Toronto who had beaten the locals at Nicholls Over on July 12 by 111 to 49.

On Saturday the Petes avenged this defeat by easily defeating the North Toronto men. The final score was North Toronto, 54; P.W.'s, 60 for 2 wickets.

North Toronto batted first and made a fair start thank to T. Chamberlain 14 and T. Foster 9, but then came disaster and the 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th wickets fell with the total 28. Then E. Grant 14 and T. Gooding 10 not out, put on 22 for the last wicket and the total was 54.

Bowling honors were shared by F. Booth 5 for 22; G. Boardman, 4 to 12. When the Petes went to bat they made a bad start, losing 2 wickets for 8, but then F. Booth joined B. Roberts, who had gone in first, and scored the winning run without being parted, leaving Roberts not out 27 and Booth not out 24. This is a very encouraging win for the home team who have not had good fortune lately. Score:

North Toronto. — Batting: F. Foster 9, T. Challenger 14, E. Halls 0, K. Wood 1, H. Morley 1, W. Leach 0, B. Sutton 0, J. Lengbridge 0, R. McConachie 0, E. Grant 14, D. Gooding 10. Extras 5. Total 54. Fall of wickets—1 for 17, 2 for 17, 3 for 24, 4 for 29, 5 for 29, 6 for 29, 7 for 29, 8 for 29, 9 for 32, 10 for 54. Bowling: F. Booth 5 for 22, A. Boardman 4 for 12, K. Illingworth 1 for 15.

Peterborough - Whitaker's. — Batting: B. Roberts 27 not out, F. Scott 3, E. Cotton 5, F. Booth 24 not out. Extras 1. Total 60 for 2 wickets. G. Boardman, W. Cridland, H. Dibben, K. Illingworth and J. Chamberlain did not bat. Fall of wickets: 1 for 3, 2 for 8. Bowling: R. Sutton 1 for 15, D. Gooding 1 for 22, K. Woods 0 for 10, E. McConachie 0 for 12.

Next Saturday, August 9, the P-W's play Grace Church "B" in Toronto.

Redmen Break Losing Streak

BELLEVILLE.—The Belleville Redmen broke a five-game losing streak here Saturday night by trimming the Prescott Merchants, 12-3, in a Central Ontario baseball league fixture. After spotting the visitiors' single runs in the first and second frames, the Redmen pushed across five runs in the bottom half of the second to take command.

Bill Strahan went the route for the winners and gave up eight hits. He struck out four and walked two. Leclaire and Murdock shared the chore for the visitors. Between them they were nicked for 14 safeties with Leclair being tagged with the defeat.

Mouse Bush, with a triple, double and single, and Al Kelleher, with three singles, paced the attack for the Redmen, while Dick Fitzpatrick, Pat Gilmour and Red Carson each claimed a pair. Goldie Lockhart and Jack Render each claimed three hits for the visitors.

Ontario Leads Cricket Matches

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario, with two wins and a draw, led last night after three days of play in interprovincial cricket matches.

Ontario downed Quebec by five wickets in Toronto yesterday. In Ottawa Sunday, Ontario won from Alberta by nine wickets after playing a draw with British Columbia in the capital Saturday.

Manitoba and Quebec each has won one match and lost one. Manitoba, which played both its matches at London, defeated Quebec Saturday 107-74 and then lost to Alberta yesterday, 80-73.

British Columbia has two draws, its one with Ontario and another with Quebec at Toronto Sunday.

Matches continue this week at London, St. Catharines, Toronto and Ottawa.

Reds Say U.S. Keeps Athletes Under Wraps

MOSCOW (AP)—Two Russian correspondents of the Literary Gazette today wrote from Helsinki that the officials of the United States delegation did everything in their power to set up an iron curtain around the American Olympic team.

The correspondents—Anatalii Sofronou and Nikolai Latyshev—said the American officials tried to hide their athletes in order to keep them from making friends with the Russians.

During the Olympic games, U.S. and Russian athletes mingled freely. The rowing teams worked out together, swapped tips and friendly banter, and the rival coaches shared a single launch.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

A beaming Sam Snead, his lost confidence restored, looks eagerly to Thursday's start of golf's most fantastic money chase—the $90,000 "world championship" at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

First award in this 72-hole scramble of leading pros is $25,000, an unprecedented golf payoff that sets Snead and all the rest straining at the leash.

Sunday, Snead scampered through a downpour that struck while he was on the eighth hole for a fourth round 65. This gave him a 271 total to breeze to victory in Tam's all-American tourney.

His 17-under-par tally was good for the $3,420 first prize with an eight stroke edge over Tommy Bolt, who finished second with 279 and won $2,360.

Grouped at 280 were Wally Ulrich, Jack Burke, Jr., and Cary Middlecoff, the all-American defending champion and leading money winner of the season.

Well down the list were the Canadian entrants, Stan Leonard, of Vancouver, with 301, and Pat Fletcher, of Saskatoon, with 316.

LEAR UP AUGUST 7

Coach Les Lear of Calgary Stampeders football team and linecoach Ed Champagne reserved plea and were remanded to August 7 when they appeared in court in Calgary Saturday charged with assault occasioning bodily harm.

The charge was laid by Mel Embree, Negro end trying out for the Western Interprovincial Football Union team. Bail was set at $100.

Embree said that Lear and Champagne asked him to come to the dressing room following a practice Thursday and offered him a contract. He said the amounts in the contract were half what he was previously offered and he refused to sign. He said Lear and Champagne then "jumped" him.

WINS FREEMAN CUP

A Youngstown, N.Y., yacht yesterday won the 120-mile Freeman Cup race from Sodus, N.Y., to Toronto. Ken Hamilton captained the six-metre craft named Jack.

Best elapsed time was chalked up by Judge John Vanvoorhis, of Rochester, with 18 hours, nine minutes and six seconds.

Trio Get Perfect Scores At Match

LONG BRANCH (CP) — First matches in the Ontario Rifle Association's 71st annual military shoot yesterday was postponed three hours by heavy rain and poor visibility.

Because of the delay, results in two matches were held up and the third — the President's match — were to be announced today.

Miss M. E. Foster and Lieut. S. E. Wheeler, of the British Bisley team, and CSM. J. A. Draper, of Algonquin, Ont., got perfect scores in the Bankers' match at the 200 and 500-yard ranges.

Cadet Lieut. R. V. Robinson, of Orillia, won the 200-yard tyros' match for the City of Hamilton Trophy with a perfect score of 35 and was closely followed by 12 others with 34.

The shoot has attracted some 250 entries, with women well represented, from Canada, the United States and Britain.

In the Bankers match, Capt. H. McBratney, of Brockville, was one of 10 tied for second place with 99.

Cricketers Lose Holiday Match To Carleton Club

By C. H. IRESON

The local cricket club, playing as Peterborough County, lost heavily to Carleton County from Ottawa Monday at Nicholls Oval, the final score being Carleton County 74 for two wickets and Peterborough 70.

The Peterborough cricketers batted first and had two wickets for three, but Ward with 20 and Cotton with 18 improved matters and it was four for 31. Later H. Dibben with 10 and Freeman with seven not out helped raise the total to 70.

Harry Pyle who took four wickets for four runs for Carleton County is a well-known Peterborough player.

Carleton easily earned their winning margin with only two men out. A. Charmley with 28 and E. Creed with 30 not out were Ottawa's best performers.

Peterborough were without the services of F. Booth who was playing for Ontario against the Quebec provincial team in Toronto. A consistent high scorer, Booth was badly missed.

The next Toronto Council match is against Grace Church "B" in Toronto Saturday, August 9.

It is noted that the Carleton County consists of players selected from four Ottawa teams.

Summary of Saturday's play:

Batting: Peterborough—B. Roberts 1, Smith 3, Ward 20, Scott 1, E. Cotton 18, Boardman, J. Cridland 1, H. Dibben 10, Freeman 7, K. Illingworth, F. Dyer 4 not out, extra 2, total 70.

Carleton County—A. Charmley 28, H. Pyle 3, E. Creed 30 not out, J. Coison 2 not out, extras 8, total 74 for two wickets.

Fall of wickets: Peterborough—1 for 3, 2 for 3, 3 for 13, 4 for 31, 5 for 34, 6 for 35, 7 for 56, 8 for 62, 9 for 63, 10 for 70.

Carleton—1 for 23, 2 for 64.

Emile Zatopek Star Of '52 Olympics

By ALAN HARVEY

HELSINKI (CP) — The 1952 games will be remembered as the Zatopek Olympics.

In a Canadian Press poll of sports writers, Emile Zatopek, the incomparable Czech runner, emerged incontestably as the individual star.

The games formed a brilliant jamboree of sports, where anybody who didn't break a record was practically passe the next afternoon. But Zatopek, running like a refugee from a Finnish steam bath to win the 5,000-metres, the 10,000 and the marathon, was the unanimous choice of a half dozen newspaper men to head the Olympics "big six."

Zatopek was picked by Ted Smits of the Associated Press, Vernon Morgan of Reuters News Agency, Bob Busby of the Kansas City Star, E. W. Slipp Carr of the Sydney, Australia, Daily Telegraph, John Beavan of the Manchester Guardian, and Barney McElwaine of the London Sunday Pictorial.

HARD TO CHOOSE

Few of the writers could agree on the stars in the Czech's shadow. Votes ranged widely among a cast of champions, nearly every one a record-buster.

Most were in the realm of track and field but Smits went beyond that in putting on his list Canada's George Genereux, the 17-year-old high-school student from Saskatoon who won the Dominion's only gold medal in the clay-pigeon trapshooting event.

Smits said he picked Genereux largely because of the marksman's youth as well as his brilliant performance.

Five votes went to Australia's Marjorie Jackson, 21-year-old typist who ran the 200 in 23.4 seconds, two-tenths of a second better than the old world mark. She had previously broken the Olympic record and equalled the world mark in winning the 100-metre dash in 11.5.

Yanks Blank Senators 1-0 As Reynolds Seeks 13th

By JIM KENSIL, Associated Press Sports Writer

Remember when Hal Newhouser and Dizzy Trout combined their talents to hurl the Detroit Tigers to the 1945 American League pennant? Then Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn came along with the 1948 Boston Braves and delivered a one-two pitching punch that landed the National League flag.

Don't look now, but Vic Raschi and Allie Reynolds, a pair of New York Yankee moundsmen, are threatening to do it all over again.

Raschi tossed his 11th straight win last night, a 1-0 blanking of Washington Senators that brought his season slate to 13-2.

REYNOLDS SEEKS 13TH

Tonight, Reynolds faces the same Senators and will be shooting for his 13th in 20 starts. The two Yank righthanders with 25 wins between them have accounted for better than 40 per cent of their team's 62 triumphs.

Raschi scattered six hits and fanned eight while walking only one last night.

The Yanks won it in the sixth inning when Bob Poretrfield walked Gil McDougald with the bases loaded to force over Hank Bauer with the game's only tally.

3½-GAME EAD

The Yanks now are 3½ games in front of Cleveland and another full game ahead of Boston, both idle last night along with the rest of the American League and all of the National.

It looks as if Raschi and Reynolds will have to carry the load through the last 49 Yankee games, 26 of which are on the road. After Labor Day they play 18 games away from Yankee Stadium and only three at home.

Cleveland, which is able to employ a set pitching rotation, has 50 contests remaining, 26 of them at home. And while the Yanks are on the road in the stretch month, the Indians won't leave home after Labor Day until the final two days of the season.

The Red Sox, too have a better schedule than the world champions. They have eight home dates in the crucial month.

Toronto Splits Twin Bill With Syracuse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Syracuse Chiefs have three hefty sluggers who are giving the International League fences a thorough going over.

Fenton Mole is the leader of this murderous band with 18 homers—second to Baltimore's Roy Weatherly, who has 20. Johnny Blatnik has poled 17 and Hank Workman 14.

It was three home runs in the nightcap of last night's doubleheader against Toronto that gave the Chiefs a 6-3 victory and an even split after the Maple Leafs took the opener 4-1. The Chiefs remain in second place, 6½ games behind Montreal.

Mole, the powerful first sacker, smashed two home runs for the third time this year.

The two clubs were tied 3-3 after the first five innings of the second game. Then Carden Gillenwater put Syracuse ahead with a shot over the left-field barrier in the sixth and the Chiefs were never in danger again. John Griffore, who pitched five innings, was credited with his 11th victory.

In the opener, Leafs got to Syracuse starter Arnie Landeck, early, pushing across one run in the second and adding three in the fourth. The big blow was Grover Bowers' bases-loaded single.

Winner Hal Hudson and reliever Ray Shore collaborated to hold the Chiefs to five singles.

Rain washed out games between Rochester and Montreal and Springfield and Buffalo, and a doubleheader between Baltimore and Ottawa.

Toronto Club Wins Canoe Assoc. Burgee

MOONEY'S BAY, Ont. (CP)—The Canadian Canoe Association burgee—emblematic of club supremacy—went back to the Toronto Sailing and Canoe Club Saturday after an absence of 39 years. It led the field of 17 clubs with a total of 40 points, seven points ahead of Montreal Grand Trunk.

The Sudbury club was tied for seventh spot with Lachine, Que., and one of its competitors—Don Stringer—won the senior singles, one of the top events. Stringer finished the mile course in 4:28.4.

IT WAS THE END of a perfect day as Canada's Lorne Main, iron-man of the Mexico vs. Canada Davis Cup Tie, Walks off the Mount Royal courts, winner over Mario Llamas. The five set battle highlighted the closing matches in which Canada swept the Tie 5-0. With Main is Captain George Leclerc, hailed as the "brains" behind the Dominion's decisive victory.

Canada Scores 5-Match Win Over Mexico In Davis Cup Play

MONTREAL (AP)—Canada's five-match victory over Mexico in Davis Cup play last week-end marked the seventh time since 1913 that this country has won a round in this international tennis classic. Four of the triumphs were against Cuba.

The victory sends Canada against the United States here next week-end. The winner of this series takes on Italy, winner in the European zone, for the privilege of challenging Australia, present holder of the cup.

Canada's biggest year was 1913 when she made the final round, only to be downed by the United States 3-0. The Americans then went on to challenge and defeat Britain which held the cup.

In the first round that year, Canada first put South Africa away 3-1 and then beat Belgium 4-1 in the second round. This country's next four victories were chalked up against the hapless Cubans in 1924, 1925, 1933 and 1951.

Canada's victory over Mexico was her first in the three times the two countries have met. Mexico downed Canada 5-0 in 1946 and 4-1 in 1948.

Canada and the United States have met eight times in the past. Canada has never won, and in most cases has been beaten in straight matches.

In the two final singles matches against Mexico Sunday, Lorne Main downed Mario Llamas, 6-4, 3-6, 6-8, 6-4, 6-1, and Brendan Macken disposed of Manuel Galeana 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

These two victories gave Canada a clean sweep of the five-game series following victories in the two opening singles and Saturday's doubles.

Remember When—

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The last yachting series for the America's Cup was a triumph for Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger, the American defender, over the British Endeavor II owned by T. O. M. Sopwith 15 years ago today. Ranger won her fourth straight over the course at Newport, R.I., extending the string of American successes which began in 1851.

SIGNS "PEACE" PACT—President Truman, visiting in Kansas City, Mo., ratifies the peace convention pact between the U.S., Britain and France and Western Germany. Canada Can Face Rest Of 1952 With Confidence Bank Declares

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canada can look with confidence to the second half of 1952, says the Canadian Bank of Commerce in its mid-year review.

Barring international tensions and assuming production continues its steady improvement, the bank says it can be assumed business will continue "a stable course" through the remainder of the year and gross national production will reach a new high for 1952 as a whole.

The review says that in the last six months the Canadian economy has weathered well the government's attempt "to mesh a defence with a peace economy without undue prejudice to either."

STRAINS AT MINIMUM

"While there will necessarily be times when the needs of one will impinge upon those of the other, government policy has been directed to holding the stresses and strains of conflicting interests to a minimum."

A firm policy was required to achieve results against the inflationary forces in such a situation, but the policy still must be "flexible" enough to stop any slackening in business activity that might result from direct curbs on wages or prices.

DISCUSSES TRADE OUTLOOK

In foreign trade during the months ahead, "the preoccupation with their currencies and foreign balances of certain countries with which we are accustomed to trade exposes our exports and imports to the possibility of modifications."

"Preparations for defence production now have reached the stage where more and more orders can be filled. The increase in the rate of defence expenditure will undoubtedly have a buoyant effect, particularly in certain regions and industries."

"The effects of such outlays at present or currently anticipated levels should not, however, be overestimated as an inflationary potential."

Conservative Unity Intact As Summer Recess Starts

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON (Reuters). — The Conservative government reached the parliamentary summer recess at the weekend with its essential unity intact after nine turbulent months in power.

Public irritation has resulted from the government's handling of a number of minor issues but a few conservative falls from grace will not, in the long run, affect the country's assessment of it.

When the time comes for another election Prime Minister Churchill will stand or fall by the all-important job of putting Britain's economy on a firm basis.

The Labor party, meanwhile, is having a heavy time of it. Its period in opposition has revealed dangerous schisms and splits and the emergency of a growing struggle between Aneurin Bevan's left wing and the official Labor leadership headed by former Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

PERSONAL CLASH

This serious breach was underlined last week in personal clash in which Attlee rebuked Bevan publicly for referring to confidential cabinet discussions in parliament. The left-winger threw the charge back in his leader's teeth.

Yet, public opinion polls indicate labor would go back into power if there were an election tomorrow.

A straw poll held recently showed 50 per cent of those approtched said they would vote labor if there were an election, compared with 40 per cent still in favor of the Conservatives.

But there is no likelihood of an election in the near future. Churchill's over-all majority of seven in the 625-seat parliament is adequate for all purposes.

A FULL GROWN FALCON which left his lofty perch atop the Sun Life Building in Montreal to go on a hunting expedition among bird life on a lower level, found himself in the custody of the Montreal fire department over the weekend. Promptly christened "Two Alarm" by firemen, the falcon zoomed into the fire hall close on the tail feathers of a frightened sparrow—who sought the fire station for protection—possibly mistaking it for a police station. A fireman closed the doors as the birds flew in and spent uncomfortable moments ducking the feathered creatures as the battle raged. The sparrow escaped through a narrow opening in an upper window. The falcon crashed against the window and knocked himself out. Upon arrival of newsmen the falcon recovered from his crash landing. He took off as firemen and newsmen scattered for cover. The falcon made several sorties of the fire hall then headed for what he apparently thought was an open window. There was a shattering of glass as "Two Alarm" knocked himself out for the second time. The firemen gave the Falcon "the bird" and turned him over to the S.P.C.A.

Theatre Safe Blown, $1,000 Stolen

Early Morning Theft "Professional" Cobourg Police Say

COBOURG (ENS) — Pulling what is described as "a really professional job," safecrackers blew a safe in the office of the Park Theatre and escaped with more than $1,000 early today.

Entry was gained by prying open a restroom window at the south east corner of the building, in plain view of passing traffic on Highway 2 or anyone passing by on either side of the street. The area around the theatre is also well lighted with street lights.

Once inside, the window was closed, leaving no evidence from the outside that the theatre had been broken into.

The blown safe was discovered by Mrs. Alice Anderson when she came in in the morning to begin cleaning. Mrs. Anderson noticed a strong odor (caused by the explosive used to blow the safe) but at first believed it was some new kind of disinfectant.

Then, she saw the office door of manager Mrs. Ruth Harrison ajar and discovered the safe had been blown. Apparently the safecrackers were frightened away, because they left a bundle of money, containing about $200 in bills and also some change which could easily have been scooped up and taken also.

TECHNIQUE USED

Soap was carefully placed around the spot on the safe where the explosive was poured and it was evident that it was detonated electrically from a wire, unrolled just outside the office door.

The fact that no windows in the office, or in the front door of the building just five feet away were broken by the force of the explosion leads police to believe that experts did the job.

No nearby residents were awakened by the sound of the explosion which was strong enough to break the safe open and the constable on patrol did not hear any unusual noise either. Consequently, it appears that the robbers knew exactly the right quantity necessary to crack the heavy safe.

They left by the rear fire escape door, closing it behind them, and again leaving no evidence that the theatre had been entered.

The thieves picked an ideal time to blow the safe, because it contained the receipts of Saturday's matinee and evening shows, the Sunday midnight show and the Monday matinee and evening shows. As a result, there was an unusually large amount in the safe, because all banks were closed Monday for Civic Holiday.

Fire Razes Alderville Barn Does Damage Set At $2,500

ROSENEATH (ENS)—An empty barn, owned by Albert Bigwin of Alderville, burned to the ground Monday night on the Alderville Indian Reservation, five miles west of Roseneath. The loss is estimated at $2,500. But for the earlier rain which made nearby foliage damp it is believed the fire would have swept north, a mile and a half through the bush, to Rice Lake. Cause of the fire is not known.

The barn, located south of Rice Lake in Alnwick township, was on the old Peter Comego farm, owned by Mr. Bigwin since 1946.

Flames shooting from the roof of the barn were noticed 9:30 p.m. by Fred Echiel of Cleveland, Ohio, who is staying at Joe Kelly's Tourist Home, a mile and a half to the north. Mr. Echiel told the Kellys who turned in the alarm. Then they raced to the scene to see if they could salvage anything from the flames.

By the time they got there the frame was collapsing and they were unable to do anything but stand and watch the fire demolish the barn.

There was no livestock or valuable equipment in the barn. It was not being used as Mr. Bigwin is working in Clarkson.

The blaze attracted several hundred spectators and motor traffic on the Roseneath-Harwood road was snarled up for sometime.

LIGHTNING KILLS HORSE

Although lightning left no visible mark of its course on Stan Warner's barn Saturday afternoon some four miles from Chandos Lake, two horses were knocked down, and one of them apparently was killed outright. They were recently listed for sale. The second horse appeared to be unhurt. That freak of the electrical storm was related today by one of the cottagers.

Juniper Island Regatta Biggest of Summer Season

The biggest regatta of the Kawarthas, the Juniper Island affair was held on the weekend with unfavorable weather conditions on Monday. Although morning showers lowered the usual large attendance, all events were keenly contested. The three-day program, starting Saturday, of approximately 52 events included power boat, canoe, skiff, sailing and swimming races. The Stony Lake power boat races were held Saturday afternoon followed by a dance at the Juniper club house. Sailing races for the Visitors and Juniper Cups were held off Viamede hotel Sunday. Michael Bonnycastle captured the Visitors trophy and the Juniper trophy was won by Art Teamerson's sloop, the Habitant. The crew included Harold Knapman, Mr. Teamerson and Hugh Drake.

The Juniper Senior and Junior regattas were held Monday.

The regatta was climaxed early Monday evening when trophies and prizes were presented by R. K. Slater, commodore of the Stony Lake Yacht Club, in the club house.

The Stony Lake open power championship was won by Don Wolfe with Doug Laird taking second place.

Championship of the senior regatta was Lee Willoughby and Heather Brokshill won the junior championship trophy.

Les Crowe won the long distance single canoe and second place was won by Derry Smith. Les Crowe also won the men's single canoe race with Derry Smith placing second.

LADIES' SINGLE CANOE

The ladies' single canoe race was won by Lee Willoughby. Second place went to Joan Townsend, who won the girls' long canoe race under 16 years. Becky Reed placed second in this race.

The winner of the men's open swim was Al Barker. R. Fairhorn was second.

Lee Willoughby placed first in the ladies' open swim with J. Staples, second.

Big Muskie Lost After 2½ Hours

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — A 'lunge in Crow Bay has become a legend and has been nicknamed "Moby Dick." Moby has defied the efforts of one angler from Ohio for the past fifteen years; each year he hooks the fish, and each year it breaks his line and disappears. Several residents of Campbellford have tried to catch the big fellow, and he has been seen quite often.

Bill Watson, a police sergeant from St. Catharines, hooked the monster on Friday evening, when, assisted by numerous other anglers, he battled it in Bradley Bay south of this town.

Mr. Watson was trolling in the bay when the big fellow struck. For two hours Watson played the fish, trying to tire him out, and during the two hours, the fish did not break water.

After the first half hour or so, other boats came alongside to watch the fish landed. Watson's outboard ran out of gas and he was taken aboard another boat operated by Leroy Good, of Detroit. When that boat ran out of gas, a man identified only as "Mr. Manning" used his boat as a base of operations.

After two hours, the fish broke water and the men in the boats could plainly see that it was a monster 'lunge. For 35 minutes the fish jumped and played, towing the boat first in one direction and then in the other, until, finally seeming to tire of the sport, the 'lunge came close to the boat, leaped from the water, broke the line, then swam among the various boats nearby. He finally disappeared with an enormous flap of his tail on the still waters of the bay and the men in the 20 or 25 boats that had gathered didn't see him again.

Observers who saw the fish all agree that it was by far the largest they had seen in some time. "It must have been close to six feet long if it was an inch," said L. Good, of Detroit. Estimates of the weight of the big fellow place it as close to 60 pounds.

For George Bailey, who operates a summer resort at the spot, the episode was nothing new. He has seen the fish, along with other residents and visitors, each year for the past four years, and although the fish has followed baits and has been seen drifting along near the surface of the water on many occasions, this is the first time he has ever struck.

While the battle of more than two hours and a half was going on, an 11-year-old boy from Kent, Ohio, landed a 'lunge measuring 52 inches and weighing 28½ pounds. The fish was very narrow. Other fish as long as 52 inches have weighed over 35 pounds.

July Building Increases $165,392 Over July 1951

Peterborough's building permits for July amounted in value to $715,821 as compared with $550,428 in the seventh month last year, an increase of $165,393. Total for the year to July 31 was $2,415,353, as against $2,492,810 for the corresponding seven months of 1951.

Last month's permits were: 12 garages $3,006; 13 dwellings $102,400; and 76 miscellaneous $610,415; total $715,821.

And in July last year: 24 garages $5,986; 16 dwellings $139,600; 86 miscellaneous $404,842; total $550,428.

In the miscellaneous list of permits issued through the office of City Engineer Chalmers the two bulkiest items were the new building at Western Clock, estimated cost of $300,000; and the St. John the Baptist Roman Catholic Church at Wilson and Harman Sts., $280,000, and rectory $15,000. Rev. Dr. F. Grant is the parish priest.

Railway Strike Threat Erased

NEW YORK (AP).—A strike threat against the New York Central Railroad's lines east of Buffalo were erased yesterday for at least the time being. More than 80,000 passengers could have been affected.

"No strike is imminent," declared Wilbert L. Reed, assistant to the president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, as he emerged from day-long peace talks with the railroad.

Further negotiations were set for today on some 300 working rules and grievances that have been hanging fire for two years. They include problems of extra pay, switching, changing engines, size of crews and a host of others.

APPLICATIONS will be received by the undersigned for the position of Caretaker at the Reforestation Area, County of Peterborough. The Caretaker to reside in House on Reforestation Area. Applicants to state salary expected. Lowest or any application not necessarily accepted.

Further particulars relative to the position may be procured at the Office of the County Clerk, Court House.

Applications to be in the hands of the County Clerk by twelve o'clock noon, Saturday, August 16th, 1952.

J. A. SPURWAY,
Clerk, County of Peterborough.

ENDING A RECORD-BREAKING distance flight on the last leg of their Atlantic crossing, two U.S. Sikorsky H-19 helicopters cross the coastline of Scotland near Ayrshire. Capping the first helicopter flight across the Atlantic, the Air Sea Rescue Squadron helicopters broke a distance record by flying the 850 miles from Keflavik, Iceland, to Prestwick, Scotland. The hop-skip flight began at Westover, Mass., Air Force Base. The giant "eggbeaters" will now be attached to the rescue squadron at Wiesbaden, Germany.

Coffee Bags Latest Thing Introduced For Consumers

By BILL MINEHART

DENVER (AP)—A Denver firm is marketing a single-cup coffee bag it hopes will achieve the commercial popularity of the familiar tea bag and banish the coffee measuring spoon forever.

The company has distributed the dunkable bag in six cities. It is the only firm engaged in a country-wide campaign to woo the country's coffee-drinking millions to its formula for a cheaper, better brew, made in the cup to the drinker's own taste.

It admits, however, it may take "a few years" to match the tea bag sales.

For those who doubt the ultimate success of their product, company officials point to the scoffs and cynics who laughed when the Lipton Company first introduced tea bags in the early 1900's.

"Now," says Vice President Frank J. Haberl of the Cup Brew Coffee Bag Company, "more than half of total tea sales in the country are made in bags."

The evolution of Cup Brew's marketable product was a long one. "The New York tailor who sold Lipton on the idea of a tea bag was actually looking for a coffee bag," Haberl explains.

"He failed because the techniques of out day were not available to him."

The modern coffee bag was developed by Leon Brams, a Chicago inventor. Abrams assigned his patent to the company for commercial exploitation.

The Denver company does not manufacture the bags. Coffee distributors in Denver, Kansas City, Seattle, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Philadelphia buy the rights from them and produce their own bags. Machines for their manufacture are provided by the Colorado Corporation.

One machine produces 4,500 bags an hour.

Made of cellulose fabric, the bags are tasteless, highly porus and non-woven. They look like folded filter papers. Because of different chemical properties, coffee bags made of cloth and paper carry their flavor into the cup. Tea bags made of the same materials do not.

The product was first introduced during 1950 in Denver with the co-operation of the University of Denver school of business which ran surveys to test the tea bags' response.

"The findings," Haberl says, "convinced us we had a product which was a mighty interesting one to the public." In addition to United States distribution, the firm has received inquiries from several Scandinavian and South American countries.

As to the price of cup-brewed coffee versus the traditional methods, Haberl contends coffee making, with the heat-sealed bags is more efficient and slightly less in price—cup-for-cup.

He expects a gradual changeover. The bags, he says, will never replace dehydrated coffee.

Noting the success of the tea bag, Haberl predicts individual coffee bag sales eventually will account for most of the coffee sales in the nation.

READY TO SLIP into the water at Port Arthur, Ont., the giant Canada Steamship Lines freighter Thunder Bay, awaits only the smashing of the traditional champagne bottle, and the clipping of the ribbon before she splashes off the ways. Czechs Plan New Anti-Religious Drive

By HUBERT HARRISON

VIENNA (Reuters)—A new, all-out campaign against religious teaching and all religions, especially the Roman Catholic, is in the offing in Communist Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

Experts here say this was presaged in two recent attacks against religion in the two countries.

Until recently, after the initial "purging" of church leaders, such as Archbishops Mindszenty and Grosz, tactics of the Communists in both countries was to try to win over priests to their service.

But this did not suit the real doctrinaire Communists, who want to follow in detail the course mapped out by the Bolsheviks after the Russian Revolution.

In Czechoslovakia, the "extermination" attack was launched by Minister of Information Vaclav Kopecky at Prague in a speech to the Society for the Dissemination of Political and Scientific Knowledge.

Declaring war on "religious obscurantism, religious superstition and reactionary clerical thought," Kopecky added that there are only two kinds of people who go to church in Czechoslovakia nowadays:

STOP AT NOTHING

"There are people who go. . . only to demonstrate their opposition to the people's democracy and Socialism, to gain courage in church to invoke American imperialism in God's name and to conjure up war by means of prayer."

The other kind are "those who go to church because of superstition—people of antiquated thought. . ."

These, he concluded, must be taught better. When they have been re-educated and no longer go to church those, left will all belong to the class of "conspirators" against whom "we stop at nothing."

A few days after this, Matton Horvath, a former journalist, rapidly emerging as an ideological expert in Hungary, told the central leadership of the Hungarian Workers' Party in Budapest a similar story.

"MOST UNWISE"

"The trials of Mindszenty and Grosz represented a heavy defeat for the enemy," he said. "But this does not entitle us to believe the followers of Mindszenty and Grosz have turned from the wolves of yesterday into innocent lambs of today."

"It is an intolerable situation that in certain places party officials take part in manifestations of the church," he said.

"How can anyone teach the people who allows to interfere in the education of his own children those who use every means of spiritual terror to make the children turn against the state and even against their own Communist parents," he demanded.

Experts in Vienna interpret Horvath's statement to mean that priests who help the party are still to be "used" until they are no longer needed and are then to be "liquidated."

They say a new full-scale attack is indicated by the fact that even in rural villages teachers are 'persuading' the parents that "it would be most 'unwise' to enroll your child for religious instructions."

VICTORIA, B.C. (CP)—Education Department officials said a teacher shortage threatens in British Columbia because so many are getting married. At the same time an increase of 15,000 is forecast for the school population next term.

Firemen Would Restrict Use Flasher Lights

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.—Owen Boles, Port Colborne industrial worker, was elected president of the Firemen's Association of Ontario at the 51st annual convention held in Stamford Centre on weekend. He succeeds F. George Weavers, L.C.B.O. store manager, who was named past president.

Other officers elected were: First vice - president, Edward Cooper, West Flamboro; second vice-president, Keith Balls, Petrolia; treasurer, Thomas Waumsley, Burlington; secretary, Edward O. McNelly, York Township.

Nelson Putt of Alvison was named honorary past president in recognition of his work in the interests of the association. Joe Miller of South Porcupine, member of the Ontario fire marshal's staff and secretary of the Temiskaming Fire Association, conducted the elections. Past presidents in attendance at the convention included Harry Nelson, Thorold South; Edward Mathews, Humber Bay; Mr. Bray, Bronte; Edward McNeely, York Township, and Harry Gee, Dundas.

The association voted to request the Ontario Fire Marshal's Department to seek legislation which would restrict the use of flasher lights to emergency vehicles such as fire trucks, ambulances and police cruisers. The firemen also requested the department to make it mandatory to have two all-purpose masks as standard equipment on all fire fighting equipment.

The delegates voted to hold the 153 convention at Thorold when the centennial of that town's department will be celebrated.

Psychologists Now Curious On What Starts Curiosity

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Psychologists here are curious about curiosity.

Why are humans curious? Why are some more curious than others? What does curiosity have to do with intellectual achievements?

Curiosity can get cats and humans into trouble. But curiosity also is credited with bringing us many of our great gifts—from automobiles to better clothes, conquest of diseases, many tools and techniques of modern living.

Yet no one seems to have studied curiosity itself, says Dr. Harry F. Harlow, University of Wisconsin psychologist.

START WITH MONKEYS

He and his associates, Drs. Margaret Kuenne Harlow and Donald B. Meyer, have made a start, with studies of monkeys.

Monkeys, they find, will solve puzzles out of an urge to manipulate things. They do it even when they get no reward.

They learn to solve the puzzle just as well, but not so fast, as monkeys which do get rewords for working out the puzzle.

The monkeys have some innate or inborn drive to work at the puzzles. This seems to be curiosity or something akin to it.

Curiosity studies of children from 18 months to two years old is planned next.

The children will be given various puzzles or problems to work out. The psychologists hope to learn what the range of curiosity is in humans, how they differ in what they are curious about, how curiosity develops and expands.

Curiosity in humans is believed to be one of the drives to mental achievement. Differences in curiosity might show ways to differentiate between dull and bright children who may make the biggest contributions to human welfare.

There may be a seat of curiosity, located in some particular part of the brain. Monkeys whose brains are damaged show less curiosity drive than normal monkeys. Neurosurgeons find less spontaneous drive in some people following certain brain operations.

All mammals show some curiosity, The play of a kitten or puppy probably is built partly upon some inborn curiosity drive, Dr. Harlow said. Chimpanzees and gorillas are more curious than monkeys, and humans more than gorillas or chimpanzees.

The studies may open the way to eventual better use or development of innate curiosity.

Children's natural curiosity often is a nuisance to their parents, Dr. Harlow said, and, some people suspect that rigid discipline tends to destroy or dampen it. What parents do to stifle curiosity may be costing us some future thinkers or creators.

Accuse Medal Winner Of Faking Rescue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maynard H. Smith, Medal of Honor winner, was accused yesterday of faking the rescue of a young mother who pretended she was going to make a suicide leap from a ninth floor ledge last Thursday.

Smith was charged with making a false report to police and firemen. A similar charge was laid against Roland Bennett, described as interested in furthering Smith's political ambitions. Smith has said he wanted to be governor of Virginia.

Bored Farouk Suggests Use My Rooms For Dance

CAPRI, Italy—(Reuters)—Ex-King Farouk of Egypt Monday begged the manager of the sumptuous Capri Hotel in which he is living in exile to organize a dance —"because I am terribly bored."

He made his plaintive request at the end of a sunny day spent lounging about the lobby of the clifftop hotel while his wife was shopping and looking for a dressmaker. Some of her summer frocks need taking in because she is slimming fast.

The ex-king's trusted right-hand man, Pietro, was reported to be bargaining over the price the hotel was charging the prince and his entourage. For the man who is now known as Prince Faud Farouk—once rumored to be one of the richest men on earth, but in his own words "no longer a rich man" — is living on Capri as economically as possible, according to a member of his entourage.

Late Monday evening an idea seemed to strike Farouk. He half ran toward the hotel manager, drew him to a corner and engaged him in heated conversation.

Then Farouk, who told reporters after he arrived in Capri last week "I am a simple, ordinary person now," returned to his armchair looking slightly less bored, and beamed at the other simple, ordinary persons sitting in the lobby.

The hotel manager later told Reuters what Farouk had suggested: "Why don't you organize a dance? You can have the roof garden I have so far reserved for myself and my suite. I would be very happy to attend the dance."

Hotel Manager Nicola Farace immediately started to make plans.

Gambling Boss Killed From Ambush

CHICAGO (AP)—Theodore Roe, wealthy Negro gambling boss, was killed from ambush last night by assassins who blasted him with shotgun slugs when he stepped from his south side apartment.

Roe, 53, a reputed millionaire and last of the old guard to resist syndicate control over the lucrative south side policy wheel racket, was hit from fairly close range twice in the chest and once in the neck. He died soon after arrival at a hospital.

Police found four spent shotgun shell cases on the ground behind a signboard south of Roe's apartment building. Joseph Turner, an attendant at a nearby filling station, said he saw three white men in a car parked behind the signboard about 20 minutes before the shots were fired.

Kidnappings and threats were enough to drive other leaders from the multi-million-dollar policy racket when the syndicate started moving in, but Roe stayed on.

On June 18, 1951, Roe shot and killed Leonard (Fat Lenny) Caifano, a west side hoodlum. He contended he shot in self-defence when Caifano and three companions tried to kidnap him.

Roe and two others were acquitted last February of charges of conspiracy to violate the law by operating the games, a numbers racket in the form of a lottery.

QUEEN MARY, en route to Sandringham on a five week vacation, is escorted into railroad station in London. She will use the suite of rooms placed at her disposal by her late son, King George VI, an arrangement that has been continued by Queen Elizabeth II.

See Coal Strike Newest Problem In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The spectre of another industry-throttling strike before the steel mills of the United States have had a chance to get back to full production arose today as John L. Lewis served notice that his United Mine Workers' contracts are ending next month.

Lewis, president of the Mine Workers' Union, wrote Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers' Association, that his work contract will expire Sept. 30.

60 DAYS NOTICE

That's 60 days from the date on Lewis' letter. Terms of the existing contract provide termination upon 60 days' notice by either side.

The notice to Moody, following by 10 days' similar word to the Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, is certain to mean a shutdown of all but a small portion of soft coal mining by the end of next month unless Lewis, Moody and Harry M. Moses agree on new contract terms. Moses heads the Bituminous Operators' Association.

Lewis, it was also learned yesterday, has served contract-termination notice on the anthracite (hard-coal) industry, which employs 100,000 miners. Bituminous diggers number 450,000.

In the last 10 years or more, Lewis and the soft-coal operators have reached a contract agreement without a strike or slowdown only twice—in 1948 and 1951.

INDUSTRY DEPRESSED

The coal industry as a whole is said to be in a depressed economic position. Exports have not lived up to hopes; the steel strike has weakened demand; and the present soft-coal stockpile is one of the highest ever.

Lewis is considered likely to demand an increase at least the size of that won by the C. I. O. steelworkers last month—21 cents an hour.

Basic daily minimum wage in the bituminous fields is $16.35, plus overtime or other extras which bring the average close to $18 a day. Anthracite workers average a little more than $17.

If Flying Saucers Planet Ships Wives In Mars Or Venus Tolerant

By FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP)—If those alleged "flying saucers" were ships from our outer space, they'd have to be manned by chaps with tolerant wives.

Round-trip travel to the earth from Mars and Venus—the only two planets in our solar system given even an outside chance of supporting life — would involve nearly three years for the Martians, just over two years for the Venutians.

And they'd have to spend that much time away from the wife and kids even though they had space ships capable of travelling at a 25,000-mile-an-hour clip!

Just suppose, for a minute, that Mars and Venus were populated by some kind of intelligent beings capable of launching a spaceship—saucer-shaped or what-have-you—and that they wanted to do some fancy spying on the earth.

Here's what they'd be up against: While venus is "only" 25,000,000 miles from the earth at its closest approach to our planet—just a breeze, you might say, for a spaceship travelling 25,000 miles an hour—there would be much more to the problem than that.

Venus makes such a "close" approach only once in every 470 days; meanwhile, in its orbit around the sun, it gets as far away as 160,000,000 miles from the earth.

Staff Officers Agree On Wording Of Text

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations and Communist staff officers today agreed on the wording of a proposed Korean armistice document.

Still blocking a truce, however, is the deadlock on the number of war prisoners to be exchanged when the document becomes effective.

The staff officers finished their work on the text wording in a 44-minute session at Panmunjom today, went into indefinite recess. Interpreters will work over the text in the next few days to insure that Korean, Chinese and English versions coincide.

The main armistice negotiations are in recess until Monday.

Visitors Throng To St. Thomas

ST. THOMAS (CP)—A steady stream of visitors from all parts of Canada and the United States moved into St. Thomas yesterday for the week-long celebration of the St. Thomas and Elgin county centennial.

The registration office, staffed by the Chamber of Commerce, recorded visitors from most centres in Ontario, from almost all other provinces and from many points in the U.S.

Afternoon sunshine dispelled an overnight and morning rain and by last night the celebration was in full swing.

Main event yesterday was at the village of Dutton where the Caledonian games were held, attended by Lord and Lady Elgin and Premier Frost of Ontario.

Says Red Attendance At Parley 'Insult'

WASHINGTON (AP).—Senator William E. Jenner, Rep.-Ind., said yesterday the admission of Red China and North Korea to international Red Cross meetings at Toronto was "an insult to our fighting men."

Jenner assailed the state department for participating in the meetings while Russia, China and the Korean Reds were seated in them.

He said the Communists used the meetings as a sounding board to denounce United States fighting men and spread false charges that they have waged germ warfare in Korea. Jenner said the state department should have guessed that would happen and should have stayed out of the meetings.

Arrest 84 Students At Native College

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP) —Police arrested 84 students of a native college in Bensonville, in eastern Cape Province, following a riot caused by the dismissal of a native teacher, it was reported here today.

The 84, who ranged in age from 13 to 26, were arrested early yesterday in nearby mountains to which they had fled when police arrived to quell the riot.

Police reported that all the college's thatched-roof buildings were destroyed by fire during the demonstration, which broke out Sunday night. Windows were smashed and most of the college's food supplies destroyed.

Rain Delays Search

NORTH BAY (CP) — Heavy rain yesterday forced postponement of a search for George Thorne, 24, missing from his home since Sunday night. Thorne, a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, is reported to have left his father's home Sunday night with a loaded .22-calibre rifle, threatening in a note left behind to "take a permanent powder."

Nancy Oakes Announces Her Engagement

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (CP). —The engagement of Nancy Oakes, daughter of Lady Eunice Oakes and the late Sir Harry Oakes, to Ernst Lyssard of Los Angeles was announced yesterday.

Nancy Oakes in 1949 won annulment of her marriage to Count Alfred de Marigny, after his acquittal on a charge of murdering her father, Canadian mining millionaire. Sir Harry's bludgeoned body was found in his Nassau, Bahamas home.

Mr. Lyssard is the younger son of the Baron and Baroness von Hoynignen Huene of Oberammergau, Germany.

Presentation Made Roseneath Couple

ROSENEATH (ENS). — Upwards of 200 persons attended the presentation and dance for Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson (nee Merla Braithwaite) on Friday evening in the L.O.L. hall. Archer's orchestra from Campbellford furnished music for dancing.

Following the lunch at midnight, the gathering was called to order and an address of good wishes was read by Mr. Thomas Robins; Messrs. Murray Thackeray and Ray McCracken made the presentation of an occasional chair and satin cushion from the chivari gang, a purse of money from the gathering, and a purse of money from St. James' Anglican Church, of which the bride was a member.

Appropriate replies were made by the recipients.

Bryan-McFadden

The marriage took place in Omemee United Church last Friday of Doris Annie Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McFadden, of R.R. 3, Elgin, Ontario, formerly of Peterborough, to Kenneth Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Bryan, of R.R. 2, Omemee. The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt officiated.

The bride's gown of white satin with long train was trimmed with lace at the heart-shaped neckline and around the train. She worea train-length veil of net and carried a bouquet of roses. Mrs. Evelyn Dracup attended her sister dressed in lime green and carrying a nosegay of carnations.

Mr. Glen Dracup was groomsman.

After a short motor trip, the couple will live at 436 Driscoll Terrace. For going away, the bride had a white dress and accessories and wore a blue hat.

Tyndall-Cordery

The wedding was solemnized Saturday of June Viola Cordery to Charles Raymond Tyndall, by the Rev. E. W. Rowland at his home. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cordery and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Tyndall, all of Peterborough.

The bride wore a powder blue suit with blue and white accessories. She was attended by her sister, Miss Shirley Cordery, who wore a pink suit with pink and white accessories. The grom was attended by his brother, Stewart Tyndall.

After a reception at the bride's home, the couple left for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls. They will live at 193 Auburn St. on return.

Romig-Cooper Nuptials

The wedding of Miss Gweneth May Cooper to Mr. John Stewart Romig was a lovely event of Saturday afternoon in St. George's Anglican Church. The Rev. H. J. Scuse, rector, performed the ceremony in a setting of pink and white gladioli banked with ferns.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cooper, 632 Lundy's Lane, and was given in marriage by her father. The groom is son of Mrs. John H. Romig and the late Mr. Romig, also of Peterborough.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Leonard Cooper, sister-in-law of the bride, as matron of honor, and Miss Muriel Romig, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid. Groomsman was Mr. Robert Gunn of Toronto and the ushers were John Stalker of Toronto and Leonard Cooper, brother of the bride.

Miss Cooper chose a dress of white taffeta with a net overskirt and topped with a lace jacket with high, stand-up collar and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. Her veil was of lace- trimmed net in fingertip length and was caught to her lace cap with pearl trimming. She carried a bouquet of white, shaggy 'mums. Her attendants were frocked alike in turquoise taffeta with matching material trimmed with flowers to match their bouquets of pale yellow shaggy 'mums.

The bride's mother wore French blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of pink 'mums. The groom's mother chose Cerrulian blue crepe and a navy straw hat and wore Talisman roses on her shoulder. Both assisted the bridal party at the reception in the Empress Hotel Kawartha Room.

Music for the wedding was played by Mrs. A. Watkins Jr. and Mr. Walter Dawson was the soloist. Before the bride entered the church "O Perfect Love" was sung, and while the register was being signed Mr. Dawson sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. and Mrs. Romig are now spending a honeymoon at Royal Oaks Lodge, Huntsville, following which they will live at 295A Stewart St.

For going-away the bride had a blue linen dress and white accessories and her corsage was a gardenia.

Thelma Gooley And Leonard Vyse Exchange Rings

St. Alphonsus Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday morning when Thelma Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gooley became the bride of Leonard Harold Vyse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Vyse, all of Peterborough. The Rev. R. A. MacDonald officiated at the nuptial mass and in the exchange of vows and wedding rings.

Bouquets of gladioli decorated the altar of the church. Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. C. O'Donnell including "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus" and "On This Day."

The bridal gown of Chantilly lace with a court train was fashioned with a tight bodice, long fitted sleeves coming to a point over the hands, and a full skirt. Her veil of nylon tulle illusion with border of roses fell to fingertip length from a tiara of summer roses. She was carrying a cascade of red roses and stephanotis and was given in marriage by her father.

She was attended by Miss Theresa McLean wearing a gown of blue Chantilly lace and net and a crown of blue rosebuds and sweet peas. She was carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations. Miss Mary Gooley, sister of the bride, was flower girl in a gown of yellow organdy with white accessories. Her tiara was of yellow organdy and white rosebuds and sweet peas, and she carried a nosegay of yellow roses.

Brother of the bride, Mr. Frank Gooley, attended the groom. Ushers were John Gooley and Donald Vyse.

At the reception at Club Aragon, the bride's mother received, gowned in navy sheer with white lace and wearing white accesories and a corsage of red roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore pale blue sheer with white accessories and corsage of pink and white mums.

Later a luncheon was served at the bride's home and wedding gifts were displayed.

For a trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo the bride chose a black and white linen dress and white accessories and wore a corsage of red roses and white stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Vyse will live at 33 Crescent St. on their return.

Merril-Pollock

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS). — A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at Wellman's Corners when Patricia Irene Pollock became the bride of Delmore David Merril. The ceremony was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pollock.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Merril of Seymour West. The Rev. R. R. Bonsteel officiated. The ceremony took place beside a bank of trailing ferns and ivy, and wedding music was by Miss Ruth Clancy. The soloist was Miss Jean Wallace.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a ballerina length gown of nylon net over taffeta with a shoulder veil of embroidered net. Her bouquet was of sweetheart roses and stephanotis. Bridesmaid was her sister Miss Doris Pollock, who wore a ballerina gown of embossed net over gold taffeta with a contrasting halo hat and mittens. She carried a bouquet of white gladiolis.

Groomsman was Melville Mirrill of Campbellford, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother received after the ceremony wearing an aqua crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother also received wearing navy sheer with matching accessories and corsage of white carnations.

For travelling the bride chose a two piece navy dress with white accessories. The couple will live on a farm near Campbellford.

Guests attended from Toronto, Stirling, Campbellford and Belleville.

F. Tickner Wed In Ottawa

OTTAWA. — Western United Church was scene of the wedding of Miss Frances Jane Isabelle Tickner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis R. Tickner, and Mr. William Alfred Smith, son of Mrs. A. R. Smith and the late Mr. Smith, all of Ottawa, which took place Saturday afternoon.

For the occasion the church was decorated with white and mauve gladioli and Rev. R. Purves-Smith officiated at the ceremony. Mrs. G. I. Wallace played the wedding music and the soloist was Miss Rita St. James.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Mrs. Mervin Trick of Toronto, as matron of honor, and Miss Joan Tickner and Miss Alma Dore, as bridesmaids. Mr. Lorne Chapman was groomsman and ushers were Lloyd Goth and Wilfred McKenny.

For her wedding the bride chose a strapless gown of nylon tulle over taffeta with a redingote of Chantilly lace, fashioned with a Queen Anne collar. A coronet of petit-point rhinestones and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of imported illusion and she carried a cascade bouquet of orchids and white carnations.

The reception was held at the Whitehill Glade, after which the couple left for a honeymoon trip to New York. They will live in Ottawa on their return.

For travelling the bride wore an original two-piece navy and white sheer dress with a Milan straw picture hat and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis.

Wilce-Fickling

MILLBROOK (ENS)—In Grace Presbyterian Church Saturday, in a setting of mauve gladioli and phlox, hydrangea, and fern which banked the chancel, Grace Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fickling of Millbrook became the bride of Gordon Henry Wilce, son of Mrs. Bernard Watkins, of Castleton and the late Henry James Wilce.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. The Rev. W. H. Heustin performed the ceremony, and Mrs. Grace Muspratt of South Monaghan played the wedding music.

The bride was attractive in a gown of bridal white. The tight-fitting bodice of lace with small collar and long sleeves, buttoned down the front with tiny self-covered buttons, and ended in points below the waist over the very full net over satin skirt. Her fingertip veil of embroidered net fell from a pearl trimmed tiara and she carried red roses on a heart-shaped frame of white satin.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Frances Wilce, the groom's sister, who wore a gown of mauve net over taffeta with low round neckline, short puffed sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her headdress was a halo of mauve net, and she wore mittens and carried a fan of gladioli in pastel shades.

Groomsman was Leslie Fickling, the bride's brother, and the ushers were James Wilce of Castleton, brother of the groom, and Fred Sprager of Oshawa.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fickling chose a dress of white nylon figured in mauve and pale green, white hat and accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore lime green silk, white hat trimmed with lime, white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents There were guests from Port Hope, Castleton, Peterborough, Toronto, Dunbarton, Lexington, Mich., and St. Paul, Minnesota.

The bride's going-away costume was a dress of white tafetta figured in navy, with white hat and navy accessories, and a corsage of red roses.

After a honeymoon spent in Niagara Falls and Buffalo Mr. and Mrs. Wilce will make their home in Oshawa.

Rev. and Mrs. George Murray and their daughter Jean of Newburgh, formerly of Keene, are calling at Peterborough on their way to Muskoka to spend holidays.

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Kenner and their two daughters, Cathy Ann and Julie, are here from Santa Barbara, California, visiting Mrs. Kenner's parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Waite, Stewart St.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. and Mrs. Emile Armstrong, and their three children, of Ajax, are holidaying here at the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Weir, 740 Curtis Road.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Parkin, 580 Fagan Ave., have returned from a motor trip to Syracuse and Rochester and also visiting Mrs. Parkin's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Victor O'Toole, in Buffalo.

✧ ✧ ✧

Mr. Andrew Thistlethwaite and Mr. Lloyd Thistlethwaite, of Swift Current, Saskatchewan, who are visiting friends in the Norwood district, were accompanied by Mr. Roy Scott, of Norwood, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lyle McMillan, of Alliston, last week.

✧ ✧ ✧

Miss Grace Fickling, of Millbrook, was entertained in honor of her marriage Saturday at a miscellaneous shower attended by 40 friends at the home of Mrs. James Godfrey, where Miss Barbara Kennedy was a joint hostess. She was also showered with gifts by former associates of the Bata Shoe Company, Port Hope.

✧ ✧ ✧

Three bridal showers were given to honor Miss Thelma Gooley, who on Saturday became the bride of Mr. Leonard Vyse. Hostesses were Mrs. Herbert Vyse, Miss Theresa McLean and Miss Joan O'Brien. Presentation of an electric tea kettle was made by her associates of the Outboard Marine and Manufacturing Company and the groom received a portiere lamp from fellow employees of the Ontario Marble Company.

✧ ✧ ✧

Entertainments for Miss Gweneth Cooper, prior to her marriage on Saturday, have been a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Edward Smith at her home on Fradette Ave., a linen shower given by Mrs. Leonard Cooper and a cup and saucer shower for which Miss Muriel Romig and Miss Dorothy MacIlroy were joint hostesses. A chest of silver was given her by associates of the Outboard Marine and Manuafcturing Company.

✧ ✧ ✧

A small gathering of the Blewett family, of Bridgenorth, took place Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Blewett to welcome their nephew and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Blewett, of Summerland, B.C., who have motored east for the first time in 27 years. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Allen, of Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Evan Blewett, Mrs. John Northey, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Garbutt and Velma, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Blewett, of the Lakefield district, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Blewett and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blewett, of Bridgenorth.

✧ ✧ ✧

Prior to her marriage Saturday, Mrs. Robert Fontaine (nee Doris Bertrand) was presented with many lovely gifts at a miscellaneous shower held in her honor by Mrs. Arnold Brown and Mrs. Robert Boyle. She was presented with a lazy-boy chair and ottoman by the office staff at the Outboard Marine and Mfg. Co. where she is employed. The machine shop and inspection department presented her with a mahogany table and fancy vase and the canteen girls at the Outboard Marine presented her with a silver dish and ice bucket and tongs.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Beautiful, Tasty Desserts Lifesaver For Reducers

This is my feeling about desserts. While the fresh fruits are at their peak of production and so plentiful and good, we should use them "as is." They are a lifesaver for reducers.

But a week each of eating a bowlful of strawberries, or raspberries, or blueberries or sliced peaches for breakfast, lunch and dinner and they begin to lose their appeal.

And the majority of us are not reducers or fresh fruit fiends (although by my mail you would begin to think we are a population of overweights).

So I'm indulging my fondness for making beautiful, tasty desserts with the valuable help of the refrigerator, and you folks who must not eat them can indulge yourselves by making them for your loved ones, as I do. It's a grand satisfaction to see their eyes light up when you or your appointed waiter or waitress for the week, eagerly bears them to the table.

The first one—Chocolate Wafer Loaf—will send plenty of you off to the grocery store for chocolate wafers and evaporated milk. It requires no whipped cream.

CHOCOLATE WAFER LOAF

Pour 1 15-oz. can evaporated milk in freezing tray and chill until little ice crystals form around the sides of the tray. Meanwhile soak 1 tablespoon of gelatine in ⅓ cup cold water 5 minutes, then stir it over boiling water until gelatin is dissolved. Chill this to syrup consistency. When the chilled milk is ready beat it in a cold bowl until stiff, then add 1-3 cup lemon juice and 1 teaspoon finely grated lemon rind, the chilled gelatin mixture and beat well. Brush a 2-quart loaf pan with oil and pour 1-3 of the mixture into it. Make a layer of chocolate wafers over this cream mixture. Repeat with a layer of cream mixture, a layer of chocolate wafers then the remainder of the cream mixture. Chill overnight. Unmould on serving dish. Crumble enough chocolate wafers to make ½ cup and carefully strew this over the loaf and around edge to make an effective garnish. Cut into slices with very sharp long knife.

GOOSEBERRY FOOL

Wash 1 pint gooseberries, remove tops and tails, put in saucepan with ½ cup each water and sugar, and simmer until soft. Chill.

For the "fool" part scald 1¾ cups whole milk in top of double boiler. Beat 3 egg yolks slightly with ¼ cup sugar and ½ teaspoon salt. Pour in hot milk while stirring, then return to double boiler and cook, stirring until custard coats spoon. Remove from heat at one and chill. When ready to serve put the chilled gooseberries in bottom of pretty glass bowl, or in individual stemmed glasses, and pour the chilled custard over. If desired, this may be made a day before needed and kept cold in combination in serving bowl. A great favorite with our British brothers and sisters.

DELICATE CORNSTARCH PUDDING (With Variations)

This is an excellent basic recipe for "blanc mange" and should be in your files. In top of double boiler scald 2 cups whole milk. Mix together 4 tablespoons (level, of course) cornstarch, 2 tablespoons sugar, ⅛ teapsoon salt, then stir into them ¼ cup cold milk. Add this slowly to the hot milk in double boiler, stirring. Stir until thick. Cover and cook 30 minutes, stirring 3 times. Remove from heat and add ½ teaspoon vanilla. Pour into moistened moulds and chill.

For Coffee Cornstarch pudding substitute 1 cup very strong coffee for 1 cup of the milk.

For Chocolate Cornstarch pudding, reduce cornstarch to 3 tablespoons and melt 1 square of cooking chocolate in the milk while it is heating.

NOTE: Delicate Cornstarch Pudding makes an excellent base over which to serve sweetened fresh fruits. The fruits must be slightly sweetened as the pudding contains a minimum of sugar.

DOROTHY DIX

Condoning Little White Lies Mistaken Step, Writer Told

DEAR MISS DIX: How can one deal with a person who believes little white lies are necessary?

My fiancee is a fine person, except for the fact that he can see no harm in small lies, or minor dishonesties. His lying is usually done to put himself in the right—where he insists on being at all times. He also thinks it is very smart to get away with a few pennies on a purchase, or other financial deal. The funny part of it is, he regards himself as scrupulously honest. A "shady" financial transaction is, to him, "clever." He has been honest enough with me. He brags a lot, but since I realize it, he isn't exactly putting anything over on me. Other people, of course, may not take so charitable a view of his extravagant fibs.

Do you know of a cure for him?

LORA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Where is your sense of proportion, Lora, that you can describe an essentially dishonest person as "fine?" He may be handsome, good company, a splendid dancer, etc., but if he lies and cheats he most certainly is a man of low character.

YOU CONDONED ACTIONS

Chances are, when you first became aware of these rather base traits in your fiancee, you thought they were cute; otherwise I scarcely can see how he acquired the status of fiancee in your life. Surely you must have condoned them. Now they are beginning to become annoying and open to question. Can you imagine what the next step will be? As these petty dishonesties grow and grow —as they inevitably must—your reaction will be more and more marked, to the point where you will utterly despise a man who can be so lacking in honesty and fairness.

White lies, minor frauds, petty dishonesties, all have their origin in a desire to show off, to be clever, to "put one over" on the other fellow. Can you see anything admirable in any one of these qualities? Yet you think your fiancee a "fine person.

If you can regard his failings with a little more objectivity, there is a chance you could effect a reform. As matters stand now, I think you go along with his idea that there is nothing too wrong in his actions. If you will take a firm stand of disapproval, tell him in no uncertain terms that he either gives up his smart alecky tricks, or you will give him up, you may get a little sense into his dishonest brain. A good book on moral values would also have a corrective effect. Get your minister to recommend one.

It is truly amazing how many people gleefully cheat a bus company out of a dime, or a chain store out of a dollar. It almost seems to be a challenge with them. Just try stealing a dollar from them, however, and watch the thunder roll. The ultimate effects of cheating and lying are, of course, judged in ratio to the amount of harm done, but even if no discernible ill results from a dishonest act, its very accomplishment has weakened the moral fibre of the perpetrator. As it is, the complexities of modern living create enough attacks on our morals; those we can avoid should be sedulously by-passed.

If your efforts, Lora, fail to reform your fiancee, he would not rank very high as a matrimonial risk. You will probably find yourself living in a continual daze of deceptions and falsehoods.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: For the past three years I have been a widow. My four children are all grown. During the last year I have been going with a widower 28 years my senior. I am 49. He never has said anything about getting married, so I finally told him he was taking up my time as I need a home and someone to look after me—not a friend. Was I right?

A. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Since you are definitely looking for a husband and home, you were quite right to send your friend on his way. He undoubtedly has no interest whatsoever in marrying and you would be foolish to continue wasting your time with him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Two weeks ago I wrote to my boy friend who is in the Navy and said I thought we should discontinue writing for a while. I had a few reasons for my decision—religious difference, and the fact that I am only 16 and my parents thought I was getting to serious over the boy. Now I feel I made a mistake and though I wrote and apologized, I have not heard further from him.

JULIET.

✧ ✧ ✧

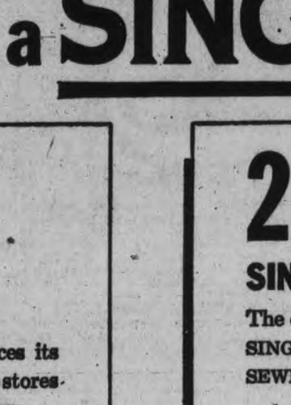
ANSWER: Under the circumstances, you probably are better off leaving the matter where it is. A renewed correspondence now will only increase the difficulties. It will make your friendship more serious than it was before, while still complicated with the religious and age problems.

What's Right?

You have friends who live in a large city.

WRONG: Whenever acquaintances from your home town go to that city on vacation, give them the name and address of your friends and ask them to be sure to look them up.

RIGHT: Realize that it can be a great imposition to expect friends to entertain anybody you know who happens to be in their city for a visit.



✧ ✧ ✧

You eat at a resort hotel where you are staying for a week—and are served by the same waiter each day.

WRONG: Feel it isn't necessary to tip the waiter.

RIGHT: At the end of your last meal, give the waiter a tip to take care of the entire week.

OBITUARIES

FREDERICK THOMAS RAPPE

A resident of Peterborough for 39 years, Frederick Thomas Rappe of 517 Bolivar St., died today in hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Rappe was born in Portsmouth, England, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rappe. He came to Canada while still a young man. In Peterborough he was employed by the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Ltd. and was a foreman when he retired six years ago.

He was a member of Trinity United Church and he was a member of Douglas Lodge A.F. and A.M. of Scotland.

He leaves his widow, the former Marion Lyle and a sister, Mrs. Fred Davis of Blandford, Dorset, England.

A Masonic service will be held at the Comstock funeral home on Wednesday, 7.30 p.m., and the funeral service will be on Thursday 2.30 p.m., the Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon officiating. Burial will be in Bowmanville cemetery.

MRS. EDWARD RIDLEY

Mrs. Edward Ridley, the former Carolyn Victor, 69, 493 King St., died suddenly at her residence Sunday.

Mrs. Ridley was born in Wathenstone, England, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Victor and has lived in Peterborough for the past four years, coming here from England. She was a member of the Jehovah Witnesses.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. N. Gordon (Margaret), Miss Pearl Victor and five sons, Victor, Walter, John and Edwin, all of Peterborough and Percy, Toronto.

Her husband, Edward Ridley, died in 1948.

The body is resting at the Nisbett funeral home. Funeral service will be conducted at 2 p.m. Thursday and burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

JOSEPH LAFRANCE

Joseph LaFrance, 94, 522 Managhan Road, S., died Tuesday in St. Joseph's hospital following a lengthy illness.

Mr. LaFrance was born in Montreal, son of the late Leander LaFrance and Katherine Poirer and has lived in Peterborough for the past 20 years. Formerly he resided in Gananoque and Kingston.

A descendant of a long line of rivermen, Mr. LaFrance started working on the St. Lawrence River boats when he was 16. He was employed on boats running from Quebec City to Duluth, Minnesota, for about eight years.

When he left the boats, Mr. LaFrance worked as a guide on the river for fishermen during the summer months for the next 53 years until he retired 25 years ago. In the winter months he was employed at his trade, wood finishing.

He was a member of St. John the Baptist Parish.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. S. J. Rainville (Alethea), Niagara Falls, New York; Mrs. Jos. Glass (Evelyn), Peterborough; two sons, William and Roy, both of Gananoque and one sisters Mrs. Richard Cliffe (Katherine), Toronto. His wife, the former Aurellia Rolland died in 1934.

The funeral will be held Thursday from the Comstock Funeral Home to Sacred Heart Church for requiem mass at 9 a.m. Burial will be in St. Peter's cemetery.

ANDREW GRAY

After an illness of several months, Andrew Gray, of 472 Rogers St., died Monday in hospital here. He was in his 74th year.

Mr. Gray was born in Morebattle, Scotland, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray. He had been in Peterborough five years after coming from Toronto.

Left are two sons—Albert, of Toronto, and Malcolm, of Vancouver; a daughter, Mrs. Frank Stark (Ina), of Peterborough; and two stepsons, Alex Kirkpatrick, of Vancouver, and John, of Scotland. His wife, the former Elizabeth Katherine Hardy Fingland, predeceased him.

Mr. Gray was a gardener. He was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

The funeral will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Belleghem funeral home where the service will be conducted by the Rev. Ivan C. Morgan. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Record Breaking Sets Pace During Olympics

By JACK SULLIVAN

LONDON (CP)—Three world records were broken, another was equalled and sundry other times went by the boards yesterday in the traditional post-Olympics invitation meet between the United States and British Empire.

The Americans won it, but the cheers went to four Australian girls in the women's 400-metre relay as amends were made for a disastrous baton-dropping incident at Helsinki that cost Australia the Olympic title.

The Aussies ran the cocky and confident Americans into the ground, won by at least five yards and rubbed it in with a world record-breaking time of 46.3 seconds. Canada was fourth with 48.0 in the five-team event.

CANADA REPRESENTED

Canada was represented at today's meet, and that's the best that can be said of the Maple Leaf athletes. Oakville's Jack Ross and Vancouver's Jack Hutchins were on the British Empires two-mile relay team that finished a feeble second to the U.S.

Bill Parnell, also Vancouver, anchored the British Empire four-mile relay team.

Another fourth for Canada was made by the women's 880-yard relay team. The Canadians were last all the way around.

Ron Miller of Toronto placed third in the pole vault with 13 feet.

Canadian discus thrower Roy Pella of Sudbury ranked fourth in the discus throw with a heave of 153 feet 1½ inches. Winner was James Dillion of the U.S. with 173-7½.

SASKATOON'S ROBERT ADAMS, seen wearing Maple Leaf, is running a smart heat in the decathlon hurdles. He is following on the heels of Friedel Schirmar of Germany (No. 752) who clears a jump in the tough event. America's Bob Mathias, who copped the decathlon crown, was the eventual final winner of the hurdles final.

AMERICAN MERMAIDS SET RECORD—Jacqueline Lavine of the U.S. swimming team dives into the Olympic pool in Helsinki, Finland, to take over from Evelyn Kawamoto (7) of Hawaii in the second heat of the women's 400-meter free-style relay event. The American team won the event and set a new Olympic record while doing it.

DADDY OF THEM ALL — Emil Zatopek broke Olympic records winning the 5,000 and 10,000-metre runs and marathon. This prompted Olympic coaches to call the Czechoslovakian Army officer the greatest runner of all time.

CLOSING CEREMONIES — Officials carry the white, five-ringed Olympic flag from the Helsinki stadium, as concluding ceremonies mark the close of the 1952 International Summer Games in Finland. The "Greek" flame, which burned in a metal tripod (background) throughout the 15th Olympiad, was put out.

Olympic Games End With U.S. Leading Russia In Points

By JACK SULLIVAN

HELSINKI (CP) — The 1952 Olympic Games is history now and painstaking historians will need a new book to take care of this gigantic sports carnival.

The end came in a beautiful Finnish twilight Sunday. There was solemn dignity when the flags of 70 countries were paraded before 65,000 persons in huge Olympic Stadium.

The ritual of extinguishing the Olympic torch was carried out. The youth of the world was summoned to meet in Melbourne, Australia, in 1956. The Olympic flag was lowered, cannon boomed and the gracious Finnish hosts said farewell to their guests.

But, like the circus that comes to town, these 1952 games were bigger and better, more stupendous and colossal, than any of the 14 games of the modern Olympic era.

More countries were entered, more athletes took part, performances were amazing. There was a minimum of incidents.

Russia competed for the first time. Germany and Japan were back again—their first appearance since the Second World War.

There were 5,780 athletes, representing 70 countries, at the games. Forty-nine of the 70 broke into the unofficial scoring column, which records the first six places in each event.

U.S. LEADS IN POINTS

The United States, with a rousing finish Saturday, topped the list with 614 points. Russia, leader for 12 days, was second with 553½ points.

From there the long list trailed off to little Singapore, in 49th place with one point—scored for a sixth in the weightlifting featherweight class. Canada was 24th with 30 points, compared with a 20th place tie and 35 points in the 1948 games at London.

Only one Canadian won a gold medal — George Genereux, 17-year-old Saskatoon youth, champion in the clay pigeon section of the trap-shooting tournament.

Somehow it was fitting that "God Save the Queen" was heard in the great stadium on Helsinki's golden Sunday. Britain's team won the Prix de Nations, colorful equestrian event that closes out the games. It was Britain's only championship through the 14 days of competition.

Russia scored points in 79 of the 151 Olympic championships. The United States tallied in 69.

The United States won 41 gold medals and Russia 23.

The point-scoring system, which Olympic officials discourage as an "excess of nationalism" threatening the games, left the United States on top.

MARKSMEN HELP

If it hadn't been for a couple of sharp-eyed marksmen, especially Genereux, the point accumulation for Canada could have been lost in a fair-sized ant hill.

Ten of Canada's 30 points came on the gold-medal victory of the Saskatoon sharpshooter in the clay pigeon trapshooting. Gilmoure Boa of Toronto added three more points by placing fourth in the small-bore, prone-position section.

The biggest disappointment was the track and field squad—both the men's and women's sections.

Canada had no points in track and field until almost the last event of the last day of that branch of the games. Then the men's 1,600-metre relay placed fourth. That meant three points in the official standing, which is based on 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the first six places.

Canada's girl athletes scored no points in track and field.

CANADA POOR COUSIN

Compared with other leading countries of the Comonwealth, Canada is the poor cousin, not only in wealth of points at Helsinki but in accomplishment since 1948.

At the games in London, Australia finished 13th with 85 points; in Helsinki 11th with 97 points.

Four years ago South Africa and Canada were tied for 20th place with 35 points each. This year South Africa finished 14th with 67 points; compared with Canada's 24th place and 30 points.

Even little Jamaica, carried along by a fleet quartette of running stars, showed progress. In 1948 Jamaica was 22nd with 29 points; this time 20th with 39 points.

Mimico Nips Owen Sound

OWEN SOUND—Mimico Mountaineers stretched their Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior League lead Saturday night when they nipped Owen Sound Crescents, 12-11, in overtime.

Ralph Gowland scored the winning goal with less than two minues left. Fred Sandford and goalie Red Hartley were the Mounties who put the Crescents over the hurdles. Sandford potted five goals and added one assist and Hartley played brilliantly in stopping 33 shots in a close-checking game.

Bill Lubbock scored two Mimico goals, and the others went to Chuck Simpson, Ken Lytle, Reg. Kelly, Derrie Davies and Godland. It was Davies who set up Gowland's winning goal to climax a strong performance.

Coach Doug Gillespie spearheaded the Crescents' late drive with three goals and two assists.

Four Accidents Reported In Bancroft Area

BANCROFT (ENS)—Four accidents in this district on Saturday night and early Sunday morning marred the traffic picture for the holiday weekend, Provincial police reported. One man is in Bancroft Red Cross hosptial with severe facial injuries and shock while two more persons required medical attention.

In a rear end collision on Highway 62, 13 miles south of Bancroft, Thorold Sutherland, 50, Carleton Place, sustained severe multiple face nijuries and shock after his car collided with one driven by Reggie Carroll, Steenburg. Both cars were travelling north when the collision occurred as the Sutherland car was overtaking the other, causing the latte rto lose control. His car then crossed the highway and mounted a rock cut before rolling over on its side. Dr. F. R. Ross, Belleville, passing the scene on a holiday trip, rendered first aid and rushed the injured man to hospital.

Mr. Sutherland was bound for a weekend fishing trip and was alone in his car at the time. His car was badly damaged while the other car received only minor damage. Sutherland has been charged with careless driving.

TWO CARS WRECKED

A collision seven miles north of Bancroft on Highway 62 between two cars driven by Wilfred Evans, 56, of Brantford, and Albert Harte-Maxwell, 27, 188 Douro St., Peterborough, wrecked both cars and caused injuries to Mrs. Mamie Evans and Harte-Maxwell. Mrs. Evans lost two front teeth and suffered cuts to the face. Mr. Harte-Maxwel, driving alone at the time, sustained bruises and face cuts. Both parties received medical attention at Bancroft and were allowed to go home.

The accident occurred on a straight road which is under construction at the present time. Evans was charged with two infractions of the Highway Traffic Act.

A minor accident on Highway 62 at Maple Leaf resulted in slight damage to cars driven by Earl Allison, 19, Maple Leaf, and Raymond Hickey, 20, of Oshawa. No charges were laid.

Leonard Stewart, 20, Maynooth, driving alone in his car early Sunday morning, lost control and struck the ditch, colliding with a telephone pole and breaking it. The pole came to rest on the roof of the car causing slight damage.

A charge of careless driving was laid against Stewart. He was unhurt in the accident.

All four accidents were investigated by O.P.P. officers John Hawkins and John Hutchinson who reported a busy evening.

Junior CCF Asks More Aid For Backward Countries

TORONTO (CP).—The Commonwealth Co-operative Youth Movement, junior body of the C.C.F. party, yesterday opened its 11th national convention here.

Delegates called on the federal government to adopt a five-point program to step up aid to backward countries. It said technical and capital assistance now available to underdeveloped areas is a "shameful pittance."

The convention suggested these steps:

1. Increased Canadian financial participation in the Colombo plan.
2. Increased Canadian participation in United Nations agencies set up to aid underdeveloped territories.
3. Outright grants to such territories to enable them to purchase food and capital goods.
4. Technical assistance to governments who desire it.
5. Establishment of a scholarship fund to enable students from underdeveloped countries to come here to study.

Russia Claims Overall Win

HELSINKI (AP)—Russia yesterday claimed an overall victory in the Olympic Games with 494 points against 490.25 for the United States.

Apparently the Russians decided first place was worth only seven points instead of the 10 points awarded by the unofficial standard scoring method used on all Olympic Games since 1920.

Under the standard scoring method, the United States won the team victory with 614 points against 563½ for Russia.

The Russian statement made no explanation of how the Soviets got their point total, but papers in Moscow published a point system given seven points for place instead of 10.

Soviet Intends To Capture Next Olympics

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia is going to the next Olympic Games in Australia determined to beat the United States and every other country in men's track and field events and swimming, and they've a good chance of doing it.

Anyone living here knows with what zeal they are going to throw themselves into the task and the assistance they will receive from the Soviet government and Communist party.

Four years ago, the central committee of the party set two goals—to win world championships and net world records in all major sports. Much has been accomplished by Soviet athletes since that time. The biggest thing, of course, was their participation in their first Olympics. And according to their calculations, they won it unqualifiedly.

But Russian men lagged behind in track and field events and performances of their men and women in swimming left much to be desired. They also lost to the United States in basketball and to Yugoslavia in football.

One can be almost certain there will be improvement in coming years.

Hornsby Begins Managerial Job

CINCINNATI (AP)—Rogers (Rajah) Hornsby takes over the managerial reins of the seventh-place Cincinnati Reds tonight as the Redlegs open a two-game series here with Chicago Cubs.

The Rajah, recently named to succeed Luke Sewell as Reds' pilot, said he will handle the third-base coaching chores tonight.

Hornsby said yesterday: "I'm no diplomat and neither am I a Simon Legree.

"I don't pat guys on the back for what they are being paid to do. In that way, perhaps, I'm not a diplomat."

He declined to say whether he will make any drastic line-up changes. "I'll have to wait and see what we have," he said.

"My men will practice hard where I think they need it most. And they'll never stop trying, because hustle wins close ball games."

Marsden Family Roseneath Holds Reunion

ROSENEATH — (ENS).— Upwards of 10 relatives and friends of the Marsden families gathered at the spacious home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Marsden, Alderville, on Monday afternoon for their 17th family re-union. Later in the year Mr. and Mrs. Marsden will mark their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsden were married at the Alderville Methodist Church December 31, 1902, by the Rev. W. H. Snowden. The bride, the former Sarah Crowe, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Peter Crowe and the groom a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marsden. The wedding music was played by the late Mrs. Richard Black (nee Mary Ann Crowe). The attendants were Elizabeth Marsden, now Mrs. Ernest Crowe, and Alfred Simpson, all of Alderville. They have lived a life of service on the Indian Reservation. Both are active church workers. Mrs. Marsden for many years was the church organist, Mr. Marsden was a member of the council, and for 23 years he was Chief of the Alderville Indians.

They have five daughters: Mrs. Arthur Smith (Jane), Mrs. W. A. Gibson (Sarah), Marion and Elgie, all of Toronto, Mrs. George Baker (Charlotte), Bedford, Oregon, six sons Norman, Wallace, and Robert, North Carolina, Bruce and Leslie, Akron, Ohio, Verne, Tornto. A son Hilton passed away some years ago. There are also 15 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, and as a number of the members of their family came fro ma distance, it was deemed advisable to make it a double celebration.

PROGRAM INDOORS

Owing to rain, the afternoon's program was held indoors. Mr. Leslie Marsden, Akron, Ohio, a son of the host and hostess, was master of ceremonies.

A chicken dinner was served cafeteria style.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses Marsden, Lakefield, had the distinction of being the longest carried couple present, with 55 years of married life to their credit.

Mr. George Beaver, 84 years of age, was the oldest person present, and did a step dance to the delight of the audience.

Included among those from a distance were: Richard Byers, Youngsville, Penn., James and Gerry Black, Greensburg, Penn., Mrs. Norman Marsden, Jr., Miss Nancy Marsden, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Marsden, Mrs. W. V. Whatley, Mrs. Edna Walker, Mrs. Janet Walker, Kenneth Walker, Akron, Ohio, Mr. and rMs. Bruce Marsden, Darrell and Debra, Akron, Mr. Robert Marsden, Miss Della Marsden, Mr. Percy Marsden, Christian Island, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Marsden, Marilyn, Glenn, and Trudy Marsden, Misses Evelyn McCabe, Elgie Marsden, Marion Marsden, Jessie Grant, and Vivian Beaver, Messrs. Clifton Turns Tourney Into Runaway Race

HAMILTON (CP)—George Clifton, host professional, turned the Niagara-on-the-Lake club's annual pro-amateur tournament into a runaway race during the week-end when he sliced seven strokes off the club's par of 72 and chalked up a new course record with his blazing 65.

The brilliant round included an eagle deuce on the par four seventh hole, where Clifton drove the 335-yard green.

Pros representing 31 Ontario clubs competed and in a three-way tie for second place, with one-under 71's were Al Balding, Islington, Bob Gray, Scarboro, and Normie Himes Westmount veteran. Clare Chinery, Hamilton Chedoke, was even par 72 to be next in line.

In the amateur division, Dan Kolbrick set the pace with a one-under 71.

2 Chinese Fighters Jump Navy Plane

WASHINGTON (AP). —Two jet fighters with Chinese Communist marknis jumped a United States naval patrol plane over the Yellow Sea last Thursday, killing two of the crew but failing to bring the plane down.

The navy, in a special announcement yesterday, said the slow U.S. flying boat returned the fire of the jets, fought them off and then managed to limp back to the west coast of Korea with two crew members dead and two wounded.

He said its existence "is merely for propaganda purposes." With him is Dr. Wen Tah Yang.

AP Inaugurates News Service

NEW YORK (AP)—Radio-teletype service to the leading newspapers and radio stations of Latin America and the West Indies was inaugurated today by The Associated Press. Members in that area had been receiving the news by Morse wireless.

With the initiation of the new service comes closer integration of AP's daily radiophoto transmission with the news report to Latin America. Part of the new equipment installed for the radio-teletype service can be used interchangeably, to receive either pictures or news.

The news report as received by Latin American newspapers and radio stations will be in exactly the same form as that going to U.S. members, except that the transmitting means is a wireless signal instead of a land line.

The operation serves among others Mexico, Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, Peru, Ecuador, Colombia, Venezuela, Panama, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Bermuda, the Bahamas, Jamaica and Trinidad. Brazilian newspapers and radio stations will join the network as soon as their equipment is installed.

Identify Body

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A sister and brother yesterday identified a mutiliated, headless murder victim as Betty Jack Stevens, 21-year-old Dallas waitress. The girl's nude torso, with the letters R-A-T carved into the abdomen, was discovered Wednesday near Yukon, Okla. The chief of the Oklahoma crime bureau said the girl had a criminal record in both Texas and Oklahoma. Officers believe she may have been the victim of gangland revenge.

Rear-End Collisions Damage Four Autos.

Two rear end collisions on Lansdowne St., Monday resulted in damage to the vehicles involved but there were no injuries.

John B. White, R.R. 1 Locust Hill, was driving east on Lansdowne St., following a car driven by Edward J. Williams, 519 Sherbrooke St. The Williams car stopped at Park St., for the traffic light and White whose attention was drawn momentarily to an approaching car travelling close to the centre line did not see that the car ahead had stopped, in time to avoid a collision.

Damage to the rear of the Williams car was estimated at $125, while approximately $115 damage resulted to the White car. Constable William G. Scott investigated.

A similar accident occurred on Lansdowne St., when William Pugh, 401 Bellevue Ave., ran into the rear of a car driven by Joseph Russell, First Ave., Thistletown, which had stopped at the C.P.R. crossing. Both cars were travelling east. Constable Harold Andrew investigated.

Janet Blair Going Strong In South Pacific

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—To paraphrase the well-known song, Janet Blair is in love with a wonderful show.

This show is a little number called "South Pacific," and Miss Blair's affection for it knows no bounds. She has devoted two years of her life to it, neglecting the movies and other phases of her well-rounded career.

"I've done 919 performances, as of last night," she said. "I've never missed a show, although there were times when I felt like it. Sometimes I've had colds and could do little more than talk the songs. But I've always felt better after having gone on."

STRONG-MINDED

Janet is a strong-minded girl whenever her career is concerned. Her former boss, Harry Cohn of Columbia studios, found that out. She spent seven years on the lot, and the headman wanted her to sign on again. She refused.

Branching out independently, she did a season of summer stock (her only stage experience before 'South Pacific'). She was one of the first film personalities to appear on television. Then she teamed with the Blackburn twins in a highly successful night club and theatre act. From there, she signed on as Ensign Nellie Forbush. So far, there's no end in sight. She could end up an admiral.

Four Sick Children Flown To Hospital

HALIFAX (CP).—Four ill Eskimo children were flown from their homes at Frobisher to hospital at Goose Bay, Labrador, Sunday.

Two girls—aged eight months and 2½ years—were seriously ill with meningitis. Another, 11, had an infected eye and a 14-year-old boy had appendicitis.

Frobisher is about 500 miles north of Goose Bay.

Kitimat Project Biggest Undertaking Ever Attempted By Private Enterprise

(Editor's Note: A vast new aluminum industry is being built in northern British Columbia — a $550,000,000 project based on cheap electricity from the wild streams of beautiful Tweedsmuir Park. Dave Stockand, Canadian Press staff writer, describes the opening of a new frontier in this story, first of a series.)

By DAVE STOCKAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—Permanent is replacing temporary on the blueprints which promise British Columbia an aluminum industry in 1954.

The temporary is impressive, costly, and reward of a year's grappling with some of the wildest country in North America.

But this conquest is just a preliminary to the job which started here when winter gales quit pounding out of the North Pacific and sunshine sucked seven feet of snow from the ground.

First, some history. In 1948, the Aluminum Company of Canada, a subsidiary of Aluminum Limited, surveyed 12,000 square miles of northern B.C.

Alcan decided to tackle the project, which has been called the biggest ever undertaken by private enterprise.

WORLD'S LARGEST

Kitimat, 450 miles north of Vancouver and 80 miles southeast of Prince Rupert on the twisting coast, was chosen as site of what Alcan says will be the world's largest aluminum smelter.

It will be the payoff part of a $550,000,000 project that starts 140 miles inland with a dam across the Grand Canyon of the Nechako river.

Kitimat is where the aluminum will be made. But it takes thousands of horsepower to drive the industry. To create this power, Alcan has reached over the coast range to an untamed wilderness.

A 300-foot-high dam now being built on the Nechako will reverse the normal eastward flow of the water of a huge plateau, creating a natural reservoir 350 square miles in area with its water surface 2,800 feet above sea level.

With its eastern exit sealed the water will be backed up in the Ootsa-Tahtsa chain of lakes. From Tahtsa lake—head of the entire system—these waters will be drawn off to the west through a 10-mile tunnel through solid rock of the coast range.

SMELTER SITE—Machines are clearing, stripping and reinforcing with gravel fill a site of more than 50 acres for the biggest aluminum smelter in the world at Kitimat, B.C. The Aluminum Company of Canada, a subsidiary of Aluminum Limited, started the $550,000,000 project—which includes a dam, powerhouse, transmission lines and other components of the development—in 1948. The smelter is expected to start operation in 1954. In background are work camp buildings.—(CP Photo)

HALF-MILE DROP

From there, the water will plunge in a half-mile drop through pipes and penstocks to the powerhouse deep inside the coastal flank of the mountains at Kemano. The power site is 125 miles west of the dam.

From Kemano powerhouse, capable of eventually developing 1,600,000 horsepower, transmission lines over the mountains will carry the power 50 miles northwest to the smelter here.

A recent estimate placed expenditure so far at $84,500,000, including $13,500,000 by Kitimat constructors, an alliance of eight major B.C. firms handling construction at Kitimat.

The first workmen arrived here about 15 months ago, pitching tents at the base of the mountains which rise from the shores of Douglas channel. Here they dug in.

As Guy Davis, an Alcan engineer, explains: "A project like this must be done in stages. First, we bring in 20 men to build a camp for 40 men. They build a camp for 200 men, who. . ."

GROWTH OF VILLAGE

At the start a wooden wharf was built so supplies and equipment could be landed. Workers had to thin the trees down to the ocean.

The camp grew to a village of 1,200 men and includes such conveniences as a dial telephone system for only 18 telephone numbers and one of Canada's largest and most up-to-date cafeterias.

Now workmen are dredging the harbor and construction is beginning on a permanent concrete wharf to serve freighters carrying alumina (processed from bauxite ore) through the Panama Canal from the West Indies.

There is no bauxite—primary source of aluminum—in British Columbia. But aluminum is refined by an electrolytic process. The cheapness of hydro-electric power makes it possible to ship ore to British Columbia for refining, despite the length of the sea haul.

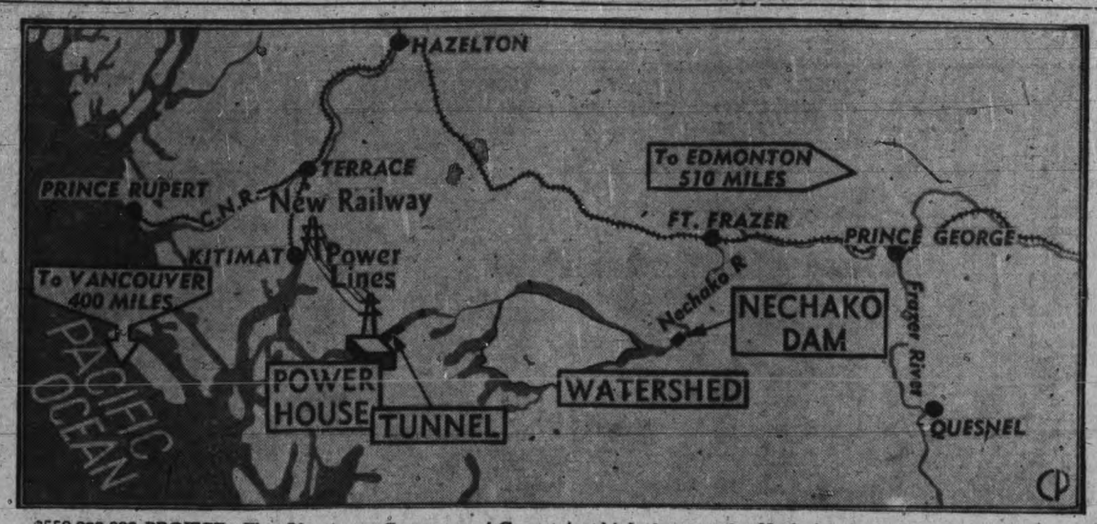
Machines are clearing, stripping and reinforcing with gravel fill a smelter site one third of a mile by one quarter of a mile. They are working two nine-hour shifts a day to have it ready by autumn.

An access road is being driven to the Kitimat townsite, four miles up Kitimat valley from the smelter, and clearing has been started at the Kitimat city centre and in the area mapped out for storage facilities.

PODUCTION IN 1954

The smelter, or aluminum-reduction plant, is expected to be operating by mid-1954 with an output of 80,000 metric tons (88,000 short tons) of aluminum annually.

Finishing touches are being put on a concrete-batching plant and a gravel-screening plant. A sawmill, cutting only timber which has been felled in the process of clearing, is handling 10,000 board feet a day.



At the smelter site, some machines are so big they gulp four tons of dirt in a mouthful. The waste material is carted away in heavy-duty ore trucks, some of which weigh five tons and carry 25 tons.

Dredging the harbor is necessary because the wharf must be near the smelter, which will be built partly on the delta of the Kitimat River.

The wharf will take about a year to complete and be 800 feet long, six feet high and 4 feet wide. A conveyor-belt sysetm will lead from the wharf to storage buildings near the smelter. The harbor will handle deep-sea freighters as large as 12,500 tons.

Perhaps the most important thing to many of the men who live and work at Kitimat is the news that the first of 100 "married quarters" will be completed in a few weeks.

So far the female population has been nil.

$550,000,000 PROJECT—The Aluminum Company of Canada is building what it calls the biggest aluminum smelter in the world at Kitimat, B.C., 450 miles north of Vancouver and 80 miles southeast of Prince Rupert. The smelter will be the payoff part of a $550,000,000 project started following a survey made in 1948. It is expected to be in operation in mid-1954 producing 88,000 short tons of aluminum annually. A 300-foot-high dam on the Nechako river will reverse the normal eastward flow of the water of a huge plateau, creating a natural reservoir 350 square miles in area. Water will be drawn off to the west by way of a 10-mile tunnel through solid rock to the power site 125 miles west of the dam. Transmission lines will carry the output, up to 16,000,000 horsepower, to the smelter 50 miles further northwest.—(CP Photo)

E. Canada Has 28 Fatalities Over Holiday

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The end of the three-day Civic Holiday week-end found 28 persons killed in Eastern Canada. Traffic accidents accounted for 17 deaths and eight persons were drowned.

There were 18 fatal accidents in Ontario, four in Quebec, three in New Brunswick, two in Nova Scotia and one in Newfoundland.

Five members of one family were killed near Pembroke, Ont., when their car was struck by a train at a level crossing and two young brothers were drowned together at the resort of Wasaga Bach on Gorgian Bay.

A Winnipg woman was drownd in a hotel bathtub at Sudbury and a 16-year-old girl electrocuted while bathing at St. John's, Newfoundland.

This week-end's tragedy toll was relatively low compared with many other week-ends. Last week 31 persons were killed in the six eastern provinces.

SHOPPING TRIP

A level-crossing accident at Petawawa village, 10 miles north of Pembroke, brought a tragic end to a shopping trip.

Percy Touseant, 30; his wife, Evelyn, 25; and their three sons, Nelson, 5, Leonard, 3, and Edward, 2, were killed. A daughter, Idella, 7, suffered broken legs, chest and internal injuries.

The family had been shopping after visiting relatives when Mr. Touseant drove his automobile into the path of a slow-moving freight train at an unguarded level crossing.

Mrs. Touseant and her youngest son died on the spot. The other two boys died shortly after an army ambulance from Camp Petawawa brought them here to hospital. The father died six hours after the accident.

Others killed in Ontario traffic accidents were: Arthur Williams, 22, of Roseland, near Windsor; William E. Shipway, 62, of Toronto near his home; Ross Armstrong, 28, of Cardinal, at Brockville; Charles J. Dagneau, 54, near his home in Chatham; Stephen Marynuk, of Sudbury, at Bracebridge.

Ontario drownings: Clark Stevenson, 2, in the Saugeen River at Mount Forest; Richard, 4, and Jack Carr, 5, of Toronto at Wasaga Beach; Thomas B. Lane, 49, of Kilworthy in Kahshe Lake near Bracebridge; Francis Gouthro, 22, of Glace Bay, N.S., at Toronto; Ernest Redner, 72, of Rednersville in the Bay of Quinte.

Dr. Kay Bocsi of Winnipeg was drowned in a bathtub at the Couls Hotel in Sudbury. Mrs. Margaret Evans, 65, of Toronto, was struck by a freight train in Toronto during a thunderstorm.

Rescues Infant Bay Of Quinte

TRENTON. — Russell White jumped fully clothed into the Bay of Quinte Saturday to rescue a baby, applied artificial respiration for half an hour and revived the 9months-old boy. Later he learned the child was the son of his next-door neighbor.

White swam several yards to rescue the child, after he saw him floating face down in the water.

Later it was learned the child, Benjamin Smitz, had been playing on the riverside lawn of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Smitz, while the father kept watch. Mr. Smitz fell asleep and the baby crawled over a parapet and tumbled into the bay.

The Smitz family came to Canada from The Netherlands five months ago.

Red Cross Report Expected To Touch Off New Discord

TORONTO (CP)—A report of the General Commission to be delivered today at 18th International Red Cross conference threatens to touch off east-west antagonism afresh.

The report details the work of the commission during the last week. It covers such controversial topics as Communist charges of United States atrocities and use of germ warfare in Korea and the position of the Red Cross' International Committee. Since the conference opened more than a week ago the Soviet bloc delegations have constantly thrown these questions into discussion.

CHAIRMAN'S WARNING

John MacAulay of Winnipeg, chairman of the conference, served warning yesterday, however, that he intends to curb discussions with political undertones or which revive old controversies.

He told delegates:

"In my opinion certain subjects may be humanitarian. But when they develop into accusations and charges of one government against another, it becomes, in my opinion, political."

REPEAT CHARGES

The Chinese Communist delegation yesterday continued its charges of United States germ warfare in Korea, but this time for newspapermen only.

At a press conference Madame Li Teh chaun, head of the Chinese delegation, said that in 804 bombings in more than 70 Korean centres since January, germ-laden insects, leaflets, food, animals and clothing were dropped. She produced pictures, pamphlets and alleged testimonials by two captured United States airmen.

The charges have been consistently denied by the United States and all attempts by the Red Cross to organize an impartial investigation have been thwarted by the Communists.

TRIO IN EXILE—Former King Farouk of Egypt holds his six-month-old son, the infant King Ahmed Fuad II, as he and ex-Queen Narriman talk to reporters on the Isle of Capri. Farouk denied that he had with him a fortune in treasure and said he plans to remain on the Italian island until he has decided where to go in exile.

Big Pipeline Blast Rocks Homes In Trenton Area

Canadian Dollar Hits Highest Level In 19 Years

NEW YORK (CP)—The Canadian dollar hit its highest level in 19 years today when it was quoted at $1.04 3-16 in terms of U.S. currency. Its all-time high was set Nov. 16, 1933, when it rose to $1.05½ when foreign-exchange dealers were acting on rumors of an increase in the U.S. price for gold. Just a month ago it reached $1.04⅛ but dropped back slightly. The low point of the Canadian dollar was 77.75 cents U.S., recorded between May 25 and June 1, 1940, when the fall of France created a wave of pessimism among foreign-exchange traders dealing in currencies of the belligerent countries.

That low, however, came at a time when the Canadian dollar was at a controlled price of 90 cents and the free market in New York was a limited one.

The other low mark of the Canadian dollar was in December, 1931, near the bottom of the depression when it was at a discount of 21¼ per cent.

The Canadian dollar began its present rise nearly two years ago when the Canadian government relaxed controls and left it virtually free to find its own level after having been at a 10-per cent discount.

It jumped to around 95 cents in terms of U.S. funds and when Canada dropped all foreign-exchange controls in December, 1951, the dollar's upward pace quickened.

Since then, spurred by demands abroad for Canadian currency and by an influx of U.S. investors into the Canadian market, the Canadian dollar has risen steadily.

Army Engineers Produce "Flying Saucers"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Evening Star says today that U.S. army engineers, working with a vacuum bell in a laboratory, have produced atmospheric phenomena which may explain the widespread reports of "flying saucers."

In a copyright story by W.H. Shippen, the Star says the experiments created airborne objects which "can speed up, hover indefintely, or disappear and reappear in a flash."

It adds:

"The man-made saucers" occasionally fly in formation. Moreover, they are believed to have substance enough to show up on the screen 'of a radar designed to track them.'

What the experimentors did, the Star said, was use the vacuum bell as a tiny working-model of the stratosphere and reproduce "two forces, very low air pressure which is balanced against static electricity in a way to give off light."

TWO PRIMARY FACTORS

"Experimenters in the research and development laboratory at Fort Belvoir (Va.) believe these two are the primary factors responsible for saucer sightings by competent observers."

During a night of rain last night radar screens, scanning the skies over Washington, showed a flurry of mystery objects.

In line with the theory that they are atmospheric phenomena, an air force spokesman noted that the radar sightings—tiny blips on a fluorescent screen—started about the time a thunderstorm hit the area.

Truck Blows Up Town Damaged

CRAIGS, Pa. (AP)—A truck loaded with dynamite blew up yesterday in this tiny mine-farm community, damaging 10 homes—the entire town—and injuring nine persons, one seriously. No deaths were reported.

Police said truck driver Frank Barnhardt, 23, had leaped safely off the truck before the terrific blast that was heard for miles around. The driver suffered injury when bowled over by the concussion.

The truck was blown to bits and a huge hole was torn in the highway.

U.N. Pilots Down 6 Red Planes

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The United States fifth air force said its Sabre jet pilots shot down six Communist MIGs today in four separate air battles over North Korea, raising to 10 the number of Russian-built jet fighters destroyed in two days.

The air force said one MIG was damaged in today's scraps, involving Sabre pilots of the 4th and 51st fighter-interceptor wings.

Fighter-bombers swarmed over North Korean targets in bright weather.

By noon today, the fifth air force said, Allied planes had destroyed four enemy boxcars and damaged eight, smashed four road bridges and one rail bridge and knocked out seven mortar positions.

Murdered Man Had Links With Canada

TORONTO (CP)—Sir Jack Drummond, British food expert who was brutally slain in France yesterday with his wife and child, had many links with Canada.

The 61-year-old Drummond, Britain's Second World War food planner, is remembered for appearances in Canada before groups of nutrition experts. In 1949 he spoke to the Toronto Academy of Medicine's industrial section on mass experiments on nutrition carried on through 10 years of rationing in Britain.

Lady Drummond's sister is married to a Canadian army officer stationed at Camp Borden, Lt.-Col. C. D. Cameron, former officer commanding the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders of Cornwall.

In France, police said robbery appeared to be the motive for the slaying at Forcalquiers in the foothills of the Alps where Sir Jack was vacationing with his pretty brunette wife and their 12-year-old daughter. Money and suitcases were missing.

Boy 7 Studies Engineering

TUJUNGA, Calif. (AP)—Leonard Ross' parents are trying hard to make him believe he's just like other youngsters, but it isn't easy. How many boys seven years old are studying radio engineering?

Or like to read encyclopedias and almanacs? Or can add fractions in their heads? Or memorize the names of the kings of England and presidents of the United States, just for fun?

Occasionally Mr. and Mrs. William Ross forget that Lenny is a boy and discuss such things as politics with him as though he were an adult.

Lenny recently passed two stiff federal communications commission examinations, one for a novice radio operator's licence and the other for a commercial radio operator's certificate. The second test required the ability to send and receive at last five words a minute in Morse code.

A prodigy? Lenny's mother, a court reporter, tries to scoff at the idea. But she admits that her son has been reading since he was 3. He has used an electric typewriter, adding machine and an office calculator for three years.

Earl Of Dalkeith To Wed Society Girl

LONDON (Reuters)—Jane McNeill, 21-year-old English society girl, last night announced her engagement to the Earl of Dalkeith, Scots peer whose name has often been romantically linked with Princess Margaret.

The six-foot earl, 28, who prefers country life to city living will be the fifth of the princess' immediate circle of young men friends to marry.

Strong rumors of his engagement to the princess in January this year were swiftly followed by gossip that he was already engaged to Miss McNeill, at the time visting her father, a Hong Kong lawyer.

Substantial Tax Reductions In Australian Budget

CANBERRA (Reuters)—The 1952-53 Australian budget, introduced today by treasury chief Sir Arthur Fadden, features substantial tax reductions and revisions totalling £49,570,000 ($111,036,800.) Businessmen will be the chief beneficiaries of these concessions.

The budget also provides for increased pensions and social welfare allowances.

Fadden said he hoped tax revisions will "serve as an incentive to investors, businessmen and the community as a whole."

"We are making reductions to the very limit of our budget capacity," he added.

TAX REDUCTIONS

Main tax reductions Fadden announced were these:

1. Abolition of a special 10-percent income tax levy imposed last year.

2. Reduction of two shillings (about 23 cents) in public company tax rate on the first £5,000 ($11,200) of taxable income.

3. Termination of system of advance payments by companies.

4. Reduction of general sales tax rates from 66 2-3 per cent to 50 per cent. Luxury goods, cosmetics, sports equipment, toys and radios are products which will be cheaper because of this measure.

Fadden also announced repatriation, pension and welfare allowance increases worth £3,200,000 ($7,168,000).

He said general war pensions will be increased 10 shillings ($1.22) weekly. Others will be boosted correspondingly.

PENSIONS INCREASED

Social service—old age, invalid and widows—pensions will be increased by up to seven shillings and sixpence weekly.

Unemployment benefits will be doubled. This will cost the government £11,000,000 ($24,640,000).

Fadden said that defence estimates cannot be completed until the defence program as a whole has been revised in the light of discussions Prime Minister Robert Menzies had in Canada, Britain and the United States.

The budget predicted a small surplus — £460,000 ($1,030,400)—after meeting expenditures totalling £959,430,000 ($2,149,123,000).

People Stay In Cellars, Under Cars

Windows, Chimneys Shattered By Explosion Force

TRENTON (CP)—Scores of windows were shattered at nearby Glen Miller last night by concussion of an explosion caused when part of a ditch was blasted free for an oil pipeline.

Frightened women with babies in arms ran into the roadway when the first report shook the riverside community on the Trent river four miles north of Trenton.

Chimneys and several houses were shifted. A garage was moved six inches off its foundation. Men took cover under parked cars when rocks began falling.

The explosion, caused by three tons of dynamite, lifted 6,000 cubic feet of bedrock from the river. Only half the blasting occurred yesterday. In a week's time the other half of the channel will be blown.

$10,000 DAMAGE

Damage to property was about $10,000 but residents are not too concerned. They say the pipeline company has promised to pay for repairs.

Residents had been warned two days in advance of the impending blast by a loudspeaker truck which circled through Glen Miller.

Today, there were still unconfirmed reports of roofs being damaged by flying rock, but there was not a single injury reported. More than one family heeded the warning of the sound truck and sheltered themselves in a cellar during the explosion.

Members of the blasting crew went through the district they expected would be affected by concussion and removed large picture windows from many homes.

Steel sheeting protecting the planks of a wooden bridge across the Trent at Glen Miller was buckled by the force of the blast. None of the planks were broken, and the foundations of the bridge were unharmed.

Bomber Crashes Near Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—A bomb-laden B-29 Superfort, bound for North Korea, crashed and burned tonight four minutes after it took off from Yokota air base west of Tokyo.

Far East Air Forces headquarters said nine crew members made low-altitude parachute leaps before the crash but the pilot and two other crew members were missing.

Kyodo news agency quoted Japanese police that the three missing men had died in the crash.

The pilot released the bombs with fuses inactivated before the impact. Police said one exploded in some unexplained manner and slightly injured an elderly Japanese man.

BUS-CRASH KILLS 28 PERSONS—Rescue workers search the charred wreckage of two Greyhound buses after the vehicles collided head-on and burned near Waco, Tex. At least 28 persons were killed and 23 injured. Authorities called the disaster the worst of its kind in the history of Texas.

Rhee Piles Up Lead In Korean Vote

PUSAN, Korea (CP)—President Syngman Rhee today piled up a 2½-to-1 lead over three opponents in unofficial returns from nearly half the voting places in Tuesday's first direct presidential election in South Korea.

Latest returns gave Rhee 2,409,714 of about 3,500,000 votes counted.

Totals for other candidates: Cho Bong Am, national assembly vice-chairman, 507,335; former vice-president Lee Shi Yung, 425,445; and Hugh Cynn, former ambassador to Japan, 128,707.

Government officials estimated about 7,000,000 of 8,218,000 eligible voters cast ballots. The official count will be announced Aug. 13.

TIGHT RACE

A tight race was developing among nine candidates for the vice-presidency.

It appeared to Western observers that the election was orderly and free, but that there was some pressure on voters from police and other groups before the election.

Lee's campaign workers have accused the national police, once controlled by Lee, of interference and have filed a court suit charging three top government officials—Premier Chang Taik Sang, Interior Minister Kim Tai Sun and Police Chief Yoon Uo Kyong—with unfair practices.

Meanwhile, opposition newspapers today voiced violent protests against the conduct of yesterday's voting, when an estimated 50,000 eligible voters were not allowed to poll because their names were not on the voting lists. Opposition newspapers said the omission of their names was a trick by pro-Rhee officials.

Pilot Trapped In Jet Hammers Way Out

SOUTH GLASTONBURY, Conn. (AP)—An R.A.F. pilot, trapped in a powerless Sabre-jet F-86, hammered his way out and parachuted to safety seconds before the plane crashed yesterday.

Flt. Lt. James L. Dell, training here with the United States Air Force, was returning to Westover Field when his plane ran out of fuel.

Dell said he was about 10,000 feet in a heavy overcast when the plane failed. He pulled the button to open the canopy over the cockpit and eject him from the plane.

The mechanism jammed and Dell found himself trapped in the falling jet. He stood up and battered the canopy with his arms and helmet until it opened. He said he was at 4,000 feet when he finally freed himself and jumped.

The abandoned plane plowed into the ground in a patch of woods. The impact was followed by an explosion. The fire touched off machine-gun bullets carried in the plane and police and firemen had to take cover as the ammunition whizzed through the trees.

2 Masked Men Get $320 At Restaurant

MAIDSTONE (CP)—Two masked men escaped with $320 early today after forcing the proprietor of a restaurant to hand over the money at gunpoint.

The two men stopped George and Gertrude O'Neill as they were walking from their restaurant to their home nearby. One man jammed a shotgun in O'Neill's back and forced him to hand over closing time receipts.

The two men then drove away in an automobile which was parked nearby.

Swedes Get Tough Over Russ Action

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Sweden fired two more strong protests at Russia yesterday and hinted she might take to the United Nations her quarrel with the Soviets over the shooting down of two unarmed Swedish places last June. Swedish Foreign Minister Oesten Unden summoned the Soviet ambassador, Rear-Admiral Constantine Rodionov, and handed him two notes, one of which asked Moscow to order its diplomats here to stop spying on Swedish military establishments.

In the fifth of a series of protests over the plane shootings, Sweden expressed "surprise and regret" at Russia's refusal to let the international court of justice pass on Swedish charges that the aircraft were shot down over international waters.

The note served notice that the Swedes "reserve their full right to revert to the matter in the form and at the time they will find suitable."

This was interpreted in diplomatic circles as an indication that Sweden might take the issue to the next session of the U.N. General Assembly. At stake, in the Swedish view, is freedom of the Baltic Sea where the planes were lost last June.

The note demanding that Russia curb Soviet spy activity in Sweden referred to the six-week trial, ended last week, in which two Swedish Communists were given life sentences and four others sentenced to up to seven years. They were convicted of turning over vital secrets of Sweden's northern military defences to the reds.

"By the sentence rendered. . .it has been established," the note said, "that the principal defendant in that case (Communist Fritiof Enbom) has had contacts with representatives of the Soviet intelligence service and acted in their employ and that he has received remuneration in money for his services."

Greece Ready Fight For Island

SALONIKA, Greece (Reuters)—Greece today ordered in troops with shoot - to - kill instructions to back up an ultimatum handed yesterday to Bulgarian Communist forces occupying a frontier river island claimed by Greece.

The little island of Gama lies in the middle of the River Evross, which flows between Greece and the Communist state. Troops along the Greek shore have been ordered to take it over and to return fire if the Bulgarians resist.

The orders climax a long dispute over the island which broke out afresh last month when Bulgarians occupied it in a series of armed clashes.

Two years ago Bulgaria refused to accept a United Nations suggestion for a joint Greek-Bulgarian committee to settle the dispute.

The Greek authorities yesterday gave the Bulgarians an ultimatum to get off the island by today. Reports from the border said three Bulgarians were still on the island at dawn, but have since disappeared.

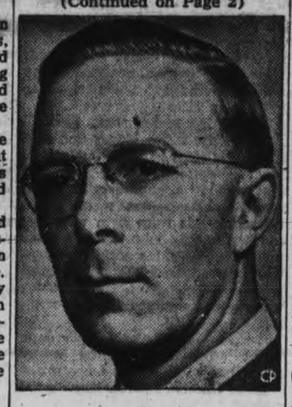
Tragic Accident

HOUSTON (AP)—Mrs. Frank Guzjardo bathed her 11-month-old son, drained the tub and left him for a moment to play. His sister, Mary, 2, wanted to play, too. Police said she turned on the faucet and played in the water with tissue paper. The paper stopped the drain and the horrified mother found the tub overflowing and Frank Jr., submerged, lifeless. A justice of the peace ruled that death was by accidental drowning.

Social Credit Party Wins In Alberta With Big Majority

EDMONTON (CP)—The Social Credit party, back in power in Alberta for its fifth consecutive term, again will have an overwhelming majority in the next legislature. That was assured yesterday in the provincial general election when 43-year-old Premier E. C. Manning, youngest provincial chieftain in Canada, led his party back to about the same commanding position it held at dissolution. When counting ended last night, this was the party standing compared with the results of the 1948 election:

	1952	1948
Social Credit	41	51
Liberal	1	2
CCF	1	2
Ind-SC	1	1
Independent	—	1
Doubtful	17	—
Total	61	57



The Social Credit tidal wave at the polls, especially at rural points drowned the bids of the Liberals and the C.C.F. to break the government's 17-year hold on the oil-rich province. It all but washed away legislature opposition from party rebels and wasn't affected by the limited revival of the Progressive Conservative movement in the province.

MANNING HEADS POLL

Mr. Manning, who became premier after the death in 1943 of William Aberhart, party leader in Social Credit's first sweep in 1935, won personal victory in Edmonton where he headed the polls against 28 other candidates.

Liberal Leader J. Harper Prowse unsuccessful in his second attempt to become the first Alberta Liberal Premier since 1921, and veteran C.C.F. chief Elmer E. Roper also

ALBERTA'S ELECTORS on Tuesday returned the Social Credit Government of Premier Ernest Charles Manning, 43, ABOVE. Mr. Manning has been premier for the past eight years and prior to that was member of the cabinet when the late William Aberhart formed the first Social Credit government. Mr. Manning preaches on Sunday at the Prophetic Institute in Calgary where he was formerly an assistant to Mr. Aberhart.

Egypt Seizes Properties Of Former King

CAIRO — (CP). — Egypt's reform government last night seized the properties of exiled ex-King Farouk, valued in some estimates at more than $2,000,000,000. The cabinet appointed a two-man board to administer them.

It is generally believed that the properties will be distributed by the government as part of a vast new land reform program now under consideration by Premier Al Maher and his cabinet.

Among the royal possessions taken over were:

Four palaces with over 1,000 luxuriously furnished rooms; it is believed they will go to Egypt's universities which have already asked for them; more than 20 country villas; more than 100 fancy motor cars; and about one-third of Egypt's 6,000,000 acres of arable soil.

BAN TRANSACTIONS

The decree taking over the properties banned any transactions involving them either by Farouk or others. It placed them in charge of former foreign minister Ahmed Kashaba and former finance minister Hussein Fahmi.

After fleeing the country July 26 Farouk told reporters in Capri he would be a comparatively poor man.

A prince, a doctor and a colonel were sworn in yesterday to act for the Egyptian crown until infant King Ahmed Fuad II comes of age.

The regents—Prince Abdel Moneim, Dr. Bahieddin Barakat, and Col. Rashad Mohanna—took the oath in a 90-second ceremony. As the regency council, they now hold the royal powers and prerogatives.

Six-month-old Fuad is with his exiled father Farouk and mother Narriman on the Italian island of Capri.

$50,000 Fire At Arnprior

ARNPRIOR, Ont. (CP)—A fast-spreading fire today gutted a three-storey brick structure in the heart of this Ottawa Valley town with damage tentatively set in excess of $50,000.

Three hours after the flames were discovered in the upper-floor stockrooms of the building housing Stedman's Novelty shop, fire authorities said they believed they had the flames under control.

Volunteer firemen under Chief William Beattie were aided by R.C.A.F. volunteers from a nearby air station. Every available hoseline was brought into play to save adjacent buildings.

The roof of the flaming building collapsed in a shower of sparks and burning embers, scattering large crowds gathered at the scene. The building was one of the oldest in Arnprior.

Cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Nearby premises threatened were the H.D. McCord drug store, a large chain grocery, the T. Eaton Company's mail order office and the Mainview photographic studios in the heart of this town of about 4,000 population.

Arnprior is 35 miles west of Ottawa.

Police Ask Help In Identifying Dead

WACO, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Highway Patrol, still trying to identify dead and find out how many were killed in Monday's bus collision near here, appealed for aid today.

Only 14 of 28 bodies recovered from the charred wreckage of the two Greyhound buses had been identified. Three other persons were known dead but a pile of blackened bones and shriveled flesh defied identification.

Capt. Sam Gardner of the highway patrol made the appeal for help in identifying the bodies. Authorities said it may take days to identify the rest of the dead.

Spectacular Success Story

George McCullagh Dies at 47

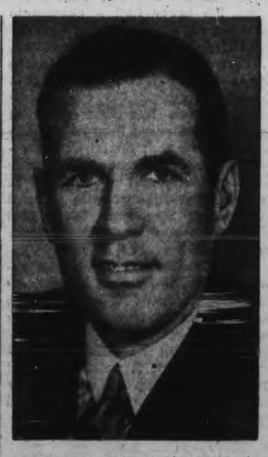
TORONTO — (CP). — George McCullagh, who sold newspapers first when he was nine and became the publisher of The Toronto Globe and Mail and The Telegram, died last night at the age of 47.

Family physicians said he suffered three heart attacks in quick succession at his home in Thornhill, a Toronto suburb. Death struck unexpectedly at a time when he seemed to be recovering from a long siege of recurring illness.

The funeral will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Bloor Street East. Interment will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Archbishop R. J. Renison will conduct the service, assisted by Canon F. H. Wilkinson.

Until the funeral, the body will be at the A. W. Miles funeral home, 30 St. Clair Avenue West.



Funeral arrangements will be announced today.

George McCullagh, son of a London, Ont., cabinet-maker, knew hardship in his youth. All through his schooling he delivered papers to help support the family. He had to get a full-time job after six months of high school.

NATIONAL FIGURE

But in his 30s he had become a national figure, dubbed "Canada Wonder Boy" by one magazine. He made a fortune in the Toronto financial field. Backed by William H. Wright, multi-millionaire mining man who died in 1951, he bought two Toronto papers and combined them in the Globe and Mail which he established in one of North America's most beautiful newspaper buildings.

Three-and-a-half years ago he bought the Toronto Evening Telegram for $3,610,000 to become publisher of two of Toronto's three dailies. The other is the Star.

GEORGE McCULLAGH

Mr. McCullagh's widow, the former Phyllis Laidlaw whom he married in 1929, survives with two sons, Robert John and George, and a daughter, Ann Caroline Other relatives include four sisters: Mrs. Harold Godber of Montreal and Mrs. Gordon Morris, Mrs. Ralph Blackmore and Mrs. Thelma Thompson, all of Toronto.

George McCullagh's childhood was spent on Askin street in south London, a workingman's district. He died on a 100-acre country estate.

ALGER CAREER

That change in circumstances is typical of his Horatio Alger career poor boy to rich executive. Leaders of church, state and business paid him tribute on his death.

"In every respect he was a truly great Canadian," said George Drew leader of the opposition in the House of Commons. "Few men have given more unselfish public service."

Premier Frost of Ontario was "inexpressably shocked" on learning of Mr. McCullagh's death. "Still a young man with a great contribution to make to his country, his passing is a very heavy loss. In his comparatively short life he was able to accomplish great things. A forthright, courageous man, he gave everything in the causes he

Swiss Minister Rebuffs Red Charges

TORONTO (CP)—Confidence in the Red-badgered international committee of the Red Cross was expressed yesterday by the international conference of the organization.

The committee, made up of 25 Swiss citizens, has been under attack by Communist delegates to the conference on the grounds that it is neither international nor impartial.

Yesterday the plenary session of the conference was told by Dr. Victor Nef, Swiss minister to Canada, that no other body could have fulfilled the committee's task in a better way.

ANSWERS RED CHARGES

Dr. Nef, speaking as the Swiss government delegate to the Red Cross meetings, was answering Gen. Nicholai Slavin, leader of the Russian delegation.

Gen. Slavin had called the I.C.R.C. "an absurdity which infringes the rights of the League of Red Cross Societies as it puts the committee above the league."

He launched the criticism during discussion on a motion to adopt the amended statutes of the international Red Cross. These previously had been approved in the legal sub-commission and by the council delegates and the board of governors. The conference as a whole adopted them 70 to 17.

Drift On Lake 11 Hours Judge, Son Rescued

SUTTON (CP)—Judge Herbert Claxton of Toronto and his 12-year-old son, Hugh, drifted on Lake Simcoe for 11 hours Monday night after the motor failed on their 23-foot launch. They drifted throughout the night and grounded at 6 a.m. yesterday.

The motor failed Judge Herbert Claxton and his son Hugh about 7 p.m. Monday, when they were north of Fox Island and about four miles off-shore. The 23-foot craft, not equipped with a sail and too big to manipulate with oars, began drifting due east.

The judge began firing off flares as soon as dusk settled. Soon his whole supply of 30 flares was gone and no one had seen them. At 6 a.m. Tuesday the boat drifted into School Bay on the west shore off Georgina Island, about nine miles from where the motor quit. The pair made their way to the home of Chief Lorenzo Big Canoe at the Indian Reserve and phoned to their home on Hedge Rd., Jackson's Point.

Woman Suffers Cuts In Car Accident

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Mrs. Marjorie Banks, 23, of Sarnia was admitted to St. Joseph's hospital last night suffering from a deep cut to her leg and bruises to face and arms.

Police said she was riding in a car driven by her husband, Ernest, which went off No. 22 highway near Lobo.

Prices Drift Downward On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices drifted downward in early afternoon stock market trading today. Only golds remained slightly above yesterdays close. Volume for the first three hours was 1,278,000 shares.

In the industrials list, agricultures, foods, retail stores and textiles drew firm support but steels, liquors, refining oils, financial institutions, manufacturing and miscellaneous issues were weak.

Senior golds were firm with two issues reaching new highs. Losses outnumbered gains among secondary issues, most being measured in pennies. A great many issues remained unchanged in slow trading.

Profit-taking on yesterday's base metal advance skimmed many issues but some leaders continued to gain. Ontario Pyrites drew good support.

Western oils traded actively with few major price changes. Federal Petroleum and Peace River slipped.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials down .82 at 329.48, golds up .08 at 93.41, base metals down .08 at 200.02 and western oils down .32 at 140.23.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3 31-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today. Tuesday's noon rate was 96 5-16 cents. The pound sterling was $2.68¼ against $2.69½ Tuesday.

High Lake Level Threatens Mill

BLIND RIVER (CP)—Officials of the J. J. McFadden Lumber Company mill here said last night that a dangerous increase in the level of Lake Huron threatens to close down the mill.

They said the water level in the basement of the company's power plant is rapidly nearing the point at which water will cease to flow into the lake from the plant's condenser pumps.

Although the water in the north channel of the lake has gone down four inches since its record level Saturday night, they said it must recede considerably more to remove the danger of flooding.

Blind River is 75 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, where the International Joint Commission ordered 15 of 16 gates of a compensating dam opened last week because of dangerously high levels on Lake Superior.

were re-elected in the seven-member Edmonton riding.

All but one of the nine cabinet ministers standing for re-election were returned. Attorney-General Lucien Maynard was leading in St. Albert constituency when vote counting ended late last night but a second count was necessary there. A second count also was required at Willingdon before it would be known if all of the 12 party originals of 1935 still loyal to the government would be returned.

The Cardston and Lacombe seats vacated by Mines Minister N.E. Tanner and Public Works Minister D.B. MacMillan, both retiring, were retained by Social Credit.

CABINET SHUFFLE

A shuffle of cabinet posts now is one of the first tasks of Premier Manning as he embarks on another term of office. He has announced he will take over the mines portfolio of Mr. Tanner himself and delegate the latter's lands and forests job to another minister. Mr. Manning also is expected to relinquish his post of provincial treasurer to someone else.

The Liberals, strong in Edmonton appeared likely to better their standing slightly after completion of the involved proportional representation system of voting which applied there and in Calgary. In 1948, it took 19 counts in Calgary and 14 in Edmonton to complete the slates in these cities.

While three of Edmonton's seven members were elected last night, only one of Calgary's six seats was filled when Mrs. Rose Wilkinson, Social Credit, was re-elected.

QUICK DECISION

The simpler transferable ballot system used in the 48 single-member constituencies largely cleared up other results and made it possible for The Canadian Press to report the re-election of the Social Credit government 79 minutes after the close of rural polls.

Redistribution gives Alberta's next legislature 61 seats, four more than the last. It added two in Edmonton, one in Calgary and created the new northern constituency of Bonnyville which was won by Social Credit.

Standing of parties at dissolution was Social Credit 49, Liberals 3, C.C.F. 2 and Independent Social Credit 3. The government party fielded 60 candidates, the Liberals 55, C.C.F. 41, Progressive Conservative 12, Independent Social Credit six and others eight.

ONE ACCLAMATION

One seat was decided nomination day when Provincial Secretary C.E. Gerhart was re-elected by acclamation after the C.C.F. aspirant failed to make the official nomination deadline.

Of the three rebel social crediters who were members of the last house, only R. Earl Ansley, ousted education minister, was re-elected. He won against the official Social Credit candidate and a C.C.F. nominee in Leduc.

Arthur Wray, persistent critic of the government since he was shunted to opposition benches before the 1948 election, was defeated in Banff-Cochrane by the government candidate. He had been in the legislature since 1944.

The third party rebel, A.V. Bourcier, was a hopeless last in a three-way race in Lac Ste. Anne. The government candidate led there.

PC LEADER BEATEN

M.E. Manning, president of the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association, was practically eliminated in the race in Edmonton.

But his party had a chance to take two seats, one each in Calgary and Edmonton. In the latter riding, J. Percy Page, famous Edmonton Grads basketball coach still was in the running.

A tabultion late last night of returns from more than half of the polls showed that Social Credit received 54.2 per cent of the vote compared with 56 in 1948 and 52 in 1944. The Liberal vote jumped to 24.9 per cent from 18 in 1948 and C.C.F. support dropped from 19 per cent to 15.1.

The government, which has reverted from the radical dividends-for-all platform of 1935 to orthodox financing today, campaigned on its record.

In defending its policy of limited gas export, it gained support from a majority of voters. The Liberals and the C. C. F. had opposed export at this time.

Rain Postpones Hambletonian Stake

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—Rain caused postponement of the 27th Hambletonian Stake today for 24 hours. The racing program will start tomorrow at noon EDT.

The $67,637 trotting derby this year will have the classiest field in its history.

espoused. He was generous to a fault."

E.B. Jolliffe, Ontario, C.C.F. leader and a former newspaper man: "I deeply regret the death of George McCullagh at such an early age. I had known him since 1936 and though we didn't agree about too many things I cannot refrain from saying that he was a good newspaper man. He really believed, as he often told me, in presenting the news fairly and took pride in seeing his papers give space to newsworthy stories whether for or against his own views.

"He was a hard fighter but did not allow his own opinions—sometimes extreme opinions—to obscure his sincere appreciation of a good news page."

"I am sure the story of his life will be an incentive to many young Canadians to attempt to serve their country in their generation, as he did in his," said Most Rev. R.J. Renison, metropolitan of Ontario of the Anglican church to which Mr. McCullagh belonged.

Allan Holmes, publisher of the Galt Reporter and president of the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, said: "Newspaper men all across Canada and many in other countries will learn of Mr. McCullagh's death with great regret.

WON RESPECT

"A publisher who did not fail to express his strong convictions in his newspapers, he had won the respect of his fellow publishers even if they often did not agree with his views.

"His newspaper success was an outstanding achievement for he became the guiding spirit of Canada's largest morning newspaper without the usual intensive training with which men who essay such a task are usually favored.

"The position that paper has attained speaks volumes for his achievement in its direction.

"The C.D.N.A. loses a valuable member and supporter in his death."

Sidney E. Smith, president of the University of Toronto, said:

"George McCullagh was a man who not only expressed but led public opinion. This was particularly true in the field of education. He regarded the office of journalist not only as a job of news gathering but as an education instrument.

"His contribution to the University of Toronto as a governor has advanced the welfare and progress of that institution."

LOYAL SUPPORTER

W.A. Craick, honorary secretary-treasurer of the Canadian section of the Commonwealth Press Union: "Mr. McCullagh was always a very loyal supporter of what was the Empire Press Union and now is the Commonwealth Press Union. During the last Imperial Press Conference in 1950 he was appointed honorary chairman of the conference and was a devoted worker for our organization."

"He achieved the most objective news columns in the country; I know of no greater contribution a newspaper publisher can make," said R.A. Farquharson, editor of Saturday Night and formerly his managing editor of the Globe and Mail.

"He knew many of us by our first names," said Lou Grossman, president of the Toronto Newsboys Association. "He was a regular fellow and one of the boys. We felt he was a newsie himself."

ON CIRCULATION STAFF

Mr. McCullagh's first job was as a junior in the Merchants Bank, but soon he took a circulation job on the old Toronto Globe for which he had sold papers as a newsboy. He proved a super-salesman on out of-town trips, was taken on the Toronto staff, sponsored a safety crusade in the paper that won him an international award.

His first efforts to join the news staff failed. Five years later, however, he quit his well-paid circulation job to become assistant financial editor.

He developed interests and connections in the financial field and in 1928 left editorial work to become stock exchange manager of Milner, Ross and Co. in Toronto Within five years he was a partner of the firm of Barrett, McCullagh and Company, members of the Toronto Stock Exchange.

MERGED NEWSPAPERS

When he quit the Globe, Mr. McCullagh joked that some day he'd be back to buy the paper. In 1936 he did just that and five weeks later also bought larger Toronto Mail and Empire. Backed with almost $5,000,000 from Mr. Wright, he merged the two into what is Canada's largest morning paper, the Globe and Mail.

Mr. McCullagh maintained that the Globe and Mail, and the Telegram which he bought 12 years later, were politically independent. At the start he supported the Liberal government of Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario. Later he became an equally energetic supporter of George Drew's Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. McCullagh's love for newspaper work was paramount, but he had wide interests outside that field. He was a keen sportsman. His horse High Archworth won the King's Plate in 1939 in the presence of King George VI. He was vice-president of Maple Leaf Gardens and rarely missed a football or hockey game for which he could spare time. Some years ago he was an ardent fisherman.

He did not run for public office, but had strong political views. In 1939 he broadcast, over a coast-to-coast group of radio stations, an appeal for a political awakening of the electorate. He supported none of the existing parties, assailed both Liberals and Conservatives.

Those talks resulted in formation of a Leadership League with branches across the country. Some said Mr. McCullagh was seeking political leadership but five months later he closed the league's executive offices "rather than have the league become the tool of any (political) interests."

AWARDED DEGREE

Despite his lack of formal education, he was well-read and became a polished speaker. In 1936 he was appointed to the board of governors of the University of Toronto which subsequently awarded him an honorary degree.

He was a director of The Canadian Press, Canada's co-operative news-gathering agency, from 1939 to 1949.

Before the Second World War, Mr. McCullagh was honorary officer commanding No. 110 army co-operation squadron of the auxiliary air force. He was a squadron leader when the unit was put on active service but ill health prevented him going overseas. He retired from active service in May 1941, after a critical bout of pneumonia.

During and after the war, however, he visited Europe and other parts of the world, and wrote his impressions for the Globe and Mail. In 1949 articles he wrote from London, Paris, Rome and Geneva were compiled in a 30-page pamphlet entitled "Europe Today."

Question 15 Bordeaux Guards

MONTREAL (CP) — Fifteen guards at Montreal's Bordeaux Jail were questioned yesterday as a special provincial police board of inquiry began investigation of Friday's rioting.

It was the first step in efforts to uncover the identity of prisoners responsible for the second disturbance in less than three months in the jail.

Norbert Labbe, provincial police officer in charge, said that once sufficient evidence was obtained, a full report would be submitted to the attorney-general's department at Quebec.

Labbe said any action taken would likely include charges of inciting a riot, causing damage to property, conspiracy and assault against jail guards.

Obituary

MRS. JOHN M. GEMMELL

Mrs. John M. Gemmell, the former Lydia Letitia Quirk, 33 Burnham St., died Tuesday at her residence, following a short illness.

Mrs. Gemmell was born in Galt, daughter of the late John Quirk and Matilda Scott, and has lived in Peterborough for the past 50 years, coming here from Galt.

A member of St. Luke's Anglican Church, Mrs. Gemmell was also a member of the W.A. and of the Guild of that church. Formerly she was a very active member of the 57th Regiment Chapter of the I.O.D.E. and the Ashburnham Patriotic League.

She leaves one daughter, Miss Nora Gemmell, at home; and two sons, Lieut. Col. Neil M. Gemmell, Fort Churchill, Manitoba, and John P. Gemmell, Peterborough. Her husband, John M. Gemmell, died in 1934.

The funeral will be held Friday at 2 p.m., from the Comstock funeral home to St. Luke's Anglican Church. Canon Walter Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican Church will conduct the service. Burial will be in Little Lake cemetery.

Alberta Gov't Re-Elected With Majority Of Votes Cast

EDMONTON (CP)—The Social Credit administration of Alberta was re-elected with an over-all majority of the votes cast, incomplete returns indicate.

A Canadian Press tabulation of returns from more than half the polls showed Premier E. C. Manning and his followers received 54.2 per cent of the votes. This compared with 56 per cent in the 1948 election and 52 per cent in 1944.

The Liberal party gained a higher proportion of votes than in 1948—with 24.9 per cent compared with 18 per cent.

C.C.F. support dropped from 19 per cent to 15.1. The share of independent and other candidates dropped from seven per cent in 1948 to 5.8 per cent.

The party vote compared with vote in the last two elections (percentages of total vote bracketed):

	1952		1948
SC	90,594	(54.2)	164,003	(56)
Ind	—	(—)	9,014	(3)
CCF	25,175	(15.1)	56,655	(19)
Lib	41,672	(24.9)	52,655	(18)
Others	9,718	(5.8)	12,734	(4)
Totals	167,159		294,793

(1,586 of 2,855 polls reported)

(These figures, however, do not indicate the total number of voters but the votes cast. In this election there were one six-member constituency in which each voter could mark his ballot for six candidates and one seven-member constituency in which he could vote for seven.)

Military Staff Discussed Ford Anzus Pact

By LEIF ERICKSON

HONOLULU (AP)—Foreign ministers of Australia, New Zealand and the United States today headed into talks on formation of a military staff for the Anzus mutual defence pact.

One other item remains on the agenda of the ministers' closed session—relations of the Anzus countries with other nations and regional associations in the Pacific.

The conference was due to end today.

A spokesman said a discussion of Pacific security problems that began yesterday would continue this morning.

SEVEN-HOUR TALK

State Secretary Dean Acheson of the U.S., chairman of the conference, and Richard G. Casey and T. Clifton Webb, Australia and New Zealand ministers of external affairs, respectively, spent seven hours yesterday discussing areas and situations of common concern. Details were not announced.

An Australian spokesman said there was a difference of emphasis in some of the views but no disagreement. A U.S. spokesman added that the exchange of views was frank, but that no decisions were sought or taken.

Military advisers of all three countries participated in the afternoon talks.

The discussion dealt with the Communist threat in the Pacific. Earlier, the conference reviewed the world strategic situation, a spokesman said, "with emphasis on the threat of Soviet imperialism."

FORMER CHIEF Norman Marsden, in full chief's regalia and smoking the pipe of peace, chats with a relative, Mrs. Larry Marsden of Oshawa, at a reunion of the Marsden family. The 17th family reunion was held at the Marsden home at Alderville. Mr. Marsden was chief of the Alderville Reserve for 23 years.

Havelock Man Fined For Kick

"John Barleycorn is just like poison ivy; touch it, and you get in trouble," Magistrate E. A. Gee told a Belmont Township man on Tuesday afternoon who was charged with assaulting Police Chief Robert Hall of Havelock.

Albert Hume Greenhalgh pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $25, and $2.50 costs, for taking a kick at Chief Hall on Monday night.

The kick Greenhalgh aimed at Chief Hall did not land, and he fled after making the attempt, but was apprehended a few minutes later.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said the incident occurred as Chief Hall and a Provincial Police officer were questioning Greenhalgh at his home. Greenhalgh had been drinking and the policemen had been summoned to quell a disturbance.

Mr. Bradshaw said Greenhalgh does not normally drink, and that a prison term or heavy fine would only reflect on the family, as Greenhalgh is a father of four children.

'Born Lazy' Man Told Vagrancy Conviction

"I'm afraid you were born lazy," Magistrate E. A. Gee told Harry Brown, 58, no fixed address, when Brown pleaded guilty to vagrancy in police court Tuesday.

Brown, who has been sleeping in the police station nights, and hanging around parks during the day, will have permanent lodging for the next 10 days at least. "Maybe they will have some work for you in the jail," the magistrate commented in passing sentence.

Cheques, Cash Taken From Registry Office

LINDSAY — Several small cheques and a small amount of money were taken from the Victoria County Registry Office Sunday night.

The theft was discovered early Monday morning by Dan McQuarrie, registrar.

The thieves entered through a basement window and forced a cash register. Chief Constable Arthur Webster and Constable John Henley are investigating.

Hazel Sets Record

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—Pansco Hazel, a Holstein cow, yesterday set an all-time record for milk production. After today's milking her total was 267,308 pounds of milk. This is four pounds more than the previous record held for 15 years by a cow now dead, owned by the Michigan board of control. Hazel is 17 years old, had had 13 calves and has outlived seven of them.

Polio Case In Cobourg

COBOURG (ENS) — Cobourg's first polio case of the year, Morirs McKenzie, 17, was diagnosed yesterday as a mild form of the disease and he is in quarantine at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin, with whom he has been staying.

Body Found

NORTH BAY (CP)—The body of George Thorne, 24-year-old Ontario Agricultural College graduate, was found by searchers yesterday about 1½ miles from his father's farm home in nearby Widdifield. Police said Thorne shot himself.

Cobourg Lodged 12,223 Tourists

COBOURG (ENS)—During the month just ended, 12,223 tourists were lodged overnight here in motels and cabins. This does not include those who stayed in hotels or tourist homes. The tourist office handled 4,351 enquiries, exclusive of tourist accommodation and these enquiries covered queries about directions, requests for maps and a large variety of general tourist fnformation. The total accommodated in July alone of this year is almost half of the figure for the whole tourist season last year, and the month of August usually is busier than July.

Some Civic Hospital Figures

Peterborough people are proud of their fine new hospital but a little frightened by it. It seems so splendid compared with the old Nicholls, and its costs seem correspondingly grand. The trouble is—and we suspect that this is at the root of most of the criticism directed against its administration—that the old Nicholls Hospital used to cost the patients only a few dollars a day and the ratepayers hardly a penny. The new Civic beds cost, with extras, between nine and twelve dollars a day on the average, and the bite on the municipal rates is upwards of $150,000 a year, for operation alone. (The funding of the building debt is another and additional expense.)

* * *

In criticism, favourable or unfavourable, of the Civic Hospital it must be remembered that this is a large hospital, equipped with the finest devices and material available and much of the newest scientific apparatus for doctors and patients. This expanded and modernly equipped institution of course costs much more than the old Nicholls to operate and maintain. Further, the Nicholls' endowment is no longer available to help meet operating expenses (it went into the fabric of the new building.) The Civic is being managed on dollars of today's value, not of 1933 or 1939; and in today's employment market. Wages of many people in local industry have risen three hundred per cent. in the last fifteen years; it is fatuous for them to grumble if wages at the hospital have increased. A further fact is this: with the increased standard of living of Peterborough people, they, as patients expect better standards in their hospital accommodation, meals and arrangements. They are getting them, but they are having to pay for them.

* * *

Peterborough Civic Hospital with a budget last year of $875,225.33 (apart from the Building Fund) spells a large and intricate operation, too involved for most amateur analysis and criticism. Ratepayers are of course justified in praising or condemning figures and conditions where they see reason to; for they are paying the bills. But in taking isolated figures and instances there is danger of confusing both them and the general situation. We do not intend by the figures we give here to set them up as criteria of the hospital's operation; we mention them in the hope of clarifying discussion of the hospital which is carried on from time to time in letters printed on this page.

* * *

First, the hospital, any hospital today as in other days, is expensive. We have already mentioned its budget of last year. Of that sum salaries and wages amounted to $585,157.50 (the actual sum spent). The budgeted amount for salaries this year is $98,117.87 greater than expended in 1951. The reason for the increase is chiefly wage rises granted to both union and non-union staff members. All told, as of December 31, 1951, the hospital had 364 employees. These were distributed as follows:

Employees covered by union contract	110
Employees engaged on part time basis doing similar work at similar rates of pay but technically not covered by union contract	10
Student Nurses and probationers	91
Other employees—full time	147
Other employees—part time	6
	364

* * *

Unionized employees received, as contracted, an increase of $3.50 a week on January 1st of this year. This would amount to $20,020 in the year for the 110 unionized employees. In addition, unionized employees received on October 1st last, increases varying between $3.00 and $4.00 a week, depending on their previous basic salary. This amounts, in 1952, to $14,157 over what they received up to October 1st in 1951. Thus the total amount additional in salaries which unionized employees are getting this year is $34,177 in excess of their 1951 pay. Of the increase in the 1952 budgeted salary expenses of $98,117.87 (additional to 1951) this leaves $63,940.87 to be paid this year to other members of the hospital staff, apart from unionized members and student nurses (who have had no increase in remuneration). Thus the union members on the hospital staff are not getting all the increases budgeted for, but 35 per cent. of the total increases. The rest goes to the other 57 per cent. of the full-time staff—nurses, technical men, administrative office people, and supervisors.

* * *

Another branch of the hospital's figures might be mentioned for the sake of clarifying public discussion, that is, the deficit incurred by the hospital through its care of indigent patients. The statutory revenue from indigent patients is $3.50 a day for room (paid by municipal authorities), 74 cents from the Provincial Government as a public ward grant; and special Government grants for indigents of $1.21. This revenue amounts to $6.45 a day. The revenue from a paying public ward patient is $6.50 a day room rent, Government grant of $1.74; $1 surcharge if the patient comes from outside the city, and extra revenue (from dispensary service and other special services) of $3.36 a day. This totals $11.60 (or $12.60 from outside patients). The reason that the hospital authorities reckon that there is a substantial deficit from indigent patients (despite revenue of $6.45 and a paying patient's public ward room rate of $6.50) is that the hospital cannot collect from indigents for the extra services, which amounts on the average to $3.36 a patient.

* * *

One final figure, regarding 'surplus' and 'deficit' in general: the Hospital has operated so far this year with a surplus on its budget. But the budget itself is drawn up to include an over-all deficit; the hospital spends more than it gets from patients and by government grants. This deficit is budgeted for, and the city makes it up. Last year the average cost to the hospital of a patient-day was $14.84; this year in the first six months the average cost has been $15.12. Obviously patients do not pay their own way, at these costs. But the Peterborough hospital is in the same sort of position as other hospitals across the province. Last year, on the average, taking mediocre hospitals with the best, and hospitals partly staffed (as at St. Joseph's) by nursing sisters and others who are not paid wages, the average daily cost for a patient was $14.30. Peterborough's Civic Hospital operating costs are not out of line with costs in Ontario generally. Nevertheless it was heartening news last week that the Civic is to get, through an adjustment of the Provincial grants, $39,141 more than it budgeted for. This will ease the strain on the municipal rates.

The Parliamentary Library Fire

One of the more sinister features of the Nazi regime was the systematic burning of books that did not fit in with the theories of the Master Race: in Canada we run the danger of losing our patrimony by inadvertence. In Shaw's play Arms and The Man, now running at the Summer Theatre, one of the characters boasts that her father possesses the only library in Bulgaria. Whether this quip is true or not of Bulgaria in 1885 we can at least flatter ourselves that we are more happily placed. But there is no cause for complacency. There is still some truth in what Robert Barr said, that "Canada has the money, but would rather spend it on whiskey than on books." Nowadays whiskey has yielded its place to a multiplicity of other attractions but it still cannot be said that Canadians are particularly bookish. Magazines, digests, rehashes and snippets are popular, but the solid fare that books alone can supply is less in evidence. Even the Bible, that book of books, is admittedly less read than when it used to be the only book in many a pioneer's household.

On June 18 this year a new step was taken, when a new bill to provide for the establishment of a National Library received Royal Assent. The Governor General must have experienced a peculiar personal satisfaction in signing this bill, for it embodied one of the most important recommendations of the Royal Commission on the Arts which he headed. The essence of the bill was that the present Library of Parliament should form the nucleus of the new National Library.

The disastrous fire in the Library has jeopardized the whole scheme, though to what extent it is impossible at this stage to say. We venture to suggest that more will be salvaged than was originally thought. Books are incredibly tough, and will put up with an amazing amount of ill-treatment. Nevertheless we cannot ignore the fact that serious damage has been done, not only to the books themselves but also to the library building itself, the only section of the main buildings that escaped the disastrous 1916 fire and a Victorian period piece itself of great charm and interest.

But the most serious aspect of the fire is the bald fact that the Library of Parliament is the nearest thing in this country to the great libraries of the world and the only possible nucleus of a National Library. We are like a man with only one eye; it behooves us to take particular care to preserve what we have. Unfortunately fires are only too common a feature of the Canadian scene, as we in Peterborough know to our cost each year. Much of the blame is due to the drying out of the fabric that occurs as a result of heating during our cold winters. The immediate cause for the fire in the library has not been ascertained, but faulty wiring has been suggested. If this is true it would show that parliament itself is setting a bad example to the nation.

British Acting Of Today

By IVOR BROWN
(Distinguished British Critic)

THERE IS NO DOUBT that British acting stands high in world esteem and that, if there could be Theatrical Olympics, we should be in the Gold Medal class. Whenever one of our leading companies goes abroad it has a happy and much-admired tour. The "Old Vic" in New York, Western Europe, and now in South Africa, Sir Laurence Olivier, Vivien Leigh and the Stratford Shakespeareans in Austria and New Zealand, have all been regarded as fine exponents of their art. The economics of such journeys, with present high costs of travel, are difficult. Were they easier, and the journeys more frequent, it would add greatly to British artistic prestige.

✧ ✧ ✧

ACTORS CAN ALWAYS be divided into two types, those who are essentially themselves and therefore confine themselves, or should confine themselves, to a limited range of parts and those who are plastic and continually surprise their audiences by passing from one kind of role to another completely different. It is wrong to make comparisons and say that one type is more valuable than another, just as it is ridiculous to try to place the leaders or any art in order of superiority. You cannot place actors as Winner, Second or Third. They are not racehorses or runners susceptible to a "photo finish." They have their various kinds of excellence and must be considered as a group of supreme performers and not as numbers one, two or three.

✧ ✧ ✧

OF THE PLASTIC ACTORS Sir Laurence Olivier and his wife, Vivien Leigh, are splendid examples. Olivier has been old tragic king, Lear, and withered pantaloon, Mr. Justice Shallow. He can wear old splendour and modern dress. Vivien Leigh can be a pert American miss, as in "The Skin of Your Teeth," or Cleopatra, the fickle lover who dies with such Imperial glory as Shakespeare's Egyptian queen.

✧ ✧ ✧

MICHAEL REDGRAVE is another who can succeed in all ranges, passing from Shakespeare's fiery and most masculine Hotspur to the finical, effeminate Richard II and now, in "Winter Journey," to the struggles of an alcoholic American actor seeking to redeem himself and his career. He has dithered beautifully as Aguecheek and yet can wear the armour of a combatant baron.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANTHONY QUAYLE, who has directed the Stratford-upon-Avon company with such success since 1948, is another prodigy of plasticity. At one time he seemed to be happiest in fleshy roles: he was Falstaff to the last inch of girth. But this year he shrinks himself to the lean cringing of a Uriah Heep in the part of Mosca in "Volpone" while alternating this with the virile, aggressive, and over-haughty Coriolanus.

✧ ✧ ✧

ALEC GUINNESS is perhaps less mutable: He specialises in the lean, wry types, but those who remember his rendering of half-a-dozen widely different characters in one film, "Kind Hearts and Coronets," appreciate the scope of his extraordinary powers of simulation. At present he is masquerading brilliantly as a shrewd Ant in the insect play called "Under the Sycamore Tree." That after playing Hamlet!

✧ ✧ ✧

THEN THERE is Peter Ustinov, who first, at the age of seventeen, hit London's attention at the Players Theatre Club by his extraordinary impersonation of an elderly Austrian opera singer, female, and by other no less vivid inventions. Since then, on stage and screen, he has been everything from an American sergeant to the Emperor Nero. At present he is playing a nap hand of odd types of various periods in his own very popular fantastic charade, "The Love of Four Colonels."

✧ ✧ ✧

OF NEW ARRIVALS in the highest rank of plastic players I would mention Michael Hordern who, at Stratford this year, has made four distinct successes in the strangely assorted surroundings of Shakespearean Rome (Menenius), Prospero's island (Caliban), the Forest of Arden (Jaques) and Ben Jonson's world of ferocious comedy (Sir Politick Would-be).

✧ ✧ ✧

NOW FOR THOSE who are always recognisable as themselves. John Gielgud is obviously the leader in this role; he rarely acts in modern dress—in "The Importance of Being Earnest" he was fancy-dressed—and his Shakespearean roles are usually the tragic ones: his Benedick, however, in the battle of wits in "Much Ado About Nothing" has shown his rich vein of high comedy. But, whatever he attempts, he is Gielgud of the strangely moving voice; in delivery of poetry he has no equal. Olivier is more mercurial and can show more dash, but he has none of Gielgud's music, and not all of his dignity.

✧ ✧ ✧

DAME EDITH EVANS, too, is always Dame Edith, matchless in the comedy of hauteur, incomparable as Wilde's social dragon, Lady Bracknell, or in Restoration comedy. She has achieved the quiet pathos of Madam Ranevsky in "The Cherry Orchard" but one always thinks of her as Dame Edith of the swooping voice, magically enlarging the glorious absurdity of a social personage or a great pretender.

✧ ✧ ✧

I WOULD INCLUDE Donald Wolfit among those who always carry their own stamp, despite the fact that he has triumphantly played all kinds of comedy as well as of tragedy. He has a very strong personality which over-rides plasticity. Whatever the disguise you know that this is Wolfit.

✧ ✧ ✧

LASTLY there is Sir Ralph Richardson, who has just made a tremendous film hit as the fanatical master builder of jet-propelled aircraft in "The Sound Barrier." Here he shows one facet of his self, the grim one; usually he does best as a quiet, decent or slightly eccentric English type. J. B. Priestley wrote him several such parts and in them he was admirable; one hopes that he will return to that mastery of the common man caught up in strange events. At Stratford this year he has been unhappily cast. But he will certainly "come again" when he goes back to modern dress and modern characters.

Holiday Beaches

By LORD DUNSANY

IN AUGUST the principal fauna of the Sussex beaches is holiday-makers, in the sea and all along the edge of its tides, where the low tide shows the smooth green glistening tresses of what looks like mermaids' hair, either sheared from their heads by a swordfish or torn from them by some old storm and now adorning rocks instead of the fabulous heads.

They must be moody people, that fabulous folk, for their home is surely the moodiest of all created things. It is smiling now with its most radiant smile, as though it had never wrecked ships; not that that is a thing for which we should blame the sea, having learned to be such a good hand at the business ourselves. It is smiling now with what a Greek poet described as "the countless smile of ever-laughing ocean," threatening only the canvas chairs, whose line is being slowly withdrawn; not their occupants, for it is holiday-time and they have become amphibious. Beyond a steep bank of pebbles that the sea has swept up from the sand, the canvas chairs are safe.

I am writing this with an inkpot of some antiquity, a block of grey-and-white flint with a circular hole that must have taken years to hollow to the perfect smoothness it has, and which under a fold of the flint has the appearance of a dark well in a valley of grey mountains. Though I know of no one else who has such an inkpot, it is not unique, for I have twenty of them, and thousands more lie among the smooth grey stones that are heaped against the breakwaters.

✧ ✧ ✧

I NOTICED THEM only a few days ago, and others seem not to have noticed them yet, or at any rate not to have seen their perfect suitability to hold ink. For they are not porous, but hard as glass, which is not surprising, since they are the material out of which glass is made.

There was a fossil, far back in the ages, in what is now my inkpot; and the sea-shell that is imprisoned, like that rather simple genie in the bottle, being softer than the walls of its ancient prison, began to decay earlier, till the hollow it made was deep enough for a small pebble to rest in when the tides were not whirling it round. If the pebble fell out in the course of ages, another one took its place, and by the time that a hundred thousand high tides and a hundred thousand low had smoothed it and curved it, my inkpot was well under way and became minutely deeper every few hundred years.

I found it in that treasury of the sea that the sea keeps just within its reach, clawing at it once a day. Everything there is smooth as any stone that a lapidary has polished, though chosen with the carelessness of a power that, having infinite wealth, troubles not to make any distinction between agate, old bricks or glass bottles, the thick ends of which it will polish with the care that is given to emeralds.

✧ ✧ ✧

THESE BEACHES are one page of the story of Earth. To the right of them, like a book of many pages whose edges only you see, stands Beachy Head. But even those edges give a hint of the story. Black along the edges, the rest of which are as white as those of any book, lie rows of the flints of which my inkpot was made, rows often no more than a few feet apart, yet marking an era in which the creatures whose bones contributed to the flints flourished, and were even assured perhaps that they held dominion over those seas; and the white spaces between the rows tell of some disaster to them and of ages in which the planet knew them no more. Then for another few thousand years another race of them populated those seas, looking the same as the old ones and dreaming the same dreams; and they, too, ceased and the seas knew none of them for many more thousand years. And others came again, and believed their story was new.

All this one can see by a glance at Beachy Head, to which I went yesterday to look at its shining spires, which here and there stand a little out from the cliff, whose outline sweeps along with so graceful a curve, that it and the curve of the grassy downs beyond it look as though Earth in rivalry were emulating the grace of the waves of the sea.

I stood awhile on the summit trying to count the different layers of colour with which the sea was shining: emerald, jade and amethyst; and some thought was about to come to me of the dignity of Man; when I saw a seagull looking at me curiously, and noticed a flock of jackdaws float down where I could not go and others standing upon chalky pinnacles, and it came to me very clearly that I was an alien there, straying into the white calm home of jackdaws and seagulls.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw. . . . But when the Pharisees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

And Jesus knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand: and if Satan cast out Satan, he is divided against himself; how shall then his kingdom stand? And if I by Beelzebub cast out devils, by whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then the kingdom of God is come unto you. (Matt. 12:22, 24-28.)

Letters To The Editor

ONE DIETITIAN AND FOUR

Sir: Replying to Mr. G. W. Linsdell's letter: he asks where did I get my figures of 50 in the kitchen? I would like to inform him I got them from your Mr. Shiner, the accountant in your main office, and coming from him, I presume they are correct. As to St. Joseph's Hospital I am perfectly aware of conditions there. While they do not publish a financial statement, that does not mean that I cannot get information.

While a number of them are not paid, your rates over their rates, alone at the least should show a revenue of more than one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars a year.

When Miss Hayes alone was the dietitian in the old hospital she did all the buying as well in her department. Have you four times as many patients now as then—if not why four dietitians?

None of my statements are misleading in any way.

OSCAR S. MACHETT.

SUGGESTS MR. MATCHETT FOR BOARD

Sir: Mr. Oscar S. Matchett writes many letters to the Examiner regarding our Civic Hospital finances and while not criticizing his analyses of them, or the statements released by the Board, it is quite evident many citizens feel Mr. Matchett is justified in some of his remarks.

My understanding is that the majority of the Hospital Board are appointed by our City Council and I suggest that the next appointee be Mr. Matchett, who would thus be in a position to help correct many of the faults he is complaining of. In any event such an appointment would satisfy taxpayers who would like to see a "critic" on the Board.

Yours sincerely,
PERCY A. MARTYN.

U.E.W., Seabrooke's Lead Men's Softball League With 6-1, 13-1 Victories

U.E.W. and Seabrooke Motors continue to share leadership of the men's senior city softball league as a result of Tuesday's double bill at the East City Bowl with each scoring a victory. The Legrow boys won their 12th game by defeating Lakefield Merchants 6-1 in the opener; while Red Sullivan's men handed Revoys a 13-1 shellacking in the nightcap; also their 12th win against three defeats.

Jim Driscoll toed the slab for U.E.W. in the first contest before a large crowd and hurled for eight frames, with Ron Akers working the ninth. Driscoll limited the homesters to three hits including: doubles by Cupoli and Henry; he fanned three and issued no passes. Akers was nicked for one bingle in the final and walked one but no damage resulted. On the opposing mound Dick McCracken toiled hard in a losing cause, possibly well enough to win an average game; but, though well supported, his mates proved impotent with the willow. He was clipped for nine bingles, fanned two and walked five.

The winners scored four in the first two frames, largely due to hard and timely stickwork by Jack White, Reg Leether, Bernie Robson, Legrow and Driscoll; while Merchants tallied one in the second on Cupoli's double and Blewett's single. The final seven frames were close, though the shop lads clicked once in the seventh and eighth. Driscoll had three hits for four; and Robson two for four for U.E.; Leether drove in two runs with a triple in the second; while Gord Henry led Merchants with two for four. Fielding honors went to Cupoli, Red Wasson, John Leckley, Leether and Robson.

Seabrooke Motors said it with base hits in the nightcap to rack up an easy win over Revoys behind the four-hit twirling of Terry Woods, recently returned from the Maritimes. Woods held the Hawks' crew well in check while his mates took kindly to the offerings of Dick West—less effective than usual—for a total of 10 bingles. Woods struck out 10 men and walked five while West fanned five and issued seven walks. Revoys had an unfortunate night afield to further harm West's cause as the plucky pitcher twirled well in spots.

Manage Red Sullivan personally led his team's offensive against Revoys but had good help also from Dave Casey, Neil Thompson, Bob Wyatt, Skeeter O'Heron, Speed Curry and Woods, who each drove in a run. Sullivan drove in three with his sixth homer of the season in the ninth inning and hit a double and single as well in six trys. In the early stages Seabrooke's were popping short outfield hits just beyond reach to pile up a good lead. Revoys fought gamely and threatened to rally in the seventh, but the visitors were "hot" whereas the homesters had an off night. →

Jack Mackness led the Revoy stickers with two for four and batted in their lone tally. Casey homered with one aboard for Seabroke's and Wyatt nicked a double besides fielding well. Others starring afield were Skeeter O'Heron, Doug Whalen, Bill Lewis and Casey.

U.S. Cup Team Practises In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—The four-man United States Davis Cup tennis team arrived in Montreal yesterday for the final round of the North American zone tie against Canada. Three of them went through a light workout for the matches next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Canada last week-end defeated Mexico in straight sets to go up against the Americans. The boys from south of the border put Japan and Cuba out of the way to reach the finals.

The winner of the series here meets Italy, European zone champs, for the right to challenge Australia, present holder of the Davis Cup.

SEIXAS LEADS YANKS

The American team is made up of Vic Seixas, who doubles as captain, Bob Perry, Herb Flam and Jack Frost.

Seixas said he, Perry and Flam put in a few sets yesterday to loosen up. Frost, 17, the fourth member of the team won the American junior championship just a day or two ago.

The week-end tilt will be the first time any of the Americans have met Canada in Davis Cup play, but they are not all strangers.

Canada's Lorne Main last week defeated Perry in straight sets in the Pennsylvania state grass court tournament.

Lorne also admits to meeting Flam on several occasions when both were students in California, but the best he can say is that some of the matches were close.

Opinion around the courts here is that Seixas, ranked No 1 in the U.S., and Flam will handle both opening singles and doubles chores for the Americans.

ANNOUNCE DRAW THURSDAY

Seixas said he would announce his starters at the draw for opponents Thursday at the Mount Royal tennis club where the matches will be played.

Dr. Georges Leclerc, Canadian non-playing captain, would not announce his starters until then either. Main and Macken handled the singles chores against Mexico, with Henri Rochon and Main teaming up in the doubles. Jack Spencer, fourth member of the team, did not see action. The Canadians also worked out comparatively lightly yesterday.

Canada and the United States have met on eight occasions in the past, and Canada has yet to win a round.

Dekdebrun to Peterborough? Quarter May Coach Orfuns

Al Dekdebrun, a magic name in Canadian football in 1950 when he led the Toronto Argonauts to the Grey Cup, may be playing his football from the sidelines in Peterborough this season. Dr. Donald Aitken, president of the Peterborough Orfuns O.R.F.U. Intermediates, announced today Dekdebrun may be the 1952 coach of the Orfuns.

Dekdebrun was contacted last week by the Orfuns at his Buffalo sporting business and said that he "was interested in coaching."

The star American quarterback, imported by the Argos, was let out during mid-season last year by Coach Frank Clair after it was discovered Dekdebrun's passing arm was not at its best, and he was unable to throw a long ball. Nobby Wirkowski was his successor.

But the quarterback is still controlled by the Argos and must be released before he can sign with another team. Last week Dekdebrun was turned down by Balmy Beach because of "high salary." Since all other Big Four teams had previously waived on the quarter, some believed Dekdebrun would be released by the Argos.

On Thursday Argo president Bob Moran announced the club will not release the quarterback, but will listen for a reasonable trade offer.

Dr. Aitken said Dekdebrun explained that he wanted to straighten up with the Argos this week and would then contact the Orfuns.

With help from former Orfun coach Frank Clair, now with the Brantford Redskins, Dr. Aitken has scoured New York State, Pennsylvania, and Ontario for a good coach. Professional and college players have been contacted as well as prep school coaches, without success.

While waiting for Dekdebrun's reply the Orfuns are still interviewing prospective coaches.

Dr. Aitken also announced that Orilia had withdrawn from the eastern section, explaining that they were not able to finance a club. Their withdrawal was made last week at a district meeting.

Intermediate O.R.F.U. clubs in the western and eastern sections took a poll to decide whether Canadian Intermediate champions Hamilton Panthers would be allowed to enter the eastern groups. Seven of the eight clubs were agreeable.

Therefore, in the eastern section this year will be Hamilton, Oshawa Red Raiders, Cobourg's Galloping Ghosts, and the Orfuns. Left in the western section are Ryerson, East York, Kitchener, and Sarnia.

The eastern clubs were to meet today in Cobourg to decide on a schedule. But as of Tuesday night no dates were received for Hamilton's home games and the meeting was to be cancelled.

Out At The Kawartha

And now the honeymoon is over it is back once again to that serious game called golf. Most of the folks who indulge in this grand old game of the ancients have had their vacations so that it is fitting that we should get ourselves up to date on the various competitions.

Men's Senior—This is not moving ahead at a rapid pace but is nevertheless up to date—in that no one is actually behind us yet. Since scores were last reported in this competition we have seen D. Menzies, Sr., take Al Heckman out onto the fairway and out-stroke him to win the round.

Club Championship—These top-notch golfers, who have outdriven and out-putted others to make themselves eligible to play in this draw should take careful note that this coming weekend is the deadline for the second round—and there are a number of matches yet to be played off. Well ahead in the schedule is E. Hanbidge who won over B. Buchanan to put himself into the semi-finals.

Kawartha Cup—A few of the lads are lagging behind slightly in this. However, we note the following have moved ahead and are now in the fourth round. M. Irwin, A. Fowler, T. Giardino, D. Menzies, Jr.; A. Thompson, W. Elmsley. Into the fifth round and all by himself at the present is L. Longo.

President's Cup—Into the fourth round the following have, should we say, emerged: M. Vermette, E. Hanbidge, J. Raine, J. Gatfield and J. Condon. The following matches have yet be played in the round: H. Correll vs. H. Woodcox; D. Chamberlain vs. E. Gregson; and F. Dunfield vs. E. Reynolds.

Mixed Two-Ball — Which has proved so popular this year, still has a number of games to be played in the third round to bring things up to where they should be. The following matches have to be run off or the match committee will lose their sense of discretion: D. Laver and M. Sullivan vs. C. Nash and J. Inglis; C. Woodcox and A. Allison vs. P. Beggs and A. Caccavella; M. Benson and I. MacGillvry vs. B. Siddall and R. Howarth.

The following have forged ahead into the fourth round (they came by their progress honestly, despite our use of the word "forged"): J. Dunfield and T. Cranfield; C. McHugh and B. Beggs; R. McKee and F. Welford; C. Gatfield and M. Akers; H. Kelly and D. Ouimet.

Tigers Need Cash, Scrimmage Hope Exhibition Game To Help

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Big Four Hamilton Tigers need both cold cash and a good hard scrimmage. Coach Carl Voyl hopes to solve both problems with an inter-squad exhibition game tonight.

Assistant Coach Ralph Sazio will direct one team while veteran end Vince Mazza will handle the opposing squad. It is hoped that the starry array will draw close to 10,000 paying customers and swell the club coffers considerably.

The game looms as a battle of quarterbacks with Pat Brady throwing them for Sazio's side while Bill Mackrides will call the plays fof Mayza's crew. Mackrides, former Philadelphia Eagle player, has looked good in practice and has only to prove his worth under fire. Brady is a fine kicker and could star in that department.

Toronto Argonauts have as yet to schedule their annual inter-squad game, but it is reported that Coach Frank Clair may call it for this coming Saturday. The Double Blue will meet Winnipeg Blue Bombers in an exhibition game at Toronto Aug. 16.

The Bombers, in fighting trim after a month of practice, move into Ottawa Saturday for a game with the 1951 Grey Cup champion Rough Riders.

The Riders, with plenty of new faces, look to the clash as the big test for the 35 aspirants. The fans are hoping for a possible passing duel between Indian Jack Jacobs and Ottawa's Tom O'Malley.

Coach Clem Crowe offered his usual non-committal comment on the effort. "We're coming along all right—I guess. Winnipeg should be a good test."

In Montreal, the Alouettes have cut their squad to 41 men under Coach Peahead Walker. The club has been driving hard and is ready for the first big test this weekend with a game in Calgary followed by an August 16 date at Edmonton.

Vic Obeck, athletic director at McGill University, is working with the line. The red-sweatered club is said to be in its best mental frame of mind in three seasons.

More than 1,500 fans turned out last Sunday in Edmonton to watch the Eskimos go through their paces in an inter-squad contest. Mike King, Vic Mayson, Doug Swail and Joe Aquirre came through with touchdowns.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By DON GRANT

Peterborough is receiving considerable amount of favorable publicity this summer in Quebec, thanks to the harness racing stables owned by Hugh Stewart and Hugh Davis.

Hugh Davis returned from Quebec City on the weekend and reports the two stables are doing well against the stiff opposition from Quebec and other Ontario stables.

Full of praise for Jim Stewart, 17-year-old son of Hugh, Davis predicts the lad will be "one of Canada's best drivers."

Young Jim is making his first real bid in harness competition this summer in Quebec; he's not only driving Stewart horses but is driving for other stables. While driving a Quebec horse, Highland Princess, Jim finished second.

Davis added that while in Ontario Jim is driving the McKinley horses from Toronto. This is a fast class of racing, featuring horses such as June Gray, with a record of 2:03 minutes, Court Orr, record of 2:06, and Jim Brewer, record of 2:08.5.

"Like other horses after a long trip, the Stewart horses haven't hit their stride; they were put off their feed and stride," said Davis. "But they're coming along now."

The pride of the Stewart Stable, Stewart Direct, recorded a first last Wednesday. Other Stewart horses are Miss Victory Todd, Edward Grattan, Stewart Belwin and a new mare, June Brook.

Hugh Davis left the Peterborough track late in April for Quebec City and started racing his horses on May 18. He has been working as a trainer and driver.

His best record is with a Coulton stable (Toronto) horse, Early Rose. Out of 14 starts with the Rose he has chalked up 11 wins. The trotter has also set a new lifetime record of 2:16.8 minutes.

Driving his own horses, the 14-year-old Parsons has won two races and Blanche Grattan, a four-year-old mare has won twice and has come second three times and three times in third and fourth places.

Davis is also driving one of the Quebec track's oldest horses, Dunkin owned by Percy Allard of Bloomfield. The 19-year-old trotter has won twice, placed second three times, recorded a fourth and "is still going strong."

Peterborough's most favorite, also world champion heat holder for the past two years, Victory Hy has returned to the city. Davis brought the blind champion back this week.

"Hy wasn't ready when he arrived in Quebec early in July," said Davis. The Peterborough trainer worked with Hy there, training and driving.

"Victory Hy was placed in a tough class because of his record (2:11) and his heat record. We finished fifth in a 2:09.2 race, then had two thirds and a fifth in the 2:11 class."

Davis admits the competition in Quebec is "tough" but the "people are good to race with and the management is fair in the classifications."

Probably most important is that the purses are good, as compared with races in Ontario. The prize money varies from $250 to $1,000 a dash. They race five nights a week.

Peterborough horses are also making quite an impression at Toronto's Thorncliffe track. There Stan Blewett's Gadabout and Miss Chipso, J. J. Crowley's Jimmy Forbes are going well. Others there are Doc Johnson's Lady Victoria and Charlie Fife's Elgin Silk and Silk Elgin.

A number of horses, mostly new to the game, are working out at the exhibition grounds now. These are training for the round of fall fairs.

With the experienced horses from Quebec and Thorncliffe, plus young blood being introduced for the first time, harness racing fans should see action galore this season at district fall fairs.

Russians Decide Soviet-U.S. Tied

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikolai Romanov, head of the Soviet Olympic team at Helsinki and chief of the sports committee in the U.S.S.R., said today the Soviet Union and the United States finished the Olympic games tied at 494 points.

Romanov made his statement in an exclusive interview with Pravda the official organ of the Communist party.

The point system which Romanov apparently used to arrive at this total gives seven points for first place with 5-4-3-2-1 for the next five points. The American system gives 10 points for first place and 5-4-3-2-1 for the next five. Under the American system the United States won, 614 to Russia's 553½.

Giants Edge Brooklyn 7-6 In 15-Inning Thriller

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Even Bobby Shantz' 20th win for the Philadelphia Athletics takes a back seat today to the "morning-after" gossip about the 15-inning thriller between the Dodgers and Giants. Little Bobby picked a tough night to cop his 20th. Everybody was gunning for a headline. Rogers Hornsby was making his bow as Cincinnati manager with a 4-0 win over Chicago. New York Yankees were meeting their old mate, Spec Shea, for the first time since he was traded to Washington, and nipped him 3-2 in a game halted by rain after seven innings.

And then the Giants and Dodgers had to hook up in a fantastic five-hour struggle. Don Mueller finally broke it up with an infield chopper that scored rookie Jim Rhodes from second base for a 7-6 win.

Mueller's infield hit, scoring Rhodes while pitcher Chris Van Cuyk threw late to first base, slashed the Dodgers' lead to 5½ games in the opener of a "big" series. The game seemed won several times. Gil Hodges' grand slam homer in the sixth broke a 0-0 tie and gave Billy Loes a 4-0 edge over Jim Hearn. But the Giants scored three in the sixth and tied it in the seventh on George Wilson's pinch homer.

Andy Pafko's 14th homer in the 14th snapped the tie but Bob Elliott hit a pinch homer with two out in the Giants' half to keep the game alive at 5-5.

Pafko's long fly drove home Pee Wee Reese from third to send the Dodgers out on top in the 15th, but the Giants came back to tie on Bobby Thomson's run-scoring single and win on Mueller's flukey hit.

EARLIEST SINCE 1946

Getting back to Shantz, the wee lefty became the earliest 20-game winner in the majors since 1946. That was the year Hal Newhouser made the grade July 27 and Bobby Feller, en route to a strike-out record, hit No. 20 on July 31.

In beating Boston 5-3, Shantz had to contend with both rain and Red Sox. A storm held up play for one hour and 11 minutes. Home runs by Sam White and Hoot Evers gave Boston its only earned runs. Bob's earned run average now is 1.55 for 21 complete games in 23 starts. His 20-3 mark is best in the league.

Irv Noren's triple and Phil Rizzuto's outfield fly won for the Yanks in the fifth after the Senators tied the score on Allie Reynolds in the fourth.

CLEVELAND SAYS

Cleveland dropped four full games behind the Yanks, splitting a twilight-night doubleheader with Chicago. Bob Lemon allowed only four hits in winning the opener 6-0.

Jim Rivera's first-inning homer and a five-run outburst in the second gave Chicago's Saul Rogovin a 6-3 win over Mike Garcia in the second game.

Bob Cain hit the win circle for the first time since June 27 as St. Louis knocked off Detroit 5-1 with Bobby Young driving in four runs.

HORNSBY DEBUT

Kenny Raffensberger brightened Hornsby's debut at Cincinnati with a seven-hit shutout over the Cubs. Ted Kluszewski's two-run triple in the fourth was enough to win.

Del Rice's fly ball with the bases loaded in the 12th scored Solly Hemus for St. Louis Cards' 4-3 nod over Pittsburgh.

A twilight-night doubleheader between the Phillies and Boston Braves was rained out at Boston.

Montreal Takes Close Pair From Red Wings

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pace-setting Montreal Royals continue to blow hot in their runaway from the rest of the International League. They took a pair of close games from third-place Rochester Red Wings last night, 4-3 and 3-2.

Junior Gilliam smacked a double in the fifth inning of the opener to score Art Fabbro from second with the winning run. Fabbro, who relieved starter Johnny Podres in the fifth frame, got credit for his seventh victory.

Montreal scored all its three runs with two out in the first inning of the nightcap. A double steal after two walks and a bad throw to third accounted for one run. Jim Pendleton's double drove in another. The third marker crossed the plate on Ray Jablonski's errant throw to first on an infield roller by Jim Marchio. Ed Roebuck earned his ninth victory, although touched for 12 safeties.

Bob Keegan (16-8) tossed his fifth shutout, a three-hitter, and Fenton Mole hit his 19th home run to lead Syracuse to a 3-0 win over Toronto Maple Leafs. The chiefs were held scoreless from second inning until the ninth, when Loren Babe's single, a triple by Johnny Batnik and Mole's two-bagger put the issue beyond doubt.

Roy Weatherly blasted a two-run homer to give Baltimore a 3-1 win in the first game of a doubleheader with Ottawa. The Athletics took the nightcap, 5-3, behind the pitching of Bill George who scored two runs to help his own cause.

Springfield and Buffalo staged a wild slugfest, including six home runs, to split a twin-bill. Bisons won 9-8 on a two-run rally in the last frame of the opener. Jack Wallaesa clubbed a three-run homer in the 10th inning of the nightcap to give the Cubs a 10-8 win.

Helicopters Transport Materials To Build 300,000-Volt Power Line

By DAVE STOCKAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer

KILDALA PASS SUMMIT, B.C. (CP)—Eagles and helicopters are sharing the pass to Kildala these days. So are bears and bulldozers.

The machines are taking the right-of-way as workmen concerned with building an aluminum industry fight to maintain a schedule regimented by the seasons.

Kildala pass summit is the newest and loftiest base on the 50-mile route of the transmission line from Kemano powerhouse to the Aluminum Company of Canada's smelter location at Kitimat.

Shortly, 100 men will be based at what is known as "Camp 11." They will remain until winter closes in with its payload of snow, plunging temperatures and 80-mile-an-hour gales.

Squatting on snow foundations, the camp is 5,300 feet above sea level, 2,000 feet above timberline. Tents would blow away, so huts are being built. Every board, nail and screw is coming in by helicopter airlift from Kemano

BUSY HELICOPTERS

During construction, helicopters make as many as 25 and 30 trips daily, unloading without even "killing" their engines.

Carpenters' foreman Russ Boyington says he hasn't the faintest idea how much snow remained heaped on the summit at the end of July—nobody has found a sane reason for digging that deep—but he admits the soggy foundation brings up a problem in maintenance.

"It's going to take a couple of men working steadily to keep things on an even keel," he says.

On this summit a test cable span was erected in the fall of 1950 to test icing conditions. The tests showed that the ordinary wouldn't do.

So to withstand icing and transmit power at 300,000 volts, steel-reinforced aluminum cable will be used. With a diameter of 2.26 inches, this will be the largest such cable ever made. The transmission line will be the highest ever.

10-MILE SECTION

The pass section covers 10½ dizzy miles. Up top, workmen look down to locate the helicopters shuttling them supplies. Only eagles wheel above.

Engineers figure work on the pass will be limited to five months a year at most. That gives them this summer and next summer to complete the line on schedule.

Even summer is treacherous in this land criss-crossed with the wounds of snowslides and avalanches. Visibility is zero for days at a time because of clouds which sift down the mountainsides and clog the valleys.

Thirty towers northwestward out of Kemano, about 1,000 feet apart, mark the start of the line. The towers, placed during the last couple of weeks, spring from a right-of-way 325 feet wide which has been grubbed, chopped and burned through forest and undergrowth.

A switch-back road has been blasted beyond the fringes of the pass, where the shrill whistling of marmots mingles with sirens warning of pending explosions.

"BOTTOMLESS PIT"

From the summit, the draw leading back toward Kemano resemble a bottomless pit which, in the words of engineer Joe Hauser, "looks as if you'd have to pump daylight into it."

Work on the transmission line also is under way from Kildala Bay, 20 miles from Kemano on the Kitimat side of the pass, and from Minette Bay, near Kitimat.

From the powerhouse, the first nine miles of the transmission system will comprise two double-circuit lines.

Then, from a switching station, two single-circuit lines will run over the pass. On the other side of the hump, at another switching station, double-circuit lines will resume for the remaining distance to Kitimat.

The 20 carpenters who camped on the glaring whiteness of the summit a couple of weeks ago are philisophic about their isolation. They've had it tough, for a time melting snow for drinking water and doing their own cooking

But, as workmen Ben Brauen says: "This is probably as close to heaven as we'll ever get."

MOUNTAIN CLIMBING—Men and machines are tunnelling 10 miles through a mountain to provide cheap power for British Columbia's new aluminum industry. Deep inside the mountain, 1,400 feet underground, a bomb-proof, weather-proof powerhouse for the Aluminum Company of Canada is being scooped out. Some of the tunnelling is done from the 1,600- and 2,600-foot levels of the mountain. These camps are served by a cable tramline which creaks up an incline averaging 30 degrees with a 20-ton load on its back.

BASE CAMP—The mountain rearing above this mushroom patch of quonset huts has no name, but it has a heart. Deep inside the mountain, 1,400 feet underground, men and machines are scooping out a powerhouse for the Aluminum Company of Canada's "project British Columbia." Two thousand men live in this temporary camp in the Kemano River Valley. The camp is made up of quonset huts, cement silos, a bank, theatre, post office, baseball diamond and just about everything found in a regular town of comparable size.

Deny Confiscation Plan

BERLIN (Reuters)—East Germany's Communist party yesterday violently denied reports that it has a "top secret" plan for the complete liquidation of all private property in the Soviet zone. The party's politburo said it has no intention of confiscating the property of small businessmen.

St. Thomas Pays Tribute To Rev. Burnham

As a centenarian municipality recalling its foundation years and its pioneers, St. Thomas gratefully renews the memory of the Rev. Mark Burnham, its first Anglican minister.

He was the only son of the Hon. Zaccheus Burnham of Cobourg, was born in 1804, and was graduated from Oxford University. Returning to Canada, he entered the ministry, and in Elgin County married a daughter of Col. John Bostwick, founder of Port Stanley, and one of the trail blazers of that section of Western Ontario with Colonel Talbot and Col. Burwell.

The Burnhams lived in St. Thomas until 1852 when the Rev. Mark Burnham retired from his St. Thomas parish and came to Peterborough. He was a rector of St. John's Church, and to the Anglican community of Ashburnham he gave the land which became the site of St. Luke's Church. His widow long survived him, living to the age of 94.

Mr. Burnham died in May 1877 at the age of 73 years.

The St. Thomas tribute to his memory says: "Pastor Burnham was a very generous man, and usually possessed ample means to extend charity to those deserving it. He inherited considerable wealth from his fahter," one of the most prominent men in central Ontario in his day.

He was not the first rector of the old St. Thomas Church, but he was the first permanent minister. His original charge included St. Thomas, Tyrconnell, and Port Stanley. The first Anglican chuch in St. Thomas was built in 1824.

"There have been many outstanding men of God who have occupied the pulpits of these churches and ministered to the parishes, but one name stands out above them all, that of the Rev. Mark Burnham who came to St. Thomas in 1828, four years after the church was built and dedicated," as recalled by the St. Thomas Times-Journal in the celebration this week of the St. Thomas-Elgin county centenary.

"He was a hardy, God-fearing, hard-hitting man who lived in an age that had little room for weaklings. He was exceedingly fond of books, and accumulated one of the largest libraries of his time in the province."

The Rev. Mark Burnham was the grandfather of Mark Burnham whose suburban home is opposite the junction of the old Keene road and Highway 7.

William Battle

The funeral for William Battle, 203 Rubidge St., who died Wednesday, was held Saturday from the Comstock funeral home.

The Rev. H. G. Douglas, of Knox United Church, conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Ray and Ralph Parnell, George Gatfield, Arthur Brown, C. Alcock, R. Reach. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

William Rogers

The funeral for William Rogers, 325 Burnham Crescent, who died Tuesday, was held Friday from the Kaye funeral home.

The Rev. E. W. Rowland conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Thomas Marsden, Jack Ferguson, Armar Butcher, Harry Rome, Neil Gemmell, Andy Delpellaro. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Thomas Metcalfe

NORWOOD (ENS) — The funeral of Thomas Metcalfe took place Saturday afternoon, at 3 p.m., from the McConnell-Warner funeral home, with the Rev. R. G. Newman, of Havelock United Church, officiating. Burial was in Norwood cemetery.

Mr. Metcalfe died Thursday in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, following a long illness. He was born in Asphodel township, 70 years ago, the son of the late James Metcalfe and Annie Shearer, and had lived all his life on his farm.

Pallbearers were Harvey Lobb, Harry Buck, William H. Buck, Russel Buck, Horace Brown and George Richardson.

Stresses Value Of Forest Land

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's forests always will be the pacemakers of national prosperity, John Basset Publisher of the Montreal Gazette, and a former president of the Canadian Forestry Association, said today.

In a fire prevention message, Mr. Bassett suggested it is a "grim reflection in Canadian shrewdness" that this country should tolerate, 3,500 forest fires a year caused wholly by human negligence."

AUTUMN DEWS

The heavier dews of August lie these mornings on all the fields, the lawns in the city and by the lakes. It is one of the minor changes as the summer gradually yields to the approaches of autumn. That was the last full moon of this summer Tuesday night.

THROWING UP A BARRICADE? No—just building a sidewalk. That's the reason for this unsightly dumping of earth fill along Bellevue St., between Stormont and Donegal Sts. The wartime houses here are built on a steep slope and the original road fronting them on the north was never cut down. Now that a sidewalk is to be constructed the city property has been filled in up to the level of the middle of the road. Children, playing at left, find the sidewalk level up to their shoulders. And two housewives, Mrs. Verne Sackrider and Mrs. Roy Fraley, partly hidden, chat about the situation on Mrs. Sackrider's porch. Tonight the Bellevue residents are going to discuss the sidewalk construction with James Burgess, street commissioner. — (Examiner Staff Photo)

High Walks Problem On Bellevue

Sidewalks At Level Of Window Sills Might Cause Flooding

The prospect of city sidewalks raised to the level of their window sills is causing concern among residents of wartime houses on Bellevue St. Eleven householders between Stormont and Donegal Sts. are the ones chiefly affected.

Like other ratepayers they have been anxious to get all possible municipal services and they petitioned to have sidewalks laid down. But now, because of the slope of the land, they find they will have to walk up at least three feet from the ground level of their own property.

Apart from the unsightliness of having sidewalks so high the residents fear flooding in the spring and during heavy rainstorms; and the expense of putting in fill for a side drive will be heavy. All but three of the 11 have cars.

"We think the road should have been cut down instead of being built up like this," said Mrs. R. J. Fraley, of 425 Bellevue St. "How will we be able to get a car in during the winter?"

CAN'T AFFORD COST . .

Mrs. Fraley said the residents don't feel they can afford the cost of cutting down the road through local improvement taxes. But they'd like to see the city take some action to improve the situation.

A. E. Chalmers, city engineer, agrees that the residents are in an unenviable position. But he points out that the wartime houses built by Central Mortgage and Housing were considered a temporary accommodation.

None of them was to be a permanent home, though later the houses had foundations put in and were modified to come within the city's building bylaw requirements.

Today a builder wouldn't erect houses on such a cross-slope, says Mr. Chalmers.

"With all that slope you just can't make a proper job of it," he says. "If you cut the road deeper then those living on the other side of the road would complain how far the road was below them."

"CAN'T LEAVE IT"

Changes in the road would have to be paid for under the Local Improvements Act.

"They just can't leave it the way it is," said Mrs. William G. Staunton, of 437 Bellevue St. "Why, the sidewalk will be higher than the front steps and nearly up to the level of the windowsill."

Alderman A. B. Burrows visited the long block Tuesday night and conceded that the earth fill dumped to the edge of the city property was "quite a mess." He had no pat solution but suggested that if Smith township dug a deeper ditch on the north side of the road there would be better drainage.

Meanwhile, residents are hoping that as a result of talks with city officials a satisfactory compromise can be reached.

FIRST PERFORMANCE of a new play by Robertson Davies is being given today by the B.B.C. over its Welsh Service. The comedy 'Benoni', which has a Welsh setting, is being produced in a 75-minute broadcast by David J. Thomas and stars actors like Moses Jones. This is the National Eisteddfod week in Wales, and it is interesting that a play by a Canadian writer is being featured by the B.B.C. The illustration above is reproduced from the 'Radio Times' (London) notice of the play's broadcast.

Three Charges Face Driver After Fast Chase

A 50-mile-an-hour chase through the centre of the city early Sunday morning had its sequel in police court Tuesday when Alvin Johnson, 26, 265 Hunter St., W., appeared on three charges.

He is charged with travelling at more than 50 miles an hour on Reid St., driving without a licence and leaving the scene of an accident.

Johnson asked for two weeks adjournment but was remanded until August 18 with bail fixed at $300.

Just before 1 a.m., Constable Ted Stephen was standing at the corner of Hunter and Aylmer Sts., when he heard a truck pull away from the south side of Hunter St., west of Bethune St. He saw it veer south around the corner and he heard the noise of a collision.

Constable Stephen said he had almost caught up with the truck when it drove off and he hailed a passing motorist, George Ellis, R.R. 11, Peterborough, and asked him to follow the truck.

They followed the truck west on Simcoe Street. It failed to stop at Rubidge Street, and turned north on Rubidge. The chase continued up Rubidge to Hall Street, and across Hall Street to Reid Street, then east on London

At times, the speed of the Ellis car was more than 50 miles an hour, but it still was unable to pass the fleeing truck, Constable Stephen reported.

A truck, believed to be the same one, was found on a lot just west of George Street, on London Street, but the driver had fled.

Johnson was arrested at his home a short time later.

The noise which first attracted Constable Stephen's attention was caused by the truck hitting two cars parked on the west side of Bethune Street, just south of Hunter Street.

The cars were owned by Donald A. Kerneghan, 261 Hunter Street, and Agnes Kearney, 266 Lakeshore Road, Mimico. Both were damaged slightly.

Second Oldest

Proudly marching in the reunion parade of the 2nd Canadian Infantry Battalion, C.E.F., in Ottawa over the weekend was 78-year-old Bill Simmons, of Park St. He was the second oldest man in the parade of the "Iron Second" and one of two Peterborough members who attended. The other was Col. Charles Ackerman. Mr. Simmons served in the Imperial Army for 17 years and enlisted here in 1914, serving for four years on active service.

Jail Youth 6 Months For Breakin

Admitted To Police Entering Grill By Smashing Window

Russell Norman Harris, 17, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to a breaking and entering charge in police court Tuesday.

Harris, who was convicted a short time ago and placed on suspended sentence for two years for breaking into a freight car, was sentenced to six months' definite and six months indeterminate in reformatory by Magistrate E. A. Gee.

Harris gave Provincial Police a written statement admitting he threw a rock through the window of Addie's Grill in Smith township on July 10, then reached through and unlocked the door.

He stole a quantity of cigarettes and sundry other articles, estimated by police to be worth about $100.

After Harris was convicted of stealing oranges from a sealed freight car he had broken into, city police officers found him a job with a farmer, Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said, but he only stayed one night, then left the next morning.

Harris, who ran away from his home in Nanton, Alberta, to join the army, then lied about his age and said his home town was Toronto, was stranded when they found out his age, discharged him, and gave him a ticket to Toronto. Mr. Bradshaw said. However, Harris said in his statement he had managed to get as far west as Winnipeg and return to this district since he was placed on suspended sentence for stealing the oranges.

Dogs 'All Over' Chemong Park Accused Argues

Dogs are running loose all over Chemong Park and everyone is complaining about it, Bernard Pearson charged in police court today.

Mr. Pearson was defending himself on a charge of letting his dog run loose contrary to a Smith township by-law.

Although he was convicted of the charge to which he pleaded not guilty, Mr. Pearson won a moral victory in that Magistrate E. A. Gee did not impose a fine, but only assessed court costs of $2.50.

Carmen English, Chemong Park constable, said he had warned Mr. Pearson to keep his dog tied up before and that he saw it loose on July 23.

DODGED ISSUE

Mr. Pearson asked Constable English why he had not prosecuted several others whose dogs were also running loose. The constable failed to give any satisfactory answer to this question and dodged the issue by insisting it was Mr. Pearson's dog he saw at a neighbor's house on July 23.

"Why should I be convicted?" asked Mr. Pearson and he agreed with Magistrate Gee that he objected to being the goat, while everyone else's dogs run all over the park.

He explained that he had tied the dog up after being warned by the constable and that a little boy next door had untied the dog, the day it was alleged to have been running loose.

Tossed Chair At Officer Toronto Man Fined $15

Tossing a chair at Constable Ted Stephen early Friday morning and staging a one-man riot in the police station cost George Dunford, 101 Caledonia Park Rd., Toronto, $15 and costs in police court today. Dunford pleaded not guilty to wilfully damaging the chair and causing a disturbance. He was convicted on both counts by Magistrate E. A. Gee.

He was fined $15 and costs on the disturbance charge and given suspended sentence on the charge of damaging city property, on payment of the cost of repairing it.

Dunford did a good job of defending himself and his defence prompted Magistrate Gee to tell him he should have been a lawyer. Dunford said he would be willing to buy the city a new chair.

WOULD BUY CHAIR

In fact, he added, he would be willing to give the city a new chair with his firm's name on it.

The magistrate suggested it should be made of sturdier material than the one he failed to toss through a door at Constable Stephen and pointed out he could sit in it the next time he visited the police station.

Dunford countered with the comment he would sooner other occupants would use the chair but maintained that he did not "wilfully" damage the chair.

"If it was the old police station and office I wouldn't wonder at you damaging the furniture," interjected Magistrate Gee, but in the new city hall . . . the magistrate shook his head in bewilderment.

"I was terribly angry," explained Dunford. "I think I lost my temper. I did not wilfully break any furniture."

The fracas occurred while Dunford was being questioned about an accident on Parkhill Road. He mantained that Constable Stephen and Patrol Sgt. Gordon Trennum refused to tell him what he was being held for and that was why he became angry.

Both officers testified he was being held in connection with another investigation, and that they were within their rights in holding him.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw agreed and argued that Dunford's claim that the damage was not wilful "does not hold water."

IN HOSPITAL HERE

Harry Beattie, electrical superintendent for the P.U.C., was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital Tuesday afternoon from Oshawa. He and Ross Hopkins, a lineman, were injured in a crash north of Oshawa a week ago today.

B.C. Judge Son Of Former Crown

Mr. Justice H. S. Wood, mentioned in the Canadian Press despatch from Vancouver, B.C., Tuesday, is Herbert S. Wood, eldest son of the late R. E. Wood, K.C., Crown Attorney years ago for Peterborough city and county. He is also a brother of Dr. Edward H. Wood, of Ottawa. Another brother, Captain Arthur V. Wood, was killed in action in France in the First World War.

Mr. Justice Wood presided at the trial of Arthur Bruce Cunningham, 65, who pleaded guilty to the murder October 2, 1951, of Albert Thorsen, 70-year-old farmer of Endako, B.C.

C.P. recalled that Cunningham's plea of guilty was the second in Canadian legal history. Mr. Justice Wood at first refused to accept it, declaring it "very extraordinary."

After three hours of evidence, Cunningham rose politely and repeated: "Guilty as charged, Your Lordship."

He was hanged Tuesday, August 5.

Pelican Said Sighted At Sturgeon Lake

A bird, believed to be a pelican, was reported to have been sighted at Sturgeon Lake recently by a Toronto couple. Admitting they had only seen pictures of this southern bird, they reported their finding to the Department of Lands and Forests, Lindsay.

Chief Conservation Officer Gordon Buie said that if their observation was correct, it would indeed be a rare visitor to these parts of Ontario. A pelican was shot a Port McNichol in 1930 and its effigy is stuffed and displayed to this day at an Orillia hotel.

The type referred to above is the brown pelican which occasionally visits Nova Scotia while white ones migrate to Manitoba and are a common sight on the central flyways.

Fine Toronto Man $15 For Public Mischief

Donald Gunter, 36 Maitland St., Toronto, was fined $15 and $2.50 costs today in police court when he pleaded guilty to a public mischief charge.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw explained to the court that Gunter told police officers who investigated an accident on the Clydesdale Road on June 14 that he was the driver of a car which had gone over an embankment.

When he was later charged with careless driving, he went to Toronto police and said he was not the driver of the car.

Mr. Bradshaw said the man's wife was apparently the driver of the car and that the public mischief charge was laid against him because it was too late to charge Mrs. Gunter with careless driving.

Gunter was represented by Robert Carley.

Name Two More To Staff Of City Assessor

Completing on August 25 a probationary period in the assessment department, Wallace H. Parnell and Douglas Spencer become permanent assessors by the council's acceptance of the recent recommendation of Assessment Commissioner J. E. Davis.

When Mr. Davis was engaged in 1950 in succession to Norman Wilkes, who returned to Hamilton as its Assessment Commissioner, the members of the department were Cyril Agnew, Murray Thomas, James Moher, Miss Hazel Wilson and William Delledonne.

Mr. Delledone joined the R.C.A.F. last September, and Murray Thomas was appointed deputy city clerk, succeeding Harry Hamley, who was appointed assistant to the secretary-areasurer, K. S. Wightman, of the Board of Education.

Since then Miss Doris Bolton has been engaged in the place of Mr. Delledonne. Appointment of Mr. Parnell and Mr. Spencer restores the staff to its former number of assessors, with one of them an additional member of the staff.

The department is now composed of Commissioner J. E. Davis, his deputy Cyril Agnew, Mr. Moher, Miss Wilson, Mr. Parnell, Mr. Spencer, and Miss Bolton.

Expansion of the work of the assessment department is indicated by the increase of 3,741 in population, and of $10,128,929 in assessment. Property development continues in Peterborough, and two new sub-divisions are beginning to take shape on the northern front of the city. They will be confirmed as city property after annexation from Smith Township.

Attendance At City's Playgrounds 5,610

Attendance at city playgrounds totalled 5,610 during the past week. The largest attendance was at Riverside Park with 1,217. King Edward Park was second with 959.

Attendance at the remaining playgrounds was: Inverlea 766, Turner 485, Braidwood 479, All Saints' 358, Fleming 735, Hamilton 611.

Glad Growers Plan Big Show

One of the most colorful shows ever held in Peterborough is being planned for August 13 and 14, when Ontario's top gladiolus growers display their prize blooms in the Market Hall.

The Peterborough Gladiolus Society are busy planning for the annual two-day provincial glad show being held here this year. Directors of the society are lining up a program of supporting events that are sure to be popular with flower fanciers whether they grow glads for pleasure or profit.

The Peterborough Gladiolus Society have one of the largest junior memberships in the province and one of the highlights of the show will be flowers exhibited by the junior section. Chairman Bud Lloyd expects a record entry and any variety of flowers can be exhibited. An attractive variety of special prizes and trophies are being offered to the juniors this year and the junior displays promise to be a popular feature.

Mayor Hugh Waddell will officially open the show at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, the first night of the exhibition.

D. H. MacMillan, president of the Canadian Gladiolus Society, will also be attending the show, which attracts province-wide attention through press and radio.

George Clarke and Herbert Cardwell, of Wallace Point, will be displaying several new varieties of cactus recently purchased in the United States.

Another feature will be a demonstration by Mrs. Chris Plunkett and Mary Johns, showing how to arrange flowers for attractive table decorations. Basket floral arrangements will be demonstrated by George Clarke and Fred Storey.

Vandals Do Damage At Valentia School

LINDSAY—Damage estimated at $100 done to the South Valentia Public School was discovered by board members recently.

The board was meeting at the school to make final arrangements for the opening of school. When they entered the building, they discovered that windows and equipment had been smashed and blinds ripped. The unidentified culprits used an axe to do most of the damage.

Remand Forgery Count Week For Man, 25

Paul D. Lawless, 25, 688 Gillespie St., was remanded on $2,000 bail today when he appeared before Magistrate E. A. Gee charged with theft and forgery.

Lawless is charged with forging a cheque for $100 payable to Duffus Motors on July 20, while he was employed as a salesman with the firm. He is also charged with stealing $640 from John Stuart Armstrong and Agnes Armstrong. He was remanded until next Wednesday.

More On Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP)—Uncle Sam wound up the fiscal year on June 30 with 112,999 more civilian workers on the payroll than when the year started. The congressional committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures said the civilian labor force numbered 2,596,690 at the year's end.

Children Hurt In 2 Accidents

Two children were slightly injured Tuesday night in two minor traffic accidents in the city.

Six-year-old Ronald Peel, 20 Stewart Place, was treated for a bruised nose and a bump on his forehead by Dr. R. M. Mathews, after he ran into the fender of a passing car on Park St.

The accident occurred at the Civic Arena, when the boy ran across the street. The car, travelling south, was driven by Robert H. Payne, 89 Park St. south.

Annie Whitney, Indian River, was given first aid treatment for a bruised right hand by Dr. C. F. Cahill, after she ran into the side of a parked car while riding her bicycle.

Constable Jack Wilson, who investigated, reported the girl was riding her bicycle west, along the south sidewalk of Hilliard St., and in making a left turn to go south on George St., collided with the right front door of a parked car owned by Eric McCullock, of R.R. 4, Campbellford.

Name Opening Dates For TV In Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Opening dates for the first regular television transmission in Canada were announced today by A.D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of governors.

Regular service will begin in Montreal Sept. 6 and in Toronto Sept. 8, the announcement said.

The Montreal station, CBFT, will transmit on channel 2, while the Toronto station, CBLT, will be on channel 9. Official opening ceremonies will be held at both stations.

Test transmissions already have begun in Montreal while similar experimental telecasts will be on the air in Toronto "towards the end of August," the announcement added.

Card Tryout Sessions In Oshawa Aug. 11

OSHAWA (CP)—Tryout sessions for the St. Louis Cardinals of the National Baseball League will be held at Kinsmen Civic Memorial Stadium here Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 11 and 12, George Silvey, Cardinal tryout camp director, said today.

Sessions will begin at 11 a.m. Expenses incurred by players attending will be refunded to those who are signed to a contract with the United States club's farm system.

See Larger Crop Niagara Peaches

Ontario has another big crop of peaches that usually reaches its peak of production about the time of the Toronto exhibition.

Estimate of the Department of Agriculture was recently announced at 1,375,400 bushels, slightly more than the heavy crop of 1951 that totalled 1,348,200 bushels.

The Ontario government report says: "While prospects in the major producing area of the Niagara peninsula are for a crop equal to the big harvest of last year, increases are expected in Norfolk and Essex-Kent counties."

"There was a heavy set (of fruit), and extensive thinning has been general although sizing has been retarded in some localities due to dry weather. Insect pests and disease appear to be fairly well under control, but some slight damage from wind is reported in the Niagara peninsula."

It may be recalled that a lot of last year's crop didn't reach market. Some reports said much of the excess had to be left to nature, and that consumers had apparently bought all they wanted.

"Buy Lot Of Booze" For $50, Man Takes Jail

After commenting he could "buy a lot of booze with fifty dollars," the fine for a second offence conviction for being drunk, Roy Allison, London Street, decided to spend 30 days in jail. He first pleaded not guilty in police court today, and asked for an adjournment, but changed his mind when Crown Attorney John A Bradshaw asked for a bail of $100.

Temperance Pledge Backfires As Accused In Police Court Appears On Drunk Charge

Percy Crumy's temperance pledge backfired in police court today. "I thought you told me you were going on the water wagon," demanded Magistrate E. A. Gee when Crummy appeared on two second-offence drunk charges.

Crummy was twice surprised, first that Magistrate Gee was on the bench in Peterborough for the day, and secondly, that he recalled letting him out on an adjournment on a drunk charge in Campbellford last week.

A periodic visitor on drunk charges, Crummy holds the dubious distinction of being the first offender to be charged in the new police court.

His argument that he had contributed substantially to the city by paying liquor fines and therefore should be let out on an adjournment to raise $100 by Monday won him an adjournment over the Crown Attorney's objection.

From this research will be gained knowledge to make things easier for men stationed in outposts and weather stations in the vicinity of the North Pole.

Australia Plans To Intensify Uranium Hunt

CANBERRA (Reuters)—The Australian government announced plan today for a greatly intensified uranium plant operated chiefly from planes equipped with scientific instruments capable of sniffing out uranium from considerable distances.

William H. Spooner, minister for national development, estimated aerial prospecting is about 200 times as fast as ground methods.

The apparatus will be able to pick up radioactive radiations given off by uranium-bearing minerals in the earth.

There are probably 50,000 square miles of country in the northern territory well worth surveying, he said.

By the end of the year, the airborne survey should enable experts to define "within narrow limits" the areas most likely to contain uranium.

The search planes will be fitted with Canadian and American "scintillometers" to pick up radio active radiations. The planes will also have special radar equipment enabling their position to be pinpointed at any time to within 100 feet.

With these instruments, scientists in the planes can plot on a ground map the exact location of any deposits detected.

Born in New Glasgow, Mr. Fraser is the son of a former lieutenant-governor and has had a distinguished career as a soldier and a lawyer.

Confessed Slayer Hanged At B.C. Prison

VANCOUVER (CP)—Iron-nerved to the last, confessed slayer Arthur Bruce Cunningham, 65, was hanged at Oakalla prison farm today.

The trap was sprung at 6.03 a.m., PDT and he was pronounced dead 15 minutes later.

Cunningham, the second man in Canadian legal history to plead guilty to a murder charge, walked steadily and with head high to the gallows, showing no emotion.

Cunningham pleaded guilty May 12 at Prince Rupert, B.C., to a charge of murdering Albert Thorsen, 70-year-old farmer, at Endako, B.C., Oct. 2. Police said Thorsen had been killed in his lonely cabin for the $40 he had. The only previous case of a guilty plea to a murder charge occurred in Ontario in 1935.

Nine guards and two newspaper reporters watched 'Arthur Ellis," Canada's hangman, carry out the execution.

ADMITS 1941 SLAYING

While waiting for his requested appointment on the gallows, Cunningham told prison officials that he was guilty of a 1941 murder at Prince George for which he was tried but acquitted.

He said he had spent 21 years of is life in jail and added in a conversation with Warden Hugh Christie that he "got a little harder after each prison term and would kill a man again for his pay cheque."

Cunningham's last meal was a steak dinner. He refused breakfast and played cards with his guards until a few minutes before the execution.

A bachelor with no known relatives, Cunningham refused to see visitors, even a former neighbor who went to the prison yesterday.

He declined to talk with a clergyman and walked to the scaffold unaided with steady, measured steps.

He was the hardest man we've ever had in here," said Deputy Warden J. McLeod.

BRIDE MISSING.—An investigation has been started into the mysterious disappearance at sea of Mrs. Robert King, 22, of Edmonton, bride of two weeks. Mrs. King was on a honeymoon voyage with her husband. She was reported missing when the liner Ascania docked at Liverpool. She was last seen by a waitress leaving a washroom at 3.30 a.m. An official inquiry will be held in October. Her husband said he plans to return immediately to Canada.

Plan To Buy Swamp Section

LONDON Ont. (CP)—An additional 300 acres may be purchased and reforested in Gads Hill swamp to add to the 450 acres now held by Upper Thames Valley Conservation Authority.

Leonard N. Johnson secretary-treasurer, U.T.V.A., said Dr. J. Cameron Wilson, chairman, would visit the area today along with members of the executive committee.

The swamp is on No. 19 highway, between Stratford and Milverston. The area to be purchased include parts of three farms north east of present holdings.

U.T.V.A. has a continuous program of land acquisition under way most of it for reforestation. The Thames report, 1952, recommended eventual purchase of 18,600 acres in the watershed. U.T.V.A. now holds about 2,500 acres.

Ore Tonnage Down

CLEVELAND (AP)—Only 1,903,672 gross tons of iron ore were shipped over the Great Lakes last month, during the big steel strike. The Lake Superior Iron Ore Association, reporting this yesterday, said that was 11,670,599 tons less than was shipped in July of 1951. Total shipped to Aug. 1, 1952, was 23,419,776 tons. For the same time last year, 46,615,970 tons had been shipped.

98,057 Immigrants Reach Canada In Last 6 Months

OTTAWA (CP)—A total of 98,057 immigrants reached Canada in the first six months of this year compared with 79,785 in the corresponding period of 1951, an increase of 18,272.

If the trend could be continued, Canada would have a near-record year for immigration. However, Immigration Minister Harris has said he expects the movement of new citizens to this country to drop in the last six months. Certain categories of workers will not be admitted after October.

A total of 194,000 immigrants were admitted in 1951—the largest number for any year back to 1913 when approximately 500,000 entered Canada.

The total for the first six months of this year included 54,103 workers and 43,954 dependents.

The number of British immigrants jumped 63 per cent—totalling 23,001 compared with 14,130 in the corresponding six months of 1951. The number of British exceeded by about 8,000 the total from any other country.

A slight increase was shown in the number of French immigrants. They totalled 2,767 compared with 2,272.

The total of all northern European immigrants was up about 40 per cent at 38,478 against 27,427. Arrivals from the United States totalled 3,931 compared with 3,688, an increase of seven per cent.

Canadians returning from the United States also increased by about 33 per cent with 2,494 returning in the first six months compared with 1,825.

Immigration from other than Britain, United States, France and northern European countries was down five per cent, totalling 32,647 compared with 34,540 for the first half of 1951.

Two Tobacco Workers Killed Near Delhi

DELHI (CP)—Two unidentified men about 25-years-old and believed to be transient tobacco workerks were killed here Tuesday.

The accident occurred about 1:30 a.m. on No. 3 highway outside Delhi limits.

The two were struck by a northbound motorist.

The two bodies were picked up about 50 yards apart, one being carried a considerable distance by the car.

Names of the victims were not released and police had not interviewed the driver who was being treated for shock.

Personal Interest

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Constable O.J. Barker has more than a professional interest in solving a $10,000 jewelry store robbery today. Barker investigated the robbery of a store in which thieves cleaned out a stock of watches and gems Sunday night. One of the watches was his own, left at the store for repairs.

Pilot Lands On One Wheel

WITH THE MARINE AIRCRAFT WING, Korea (AP)—A marine jet pilot with a shattered arm made a one-wheeled landing with an unexploded bomb dangling from his crippled plane.

Capt. Edward Shamis, 28, of Pensacola, Fla., has been recommended for the bronze star for his heroic action, the Marine Corps said today.

Shamis, wounded by anti-aircraft fire after a bombing run, made his way to a distant field.

"Evidently the shell that got me had also torn up my landing-gear system," Shamis said, "I still had one bomb left, and believe me I prayed the wheel that was down was the side the bomb hung on.

"I put her down on the deck and for awhile that one wheel held up. But when my air speed got low, the plane fell on the wing with no wheel."

8 Teen-Agers Enjoy Cycle Tour Of Britain

LONDON (CP)—Eight jubilant 'teen-agers from Montreal's Lower Canada College arrived in London today on the last leg of a month-long cycle tour of the United Kingdom.

They sail for home on the Colombia Saturday.

Accompanied by Norman Hurst and Paul Howard, senior teachers at Lower Canada College, the students arrived from Canada July 5 and have cycled about 600 miles through Wales, Scotland and England.

Convicts Throw Court In Uproar

JACKSON, Mich. (AP)—Three ringleaders in the April riot at southern Michigan prison were arraigned Monday on kidnap charges and threw municipal court into an uproar.

The trio—"Crazy" Jack Hyatt, 28, of Leamington, Ont.; Earl Ward, 38; and James W. Hudson, 44—were arraigned on formal charges of kidnapping prison guards during the riot.

Hyatt, referring disparagingly to "Michigan justice," demanded a lawyer. Ward became infuriated when judge M. Grove Hatch informed him he was remanded to the custody of the warden until his examination.

"I see I'm faced with an obstinate individual," sneered the convict. "This is a fine court of justice. Whose pay are you in?"

Irishman First To Stake Claim In Uranium Rush

URANIUM CITY, Sask. (CP)—An Irishman was the first to stake a claim as the world's first uranium rush began in this town 980 miles northwest of Regina.

Ten minutes after the ... office opened Monday in nylon tents set up as field offices, ... rick Hughes of County Down, Ireland, filed his claim.

He led the way for some 1,000 eager prospectors, flushed with the hope of striking it rich in an area in the Beaver Lodge country near Lake Athabaska, in the northwest corner of Saskatchewan.

Every type of conveyance from airplanes to birchbark canoes spilled bearded sourdoughs, geologists, Indians and even three women at the end of the long line of hopefuls. Others tramped the bush through rain and mosquitoes in search of a choice location.

Twenty concessions were thrown open by the department of natural resources Monday for public claim staking.

"COOL CONTROL" the "OVERLAPPING" GRIP

1 Allow club shaft to lie diagonally across the left hand.

2 Close fingers for firm but not tight grip on club, with left thumb running down outside of shaft. "V" formed by thumb and forefinger should point to right shoulder.

This is considered finest grip for control of club.

It's control that counts, in golf as in every sport — control which brings the balance, the comfort and the extra quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.

This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Eastern Star Chapter Holds Afternoon Tea

HAVELOCK—(ENS)—A successful afternoon tea and sale of home baking was held on Saturday afternoon under the auspices of Prosperity Chapter No. 63 Order of Eastern Star at the home of the worthy matron, Mrs. Henry Anderson. The proceeds amounted to $60.

The guests were received by Mrs. Anderson and the sale of home baking was in charge of Mrs. L. H. Coke and Mrs. W. Stevenson. Serving were Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Lorne Hornsby.

A draw was held for a cake donated by Mrs. W. Goadsby, with Mrs. W. Stevenson holding the winning ticket which was drawn by Helen Anderson.

Band Leader's Widow Suing Billy Rose

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Bernie, widow of bandleader Ben Bernie, signed a complaint in municipal court yesterday charging New York showman Billy Rose with criminal libel.

Mrs. Bernie claims that Rose libeled her in obtaining an affidavit from her former maid, Alberta Jones of Los Angeles.

In New York, Rose said the maid was one of his witnesses in his divorce action against his wife, and that he understood the libel complaint to be based on his use of the maid's affidavit.

Driver 14, Plays Tag Kills 2 On Motorcycle

DETROIT (CP)—A 14-year-old driver who, police said, was playing auto tag at 50 miles an hour, last night crashed head-on into a motorcycle and killed its two riders.

Dead are Santo Arfre, 22, and Rose Misuraca, 16, both of Detroit. Arfre's body was thrown 100 feet and Miss Misuraca's body 54 feet, police said.

Driver of the automobile was Kenneth Van Howe of Detroit.

Egypt Begins Crackdown On Corruption

CAIRO, (AP)—Egypt's anti-corruption drive got under way officially today as Premier Aly Maher set up two commissions to probe bribery, graft and unlawful profits by government officials.

At the same time, the powerful Wafdist party — which governed Egypt during most of the time the official stealing is supposed to have taken place — launched a purge of its own ranks. It kicked out nine members, three of them former cabinet ministers, and set up a party commission to examine "any complaint brought against a Wafd member."

Maher, chosen "purge" premier by the army following its coup which led to the abdication of King Farouk, in two separate decrees last night:

1. Set up a commission of career judges to "investigate and punish administrative offences by government employees."

2. Ordered "all responsible officials or officials filling representative posts" to submit a full statement of their income to a second commission before the end of the year. If an official's income increases after he takes office, he must explain why.

The second decree also applies to officials' wives and to officials who have resigned since 1939. It specifically stated, however, that punishment will be administered only for misdeeds committed in the future and will not be applied retroactively.

Aid Station Skeptical Of Corporal's Story

WITH THE 25TH DIVISION, Korea (AP)—When Cpl. Raul M. Menzer of Newburgh, N.Y., turned up at a medical aid station for treatment of a shoulder wound no one believed his story.

Menzer admits the skepticism was understandable.

The corporal was standing in a front-line bunker when a Communist mortar shell exploded nearby. The concussion snapped a wire supporting a rifle rack.

One of the rifles dropped to the floor of the bunker and was discharged by the impact. The bullet struck an iron ceiling support, shattering the iron and sending a sliver hurtling into Menzer's shoulder.

Despondent Student Vanishes From Ship

HOBOKEN, N.J. (AP)—A pretty 18-year-old art student disappeared from the liner Veendam in mid-Atlantic after leaving a note expressing despondency, a ship's officer said when the vessel docked here today.

The girl, Patsy Ann Partridge, was on her way from England with her family to visit an aunt in Short Hills, N.J., when she was reported missing at 6:30 a.m. last Wednesday.

Accompanying her on the voyage were her father, Jesse Partridge, London export manager for an American heating and plumbing firm, her mother, and a sister, Harriet, 17.

Duke Of Edinburgh Home From Helsinki

LONDON (Reuters)—The Duke of Edinburgh arrived back home Tuesday aboard a Comet jet airliner after a Scandinavian tour that took him to the Helsinki Olympic Games and a state banquet in Oslo marking the 80th birthday of Norway's King Haakon.

First to board the Comet here was the Duchess of Kent, who ran up the steps to greet her young son, the Duke of Kent, who accompanied the Queen's husband on the trip.

Fifteen minutes after his arrival, the Duke flew off in another plane to the Isle of Wight, where he will sail his yacht Cowslip in the Royal London Yacht Club's regatta.

Quebec Pilot Credited With Downing Jet

SEOUL, Korea (CP)—Flt. Lt. A. Lafrance of Loretteville, Que., R.C.A.F. exchange pilot with the United States Air Force, was listed among those Sabre jet pilots credited with Communist kills today in air battles a few miles north of the 38th parallel.

The Sabre jets intercepted 14 Communist Russian-built Migs four were shot down and damaged, the air force announced.

2 Sailors Sentenced

KOBE, Japan (AP)—The Japanese district court at Kobe Tuesday sentenced two British sailors, Der Smith and Peter Stinner of the British cruiser Belfast, to two years and six months in prison for robbery. First servicemen to be tried by the Japanese since the Pacific war, they were convicted of robbing a Japanese taxi driver of his cab and 1,700 yen ($4.72) on June 29.

Aly Khan Arrives

NEW YORK (AP)—Prince Aly Khan arrived on the liner Queen Elizabeth Tuesday but declined to say whether he hopes to effect a reconciliation with his wife, film star Rita Hayworth. The Moslem prince told reporters he would fly to Hollywood some time during his three-week visit to the United States and see his estranged wife and their daughter, Yasmine.

Current Aussie Best Seller "How To Find Uranium"

By JEFFREY SMITH

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters)—The current "best seller" in Australia is a government pamphlet on "how to find uranium."

Part-time prospectors are scouring Australia's rugged "outback" country in a country-wide drive to find new uranium deposits to add to the country's already large known sources of the atomic raw material.

They are being stimulated by a government offer of up to $56,000 for discoveries of radio-active ores.

The new army of prospectors is spurred by the same lust for adventure and quick money that sent the diggers to the Australian goldfields a century ago.

The fever is not as virulent as in the gold rush days. Few seamen are leaving ships, bank clerks are not forsaking ledgers or husbands deserting wives to join searchers in the outback.

HOLIDAY PROSPECTORS

But farmers, newspapermen, unemployed actors and full-time prospectors are among the growing numbers who are already "catching" the fever.

Schoolchildren are among the most enthusiastic seekers. City-dwellers are spending their vacations searching outback territories in the hope of finding ores—and making a quick $56,000.

Mining experts say that no really adequate search has so far been made in Australia for radio-active ores—despite rich uranium finds at Radium Hill, in South Australia, and in Rum Jungle, in northern territory, which authorities say will make Australia one of the world's big five producers of atomic materials.

Australian minerologists believe if people moving about in country districts become aware of what they see, there are excellent chances of finding more deposits of uranium and thorium, chief radio-active ores.

Amateur prospectors studying the government booklet are learning all about the Geiger-Muller counter, whose accelerated click responds to radio-active ore; the ultra-violet lamp; the spintharis-cope and electroscope.

For these are the tools of trade of the modern prospector.

HOME-MADE TOOLS

The booklet tells the enthusiast how he can make a simple and inexpensive electroscope to determine whether ore is radio-active.

A lamp chimney (or tube of glass made from a bottle by removing the neck and base), a tobacco tin lid, a carpenter's nail with pointed end flattened, a cork, some sealing wax and two pieces of aluminum foil are the only needed materials.

The nail is soldered by its head to the tin lid, then pushed through a sealing-wax-filled hole in the cork and the assembly eased to a snug fit into the glass tube. The pieces of aluminum foil adhere to each side of the nail point by means of a touch of shellac.

The uranium seeker tests his ore by placing it near the electroscope. If the strips of aluminum come together quickly then radio-active ore is indicated.

The booklet also describes the country where there are the best chances of finding uranium and thorium.

In general, it says, the veins and loades containing these ores are located where other metals such as tin, gold, lead, copper and zinc have already been found.

Flaunt BVD's Before Board In Lieu Of Signs

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Two hundred women from a plant of BVD —"Better Ventilated Drawers"— flaunted starched underwear at the National Labor Relations Board yesterday.

The women and a sprinkling of men from BVD's Pascagoula Miss., plant marched before the N.L.R.B. office waving the underwear in lieu of picket signs. Many wore the underwear over their outer clothing.

They demanded that the labor board call an immediate election to determine whether a majority of the 400 workers at the plant want union representation.

The International Ladies Garment Workers Union (A.F.L.) has been conducting an organizing campaign at the plant.

BVD is a large textile operation with several plants throughout the country. In its early days, it advertised "Better Ventilated Drawers," but in recent years has dropped the slogan and is known simply as BVD, Inc.

Find Counterfeit Dies Used By McAuliffe

WINDSOR (CP)—Police said yesterday they have recovered counterfeiting dies used by Herbert Joseph McAuliffe who was hanged in December, 1950, for the slaying of two Langton, Ont., tobacco farmers.

They were found yesterday in a "secret compartment" in a work bench in a garage where McAuliffe established a plant for the counterfeiting of 50-cent pieces, the officer said.

Two tobacco farmers, Arthur Lierman and William Goddyn, pursued McAuliffe after a bank robbery and were cut down in a hail of machine gun bullets.

Killed By Tractor

CHATHAM (CP)—Leon Debot, Gore township farmer, was killed Tuesday when his tractor skidded on loose gravel and toppled into a ditch pinning him beneath it. He came here from Belgium 27 years ago.

Modern Two-Lane Highway To Span Canada; Completion Expected In '56

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The dream of driving from coast to coast in Canada over a modern two-lane highway is coming closer to fulfilment.

The third year of construction work has started on the Trans-Canada Highway scheduled for completion by the end of 1956, but the job may take longer than that.

A Canadian Press survey shows bulldozers and paving machines busy on the road at scores of places across the land. All provinces except Quebec have entered into agreements with the federal government for the building of the 5,000-mile, $300,000,000 hard-surface road.

WORKS INDEPENDENTLY

Premier Duplessis of Quebec said in 1950 the agreement offers insufficient guarantees for provincial constitutional rights. His province is improving its existing highways without committing itself formally to the national plan.

One objection by Quebec authorities is that building the road to the width specified by the federal government—22 to 24 feet paved, with a minimum right-of-way of 100 feet—would involve demolition of houses in some Quebec villages through which it would pass.

The federal government is contributing 50 per cent toward the cost of the highway. The provinces make up the rest and choose the route. When completed, the highway will be the property and responsibility of the provinces.

The Trans-Canada Highway will cross Prince Edward Island: It is expected to thread across the southern part of Quebec, probably linking the major cities along the St. Lawrence River. Its mileages in other provinces have been announced as: Newfoundland 590; Nova Scotia, 310; New Brunswick, 383, Ontario, 1,432; Manitoba, 307; Saskatchewan, 414; Alberta, 287; and British Columbia, 628.

In many places, existing roads are being improved to meet Trans-Canada standards. Elsewhere, as in the rugged section of northern Ontario northeast of Sault Ste. Marie, the road will open up new country, as it will also in parts of Manitoba, Newfoundland and possibly British Columbia.

TOUGHEST STRETCH

Along the north shore of Lake Superior, rough country makes the work difficult and expensive. Rock hills must be blasted to ensure a smooth grade.

West of Fort William, muskeg is encountered. Muskeg up to 10 feet deep can be excavated. But where it is deeper, perhaps up to 40 feet, it is blasted out and the space is filled with rock.

Across the land, this is the highway picture: →

Newfoundland — Two major gaps to be closed, 45 miles on the western end of the island and 83 miles still unsurveyed between St. John's and Clarenville.

Nova Scotia—Already has spent $8,000,000 of its $12,000,000 share of the highway's cost in the province; road expected to run from New Brunswick border to Strait of Canso, with offshoot to Pictou for P.E.I. ferry terminal, across Canso Strait on new causeway and then across Cape Breton to North Sydney to connect with ferry to Newfoundland.

New Brunswick—Connects with Quebec's highway 2 about 11 miles from Edmundston and with Nova Scotia's highway 2 near Aulac, after linking Woodstock, Fdericton, Moncton and Sackville.

Ontario—Since federal-provincial agreement was signed in April, 1950, contracts have been let for 257 miles for culverts, grading and paving. About 175 miles have been completed to Trans-Canada specifications. Estimated total cost of all contracts to date is $23,000,000, with $16,000,000 of this spent to date.

Manitoba—Has spent $4,400,000 since 1946 and plans to spend $4,152,000 this year; expects to have 139 miles paved within a few months. Work this year will include considerable surveying.

Saskatchewan—107.5 miles paved at present, with 97.5 miles of this to be widened, altered or otherwise reconstructed to meet federal standards; 141 miles gravelled at present.

Alberta — $2,850,967 spent to date, $5,700,000 to be spent this year.

British Columbia — $38,000,000 spent to date; $9,000,000 to be spent in near future on reconstruction and bridging on a 32-mile stretch.

Dies of Injuries

WINDSOR (CP)—Joseph Karsul, 56, of Windsor died in hospital yesterday of injuries received when his automobile missed a highway turn near Belle River and smashed into a cement wall.

TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY—All provinces except Quebec have entered into agreements with the federal government for the building of a 5,000-mile, $300,000,000 hard-surfaced road across Canada. The third year of construction work has started with bulldozers and paving machines busy on the road—scheduled for completion by the end of 1956—at scores of places across the land. One objection by Quebec authorities is that building the road to the width specified by the federal government, which is paying half the cost, would require the demolition of houses in some Quebec villages.

Canada Spurring Efforts To Increase Uranium Output

OTTAWA (CP)—The "great urgency" of demand arising from the United States atomic bomb program is spurring Canada's intensive and varied efforts to increase her uranium production sharply and to find more and more of the vital mineral in the north.

The efforts are already paying off.

Production at the government's first mine has been boosted substantially this year by a spectacular construction program. A second mine is due to start producing next April. By then Canada hopes to be producing at least twice as much uranium as she is now.

Behind these and other phases of the hunt for more uranium and better ways to get it out is what officials describe as urgency of paramount bombs herself but this only makes it all the more important that she help the Americans who can and do.

The direct link is seldom mentioned publicly but the records indicate the big majority of Canada's uranium goes into U.S. bomb production.

Canada uses only a minor fraction of her uranium for her one atomic plant at Chalk River, Ont., engaged only in none-military research.

Uranium Rush

REGINA (CP)—Uranium brought on Saskatchewan's biggest staking rush yesterday. Hundreds of prospectors scampered about the northwest corner of the province as the Saskatchewan resources department threw open 20 concessions in the rich Beaverlodge uranium area at 8 a.m. More than 500 claims are expected to be staked in the first two days.

Refuse To Give Prize In Poetry Contest

ABERYSTWYTH, Wales (AP)—The Welsh national cultural festival yesterday refused to award its annual poetry prize because of what the judge called the trend to "half-baked sexual images."

Contestants for the £25 award and title of Wales' traditional bard were asked to write on "the creator."

"Instead of the pious biblical formula of the past," Prof. W. J. Grufford told a festival crowd of 12,000, "the fashion now is to do all one can to shock the reader with half-baked sexual images and all-creative biological functions."

Begin Recruiting Plane Spotters

BRANTFORD (CP)—Recruiting has begun for hundreds of aircraft spotters needed in western Ontario, FO. Lloyd Swanton, of the R.C.A.F. western Ontario filter centre, said here yesterday.

Both men and women will be welcomed as spotters on voluntary basis, FO. Swanton said. Women are particularly needed, since a national emergency will call men to civil and military posts.

Spotters are required in a rectangular area bounded by Windsor, the Bruce peninsula, the Niagara peninsula and the north shore of Lake Erie.

The main job required is to report on aircraft flying below 5,000 feet. Radar is not effective in spotting planes at lower altitudes.

Defiance Spreads

PRETORIA, South Africa (Reuters) — The defiance campaign against segregation laws spread here yesterday with the arrest of 20 African natives and one Indian on charges of breaking "whites only" restrictions in a railway station. The campaign, organized by national organizations of Africans and Indians, has resulted in the arrests of hundreds in the last three weeks.

Conditions Improve In Maritimes

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The Maritimes, an economic enigma for years, are slowly improving their lot and the gradual changes are reflected in a more stable position.

The Monthly Review of the Bank of Nova Scotia reports that except for some weakness in the forestry industry, the economic climate of the Maritime provinces, including Newfoundland, has continued favorable this year.

The Review says that markets have been good for most fish and some agricultural products, and defence needs have stimulated production in the Newfoundland iron mines, the Cape Breton iron and steel industry and the shipyards at Halifax.

INCOMES MAINTAINED

"Incomes of both farmers and fishermen have been fairly well maintained, and in the aggregate employment has been slightly higher than a year ago."

Most serious aspect of the future is the slackening in the forest industries.

Uncertainty is reflected in the declines from last year's level in logging and sawmill operations. A cut in sales to the United Kingdom and a drop in the demand for pulpwood raises serious questions.

The fish market, on the other hand, has remained "quite strong." Prices for salt cod have been good and the carryover from last year was small.

Landings in the three older Maritime provinces have been steady this year, but in Newfoundland the major cod fishery is still tending to decline as men move to more lucrative work in other industries.

INDUSTRY DEVELOPING

The fresh and frozen fillet industry is continuing to develop and markets in both Canada and the United States are strong. The lobster catch for the first six months of the year was low but prices were strong.

In agriculture the outlook for the two main export crops, apples and potatoes, contrasts sharply.

Potato prices are high, the market is strong and a good crop is expected. A fair apple crop is predicted but market prospects, never bright during the last few years, have been worsened by Britain's decision to make no purchases from Canada during 1952.

Set Peacetime Record In Grain Handled

FORT WILLIAM (CP)—A peacetime record in the amount of grain handled at the lakehead was set during the 1951-52 crop year, Earl Baxter, statistician for the Board of Grain Commissioners of Canada said yesterday.

Some 450,500,000 bushels of grain were unloaded during the crop year which ended last Thursday. The record of 500,000,000 bushels was set in the wartime 1944-45 season.

Apple, Pear Crop Down This Year

OTTAWA (CP)—There won't be quite so many apples, pears, plums and grapes around this year as there was in 1951.

The Bureau of Statistics in its first estimate of Canada's 1952 fruit crops, said yields of these fruits will be moderately smaller than last year. But output of all other fruits will be "up to some extent" and the apricot crop is expected to show a large increase.

The Canadian apple crop is at present estimated at 12,844,000 bushels compared with 13,613,000 last year.

The pear crop is put at 973,000 bushels compared with 1,201,000, plums and prunes at 623,000 compared with 674,000 and grapes at 88,275,000 pounds compared with 88,303,000 pounds.

The yield of peaches is expected to increase to 2,019,000 bushels compared with 1,766,000, apricots to 337,000 from 49,000 bushels and cherries to 435,000 from 428,000 bushels.

Will Reopen 15 Gates Controlling Lake Flow

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont (CP) Fifteen of the 16 gates in the compensating dam controlling the flow of water from Lake Superior here will be re-opened by Thursday.

The gates were opened last week, causing water in the St. Mary's river to rise about two feet. Thirteen were closed Saturday to allow repairs to property along the river.

Property owners on the lower river were warned that the water will rise again by Thursday night.

Field Day Held In Harwood Park

HARWOOD (ENS)—A parade was a feature of the annnual field day held in Memorial Park, Harwood, Saturday.

The prizes for the best decorated bicycles were won by: 1, Patricia Dines; 2, Peter McKellar; 3, Eleanor Thomson.

Gate prizes were won by: 1, Mrs. Spellman, Ohio (a carving set); 2, Fred Riley (a six pounds ham); 3, Mrs. Osler Burrison (a pair of nylon stockings). The judge was Mrs. McKinlay.

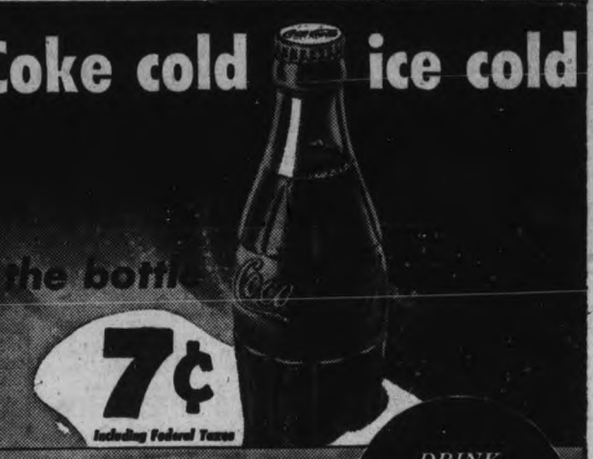
Harwood girls' softball team lost to Plainville in a fast game, and Harwood men's team lost to the tourists' team, 5-9.

Children's races were held under the direction of Mr. Smith and Mr. Baker. The outside canteen was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. William Baker, with Mrs. Bates and Mr. Whitney Regan assisting, and others.

Mrs. Riley, with Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. J. Patch and Mrs. Wallace Young served afternoon tea during and after the ball games in the park.

William Harvey was in charge of the gate, and Thomas Bates was responsible for the ball games.

Although the field day was a success, it was felt that the rain early in the afternoon, which only lasted a short time, discouraged many from attending.



Wants Pay By Cheques

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto labor leaders will be asked to co-operate in having company payrolls composed of cheques to cut down on the "loose cash" in reach of criminals, mayor Allan Lamport said yesterday. The mayor said that labor officials will be asked not to insist on a policy of payment in cash for union members.

Plant Salmon

TORONTO (CP)—The Ontario wildlife division of the department of lands and forests announced yesterday that Atlantic salmon are being planted in Cedar and Cauchon Lakes in Algonquin Park. The fry are being transported in batches of 10,000 from the Glenora hatchery on the Bay of Quinte.

New Toni

WITH PRICELESS PINK LOTION

Holds the set longer than any other permanent!

Which Twin's Toni was set a week ago—and which was set today?

Yes, both twins have Toni's. Julia Lacy, on the left, had hers set just before this picture was taken—Cynthia, on the right, had her Toni set one whole week before and never re-set it! You can't tell the difference. Here's proof that Priceless Pink Lotion gives a wave that stays lovely without re-setting!

You'll forget all other ideas about permanents the first time you use New Toni with Priceless Pink Lotion. For the new Toni process is faster, gives a wave with the vibrant spring and silky-softness of a natural wave. Yes, and it holds the set longer than any other permanent you've ever had!

Never a lotion so wonderful! You've never used anything like Toni's new Priceless Pink Lotion! It curls more completely—yet is kinder to your hair! And that means a lovelier, livelier wave for you. Less re-setting. New freedom from the nightly chore of pin curls.

Never a neutralizer so fast! You save 20 minutes with the new Permafix method of neutralizing. And because Permafix neutralizes more thoroughly, it "locks in" your Toni wave so it can't come out. New Toni means all day—every day beauty for you month after month.

Never a guarantee so complete! If you don't say your new Toni looks lovelier and holds the set longer than any other permanent you've ever had, the Toni Company will cheerfully refund your money. So try New Toni—and you be the judge.

Ask for the New Toni at any cosmetic counter.

A STATE PATROLMAN continues to search through the wreckage of the tragic bus accident in which two Greyhound buses crashed head-on and burst into flames on Highway 81, near Waco, Texas. At least 28 persons lost their lives, a score or more suffered severe injuries and several passengers have not yet been accounted for. This graphic view of the accident scene leaves little to the imagination. The charred and blackened pile of scrap, all that remains of the buses had to be pushed off the highway into the ditches before normal traffic could be resumed.

Furore Over US Civil Rights May Force Candidates Act

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mounting furore over civil rights may force the two United States presidential candidates to clarify their views on this controversial issue.

Conflicting interpretations cropped up in the Democratic camp on the stand being taken by that party's nominee, Governor Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Republican nominee, said in a Los Angeles speech last night he favors making the promise of equality "a living fact for every American"—seemingly a stronger statement than any made in his party's platform.

HEAT ON STEVENSON

Because some southern states bolted on the civil-rights issue in 1948, the heat is on Stevenson from opposing camps in his party to declare himself.

While Governor Hugh White of Mississippi was coming out of a conference with Stevenson yesterday to say he thinks the governor will take a moderate attitude on civil rights, Senator Herbert Lehman of New York was sounding a difefrent tune. Lehman said he expects Stevenson and Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, to "accept the full letter and spirit" of the Democratic platform civil-rights plank.

CALLED FOR LEGISLATION

That plank called for federal legislation for equal opportunity in employment for negroes and other minority groups, security of person and for equal participation in political life. Another section pledged efforts to modify the senate debate rule under which filibusters have prevented action on civil-rights legislation.

Stevenson has said he favors state action on the equality in employment issue, with the government stepping in only when the states fail to act. Governor James F. Byrnes of South Carolina called that a sugar-coated view unacceptable to the south.

Lehman ridiculed a statement signed by 16 Republican leaders last Sunday asserting that election of Eisenhower would speed the enactment of federal fair employment legislation.

This statement indicated the group may have been putting pressure on Eisenhower to alter his view that civil-rights issues should be left to the states.

All-Canadian Gas Pipeline Seen Possibility

TORONTO (CP)—The Globe and Mail says today that with the re-election of Alberta's Social Credit government the door may be open for construction of an all-Canadian natural gas pipeline.

The pipeline would transport Alberta gas to supply Ontario and Quebec gas needs.

The paper says in a newspage story that "top-level, top-secret negotiations" by Ottawa, Ontario and Alberta officials during the past month "brought the pipeline to the stage that virtually all that was needed was the return of the Manning government."

The project could be killed by the Federal Power Commission in Washington today if it grants an application by Toronto's Consumers' Gas Company and the Tennessee Gas Transmission Company for a pipeline to bring Texas gas to Ontario.

If Washington refuses the application "the all-Canadian pipeline should be feeding gas into Ontario by 1956."

Beardless Men Pay $1 Fines

ST. THOMAS (CP)—It cost money for a man to show his face in St. Thomas yesterday without a beard.

The Mossback Club went into action, arresting beardless men on their jobs and hauling them before a special court where they were fined $1 apiece and given a shave permit. Bearded men escaped the penalty.

The club functioned in connection with the St. Thomas and Elgin County centennial celebration. It was Port Stanley Day and thousands of cars poured into the resort village on Lake Erie to celebrate.

Last night the Earl of Elgin laid the cornerstone of the new $3,500,000 St. Thomas-Elgin general hospital.

Plane Explodes

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—An air force B-36 with eight aboard exploded within sight of hundreds of persons and crashed into the ocean just off Mission beach today. Six survivors were taken to naval hospital.

Communist Now R.C.

NEW YORK (AP)—Bella V. Dodd, once the foremost woman Communist party leader in New York state, has been received into the Roman Catholic faith. She was baptized April 7 by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, Roman Catholic sources said.

Burlington Bertie Dies

LANCASTER, England (Reuters)—Ella Shields 73, one of the few remaining old-timers of British vaudeville, died last night. Born in Baltimore, Md., she made her name touring in American vaudeville before she came to London 48 years ago. Her name will always be linked with the song "Burlington Bertie of Bow" which she first sang in London in 1910.

Small Cash Box In Robbery Found

COBOURG (ENS)—Police are puzzled by several aspects of the robbery Tuesday morning in which the Park theatre safe was blown and robbed of close to $2,000. A roll of tickets, of no value to the thieves was found on College street about two blocks away from the theatre, along with a small box in which packaged coins had been kept. Left behind on the floor of the office was about $200 in bills. Why the thieves took the worthless tickets and left some of the money behind is what baffles police. These later facts suggest to the police that the safe cracking job might not have been as professional a one as first believed.

B.C. Man Starting Hike Across Canada

PRINCE RUPERT, B. C. (CP)—James Cusack has started on a hike across Canada with a reminder to motorists that he isn't interested in hitching rides.

At noon yesterday Cusack strapped a 35-pound pack on his back and, with supreme confidence in the toughness of his feet, began a 4,000-mile journey from Prince Rupert to St. Johns, Nfld.

He plans to hoof it all the way with the exception of taking a boat from the mainland to the island province.

Waistline Gone In Latest Balenciaga Styles

PARIS (AP)—Fashion Dictator Balenciaga seems to be determined to make women take to the fallen waist or middy line—even if he has to push it down their throats.

That is practically what he does in the new collection he unveiled yesterday. Alas for the waistline: With few exceptions it has disappeared, at least at Chez Balenciaga.

Bal, as he is affectionaly known to the fashion magazines, is out to prove himself the Picasso of the style surrealists this time. He does it with big ballooning coats that look like angry storm clouds; that is to say, they are equally black, shapeless and ugly.

The designer's creations do anything but flatter the feminine figure. They run to harsh, collarless necks, baggy hunchbacks and loose waists. One black taffeta cocktail dress has a collar right up to the nose and a full skirt tied in like a sack halfway between hips and knees.

Except for some very revealing dropped shoulder formals, Balenciaga's new clothes seem to have a strong churchly influence. Black predominates, and there are cardinal's cloaks and a corded monk's robe hostess gown—in pink satin, of all things.

Vass-McClennan

In St. Andrew's United church on Monday the marriage took place of Phyllis Arleigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClennan of Peterborough, to Mr. Albert W. Vass, son of Mrs. Vass and the late Walter Vass of Oshawa. The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon officiated.

The candle-lit church was decorated with ferns and baskets of pink and white gladioli. Mrs. Hugh Redmond at the organ, accompanied Mr. Reginald Peters singing "The Lord's Prayer" at the beginning of the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

The bride wore a gown of her own design of white slipper satin and net with an overskirt and jacket of witchcraft lace. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion with a border of chantilly lace and adorning her head a sweetheart hat of satin and a ruffle of net. She carried a cascade of rhubrum lillies. She was given in marriage by her father.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Douglas Burns, matron of honor, and Mrs. Cecil McClennan, bridesmaid. Their chantilly lace and tulle gowns of orchid and green had bouffant ankle-length skirts, fitted bodices and matching stoles. They wore matching headdresses and carried cascades of yellow gladioli.

Flower girls Tanya and Lynda McClennan, nieces of the bride, were frocked in orchid and green net with forget-me-not headdresses and carried baskets of yellow gladioli florettes. They preceded the bride down the aisle, sprinkling rose petals in her path.

Mr. Cecil McClennan was groomsman and the ushers were Douglas Burns and Alan Giles.

The reception was held in the church parlors where the bride's mother received, gowned in navy crepe de chine, wearing a corsage of Briarcliff roses. The groom's mother who also received wore a gown of mauve crepe and a corsage of Johanna Hill roses.

The bride and groom left for a motor trip to Lake Placid and New York, the bride wearing a mauve linen dress with a nylon overskirt and white accessories.

On return they will live at 76 Thomas St., Oshawa.

MR. AND MRS. LEONARD VYSE were married Saturday morning in the St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Thelma Gooley.—(Parks Studio Photo)

Believes 10% Of House Seats Should Be Held By Women

TORONTO (CP)—Ten per cent of the seats in Canada's 262-member House of Commons should be occupied by women, says Mrs. Ellen Fairclough.

Mrs. Fairclough, Progressive Conservative member for Hamilton West, told Mrs. Tyyne Leivo Larrson that she "did not enjoy the distinction of being the only woman in the House." Mrs. Larrson is a member of Finland's parliament of 200 members.

DINNER GUESTS

The two were guests of honor at a dinner party here.

"I was surprised to hear that there was only one woman member of parliament in Canada," said Mrs. Larrson, one of 29 women in the Finnish house.

"Women got the right to vote and be elected to office in 1906," she said. Three of them have been cabinet members and she herself was a former minister of social welfare.

POLITICALLY IMMATURE

"The idea that women are women's candidates is one of the things that keeps women out," said Mrs. Fairclough. "It is politically immature to think that women are exclusively women's choice, or that they are concerned only with matters of interest to women."

Mrs. Larrson said women in Finland have equal opportunity with men and the right to be elected to all kinds of state and educational offices—everything but the church."

Smartly Dressed In Winter Go To Pieces In Summer

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP)—British fashion writers looking forward to next year's coronation warn that historians will probably record the dress fashions worn at the start of the new Elizabethan era.

And the style experts say British women have a lot to learn from their tudor forbears—especially in attention to detail and consideration of the general effect of a gown.

With the coronation taking place next June, fashion critics have been sizing up this year's summer styles as worn in the streets, not in the fashion salons.

The result, they say, is depressing. It seems that warm weather brings out the worst in the British female—fashionably. She wears an ordinary cardigan over a full-skirted, stiff-silk dress with cut-out neckline and adds to that a flower-decked hat with floating veil.

"What's wrong with the net little bolero and primly-perched sailor hat," asked desparing critics. It seems the British miss never plans for the inclement British weather.

STRANGE ASSORTMENTS

Chill winds common to English summer days inevitably bring out a miscellaneous assortment of old suit jackets, tweed jigger coats and cardigans—worn over the flimsiest and brightest of summer dresses.

But this is not the worst fault. One writer draws attention to the "mixers of strong patterns," who can be found yearly on British beaches and in city streets. The most famous of English seaside resorts have their quota of women wearing gaudy stripes, floral prints and polka dots—all at one time.

It seems that many British girls, smartly turned out for winter, "go to pieces when it comes to summer clothes."

Winnipeg Woman Studies Government In Spare Time

WINNIPEG (CP)—A Winnipeg housewife is spending her spare time learning more about government and the men who determine the Canadian way of life.

Mrs. Charles Ives, a mother of a 15-year-old daughter, decided last fall that "a man's face is his own responsibility but that's not enough to make me vote for him." This spring she took time out from household chores to attend an extension course in municipal administration and public finance designed primarily for members of municipal councils.

HUSBAND STARTED IT

Her interest in political and public affairs began last fall when her husband asked who she was going to vote for in a civic election.

"I told him I would have to take a look at the pictures of the aldermanic candidates in the newspapers and he just laughed at me," said the pretty blonde housewife.

"He suggested I might do better to get some good literature on the candidates so I took his advice. "But I discovered for the most part the literature was a lot of bunk and I could tell more by just looking at their pictures."

ATTENDED LEGISLATURE

Mrs. Ives used some of her leisure moments watching sittings of the provincial legislature during [illegible] I could see these people in action."

"I found that just by watching the members of the house from my seat in the galleries I could tell to quite an extent what they were like. And if I didn't understand some of the questions that were thrown onto the floor, I would interview the speakers concerned after the sitting was over."

Mrs. Ives says she gradually became "fascinated" with government and now can't keep away from conventions and sessions dealing with public affairs, both provincial and municipal.

"Before I used to accept practically anything that was said but now I find I question everything I read or hear," she says.

WOMEN NEEDED

From her own observation, Mrs. Ives believes representative govern ment is beginning to slip badly and that women should take a hand.

"After all, every nickel the government spends is ours and we must be interested."

But she insists on not joining any political group herself. By remaining on the outside, she hopes to get a broader view.

The one thing that worries her is that there must be hundreds of housewives like herself who, with a little effort, can find some good use for their leisure time.

What's Right

You would like to play matchmaker and introduce a young woman acquaintance to a young man you know.

WRONG: Have just the two of them over for an evening in your home.

RIGHT: Invite them along with other guests—so that they won't feel they are being thrown together.

FIRST VISITORS

Norsemen visited North America four centuries before Columbus arrived.

Two Havelock Brides-Elect Given Shower

HAVELOCK (ENS).—Mrs. L. Keene was the hostess for a double miscellaneous shower on Saturday evening in honor of her two nieces, Miss Helen Smith, whose marriage to Mr. Norman Bigelow of Hamilton will take place in the Bethel Baptist Church, Peterborough, on August 9 and Miss Ethel Menzies who will become the bride of Mr. Donald R. Pollock in Havelock United Church on August 16. Over 40 relatives af the two brides-elect were present.

Pink and white streamers and white bells were used for decorations. The guests of honor were the recipients of many beautiful gifts which were arranged in two large baskets also decorated in pink and white, and which were carried into the room by the following girls, who made the presentation and who were all related to the recipients: Ruth Morrow, Joy Blakely, Della Petherick and Betty Menzies.

A reading was given by Mrs. Ray Wrightly "Ten Hints for a Bride." There were three contests, won by Mrs. Lyle Petherick, Mrs. Bert Wannamaker and Miss Eleanor Wilde.

Those present were: Miss Dorothy Smith, Miss Muriel Smith, of Peterborough; Miss Lottie Keene of Toronto; Mrs. Clarence Wallbridge of Marmora; Mrs. Keith Wilcox of Kingston; Mrs. Orvil Bolton and daughter Marion of Burleigh Falls; Mrs. Keith Thompson of Norwood; Mrs. Johnson Blakely and daughter Joy of Cottesloe; Mrs. Walter Lewis of Trent River; Mrs. Carl McMillan and son Robert of Donegal; Mrs. Fletcher Wildman and son Wayne of Bonarlaw; Mrs. Lyle Petherick and daughter Della, Mrs. Joseph Mills, Mrs. Martin McArthur, Mrs. Annie Morrow, Mrs. Bert Wannamaker, Mrs. Bernard Smith, Miss Beatrice McArthur, Mrs. Austin Wilde and daughters Eleanor and Evelyn, Mrs. Mary Menzies and granddaughter Betty Manzies, Mrs. Donald Menzeis and son Douglas, Mrs. Earl Keene and sons Douglas and Barrie, Mrs. Alex McArthur and daughter Theeda, Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. Cora Curtis, Mrs. John Menzies, Mrs. Wilbert Morrow and daughter Ruth, Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mrs. Roy Wrightly, Master Bobby Peoples.

Barbara Hutton Plans To Wed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Barbara Hutton, oft-wed heiress to the Woolworth millions, left last night for Honolulu. There, says the San Francisco Examiner, she will marry David Pleydell-Bouverie, British-born socialite.

The Examiner reports that Barbara's friends said Pleydell-Bouverie, 41, accompanied the 39-year-old, four-times-wed heiress

Pleydell-Bouverie has been wed once, to Alice Astor, daughter of the late John Jacob Astor. They were divorced early this year.

Miss Hutton's former husbands were Serge Mdivani, a Russian prince; Count Haugwitz-Reventlow; movie star Cary Grant and Igor Troubetskoy, a Lithuanian prince.

Jenkinson-Ringer

The marriage of Marion Gertrude Ringer, Reg. N., daughter of Mrs. Minnie Ringer and the late Arthur Ringer, to Mr. Arthur Jenkinson, took place in the Knox Untied Church on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. A reception was held at Hooper's Palm Room and the couple left on the afternoon train for New York. They will make their home in Peterborough.

Previous to the marriage Mrs. Jenkinson was the guest of honor at three bridal showers. The hostesses were Mrs. W. S. Cotton, Bethune St., Mrs. Kenneth Clarke, King St., and Mrs. Marlow Banks, Gilchrist St. The nurses of the Civic Hospital staff presented her with a pair of lamps at a beach dinner. Mr. Jenkinson's associates of the Peterborough Canoe Company gave him a telephone table and chair.

LeBarr-Kane Rites

Barbara Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kane, was married on Monday in the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church to Robert Edward LeBarr, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward LeBarr. The Rev. G. Sullivan said the nuptial mass and performed the ceremony.

Wedding music was by Heribert Michel, organist, and Mrs. A. Conlin sang during the signing of the register, "O Sacred Heart." Carnations were used to decorate for the occasion.

The bride's gown was of white net over taffeta with a jacket of embroidered net and her veil was of embroidered silk net caught to a coronet of seeded pearls and cut steel beads. Her bouquet was of red roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Patricia Kane and Miss Joan LeBarr, sisters of the bride and groom, were the attendants. Miss Kane was frocked in yellow embossed organza and Miss LeBarr in apple green net over taffeta. Their hats were of yellow and green net and they carried bouquets of mixed summer flowers.

Mr. Harold Begley attended the groom and the ushers were Francis McDonald and Gerald Murduff.

The reception was held at the Empress Hotel. The bride's mother received there wearing a grey shantung dress and navy mohair hat and her corsage was of red roses. The groom's mother wore a navy redingote type dress with striped taffeta front and hat of baku straw and her corsage was of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. LeBarr are on a wedding trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, following which they will go to live in Halifax. When going away the bride wore a brown sheer redingote over a checked taffeta dress and white accessories. Her corsage was a gardenia.

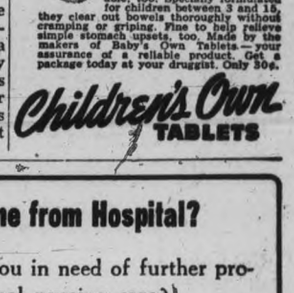
Hannah-Desbarbieux Union

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS). — Theresa Madelaine Joanne Desbarbieux became the bride of Philip Charles Austin Hannah in a pretty ceremony in St. Mary's Church in Campbellford, Saturday morning. She is the daughter of Mrs. Desbarbieux and the late Henry Desbarbieux of Campbellford. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Hannah of Foxboro. The altar was decorated with gladioli and Miss Marie Crosson played the wedding music.



The bride was frocked in traditional white satin with a full skirt under chantilly lace with a long flowing train. Her veil was of nylon caught to a crown of rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of gardenia roses. She was given in marriage by her eldest brother, Joseph Desbarbieux.

The matron of honor was Miss Mary Desbarbieux, sister of the bride. She wore blue nylon net over taffeta. Bridesmaids were Miss Theresa McGuire of Kinmount and Miss Mavis Hannah of Foxboro. They wore pale mauve and green dresses with matching mittens and headdresses of matching roses, lily of the valley and nylon net. They carried cascades of contrasting gladiolis.

Flower girl was Gloria Desbarbieux, niece of the bride. She wore a floor length gown of rose nylon net over taffeta with matching headdress, and carried sweetheart roses and sweet peas.

The Rev. J. Hickey of Peterborough performed the double ring ceremony. Both he and the Rev. J. C. Moloney of St. Mary's, Campbellford, spoke briefly at the reception, held after the ceremony at Kay's Dining Hall in Campbellford. The bride, a former resident of Campbellford, has lived in Peterborough for the past six years.

The couple left on a wedding trip to New York City, returning by way of Windsor and Detroit. They will live at 498 Charlotte Street, Peterborough. For travelling, the bride wore a yellow gabardine suit with robin's egg blue accessories.

"TWILIGHT" WEDDING — Fred Ellenburg of Glastonbury, Conn., escorts his 93-year-old bride, the former Mrs. Margaret E. Beebe, from a New York church after their wedding. Ellenburg, a veteran of the Spanish American War, is 73. They said they married "to enjoy our last twilight together."

DOROTHY DIX

Avoid Marriage Brought On By Solitude, Widower Told

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widower of 50. My wife passed away a year ago, and since I have met a fine woman whom I desire to marry. However, my married daughter, age 21, is strongly against this. She feels I am "too old" to wed and that I should live with her and her husband.

I feel I have the right to live the rest of my life as I see fit, without any interference from my daughter. What is your advice?

E. G. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Of course, so many factors can enter into the question of a second marriage for a widower that they can't all be considered here. The mere fact that your young married daughter objects to your nuptials is not a sufficient reason for you to cancel them. After all, she married—and apparently quite young—has established her own home, and is not looking for advice from anyone. She should certainly extend to you the same privilege.

YOU'RE ENTITLED TO HOME

Fifty is far from senility, and the desire for a home of one's own is not confined to any set age. Everyone—young and old—has it. If you did acquiesce to daughter's wishes and stayed with her, who's to guarantee that in time she wouldn't tire of having Pop around the house all the time? Take what happiness you can, Mr. W., and keep your own home.

There is one thing you must be sure of! Don't let loneliness lead you into a marriage that holds any probability of trouble. Are you sure the lady of your choice is really a fine and worthy woman? If, in your own mind, you are certain on that score, go ahead and the best of luck!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: Five years ago I married a boy I had known about eight years. We were both 17. Ten months later our son was born, then my husband left for overseas. He was gone two years, and in that time I never went out with anyone, but somehow I feel we had grown apart, so I wrote and asked for a divorce. Although my husband didn't want one at all, he agreed to let me have my way. In the two years since, I have grown up. Instead of loving my husband less, I love him more, and realize what a horrible mistake I made. Now I can't make him realize it was a mistake, and that I'd like to try again to make our marriage a success. I know we both love each other, and could establish a wonderful home with our boy.

G. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Both you and your husband are laboring under the handicap of a too-early marriage. With no conception whatever of the responsibilities of matrimony, and not enough worldly experience to set a standard for you, you were simply two drifters with absolutely no idea of where to land you matrimonial ship or how to steer it. Time brought the experience and at least some of the wisdom. Now the problem is, how to patch the wreck that your heedlessness brought on. naturally your husband is bewildered by your constantly changing moods, and doesn't know which one to trust.

If you can get him to agree to go with you, your best solution would be an interview with a reputable marriage counsellor. You can locate one in your city.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been engaged since Christmas, but my mother won't let me out more than three nights a week. My boy friend does not like the idea at all, and is getting the idea that my parents are trying to break us up.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The number of nights you should be permitted out depends on so many things that an arbitrary answer is difficult. Are you still in school? Do you work, and would more than three nights out a week interfere with the required amount of rest? Unless you stay at home doing nothing, you surely need a good amount of sleep, and a more generous dating schedule than the one you enjoy would be definitely injurious to your health. Three nights a week seems to me to be ample dating time.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: The custom in our town is that, after a date, the boy comes to the girl's house for about an hour. How can I entertain him when I have no television, phonograph or records, and an unco-operative family?

PAT

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If there is one quality the parents of an adolescent girl (or boy) should have, it's the awareness of the youngster's need for a social life in which she can feel secure and poised. The best way to cultivate this asset is to permit the girl to have her friends in the house, and make available every possible means of entertainment. Hospitality may be simple, but it should be genuine. Your parents should be made to realize either by you, or by some mutual friend or older person, that you have this need and it should be gratified. Your younger sisters and brothers should either help with the entertaining or make themselves scarce. Nothing is so disconcerting to a young man as a group of gaping young fry with nothing to say. For entertainment you might play a game or two, work a puzzle or discuss school activities. Lemonade and cookies would provide simple refreshments, and the young man could even be drafted into the kitchen to make the lemonade.

MR. AND MRS. DELMORE DAVID MERRILL of Campbellford, are shown after their wedding at Wellman's Corners Saturday afternoon. The bride is the former Patricia Irene Pollock.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Swiss Steak On Special-Purpose Menu

De Luxe Swiss Steak
Boiled Whole Potatoes in Jackets in Parsley Butter.
Sweet-Sour Green Beans.
Apricot Sponge with Raspberry Sauce.
Iced Coffee.

DIRECTIONS

I have not given you the recipe for Swiss Steak in this column for a long time and it's high time I did. The sweet-sour green beans I believe will be new to you, as will be the dessert. I certainly am going haywire on desserts this week.

DE LUXE SWISS STEAK

Ask the butcher to cut you a slice of round steak 1½ inches thick weighing 2 lbs. Mix together 6 tablespoons flour with 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper, and pound all of this into the surfaces of the steak. In a heavy frying-pan melt 2 tablespoons shortening and sear the floured steak in it, on both sides until dark golden brown. Pour over it 2 cups canned or fresh peeled tomatoes, 1 sliced onion, ½ cup chopped celery—using stalk and leaves if desired. Cover and reduce heat as low as possible and simmer for 2½ hours or bake at 300 deg. Fahr. It may be uncovered during last ½ hour to reduce sauce to a rich thickness. To serve this cut with very sharp knife into 1-inch wide strips right through the width of the steak. This way each person to be served receives some of the tenderest portions.

You may remember that I was going on about serving potatoes with their jackets on, boiled? A good way to mask that skin for those who are a bit squeamish about it is to melt 2 tablespoons butter or margine and add 1½ teaspoons flour or cornstarch, stirring it in. Add ½ cup boiling water and stir until thick, then add ½ cup chopped parsley or chives or ¼ cup of each and if desired 1 teaspoon lemon juice. This needs salt and pepper and paprika to taste too. Pour over boiled jacket potatoes in bowl.

SWEET-SOUR GREEN BEANS

Cook until crisp 2 strips side bacon. Lift out bacon and drain on paper towel. In the bacon fat saute 1 chopped onion until it is transparent, then stir in 1 tablespoon flour. Stir in ¾ cup of the liquid in which green beans were cooked, ¼ cup vinegar, 2 tablespons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Bring to boil then add 2 or 2½ cups green (or yellow) beans which have been cooked until barely tender. Stir until heated through. Pour into serving dish and sprinkle the crumbled bacon over top.

APRICOT SPONGE WITH RASPBERRY SAUCE

In top of double boiler scald 2 cups milk. Beat the yolks of 3 eggs and beat into them 2/3 cup sugar. Add this slowly to the hot milk, stirring, and stir until it thickens just enough for custard to coat spoon. Add a shake of salt. Meanwhile have ready 1½ tablespoons gelatin which have soaked 5 minutes in ¼ cup cold water. Stand the custard off heat as soon as it coats spoon, then stir the softened gelatin into it until gelatin dissolves. Cool this to room temperature, then fold in the beaten whites of 3 eggs. Pour half of tihs into a moistened mould and chill until almost set. Remove from refrigerator and cover with drained halves of canned apricots. Cover with remaining custard. Chill until set—probably overnight. Serve with Raspberry Sauce: To 1 pint fresh raspberries add 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon cornstarch. Cook, stirring, over low heat until reduced to sauce and a little thickened. Force through fine strainer. Serve very cold over sponge above OR over delicate Blanc Mange or Tapioca Cream.

What's Right?

You call your child to do something when he is playing with several children.

WRONG: Speak sharply, making your words an order.

RIGHT: Instead of embarrassing the child by ordering him around in front of his friends, make your voice pleasant as you request, rather than order, him to do what you want.

"Gone but not forgotten."
—Ever remembered by daughter Irene and son-in-law Wilf.

SNOWDEN—In loving memory of Alvin Snowden, who passed away on August 6, 1951.
God called him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still,
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.
—Ever remembered by his wife and daughter Audrey.

AFTER building approximately 100 N.H.A. Bungalows in the city in the last two years, we have decided to alter our design and plans. We have about 3 different plans, now available and under construction in various locations in the city. We are featuring a long brick bungalow 33' 10" x 26' 10" built on a lot 94 x 114 with the length running parallel with the street. They are all 5 rooms with 3 bedrooms and recreation room 12 x 28 with no interference. All our homes are brick and are built to N.H.A. specifications. Mortgages at 5 per cent. The end price set by N.H.A. runs from $9,500 to $9,650 with $1,900 down. Enquire today for choice of lot and early possession.

U.N. Command Begins Bombing Drive

By C. YATES McDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United Nations command has embarked on a systematic bombing campaign deliberately calculated to destroy the enemy's will to hold out against an armistice in Korea.

Military officials here placed this interpretation on Tokyo announcement that military targets in 78 North Korean centres have been selected for destruction, after civil-selected for destruction, after civilians have been warned that bombs are coming their way.

A precedent for telling enemy civilians that their cities were doomed was established in the final chapter of the Second World War against Japan.

NO HINT OF ATOM BOMBS

Disclosure of the scheduled effort to smash North Korea's will to continue resistance held no hint, however, of atomic bombings or the kind of mass-destruction raids that were launched against German and Japanese cities during the last war.

The U.N. command and more than 1,500,000 leaflets have told North Korean civilians that the allied air forces "must destroy all Communist military supplies and installations—and it knows where they are."

U.N. intelligence has known for a long time that Reds have been using cities and towns to house troops and supplies and for important headquarters and military communications centres. The allies hit some of these objectives earlier in the war but generally tried to avoid bombing population centres unless urgent military needs dictated otherwise.

The psychological angle is frankly calculated to wear down the will of civilians and their leaders and thus to weaken the enemy's war effort.

C.P. President Lauds McCullagh

TORONTO (CP)—Roy H. Thomson, publisher of the Thomson newspapers and president of The Canadian Press, said:

The untimely death of Mr. McCullagh is a great loss to Canada and particularly to the newspaper industry.

For more than 10 years his wise counsel as a director of The Canadian Press was a strength in difficult situations. He was a most loyal members of the association and often showed his co-operation by placing his facilities at the disposal of the smaller dailies.

His forthrightness made him a great inspiration to newspaper men. He never hesitated to take a positive stand on any issue and to fight for his conception of the public interest.

His progressive attitude to newspaper developments helped him build two of Canada's best dailies. I know all Canadian newspaper men sincerely regret his passing at such a comparatively early age.

Shower Of Rocks Rains On Farm Roof

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—For seven successive nights, limestone rocks about the size of a fist have rained down from somewhere onto the roof of Lewis Sheattin's farmhouse.

The Sheattin farm, five miles north of Evansville, is on level ground, and stands in the open. Neigbors and curiosity seekers have stood guard at the house and in surrounding fields, yet the rock-fall continues from a still unknown source.

The shower of rocks continued for more than three hours Tuesday night.

Interpreters Working On Wording Of Treaty

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—United Nations interpreters checked over English, Chinese and Korean texts of the Korean armistice draft today to make sure they all say the same thing.

Communist interpreters are making the same study. Wording on the draft in the three languages has been agreed on by staff officers of both sides.

Full delegations, still deadlocked on the number of prisoners to be exchanged in the event of a truce, will meet Monday, ending a week-long recess.

14 Red Leaders Convicted In California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fourteen California Communist leaders were convicted yesterday on a federal indictment charging that they conspired to teach and advocate overthrowing the government by force and violence.

They are in jail pending a hearing today on a defence motion urging U.S. Judge William C. Mathes to reverse the unanimous verdict of the jury of eight women and four men.

The jurors had the case under deliberation since last Thursday. Their verdict against each defendant was unanimous.

The trial, longest in a Los Angeles federal court, lasted six months, compared with nine months required to try and convict 11 top Communists in New York city in 1949. The charges are virtually identical, the maximum penalties being five years in prison, $10,000 fine, or both.

Thirteen of the California defendants have been at liberty under $5,000 and $10,000 bail. The 14th, Mrs. Oleta O'Connor Yates, 43, San Francisco, northern California party secretary, was jailed June 26 by Judge Mathes for contempt of court for refusing to answer questions about other persons suspected of being Communists. Mrs. Yates also faces sentencing on 14 counts of contempt.

Hearing Postponed Until September 15

WASHINGTON (CP)—The U.S. Federal Power Commission today postponed until Sept. 15 hearing of proposals to export natural gas for use in Toronto and eastern Ontario markets.

Tennessee Gas Transmission Co., Tex., and Niagara Gas Transmission Ltd., Toronto, are jointly seeking authority to export about 24,000,000,000 cubic feet of gas yearly from the United States to Canada.

A hearing had been scheduled for today.

Free Market In Wool To Bring Stability

PIETERMARITZBURG, South Africa (Reuters)—Agriculture Minister S.P. Le Roux, opening the congress of the Woolgrowers' Association, said last night that he welcomes a free market in wool because it means greater stability.

Prices are lower, he said, but phenomenally-high prices would give a fillip to the production of artificial wool substitutes which could become a danger to the industry.

Le Roux added that the big wool-producing countries had prepared a plan to keep the industry stable, but at the last minute had been let down by Australia. Without Australia such a plan was impossible.

Given 8 Years In Pen For Brutal Attack

TORONTO (CP)—Henry Dwan, 26, today was sentenced to eight years in penitentiary for attacking James Bell, 55, whose windpipe was almost severed by a knife.

"The offence of which you have been convicted," Magistrate C.A. Thoburn said in passing sentence, "was a most brutal, wanton and even sadistic act."

The magistrate said Dwan had been drinking but was not intoxicated.

Priest Dies On Way To Hospital

HAILEYBURY (CP)— The Rev. Leonard Arseneault, chaplain of St. Mary's Academy here, died in an airplane at 6:30 p.m. yesterday, while being flown from Misericordia hospital to Queen Victoria hospital, Montreal, for treatment by specialists.

The 40-year-old priest died, after lying in a coma for more than 68 hours, following a car accident Friday in which he received injuries to his head.

His body is being returned to Haileybury, and funeral services will be held at 10 a.m. Friday.

Fr. Arseneault was injured when his car, travelling north on Highway 11, plunged off the road one mile south of Temagami, striking a parked car and then rolling over several times through rock-studded bush.

Born in Prince Edward Island, he moved to Latuque, Que., at an early age. He studied at St. Paul's seminary, Ottawa, and was ordained there February 17, 1940.

Prior to coming to Haileybury in 1950, he had served for several years at Our Lady of Assumption church, Kirkland Lake, and before that as curate at Malartic, Quebec, at Notre Dame du Lourdes church, Timmins, and at Iroquois Falls.

He is survived by his two brothers, Rev. Bernard Arseneault, a member of the Oblate Fathers, attached to a mission in the Yukon, and Raymond Arseneault of Latuque, and by his sister, Rev. Sister Ste. Cecile d'Italie, of Amos, Que.

Arraign Bank Teller On Charge Of Theft

MONTREAL (CP)—Roger Chasse, a bank employee, was arraigned yesterday on a charge of theft of $3,251 from the Montreal City and District Savings Bank where he was a teller.

He pleaded innocent to stealing funds between Sept. 11, 1950 and June 5, 1951, and preliminary inquiry was set for next month.

Bridge Collapses

MILTON (CP)—Truck Driver W. A. McDonald of Woodstock felt a bridge quivering under him yesterday as he crossed Twelve Mile Creek. He jammed his accelerator to the floor. The truck leaped forward and the bridge collapsed into the creek with McDonald's rear wheels hanging over the brink. The impact broke the rear axle and springs of the truck.

Hospital Supt. Saved Board Money

WINDSOR (CP)—The application of East Windsor hospital superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan's $6,000 annual expense allowance probably saved the hospital 10 times that amount annually, a provincial government commission was told yesterday.

R. J. Moore, city budget director and a member of the hospital's financial advisory committee, told the commission which is investigating the hospital's affairs, that Dr. Morgan saved the hospital that amount "by politics and pull."

"A lot of good business can be done over a bottle of good whisky," he said.

He agreed with a suggestion by Norman Mathews, counsel for Dr. Morgan, that lobbying by superintendent was responsible for a $1.10 per diem increase in the provincial government grant for hospital patients. From 1947 to 1951 the grant rose from 40 cents daily to $1.50.

Jail Soldier Three Years For Shooting

SEOUL, Korea (Reuters)—A Canadian soldier was sentenced today to three years in prison for shooting an elderly Korean woman after a drinking party.

A Canadian court martial convicted Pte. Clarence Leo Mowers, 24, of Sillery, Que., on a charge of manslaughter. The original charge of murder was dropped after the woman's husband and brother pleaded for clemency in the cause of world peace.

Mowers had been accused of killing Mrs. Ho Jin in the small village of Shin Shan last May.

Mowers pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder when his court martial opened July 30.

SECOND SOLDIER CHARGED

Another Canadian soldier, Pte. Kenneth Carleton of Saint John, N.B., is alleged to have been Mowers' accomplice and is to be tried on a similar charge later.

Witnesses testified that two soldiers entered a house in the village May 18 and killed the woman. One Korean woman said the two men were drunk and one fired shots into the floor of her house.

ASK CLEMENCY

Lee Ho Jin, husband of the slain woman, made an ernest plea for clemency on behalf of Mowers.

"A mistake is the mother of success," he said. "Every man is entitled to make one mistake. This boy made his."

"My wife and I were very old," Lee, a refugee from North Korea, told the president of the court, Col. J.S. Ross of Edmonton.

"Take this young soldier, give him a better education so he may continue the fight for peace."

Lee Dong Ha, brother of the victim, also asked for a light sentence. "Anyone can commit a crime when drinking," he told the court.

Character witnesses for Mowers included Maj. John Leach of Winnipeg and Kingston, Ont., formerly Mowers' company commander in the 1st battalion, Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry.

The defence officer was Maj. G. Johnson of Ottawa.

Gold Mine Bombed In North Korea

TOKYO (Reuters)—United States Superfort bombers last night blasted a Communist gold mine and ore-processing plant in North Korea, hitting "the primary source of Communist gold used in purchasing war materials," headquarters said.

The gold mine is located near Hoechang in north central Korea. The air force did not reveal how many B-29s took part in the raid.

Golf Pros Plan Annual Tourney

COBOURG (ENS)—The golf pros will hold their annual tourney next Sunday at Cobourg golf club. This annual event always draws a large gallery of spectators and keen competition among the various golf pros usually produces excellent scores. The list is not complete yet but among the players, including some non-professionals, are Bob Grey of Scarboro, Les Franks of Toronto, Lex Robson of Kawartha six times winner of the Miller trophy; George Murray of CBC, Toronto; Wes McKnight of CFRB, Toronto and Cobourg's own golf pro, Lionel Ross.

Flying Saucer Fleet Reported On Radar

WASHINGTON (AP)—The heaviest concentration of unidentified objects yet observed in the ski here — a veritable fleet of "flying saucers" — moved across radar screens early today.

A spokesman at Andrews air force base said the blips were observed late last night, and that early today they were still moving slowly and steadily across the screens.

Planes were directed to intercept the objects, but reported they were unable to see anything.

Radar operators said the objects were moving at about 60 miles an hour from west to east.

C.C.F. National Covention Opens Expect Juniors' Questions Raised

TORONTO (CP)—The three-day national C.C.F. convention opened here today amid indications that some of the questions raised during the Co-operative Commonwealth Youth Movement conference will be discussed anew.

The 11th national convention of the junior C.C.F. group ended a three-day meeting yesterday in which delegates called for a national health insurance scheme.

Failing this, a resolution asked for a study by provincial governments of preventive medicine programs, a firmer approach towards the exploitation of Canadian resources by the United States and abolition of the Senate.

C.C.Y.M. RESOLUTIONS

Delegates to the C.C.Y.M. condemned the use of atomic weapons and jellied gasoline bombs in a resolution that was not unanimous.

The convention dealt with three other resolutions.

One concerned Tunisia and referred to the "most recent case of French colonial interest which denied the legitimate national aspirations of the people there."

Another expressed fear at Spain's application for admission to U.N.E.S.C.O. It called on Canadians to protest the possible admittance and to rouse public opinion against it.

The third, tabled indefinitely, asked the national C.C.F. to examine obstacles in way of world peace and to ask the federal government what sacrifices Canada is willing to make for the establishment of world peace.

The idea, delegates said, was that the Communists should not have the sole prerogative in making peace proposals.

Barbara Hutton Leaves Studio, Own Boss Now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Look out, show business, here comes Hutton and O'Curran, Unlimited.

Betty Hutton is free of her Paramount contract for the first time in 12 years, and she's busting out with plans for her future.

"Yep, I'm washed up with Paramount after 12 years," she said. "Man, I never felt better in my life. . .

"The one thing I insisted on was that Charlie (O'Curran, dance director and her husband) gets his release, too. We've got great plans for our own company; everything we do will be done together. Gosh, he's terrific! He did a great job on my Palace act for New York, and he'll direct all my pictures. We're a package deal."

LONDON BOUND

"Have we got plans! We're going to spend two months late this summer in England, where I'll play the Palladium. Then we'll return to make the life of Sophie Tucker. I own the story, and Columbia and Warners are knocking themselves out to have us do it for them. We'll retain 50 per cent of the profits, of course.

"Then there's television. I'm getting into it right away, and Charlie will direct my films. They'll be half hour shows and will go on once every four or eight weeks or something like that.

"And whenever we don't have something to do, I'll go out and play four weeks of personals. Oh, we'll be busy, all right."

Betty said her split with Paramount was the result of a long scripts.

Reviewing her long stay at Paramount, she cited her best films as "Perils of Pauline," "Incendiary Blonde," "Miracle of Morgan's Creek," "Stork Club," and "Greatest Show on Earth." Her worst stinkers she recalled, were "Dream Girl," "Cross My Heart" and "Red, Hot and Blue."

She also hinted as to why she has been considered temperamental at times.

"I get along great with someone who knows what he's doing," she said. "For instance, Demille and I had no trouble, because we respected each other's talents. But when I'm working with jerks with no talent, I raise hell until I get what I want. After all, it's my career."

In the extreme left background is Hon. Richard G. Casey, Australian Minister of External Affairs and in the extreme right, foreground, is T. Clifton Webb, New Zealand's Minister of External Affairs. The top diplomatic representatives of the three nations are anxious to establish a solid defence perimeter against any further aggression in the Pacific.

Ontario Leads Provincial Cricket Match

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario cricketers continued to lead the interprovincial matches today after racking up their third victory Tuesday against one tie in four games.

Ontario team collected 124 runs against Manitoba's 117 at St. Catharines yesterday with a brilliant batting display. At London, British Columbia dropped Alberta by seven wickets with 55 for two wickets while Alberta had a total of 54 all out.

The B.C. win moved them into second place behind Ontario with their other two games ending in ties. Manitoba holds down third position with a win and two losses while Alberta has split two games and Quebec has managed but a single tie.

Today, Manitoba squared off against British Columbia at St. Catharines while Alberta met Quebec at London.

Standings to date:

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pts.
Ontario	3	0	1	7
BritishColumbia	1	0	2	4
Manitoba	1	2	0	2
Alberta	1	2	0	2
Quebec	0	1	1	1

175 Chosen For Seattle Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 1,000 were called but just 175 lucky ones were chosen today to make the trek to Seattle for the national amateur golf championship Aug. 18-23.

And if there is going to be a dark horse in the field of 200 at tee-off time—there were 25 exemptions—he will be 35-year-old Charles Makaiwa, the champion of Hawaii, who showed them all how it was done by firing an eight-under-par 68-66—134 in Honolulu yesterday.

So the members of the America's cup teams of the United States, Canada and Mexico, all of whom were exempt from qualifying, will have something to look forward to when they meet Makaiwa.

Canada's team includes Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener, Ontario amateur and open champion.

The second day of the Ontario Rifle Association's annual shoot at the Long Branch ranges yesterday brought two Canadian victories in a tie-shoot and one match and a sweeping British victory in another

Sgt. F. Wakerell of Ottawa scored 47 out of a possible 50 in the Gibson rapid-fire match. Competitors had to fire 10 rounds in 45 seconds.

CQMS. J. A. Draper of South Porcupine, Ont., won in the tie-shoot for the Bankers match honors, and the association's silver medal with five bulls for 25 points.

In the Gibson match scores of 46 were posted by Capt. J. G. Kirk, Listowel and CQMS. J. A. Draper.

AMATEUR GOLF OPENS

Four former champions were in the field that started out today on the Cataraqui golf course at Kingston for the Ontario amateur golf championship.

Harold Banks, manager of the Ontario Golf Association, said 103 players entered.

Two former winners were missing: Phil Farley of Toronto, a six-times titleholder who couldn't get away from his business, and Jack Nash of London, a three-times winner who was forced to withdraw because of illness.

However, defending champion Jerry Kesselring of Kitchener is in the field. He's won the crown twice, as has Nick Weslock of Windsor.

SEEKS MAXIM-TURPIN BOUT

Boxing promoter Jack Solomons said at London yesterday he is flying to the United States this week determined to sign up world light-heavyweight champion Joey Maxim for a title fight with Britain's Randy Turpin.

Solomons claims he has an understanding with Maxim's manager, Jack Kearns, for staging the bout in London in September, though the contracts have not yet been signed.

LOUIS IN PICTURES

Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis will play the part of Joe Louis in some scenes of a motion picture version of his own life story. Louis said at New York yesterday that he will play himself in many of the ring scenes, including re-recreations of some of his famous fights. A professional actor, still to be selected, will play the Louis role in other scenes.

Chatham Seeks Hockey Entry

STRATFORD (CP) — Chatham Maroons have applied for entry into the Big Six Senior A League of the Ontario Hockey Association.

The application, along with entry fee, was filed by Jack Stewart, former defence star with Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks, who recently took over management of the Chatham club, with D. M. Pinkney, group convener.

If accepted at an executive meeting here Aug. 10, the league probably would become the Big Seven.

Pinkney said teams expected to return to the league this season are: Kitchener Dutchmen, Hamilton Tigers, Brantford Redmen, Owen Sound Mercurys, Sarnia Sailors and Stratford Indians.

Yorks Cool Off Hamilton 10-8

Toronto West Yorks and St. Catharines Athletics improved their rankings in the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior A race last night

Stu Scott scored five goals to pace the Yorks to a 10-8 victory over Hamilton Tigers at Toronto. The result moved the winners into a second-place tie in the league standings with Peterborough, four behind the leading Mimico Mountaineers.

At St. Catharines, the Athletics moved up into fifth place by thumping Fergus Thistles 19-10. Jim McMahon with four goals spearheaded the winners' attack and Bill Nelson tallied three. Bob Dobbie, Ron Landoni and Jack Mann got two each for Fergus.

English Line Boys Smother Burnbrae

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—The English Line softball team smothered Burnbrae at the high school diamond here on Tuesday night by the score of 23 to 8.

English Line held their opponents scoreless until the third inning, during which time they had piled up a 10-run lead. Ken McMullen hit two homers while his team mate Walter Grills had one. Lyle Hay socked one home run for Burnbrae.

Report One Missing After Fire Destroys Hotel

HONEY HARBOR, Ont. (CP)—One guest was unaccounted for late yesterday after a $250,000 fire destroyed the 75-room Delawana Inn. About 100 guests, most of them from the United States, were driven from the 54-year-old frame hotel by the flames. Others were on fishing trips in the district and officials of the resort expressed hope the missing man, whose name was not revealed, might be amongst the anglers. The three-storey wooden hotel was one of the largest buildings in the Georgian Bay tourist district.

TOO LATE TO HELP

Fire departments from Waubaushene, 15 miles away, and Coldwater, 18 miles distant, answered calls for assistance but arrived only in time to see the last wall tumble into the flames.

The inn was owned by brothers, S. S. Grise and F. D. Grise. The luxurious structure was built in 1898 and remodelled periodically since then.

Barbara Black, a waitress, said the fire apparently started on the third floor and was "quite small" when first noticed. She and other waitresses joined a bucket brigade to pass water to men fighting the blaze.

Ottawa Extends Beef Support Another Month

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government yesterday extended its 25-cent-a-pound floor price for beef another month to Sept. 30. Agriculture Minister Gardiner said it will support the Canadian cattle industry as long as the United States market remains closed to it.

The current floor price—25 cents a pound, basis good steers at Toronto—was to have expired Sept. 1. But Mr. Gardiner announced that the cabinet decided to extend it "through September."

The government still was undecided whether to change the floor level in October when the flow of beef to market begins to reach annual peaks. Farmers, said Mr. Gardiner, will be advised before the end of September.

HAVEN'T CONSIDERED IT

At Washington U.S. agriculture secretary Charles Brannan said his department has "not taken under consideration" the question of lifting the embargo on the Canadian livestock. The embargo was imposed Feb. 25 following an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease in Saskatchewan.

Brannan indicated, however, that the embargo may be lifted in advance of the usual one-year rule, but the agriculture department first will be "very, very careful" to make sure there is no foot-and-mouth disease in Canada.

Passing Law Free Assassin

TEHRAN, Iran (CP)—The Iranian House of Representatives today passed a law "forgiving" the man who assassinated Prime Minister Ali Razmara.

Razmara fell with four bullets in his back in the courtyard of a mosque, March 7, 1951. He had campaigned against the growing movement then to oust the British from the Iranian oil industry.

The assassin, Khalil Tahmessebi, was arrested and has been in jail ever since.

Today's bill, which now goes before the Senate, would mean immediate release for him.

Reports Dastardly Deed Someone Stole His Kilt

BANGOR, Me. (AP)—A Canadian Scotsman was victim, while visiting Bangor, of what he calls "a dastardly deed"—somebody stole his kilt.

It's "strange and embarrassing but true," Maj. D.W.R. Dodge of a Canadian highland regiment wrote the Bangor Daily News from his new station at Aldershot, N.S.

Dodge said the kilt, of Cameron tartan, was in a valise taken from his parked car. The valise also contained a leather sporran—a purse worn at the waist—a highland military jacket and a blazer. All "are extremely difficult to procure today (and) are of great sentimental value," Dodge wrote.

US Navy Plane With 13 Missing On Patrol

MANILA (AP)—A U.S. Navy Mariner plane with 13 persons aboard was missing today on a patrol flight.

Headquarters of Rear Admiral Richard H. Cruzen, navy commander in the Philippines, said a wide search was launched for the plane late today but the hunt was halted temporarily by darkness.

Greek Troops Fire On Bulgarian Soldiers

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greek troops opened fire this morning on Bulgarian soldiers on the Greek-claimed border island of Gamma in the Evros river, the Greek general staff announced today.

A communique said the Greek fire—from machine-guns and mortars—was not returned.

The attack came after Bulgarian troops had been noticed on the island during last night, the announcement said.

Today's army announcement said the United Nations peace sub-committee was present when the Greeks attacked and that just prior to opening fire the Greeks warned the Bulgars by loudspeaker.

Fear Reds Trying New Overthrow

TOKYO (AP)—Japan's top crime investigator says there are signs that the Communist underground movement is seeking to overthrow the government.

Itaru Seki, director of the public security investigation agency of the attorney-general's office, said his agents have seized many Red documents calling for revolution in Japan.

"But," he added in an interview, "it is very difficult to get evidence that is good in court."

He gave no hint of plans for immediate action under Japan's new anti-subversive law—except watchful waiting by his 2,000 "public security agents."

DIDN'T DISCLOSE DETAILS

Seki, who did not disclose any details of the evidence uncovered, said his major concern is 55,000 former registered Communists who no longer admit they belong to the party. The nucleus of an active Red underground came from this group.

The anti-subversive act was bitterly opposed by Japanese labor groups on the ground it could be used to suppress the labor movement. Seki said some Japanese labor unions are leftist, but none could be called Communist.

War Whoops Welcome Red Cross Delegates

TORONTO (CP)—War whoops and feathered headdresses of Six Nations Indians last night thrilled delegates to the International Red Cross Conference.

The Indians, from the reservation danced for the delegates at a rodeo and barbecue at suburban Woodbridge.

As a highlight of the evening, Chief Howard Skye presented a headdress to Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet, chairman of the conference's general commission, who was made an honorary Indian chief. The indians performed welcome and unity dances in his honor.

Duke Of Windsor Has Stomach Trouble

VIAREGGIO, Italy (Reuters)—The Duke of Windsor is suffering from stomach trouble. The Duchess said today he is suffering from pains and loss of appetite.

The Duke and Duchess arrived at this coast resort last night from the island of Elba on a cruise in their yacht Amazon.

Husband, Child Vanish From Station

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Joseph A. Normandeau, 38, returned to Union station here again today in the hope of finding some trace of her husband and 13-year-old daughter who disappeared from there two weeks ago.

The family arrived at the station July 23 on a train from Bigwood, about 60 miles south of Sudbury.

"Joseph went uptown to visit the National Employment Service office and Shirley asked to go along to buy some comic books," Mrs. Normandeau said. "That was the last I saw of either of them."

A construction engineer, Normandeau had worked on projects in many parts of Canada, French West Africa and the Yukon.

Mrs. Normandeau later picked up the family luggage at a station check room.

"We've had our ups and downs but we've never been parted before," she said.

Order Recount In Burrard

VANCOUVER (CP)—A recount from British Columbia's June 12 election will be held "forthwith" in Vancouver-Burrard riding. The recount was requested by the C.C.F. party which hopes, in this manner, to take a one-member edge in the Legislature over B.C.'s new Social Credit government. A ruling granting the C.C.F.'s court-hopping application was made in supreme court yesterday by Mr. Justice J. V. Clyne. C.C.F. candidate Grant McNeil lost by 246 votes in Vancouver-Burrard to Social Credit's Bert Price. A C.C.F. victory there would reverse the present Social Credit-C.C.F. standing in the 48-seat Legislature, 19 Social Credit to 18 C.C.F.

But most political observers say a C.C.F. victory would not noticeably change the over-all political picture in B.C.

They say that while the lineup then would be 19 C.C.F.s 18 Social Credit, the Socreds could count on the support of the seven Liberals and three Progressive Conservatives in any private enterprise-versus-socialism duel.

In an oral judgment, Mr. Justice Clyne ruled that County Court Judge J. A. McGeer erred in refusing a count because of a tech-

Pacific Pact Membership To Be Limited At Present

HONOLULU (AP)—Foreign ministers of the United States, Australia and New Zealand today launched the first formal peacetime system of military co-operation among the three countries. However, they adopted a "go-slow" policy on bringing other non-Communist Pacific countries into the security organization. That would be premature, said a communique issued after they adjourned their three-day conference last night. But they promised that other countries will be consulted closely through regular diplomatic channels.

The foreign minister of one interested country not present, Joaquin Elizalde of the Philippines, said in Manila that his country and Japan may join the Anzus powers soon in a five-power con-

Cruiser Rams Boat, 1 Dead

DETROIT (CP)—A 29-year-old Detroit mother of two was drowned last night and seven other persons were rescued without injury when their 30-foot cabin cruiser was rammed across the bow by a speedboat in Lake St. Clair.

The seven, including the victim's two young children, were rescued by fishing boats as the cruiser grounded on a sandbar a quarter miles off shore.

Dead is Mrs. Virginia Ward. Her body, wearing a life jacket, was found floating near the scene of the wreck. She was apparently knocked unconscious by the crash impact and was later drowned.

Benjamin Hoopengarner, 39, driver of the speedboat, was jailed on drunken driving charges.

10 Overcome Fighting Fire

HAMILTON (CP)—Ten firemen were overcome yesterday by chlorine fumes while fighting a fire at the Clewood products plant.

Heat from the flames caused the gas to seep from tanks stored for shipment to an army camp near London. Chlorine gas was used as a weapon during the first world war. Hospital authorities said the overcome men were treated with oxygen during the night.

As firemen staggered from the burning building and collapsed they were taken to hospital in police and press cars. The tanks holding the gas were finally removed from the building and the gas released while water was sprayed over the tanks.

Cause of the fire was not determined and there was no estimate of damage.

Oshawa Workers Back At GM Plant Aug. 12

OSHAWA (CP)—Most of the some 7,000 factory employees of the General Motors of Canada, limited, plant here will be back on the job by 1 p.m., Aug. 12, it was announced today.

Passenger car department employees will return to work Monday morning when the annual, two-week vacation shutdown ends. Employees of the packing department will probably be called in on Aug. 14.

Several hundred employees were laid off prior to the vacation shut down due to a shortage of supplies caused by the United States steel strike.

Gromyko Rides In Big Coach For Presentation To Queen

LONDON (AP)—Top-hatted Andrei Gromyko, Russia's new ambassador to Britain, rode in a gilded coach to Buckingham Palace today and presented his credentials to the Queen.

There was nothing proletarian about the show. It was conducted in an atmosphere of cast-iron dignity that even an unruly horse could not disturb.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden introduced Gromyko to the Queen. The Russian envoy spent 20 minutes at the palace. He was accompanied by seven senior embassy officials and Maj.-Gen. Guy Salisbury-Jones, marshal of Britain's diplomatic corps.

Going and coming, Gromyko was his usual unsmiling self. If he felt self-conscious riding in a coach that looked like something out of Cinderella, he did not show it.

In keeping with protocol, the palace sent three landaus—massive high coaches of crimson, black and gold—to the Soviet Embassy to pick up Gromyko and his party.

At Hyde Park corner, a busy intersection, one of the big bay horses reared. Then it kicked the driver's box, bouncing the scarlet-cloaked driver about.

A police sergeant and one of the liveried coachmen finally made adjustments to the harness and got the big bay quieted down.

A crowd gathered outside Buckingham Palace and quietly watched Gromyko enter and depart.

Gromyko was received with shouts of "go home" when he arrived in London July 28. He replaced Georgi N. Zarubin, who has been appointed Soviet ambassador to the United States.

Fourth Drowning In County During Summer

Left to play by herself for a few minutes, two-and-a-half-year-old Diane Maddock of Oshawa drowned Wednesday night in Pigeon Lake w. n she toppled off the end of a raft into six feet of water. The fatal accident occurred a mile east of Nogies Creek and 20 miles northwest of Peterborough. Her body was recovered at 1 a.m. today, six hours after she drowned and an hour after Peterborough Provin l Police began dragging. is the fourth drowning in Peterborough county this summer and the eighth in the Kawartha-Haliburton district.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw said today that the drowning was accidental and there will be no inquest.

Diane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Maddock of 509 Louisa St., Oshawa, were away fishing with another couple when their daughter drowned. Diane and her 13-months-old baby brother had been left in charge of a baby-sitter—12-year-old Shirley Maddock of Oshawa, an aunt of the two children.

TRAGIC ENDING

The death was the tragic ending to a five-day vacation that the Maddock family were enjoying on Pigeon Lake. They have been staying at a summer cottage owned by Bob Tiplady of Toledo, Ohio.

With them were Mr. Maddock's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William John Jordan of 510 Sterling Ave., Oshawa.

Tearfully, 12-year-old Shirley later told her story:

The baby was sleeping inside the cottage while the children's parents and the two Jordans went out fishing on the lake. Diane was

Couldn't See Daughter Man Kills 2, Wounds 2

NEW YORK (AP)—A man wielding a five-inch dagger slashed up a husband and wife yesterday when they refused to produce their daughter at his command, then killed two neighbors who tried to block his escape.

The man, identified as Ralph Martinez, 30, pounded on the door of the Bronx home of John and Georgiana Rosada about 4:30 a.m. and demanded that they produce their daughter, Gloria, 19.

When they tried to slam the door in his face, he slashed them with a knife and fled.

Harrison Bailey, 53, a Grand Central station porter and father of 10 children, and Ambus Love, 53, father of six, tried to stop the man and were knifed to death.

Firemen Smash Glass In Stranded Train

LONDON (Reuters) — Firemen smashed windows to let air in to 600 passengers in a London subway train stranded underground early today by floods which cut electric power.

For four hours passengers joked and sang until a steam locomotive was shunted alongside to rescue them. There was no panic.

A Peek At The Future

German, Jap Competition Big Threat To UK Industry

LONDON (CP)—Growth of German and Japanese competition, coupled with the danger that increased wages in British industry may price exports out of the overseas markets, are underscored in a report recently released by the treasury.

In 1948 exports from West Germany and Japan were only 13 per cent of Britain's total volume, but by 1951 they had risen to 67 per cent. In the same period the share of world exports enjoyed by the two former enemy countries increased from two per cent to six per cent, while Britain's dropped from 12 per cent to nine per cent.

"To keep our share from falling further," says the report, "we must keep our prices competitive. The danger of the year is that wage increases will so force up our prices that they will be competitive no longer."

This possibility, implying further drastic cuts in imports, the report adds, is even a greater menace to industrial activity, employment and standards of living than the threat of a fall in consumer demand.

The treasury bulletin says exports to other sterling countries are beginning to be affected by restrictions found necessary to put their own economies on a sound basis.

"This loss of sterling markets," it declares, "must be made up and more by expansion elsewhere."

Although United Kingdom exports to all dollar countries during the first five months of 1952 were six per cent below last year's average, the report states that April saw an important improvement in exports to Canada and the United States.

"These successes in non-sterling and particularly in dollar markets are encouraging," it says, "but they are small in relation to the problem that still remains."

Plane Explodes On Carrier, 8 Men Killed

WASHINGTON (AP)—An explosion of a jet plane aboard the United States carrier Boxer in Korean waters killed eight men and injured an unannounced number of others, the navy reported today.

Twelve jet planes were destroyed by raging fires that followed the explosion. Helicopters and lifeboats picked up 63 crew members driven overboard by the flames.

A naval officer said the 27,000-ton carrier, which normally carries a crew of 2,900 officers and men, suffered the tragedy about 50 miles off the coast of Korea Tuesday night.

No enemy action was involved.

The officer said he did not know how many men were injured. He said damage to the ship was comparatively slight.

Just what caused the jet plane to explode was not known, officials said. It is believed that an accumulation of gasses built up after a landing, and caused the blast.

Investigate Case Of Two Sailors

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese foreign Office is investigating the case of two British sailors sentenced to 30 months' imprisonment for theft of a taxicab and about $4.

A spokesman said "it is too early to comment" on the British government's protest that Japanese courts have no jurisdiction over United Nations troops. Shigenori Shima, Foreign Office special assistant on European affairs left for Kobe last night to discuss the case with legal authorities.

Kyodo news agency quoted foreign office sources as predicting that the government will reject Britain's demand to hand over the two seamen from the cruiser Belfast. Kyodo said Justice Ministry officials and the Foreign Office agree that the seamen—Derek Smith and Peter Stinner—were not on official duty when they took a Japanese taxi and 11700 yen on June 29.

Furthermore, Kyodo said, the agreement covering occupation forces had expired and a new United Nations agreement had not been written.

Finds Library Books Very Badly Damaged

OTTAWA (CP)—An American expert looked over the melancholy scene of the parliamentary library fire today and reported it offers one of the toughest jobs of restoration he has yet tackled. Thousands of books are starting to mildew, bringing new dangers of ruin.

Alvin Kremer, Keeper of the Collection of the library of Congress in Washington, went to work this morning and told Canadian librarians the ravages of last Monday's fire are just about as bad as any he has seen from the standpoint of the man who wants to restore damaged books.

The main damage was done by tons of water that poured down from the burning library dome for hours.

Brooklin Man Killed Two Others Injured

NORTHBROOK (CP)—Stanley Irvine, Brooklin, was killed and two companions, John Schell and Allan Nancekivell, also of Brooklin, were injured in an accident five miles south of here last night.

Police believe the car in which they were riding left the highway, travelled 150 feet in the ditch and then struck a large boulder.

Northbrook is 40 miles northeast of Belleville.

Bilateral Pact Expected For Japan-Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada likely will try to work out a bilateral trade agreement with Japan as a half-way measure in dealing with persistent Japanese demands for lower tariff rates. But it is questionable if Canada will show any great enthusiasm for Japan's admittance to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

Her application comes up for discussion at the next G.A.T.T. meeting in Geneva Oct. 2. If Japan is admitted, she will immediately fall heir to all the most-favored-nation treatment tariff reductions negotiated among the 34 member countries. Most-favored-nation tariffs are lower than the general tariffs which Canada now applies against Japanese goods.

The Canadian-Japanese trade agreement, if it is worked out, likely would include some tariff reductions but they would not be as extensive as those obtainable under G.A.T.T.

PACT COMPROMISE

The trade pact would be a compromise and allow the Canadian government to ease out of a ticklish position in which she is facing fire from two sides: demands by Japan for better tariff treatment and strong opposition by Canadian manufacturers against reducing tariffs to Japanese exporters.

Normally, Canada might have ignored these Japanese demands. But she can no longer ignore the trend of international trade in which Japan is Canada's fourth largest world market.

BIG CUSTOMER

Canada's exports to Japan climbed last year to $73,000,000, triple the $20,500,000 in 1950 and more than 12 times the $5,800,000 in 1949.

On the other hand, Canada's purchases have remained low. Imports last year totalled about $12,500,000, just about what they were in 1950, giving Canada a favorable trade surplus of $60,000,000.

In her efforts to recapture her prewar industrial position, Japan has become a big customer for such diversified products as Canadian wheat and aluminum. In return she wants a chance to sell bigger supplies of her goods in Canada.

But Canadian manufacturers recall how, in the past, cheap Japanese goods flooded the Canadian market at rock-bottom prices, knocking out Canadian competition.

Family Of Five Die In Flames

MELFORT, Sask. (CP)—A 31-year-old farm woman and her five children were burned to death Tuesday when fire of unknown origin destroyed their farm home.

The victims were Mrs. Walter Spry, David, six months, Ernest, 7, Gerald, 6, John, 2, and Irene, 4.

The father, Walter Spry, 54, was in Melfort, 100 miles northeast of Saskatoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Grant, neighbors, who came to investigate after they noticed smoke, arrived just as the roof collapsed and were unable to attempt to rescue the trapped family.

Reorganize Defence Plants In Cleanup

CAIRO (Reuters)—Gen. Mohammed Naguib, leader of last month's coup, moved yesterday to reorganize the Egyptian army, the war ministry and defence factories.

The budget of the ministry of war and marine will be separated from the state budget and the ministry reorganized by military and legal experts to avoid government "red tape," said a spokesman for the general.

Armament factories will be set up in Egypt, he said, to give Egyptian troops the most modern weapons and equipment.

Egypt formerly obtained arms from Britain under the Anglo-Egyptian treaty of 1936 but Britain in October, 1951, revoked all licences to export arms to Egypt when this treaty broke down.

The government has been purchasing arms from Sweden and certain police equipment from the United States.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3 29-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today, EDT, Wednesday's noon-rate was 96 1-32 cents. The pound sterling was $2.68½ against $2.68¼ Wednesday.

S.C. Party Gets 45 Seats, 11 Undecided

EDMONTON (CP)—A few seats are still in doubt, but a thumping majority in Tuesday's election has left the Social Credit party in as firm control of Alberta's government as ever.

With 11 seats still undecided, the Social Crediters, led by 43-year-old Premier E.C. Manning, have gained 45 seats of the 61-seat legislature. They are leading in six more.

REACH 15TH COUNT

In Edmonton, with four of its seven seats still undecided, weary election workers reached their 15th count of ballots under the proportional representation system, and 12 of the original 29 candidates had been eliminated.

The Progressive-Conservatives, after a 17-year absence from the Alberta Legislature, re-entered the scene with the election of Paul Brecken in Calgary on the 22nd count.

Premier Manning's cabinet got through almost intact, with the exception of Attorney-General Lucien Maynard, who was running in the St. Albert riding north of Edmonton

START SECOND COUNT

A second count in St. Albert will be started today. Second counts also are necessary in Redwater, Willingdon, Vegreville, and probably in Leduc. Winners were reported in the latter two constituencies on election night. Other rural ridings still to be decided are Grouard, Lac La Biche, Lac Ste. Anne and Spirit River.

The social crediters fared well in Calgary, which almost traditionally votes Conservative in federal contests. There the Manning forces won four of the six seats, with the others going to a Liberal and to Mr. Brecken.

Prices Drift Lower On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP)—Prices drifted generally lower in slow early afternoon trading with only industrials holding firm.

Trading was sluggish and confined to a narrow list of selected stocks in industrials and golds. Base metal and western oil trading broadened. Volume for the first three hours totalled 985,000 shares.

Base metal losses outnumbered gains almost three to one but some leading issues drew good support. Quebec Labrador and Silver Miller gained pennies, each on a turnover of more than 35,000 shares.

Most industrial sections were mixed but manufacturing and miscellaneous issues slipped. Liquors banks, foods, and agricultures were firm.

Junior golds showed strength but holding companies were weak. Senior golds were mixed but some prospects drew speculative support Hoyle and Partanen gained pennies.

Leading issues in western oils showed gains but were outnumbered by a scattered list of losses. Anglo-Canadian, Husky, Sapphire and Home Oil drew support but Gridoil, Trans-Era, Punch and Albermont dipped.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials up .75 at 330.02, golds down .13 at 93.33, base metals down .80 at 198.41 and western oils down .05 at 140.33.

nical error in the original C.C.F. application.

The original application incorrectly designated the riding as Burrard" instead of "Vancouver-Burrard."

HAD NO JURISDICTION

The C.C.F. then took their application to the Court of Appeals in Victoria but the court ruled it had no jurisdiction under the elections act to hear the case.

A short adjournment was called in yesterday's court case when it was learned a writ declaring Social Credit elected already had been forwarded to Victoria.

In his judgment, Mr. Justice Clyne questioned the authority of the returning officer to do so while the case was still before the courts. The writ will be held in abeyance until after the recount.

Rhee Swept Back In Office By Overwhelming Majority

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Aging President Syngman Rhee was swept back into office by an overwhelming majority in nearly-complete unofficial returns from the republic of Korea's first direct election of chief executives.

Rhee's choice for vice-president —Ham Tai Yung, an obscure Presbyterian minister—piled up a commanding lead over eight opponents in late returns from Tuesday's election.

Rhee, 77, puttered in his Seoul garden as the vote count assured his return to office for four years. He declined to make a statement or pose for photographs.

INAUGURATION AUG. 15

The inauguration is set for Aug. 15—fourth anniversary of the republic.

Returns from 161 of 163 counting places gave Rhee 4,939,299 votes to 762,772 for Cho Bong Am, vice-chairman of the national assembly and former Communist leader; 748,945 for Lee Shi Yung, former vice-president, and 241,489 for Hugh Cynn, former ambassador to Japan.

Returns from 140 counting places gave Ham 2,158,529 votes. His closest opponents were Lee Bum Suk with 1,454,024 and Chough Pyung Ok with 505,255.

Official returns are to be announced Aug. 13.

Until Rhee forced constitutional changes in June, the president was elected by the one-house national assembly.

playing around the cottage with a sandpail.

Shirley thought it was about bedtime for her young niece, so she called out and asked Diane to come inside. Diane said she wanted to play a while longer so Shirley waited five minutes and again went outside to call the little girl.

GETS NO ANSWER

This time there was no answer.

Alarmed, Shirley kept calling her name and two United States men from the next cottage—Joe Hite and Robert Tiplady, both from Ohio—came over to see what was wrong.

They found Diane's sandpail floating on the water but no sign of her. The two men put on their bathing suits and began to dive but the water was too deep and muddy for them to be successful.

A call was made to the provincial police from Lone Maple Lodge, a short distance away.

O.P.P. Corporal Fred Rawlings and Tom Fitzpatrick dragged for an hour and located the girl's body at 1 a.m. It was in six feet of water and only six feet from shore, near the end of a wooden raft that was tied to the shore and used as a floating dock.

NO EYEWITNESSES

There were no eyewitnesses to the drowning, but it is believed that in the few minutes she left alone Diane walked out onto the raft (possibly to scoop up some water in her sandpail) and she lost her balance and fell into the lake.

The body was taken to the Nisbett funeral home, Bobcaygeon, and later today it will be taken to the Luke-McIntosh funeral home, Oshawa. There the funeral service will be held Saturday afternoon. Burial will be in Union cemetery, Oshawa.

Sheep and lambs 600; market not established; quotations nominally steady; choice to prime ewe and wether lambs 30.00-30.50; good to choice lambs 29.50-30.00; medium to good 28.00. Good to choice slaughter ewes 8.00-12.00; culls and canners 3.00-6.00.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO (CP)—Churning cream and butter print prices here today were unchanged.

The egg market opened sluggish. The following quotations are for eggs packed in fibre cases.

Graded eggs cases free, delivered Toronto: Grade A large 51; a medium 46; A small 42; grade B 35; grade C 27.

Wholesale to retail; prices quoted for loose eggs with crated eggs selling three cents higher: Grade A large 55-56; A medium 50-51; A small 46; grade B 39-40; grade C 35.

Butter solids: First grade 58 tenderable and 57¼-57½ non tenderable; no price established on second grade; western 58.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO (CP)—Prices were steady today on the plain quality cattle supply at the Ontario stockyards. Receipts: cattle 170; calves 50; hogs 250; sheep and lambs nil. The leftover from Wednesday was 500 cattle.

Common to medium steers sold at $20-$24 with a few choice weight steers bringing $26.75-$28. Medium to good heifers sold from $24-$26 while common sold downward to $13. Medium to good cows sold mostly $14-$15 with canners as low as $10. Fed yearlings were selling $24-$27.50 according to quality. Common to medium stockers sold from $19-$24 while a few good stockers brought $25-$25.50

Good to choice veal calves were selling at $25-$27 with common to medium at $15-$24.

Hogs were $26 for grade A with sows $16 dressed.

No sheep or lamb sales.

Want Know Source Of Election Funds

TORONTO (CP)—The C.C.F. national convention today decided to press for disclosure of the sources of all election campaign donations in excess of $500. Part of a long resolution on "political democracy" which outlined a program of electoral reform, the original resolution called for disclosure of donations in excess of $100.

The limit was raised following argument by several delegates that many people contribute to C.C.F. funds in the $100 to $500 range, who, for various reasons, do not wish their contributions made public.

Supporters of the resolution declared they were after the big contributors, the "big corporations," and individuals who donate in the $50,000 and $100,000 bracket.

The resolution also advocated:

Establishment of maximum allowances for election expenses; elimination of the $200 candidate's deposit and its replacement by a requirement that at least 100 electors must sign the candidate's nomination papers; statement of each candidate's party affiliation on the ballot and establishment of an independently-constituted redistribution commission.

ASK FRANCHISE EXTENSION

It asked extension of the voting franchise to those 18 years and over, North American Indians and Doukhobors, government servants and their wives serving abroad, qualified voters in hospitals, convalescent homes and other institutions and those away from home on election day, for whatever reason.

The federal government's agricultural policy was criticized yesterday as the convention adopted a long series of resolutions concerning agriculture.

"Failure of the government to implement an adequate price program for marketing of agricultural products has resulted in grave instability and insecurity," said one resolution adopted in the day and night sessions. "Forward prices" on farm products, to assure the farmer of stable prices for his products were advocated, and steps were urged to seek markets abroad.

It was urged that wheat sold by the Canadian wheat board on the domestic market "be not tied" to the international wheat agreement, but be based on a parity price with things the farmer has to buy. Various resolutions urged:

OTHER SUGGESTIONS

A federal livestock marketing board; addition of producer-membership to the Canadian wheat board; maintenance of the quota system of grain marketing; maintenance of the "car order book" for the 1952 and subsequent crop years in accordance with rights under the Canada grain act.

Another resolution called for "adequate compensation to farmers whose cattle may be destroyed as part of the government's program." It also asked for "price support and price control to prevent profiteering by processors, and the use of meat surpluses as part of economic aid to the United Kingdom and other European countries."

An international wheat agreement with adequate prices, was favored, and continuation of the Canadian wheat board as the sole marketing agency for wheat.

Attention of the board of transport commissioners was called "to the congested conditions of grain elevators" with a request that "we do not want to experience a repetition of the bottleneck of last fall."

WANT PRICES INVESTIGATED

A parliamentary-committee inquiry was asked "into every aspect of the price of farm machinery."

A resolution, presented by the Ontario provincial council, would have urged "all possible steps to insure that the proposed pipeline to carry natural gas east from Alberta will not cross the United States border." This resolution, however, was referred to the national council for further study and research.

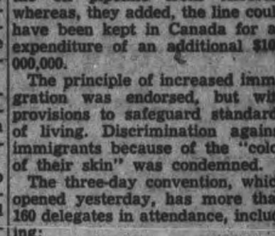
Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said natural gas resources are for the Canadian people, but he doubted whether delegates had at present sufficient technical knowledge to say a pipeline should not cross the American border.

He said he was not in a position to argue the merits of the matter, but serious questions had been raised as to the feasibility of an all-Canadian route to the east. It had been suggested that it might be better to make an exchange arrangement under which Eastern Canada would be supplied with gas from the United States, while western Canadian gas went to western states.

LOST BIG INDUSTRY

Some Ontario delegates, however stated that an industry worth many millions of dollars is being built up at Superior, Wisconsin, as a result of its being the terminal for the oil pipeline from Alberta; whereas, they added, the line could have been kept in Canada for an expenditure of an additional $10,000,000.

The principle of increased immigration was endorsed, but with provisions to safeguard standards of living. Discrimination against immigrants because of the "color of their skin" was condemned.



The three-day convention, which opened yesterday, has more than 160 delegates in attendance, including:

From British Columbia 14; Alberta 3; Saskatchewan 38; Manitoba 6; Ontario 40; Quebec 3; New Brunswick 3 Nova Scotia 6 Prince Edward Island 1. Other delegates are from trade unions, the national council, and associated bodies.

First resolutions to come up yesterday advocated a "vigorous initiative" by Canada in favor of freer trade at the forthcoming commonwealth conference; and expansion of Canadian production of iron and steel "through a publicly-owned iron and steel industry."

Fraternal greetings included a message from the Socialist Democratic party of Germany.

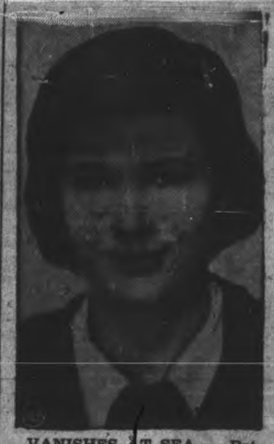
Ask U.S. Expert Help Restore Ottawa Library



OTTAWA (CP) — An internationally known expert has been called to Ottawa to help in the rehabilitation of Canada's parliamentary library, where books were badly damaged by water during a stubborn fire Monday.

Scheduled to arrive by plane Wednesday from Washington was Alvin W. Kremer, Keeper of the Collection of the Library of Congress at Washington.

His services were requested by Acting Prime Minister Howe after a cabinet meeting at which the problem created by the library fire was discussed.

Mr. Kremer, who achieved notable success in restoration of books after a disastrous fire at Lansing, Mich., may be here only a few days, a library official said, "to advise us whether what we are doing is the best thing."

Meanwhile, moisture in the 75-year-old circular library building was warping the carved panelling. There are still no estimates of damage, but approximately 500,000 books are believed to have been affected by the water firemen poured into the building during a 12-hour fight, and by a sprinkler system triggered by the blaze in the library dome.

VANISHES AT SEA — Patricia Ann Partridge, 18, vanished at sea while she and her family were en route to New York from England aboard the liner Veendam. She had reportedly been despondent because she failed an art school exam. The family had planned to live at Short Hills, N.J.

Mobile Dentists

WEYBURN, Sask. (CP)—Canada's first mobile fluoride unit designed to reduce tooth decay among children has been operating in the Weyburn district. Two dental hygienists with the unit apply sodium fluoride to children's teeth.

New England Gets Rain Too Late To Save Crops

CHICAGO (AP)—Drought-cracking rains splashed down today on New England and parts of the southern United States too late to save nearly $1,000,000 worth of table crops still surviving in these burned-out crops and pastures.

But the moisture was a life-saver for corn, tobacco, cotton and vegedrought-singed areas, and gave promise of reviving some pastures by fall.

The drought, one of the worst in years to overall U. S. food production, already is having these effects:

Some sharp increases in produce prices, scattered set-backs to rural trade, cuts in milk supplies in southern Missouri, a decline in farm labor employment in the stricken area and some "scare" buying in canned fruits and vegetables.

Unless the rainfall pattern returns to normal, some government spokesman predicted that sales of farm implements will be hurt and that a water-power shortage will develop in New Hampshire and in oil-producing Oklahoma.

As the rains came, the federal government raised to 10 the number of entire states listed as disaster areas. It added North Carolina and the remainder of Arkansas to the list. Other states are South Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Massachusetts, Maine and 44 Missouri counties. Oklahoma and Texas have been carried over from the 1951 drought.

Agricultural spokesmen said the drought was broken in southern New England and in parts of the south. Arkansas had general rain but the weather bureau said it was not enough to break the drought there.

Still Plenty Of Room

Canada's increasing potentialities are at last beginning to be realized with a sense of pride by Canadians themselves. A growing feeling of confidence in the great destiny of this country is gradually replacing the old diffident attitude of the "poor cousin" of the United States. The opposition to immigration on the grounds that it deprives Canadian-born citizens of jobs, though by no means extinct, is much less vocal. It is becoming more and more generally recognized that immigration on the whole creates more jobs than it takes. A greater population means a greater internal market, which means less dependence on foreign trade and its fluctuations: from a military standpoint it means that we are more capable of defending our vast boundaries. Nor must it be forgotten that a large proportion of the most distinguished figures in Canadian history is composed of men born outside her borders. Even to this day many of the leading lights in industry, politics, the professions and arts were immigrants.

* * *

During the first six months of this year 98,057 immigrants landed in this country, a little more than the post-war record of last year. Of these Ontario received the lion's share, some 52,472, somewhat more than the population of Peterborough. There has been a sharp increase in the number of immigrants from the United Kingdom which is particularly gratifying. We do not subscribe to the theory that English, Scotch, Welsh and Irish automatically make the most desirable Canadian citizens, though naturally the process of adjustment is easier in the absence of linguistic difficulties and the existence of a common heritage transplanted and adapted to North American conditions. Nevertheless the rate of immigration from the British Isles has been disappointingly low, and we are gratified that it is picking up. There is still room for Italians, Austrians, Netherlanders and others who have their own contribution to make.

* * *

The government is moving cautiously, possibly too cautiously. New regulations have come into effect which will curb immigration in the winter months when opportunities for employment are at their lowest. It is not generally realized that it is none too easy to become an immigrant. The prospective immigrant and his family must pass a fairly stiff medical test, which includes X-ray photography. If one member of the family fails the whole family is barred. In addition the immigrant is interviewed for his suitability. The new regulations will have the effect of limiting non-Commonwealth immigration to certain narrow classes and to relatives of persons already here.

* * *

There are also difficulties from the other side. The chief of these is the stringent currency regulations imposed by almost every European country. The immigrant, regardless of his financial standing in the country of origin, arrives practically penniless, and the first year in Canada is crucial. These countries are desperately short of dollar funds, and it is unlikely that there will be any relaxation in the near future. If restrictions were relaxed the rush of applications would be much greater. European countries are already showing concern over the loss of some of their best minds and hands by emigration, and it would be unrealistic to suppose that they would be too eager to increase the drain on some of their best human resources. They feel, too, that countries such as Canada by their policy of careful selection of immigrants are taking the wheat and leaving the chaff.

* * *

There is still one disquieting feature in the situation. What Canada gains from Europe she is also losing to a certain extent. Some 25,000 Canadians are lost annually to the U.S., and it is certain that these are amongst our most talented and enterprising citizens. There is a small backwash of immigrant Americans and returning Canadians, but they are only about a quarter of what we lose.

* * *

Yes, we have plenty of room. It is better to fill it now with people of our own choice than have it forcibly filled for us at some future date. We cannot ignore the bold truth that nature abhors a vacuum.

George McCullagh

Much could be said about the late George McCullagh. Much has. He was the sort of man who not only attracted comment but also fired it, kind or venemous, praising or minatory. He was a swashbuckling egotist with powerful capacities, intense ambition, and fearful force. He burnt the candle at both ends; it did not last, but it gave a brilliant light. His death at the age of forty-seven snuffed out one of the most vivid luminaries ever to spark the newspaper publishing business.

As buyer of the Toronto Globe and the Mail and Empire, as publisher of the Globe and Mail and latterly of the Telegram, Mr. McCullagh gave a heady impetus to the Canadian newspaper world. His reputation as publisher rests chiefly with the Globe in which he transformed two rather tired Toronto morning papers into an organ whose excellence and detachment in its news columns and news coverage are unrivalled in its Canadian field. When Mr. McCullagh created the Globe and Mail, Canadian newspapers were in the slough of the Depression. His boldness, enterprise and confidence were a tonic to newspapers and newspapermen everywhere in the land.

Whatever their varied and strong prejudices about George McCullagh, people who knew or had dealings with him admitted and admired this quality: he was a man of his word. His dealings, sharp, shrewd, magnanimous or grandiloquent, were above-board. He was faithful to his commitments, honest to the spoken word as well as the letter of his transaction.

George McCullagh was a big Canadian. His career proves that Canadian democracy is not flat, insipid, and powerless to raise a man above the plain, even today.

"Police Order". Who Says So?

By putting false information on a sign, referring spuriously to authority, and setting the sign in front of their doorways, some Peterborough people expect to reserve street space for their cars as if they were renting it—without paying rent, of course. The wry thing about the situation is that these artful people are getting away with it; they are bamboozling the public and, it would seem, the Police Commission. We refer to "No Parking" signs in front of private or commercial establishments, set there apparently at the behest of the proprietors and bearing the slogan "Police Order."

Let it be clearly understood that the police have no power to order anybody to do or refrain from doing anything unless it is set down in law. The police are the instrument of the law, not its maker. There is a legal reason for prohibiting parking directly in front of the doors of public buildings used by crowds—like hotels and movie houses and churches; this is to prevent congestion in case of fire. There is no general law and no city bylaw prohibiting public parking along the whole face of a hotel, in front of a commercial establishment like a garage, or beside a doctor's office. The police have no authority to "order" No Parking Between Signs at such places.

If the people attempting to appropriate the street for their own private use in this way do so without the knowledge of the police, why do the police not remove the signs erected in their name? If the police have sanctioned the signs, why does the Police Commission not discipline its officers and order them to take the signs away? If the Police Commission is itself condoning the signs, it is time that the City Council stepped in and demanded that the police do what is required of them by law and not try to make their own laws.

When a sign says: "By Order of the Police," and it is not a police order, citizens are hoodwinked. When they find out the deception and disregard the sign, the entire police authority is mocked. As a matter of plain fact, the police have no power to order anything; their authority comes from the law established by the citizens through their elected representatives. In the case of legitimate No Parking signs in front of establishments (and few of the existing ones have any legal weight at all), there should be a legend quoting the statute or bylaw authorizing the prohibition; thus: "No Parking. Peterborough Bylaw No. XXX". Then the public would know where it stood—or parked. The surreptitious and privately pretentious way these matters are now being arranged usurps public rights—in the name of the police.

NOTES AND COMMENT

The Winnipeg Free Press is disturbed because Mount Everest is moving up—from 29,002 feet (1841 trignometrical finding) to 29,610 feet, as figured by the Swiss climbing party this year; and it is still moving higher. The Free Press worried lest pimples rise on its beloved prairies?

In the Quebec elections on the Island of Montreal only four of the fifteen C.C.F. candidates poled more than a thousand votes, and six polled less than five hundred. Which means that C.C.F. translated into French, doesn't sound at all good.

PARIS LETTER:

The Druggist Was Hopeful

By DENNIS BLOODWORTH

ONE BY ONE the iron shutters are folding on Paris windows and clattering down over shopfronts, as August succeeds July and the great holiday exodus from the capital begins. Thousands of Parisians have already slammed their front doors behind them with finality and told their concierges not to forward any bills.

✧ ✧ ✧

THIS YEAR the average Frenchman shakes the dust of the city from his shoes, and heads for the sea or the gentle rolling countryside with, rightly or wrongly, a quieter mind than he had last year or the year before.

"I don't believe in pipe-dreams" my local druggist told me as he lovingly placed a fishing-rod case in the back of his diminutive Renault car, "But it is nice to find that some of these straws we have been clutching at show a remarkable tendency to keep afloat."

✧ ✧ ✧

I gave him that look of disbelief which is the newspaperman's only substitute for a Soviet truth drug, and he duly ticked off the straws on his fingers.

"M. (Antoine) Pinay (the French Prime Minister) has brought us the steadiest Government since the war and renewed our belief in the survival of a moderate and democratic regime here; the new State loan and the campaign against the rising cost of living, even if not unqualified successes, have contributed much towards our economic stability; the Schuman Plan (for pooling European coal and steel resources) is—almost unbelievably—actually going to be executed; the Gaullist opposition has received a shattering blow in the defection of a whole block of its parliamentary Deputies. "As for the Communists, they have passed ten nightmare weeks which have included the arrest of Jacques Duclos, their Secretary-General, the damaging publication of his diary, police action against Party conspirators and raids on Communist headquarters, the waning in strength of Communist trade unions, the disappearance of several Communist publications, and, above all, the apathy with which the masses of the Party have reacted to its calls for action against Government policy."

✧ ✧ ✧

HE PAUSED to draw breath. "But what about the war in Indochina, the lack of American 'off-shore' credits? What about . . ?" I began.

"We can discuss the other side of the coin" he interrupted quickly, "when this rod of mine is one month and fifty fish older." And I was left to stand and wonder where I would buy my alka-seltzer during the next four weeks.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE HAD FORGOTTEN, the little druggist that as he headed out of Paris for the clean swift waters of the River Allier he was running into the thick of one of the grimmest struggles in which French agriculture has ever been engaged. He will remember it when he first leaves the road to walk towards a river and his gaze is met by a scene now all too familiar in eighty out of ninety French departments—a field containing a few lethargic and sick-looking cows blocked by a hastily-painted sign: "Fievre Aphteuse"—Foot and Mouth Disease.

✧ ✧ ✧

ORIGINATING, it is believed, in Denmark and traversing Germany, foot and mouth disease has attacked French herds this year with a fury that has not been experienced within living memory. Millions of beasts have been infected and tens of thousands have died. In some provinces every single farming community has been touched by it, and in the Allier region alone more than two hundred thousand cattle, pigs and sheep lie diseased and apathetic under the torment of the teeming horse-flies. In Charolais the fields are speckled white with the inert bodies of the dying and dead. Throughout the country, farmers are facing ruin, and the death of animals has led in many instances to the death by suicide of their owners. Infected herds are not slaughtered, as in England, and the French have hitherto relied on inoculation to stem the tide of any epidemic. The onslaught this year, however, has caught the veterinary services pitifully short of vaccine and trained personnel to use it. Furthermore, the prevention is itself costly in cattle, for a healthy beast has to be sacrificed to obtain every thirty or forty grams of virus.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE SITUATION has been rendered all the more dramatic by a discovery which may ultimately banish the disease altogether. After five years of research, Professors Thomas and Thierry of the French Academy of Sciences have found a method whereby up to thirty lb. of the curative virus can be extracted from one animal instead of a mere thirty grams. A large factory has been rapidly built near Tours to produce this vaccine on an industrial scale, and once it is in full operation it will, I understand, be possible to immunize all the cattle in the country rapidly and economically. But the factory was only opened a few days ago, and while there is no fear that its ultimate output will be "too little," the eyes of all Frenchmen are turned anxiously towards it in case it proves to be "too late."

✧ ✧ ✧

HERE IN PARIS, however, the tragedy of the provinces, reduced from broad acres to the size of twenty-four point headlines, loses much of its impact and the holiday atmosphere still prevails. The tourists flood in and the local inhabitants stream out as if in accordance with a well-ordered traffic plan. A minor "silly season" is in full swing, and current subjects for discussion include the man who had his nose pinched by a lobster in a smart Paris restaurant, the hotel thief who was so shocked when arrested that he completely lost his power of speech the disputed plan for installing a carillon in the Eiffel Tower, and the "Ken-Tooki" expedition.

✧ ✧ ✧

NEATLY NAMED in honour of the famous "Kon-Tiki" voyage and of the State of blue grass, mint julep and the Kentucky Derby, the "Ken-Tooki" raft, thirty feet by fourteen feet of pinewood, buoyed by six petrol drums filled with ping-pong balls, was ceremoniously launched into the Paris waters of the River Seine a few days ago and christened with the traditional bottle of champagne.

In a few days' time its adventurous builders and crew will start on a long voyage through the waterways of France which will bring them out into the Mediterranean at Marseilles. Once at sea, they will let their course be decided by the currents. Captained by Richard Miller, an American student, the crew consists of a second American, a Spaniard, two young Britons and a twenty-year-old English nurse, Muriel Grand. Five men on a raft (not to mention the girl)—this is indeed more than was dreamed of in Jerome K. Jerome's philosophy.

You Haven't Been The Same Since The Convention

Letters To The Editor

PROPOSES COMMUNITY CENTRE PETITION

Sir: To the citizens who are saying I was either bought off or got cold feet in discontinuing my endeavours to get the Peterborough Community Centre built I will say that either assertion is far from the truth.

When I presented my grievances to His Honour Judge J. A. McGibbon I was surprised to be shown the Private Bill passed on request of our City Council by the Legislature of the Province of Ontario and a by-law governing same.

His Honour did not see his way clear to recommend to the Government Trustees, that they advise the Attorney General to hold an investigation. I did not think the Provincial Bill No. 158 as amended was an advantage over the original bill as it gives a citizen the privilege of placing his complaints with a County Judge who if he thought it advisable, to deliver them to the Trustees.

I think the amendment may be alright in so much that a citizen has the privilege as aforesaid, but it leaves the matter to be disposed of in the hands of one man, the County Judge.

On account of the stumbling block the Private Bill and By-law, I believe the only redress we have is to present a strongly signed petition direct to the Attorney General.

The Private Bill and By-law cost us money in the drafting and presentation of which as far as I can see has had the advantage of being so worded that it leaves only one way of getting action and that is by a petition.

I will start this petition and if the citizens show proper interest in signing same I will give them the opportunity to do so.

Are there any citizens who would care to take a copy and get signatures?

I will present a copy to The Examiner and if they wish to publish same they may do so. The citizens would know how it is worded when presented to them in factories or elsewhere.

Yours truly,
MAURICE E. KETCHESON.

GOUGING, IF CONTROLS LIFTED?

Sir: I don't know why any doubts exist in the minds of our council as to what would happen if rent controls were lifted. The vast majority of landlords would "gouge" the tenant to the limit. Just look at what happened when business rent controls were lifted! Stores that were renting for from $75 to $200 or $300 per month are now from $350 to $800! The individual businessman has been forced out of good locations and is slowly being forced out of business, in many cases, because on out-of-the-way streets they are at a disadvantage. Only large companies can afford to pay the rents being charged. With the present scarcity of houses in Peterborough, an empty house would go to the highest bidder, and in order to get a roof over his head a man will bid very high, even though he can't afford it.

There is a general impression here that once a house becomes vacant it is free from control. This is not so, as we have found out. Since last August, when a house becomes vacant the landlord is required to apply to the Rentals Appraiser to have the rent fixed. Anyone paying an exorbitant rent only needs to write to the Ontario Rentals Administration, 21 Lombard St., Toronto, stating the amount of rent paid, landlord's name, etc., and the landlord will be notified to apply to have the rent fixed.

Believe me, if you are being "gouged" it's worth while. Our rent was lowered by $25.00 recently. There's an example of what would happen if controls were lifted before there are enough houses. People would be just working for the landlord.

Last winter my husband was working short days and two thirds of two weeks' pay had to go for rent. I can assure you that with a fairly large family to support we had a tough row to hoe. Besides that, there was coal, lights, insurance, etc. With the high cost of food and clothing I'll leave the rest to your imagination. I just hope and pray that we don't have to undergo another such winter, but if rent controls are lifted it will happen again, because the high rent is what caused it.

I am sure there are many tenants in the same situation. I urge them to write to the council, also to the Rentals Board to have the rent fixed. The landlord cannot have you "put out" in retribution, because he would have to live in the house himself then, and that's more than some of them would want to do. Anything is alright for a tenant at high rent though!

Before closing, let me say that there are many landlords who are kind, understanding and conscientious and who get along well with their tenants. However, these are in the great minority I am afraid. So, Council-men, please think twice on this subject.

A free booklet on Rent Control Regulations in Ontario is sent to anyone on request by applying to the above address.

Yours sincerely,
"TENANT".

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing . . .

Charity suffereth long, and is kind, charity envieth not; charity vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil . . .

Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away . . .

And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity. (I Cor. 13: 1, 2, 4, 5, 8, 13.)

Disease Of Our Times

(Brantford Expositor)

Although heart disease is not feared as greatly as is cancer, it remains as the No. 1 killer of the day. And, like cancer, its incidence seems to be increasing.

During a recent session of the British and Irish Medical Associations, Dr. Richard Schilling of Manchester, England, said that heart disease was "the disease of our times." He urged continued research into "that most fatal of conditions" on a national, Commonwealth or world scale.

Research into heart ailments is proceeding and within the past few decades encouraging strides have been made in the development of treatments. While few outright cures have been effected in the more serious manifestations of the disease, special diets, drugs and even surgical operations have prolonged the lives of many victims.

In most cases, people with sick hearts can lead a happy, successful and highly satisfying life if they follow the instructions of their physician. But if some means could be devised to cure some of the most common forms of the disease, deaths from heart disease would be greatly reduced.

No Cattle at Saskatchewan Fair

(Saskatoon Star-Phoenix)

The records which were broken at the Saskatoon Exhibition last week are indicative of a number of things. In the first place, the large numbers in attendance and the money spent on attractions at the fair are a sure indication that Saskatchewan farmers still have money in their pockets. The city alone could not support the fair at the level it reached this year, though we have no doubt that local prosperity is also reflected in the final figures.

The broken records are an indication that this was a good show. Except for the absence of cattle, hog and sheep classes, the entries were above average in quality and interest. The industrial displays were excellent and the machinery exhibits were really superior. But the real heart of the fair, as far as attracting attendance goes, are the entertainment features and the sports events, including racing. These are the money makers and their further development can be used to improve the quality of the educational and instructive features of the exhibition.

Canadian, New York Papers To Co-ordinate In Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—The signing of an international agreement among Canadian and New York newspapers and radio stations in the Niagara area to co-ordinate activities in event of enemy attack was announced yesterday.

Lieut. Gen. C. R. Heubner, New York state director of civil defence, said the agreement, first of its kind, went into effect July 31.

It provides that the radio and newspaper plants and staffs will automatically become parts of the civil defence organizations in time of attack.

The agreement states that the first and chief duty of the participating newspapers and radios will be to alleviate fear and panic and to disseminate news and vital statistics from official civil defence installations.

WILL CO-OPERATE

Facilities and personnel of "any surviving newspaper will be placed at the disposal of newspapers that have been destroyed in an attack."

Newspapers participating in the agreement are the Niagara Falls, N.Y., Gazette, the Lockport Union Sun and Journal, the Evening News of the Tonawandas, North Tonawanda, and the Niagara Falls, Ont. Review. The radio stations are WHLD and WHLD-FM, Niagara Falls, N.Y., WUSJ and WUSJ-FM, Lockport, and WJJL, Niagara Falls N.Y.

"This Niagara agreement represents probably the most unusual move ever made by combined press and radio installations, on an international basis, to help their reading and listening public in time of enemy attack, and to aid in dispelling panic," Heubner commented.

The plan, developed by M. Bradley Norton, Niagara Falls, N.Y., civil defence director, will be tried out during Niagara Falls international test exercises Aug. 22 and 23.

Jail Cattle Rustlers

HAGEN, Germany (Reuters)—Twenty cattle rustlers were sent to prison by a German court yesterday for stealing 109 head of cattle, worth 87,000 marks (about $20,000) during the last two years. Wilhelm Woyack, 51, the ringleader, was sentenced to 10 years at hard labor. Heinrich Braekelmenn, 54, was sentenced to seven years and 41-year-old Friedrich Menne to 7½ years. The others got between four months and 5½ years.

Promotion For Cassels

LONDON (Reuters)—Maj.-Gen. A. J. H. Cassels, commander of the Commonwealth division in Korea since its formation a year ago, will return to England soon for promotion, the war office announced last night. He will take over in December as commander of first corps in England with the temporary rank of Lieutenant-General.

Says Democratic Socialism Alternative To Communism

TORONTO (CP)—Democratic socialism presents the only alternative "to the extremes of Communism and monopoly capitalism," Percy E. Wright, M.P. for Melfort, Sask., declared in presenting his "national chairman's report" to the biennial national convention of the C.C.F.

"The basic principles of humanity first, production for use and distribution according to need," he said, "are still as basic to our movement as in 1932. We may legitimately differ on the methods to be used to accomplish these ends at any given time, but our objective must and will remain the same."

Urging delegates to prepare now for the next federal election, Mr. Wright said:

RAPS GOVERNMENT

"The present Liberal government has failed to maintain our agricultural markets abroad or to stem the increasing costs of production.

"They have failed to implement the floor-price legislation, passed in 1944, and have allowed it to operate in the interests of the packers, rather than in the interest of the producers.

"They have failed in their housing program. They have failed to prevent combines in restraint of trade and the records of thefts and graft in the Department of National Defence has been such that most Canadians believe it is time for a change.

"In external affairs, the government has been content to follow rather than to give necessary leadership. They have been so intent on preserving a neutral position in the western world that one wonders if they have a policy of their own. Canadians, I am sure, would like to see Canada doing more by way of economic assistance to needy countries and in establishing better and freer-trading relations with all countries."

Speedboat Kills Man

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—R.C.M.P. reported last night they have charged Francois Peter Dennis, 38, with murdering a man by ramming him with a speedboat. Dennis is charged in the death of a fellow member of the Pinchi Creek band of Indians, 54-year-old William Austin.

Officers said Austin's death Saturday in Stuart Lake was witnessed by his wife and two children.

Petes Move to First Place in C.O.B.L. Edge Belleville 3-2

BELLEVILLE (Special)—Lanky Phil Clancy lowered the boom on the Belleville Redmen Wednesday night with five innings of masterful relief pitching as the Peterborough Petes took a 3-2 decision at the Belleville fair grounds. This moved the Petes into first place in the Central Ontario Baseball League with their eighth win in 15 games. The loss was Belleville's ninth in 17 starts and dropped them past Kingston into third place in the three-team loop.

Clancy came on in the fifth frame with runners on second and third and no one out, and the score 3-2 for the Petes, and proceeded to strike out Tony Pettitt and Vern Goyer, before retiring Dick Fitzpatrick, second to first, to end Belleville's last real threat.

From there on Clancy gave up only two hits while walking none, and striking out seven. Sam Mulholland's seventh inning single off Clancy's glove was wiped out when third baseman Joe Stewart hauled in Tony Pettitt's pop fly on a hit and run play and then trotted on to first to catch Mulholland in an unassisted double play.

Bob Bunton, went all the way on the hill for the Redmen and turned in a magnificent job in limiting the Petes to five hits. He struck out five and walked two. Errors, however, paved the way for his defeat.

The Redmen opened the scoring in the first frame, with Mulholland, and beating out an infield hit with one out. He stole second and scored standing up on Pettitt's single to left field.

The Redmen counted their second tally in the third with pitcher Bob Bunton leading off with a walk. He took second on Gilmour's weak pop behind the mound that was fielded by Garvey in time to nail Gilmour at first. Bunton came to third on a wild pitch, and scored after Mulholland's fly to centre field.

The relay to the plate to nail Bunton was bobbled by catcher Menzies. Bunton missed the plate but managed to scramble Menzies to the dish on his second try.

The Petes garnered all their runs in the fifth frame when they put together three of their five hits and two of the Redmen's three errors.

Young opened the inning with a weak grounder to short that turned into a two-base error as Fitzpatrick's throw sailed over first. Padgett singled to score Young and took second on the throw to the plate.

Whitehill singled to centre to move Padgett to third. Lowery flied to left to score Padgett, but Whitehill stayed at first. Edger grounded to third forcing Whitehill at second but went on to second himself when the second baseman threw wide in an attempt for a double play.

Garvey then delivered the winning run from second with a Texas league double into left field. Menzies ended the rally by grounding out third-to-first.

The Petes did not threaten in any other innings. They failed to get a man past second in any frame but the fateful fifth as Bunton mowed them down with precision.

Mulholland, with three singles in four trips, led the losers at the plate, while Padgett had two for four for the winners.

Davis Cup Draw For Opponents In Final Round

By MAX McMAHON

MONTREAL (CP)—The draw for opponents in the final round of the North American zone Davis Cup tennis tie takes place today. Although the United States is favored to win, Clubhouse experts are not counting Canada out.

Possible starters are Vic Seixas and Herb Flam for the U.S., and Brendan Macken and Lorne Main for Canada.

Canada has met the United States in eight other Davis Cup rounds but has never won.

MAIN CANADIAN HOPE

Main is the only Canadian who has come up against any of the Americans, and it is on his performances that the experts are basing their hopes.

He has met, and defeated, Bob Perry, as recently as a couple of weeks ago when he took him in straight sets. Perry isn't thought a possible starter, but he might well play doubles Saturday.

Then too, the 21-year-old, three-time Davis Cupper has come up against Herb Flam, ranked No. 2 in the U.S., when the two played intercollegiate matches in the United States.

Main has never beaten the shifty Flam, but he has given him some close matches.

If Macken comes up against Flam, he may be a threat. Main is ranked No. 1 in Canada on the basis of past performance, but Brendan is definitely tops this year and can take Main.

SEIXAS STRONG

Seixas is another matter. He is considered well able to defeat either Macken or Main, but then he has had his off days, and has fallen before Flam.

Starters in singles Friday switch opponents Sunday, unless the round is already won, in which case junior team members are often given a chance.

Canada last year defeated Cuba and in turn bowed to the Americans. The United States went on to defeat Sweden, European zone finalists, but lost out 3-2 to Australia, Davis Cup champs.

West Pitches Four-Hitter Lindsay Blanks Petes 6-0

While Junior West was holding Shockey Mein's juniors to four scattered hits, Andy Widdis' Lindsay Merchants Wednesday night mixed nine hits with two costly Petes' errors to earn a 6-0 win in Riverside Park. This loss for the juniors ended a hot streak which saw them defeat every team in the Lakeshore intermediate league but the league-leading Bowmanville Roses. The week layoff, during which many players were away on holidays, seemed to have taken the sharpness off the Petes' play.

Three weeks ago the Mein-Al Menzies nine clipped the Merchants in Lindsay 3-2.

Lindsay were about 25 minutes late for the game which was called for 7 p.m. Plate umpire Bob Henry of Lindsay called the game for darkness in the fifth. Immediately a number of Petes' fans jostled Henry, claiming that it was still light enough for at least another inning.

Actually the game meant nothing to the Petes and everything to Lindsay. They will proceed into Ontario junior play later this month while Lindsay will be in playoffs for the right to represent the Lakeshore League in Ontario intermediate play. The Merchants are presently battling for third place.

West, using a side-arm delivery, kept the Petes' scoring chances down with his four-hit performance. At times he was quite wild but calmed when the chips were down.

West's first trouble was in the second when Petes' Foley reached first on an error by thirdbaseman Mark Donaghue. Foley went to second on Cupoli's sacrifice, then to third on a pass ball. But West then retired the side on strikeouts.

West cooled the second Petes' scoring threat in the fourth. Don Bigford hit to centre field, advanced to second on a stolen base. But West caught Bigford with a large lead-off throwing him out at second.

Leo Sullivan on the Petes' mound was shaky at times and didn't receive the steady fielding that West did. Several times when Sullivan was in trouble, the Petes' infield had chances to help him, but failed.

Green's fielder's choice for Lindsay started a two-run outburst in the second. Doug Loucks slammed a single through short, sending Green to second. Bob Lewis, next up, singled to centre, scoring Green. Then Mark Donaghue singled, again to centre, to score Loucks.

With one out in the fifth the Merchants worked a single by Jewell, a walk to Wickett and another fielder's choice by Green for three runs. Then with two out an error and a pass ball sent Lindsay's Lewis to third from where he scored easily on Donaghue's triple to centre.

Donaghue easily led the batting with two singles and the triple.

Lineups:

Lindsay—Copeland 1b, Heatley c, West p, Jewell lf, Wickett rf, Green 2b, Loucks ss, Lewis cf, Donaghue 3b.

Petes—Byrne 3b, Kearns 2b, Jensen cf, Bigford c, Foley rf, Cupoli 1b, Ferguson ss, Wilson lf, Sullivan p.

Umpires—Plate, Bob Henry of Lindsay; bases, Wimpy Borland of Peterborough.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By DON GRANT

The announcement made Wednesday by the Orfuns that they were negotiating with Al Dekdebrun as coach for this season probably jolted Big Four football fans in city and district.

Fans are wondering where the Orfuns will get money to pay the now-orfuned, but once Grey Cup hero. Balmy Beach and Brantford Redskins, senior O.R.F.U. didn't have the ready cash for the still big-money quarterback.

If Al comes to Peterborough, his salary will likely come from the same anonymous well which paid Frank Gnup his peanuts here last season. A good guess would be donors and fan support.

It's doubtful whether the big-time quarterback will come to Peterborough. But at any rate the Orfuns are after a top-notch American or Canadian coach, following the adoption of a new club policy.

Orfun President, Dr. Donald Aitken, said today that the Orfuns would rather spend "high money" for a good coach rather than bring in imports year after year.

"We'd like to build our football team by further developing the good stock from St. Peter's High and P.C.V.S.," he said, explaining that a good coach could take over where high school coaches stop.

"All high school graduates are more than welcome at practices which begin next Monday at the exhibition grounds."

Former Orillia Players Seeking Places

With Orillia now out of the eastern league, a number of the better players from there, have asked about playing arrangements with the Orfuns.

The Orfuns' efforts to secure a highly-rated coach has resulted in Dr. Aitken scouring Pennsylvania and New York states. With help from Frank Gnup, now coach at Brantford, the doctor has contacted professional and college gridders. But through various reasons, none the fault of the Orfuns, the club was unsuccessful.

Their first contact was Bill Werner who played with Gnup in the 3rd Air Force for three years, later with college teams for two years and finally graduating to the professional Los Angeles Rams. A broken back forced him to retire from activity. Since then he has been a prep-school coach in Philadelphia.

Just when he was to sign, Werner accepted a permanent position in Philadelphia as a coach, tying in with LaFayette College.

Another 3rd Air Force player with Gnup, Ray Piskor of Buffalo was contacted. Piskor, an accountant, had a colorful career with the professional New York Yankees, Buffalo Bills, Cleveland Browns and Chicago Rockets.

This pro was anxious to coach the Orfuns but didn't want to leave his permanent job, paying $75 a week, for a less permanent position here. He wanted a high-paying job, at least equivalent to his American position. These jobs are scarce in Peterborough.

Third contact was Jim Vugrin of Lansford, Pa. A former Notre Dame and University of Tennessee player and high school coach. Vugrin was called by the atomic energy commission. That ended abruptly.

Dan Kerrins, assistant coach at the University of Detroit last year, was practically on the train to Peterborough over the weekend. But an illness in the family required taking over his father's business.

Several Canadian coaches have been considered, but the Orfuns are dallying with Dekdebrun. Meanwhile they still have other irons in the fire.

Dr. Aitken said that practices will be conducted by hard-driving plunger Bill Huntley until a coach is secured.

Field Of 87 Tees Off In Tournament

By JACK PEACOCK

EDMONTON (CP)—A field of 87 teed off today in quest of the Canadian women's close golf championship, won last year by petite 18-year-old Marlene Stewart of Fonthill.

With the weatherman promising a scorching day, the 6,655-yard Edmonton Mayfair's par 79 is expected to be broken regularly.

The confident, capable champion broke par twice in practice with 78s, and the veterans couldn't come close. Ada McKenzie of Toronto, a mate of Miss Stewart on the Ontario team, and Mrs. Graeme Pyke of Montreal hit the 81 bracket and Babs Davie of Vancouver wasn't far behind.

MARY GAY IN 80s

The Ontario champion, Mary Gay of Kitchener, was in the low 80s and Alberta's young hopeful, Rae Milligan, 18, of Jasper, fired a number of low nine-hole scores.

Six teams have entered the interlocking inter-provincial team competition which covers 36 holes and winds up Friday. The close goes 54 holes over the tree-lined fair- and finishes Saturday.

British Columbia's team was not complete yesterday when Marjorie Todd of Victoria failed to appear, but she was expected today. Junior member Shirley Fry of Esquimalt will move up if Miss Todd does not arrive.

Joanne Goulet of Regina shot a 92 in a practice round yesterday but said she expected to improve her irons play today.

Joe Louis scored a one-round knockout over Kingfish Levinsky at Chicago 17 years ago today, his 24th consecutive victory since turning professional in 1934. The Brown Bomber ran his string to 35 consecutive victories before he defeated James J. Braddock to win the world heavyweight title in 1937.

Burtols Whitewash Ashbys Marines Oust Cobourg 10-4 To Meet Belleville Monday

Phil Mack's Burtols whitewashed Ashbys 12-0 Wednesday night to take a 2-0 lead in their best of seven series for the right to represent Peterborough in the provincial downs. In the other half of the girls doubleheader the Marines stamped out Cobourg from the city intermediate series, winning the third game 10-4.

The girls will not see action again until Monday night when Burtols meet Ashbys, Belleville and Marines start their city finals. Belleville previously ousted Lindsay.

D. McFadden pitched six-hit ball for Burtols while teammates were wacking out 17 hits off the offerings of Ashby's E. Brown.

Burtols were kept off the score sheet until the fourth inning when they collected five hits for four runs. That seemed to stimulate the girls and they pushed a single across in the fifth, two in the sixth, four in the eighth and a single in the ninth.

Meanwhile Ashbys threatened to break the goose-egg only three times. They worked runners to third base in the second, third and fourth, but just couldn't push the run across.

M. Batley's bat was booming regularly as she recorded a four for six to easily lead the batters. A. Anderson and Batley shared the fielding honors for Burtols. For Ashbys B. Partridge and B. Callan were fielding standouts, Callan connecting at the plate for a double.

From the first innings Marines let Cobourg know they were out for a win. Then Cobourg's S. Slater handed out two successive walks, only to have J. Hart slam a homer into left field to give the Marines a 3-0 lead.

Cobourg's bats began to connect in the second inning when Maybe homered with one aboard. The lakeshore lasses tied the score in the third on three hits, and went ahead in the fourth on B. Fisher's home run. But that was the end for Cobourg.

The Marines mixed three hits with two walks in the fifth and ran three runs across to again take the lead. They added two in the sixth, and singles in the seventh and eighth while holding Cobourg scoreless.

Marines' V. Paige led hitters with four for five while Cobourg's I. Davis hit three for five, one a triple. Besides Hart's homer, B. McMahon hit a triple for the Marines while besides Fisher's and Maybe's homers, Davis tripled for Cobourg.

Lineups:

Burtols—Dunk, 1b; Batley, lf; Morrow, ss; Hawthorne, 3b; Gillen, c; Anderson, cf; Jackson, 2b Rumble, rf; McFadden, p.

Ashbys—Partridge, ss; Callan, 2b; Boyce, lf; Simmonds, 3b; Wakeford, c; Merritt, rf; Anderson 1b; Thompson, cf Brown, p.

Cobourg—Fisher, 3b; Davis, lf; Reedy, c; Throop, 1b; Maybe, rf; McGuire, cf; Cockburn, 2b; Bulger, ss; Slater, p; Boyle.

Marines—Paige, 3b; McMahon, 1b; White, cf; Hart, c; Duncas, rf; McIlwain, ss; Dunk, 2b; Whitaker, p Weir, lf.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

There was a nice crowd out last evening for the mid-week tournament. It was an ideal night for bowling and the boys and girls seemed to enjoy themselves. All played three 8-end games.

One of the outstanding features of the tournament was the attendance of so many "Mr. and Mrs." combinations.

Tonight we continue with the schedule games.

Last night's winners:

First—Mrs. H. Helson and N. Killingbeck, sk.

Second—Mrs. L. Bearne and L. Bearne, sk.

Third—Mrs. Aitkenhead and A. Aitkenhead, sk.

Fourth—Mrs. C. Turnbull and C. Turnbull, sk.

Fifth—Miss E. Murphy and M. R. Martin, sk.

The winners of the "spider" contest were: S. Wildman and P. Bartley.

Peterborough Entries Down In Annual Ontario Amateur Tourney

KINGSTON (CP) — Thirty-two Ontario golfers took to the fairways at the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club in the third round of the 30th annual Ontario amateur golf championship.

By night fall only eight will be left. The 16 morning survivors meet in the fourth round in the afternoon to determine Friday morning's quarter-finalists.

Yesterday 103 would-be champions started out on the first round. With few upsets, the 32 remaining at the day's end were in the main those conceded title chances when the draw was made.

Gerry Kesselring of Kitchener, the defending champion, stood firm with a second-round 6 and 5 victory over G. E. Thomas of Toronto after drawing an opening round bye. Eight defaults in morning play allowed as many byes into the afternoon round.

Nick Weslock of Windsor, Bruce Bradley of Oshawa and Sonny Adams of Toronto successfully completed yesterday's play. They are all former titleholders.

TWO MINOR UPSETS

There were two minor upsets in the afternoon's play as Terry Malone of Toronto, the golfer who surprised everyone in the morning by eliminating Jerry Knechtel of Kitchener, turned back Bobby Fair of Toronto while Doug McKellar of Toronto knocked off Emerson Creed of London.

Keith Kirkpatrick, possibly the fourth man on Ontario's Willingdon Cup team, was another bystander at the finish of yesterday's rounds. Little-known Dick Latham of the host Cataraqui club sunk a putt from the edge of the 18th to nip Kirkpatrick two-up.

Six matches went extra holes. Joe Lamb of Cataraqui took 22 holes to knock off Frank Russell of Aurora. Knechtel's match went to 20 as did two others and a pair ended on the 19th.

Results included:

First Round:

Ted Holmes, Brantford, defeated E. F. Mooers, Kingston, 2 and 2.

John Watson, Chatham, defeated Bill Cook, Kitchener, 6 and 5.

Terry Malone, Rosedale, defeated Jerry Knechtel, Kitchener, on the 20th hole.

Bob Pezzack, Toronto, defeated James P. Biggar, Welland 4 and 3.

Louis Georgas, Owen Sound, defeated J. McLaughlin Sr., Toronto, on the 19th hole.

J. Freeman, Toronto, defeated E. Radtke, Kitchener, 6 and 5.

R. Waechter, Kitchener, defeated Bill Cross, Toronto, 3 and 2.

G. R. Connolly, St. Catharines won by default from Les Reid, Peterborough.

W. Etherington, Toronto defeated Mike O'Leary, Peterborough, 3 and 2.

Bob Thompson, Kitchener, defeated Jack Hardill, Peterborough, 3 and 2.

Jim Neal, Hamilton, defeated Lyle Compeau, Tillsonburg, 6 and 5.

Second Round:

Gerry Kesselring, Kitchener, defeated G. E. Thomas, 7 and 5.

Holmes defeated Jim Gaudagno 3 and 2.

G. Tarasick, Windsor, defeated Watson 3 and 2.

Gene Rossiter, Windsor, defeated Pezzack 4 and 3.

Bruce Bradley, Oshawa, defeated Gord Thoms, one up.

Georgas defeated Don Heller, Kitchener 3 and 2.

Grant Shirk, Kitchener, defeated Bert Paterson, Toronto, 2 and 1.

Waechter, defeated Ernie Bentley, Weston, one up at 19th.

Wilson Paterson, Toronto defeated Tommy Carruthers, Belleville, one up.

Nick Weslock, Windsor, defeated G. R. Connolly, St. Catharines, 4 and 3.

Vic Dimarco, Toronto, defeated Bob Thompson, Kitchener, 7 and 6.

Ottawa Pulls Major Upset, Takes Twin Bill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The cellar-dwelling Ottawa Athletics pulled a major upset in the International League last night, sweeping a doubleheader from Baltimore, 7-2 and 4-0.

Home runs by George Moskovich and Jack Littrell and three double plays—giving the A's 121 for the season—helped Mario Fricano to his 12th victory in the opener.

Charley Bishop scattered eight Oriole hits in the nightcap to record his 10th win and fourth shutout. His mates bunched all their three hits in the sixth inning.

Two home runs, by pinch-hitter Bob O'Neal with one on and Hank Workman, in the ninth inning gave Syracuse a 4-3 victory over Toronto. Reliever Ernie Silverman won his second game. Ray Shore, replacing starter Vic Lombardi, absorbed his fourth loss.

Montreal's sizzling Royals swept a three-game series from Rochester by handing them a 6-4 licking. The Royals did all their scoring off Jack Faszholz with two runs in the second inning and four on five straight hits in the fourth. The Red Wing centre-fielder, Rip Repulski slugged three tremendous but futile, doubles.

Ken Johnson, former Detroit southpaw making his debut for Buffalo Bisons, hurled a four-hitter to shut out Springfield, 4-0.

Paige Pitches Shutout To Down Detroit Tigers 1-0

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Even if he is "43 going on 49," as some folks say, Satchel Paige still has the stuff to bewilder big league hitters. Satchmo deserted the bull pen last night for a starting role—the second time he'd tried it this year. In fact he hadn't pitched an entire nine innings since 1949.

Locked in a 0-0 duel with Detroit's Virgil Trucks, he pitched nine shutout innings. After Trucks gave way to a pinch hitter in the 10th and Hal White took over, Paige still was in there throwing goose eggs at Tigers in the 10th, 11th and 12th.

YIELDED SEVEN HITS

Bob Nieman's bases-loaded single with two out in the 12th finally got him home with a 1-0 win, his eighth of the year. The box score showed only seven hits for Tigers—six of them singles. Satchel walked only two and struck out nine in his brilliant effort.

In the 10th Tigers loaded the bases with nobody out. Paige made pinch hitter Johnny Pesky and Johnny Groth ground into force plays at the plate. Then he struck out Neil Berry on three straight called strikes.

Walt Masterson pitched Washington Senators to a 6-4 victory over New York, striking out 11 Yanks. He whiffed Mickey Mantle four straight times and Hank Bauer, Yogi Berra and Harry Schaeffer twice each.

YANKS LEAD SHRINKS

The loss shrunk Yanks' lead to three games because Cleveland won its day game from Chicago, 7-1 for Early Wynn's 13th victory. Larry Doby, who hit his 24th homer off Bill Kennedy in the first, ruined Wynn's shutout bid when he fumbled Eddie Robinson's single permitting Minnie Minoso to score the lone White Sox run in the ninth.

Rain washed out the Boston at Philadelphia night game in the American and the Philadelphia at Boston twi-night doubleheader in the National. Brooklyn and New York got in one inning at the Polo Grounds before rain forced a postponement, Dodgers leading 1-0.

CARDS GAIN GROUND

Eddie Stanky's St. Louis Cardinals pulled within nine games of Brooklyn by knocking off Pittsburgh twice, 7-2 in 10 innings, and 3-2. Cards have won 10 of their last 13 games.

Turk Lown pitched Chicago Cubs to a 5-3 win over Cincinnati after replacing Paul Minner in the first inning. Lown contributed a triple to a three-run rally in the sixth when Herm Wehmeier was knocked out with his ninth loss. Dee Fondy hit a homer in the fifth, the 22nd off Wehmeier this season.

B.C. Cricketers In 2nd Place

ST. CATHARINES (CP)—British Columbia downed Manitoba by seven wickets at St. Catharines yesterday to move into second place behind Ontario in the Dominion inter-Provincial cricket championships.

The victory, British Columbia's first of the tournament after a pair of ties and one loss, moved the west coast team into the runner-up position with a slight edge on the as many losses.

In Wednesday's only other game, played at London, Quebec chalked up its second victory with a 196-122 decision against Alberta. The loss shoved the westerners into the five-team cellar with a lone win and two losses.

The B.C. win assured it a place in today's semi-finals against the same Manitoba team. The survivor will enter a two-game Friday and Saturday series against Ontario for the title.

Crescents Upset Mimico 7-5

TORONTO (CP)—Owen Sound Crescents upset the league-leading Mimico Mountaineers 7-5 here last night in a scheduled Ontario Lacrosse Association senior A game.

Both teams appeared ragged in the opening period and only Owen Sound was able to score. The Crescents held their lead in the second period with a 3-2 edge and clinched their victory with a four-goal outburst in the final session.

Yesterday's Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Batting: Del Rice, Cards—collected homer, double and two singles in St. Louis' double win over Pittsburgh, 7-2 in 10 innings and 3-2.

Pitching: Satchel Paige, Browns—shut out Detroit in 12-inning game, 1-0; walking only two and striking out nine while allowing only seven hits.

Freedhoff Makes Semi-Finals

TORONTO (CP)—Butch Freedhoff of Toronto moved into the semi-final round of the Ontario junior tennis championships yesterday with victories over Belleville and South Porcupine entries. Earl Dworkin of Toronto scored an upset victory over Dick Kalli of Cornwall.

Results included:

Junior boys singles: Harry Freedhoff, Toronto, defeated R. Brearley, Belleville, 6-4, 4-6, 6-3; Carlo Caterelli, South Porcupine defeated John Bassett, Toronto, 8-6, 6-3; Freedhoff defeated Caterelli, 6-2, 6-4; Earl Dworkin defeated Dick Kalli, Cornwall, 6-1, 6-2; Dan Belisle, South Porcupine, defeated Norman Ross, Toronto, 6-1, 6-1; B. Carter, Cornwall, defeated R. Best, Toronto, 6-1, 6-1; Norman Reynolds, Kingston, defeated Dick Risk, Toronto, 6-3, 6-3.

Junior girls singles: Jackie Davies, Toronto, defeated N. Jennings, Cornwall; Joan Genno defeated Patsy Brearley, Belleville.

Gives Up Movies For TV Eve Arden Says

By BOB THOMAS

HOLYWOOD (AP)—Eve Arden has abandoned the movies for television because she's "tired of playing Eve Arden roles."

"Don't get me wrong—I like making movies," said the actress. "But I can't seem to get the producers to think of me in any other role except the stereotype of the wise-cracking friend of the heroine.

"Ive never been able to get enthused about Eve Arden roles . . . I'm not at all like the roles I have played.

Of the many films she has done, she remembers with relish only a few—"The Doughgirls," "Three Husbands," "Night and Day" and "We're Not Married."

TIED TO TV

The latter may well be Eve's last picture for a long spell. The reason is that she has wedded herself to television. Her radio show, "Our Miss Brooks," will blossom out as a TV opus in October.

She already has made a few of the TV films, with film cameras recording the show before an audience.

"I don't mind TV a bit," she enthused; "in fact, I like it. It's the nearest thing to summer stock, yet it doesn't have the drawbacks of summer stock. You get to do a different show every week with competent actors and technicians.

"The hours are great for a lazy cuss like me. I never could get used to getting up at six in the morning for movies."

DAVID ECCLES, British Minister of Works, displays a model of the stands which are to be erected in front of Buckingham Palace for next year's coronation procession. The model was exhibited during a press conference Mr. Eccles gave in Church House, Westminster, London, for the purpose of describing arrangements for the coronation and publicize preliminary plans for which the Ministry of Works is responsible.

Lawyers Becoming Extinct In Hungary

By HUBERT HARRISON

VIENNA (Reuters)—Lawyers are becoming extinct in the "Iron Curtain" lands of Eastern Europe because there's nothing left for them to battle over in court.

In Hungary, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, and Bulgaria, lawyers formed a wealthy and important class, with great political and social power. Now they are dying out, and survivors have lost almost every vestige of power and importance.

This decline is primarily due to the fact that property has been nationalized or taxed out of existence, fortunes have disappeared during currency reforms, and no one has been left anything worth fighting about to leave in their wills.

Hungary is typical.

Before the revolution, lawyers played an important role in Hungarian life. In every country town, there were dozens of them and all seemed to find plenty of clients to fight for in the courts.

But it is no longer worth while hiring a lawyer to fight over the possession of something which has been or is being absorbed into a state or co-operative farm.

Many lawyers in Budapest and the bigger towns were liquidated or deprived of the right to work immediately after the revolution, as "class enemies."

The only escape was to join the official "Federation of Lawyers" and become a member of one of the "Lawyers Co-Operatives."

Both organizations brought their party. They could accept only work which was in the interests of the regime and had little to do.

All lawyers in the co-operatives have to march in the processions wearing black trousers, open shirts and no ties—to prove their loyalty to the proletariat idea.

CHOSEN BY STATE

The basic principles of law have been abandoned and the great majority of arrests are for what are now regarded as political offenses. Shop lifting has become sabotage of the regime, for example, since all the stores are government owned.

Political cases are usually not defended. The state security police sentence prisoners without trial or hold in secret ones which need no lawyers for the defence.

Even in the big political trials such as those of Archbishop Groesz and Cardinal Mindszenty, the lawyers for the defence were selected by the prosecution and everything they proposed to say had to be submitted for censorship by the prosecution before they said it.

Claim Rich Uranium Find

EDMONTON (CP)—Four prospectors yesterday claimed a rich find of uranium ore in Alberta close to the Goldfields and Beaverlodge areas of northwestern Saskatchewan.

They claimed their find to be the "mother lode" of the rich deposits that have started the first uranium rush to the area.

North Hayes, spokesman for the four, said that samples of the find had been forwarded to Ottawa and a telegram report indicated they were of high uranium content.

The other members of the prospecting team are Bill Nixon, Jack Bowness and Sam Johnson.

Nixon is a former Ontario lumber man and Bowness, once prospected in the Cobalt area of Ontario.

EDMONTON (CP)—A survey last night showed that polio has claimed 20 lives in the fourth western provinces this year. There have been six deaths each in Alberta and Saskatchewan and four each in Manitoba and British Columbia.

Peterboro' Summer Theatre Rated Best By Visitors

On a round of six other summer theatres in the United States and Canada, friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Swartz placed at the top of their list the Peterborough company at Queen Mary School last Friday night.

"And that's why I didn't get over to the ball game," Mr. Swartz told the Examiner today in best of humor from the fact that Peterborough overtook Belleville in the ninth inning and wound up with the game.

"Up to five o'clock, I was bound for Riverside. Then, the visitors arrived, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Levin of Clifton, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. A. Golden of Wilkesbarre. They had set out to make a round of part of the 'straw hat' theatre circuit. They had been from Cape Cod to Niagara Falls where Everett Horton is playing. So, I put the ball game out of mind, and we all went to see Jane Steps Out. Our visitors were delighted, and they told me without any hesitation that the cast they had seen here, and the presentation generally, was the best they had seen in their tour. They didn't think they were speaking for publication."

Actually Mr. Swartz was explaining his absence from the crowd of 2,300 at Riverside last Friday night.

"I'm happy to be able to add this tribute to the many others that have been paid to our Summer Theatre group.

"I liked the show myself, and then when I heard we beat Bellevilel it was a perfect evening."

It may be reported now as having come from the promoters of the booster game, that they bought the television set from Mr. Swartz at cost, as shown on the invoice. There was no profit in it for him, and then he gave $10 to the fund that was being raised to pay for it and some incidental expense. That may be mentioned as an indication of Mr. Swartz' interest in the game at the time his visitors arrived to change his plans for the Friday evening.

India's 'Maharja Of Murderers' Languishes Safely In Pakistan Jail

By TOM A. CULLEN.

BOMBAY, India — (NEA). — They finally caught up with Bhupat, India's one-man Murder Inc., who has 85 killings to his credit.

But at the moment all they have him in for is a year's sentence for illegal entry into Pakistan and unlicensed possession of a shotgun.

Extradition of the bandit, who baffled Indian police for more than three years, is now the subject of frantic negotiation on the part of the Indian government, there being no extradition agreement between India and Pakistan.

Bhupat Makwana, known as the "Maharaja of Murderers," is wanted in India for the brutal slaying of 79 persons in Saurashtra State and six in the Amreli district of Bombay State.

Most of the murders were of a political nature, although some were incidental to looting operations.

Bhupat was picked up by Pakistan police in Karachi after openly inviting arrest by walking around wearing false whiskers and carrying a double-barrelled blunderbuss under his arm. As one wag put it, "He did everything but picket the police with an 'Arrest Me' sign on his back." Three of his gang were nabbed with him.

Bhupat's arrest came as a fitting climax to a chase that had all the elements of a Keystone Kop comedy.

For three years the Indian government had tried to capture the bandit, upon whose head they had set a price of $10,000. At one time as many as 800 special police were deployed to track down the outlaw and his gang.

HOLD FIVE PRINCES

Meanwhile, red-faced Indian police are contenting themselves with holding as "booby prizes" five Indian princes who are said to have been Bhupat's accomplices in supplying him with arms, ammunition and hideouts.

Those in the know claim that the princely quintette consists of "small fry," and that the trail of Bhupat's crimes leads to the door of one of India's most powerful maharajas, who is said to be the real ruler of Saurashtra State.

BHUPAT MAKWANA: Safety pins hold the phony medals on.

Legends have sprung up that Bhupat was a "Robin Hood," that he was a misguided "hero," with the blood of a noble Rajput fighting strain in his veins. Stripped of the glamor which his princely associations lent him, the bandit is about as heroic as "Waxey" Gordon.

He specialized in cold-blooded murder, frequently killing his victims in their sleep after mutilating them.

The gang frequently disguised themselves as policemen on their murderous expeditions, wearing the khaki shorts, leggings and pith helmets of the rural gendarmerie.

Starting out as a chauffeur for one of the local nabobs, Bhupat who is one of the best marksmen in India, arose to become aide-de-camp to the Durbar of Vaghania. The young Rajput is said to have been inordinately proud of his A.D.C. uniform, to which he fastened with common safety pins the spurious medals awarded him by various princly employers.

With the button earrings of his fighting caste screwed into his ears and his black handlebar moustaches, Bhupat looked a reasonable facsimile of a Rajput warrior.

The set-up for political assassination in Saurashtra was perfect. Local police were completely under the thumb of the feudal land barons, who feared the peasants and supplied Bhupat with arms, jeeps, and hideouts. The hilly, jungly terrain of Saurashtra made pursuit difficult, if not impossible.

GOVERNMENT CRACKED DOWN

Bhupat frequently paid visits to his wife and mother in their native Saurashtra village. Local police were always careful to look the other way during these visits.

Finally, the central Indian government cracked down, arresting the five princes.

Realizing that the government meant business, Bhupat's influential backers arranged for his escape to Pakistan.

India's high commissioner to Pakistan has requested Bhupat's extradition, but it is doubtful that the killer will ever be returned to India. Too many princes stand to lose their special privileges and their privy purses if Bhupat should return and "tell all" to the police to save his neck.

Meanwhile, from a jail cell in upper Sind, Pakistan,, where he is enjoying a long overdue vacation, Bhupat has let it be known that he likes the Pakistan climate just fine.

FRENCH POLICE are searching throughout south - west France for two campers sought as suspects in the triple slaying of Sir Jack Drummond, his wife and 11-year-old daughter. Sir Jack, 61, a nutrition expert, and his wife were shot to death with an army carbine. The daughter's skull was smashed in by the slayers.

Mill Worker To Be Deported

BOSTON (AP)—A Finnish-born mill worker, who signed a Communist party membership application in 1934 because "they told me they wanted to win a strike in which I was involved," was ordered deported yesterday.

Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr., ruled "with reluctance" that Carl A. Latva, 49, who signed the application, paid 50 cents and "never heard from them again," must be deported to Finland.

Wyzanski said that under the McCarran anti-subversives act he was bound to uphold the deportation of Latva.

Latva said at his home last night: "An immigrant like me. . .I don't know right from wrong because I hadn't been here very long. Then 20 years later because I tell the truth they want to break up my family and take me away from the country I love."

In 1949 Latva, applying for U.S. citizenship, told immigration officials that he had joined the Communist party in 1934 because he understood its aims were "organizing unions, and if there was a strike they appealed to all local groups to raise funds to help strikers."

Falls From Car Leg Is Broken

WARKWORTH (ENS) — Susanne Potter,4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Potter, R.R. 1 Warkworth, was treated in Campbellford hospital for a broken right leg, minor cuts and bruises and shock, after she fell out of a moving car.

The little girl and her sister Janey, 3, were riding with their grandfather, Archie Ferguson, on the road east of Norham when the accident happened. It is believed the safety catch on the car door was not secure and the car door came open. Susanne was thrown into the ditch.

She was rushed to Dr. Britnell's office and then to Campbellford hospital. After she had received treatment she was allowed to return home.

Her sister, Janey, escaped injury, but is suffering from nervous shock.

Red Staff Officers Make New Charges

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist staff officers today accused the United Nations command of shelling the Panmunjom truce talks site Aug. 2, but a U.N. staff officer said there was no evidence to prove it.

Korean truce negotiations are in recess until Monday.

Blodgett Family Holds Reunion

ROSENEATH (ENS) — Four generations were present at the family gathering of the family of Mrs. Herman Blodgett, Roseneath, held at Victoria Park, Cobourg, on Monday.

The members of the four generations were: Mrs. Herman Blodgett, her daughter Mrs. James Duff, her son Neil Duff, Malton and Audrey Duff, Malton was the member of the fourth generation represented.

This annual get-together is held on the one Sunday in the summer when the services in Roseneath United Church are cancelled, so everyone can have a holiday weekend.

Every member of Mrs. Blodgett's immediate family, four sons and five daughters sat down at dinner with their mother, namely: John and Harold Blodgett, Warkworth; Cecil and Archie Blodgett, Warkworth; Mrs. James Duff (Ellen), Roseneath; Mrs. Bruce Arthur (Grace), Fenella; Mrs. Wm. Elliott (Mildred), Garden Hill; Mrs. Gordon Martinell (Thelma), Kendal; Mrs. Clarence Thurtle (Ferne), Kendal.

Also present were sons-in-law, daughters-in-law, grandchildren and great grandchildren with a total number of forty persons.

Before departing for their various homes, plans were made for the 1953 get-together.

Police And Killer Play Game Of Tag

CHICAGO (AP)—A telephone caller last night directed police to the body of a man beaten to death with a hammer in a hotel, and then played hide-and-seek with them after threatening to "kill again."

After the tip-off on the slaying, the man called police at least four more times, warning that he meant to strike in two other hotels.

Lieut. John Golden finally made an appointment with the mysterious caller to meet him in a bar. The man failed to keep the appointment.

The victim of the hammer slaying was identified tentatively as Thomas Actor, about 35, of Birmingham, Ala. His body was found after a phone caller told police to go to room 414 of the hotel and "you'll find something bloody."

Work Night Shift

VIENNA, Austria (Reuters)—Czechs must work the night shift to bring in the harvest, Josef Nepçmucky, Czechoslovak Minister of griculture, said in a proclamation broadcast by Prague radio yesterday. He complained that to date only one-fifth of the crop has been harvested.

Gets 10 Lashes

FREDERICK, Md. (AP)—Marshall M. Flanary, 43-year-old carpenter, was sentenced yesterday to 10 lashes under terms of an old Maryland law, invoked here for the first time in 25 years. The law permits imposition of a maximum of 40 lashes and a year in the house of correction for wife-beating.

Plans Nationalization

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—President Victor Paz Estenssoro in an Independence Day message said yesterday his government will go forward with its plans to nationalize the country's tin mines and work out agrarian reforms. The government was installed by a revolution April 9.

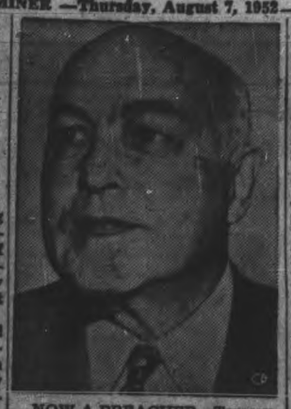
Baron Surprised At News He's Engaged

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Young Baron Ernest Lyssard said yesterday the first news he had of his formal engagement to beauteous gold mining heiress Nancy Oakes was when he read about it in the papers.

Nevertheless, the 22-year-old Mexico university student confirmed the announcement in an interview. Nancy's mother, Lady Eunice Oakes, announced the engagement of her 25-year-old daughter two days ago in Niagara Falls, Ont.

Lyssard, the son of Baron and Baroness Hermann von Hoyningen Huene of Oberammergau, Germany, is studying economics in Mexico university.



He said the prospect of becoming the husband of a rich woman would not interrupt his studies.

Lyssard said he had no personal fortune and depended upon funds sent to him by his parents to maintain himself here.

He understood his fiancee now is in Laredo, Texas, and he is awaiting a telegram informing him when she would come to Mexico.

Nancy's first husband, French Count Alfred de Marigny, was tried and acquitted on charges of murdering her father, millionaire Canadian gold miner Sir Harry Oakes, in Nassau nine years ago The murder was never solved.

Nancy separated from Count de Marigny in 1946 and the marriage was annulled in 1949.

NOW A PREACHER—Tommy Burns, 71, Canada's first and only world heavyweight boxing champion, annually visits Vancouver to preach and spread his gospel of "Universal Love." Burns, born in Hanover, Ont., lost his title to Jack Johnston in Sydney, Australia, in 1906. Before that he disposed of nine title-contenders.

Mossadegh Plans Heavy Tax Law

TEHRAN (AP)—Premier Mohammed Mossadegh presented to his cabinet last night proposals for a sweeping "soak-the-rich" tax law aimed at balancing the budget of this impoverished, uneasy country.

Iran's main sources of revenue dried up when Mossadegh nationalized properties of the British-controlled Anglo Iranian oil company. Britain promptly blocked off world markets and Iran was stuck.

Communist Czechoslovakia moved in yesterday. A five-man trade delegation arrived to discuss buying oil and arranging a barter agreement. Previously Britain has prevented Iran exporting any oil.

The new tax proposals are aimed at the wealthy families who control most of the land. Some single families own hundreds of villages whose inhabitants till the surrounding land in sharecropper fashion.

Timmins Council Pays Visit To Quebec

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que. (CP) —Mayor J.W. Spooner of Timmins and members of his city council visited this town, 20 miles northeast of Three Rivers, yesterday.

"We are here to study the question of amalgamating our police and fire brigades," Mayor Spooner said in an interview. "We also plan to study municipal administration by city managers, a system that seems popular in Quebec Province."

The delegation was tendered a dinner last night by the city council of Shawinigan Falls and Mayor Francois Roy.

Farmland Flooded

COLDWATER, Ont. (CP)—High water in Georgian Bay has flooded nearly 1,000 acres of farmland in Matchedash and Tay townships. Farms most seriously affected lie along the banks of the north river which empties into the bay. Water in the bay is four feet above normal.

Mad Stampede To Stake Claims

URANIUM CITY, Sask. (CP)—Tourists swapped fishing tackle and cameras for axes and shovels yesterday while the first uranium rush in history continued unabated.

The third day of the rush saw hundreds of prospectors out staking and quarrelling in the northwestern Saskatchewan bush in the hope of making a fortune

Ruses of all sorts have been tried to lead astray any competition. Experienced prospectors purposely guided opposition company representatives into wrong territory until the more valuable claims were staked. Road blocks were thrown up in some areas to impede competitors from reaching the staking country.

Formosans Beat Drums To Drive Away Evil

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Superstitious Formosans beat drums and exploded firecrackers to drive away evil spirits they believed responsible for a partial eclipse of the moon early Wednesday.

A mild earthquake was noted in Taipeh this afternoon but no damage was reported.

A Chinese Nationalist newspaper reported that Yung Hung-hai of the Hualien water conservatory bureau saw a "flying saucer"—a disc-shaped object—rising from the southwest part of Huhualien, east coast city, Sunday night. There were no details.

Blantyre Native Dies

NEW ORLEANS (CP)—A. B. Paterson, 69, Canadian-born utilities executive and president of the Southern Association of Science and Industry, died yesterday after a brief illness. Born at Blantyre, Ont. he was chairman of the board and former president of New Orleans Public Services Inc., and played a major role in the development of the city's transportation, electric and gas systems.

Eligible For Parole

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Nathan Leopold, 48, one of the thrill killers of 10-year-old Bobby Franks in 1924, will become eligible for parole next January. If granted parole, he said in Stateville prison Tuesday, he hopes to get a job in Chicago or some other city and start life anew. Leopold and Richard Loeb were convicted of murdering the Franks boy. Loeb was slain in a prison knifing in 1936.

Deadline On Replies To Opposition On Power Plan

TORONO (CP)—The international Joint Commission yesterday placed an Aug. 18 deadline on replies in opposition to the joint application by Canada and the United States for permission to develop the power potential of the St. Lawrence River.

Even as the deadline was set, first Canadian opposition crystallized at Morrisburg, Ont., one of the towns which would be partially flooded by the power scheme. Residents there want an Ontario hydro commission guarantee of property values in case of expropriation in event of flooding.

A meeting of 150 citizens at Morrisburg Tuesday rejected a proposal of the Ontario government and the power commission that they would be "compensated" for their losses.

They passed a resolution demanding that expropriating authorities state in writing how much compensation will be paid each individual. They also agreed that if the property settlement is unsatisfactory they will refuse it. Recommendations of the Morrisburg meeting will be forwarded to the joint commission.

In Jail Wedding Night

TORONTO (CP)—A wedding celebration which began July 20 had its sequel in court yesterday when Charles Puddicomb, 20, was sentenced to seven days in jail. He pleaded guilty to drunk driving. Four other charges were dismissed against the Toronto bridegroom, who spent his wedding night in prison after nearly colliding with a police cruiser.

50,000 Watch Street Parade

ST. THOMAS (CP)—A mammoth street parade watched by a crowd estimated at 50,000 featured St. Thomas and Elgin centennial celebrations yesterday.

The Earl and Countess of Elgin figured largely in the day's activities. Last night they attended a St. Thomas-Elgin dinner after watching a day-time assault by paratroopers on the municipal airport.

Mary Carmichael, 18, was crowned centennial queen by Marjorie Kelly of Courtland, Miss Canada of 1951.

Close Forests In B.C. As Fires Spread

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's $525,000,000 lumber industry, still reeling from the effects of a 45-day strike, was hit again yesterday by forest closure.

The provincial forest service shut down its Vancouver district, richest in the province, because of the fire hazard.

Logging was at a standstill for the second time since 52,000 woodworkers went on strike June 15. They went back to work a week ago.

The forest closure also hit the tourist industry. No person is permitted to enter any forested area to hunt, fish or travel without first obtaining a permit. Mining, construction and road-building projects in the woods also came to a halt.

More than 60 forest fires were reported in the province, 16 of them in the Vancouver district.

Ask Inquiry Into Finances

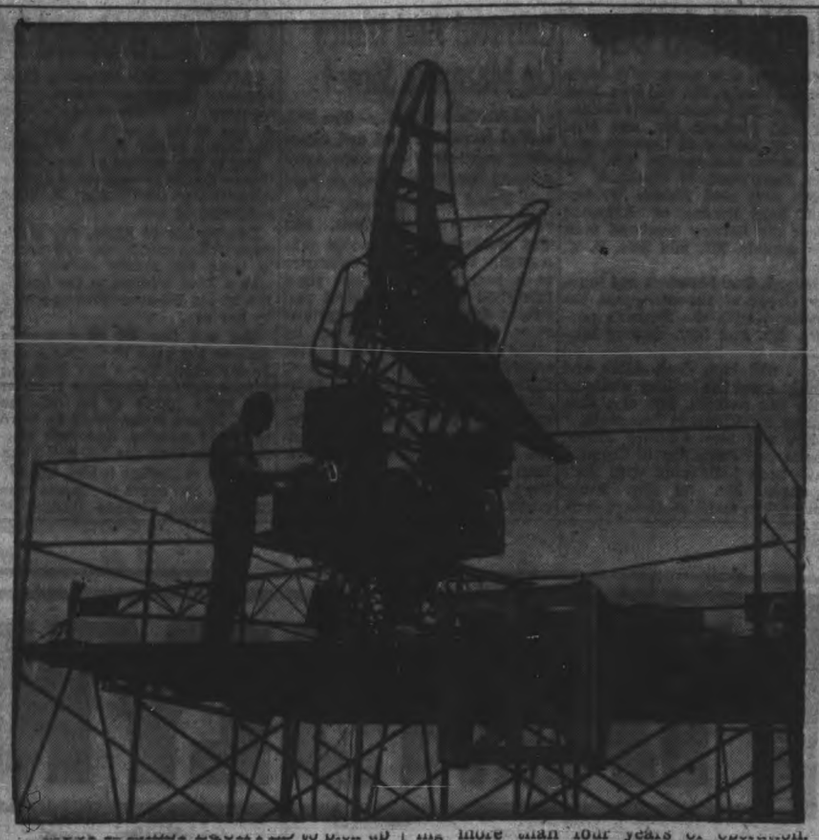
TORONTO (CP)—Suburban Toronto Township council last night passed a resolution asking the Ontario department of municipal affairs to conduct a complete investigation into township financial affairs.

Deputy Reeve Lloyd Herridge said the investigation was justified in view of mounting criticism of officials and council members by rate-payers.

Capital expenditures were halted by council yesterday when it was learned a Toronto bond house has withdrawn its agreement to buy $1,500,000 in township debentures.

Reeve Sidney Smith blamed the action on statements made at a recent ratepayers' meeting called to discuss protests over tax increases. Residents have held three mass meetings over the increases ranging up to 300 per cent this year.

Pickets Charged



WATERLOO (CP) — Sixty-four pickets at the strike-bound plant of Sunshine Waterloo Company Ltd., were charged with intimidation after a company bus was prevented from leaving the premises yesterday.

For Eczema — Skin Troubles

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Go to any good drug store and get an original bottle of MOONE'S EMERALD OIL—it lasts many days because it is highly concentrated.

The very first application will give you relief—the itching of Eczema is quickly stopped—eruptions dry up and scale off in a very few days. The same is true of Itching Toes and Feet, Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum and other skin troubles.

Remember that MOONE'S EMERALD OIL is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue. Complete satisfaction or money back.

"Flying saucers," McGill University's radar at Dorval has so far failed to produce a single unexplained atmospheric object dur- ing more than four years of operation. Bernard Stevens, graduate student operator, is adjusting the antenna of the radar located at the Dominion weather bureau at the airport.

Chewing Tobacco Cure For Snakebite

Leo Krikorian, 40, of Warsaw, says chewing tobacco is a good cure for snakebite.

He and a friend were walking across a marsh when Krikorian felt a sting in the calf of his leg. A friend saw the three-foot-long snake disappear into the bush.

The victim then applied a torniquet to the rapidly swelling leg and rubbed on some chewing tobacco.

He later was treated by a doctor. He is recovering.

Millbrook News

Dorothy and Sharon Ball are visiting their sister, Mrs. Roy Dawson, and Mr. Dawson, in Perth.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Heustin and family have returned from a holiday spent in Quebec and Vankleek Hill.

Miss Pauline Kennedy, Kingston, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kennedy.

Canadian National Railways presented Millbrook Chamber of Commerce with two paintings, "Autumn in the Laurentians," by Rafal Malczewski, and "Peggy's Cove, Nova Scotia," by Albert Cloutier.

Hospital Costs Low At Windsor

WINDSOR (CP)—The chairman of the board of the 350-bed East Windsor Hospital for Incurables said yesterday that administration costs at the hospital are lower than at similar hospitals elsewhere in Ontario.

John McKeon told the provincial government commission investigating the hospital's affairs that figures published in the provincial government's blue book show that the hospital is being operated efficiently.

He said that from 1946 to 1948 per patient costs at the hospital were lower than the same costs at similar Ontario hospitals. These had risen at East Windsor because the hospital had assumed the cost of a pension plan.

Low operating cost at East Windsor was due, he said, not to a poor grade of service but to efficient operation.

Winnipeg Strike Call

WINNIPEG (CP)—Winnipeg civic employees will strike tonight at midnight to back up demands for pay boosts and shorter working hours. Strike action was decided when city council refused to grant federation demands for a pay increase of 7½ per cent and a 40-hour week.

Reach Agreement In Algoma Plant

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) —Ontario's chief conciliation officer, Louis Fine, yesterday announced agreement has been reached in all points at issue between Algoma Steel Corporation and Local 2251, United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.)

Mr. Fine said the agreement is for a two-year period.

Neither company nor union will comment on the agreement, until it has been ratified by union local members and the company's board of directors.

At Hamilton last night a two-hour meeting of steel workers closed without agreement on the wording of a proposed settlement with the Steel Company of Canada.

The agreement provides for a base wage of $1.43½ an hour and a job classification program. The union basic wage committee and steward's board have recommended acceptance.

Carnival And Dance On Marmora Street

MARMORA (ENS). — The 17th annual street carnival and dance under auspices of Marmora Agricultural Society was held on Forsyth Street on Wednesday under ideal weather conditions, and was marked with splendid patronage. Walt Taylor's Orchestra as a part of his western show furnished music for round and square dancing, while songs and solos, comedy and dancing by other members of his agregation entertained the merry throng. Refreshment booths were operated by the Agricultural Society and Marmora Women's Institute. Games were operated by Canadian Legion. It is expected that next year the event will be all the more attractive with the proposed paving of the street.

Old-Time Band Makes Big Hit

CALGARY (CP)—Grandma Darling may be 94 every other day of the week, but Friday night she flips on the radio, pushes a chair or two into a corner and is 17 again.

She is the darling of the Harry Wesley Darling household at James River Bridge near Sunder, 55 miles northwest of here.

Despite her 94 years, she is always in fine spirits, she still wants to wash the family dishes, and take a keen interest in the activities of the 158-acre farm operated by her son.

But this tiny bit of a woman reaches her peak of vitality every Friday night. For a half hour she dances around the living room to the radio music of an old-time band. Where many would be worn out in 15 minutes, Grandma Darling easily lasts the full half hour.

Grandma Darling is Mrs. Martha Darling. She came to Alberta with her husband Thomas Darling in 1911 and they homesteaded a mile away from the present Darling farm. They had 10 children.

When Mr. Darling died in 1934, Grandma Darling moved in with her son and his family at James River Bridge.

Supports Chatham

WINDSOR (CP)—Board of Control yesterday approved a city of Chatham resolution requesting legislation which would enable municipalities to compel financially responsible children to support indigent parents.

May Alter Plan For Middle East Defence Pact

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The western powers and Turkey are considering shelving their long-stalled proposal for a Middle East command in favor of a Middle East defence organization. This would have the more limited task of planning the defence of that area against possible Russian moves.

Political developments in Egypt are regarded here as holding the key to what is done. Many American officials hope the new Egyptian government, with an eye to modernizing the country's armed forces, may reverse previous opposition to joining forces with the west and at least participate in a planning group.

POLITICAL BASIS

The establishment of a Middle East defence organization would provide a political basis for military assistance by the United States and possibly other western powers to co-operating countries.

It is understood that, because of antagonisms between Israel and the Arab countries, the Jewish state would not become a member, but would receive military assistance from the U. S.

There are some differences between Washington and London over when and with whom M.E.D.O. should be organized. Britain is understood to favor going ahead as soon as possible with formation of the planning group, incorporating those countries that are willing to join and leaving others out, temporarily at least.

The U. S., on the other hand, asserted the view yesterday that any organization set-up should have maximum membership in the Middle East if it is to be useful.

Berserk Man Shoots Couple In Park

CHICAGO (AP)—A young man crying, "I love Sally," darted suddenly from the bushes in Grant Park yesterday and sprayed bullets at a young couple listening to music. His bullets killed the girl and critically wounded her escort.

Then the man embraced the girl—apparently a stranger to him—as she lay dying on the ground, and shot himself to death.

The action took place as hundreds of office workers spent their lunch hour in the park, listening to rehearsal of the Grant Park Symphony orchestra.

The victims were Patricia Kahler 17, and Herbert A. Hoffman, 17, wounded in the neck, chest and back.

The dead gunman had a Detroit hotel receipt in his pocket which bore the name of R. Walker. However, police said fingerprints showed the killer was Bernard Richardson.

Ask Magistrate Decide Value Of Violin

BRANTFORD (CP)—Harold Curtis has asked Magistrate R.J. Gillen to determine the value of his violin.

Curtis, who received the violin in a trade, told the court yesterday that the original owner paid only $35 for it. Now, however, the man to whom Curtis took the instrument for repairs has refused to return it.

Curtis said Stephen Stanley claims the violin is worth $5,000 and wants $500 for his repair job.

1,288 Placed By Operator Tourist Booth

LAKEFIELD—(ENS)—Mrs. William O'Brien, attendant at Lakefield's Chamber of Commerce information booth, estimates this year to date has been the busiest of the four years since the booth has been in operation.

Since the opening of the booth on June 21 until the conclusion of the last holiday weekend, 1,253 persons had made inquiries regarding such matters as shopping, ice supply sources, where to eat any many other matters. The number of persons sent to suitable accommodations where a definite reservation had been made by the attendant was 1,288.

No record has been kept of people driving through the village who stop for folders and detailed maps of the Kawarthas which are distributed at the booth, but Mrs. O'Brien says the demand for these is very much greater than last year's. A great many inquiries for antiques are made also.

When tourists stop for directions to any resort, Mrs. O'Brien presents them with a map and carefuly traces the route, so it is almost imposible for them to get on a wrong road. Judging from the remarks made by the visitors, this service is particulary appreciated.

Not only do the travellers benefit from the booth, as Mrs. O'Brien reports that she has had a busy season finding domestic help for the resort owners.

As tourists are referred only to businesses whose owners are members in good standing at the Chamber of Commerce, many, who were not members at the beginning of the season, have now joined.

"We mean what we say . . . ."
"Guarantee" is a word that is used rather loosely. To A&P it means just one thing — you must be completely satisfied with any item you buy in our stores, or your money will be refunded promptly and cheerfully, without question!

This is just one more safeguard to maintain the confidence of our customers and the reputation for value we've built over 92 years of business.

We invite you to see your A&P manager if ever you're displeased with anything you buy, he's sure to set it right!

Scooping Out Power House 1400 Feet Underground Deep In Big Mountain

KITIMAT TOWNSITE—In this British Columbia wilderness of trees, lakes and mountains, architects have drown up blueprints for a "model city" with everything planned in minute detail for a population of 46,500. It is the townsite of Kitimat, heart of a $550,000,000 aluminum industry under construction by the Aluminum Company of Canada. Kitimat, expected to have a population of 7,500 at the start of aluminum production in 1954, will be a seaport and a railway terminus as well as a smelter site.—(CP Photo).

By DAVE STOCKAND

KEMANO, B. C. (CP)—A mountain rearing above this mushroom patch of quonset huts has no name, but it has a heart.

Deep inside the mountain, 1,400 feet underground, man is scooping out a bomb-proof, weather-proof power house for the Aluminum Company of Canada's "Project British Columbia."

Although rock is showing unexpected resistance to the honeycombing and hollowing, a confusing maze of passageways already threads through the Coast Range mass.

"Weak rock has slowed us down," says Engineer Walter Abrahamson, "but I think we'll pick up the time."

SUBWAY ENGINEER

The tunnel work is Mr. Abrahamson's "baby." He was a field engineer on the Tofonto subway project before coming to Kemano as assistant resident engineer.

The powerhouse section now under construction will be 100 feet high, 700 feet long and 80 feet wide. It is the third link in a chain of engineering jobs that start 125 miles east of this temporary town of 2,000.

The Kenney Dam comes first. By straddling the Grand Canyon of the Nechako River it will reverse the flow of a watershed of 5,400 square miles and back the water westward into the Ootsa-Tahtsa chain of lakes.

10-MILE TUNNEL

From four headings, a 10-mile tunnel is being punched through the mountains to carry the water in a 2,600-foot drop from Tahtsa Lake to the powerhouse. The rock now has been penetrated more than 4,500 feet.

Tunnel work, and work on the power house itself, goes on 24 hours a day, six days a week, under supervision of men who have gained experience on almost every continent.

Two penstock tunnels will split the "head" of the water after it rushes through the 10-miler, which is 25 feet in diameter, the width of four automobiles. Each penstock will then split into four units to drive eight turbines planned for the first stage of the development.

Its job done, the water will be channeled through a tail-race tunnel into the Kemano River, which joins the sea at Gardener Canal, more than 400 miles north of Vancouver.

TUNNEL SLOWED UP

The 10m-ile tunnel is going slowly at the moment. As Mr. Abrahamson explains: "We've run into rock that has to be supported."

Recent strikes haven't helped, either.

The powerhouse walls and ceiling will be built inside the excavated chamber and "tied" to the natural rock. Weak strata will be strengthened by long steel rods anchored deep in the rock and cement will be forced under pressure into flaws.

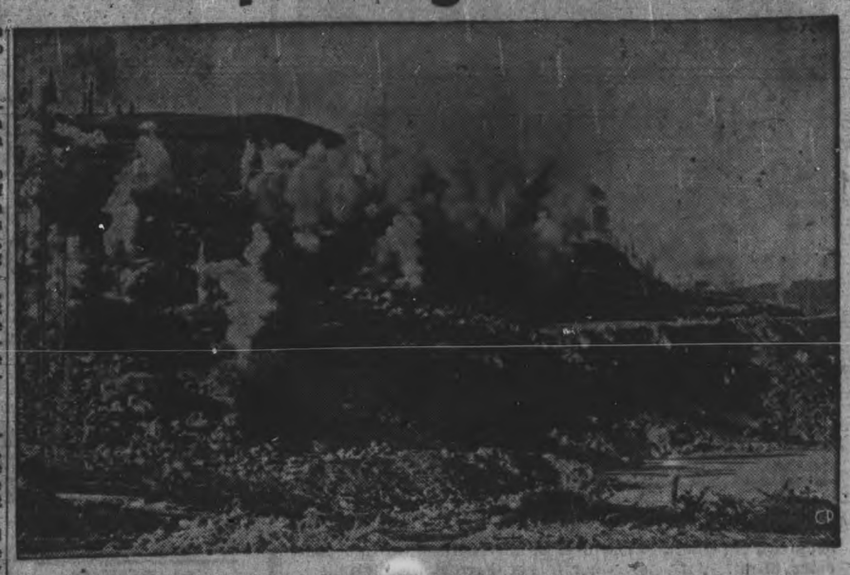
A 50-mile transmission line will carry the power to the aluminum smelter at Kitimat, scheduled to start producing in April, 1954.

BUILT 10-MILE ROAD

Before the tunnel work could begin a 10-mile road had to be driven from Kemano Bay to the chosen mountain.

The end of that road is "Camp Five" of Morrison-Knudsen of Canada Ltd. The first tunnel driven from the base of the mountain was a 1,500-foot exploratory shaft, which will be used as a ventilating system.

They're tunnelling from above, too, from the 1,600-and 2,600-foot levels of the mountain. These camps are served by a cable tramline which creaks up an incline averaging 30 degrees with a 20-ton load on its back.



SWEATING WONDERLAND

A visit to the heart of the mountain is an excursion through a cool, sweating wonderland where the only reminders of reality are the rumbling machines, the rat-a-tat of drills and "Danger" signs.

No men work with picks and shovels. Everything is being done by machinery. Value of heavy equipment engaged on all parts of the project has been estimated at $25,000,000.

Three thousand of the 6,000 men employed are working in the Kemano area, 2,000 of them at Camp Five. There are literally hundreds of buildings here: quonset huts, cement silos, a bank, theatre, post office, baseball diamond and just about everything found in a regular town of comparable size.

But Kemano will shrink instead of grow after the mountain has been conquered. Possibly 150 workers will be needed for maintenance purposes, meaning a village of about 500 persons.

OPENS TREASURE CHEST—Power is a vital part of the $550,000,000 aluminum key being cast near a wilderness treasure chest in British Columbia. Blasting crews are working on the Kenney Dam to straddle the Grand Canyon of the Nechako River. This will reverse the flow of a watershed of 5,400 square miles to provide power for the smelter at Kitimat, 125 miles westward, of the Aluminum Company of Canada. The development 450 miles north of Vancouver also will unlock an area rich in natural resources which have given B.C. her lifeblood so far — timber, minerals and fish. —(CP Photo).

Grand River Commission Approves Conestogo Dam

BRANTFORD (CP)—The Grand River conservation commission gave its approval Tuesday to the projected Conestogo River dam. As a result of the meeting, however some municipalities not now represented on the commission may be called in to share the costs, while the assessment of others may be cut.

The commissioners met in the City Hall here and reached their decision after a two-hour session.

They approved the project in principle and empowered their executive to go ahead with the preliminary work, such as optioning land, engaging a board of engineers and making a draft agreement between the commission and the federal and provincial governments. Their approval of the project follows assurance that the federal and provincial governments will each pay 37½ per cent of the cost.

ASSESSMENT QUESTION

The question of the assessment of municipalities was raised when Hugh Templin of Fergus said the people of his town would not benefit from the dam and consequently felt they should not have to share the cost.

He abstained from voting on the motion of approval.

Members of the commission agreed that a board of engineers to be appointed by the executive should advise on the allocation of costs.

Municipalities which do not at present belong to the commission but which the board considers will benefit from the new project may be assessed by the commission to share costs — possible under the Grand River conservation act.

The board of engineers will also value and advise on the purchase of land. Most of the area earmarked for the project has been acquired and options will be taken on the rest.

Senator Worried Over Bombing

CANBERRA (Reuters)—Labor Senator Wm. Morrow Wednesday urged the Australian Senate to protest to the United Nations against U.S. bombing of North Korean cities.

He criticized what he termed "wanton destruction of men, women and children and their homes."

The government leader in the Senate, Neil O'Sullivan, suggested that Morrow might use his influence on some of the people responsible for the killing and murdering of innocent people throughout the world.

"Senator Morrow's sympathy for the Communists of North Korea is not universally shared by Australians," O'Sullivan added.

Bradshaw Blasts Department's Ownership Forms

A new type of form being issued by the department of highways to establish ownership of motor vehicles may enable motorists charged with traffic violations to escape punishment.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw asked that two charges be dismissed in police court today because he said the new forms are useless from a legal standpoint.

"The old printed forms bearing a printed signature purporting to be that of the registrar of motor vehicles were bad enough," Mr. Bradshaw told Magistrate E. A. Gee.

NO SEAL

The new type do not bear any official seal or signature. They merely contain typed information, stating the licence number and the name and address of the alleged owner.

When a motorist is charged with violating the highway traffic act, the crown has to prove who owns the vehicle which allegedly committed the offence when there is a plea of not guilty.

Two men, neither represented by counsel, pleaded not guilty to speeding and failing to stop for a red light.

Both charges were dismissed at Mr. Bradshaw's request. In directing a verbal blast at the department for issuing the forms which he considers of no use in prosecuting traffic charges, Mr. Bradshaw emphasized that local police were in no way responsible for the charges having to be dismissed. It was, he said, entirely the fault of the Motor Vehicles Branch of the Department of Highways.

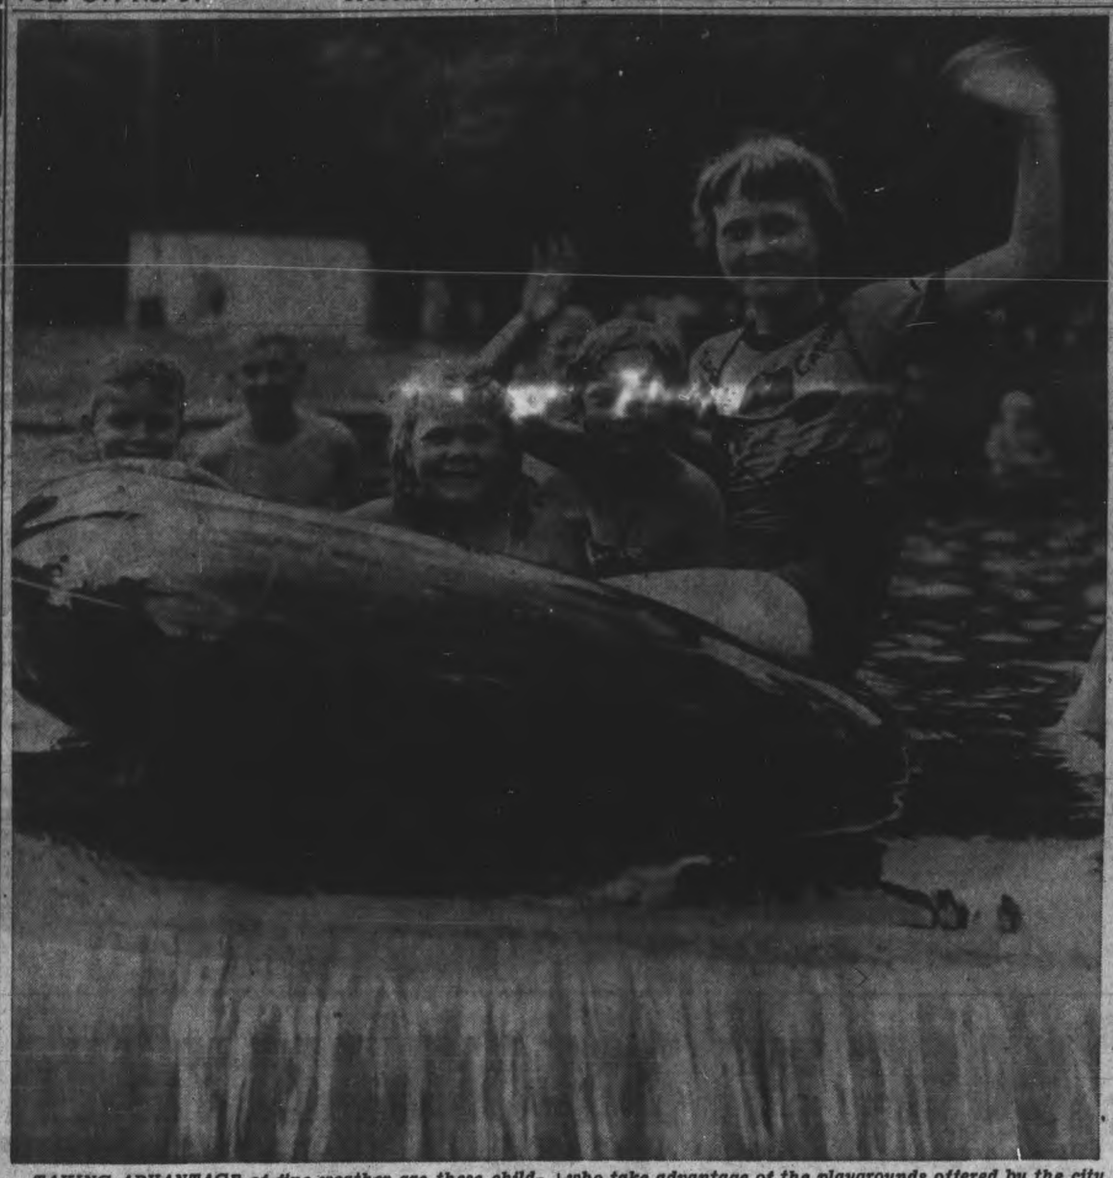
232 'Quakes Rock California City

A series of 232 earth tremors in 11 days have rocked the Bakersfield, California region where two former Peterborough printers are now working.

Walter Northcott, in a letter dated August 1 to his mother, Mrs. Walter S. Northcott, of 698 Charlotte St., says that everybody is "on edge"; many people have left town and more are leaving every day.

"The city hall, county courthouse and many schools are closed —many of them will have to be torn down and rebuilt. The county 670-bed hospital is partly evacuated and the patients sleeping in tents on the ground."

Mr. Northcott says that he and his wife Ruth are chiefly concerned about what will happen to their house. But as yet it has not developed any cracks.



Jim Webb and his wife Verna, who left Peterborough within the last year, are both putting up with this un-Canadian phenomenon in a philosophic way. They have an apartment near the Northcotts and the two couples recently drove around looking at the earthquake damage.

"The worst thing now is waiting for the next shock," writes Mr. Northcott, "and wondering whether it will be more severe than the last. Most of them have been just short, shaking jerks, while the four bad ones seemed to shake everything to pieces . . . Things have slowed down everywhere. Shows are empty and so are the stores; people plan small get-togethers, mostly out-of-doors, and of course they tell their experiences.

O.P.P. Seeking Auto Stolen From Garage Lot

O.P.P. district headquarters have radioed patrolling cruisers to be on the lookout for a green English convertible which disappeared from a garage lot at McDonnel and Reid Sts. during the morning.

Garage employees noticed the car was gone, after it had been left parked on the lot when some work that was being done on it was finished.

TAKING ADVANTAGE of fine weather are these children playing on a rubber raft in Hamilton Park on Jackson's Park creek.. They are only a few of the hundreds each week who take advantage of the playgrounds offered by the city, and in some cases built by service clubs. Set Ornamental Swim Rules For '56 Olympics

Rules for synchronized swimming competition at the next Olympiad, four years hence, were drafted in Peterborough, Mrs. Pansy Forbes informed the Examiner today.

"I had a letter this week from Mrs. Mary E. Desrosier of Detroit, national chairman of synchronized swimming for the American Athletic Union of the U.S.A.," Mrs. Forbes said. "She wrote that synchronized swimming, which was just an exhibition at Helsinki, is to be officially part of the games. She also commented that the Canadian girls were grand."

That news led to the further fact that the Olympic rules were discussed and determined right in Peterborough last November. Among those present were: Mrs. C. R. Sellar, Montreal, Canadian chairman, Margaret Sharpe, Montreal, "Billie" McKellar, London, Ont., and Mrs. Forbes.

In the formal swimming at the Helsinki exhibition, the team from this side of the Atlantic was composed of three Americans and three Canadians, the latter being Joan Orser of Montreal, Beverley Sutcliffe and Evelyn Maurice of Toronto.

Mrs. Desrosier was here last November on the occasion of the display of ornamental swimming.

Of immediate interest and concern is the trip to Florida this month for the national competitions. Peterborough is the only team entered from Canada. Thirty-eight states will be represented.

"Our girls have been allotted the first hour of the day for training practice, that is from 5.30 to 6.30 and maybe 7 a.m.," Mrs. Forbes said.

July Warmer, Drier Than July In 1951

July this year was both warmer and drier than July, 1951.

The statistics compiled by Jim Harison, Peterborough's official weather recorder, show an average July temperature this year of 69.85 and a rainfall of 1.41 inches: Last year the average temperature was 65.8 and the rain 2.29 inches.

A comparative weather chart is as follows:

	July, '52	July '51
Max. temp.....	13-14 91	9 85
Min. temp	30 49	15 45
Average	[illegible]	[illegible]
Rainfall	1.41 in.	2.29 in.

Sixth Counterfeit Bill

BROCKVILLE (CP)—The sixth counterfeit $10 bill uncovered in Brockville this summer turned up yesterday when other cash was deposited in a local bank by a grocer. Although it was a fairly good imitation, police did not consider the craftsmanship equal to other counterfeit bills passed here.

Say Arrangements Complete For September Exhibition

All arrangements for the 1952 Peterborough Exhibition to take place Sept. 9-13 are near completion, G. A. Gillespie, secretary and manager of the exhibition, said today. The biggest innovation in this year's fair is the change of dates. It has been moved on three weeks from its usual dates in the third week in August.

The reason for the change was an agreement that the August dates conflicted with the harvest period in the area.

The number of classes remain the same as last year and Mr. Gillespie feels it is a little too early to make predictions about the number of entries this year. The deadline for entries in livestock classes closes August 30, but other classes have individual deadlines right up to the last day before the exhibition opens.

FORMAL OPENING

The formal opening will take place Wednesday night, Sept. 9 during the grandstand show.

The grounds this year will have the same general appearance as last year with the one exception of a new cattle barn to replace the one burned early this summer. It is being built now and will be completed before opening dates.

Grandstand attractions this year include El Toronto, the world's only trained midget bull; California Joe in a fast moving rope juggling act; Montana Frank, a shooting and whip cracking expert; Pinto, a trained horse; and Roy Myers Sparklettes, a group of eight girls.

Horse racing will be featured every night of the exhibition and also Saturday afternoon, Sept. 13.

Mr. Gillespie said today that all arrangements are proceeding very well and that everything points toward an above average exhibition this year.

Deloro May Get Cobalt Contract

A contract for the sale of 5,000,000 pounds of cobalt to the United States government was announced today by J. W. Tovell, president of Silver Miller Mines Ltd., at Cobalt, Ont.

Although the contract calls for sale of cobalt concentrates to the U.S., Canadian export regulations allow only the sale of cobalt metal. It is expected that the concentrates will be smelted at Deloro.

Recent expansion of the Deloro plant of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Co. will permit the firm to handle the five million pounds of concentrate if they should get the order.

It seems likely they will, since through the past two world wars the plant was the sole refiner of cobalt metals in Allied hands.

Cobalt and its compounds and alloys are used in television, radio and communications. Stellite, the company's own alloy is used in facing rods, machine tools, turbine blades for jet engines, and other items.

STOP PARKING

Parks department employees have posted signs in Nicholls Oval forbidding parking on the grass. Cars in the past have caused a good deal of damage to the turf there.

Missed Record

Lands 40-Pound Muskie

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS)—An American tourist from Johnstown, Penna., hooked and landed a monster muskie in Bradley Bay on Wednesday, and did it the hard way.

Elmer Good boated the 50-inch maskinonge—weighing nearly 40 pounds— on a spinning outfit with eight-pound test line. The fight was a real test of the tackle and the angler's ability.

Mr. Good may have missed out on two records by not having the fish officially weighed. It is believed that the present record muskie caught on spining tackle weighed about 25 pounds. Unofficial weight of the Johnstown man's fish was a few ounces under 40 pounds.

The other record would have been a local one—largest fish caught in the Trent River this year. Certainly, it is the largest muskie ever reported taken on spinning tackle in the Kawartha-Trent district.

Largest muskie taken in the Trent this year was 36¾ pounds, landed by a youth from Kent, Ohio.

ELMER GOOD AND FISH

Emily Cemetery Established 100 Years Ago

OMEMEE.—The 100th anniversary of Emily Presbyterian cemetery was observed Sunday in conjunction with the annual decoration and remembrance service.

The service was conducted by the Rev. E. W. Rowland of Peterborough and the Rev. D. W. Best of Toronto. John Kerr was soloist.

Official records of the cemetery go back to 1852 when the first deed of property was given by Henry Best on Dec. 29 of that year.

No record of the first interment is available but it is believed that it took place some years before 1852.

The names on head-stones in the cemetery such as Best, Ewing, Jamieson, McLean, Nugent, Sadler, Windrem and Workman, show that many of the pioneers of Cavan and Emily townships were buried there.

The cemetery was originally associated with the Presbyterian Church. A school was first built on the lot and the first worship services were held in it.

Congregational records go back as far as 1834. The first church building was erected in 1853. In 1880 the Mount Pleasant Church was built.

The congregation was first joined with Manvers Station and later with Ops.

In 1921, under the leadership of the late John Sadler, the cemetery was restored. A new fence was built, a fountain installed and provision made for its upkeep.

Mrs. Walter E. Ridley

The funeral for Mrs. Walter Edward Ridley, the former Carolyn Victor, 69, 493 King St., who died Sunday was held today from the Nisbett funeral home.

Mrs. Ridley was born in Wathenstone, England, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Victor and has lived in Peterborough for the past 40 years, coming here from Wathenstone.

She was a member of the Jehovah Witnesses.

She leaves two daughters, Mrs. N. Gordon (Margaret), and Miss Pearl Ridley, both of Peterborough and five sons, Victor, Walter, John and Edwin, all of Peterborough and Percy of Toronto. Her husband, Walter Edward Ridley died in 1948.

The funeral service was conducted by Mr. Ernest Spalding of Toronto.

Pallbearers were Donald Motherwell, Norman Gordon Jr., Fred Headworth, John Barnes, C. Gilders, George Glass. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Improve Classes

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan Education Department has issued a new curriculum for elementary schools. The new guide is the start of a long-term plan to build a program of elementary education on a co-operative basis.

Generous Winner

Winner of one of the safety poster prizes in the competition among city playgrounds, Joan Weir of Water St. showed her appreciation of the playgrounds on Wednesday. As a prize for one of the best posters, she was offered her choice of a T-shirt or a softball. She chose the softball and on Wednesday turned round and presented it to Inverlea playground.

Lindsay Appeals Assessment Set By County

LINDSAY—Town council Tuesday evening passed a motion asking for an appeal from the equalized assessment laid out last month by Victoria county council.

A second motion also passed, asking for a committee to investigate the possibilities of the town seceding from the county.

The hint of secession came up first during July when the county council was striking its assessment. At the Tuesday town council meeting, Ald. Harry Pierce declared he did not want to see Lindsay secede from the county, but would vote for secession if it appeared advisable.

Lindsay's equalized assessment was increased by $700,000. This prompted the remark from Deputy-Reeve A. E. Hick that the county council seemed to have the idea that the town's business assessment was "tremendous."

Noting that Lindsay would now be paying 27 per cent of the county's bills, Deputy Reeve Hick pointed out that the increased assessment, if unchanged, would mean an additional mill on the town's tax rate.

Town assessor Alex Kilner reported that four towns in the past few years has tried to secede from the counties involved, but only one secession had been granted.

Town Engineer Asked To Resign

VAL D'OR (CP)—Paul E. Gagnier said today the Val D'Or town council has asked him to resign as town manager and town engineer because he ran as Liberal candidate in the July 16 Quebec election.

He said he has submitted his resignation to the council. He says he will remain in office temporarily for about two months by agreement of the council.

Earlier, Mayor Oza Tetrault said Val d'Or's best interests would not be served if Mr. Gagnier, who also is engineer to the town council, continued in office after the election

Mr. Gagnier was defeated in Abitibi East riding by Jacques Miquelon, Union Nationale candidate and now minister without portfolio in the Quebec cabinet.

Muskies Strike At Once Lose One, Catch One

One lunge landed, one lunge lost, was the score of Mrs. Hy Wood, 349 McGill St., and Mrs. Louise Edgar who had two muskies strike their lines at the same time Sunday evening.

The two women were fishing in Pigeon Lake, near the Wood cottage on Paradise Island and Mrs. Wood had the best luck. She landed her lunge, a 45-inch, 23-pounder with the assistance of Mrs. Edgar who lost her fish when she started to paddle the boat.

Mrs. Wood said today it was the biggest fish she has ever caught in 22 years of fishing on Pigeon Lake.

After a half-hour fight, most of it in a rice bed, a clout from a club took the remaining fight out of the muskie and Mrs. Edgar helped flop him into the boat with a landing net.

ROYAL VISITOR — Prince Abdullah Feisel, grandson of King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia, got a big kick out of the striking view at Grand Canyon. He and his party, touring the U.S. spent two days there.

May Charge Truck Driver, Transport Firm In Motor Death Of Woman

Coroner's Jury Finds Excessive Speed, Driver's Fatigue, Faulty Brakes Caused Head-On Collision

Charges may be laid against Toby Voth, 21, of Virgil, and his employer, as a result of the verdict of a coroner's jury at an inquest Wednesday afternoon into the death of Mrs. Bernice Hardy, 52, R.R. 2, Bowmanville. Mrs. Hardy was killed instantly in a head-on collision July 9 on Highway 28. She was a passenger in her car, driven by her son, 21-year-old Ronald Hardy when the car, travelling north, and a southbound transport driven by Voth collided four miles south of Peterborough.

Fatigue of the driver, faulty brakes, and excessive speed of the transport caused the accident, the jury stated in its verdict.

Coroner Dr. Herbert N. Young drew the jury's attention to the fact that Voth had testified he had driven "some 525 miles in about 20 hours and on his own evidence could not have had more than five and probably closer to four hours sleep before the accident and still had 175 miles to go."

Voth had told the jury he left St. Catharines about 7 p.m. the night before the accident and drove through to Ottawa, stopping only at Bailieboro where he had about three-quarters of an hour of sleep.

THREE HOURS SLEEP

He said he arrived in Ottawa about six in the morning, helped unload the truck and had about three hours sleep before starting back about noon.

It was about 4:30 p.m. when the accident occurred and Voth said he was following several vehicles at about 40 miles an hour. There was a car and trailer with a boat on it parked just off the pavement on the right hand side he said and a tractor trailer passed a red truck ahead of him. He said the red truck seemed practically stopped in front of him and he could not pass to the right of it because of the car and trailer. Voth said he applied his brakes but did not know how he got onto the other side of the highway.

Voth's truck was on the wrong side of the highway when the accident occurred.

Herbert Christie driver of the Ontario Hydro Commission truck described by Voth which Voth claimed had stopped, denied stopping. Christie said he slowed up when he saw the car and trailer parked along the highway but did not stop. He said he stopped after hearing a crash behind him but did not return to the scene of the accident, because a passing motorist said "it's an awful mess."

HIT HARDY CAR

William J. Horton, 368 Brock St., who was following behind the Hardy car and unable to stop in time to avoid a collision with the rear of the Hardy car after the first impact with the transport said he was travelling at between 45 and 50 miles an hour before the accident.

Douglas Rudd, driver of a transport ahead of the hydro truck driven by Christie said he saw the crash in his rear view mirror.

Rudd said he was travelling at between 50 and 55 miles an hour and the truck which collided head on with the car was closing in behind him.

In summing up the evidence for the jury, Dr. Young said that Voth in his opinion was wrong when he said the driver of the hydro truck put on his brakes and stopped. "The Hardy car was not exceeding the speed limit, was on the proper side of the road and I feel they didn't have a chance," said Dr. Young.

After deliberating about 20 minutes, the jury brought in the following verdict:

"The accident was caused by several factors—(1) fatigue of the truck driver due to excessive driving and long hours; (2) failure of faulty brakes, along with excessive high speed, causing the truck to swerve into the path of the oncoming vehicle.

"We feel that due to the truck not being in A-1 condition and the long hours of driving, causing the driver not to be alert enough to keep his vehicle under control were the causes of the accident."

Frank Patterson, 44 Kingan Ave., was the foreman of the jury. The other jurors were: George Brook, 4 Lloyd Ave., J. Gledhill, 672 George St., Gilbert Coombs, 226 Braidwood Ave., and Fred Shurety, R.R. 4, Peterborough.

Price Too High Local Wheat Drops To $1.75

A reduction of five cents a bushel in the price of fall wheat, from $1.80 to $1.75, will be put into effect at the Quaker Oats Friday.

A bulletin from the Ontario Federation of Agriculture, issued Tuesday, recommended "as a guide to trends" the following schedule:

Chatham $1.80; London $1.80; Simcoe county $1.75 and Peterborough $1.78 to $1.80.

Stewart Lockington, manager of the grain department at Quaker Oats, said today: "We are not accepting any winter wheat that is not of milling quality." That action was taken Wednesday.

Mr. Lockington also said the infestation of ball smut "is terrific."

MOISTURE HIGH

Moisture content on grain coming to market this week has been up around 16 to 18 per cent "in far too many cases."

As to wheat that is not of milling quality, the producers can take it home and use it for feed.

"One man from down in the Bailieboro area brought in this morning a truck and trailer loaded with wheat," Mr. Lockington said. "The rear half of the load showed too much moisture and also smut. The front half was good wheat. He wanted the top price for the whole load."

"Good farmers know what is milling quality wheat. Any producers that don't know it, shouldn't be in the business. The presence of so much smut is most discouraging after all that has been said about it, and the advised method of treating the seed before sowing. The cost is a mere trifle."

Heavy rains at the beginning of this week were reflected in the increased moisture content of a lot of grain that has been delivered since then.

One trade comment to The Examiner was to the effect that farmers have two courses they can follow: one is low cost treatment of seed to prevent smut, the other is storing of the harvested grain, also at low cost. They can have clean seed at planting time, and they don't need to crowd the market immediately after the harvest.

One suggestion as a stringent measure that might have the desired effect was refusal by the mills for a whole year of any wheat showing signs of smut.

Coal Mining Still Continues To Be Basic Industry In Alberta

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Oil and natural gas discoveries may have dominated the limelight in Alberta during the last five years but coal mining continues as one of the province's basic industries.

A 47,000,000,000-ton coal reserve constitutes 92 per cent of Canada's coal resources and 97 per cent of Alberta's fuel reserves.

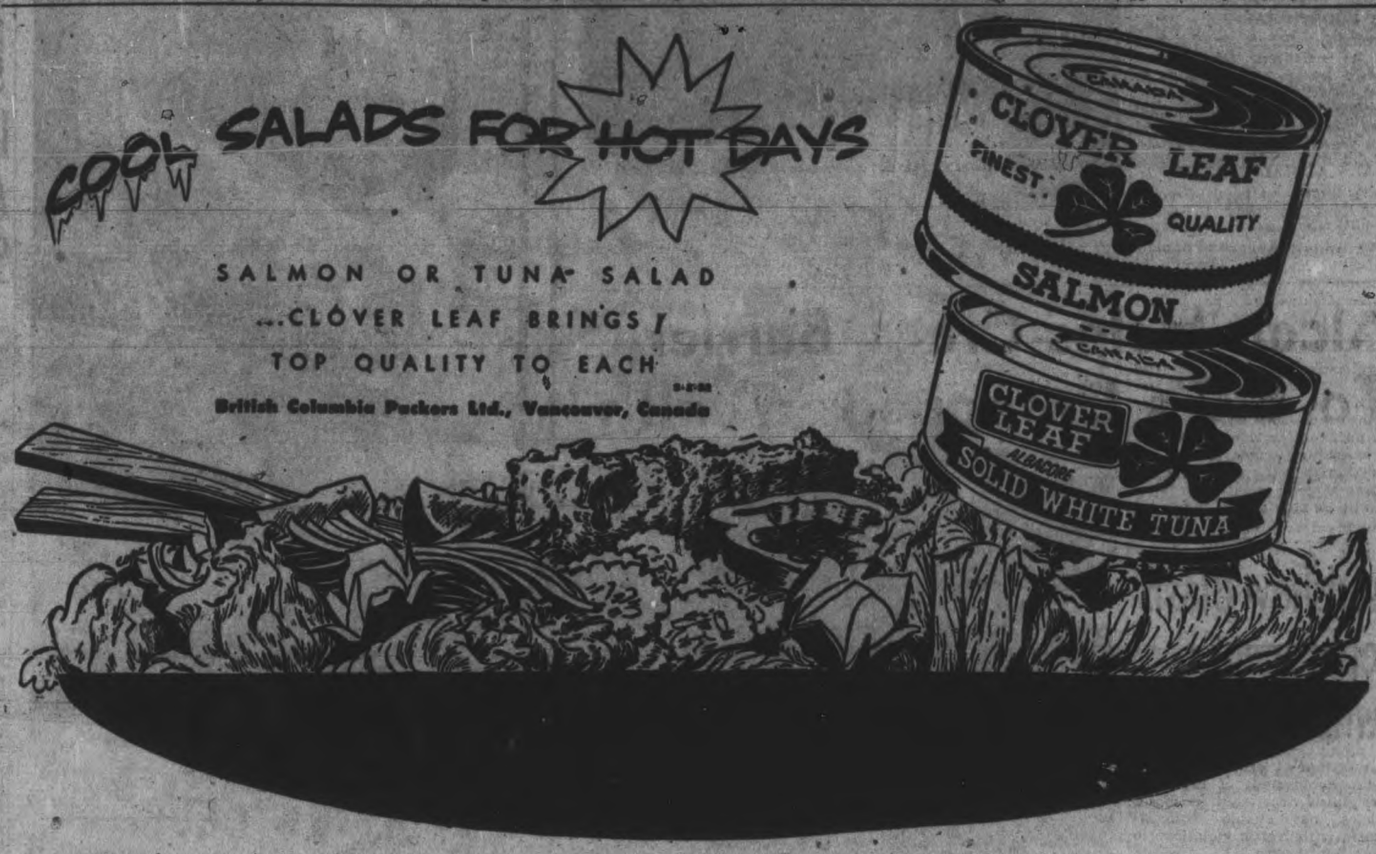
Besides supplying heat and power, coal is also a source of material for a host of chemical industries. Dyes, drugs, explosives, flavorings, preservatives, synthetics, resins and paints are but a few of the by-products which can be produced from Alberta coal.

Briquetting plants are operating in several areas of the province. The largest are at Canmore, Blairmore, Luscar, Seebe, Nordegg and Big Valley.

Briquettes produced in 1950 found their largest market in railway companies, which accounted for more than half the total output.

Coal from both underground and strip mines is used in the manufacture of briquettes. The asphalt used as a binder is obtainable in the province, giving support to another Alberta industry.

Increased mechanization of Alberta's coal mines has greatly boosted production.



Of the total 5,118,206 tons produced in 1950, railroad companies purchased 2,308,365 tons, with Alberta absorbing 1,672,519 tons. Export to the United States totalled 105,785 tons while British Columbia purchased 873,558 tons, Manitoba 586,020 and Ontario 312,563.

There were 207 mines producing coal during the year employing an average of 3865 men who were paid approximately $20,000,000.

Alcan Helps Crack Barrier To B.C's Untapped Wealth

By DAVE STOCKAND
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

KITIMAT, B.C., — (CP). — An aluminum key is being cast near a wilderness treasure chest in British Columbia.

There is every reason to believe this key will open the natural lock which guards the potential wealth of the region.

In itself, the Aluminum Company of Canada's Kitimat smelter won't be extraordinarily impressive. Aluminum smelters never are.

But a staggering amount of power is needed to produce aluminum—10 kilowatt hours to make just one pound of the metal. Raw materials must reach the plant, and the finished product must be transported to market.

FACTORS FOR WEALTH

Noting all this, observers base their predictions of great growth on the following points:

1. It's no secret that wealth is waiting in untapped areas of B.C., and such regions take in nine-tenths of the province's 336,255 square miles. The main problems are gaining access and finding outlets. Alcan will help crack these barriers.

2. Cheap electrical power will be made available, with Alcan welcoming secondary industries into the region it is pioneering.

3. B.C. is just beginning to tap its water resources. When power harnessed by Alcan has been alloted, the proposed dam at Moran on the Fraser River could add another 1,500,000 horsepower in central B.C., meaning muscle for other major industry.

4. Prospects look good for selling manufactured goods. For example, the Peace River country is considered a logical market and Alaska is worth investigating.

5. Other than industry, the development will unlock an area rich in the natural resources which have given B.C. her lifeblood so far— timber, minerals, and fish.

CENTRAL GATEWAY

Peering farther into the future, there is hope a road will be built through the Bella Coola Valley, a natural outlet to the sea midway between Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

So far this is a hope and nothing more, but settlers contend such an undertaking would provide a gateway for the whole of central B.C.

At present the spotlight is on Kitimat. This construction camp 450 miles north of Vancouver seems likely to become a major city by B.C. standards.

Architects have drawn up blueprints for a "model city," everything planned in minute detail for a population of 46,500.

Kitimat, expected to have a population of 7,500 at the start of aluminum production in 1954, will be a seaport and a railway terminus as well as a smelter site.

The harbor is being dredged and a concreate wharf built to serve freighters which will carry alumina from Jamaica. Obviously, these vessels won't want to sail away merely with ballast.

VITAL RAIL LINE

Construction will start soon on a $10,000,000 railway leading out of Kitimat to link 46 miles to the north with the Edmonton-Prince Rupert line of Canadian National Railways.

A C.N.R. vice-president, S. W. Fairweather, says he "wouldn't be surprised if this branch line turns out to be one of the most profitable moves the C.N.R. has ever made."

Alcan says business and industry are interested in moving to Kitimat. While it is still too early to name names, queries have been pouring in.

Announcement has already been made that Canadian Liquid Air will build a plant at Kitimat. A pulp mill is almost a certainty.

"It wouldn't be politic just to have a one-horse industry," says Walter Abrahamson, assistant to the resident engineer at Kemano where a powerhouse is being built in the heart of a mountain.

There will be power to spare. In fact, says Mr. Abrahamson, the sale of power may be a factor in how soon the Aluminum Company starts on the second phase of its project.

Initial authorization provides for equipment to generate 450,000 horse-power, but the main hydraulic works now being built are sufficient for 1,000,000 horsepower.

The second phase — which would bring the project cost to beyond $550,000,000 — would be accomplished by enlarging the powerhouse, drilling a second 10-mile tunnel, and diverting the Nanika watershed into the reservoir being trapped by a rock-fill dam on the Necinago River, 140 miles east of here.

Thus, a power output of 1,650,000 horse-power could be realized, providing sufficient power for the annual production of 500,000 metric tons of aluminum.

NATURAL RESOURCES

Now, for natural resources. The rail line will make accessible huge stands of timber — some spruce, but mainly hemlock, larch and balsam.

Kitimat may become one of the ports where B.C. fishermen land their catches of halibut and salmon. Indian fishermen, especially, are hoping for this.

Mining is an optimistic question mark, especially inland in the watershed area, parts of which have been opened up by highways needed for construction and also by the use of barges, a means of transportation which will become more and more practical as the level of the lakes rises.

Thomas Elliott of the B.C. and Yukon Chamber of Mines says: "The Alcan project will open an area known to be rich in mineral occurrence."

He adds that several mines developed in the past are not yet producing, and mentions silver-lead-zinc deposits as predominating.

A 110-mile road between Burns Lake and East Tahtsa runs near the Emerald Glacier lead-zinc mine which western mining men have termed "promising." Burns Lake is on the C.N.R., so with these connections the mine no longer is an island in the wilds.

AGRICULTURE LIKELY

Even agriculture can't be counted out. Limited use of the soil — most likely for vegetable growing—will be possible in the Kitimat Valley, once some of the forest has been cleared. Terrace is farther north than Kitimat, but there are fuit trees in many backyards there.

Since spring the number of men working on the project has swelled to more than 6,000. Even in the early stage of production the manpower needs of the smelter will be able to absorb many of them.

"Lots of them plan to move over to Kitimat and make permanent homes there and undoubtedly many of them will," said one Alcan official.

Kingston Rink Wins At Cornwall Tourney

CORNWALL (CP)—Kingston won the singles and doubles in zone 4 provincial lawn bowling playdowns here yesterday. An Ottawa rink captured the men's rinks competition and Oshawa won the junior doubles.

Morley Galt of Kingston, defeated A. Empringham of Markham, D. Carter, Bowmanville and L.M. Turcotte, Ottawa, to capture the single championship. The winning Kingston doubles rink was composed of E.T. Dennison and R.H. Edney.

Ottawa Lawn Bowling Club's foursome of G.C. Wilson, F.E. Worrington, J. McCormick and J. Hebert won the rinks competition. Oshawa's junior doubles winners were J. Preston and G. MacMillan.

Tomato Plant Record?

IROQUOIS (CP)—Setting a possible production record for this district, a tomato plant in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. William Brew of Iroquois has more than one hundred tomatoes on its vines. The tomatoes are very small the largest being only the size of a blue damson plum. Iroquois is 27 miles east of Brockville.

Stevenson Gets More Unity For Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — There were new signs today that the Democratic party is uniting more solid behind Governor Adlai E. Stevenson than it did behind President Truman.

Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia, one of the losers in the race for the nomination won by Stevenson, said the Illinois governor will be elected president "by one of the largest majorities any man ever had." Russell, after a talk with Stevenson yesterday, predicted the governor will carry the revolt such as the one that split the party in 1948.

South Carolina joined the growing list of southern states backing Stevenson yesterday. Earlier in the week Georgia's Democratic executive committee pledged its electors to the governor, and Mississippi state rights Democrats failed to win control of the party machinery —a good sign for Stevenson.

Only Texas remains a question mark in the solid south. Governor Allan Shivers said Texas could go either Democratic or Republican.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, continued building unity in his own party. He booked conferences today with two more pre-convention Taft supporters—Governor Len B. Jordan of Idaho and George T. Hansen the party's national committeeman from Utah.

Housewives Plan Boycott Goods

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—South Africa's Housewives' League today called for a country-wide boycott of Japanese goods in protest against prison sentences given two British sailors by a Japanese court.

The jailing of the two sailors, sentenced to 2½ years for stealing a taxi, drew strong objections yesterday from the British Foreign Office. The case was the first in which United Nations troops had been tried by a Japanese court since the Allied military occupation ended.

Mrs. H.M. Gibling, chairman of the Durban branch of the league, said South African women were enraged at the severity of the sentence and would stop buying Japanese goods to show their displeasure.

Rochon Chosen To Meet Flam

MONTREAL (CP)—Henri Rochon of Montreal will meet Herb Flam of the United States tomorrow in the opening singles matches of the North America zone Davis Cup tennis finals.

The second match will see Lorne Main meet Vic Seixas.

The selection of Rochon as Canadian starter was a surprise to many.

Giving his reasons for the selection of the wiry Rochon over Brendan Macken who started against Mexico last week, Dr. Georges Leclerc, non-playing captain of the Canadian team, told reporters.

"Bren is definitely our best player. But, he plays 'the big game' —big serve, rushes the net, hard forehand, backhand and overhead. This is just the type of game that Seixas and Flam are accustomed to.

Runs Over Man Driver Faints

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Floyd Whitfield, Miami race driver, spent last night in hospital because he ran over his mechanic.

The mechanic, Wayne Kackley, was uninjured.

The crowd at Medley Stadium was waiting for the feature race to start and Kackley was underneath Whitfield's car, making last minute adjustments.

Whitfield drove away. The wheels passed over Kackley's legs and bruised him. When Whitfield saw what had happened, he fainted.

An ambulance took Whitfield to a hospital. Kackley watched the race, then went to the hospital for a checkup and was released. Whitfield stayed overnight and was reported in "fair condition" from nervous shock.

Get First Draft Of New Treaty

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands (Reuters) Israel and west Germany agreed yesterday on the first draft of a treaty under which Israel will receive an estimated $715,000,000 compensation for Jewish victims of Nazism.

Gershon Avner, spokesman for the Israeli delegation to the compensation conference here, said the treaty will be kept secret until it is announced to the Jewish people.

No agreement has been announced yet on the treaty between West Germany and the World Jewry delegation to the conference. It is expected that delegation will accept the German offer of $107,000,000.

Israel's claim is completely independent from the World Jewry claim, putting the total compensation asked from Germany at $822,000,000.

Warn Shopkeepers Watch Bogus Bills

TORONTO (CP)—Police today warned shopkeepers to be on the look out for "a great many well-made" counterfeit United States $10 bills circulating here.

Three such bills have turned up here in the last two days. Each had the same serial number—M-30343147A.

Police said they believed the counterfeiting gang originated in the U.S., probably Buffalo.

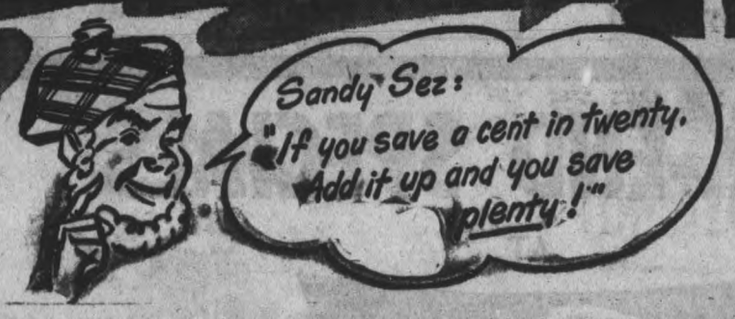
Women Who *KNOW Say: "You can cut food costs at Dominion!"

"I saved enough for a NEW HAT!"

—says one housewife

* A recent survey of housewives reveals an amazing fact! Women who shop at Dominion regularly say they believe that prices in general are lower at Dominion. Those who do not shop at Dominion are not aware of this.



That proves that women who shop at Dominion . . . week in . . . week out . . . find savings that are really worthwhile. Naturally, women who do not shop at Dominion cannot possibly know about these savings.

Here's what one housewife says: "I don't expect everything to be lower, but I do know that in the long run I save at Dominion."

Another woman said: "The pennies add up. Every once in a while I treat myself to a new hat, figuring that I have saved enough by careful shopping at Dominion."

Have YOU tried DOMINION lately?

Do it today! Do all your shopping at Dominion for a month. You, too, will discover what many other women know: "You can cut food costs at Dominion!"

Too Many Cooks Sabotage Potatoes In The Cooking

I'm not talking about the marketeers who juggle the potato market. I'm talking about you cute little pan handlers who sabotage every day if you cook the potatoes poorly.

Listen, dearies, even the reducers can and should have potatoes.

Potatoes contain Vitamin C and B, calcium, phosphorous, iron, and some protein.

But for all of those precious elements to reach your stomach YOU HAVE TO COOK THEM PROPERLY.

HOW TO COOK A POTATO

It's not as simple as you might think.

Scrub and boil potatoes in their skins. If you can't possibly stand the skins, scrape them off without scraping away the flesh, but do boil them (better than baking even). Boiled in their skins they retain almost all of their vitamin C. Paring before boiling reduces several of their valuable contents by as much as 30 per cent.

Use smallest amount possible of cooking water. The volume of water affects the protective elements retained in the boiled potato. Never use more than enough to come ½-inch below surface of potatoes and have it boiling when potatoes are added. Add salt if you like—it's okay.

Do not overcook potatoes. Do not cook more potatoes than you need for the current meal. The worst injury you can do potatoes and yourself and family is to cook them today for tomorrow. During storage of cold potatoes in refrigerator their vitamin C content is reduced by at least one half. If you go a step farther and chop them in little cubes for hash-browning you reduce the vitamin C content by three-quarters. Does that warn you enough to make you quit this vitamin-wasting and squandering routine? Remember you pay high for those precious vitamins when you buy them in synthetic preparations at the drug store.

OTHER POTATO POINTERS

Cooking in pressure cooker gives good results: it retains vitamins and minerals BUT do not over cook and do not use too much water in pressure cooker.

Mashed potatoes are alright if potatoes are boiled whole with skins on then peeled just before mashing. Mash just before eating time—mashing beforehand and allowing to stand permits vitamins to escape.

Baking potatoes with jackets on is second best to boiling them with jackets on; high temperature ruins Vitamin C. Boiling temperature is only 212 deg. Fahr. Baking temperature is often 400 or 450 deg. Fahr.

Hash-browning of held over potatoes results in as much as ¾ loss of both Vitamins C and B (thiamine).

An average-sized serving of potatoes boiled in minimum amount of water with their jackets on until just tender, yields one-third of the required amount of Vitamin C for one day. (As you doubtless know, oranges, lemons, grapefruits and tomatoes are our chief source of Vitamin C—and all of them are more expensive than potatoes are now.)

To sum up: The ideal way to eat a potato is not raw—as certain faddists sometimes tell us, but boiled after scareful scrubbing, with skin on, in boiling water to come ½ inch below top surface of 1 layer of potatoes, for just long enough to make them tender. Eat skin and all. Don't cook potatoes ahead of time. If you want them for potato salad, boil them as directed, cool them with skins on, peel, chop into cubes at once, and quickly coat with the mayonnaise or French dressing. This traps vitamins.

You will thank me for this once you have converted to new potato habits.

Picnic Basket When You Go To Fair

The camp-fire type of eating-out tramp cannot understand the dainty clean picnic-basket thermos-bottle ladies and gentlemen who sit on chairs with one, eye cocked sceptically on the only little cloud in the sky—and, bless my soul, afraid of ants.

Believe it or not, I actually know, and have visited in the home of, a lady who carried along on a picnic: 1 collapsible bridge table and 4 chairs; rotary beater and glass pitcher in which it fitted to whip cream for a strawberry shortcake; damask tablecloth and napkins; knives and forks and dessert forks; a portable radio; a thermos jug for both tea and coffee, and dishpan and soap flakes! She left only water to chance.

For fun that's not for me.

But utility, practicability and expediency enter into today's plan. (Impressed with those four and five-syllable words?) For we are expecting to go to the fair. The good old days of being able to buy a good dinner for the family, served by the Ladies' Aid of First Church, at 60 cents a plate, are gone; service is poor; food is worse; prices are so high we are very lucky to have a grassy spot under a tree to eat our own carried lunch. That lunch, girls, can be one of your proudest meals. Make it so good they won't forget that day at the fair even when next year's picnic rolls around.

PICNIC BASKET MENU

Fried Chicken Legs
Or Chicken for Slickers
De Luxe Potato Salad
Celery Hearts
Ambrosia Spanish Bun
Watercress Sandwiches
Sweet Pickles
Iced Water and Iced Fruit Punch in Glass Sealers
Milk Thermos of Coffee or Tea
Directions:

FRIED CHICKEN LEGS

Buy 2 chicken legs for each person to be served at the picnic at the shop where they have them all cut up. Wash, dry well and shake in a paper bag containing a mixture of 1 cup flour, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon celery salt, 1 teaspoon paprika. (Paprika gives good finished color.) Place in heavy deep frying pan containing ½ inch hot fat which is part butter. (Use best quality shortening or margarine for the other part). Brown on both sides over not too hot burner. Cover snugly. Turn heat as low as possible, and cook 35 minutes, turning 3 times during that period; to make the crust crisper cover may be removed during last 5 minutes. Drain these and cool them for carrying on paper towels; when cooled to room temperature wrap each piece in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator until ready to leave on picnic.

CHICKEN FOR SLICKERS
(Mock Chicken Legs)

On 6 wooden skewers impale a 2-inch cube of lean pork. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Now wrap each in a 5 x 4-inch ½-inch thick piece of veal. Hold in place with 3 toothpicks. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, roll in fine bread-crumbs, dip in egg, then crumbs again. Cook same as chicken legs but instead of the long cooking over low top-stove heat, bake in oven of 325 deg. Fahr. covered, for 1½ hours, adding ½ cup hot water to baking dish. Finish same as chicken legs.

To ordinary potato salad add chopped hard-cooked eggs, chives, capers, slivers of cucumber, radish and celery, and some fresh cooked green peas.

The ambrosia is carried in quart sealers and is fresh orange sections, sliced bananas, very few fresh sliced peaches, 1 cup fine shredded fresh or canned cocoanut and small jar maraschinos, sliced, juice and all plus a little extra sugar.

SPANISH BUN: Cream ¾ cup margarine with 2 cups brown sugar until fluffy. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla and yolks of 2 eggs and beat hard. Sift 5 cups sifted cake flour with 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1 teaspoon each baking powder, cinnnamon and salt, ½ teaspoon each nutmeg and cloves. Add alternately to creamed mixture with 1¼ cups sour or buttermilk. Beat until smooth. Pour into buttered and floured pan of about 9 x 13 inches. Beat whites until frothy, slowly add 4 tablespoons sugar and ⅛ teaspoon salt while beating stiff. Spread over batter. If desired, sprinkle with chopped nuts. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 1¼ hours. (375 at high altitudes). Cake should be cooled in pan in which baked, then cut into squares.

Of Interest to Women

SEEING DOUBLE—When judges of a children's beauty contest at an Ottawa playground saw these identical blonde charmers they couldn't decide between them and awarded both first prizes. Three-year-old twins, Pamela (left) and Patricia are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Charter of Ottawa.

Once Charity Cannery Now Thriving

SUMMERLAND, B.C. (CP)—Mrs. David Lingstone Milne, 65, who started canning for charity on a little machine fastened to her kitchen table 18 years ago, now is owner of a profitable business in this Okanagan Valley centre.

During depression years she canned peaches and sent them to relatives on the prairies and to Summerland hospital.

Soon she was supplying canned peaches, pears, apricots, prunes, carrots, tomatoes and corn and orders came in from many parts of Canada.

To keep pace with the demand, her sons, employed in a packing plant, built her a factory in their spare time. In the first year of its operation, she paid off $1,600 owing on her house and bought a refrigerator, an electric washer and a typewriter.

The next year the boys quit the packing house and went to work for their mother; so did Mr. Milne, a science teacher.

Word-of-mouth advertising worked wonders. Soon customers began arriving at the little building with boxes to be filled with Mrs. Milne's preserves and orders came from stores, too. The plant was extended and modernized and at the end of the 1951 packing season Mrs. Milne said she felt she could call herself a success.

"It's a sort of miracle," she said.

Mr. Milne died two years ago.

What's Right?

A neighbor stops to chat with a husband and wife who are seated in their yard, and the husband offers her a chair.

WRONG: She refuses to sit down — but stands and talks.

RIGHT: She sits down if she is going to stay for even a few minutes so that the husband can feel comfortable sitting down.

✧ ✧ ✧

You have never gotten around to calling on a new next-door neighbor.

WRONG: Since you haven't met her, don't speak when the two of you see each other in the yard.

RIGHT: Speak when you see her and the first chance you get at least walk over to her yard and introduce yourself.

Barbara Brent's BUYS AND WHYS A WEEKLY INFORMATION SERVICE

MONTREAL, August 7th—Fashion-Model Virginia Owen was married recently. She was another beautiful Woodbury bride in her hoop-skirted gown of satin. But it was her satin-smooth Woodbury complexion that stole the show. A breathtaking bride—a popular model—Virginia protects her exquisite complexion with WOODBURY FACIAL SOAP. For she knows that Woodbury is more than a cleanser. You see, it contains a precious beauty-cream ingredient—the same softening oil used in finest face creams. It's intended to help replace the natural oils you wash away. Try Woodbury Soap yourself. See how its mild, mild lather cleans your skin thoroughly, yet gently — soothes and smooths it. And try the big Beauty-Bath Size Woodbury, too, for head-to-toe loveliness.

Your Family Will Call You "Dreamboat" when you treat them to this delicious dessert. Quick-and-easy-to-make, economical and is it good! Mmm!—Mmm! . . . Lemon Crunch Ice Cream made with the finest, juiciest lemons grown—SUNKIST LEMONS, of course!

LEMON CRUNCH ICE CREAM

Combine 2 cups milk, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup fresh Sunkist lemon juice and 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel. Freeze until firm. Beat 2 egg whites to a meringue with 2 tablespoons sugar. Whip 1 cup whipping cream. Remove frozen mixture to a chilled bowl. Beat until fluffy. Fold in meringue and whipped cream. Add ½ cup crushed lemon drops or peanut brittle. Return to tray. Freeze to ice cream consistency. Serves 6.

You'll Want It For Your Salads . . . and for your pickling, too. So what better time to buy HEINZ WHITE VINEGAR than right now—during "Salad Week" and at pickling time! Buy the big gallon jug . . . it's the thriftiest "buy" I know. And the best. For Heinz White Vinegar is distilled and aged by the firm who made pickles famous. Full-bodied in flavour, uniform in strength—it preserves the crisp texture and colour of your pickles to perfection. And, by the way, if the gallon jug you buy doesn't have the free recipe booklet, "Pickling Success", attached—write to me for it — Barbara Brent, 1411 Crescent St., Montreal, P.Q.

The Most Popular Girl On The Beach . . . and often she isn't the prettiest—is the girl with sparkle and vitality. So when you're packing for your summer holidays—be sure to pack a vacation-supply of SAL HEPATICA. A glass of sparkling, pleasant-tasting Sal Hepatica before breakfast will make you feel as sunny as a summer day. Sal Hepatica effervescent salts have been a faithful family laxative for over 60 years. They're pleasant to take—and gentle as can be . . . and you can count on them to keep you feeling wonderful. (The "Belle of the Beach" can be you!)

Want To Brighten The Flavour Of Your Favourite Foods? WINDSOR SALT will do it every time. I use Windsor Salt both in the kitchen and at the table . . . it makes all the difference between "dull" and "delicious". And I like to be sure of a good supply of Windsor—particularly now during "Salad Season". Whether you like simple salads of tossed greens—or gay and gorgeous fruit salads for gala occasions . . . a pinch of Windsor Salt will change "flat" flavour to "bright" in a jiffy. Another thing you'll like about Windsor—it's always free-running—even in damp weather. No wonder most people buy Windsor to brighten the flavour of food!

I'm Convinced. I compared BLUE BONNET MARGARINE with other spreads at various prices and I'm more convinced than ever that Blue Bonnet is "tops" in flavour, nutrition and economy. It's delicious—just wait 'til you taste that fresh, country-sweet flavour—Blue Bonnet tastes every bit as good served melting hot on vegetables as it does fresh from the refrigerator. And that's a real "test" of a good spread, isn't it? I use Blue Bonnet in all my baking and cooking and as a spread for bread, too, of course. Try it!—see what it does for your cooking—and your budget! You'll agree, I'm sure, that Blue Bonnet gives you more for your money.

Hooper's CONFECTIONERS & CATERERS

Reunion Held By Descendants Of Thomas Young

Ideal weather and the beautiful setting of Mirror Lake, summer home of Mr. J. Wallace in Emily, made a perfect setting on Sunday afternoon for the annual picnic of the descendants of the late Thomas Young and Elizabeth Edmison.

About 60 members of the family were present and enjoyed a bountiful picnic supper. Balloons and candy were given to the children.

During supper a welcome was given by the chairman, Mr. Roland Scott, following which Mrs. J. E. Robinson, secretary, read the minutes of the 1951 re-union. The same officers were chosen to plan for the 1953 gathering. It was decided to hold it at Mirror Lake, having it one week earlier, with the picnic meal at noon rather than in the evening.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Roland Scott, Marilyn and Garry Scott, Arthur Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Red Paul and family, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Mann, Elgin, Manitoba, Mr. and Mrs. James Young, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Woolrych, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Young, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bothwell, Gary A. Bothwell, Douglas Bothwell, Cameron Bothwell, Audrey Bothwell, Shirley Crouter, Noble Bothwell, Jean Paul, Mabel Paul, Gilmour Paul, Mr. Mrs. Max Archer, Mr. and Mrs. Ev. Robinson, Jimmie Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Robinson, Ann and Kathryn Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westlake, Tommy Westlake, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart and Jimmie Northey, Mr. and Bell, Phyllis Neville, Toronto, and Mrs. Lorne Northey, Janet Mr. and Mrs. Les Groves, Gordon and Dougie Groves, Toronto, Ethel Young, and Harold Archer.

Take-Anywhere Petticoat Favorites

Don't look now—but your petticoat is showing. It's all right, though for fashion is pointing to tiny waistlines and billowing skirts puffed out with pretty underpinnings.

A variety of colors and materials show you much more leeway than great grandmother ever had, plus the wonderful advantage of completely washable fabrics.

Nylon nets and tricots are petticoat favorites permanently finished to retain their stiffness after countless soapy dunkings. You can eliminate all ironing if you finger-press close gathers or tucks. Simply draw the material through your fingers slowly and firmly.

Batiste, organdy, plisse or dotted swiss make ideal underskirts and, with their delicate rows of lace and ribbon, look delightfully gay peeking out from under a glazed chintz or taffeta overskirt.

An exciting bit or fashion news is the indoor-outdoor, petticoat to be worn either as a skirt or under your summer frocks to perk them out.

For a good versatile, take-you-anywhere petticoat wardrobe, the first thing to consider is the washability of all the fabrics — especially the stiff ones.

Always make sure that the hemlines of your petticoats are spanking clean, too. Use a small, stiff brush dipped in soapsuds and go over the edgings carefully before laundering the entire garment.

Mesh Bag Protects Washable Laces

NEW YORK.—A fine cotton mesh bag that holds up to three pounds of washables permits machine washing of dainty, lace-trimmed clothes; fine curtains, and many small items.

You can also use it as a laundry bag for soiled hankies and then toss them—bag and all—into the washer. The bag's open weave construction allows complete sudsing action, and still protects its contents from tangling with larger pieces.

Hart-Parnam Rites

At Norwood the wedding took place of Coleen Velda Parnam, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Parnam of Toronto and Robert Freeman Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross F. Hart of R.R. 4, Havelock. Rev. R. D. Duncanson officiated.

The wedding dress was of white nylon over taffeta with a lace overdress, her shoulder-length veil held in place by a coronet of lilies of the valley. She carried a cascade bouquet of red and white roses.

Mrs. Howard Newton of Toronto was her sister's bridesmaid and was in yellow organdy with yellow roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Keith D. Hart of Havelock.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents at "Rush Point Lodge". The bride's mother received in navy sheer dress with white accessories and corsage of red roses, while the groom's mother wore orchid lace over taffeta and black accessories, with a corsage of pink roses.

The bride and groom will live at 210 Carleton St., Toronto.

Henley-Little

LAKEFIELD (ENS). — Standards of gladioli and ferns formed the setting in Lakefield United Church for a candle light service last Friday evening when Ruth Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Little of Lakefield, was united in marriage to Mr. Roy E. W. Henley, Lakefield. The groom is the son of Mrs. Roy Henley of Toronto and the late Mr. Henley.

The ceremony was performed by the minister, the Rev. W. H. Tonge. Prior to the ceremony Miss Joyce Mathieson sang "O Promise Me" and during the signing of the register, "Because." John D. Grylls was at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore white net over satin with a full skirt and fitted bodice trimmed with tiny buttons. Her veil of tulle was caught with a flowered headband and she carried a nosegay of red roses.

Miss Eleanor Stirling was her only attendant. She wore a gown of pale green taffeta, a small white net hat edged with flowers and carried a nosegay of 'mums and yellow roses. Groomsman was Edward Wegg of Toronto. Ushers were David Spence and Elwin Garbutt of Lakefield.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Little received her guests in a gown of navy sheer. Her hat was white straw and she wore a corsage of gladioli. The groom's mother, who also received, wore navy crepe, a natural colored straw hat with navy veil and a corsage of gladioli.

For a motor trip through the United States the bride wore a dress of flowered pink crepe, contrasting accessories and a corsage of gladioli. On return they will live near Fraserville.

TAKES OFF GUM

To remove chewing gum from white cottons or linens, chill the area with ice until the gum rolls into a ball. Then scrape off the gum and sponge with carbon tetrachloride. Wash in warm suds.

Skirts Longer In French Fall Fashions

PARIS (AP)—Madam, do you want to resemble a grassbopper, a jet plane, a turtledove or a sea siren?

These are the fashion silhouettes offered this season by—respectively—Paris designers Schiaparelli Dior, Lanvin-Castillo, and Carven.

But you needn't throw away your wardrobe and start over. Dresses are not as drastically different as they sound. If there's room, however, you can let out your hems an inch to an inch-and-a-half; the designers have brought skirts down to an average length of 12 inches from the floor.

There are two main trends. One is a soft "freed" silhouette with rather loose waists, lowered "Middy" lines and pleated or flared skirts.

This influence appeared in nearly all collections except Dior's. He touched a completely different hourglass figure with pinched waist and padded hips.

The coronation of Queen Elizabeth next year has brought forth a royal influence in grand ball dresses, and a spate of purple shades. Otherwise, the color picture is gloomy, predominated by black, dark grey, beiges and browns, with some dark red and blue greens.

Short-Waisted Can Achieve Middy Effect

NEW YORK.—The new, middy look poses a problem for fashion-loving women who are short-waisted. There just isn't enough room in a two-piece costume for a fitted top to drape nicely without bunching. And, if the waistline in a one-piece dress is lowered, the result may be in fashion, but, alas, the dress doesn't fit.

There is a neat way out of the dilemma for those who do their own sewing. Home dressmakers with short waists can fit their material to their natural waistlines and achieve the middy effect with a few rows of fashion stitches.

The rows should encircle the skirt from the natural waistline to a depth sufficiently low to give the middy effect. Braid or ribbon can be applied to give a middy effect, also.

Puffer-Fennell

HAVELOCK (ENS).—A quiet wedding was solemnized Saturday at the Havelock United Church parsonage of Lula May Fennell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Campney to William John Puffer, Havelock village assessor, and eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Puffer of Norwood. The Rev. R. G. Newman performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of floral silk with black and white accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses. The couple were attended by the groom's son and daughter-in-law, W. B. (Mickey) Puffer of the Ontario Provincial Police and Mrs. Puffer of Toronto. The latter wore black silk with white accessories and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT E. LeBARR pledged their marriage vows Monday at the Sacred Heart Church. The bride is the former Miss Barbara Kane.—(Choate Studio Photo)

A wedding dinner was served at the Havelock Hotel. Later the bride and groom left for Peterborough, Lindsay and points west, the bride travelling in a grey and black shepherd's check suit with grey and black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The couple will live indefinitely at the groom's cottage "Bez" at Round Lake, their permanent residence being undecided as yet.

Fall Fashion News Places Stress On Softer Lines

The stress placed upon softer lines in fall fashions means, of course, that there's a new softness in fabrics.

To interpret the softer silhouette, designers have turned to softer fabrics. Thus, we'll see much of the chiffon woollens, either woven or knit. This includes chiffon tweed, since tweed is always with us in some form, come autumn.

Similarly, tweed is developed in the fluid, readily molded fabric called tweed jersey. Such tweeds are equally at home in town or country, are readily teamed with the sophistication of black velvet or black suede.

Dress in tweed jersey (left) by Eisenberg has full, gathered skirt with slot hip pockets. There's a dolman cut for the sleeves, which are cuffed in the black velvet used for the vestee and the roll collar with deep V neckline. Wide belt is in velvet, too.

Chiffon tweed is used (right) by this same designer for a dress that buttons down the front. Dolman sleeves end just below the elbow. Soft fulness is achieved through two loose panels with slash pockets that begin at the neckline, are belted in by black suede, and fly out from the waistline.

Just take a peek...

Yes . . . you should "take a peek" at the thrilling new coats for fall. We have just unpacked them and put them on the racks. They're beautiful! New and luscious fabrics . . . wonderful colours in warm fall tones . . . and exciting new styles you fall in love with. See them now at Pulver's.

Salad Version Of Favorite

Macaroni Salad Ring — centered with tossed greens and garnished with cheese triangles—is a summer variation on that winter favorite macaroni and cheese. Seasoned to perfection, and zigzagged with crunchy green pepper strips, it makes for a wealth of good August eating. Cheese and potato salad, served in easy-to-make tomato cups will hit the spot any night for supper. And for something you've probably never tried, Kidney Bean Salad, made in a flash, then chilled, will bring cheers from your family—whether they be wilted workers returning from the office—or sunbaked youngsters stopping in their play.

MACARONI SALAD RING

(Serves 6 to 8)

1 cup raw macaroni
¼ cup French dressing
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper.
4 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 cup milk
1 cup grated Canadian cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¼ cup chopped pimento.

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until tender. Rinse with cold water and drain well. Add French dressing to macaroni and mix well.

Combine butter, onion and green pepper in top of double boiler. Place over direct heat and cook for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add flour and seasonings. Blend. Gradually add milk and place over boiling water. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture is thickened. Add cheese and stir until melted.

Add cheese to macaroni. Blend well. Add parsley and pimento. Press mixture lightly into an 8-inch ring mold, rinsed with cold water. Chill for several hours or until firm. Unmold by loosening edges of salad from the mold with a knife.

Turn out on a bed of crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish with tomato roses and cheese triangles.

CHEESE-POTATO SALAD CUP

6 small potatoes
1 cup cubed Canadian cheddar cheese.
¼ cup chopped sweet pickles
2 tablespoons chopped pimento
1 tablespoon grated onion
½ cup diced celery
1½ teaspoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
8 large tomatoes.

Cook potatoes in boiling salted water until tender. Peel. Then dice potatoes in ½ inch cubes and cool. Combine all remaining ingredients except potatoes. Add this mixture to potato cubes and toss lightly.

Cut a slice off the stem end of the tomatoes. Hollow out and then fill with potato mixture. Serve on crisp lettuce or other salad greens.

KIDNEY BEAN SALAD

(Serves 4 to 6)

4 strips crispiy broiled bacon
3 tablespoons minced onion
½ cup diced celery
1 cup diced, unpeeled red apple
1 cup cubed Canadian cheddar cheese
1 cup drained red kidney beans
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper.

Cut bacon into pieces. Then combine with remaining ingredients. Chill well. Serve in crisp lettuce cups garnished with mayonnaise.

DOROTHY DIX

Hard For Soldier To Be Socially Inactive

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: The boy I like is in the army, and is now home on a thirty-day leave. He is never content to stay in one place any length of time, but is always anxious to be off somewhere else. I enjoy being with him, but don't like so much activity. If I tell him to go ahead without me, he won't go. He comes to my house for about an hour, then suggests that we go someplace where the teenagers gather. These places are perfectly all right, so there is no question of impropriety involved. He always seems to want to be with a crowd, yet he won't go anywhere without me. I hate to have him miss his fun, and yet I don't like this constant activity.

LOU.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: First of all, you must try to understand why the boy behaves as he does. Remember, he has gotten used to army life, where every minute of the day is given over to some form of supervised activity. Naturally, after several months of such living, it's a little difficult to come back to normal and have long stretches of the day to spend in complete idleness. Some boys respond to military life by carrying the discipline and orderliness over to their civilian life. Other are only too happy to be relieved of the strain of precise living, and can snap back to normal at a moment's notice. Your friend, of course, belongs in the first category.

PLAN FUN AT HOME

You simply cannot expect him to be happy with long periods of inactivity. However, by being more enterprising with the amusements you offer at home, you may be able to cut into his desire for constant travel from place to place. Have the gang into your house as often as Mom will permit. Plan games, prepare simple refreshments and, by providing an interesting home atmosphere you may make him realize that one need not be on the go constantly in order to be entertained.

Since his leave is only for one month, you can afford to be patient and understanding for that short a space of time. If the boy doesn't like going around without you, and your parents will permit such heedless peregrinations, tag along. Do, however, make an earnest effort to provide an antidote for his restlessness.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My son died a few years ago, and we took his children to raise. We try to treat them as our own. My trouble is with my 15-year-old girl. She thinks my 10-year-old granddaughter should help with the dishes and other work. However, since she is five years older. I think she should do part of the younger girl's chores. After all, what can you expect of a 10-year-old girl? Also I try to keep my granddaughter better clothed than my own children, because I am afraid people will talk if I don't.

PUZZLED GRANDMA.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: While you are to be commended for an honest try at being impartial to your children and grandchildren, your methods are rather ill advised.

Naturally, if you continue the present system, your own children will become very resentful of the younger members of the family. And rightfully so. The best way is to treat all the children as nearly alike as possible. No partiality should be shown to the grandchildren, or to your own. A 10-year-old girl is capable of quite a few household tasks, and she should be expected to perform them. Her clothing, too, should be on a par with that of her aunts. An attempt to make her the best-dressed member of the family will turn her into a vain little pest, resented by everyone else.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I married a man from another town several months ago, and recently I found out about a girl he was going with before he met me. Whenever we meet this girl, she speaks to my husband and completely ignores me. Both my husband and I are very annoyed about it.

MRS. W. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your husband should make a marked point of drawing you into the conversation when you meet this female, or of telling her directly that she should address you as well as himself.

What's Right?

You speak to a small child, who is shy and refuses to answer your questions.

WRONG: Say: "What's the matter? Has the cat got your tongue?"

RIGHT: Talk to him quietly, giving him a chance to feel that he knows you—instead of teasing him and making him even more shy.

AFTER building approximately 100 N.H.A. Bungalows in the city in the last two years, we have decided to alter our design and plans. We have about 3 different plans, now available and under construction in various locations in the city. We are featuring a long brick bungalow 38' 10" x 26' 10" built on a lot 94 x 114 with the length running parallel with the street. They are all 5 rooms with 3 bedrooms and recreation room 12 x 28 with no interference. All our homes are brick and are built to N.H.A. specifications. Mortgages at 5 per cent. The end price set by N.H.A. runs from $9,500 to $9,650 with $1,900 down. Enquire today for choice of lot and early possession.

Truman Wants Special Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman said today he is considering calling an extra session of congress to ask for a stronger price-control law.

He told a press conference that no decision has been made, but he has the matter under consideration.

A decision will await developments, he added.

Truman declined to comment on reports that Ellis G. Arnall is preparing to quit as price stabilizer.

Arnall went to the White House yesterday bearing his resignation, effective Sept. 1, and a report to Truman that food prices again are rising sharply.

Arnall said he told the President it may be necessary to call Congress back into special session: "if food prices continue to get out of hand and skyrocket."

Red Cross Officials Curb Russ Charges

TORONTO (CP)— Communist delegates rolling smoothly through the 18th International Red Cross conference on well-worn attacks on the United States were jolted to a halt yesterday.

The Soviet and Communist delegations ran head on into John A. MacAulay of Winnipeg, conference chairman. Mr. MacAulay earlier had warned that he would curb any discussion "with political undertones" and in yesterday's sessions he came through with sharp rebukes for speakers who persisted in making political statements.

The first clash came when Dr. Su Ching kuan, Communist Chinese delegate, complained that a Chinese resolution dealing with germ warfare and alleged prisoner of war atrocities in Korea had been "unfairly voted out" in a meeting of the general commission. Mr. MacAulay ruled him out of order because a resolution dealing with germ warfare was on the agenda.

Later in plenary session the conference considered a joint British-Belgian resolution concerning alleged violations of the Geneva conventions which invited governments concerned "to have these charges examined on the basis of a common agreement."

RUSSIAN WARNED

General Nikolai Slavin, head of the Soviet delegation, said that the resolution was designed to throw "a shadow of doubt" on Chinese charges of United States atrocities in Korea. Mr. MacAulay broke in to warn him that he could not level charges against other governments. Gen. Slavin resumed and was again interrupted. When he challenged the chairman Mr. MacAulay said: "This is not a debate. I am not being interrogated."

When Mr. MacAulay later interrupted Mrs. Li Teh chuan, health minister of Communist China, to ask that the interpreter break her statement into shorter segments, he was told:

"Any further statements from Mr. John A. MacAulay we will be glad to hear after we have finished our statement, so that there will be no further interruptions."

Further statements were ruled out of order despite Mrs. Li's determination to repeat the whole statement.

The British-Belgian resolution finally came up and was adopted 69 to 12 with the Soviet bloc nations opposing, and the Chinese Red Cross delegation abstaining.

Charles B. Marshall, head of the U. S. delegation later issued a statement saying the "vote urging impartial inquiry into the charge regarding germ warfare and violation of humanitarian conventions is gratifying."

Pray 8 Weeks To Bring Sister Back To Life

DETROIT (CP)—Police today pieced together the macabre story of how an elderly man and woman strove for eight weeks to restore life to their dead sister by praying over her body.

An anonymous caller told police late yesterday that "something strange" was happening in the home of the spinster sisters, Mattie and Amelia Buck, and their brother, Edward.

Detectives entered the home and found Amelia's body lying fully clothed near a window in a front bedroom. Death, which took place eight weeks ago, was apparently from natural causes.

Mattie, 67, and Edward, about 70, told police they were convinced their 71-year-old sister could be brought to life by continual prayer and by treating her as if she were alive.

Cobourg hospital was removed by ambulance to Sunnybrook hospital, Toronto, on Monday.

Mr. Arnold Hearns, Kingston, spent the weekend with Misses Irene and Nellie Hearns.

Continue Conference

HAMILTON (CP)—Representatives of the 1,400 striking rubber workers at the Firestone plant here were scheduled to go into conference again with the plant management this afternoon.

Steel Industry Replies To CCF Charges

HAMILTON (CP)—A steel industry spokesman replying to criticism at yesterday's session of the C.C.F. convention, states that it is not economically possible to manufacture special shapes in Canada. Until the population grows, certain shapes and wide sheets would be rolled in the United States where steel mills have the necessary facilities.

"It just is not practical to put up heavy mills to build heavy H-beams or wide mills to roll extra-wide automobile sheets required on body building," he said.

The national C.C.F. party in convention charged yesterday Canada is dependent on the U.S. and other countries for essential iron and steel supplies.

Eventually, as Canada grows, the picture will change, but that is in the future, said the steel spokesman.

A C.C.F. charge that the steel industry had failed to keep pace with Canada's industrial needs is not borne out by current expansion programs, the spokesman added.

Last year steel production totalled 3,567,361 tons; in 1940 production was over 1,000,000 tons less.

Stelco's current expansion program will increase capacity by 50 per cent, and add about 700,000 tons of production to the Canadian figure. Dofasco has built a blast furnace unit; Algoma and Dosco both are increasing production facilities.

Seek Deserter In Brutal French Slaying

LA BRILLANE, Southern France (Reuters) — French police working from headquarters in this hamlet's only cafe, Wednesday were directing a manhunt for a French Foreign Legion deserter in connection with the brutal murder of Sir Jack Drummond and his family.

Bloodhounds had sniffed out the legionnaire's bloodstained uniform near the camp site where the British family was found. The hunt for him was dropped earlier since he was reported to have crossed into Italy before the slayings, but now he has been sighted in this area again.

Drummond, adviser to Britain's food ministry during the Second World War, and his wife were found riddled with bullets at their camp site and their 12-year-old daughter Elizabeth had been struck down and battered to death as she tried to escape.

Police were also looking for these possible suspects and related clues:

1. Two young men wearing shorts, seen near the Drummond camp site below the village of Lurs Monday night.

2. A railway worker seen near the camp site by farmer Gustave Dominici early Tuesday morning shortly before he stumbled on the corpses.

3. A man in tattered clothes who stepped up to a motorist near the camp site and said: "I am a police inspector. I want a lift." The motorist drove hurriedly away.

4. A black Citroen coupe stolen early Wednesday at Beauvallon on the Riviera about 60 miles from here. Its owner had been clubbed and left bound by the roadside.

HERBIE FLAM REACHES for a low one in a practice round before the opening Friday of the Davis Cup matches in Montreal. Singles matches—in which Flam will likely feature—start Friday afternoon. Odds are almost all in favor of the U.S. team, despite Canada's trouncing of the Mexican team last week.

Les Ascott Holds That Line For 13th Year With Argos

Football fundamentals taught in Peterborough, plus further teaching and experience in Big Four play has kept Peterborough's Les Ascott in big league football for 13 years.

The ever-smiling 235-pounder is rapidly becoming a legend as he begins his 13th year in big league football with the Toronto Argonauts. During that time he has earned the nickname of The Bear for his stature and rolling gait.

Likeable Les began to steal the limelight from fellow linemen in 1939 when he joined the Orfuns in the O.R.F.U. which launched him on a sports career, mostly with the Argos.

The 30-year-old line bruiser has been with the Argos for nine years. Apart from three years in the navy during which he played with Halifax and H.M.C.S. York at Toronto, Les has been with Argos since 1940.

But he nearly didn't get to Argonauts at all. The late Ross Trimble scouted the then 195-pound Peterborough guard and offered him a job to play football with the Roughriders in the Big Four.

"We didn't get paid to play in those days, of course," Les reminded, "and the job I was offered was sanding floors. Argos offered me a chance to become a toolmaker. It appealed to me more and I took it."

Although he has played on four Grey Cup winners, he's convinced that two of the service teams he was with, Halifax Navy in 1943, and Toronto's H.M.C.S. York in '44, could have easily won the wartime title had they been allowed to challenge.

As a defensive guard (he used to play both offence and defence), Ascott rated Dave Sprague the hardest man to stop at the line of scrimmage and Tony Golab the toughest to bring down in the open field. Joe Krol wins his award as the best kicker he's ever seen and Hamilton Ti-Cats' Hal Waggoner rates as the best running back. His quarterback nominee is Bill Stukus.

"This may surprise you," he says, "but Bill was a fine field general and a very fine passer." He rates the title Argo teams of '46 and '50 as the best, but amends this to read: ". . . the '50 team would probably beat the '46 outfit . . . ."

Les says that football today is infinitely better because American coaches stress fundamentals so much. "I didn't know anything about all the jobs a defensive guard has to do until Frank Clair and John Kerns taught me."

Like a good many others, he claims he was born 10 years too early to capitalize on his ability. He never got money for trading blocks and tackles until '45, when a $400-bonus made him happy. Some Canadian players muster anywhere from $2,500 to $6,000 a season now.

He doesn't register this as too much of a complaint. "Football has been good to me. I have a new home, a car and a good job. What more can you ask for? I got it through football." Les is an O'Keefe's salesman when he's not playing for Frank Clair and although the bumps were a little heavier with the years, he's undecided about retirement.

"I'll have to wait and see what happens this year," he grins. "This may be my last year. Maybe I'll have one more, if they want me."

Here And There In Sports

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A crowd of almost 10,000 football fans turned out at Hamilton last night to watch the Big Four Tiger-Cats stage their first public workout of 1952 in the form of an inter-squad game.

Quarterback Bill Mackrides, the former Philadelphia Eagles star, proved the outstanding player on the field and generalled his squad to a 34-0 victory over Ralph Sazio's whites.

Pat Brady, quartering for the whites, looked good, but wasn't given protection. Despite the fact that most of the cats' first-string linemen were in white livery, they were continually outrushed by the victorious yellows.

Only casualty was Ralph Bartolini who sprained his ankle early in the game.

SATTERFIELD WINS

Chicago's Bob Satterfield, 175½, a 7-2 underdog, last night scored a surprising upset in gaining a split decision over hard-punching Harold Johnson, 175, in a 10-round fight.

The fight was dull and lacked slam-bang action, considering their punching reputation. Satterfield outboxed his heavily-muscled opponent and scored the only knockdown after a flurry in the fifth.

The verdict of the two judges and referee Tommy Gilmore was split. Gilmore and judge Edward Hintz gave Satterfield the nod. Judge John Bray voted for Johnson.

60 GRID PROSPECTS

Coaches Red Douglas and Trip Trepanier of Sarnia Imperials yesterday reported 60 players are aiming at positions on the Ontario Rugby Football Union team

Back for the seventh season as first-string snap is Bruce Mattingly, who last year was voted the O.R.F.U.'s most valuable player. Other all-stars in camp were flying wing Jon Florence, middle Dutch Davey and halfbacks Johnny Chorostecki, Al Farris and Corky Duchene.

FIGHT AT HAVANA

Kid Gavilan, Havana's idol and world welterweight champion, will defend his title at Havana against Billy Graham of New York some time during the first week of October in a 15-round bout.

Contracts were signed yesterday. The Cuban government's sports department is putting up a $40,000 guarantee.

Gavilan defeated Graham in New York by a split decision in a previous meeting.

Terms weren't announced, but it is understood that Gavilan will get $20,000 and Graham $12,000.

TOPS 2,000 RUNS

Dave Sheppard, star batsman for Cambridge University, Sussex County and England, yesterday became the first cricket player to top 2,000 runs this season.

He hit the mark when he scored four against Lancashire and went on to make 70.

Westwood Laces Elgin 15-6, Take Playdowns

HASTINGS— (ENS)— Westwood laced Elgin recently 15-6 to sweep the local playdowns in two straight games.

Scott was touched for 12 hits by Westwood but his teammates bobbled the ball no less than seven times, allowing Westwood to take the large margin. At times Scott suffered streaks of wildness. Between the errors and wildness he was in constant hot water.

Bob Wilson went the route for Westwood, pitching shutout ball until the sixth, when the Elgin team scored five of their six tallies. That rally came too late to do any good.

Westwood will now wait for a winner from the Legion - Flyers series which the Legion leads 1-0.

Lineups:

Westwood — J. Morrow, ss; L. Simpson, 2b; A. Wilson, 3b; B. Wilson, p; R. Lynch, rf; D. Wilson, c; B. McMillan, 1b; J. Renwick, lf; K. Humphries, cf.

Elgin—B. Kelly, c; P. Fife, 3b; A. Thistlewait, ss; B. Scott, p; E. Preston, 1b; H. Stinson, 2b; J. Marshall, cf; C. Metcalfe, rf; R. Wilson, lf.

Umpires—Blackbourn, E. Richardson, J. Richardson.

Bridgenorth Girls Win 27-20 Over Selwyn

BRIDGENORTH (ENS)—Bridgenorth's women's softball team grabbed the first game of a home-and-home series with Selwyn Wednesday night 27-20. Heavy hitting was the highlight of the game. The return game will be in Selwyn Tuesday night.

Selwyn used Barbara McConkey and Daisy Fitzgerald on the mound with Jean McIlmoyle catching. Ollie Harding went the full game for Bridgenorth with May Blewett on the receiving end.

Ruth Abbott slammed out a homer for Bridgenorth.

Umpires were Reg McConkey of Bridgenorth at the plate and Jim McConkey of Selwyn on the bases.

Buttoned Beets

PARRSBORO, N.S. (CP)—Gardner James John Phinney found a tiny twin beet plant growing through the holes of an old button. The plant has pushed its roots through the button in the garden of Mrs. John Spicer.

Improving City

MONCTON, N.B. (CP)—The 1952 paving contract for the city of Moncton went to a firm in Saint John, N.B., for sidewalk work and re-surfacing of several streets. City council passed an appropriation of $200,000 for the various projects.

Main Streets Awash

MANILA (AP)—Manila's main thoroughfares were turned into rivers and large sections of the city were awash today as the heaviest rains of the year continued without let-up for 48 hours. At least two deaths were attributed to the storm.

Francis Injured

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP) — Francis, Hollywood's talking mule, was injured last night when a trailer in which he was being taken to New York overturned. The animal was shaken up and bruised.

Omemee Wins In Semi-Finals

OMEMEE (ENS).—The Whitmore-Weir Combines took Lindsay Visking to the tune of 15-3 on Wednesday night in the first game in the semi-finals for the Lindsay Softball League played in the village last night.

Reg Gordon did some neat hurling for Omemee, striking out 13, allowing nine hits and issuing one pass. At bat he helped his own cause by producing two hits in four trips, and batting in two runs.

Lucas started on the mound for the Visking crew and in five innings allowed 17 hits, walked two and whiffed three. Joe Becke took over in the sixth, striking out two and allowing two hits. Becke got two safeties and Bate hit three for four for Visking.

For Omemee, Gerry Bryans banged out four safe hits in five tries. Roy Crawford got three for five, one a two run homer. Ken Bryans also hit three for five and every other player had at least one safety. Lineups:

Omemee Combines: Dracup 3b, G. Bryans cf, R. Craig c, J. Parsons rf, R. Crawford ss, R. Jamieson 2b, K. Bryans 1b, T. Pogue lf, R. Gordon p.

Visking: P. Plumpton c, D. Lucas p, G. Bate ss, J. Becke lf, Godhue rf, A. Kingsboro 3b, G. Abercrombie 1b, L. McLeich rf, N. Kenton 2b.

Umpires: Base, Abercrombie; plate, Bryans.

CLEAN-UP MAN — George Shuba was installed in the Brooklyn outfield to give the batting order more balance. The left-hand hitter assumed the Dodgers' batting leadership with .327, became their clean-up-man.

Dartford Church's Annual Outting

ROSENEATH (ENS)—Sandercock's picnic grounds on the south shores of Rice Lake, three miles west of Roseneath, was humming with activity again on Tuesday when upwards of seventy members of the congregation and Sunday school of Dartford United Church attended the annual S.S. picnic.

Dinner was brought to the tables in well-filled picnic hampers. Rev. H. G. Lester is pastor of the church and Mr. Jack Atkinson superintendent of the Sunday school.

A program of sports was run off in the afternoon. In the married ladies' sports, Mrs. Percy Honey carried off the honors, married men's class, Percy Honey, young men's class—Willis McCracken, young ladies' class—Miss Ida Honey. Denton Ward carried off the prizes in jumping; Alex Yule and Gordon Atkinson tied in the sports for boys 12 and under; Trevor Atkinson Jr. carried off the honors for six and under; Ruth Sykes was the prize winner for girls 12 and under.

Following the lands sports, swimming and boat rides took up the balance of the afternoon.

Drop Earlier Story Athletes Won't Leave

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The Stockholm newspaper Dagens Nyheter today dropped its earlier report that nine Hungarian Olympic athletes had refused to return to their Communist homeland. Neither the paper nor Associated Press correspondents could substantiate the report in Helsinki.

The paper had carried the report in editions last night under a Helsinki dateline. Repeated checks in the Finnish capital could find no basis for the report and it was dropped from editions today.

The report had said that the nine had taken refuge in western legations at Helsinki.

London Papers Pay Tribute To McCullagh

LONDON (Reuters)—The early death of George McCullagh, president and publisher of the Toronto Globe and Mail, was a sad blow to Canadian journalism, the London Times says today.

The paper published an obituary giving details of the life and achievement of McCullagh, who died in Toronto Tuesday at the age of 47.

The Times describees him as "approachable and youthful in manner as in years."

The Daily Telegraph, also pays tribute:

"Mr. McCullagh's death. . .removes a shooting star from the Canadian journalistic, financial and political scene, though his brilliance had been dimmed for several years by serious illness."

Panic In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Four earth shocks yesterday spread panic in villages of Sasquisili and nd Pastocalle in Cotopaxi province. Strong earth tremors also were felt at Latacunga and Lasso. No one was reported injured and there was little damage.

$90,000 At Stake In Tam O'Shanter

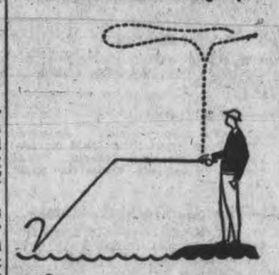
CHICAGO (AP)—Golfdom's biggest gold rush is on today. With $90,000 at stake, 80 men pros and 11 play-for-pay gals start swinging in the "world championship of golf" at Tam O'Shanter course.

Promoter George S. May's "world" meet also has amateur competition for men and women in a sort of four-ringed circus, but the pro showdown for a $25,000 men's first prize and $5,000 feminine top grab hogged the spotlight.

If last week's curtain-raiser means anything, Sam Snead is the man to whip. Snead strolled off with the all-American with a 17-under-par 271, eight strokes ahead of the field.

Chasing him will be select crowd, including 24 players who broke 288-par in the all-American scramble. Sambo's chief trouble may come from runner-up Tommy Bolt, Cary Middlecoff, Jack Burke, Wally Ulrich, Doug Ford and Jim Turnesa, all bracketed within three strokes in the all-American.

"COOL CONTROL"



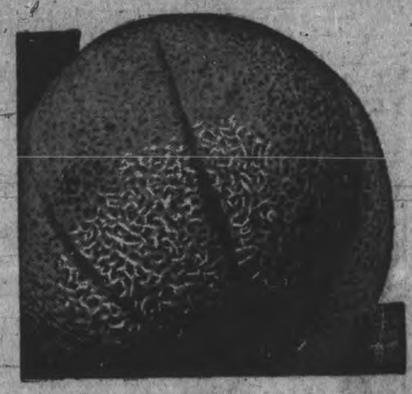
FLY CASTING

1 Begin with basic grip — thumb on back of rod checks the back cast, gives essential control. With rod extended, clear line and leader from water by tensing rod upward slightly.

2 When fly is surfaced, snap rod upwards sharply — this sends line smoothly behind you. This pick-up should be swift and snappy. Movement is done with wrist and forearm. Check movement of rod when it is straight up.

3 When rod is perpendicular, wait for line to straighten out behind. When tip bows with back pull snap rod forward to horizontal position. Do not use force—a smart snapping movement with wrist and forearm will give proper control.

Yes, it's control that counts, in fishing as in every sport — control which brings the extraordinary quality that sets one performer above the other. In the ability to approach things coolly, to control every move and moment, lies the answer to better results.



This is one of a series designed to increase the pleasure of Canadians who participate in sports.

Cheque Cashing Brings Arrests

TORONTO (CP)—Two men last night were charged with false pretenses in the cashing of about $5,000 in railroad rebate cheques. The cheques were cashed in Toronto, Montreal Quebec and Ottawa.

Arrested were Bernard Clement and Charles Ethier, both of Montreal.

Ottawa police said they believe they are the same pair who victimized Ottawa stores and banks last month.

Police suspect they are responsible for theft of a large book of claim cheques from the Canadian Pacific Railway office in Ottawa. Some $1,200 of the cheques were passed in Ottawa stores and $1,300 worth in banks there.

Identify Casualties

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States Defence Department today identified 54 Korean War casualties in a new list that included 11 killed, 39 wounded, one missing and three injured.

Snakes Bring Death To 24 Passengers

BOMBAY, India (AP)—Newspapers told today how 24 persons were killed in a bus accident caused by snakes on the loose.

The bus, loaded with Hindu woshippers, was going through the jungle in Hyderabad state last week to the Hindu festival of Nagpanchami. Among the travellers were several snake charmers with baskets of king cobras.

The basket lids came loose and the snakes escaped. Some of the reptiles appeared on the windshield and others crawled in with the driver.

The snakes had had their poison apparatus removed, but the driver became panicky and lost control. The bus went off the road and fell into a chasm.

The driver lived to tell how the crash occurred.

A BARN FIRE IN ENNISMORE township at 9 a.m. today was spotted by an alert photographer who recorded the tragedy from 600 feet. Owned by Leo Scollard of Lot 9, Concession 5, it was believed to have started from a milking machine gas engine. Stock and 100 bags of grain were saved but ten tons of hay and some implements were destroyed. The Bridgenorth Fire Department rushed to the scene but were unable to save the building. Mr. Scollard was unable to estimate the loss nor is it known what insurance was carried on the structure.—(Rocklands Airphoto—Mathias)

Fire Destroys Barn In Ennismore

Fire, believed to have started from a milking machine gas engine, completely destroyed a barn owned by Leo Scollard, lot 9, concession 3, Ennismore township, today.

The Bridgenorth Fire Department, which arrived about six minutes after the call came in at 9 a.m., spent all their effort to keep the house from catching fire.

Stock and about 100 bags of grain were saved from the barn and also some implements.

Mr. Scollard reported that the fire started about an hour after the milking had been completed. He said he believed that the gas engine on the milking machine caused the blaze.

NOTICED FLAMES

A neighbor, Michael Collins, first spotted the flames when he was driving past the Scollard farm. He told Mr. Scollard and the two men immediately started taking stock and grain out of the barn.

"We knew we couldn't save the building," Mr. Scollard said.

They were unable to completely clear the barn and 10 tons of hay, two plows, a set of sleighs and shop tools were destroyed.

The barn was a U-shaped structure made up of three sections, the main barn, tool shed and cow stable.

When the fire department arrived, the barn was past saving. Firemen sprayed the roof of the house and the grass around it to check the fire's advance. The house is situated about 200 feet from the barn and the wind was blowing flames toward it.

Ship Missing Off B.C. Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Gospel ship Messenger III today was reported missing in northern British Columbia waters with two crew members and "several" Bible college students aboard.

All ships in the area were asked to report any sighting of the 49-foot, gas-powered boat, operated by the Evangelistic Shantymen's Society.

It is the second ship to disappear on the coast in little more than a month. No trace has yet been found of the seiner Daisy B, which vanished July 3 with seven men aboard.

The R.C.A.F. said it is possible the Messenger III may have put into a sheltered cove to sit out bad weather.

The Messenger III left Kyoquot on the west coast of Vancouver Island Sunday for Prince Rupert, which she should have reached by the middle of this week.

Linre Hits "Object" Propeller Disabled

NEW YORK (AP)—The 33,000-ton Moore-McCormack liner Uruguay, with 322 passengers aboard, struck a submerged object 230 miles at sea today and disabled one of its two propellors.

The 618-foot vessel altered course and limped toward Newport News, Va., where it was expected to be drydocked for about 12 hours before resuming a 38-day South American cruise, the line reported.

Heroic Efforts Save Big Carrier

TOKYO (AP)—United States Far East naval headquarters today described how heroic crew members saved the aircraft carrier Boxer from flaming explosions which killed nine shipmates. Minutes after flames broke out below decks at dawn Wednesday, crew members braved the smoke and heat to unload bombs and ammunition from planes readied for strikes against North Korea. Other seamen donned oxygen masks and rescued comrades trapped by smoke and flames. Their skipper called it an "inspiring performance."

The navy here said the fire and explosions injured 32. The injury toll reported in Washington was 75, but a navy spokesman here said that probably included those temporarily overcome by smoke.

OTHER DIFFERENCES

The Washington account differed in other respects. The navy department said one exploding jet plane touched off the disaster and 12 other planes were destroyed.

Headquarters said the cause was undetermined and did not reveal extent of the damage.

The fire and explosions seared the 27,000-ton flattop's hangar deck.

A naval court of inquiry was ordered to investigate.

Although Capt. Marshall B. Gurney said the Boxer was able to carry on its mission, the carrier was sent to Japan for repairs. The explosions occurred 90 miles east of Wonsan, Korea east-coast port.

The nine dead included a navy doctor and two hospital men who braved flames to care for wounded shipmates.

Warn Ships, Planes To Avoid Islands

MELBOURNE, Australia (Reuters)—Shipping and planes today were warned off an area of 23,500 square miles encircling the uninhabited Monte Bello Islands, 12 miles off Western Australia, where Britain's first atomic explosion is to be staged.

No official date has been set for the explosion beyond the fact it will take place "sometime this year." Today's announcement indicates the stage is set for the test.

The British aircraft carrier Campania, believed to be carrying Britain's first atomic weapon, sailed from Perth, Western Australia, last Tuesday. She is the flagship of the 11 ships in the "atom fleet."

Shipping Czechs Out Of Cities

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Czechoslovakia is shipping middle class groups out of her key cities by the trainload and now has begun clearing political suspects out of villages along the Austrian border, usually reliable sources said today.

Informants said the Red regime has been shipping hundreds of such suspects from towns in a Czech "security zone" which skirts the Czech-Austrian frontier. A similar zone exists along the Czech frontier with West Germany.

One effect of the move is to cut down the number of anti-communists escaping to the west. Counter measures along the frontier already have cut the number of such escapes. Lately about 50 persons a month have been slipping across the line.

Thousands of families were reported being driven from their homes in Prague, Bratislava and other cities. The move is similar to that being carried on in Czechoslovakia's fellow satellites, Hungary and Romania.

Usually reliable sources reported the Czech deportations last night and said, as in the other two Red countries, they apparently have a two-fold aim—to break up concentrations of the business and professional class and to make housing available for favored workers.

Heavy Monsoon Rains Take 12 Lives In Luzon

MANILA (AP)—Twelve persons were listed as dead or missing in central Luzon today as the result of three days of heavy monsoon rains and high tides.

Rains lashing the largest of the Philippine islands slackened today, but the weather bureau said more downpours could be expected. The bureau said 18 inches of rain had fallen in the three days.

Communications were disrupted. Damage in Manila and at least 12 other flooded towns neared $1,000,000.

Greek Forces Told To Keep Bulgars Off

Troops Put On Alert Till Situation Over Island Settled

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Former Premier Sophocles Venizelos told a packed press conference today that Greek forces had been ordered to keep Bulgarian troops off the border island of Gamma, from which the Communist Bulgars were driven by Greek fire yesterday.

Venizelos said Greek troops at the river border between Greece and her Soviet satellite neighbor on the northwest had been ordered to stand by on the alert until the United Nations backs Greek demands for unquestioned sovereignty over the tiny island.

A dispatch from Istanbul, Turkey, said reports from the Turkish border 10 miles from Gamma indicated no new activity in the area, and that Turkish authorities appeared unexcited over the latest flare-up.

ANOTHER INCIDENT

(At the United Nations headquarters in New York yesterday, the Greek firing on a Bulgarian patrol on the island generally was considered just another one of the border incidents which have been a common feature of Greek-Bulgar relations in recent years.)

The Greeks earlier had reported a Bulgarian patrol—probably of 10 or 12 men—on the island and ordered them off by Wednesday morning. Yesterday the Greeks said the Bulgars were still on the island and fired on them for several hours with mortars and machine-guns. The Greeks said the Communists withdrew after the firing.

Responsible quarters here regarded the situation as crucial and speculated as to the results if the Greeks landed on Gamma. A general staff announcement last night said, however, that no Greek troops had been sent to the island since the only objective was to get the Bulgarians out.

(In New York, the U.N. received a report from its Balkans commission on the scene that both countries had large forces ready for action and that the situation was "very dangerous." The observers urged Greece to ask for U.N. intervention but Greece's delegate already had said his country was not contemplating such a request.)

The U.N. sub-committee here was reported preparing a report supporting the Greek claim of sovereignty over Gamma.

SEND PROTEST

Bulgaria has sent a letter to the United Nations secretariat protesting against a number of frontier incidents said to have occurred on the Greek-Bulgarian frontier between July 26 and Aug. 7, the Bulgarian news agency said in a report broadcast from Sofia today.

The protest alleged Greek tank and troop movements along the river and also complained that a Bulgarian frontier guard was killed and several wounded in an incident July 26.

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Chiefs of three big railroad unions today cancelled a strike set for Monday on New York Central Railroad lines east of Buffalo.

Judgment Reserved

TORONTO —(CP)— The Ontario Labor Relations Board reserved judgment on a request by the counsel of John Inglis Company for a declaration that a refusal to work overtime by members of two local unions of the United Steelworkers of America C.C.L.-C.I.O. constituted an illegal strike. E. B. Jolliffe, union counsel, said the company was trying to establish by backdoor methods a principle that a worker must work overtime if asked. He said there is nothing in Ontario statutes to make a worker work overtime.

Have Agreement To Pay Off German Debts

LONDON (AP)—An agreement to pay off the huge pre-war private German debts and end West Germany's status as a bankrupt country was approved here today by a 27-country conference.

The agreement now goes to a British-French-United States government commission on German debts. The commission, in consultation with the governments of other creditor countries, will draft an inter-governmental agreement putting the debt payoff system into effect.

A conference statement said that "broadly speaking, terms of the settlement adhere as closely as possible to the terms of the original contract and do not in most cases involve any reduction in the original principle amounts."

WILL PAY OFF DEBTS

This means that West Germany will pay off nearly all of Germanys private pre-war debts estimated at $2,500,000,000 to $3,000,000,000.

However, interest rates generally will be reduced and the maturity dates of the debts will be extended up to as much as 30 years to ease the strain on West Germany.

Separately, Britain, France and U.S. now are expected to agree on a scaling down of their multi-billion dollar post-war government relief loans to West Germany.

Conference sources hailed the private debt agreement as a milestone in the restoration of West Germany's credit and financial independence. No longer will West Germany be treated as a bankrupt country which had defaulted on its obligations. It is expected to open West Germany once again to a flow of private capital and investment.

12 Shots Fired In Car Chase

WINDSOR (CP)—Two Windsor youths were injured early today when their automobile turned over in a ditch after a three-mile-long police chase during which 12 warning shots were fired.

Condition of Daniel Bands, 20, and Ernest Charette, 18, both of Windsor, is "fair," hospital attendants said.

Constables Vic Branch and John Nechitaluk, in a police cruiser, spotted the automobile the two were driving proceeding at high speed through a Windsor intersection.

While Constable Nechitaluk kept the cruiser on the automobile's tail, Constable Branch fired the 12 shots.

10 On Bomber Die In Crash In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—A navy patrol bomber crashed early today on Shikoku Island in southern Japan killing all 10 crew members, the United States Navy announced.

Verifying earlier reports of the crash, the navy said an air force land rescue team had located the wreckage three miles south of the town of Nagahama on Shikoku's northwest coast.

A helicopter later was flown to the scene to remove the bodies.

Queen To Broadcast On Eve Of Coronation

LONDON (Reuters)—The Queen will broadcast to the nation on the evening of her coronation day, June 2, 1953, it was announced in the provisional coronation program issued tonight.

State banquets will be held at Buckingham Palace June 3 and 4.

New Pledge To Oust UK From Suez

Egyptian Government Considering Bill To Regulate Parties

CAIRO (Reuters)—The government today considered a bill to regulate political parties as Wafdist leader Mustafa Nahas issued a new firebrand declaration against British occupation of the Suez Canal zone.

The government's bill follows complaints of dictatorship by party leaders and "ignorance in which members are kept on the financial position," a spokesman said.

Ignoring dissension within his party, Nahas said the prime aim of the WAFD, largest political force in Egypt, is to purge the country of occupation forces and unite Egypt with the Sudan.

"WICKED CONSPIRATORS"

He said the WAFD would have succeeded last winter "but for the wicked conspirators who burned Cairo and ousted the WAFD from power."

Nahas, prime minister at the time of the violent guerrilla campaign against Britain which culminated in the "Black Saturday" riots in Cairo Jan. 26, outlined WAFD policy in a statement to Aly Maher last night. It was issued today.

"We shall not be deterred from our big task. . .and have reorganized our ranks for the great mission ahead," he said.

WILL LIBERATE NILE

"We shall give life and blood to liberate the Nile valley and give happiness to its people."

Nahas praised the "brave Egyptian Army" for its success last month, under the leadership of Gen. Mohamed Naguib, in ousting the administration and forcing Farouk from the throne.

Despite Nahas' firm policy declaration, the WAFD party is split over the purge within its ranks following last month's coup. Scores of members have demanded election of a new party executive. The executive is still dominated by Fuad Serag el Din, millionaire secretary-general of the WAFD and Nahas' right-hand man.

Dr. Hamed Zaki, former minister expelled from the party, is organizing other expellees to consider "the best means of removing persons who at present control the WAFD party."

Three Children Found In Woods

SAULT STE MARIE, Ont. (CP)—A search party organized by provincial Police today found three children who were lost in woods about 10 miles north of the Sault since late Thursday.

The three, Yvonne Poirier, 11, Billie Greer, 10, and Barbara Gree 8, were unharmed. A. Poirier, father of Yvonne who joined in the search, said they slept under a tree after losing their way on old roads in the Silver Creek area. Their bicycles found on the Silver Creek road led searchers to their recovery at 10 o'clock this morning.

Officials Urgently Study Note In United Kingdom

TEHRAN (Reuters)—Iran has sent a note to Britain offering to reopen negotiations with the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company, the huge British concern which it took over last year amid bitter British protests. The note said Iran will negotiate with a view to finding a means of "investigating the just claims of the former oil company and reciprocal claims of the Iranian government." It added: "If no agreement is reached by direct negotiations between the company's representatives and the Iranian government, the company may pursue its claims in a competent Iranian court."

The note expressed hope that the British government, majority owner of A.I.O.C., would recommend the oil company to appoint representatives for this purpose.

URGENTLY STUDIED

Negotiations would be conducted under the nationalization law, one of the first acts passed by Premier Mohammed Mossadegh when he took office last year.

(In London it was learned that the note is being urgently studied at the Foreign Office. A spokesman declined to discuss details, but it was understood the note returned the situation to where it was about a year ago.

(Negotiations at that time got nowhere, although Britain sent a minister to Tehran and Averell Harriman, President Truman's special envoy, used his influence to get the dispute settled Eventually A.I.O.C. withdrew its staff. The refinery at Abadan has since then been virtually idle, with Iran unable to dispose of the stocks of oil on hand.)

14 Top Reds Jailed 5 Years

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's 14 top-ranking Communists were sentenced yesterday to five years in prison and fines of $10,000 each.

They stolidly heard the maximum sentence pronounced by U.S. Judge William C. Mathes after he upheld the verdict of a jury finding them guilty of conspiracy to teach and advocate violent overthrow of the government.

The 14 defendants immediately filed notice that they will carry the case to the U.S. circuit court of appeals. Those sentenced:

Frank Carlson, Dorothy Healey Connelly and her husband, Philip M. Connelly, Ben Dobbs, Ernest Otto Fox, Mrs. Rose Chernin Kusnitz, Carl Rude Lambert, Albert Jason (Mickey) Lima, Al Richmond, William Schneiderman, Frank E. Spector, Mrs. Loretta Starvus Stack, Henry Steinberg and Mrs. Oleta O'Connor Yates.

Hundreds File Past McCullagh's Bier

TORONTO (CP)—Hundreds of citizens today filed past the bier of George McCullagh, publisher of the Telegram and the Globe and Mail, who died Wednesday at 47.

As the mid-afternoon hour of the funeral approached, the casket lay open at St. Paul's Anglican church. Earlier, many persons viewed it at a funeral home.

CHAINED COMMIES—Five of the 14 top communists recently convicted of conspiring to teach the overthrow of the government are chained together in Los Angeles, Calif., just before they were sentenced to five years in jail. Left to right, Philip Connelly, Henry Steinberg, Ben Dobbs, Frank Spector and Frank Carlson.

Began Helicopter Mail Service, Pilot Killed

TORONTO (CP)—A helicopter crash in northern Quebec yesterday killed Robert McLean Cooke, 33, of Oshawa.

Cooke was employed by Kenting Aviation Limited of Oshawa, the aircraft operating company for Photographic Survey Corporation of Toronto.

An announcement by Photographic Survey Corporation said the helicopter piloted by Cooke struck a wire and crashed into the Bersimis River near the site of a proposed Quebec hydro dam 100 miles north of Baie Comeau. Cooke was alone in the aircraft.

INITIATED SERVICE

He was the man who initiated Canada's first regular mail delivery by helicopter.

From last January 7 to April 30 he had flown from Lewisporte, in the Gander Bay Arm area of Newfoundland, to deliver mail and freight to 18 isolated mission communities on islands along the coast. Altogther, 15,000 pounds of mail were carried.

The helicopter mail service was operated by the Canada Post Office to areas where regular winter delivery was made virtually impossible due to snow. Before Cooke arrived with his helicopter, two-month delivery on mail was not unusual.

Despite exceptional fog, snow, wind and cold — local residents said it was the worst winter in 20 years—Cooke got the mail through, making regular deliveries every 10 days.

A veteran of the R.C.A.F. service during the Second World War the pilot had flown helicopters for 18 months. His widow and two children live in Oshawa.

Suspend Umpire Indefinitely

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill McGowan, 56, an American League umpire for 27 years, has been suspended indefinitely for an incident in which he was accused of insulting sports writers covering a game at Sportsman's Park.

McGowan was suspended by Will Harridge, league president, after strong protests had been made yesterday by the Globe-Democrat and the East St. Louis (Ill.) Journal.

When McGowan ejected pitcher Billy Hoeft from the Detroit bench in Wednesday night's contest between the Tigers and the St. Louis Browns, the writers asked McGowan for information. They were not sure which player had been chased.

McGowan's reply, the writers said, was "I'll write you a letter." Sports editor Ellis Veech of the Journal said McGowan later made obscene gestures toward the press box.

Old Bogus Money Circulating Again

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Counterfeit $10 bills produced by the smashed Salli-Iraci gang are back in circulation here and in Toronto, federal agents reported.

The United States Secret Service yesterday renewed efforts to trace bogus money passers who have apparently gained access to a cache of phoney bills estimated at $200,000.

Secret Service men issued descriptions of the counterfeit money after identifying bills passed to store owners here and in Toronto as products of the Salli-Iraci outfit.

Agents seized more than $600,000 in counterfeit money when they broke up the large-scale Salli-Iraci ring in May, 1950. Special agent Edwin Manning said the gang had turned out $800,000 worth of bogus U.S. and Canadian $10 and $20 bills in their plant at nearby Depew.

The gang leaders are in prison. Sam Salli is serving a 10-year sentence and Anthony Iraci five years.

Greek - Bulgarian Skirmishes Dangerous

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The spearheads of nearly 300,000 well-armed troops face each other across the Greek-Bulgarian border, where a skirmish was fought yesterday for an outpost.

Greek and Bulgarian soldiers have been mobilized along the border for years. Both sides are ready to fight.

The skirmish was over tiny Gamma Island in the Evros River which forms the border. The Greeks, who claim the island, said the Bulgarians had invaded it, and opened a mortar attack to drive them back.

Any clash between these hostile neighbors could have serious results. They form one part of an uneasy line stretching from the Mediterranean to the North Sea. Behind them are the massed forces of the West and East.

DEPENDS ON KREMLIN

But most United States officials in Europe believe that a border incident would mushroom into major conflict only when the Kremlin decides on a bigger gamble than it has taken so far.

Nevertheless, the incident highlights the status of the explosive Balkans where the first shots of the First World War were fired almost 40 years ago.

Greece, one of the newest members of the North Atlantic treaty organization, is one of Russia's veteran opponents in the global hot-cold war. The Greeks fought and won a bloody campaign against Communist guerrillas, ending in 1949. The United States since 1947 has supplied arms and training to build a modern Greek army.

10 DIVISIONS

This force totals about 10 divisions — nearly 150,000 men — with supporting air and naval units. Picked army units are stationed along or near the Bulgarian border in Thrace, from whence any land assault would come.

The Bulgarian army is estimated to total between 11 and 15 divisions of approximately 10,000 men each. They are armed with modern Soviet equipment, and at least two divisions are believed to be armored.

The Bulgars also face border forces of the modernized and tough Turkish army in Thrace, where the boundaries of Greece, Bulgaria and Turkey join.

Bulgaria is one main invasion route from central Europe for any thrust toward the vital Mediterranean, believed to be a prime Soviet target.

Montreal Blast Still Mystery Week Of Investigation Fruitless

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal's mystery blast of last Saturday is still a mystery.

A week of investigation by police and municipal authorities has produced no clue to the cause of the bizarre disturbance that shook widely-separated sections of the city without leaving a trace of its cause.

It was shortly before 2 p.m., EDT, that the shock, generally described as a short, sharp jolt, rattle buildings in the southern, eastern and northern districts. Some persons felt the disturbance and heard a blast. Others heard no explosion. One woman reported seeing a "ball of fire" coming down out of the sky.

HUNDREDS REPORTED IT

Hundreds of persons telephoned police, the fire department, newspaper offices and radio stations.

Yet, police reported no trace of a blast or explosion or damage to property, the fire department said no fires occurred about that time and municipal authorities found sewer and other facilities operating normally.

The most widely-held theory is that the jolt was caused by an aircraft diving faster than the speed of sound. This creates a shock wave that causes a tremendous clap as the wave hits the ground.

NO R.C.A.F. JETS UP

The R.C.A.F. says it had no jet aircraft aloft. Canadair corporation, which produces jet fighters, says it had jet planes up but their pilots have strict instructions not to create such disturbances. And, they add, such a disturbance could be felt over only a half-mile area.

The shock last Saturday was felt in two areas about five miles apart. On uptown St. Catherine street, a big plate glass window in a store was shattered and, in a house up on Mount Royal, a lamp toppled from a table.

The disturbance did not last long enough to be classified as an earthquake.

Catch Two Men After Chase

TORONTO (CP)—Donald Frost, 19, and Roger Thornton, 17, both of Toronto, who escaped Wednesday from the Ontario reformatory at Guelph, were recaptured yesterday in a west-end rooming house.

The search for the two youths swung to this city when a guard's car, taken from the reformatory at the time of escape, was discovered in west-end High Park.

Early yesterday Toronto harbor police spotted the two youths in a canoe on Lake Ontario. They gave chase in a speed boat and the youths scrambled ashore and raced out of sight through High Park.

U.S. Dollar At Discount

MONTREAL (CP)—The American dollar was at a discount of 3 9-32 cents, the Bank of Canada reported at noon today, EDT. Thursday's noon rate was 96 3-32 cents. The pound sterling was $2.68½ Thursday.

Refuse Proposal To Limit Wires

WASHINGTON (AP)—A federal communications commissioner examiner yesterday turned thumbs down on a Western Union proposal to limit the leasing of racing wires to just three classes of customers in the news dissemination field.

The examiner, Fanny N. Lipvin, said the proposal would not accomplish its announced purpose—that is, to keep horse and dog racing information out of the hands of bookmakers.

The examiner's findings were issued by the F.C.C. in the form of an initial decision, which will become final automatically within 40 days, unless exceptions are filed.

Western Union itself initiated the proposal to restrict those eligible to lease its wires for racing news transmission to (1) press associations, (2) radio and television stations, and (3) publications such as newspapers eligible for second-class mailing privileges.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ROBERT S. NORTHEY

LAKEFIELD (ENS) — Mrs. Robert S. Northey, the former Lena Victoria Payne, 67, lot 34, concession 11, Smith township, died Thursday following a two years illness.

Mrs. Northey was born in Dummer township, daughter of the late Lazarus Payne and Rebecca White. She has lived in Smith township for the past 43 years with the exception of six years in St. Catharines.

A member of Lakefield Baptist Church, Mrs. Northey was a member of the church choir and taught Sunday school for several years.

Synopsis:

The pleasant summer weather of the past few days will continue today throughout most of the province, although cooler air is edging into northwestern Ontario. During the day northerly winds will push this cool air across Northern Ontario with showers and thundershowers occurring ahead of it.

A disturbance over Nebraska is expected to move towards Ontario today pushing cloud ahead of it into southern regions tonight and bringing showers and thundershowers to southern and central Ontario on Saturday.

Regional forecasts valid until midnight Saturday:

Eastern Lake Ontario, Haliburton regions:

Sunny today, becoming cloudy tonight and Saturday. Showers and thundershowers Saturday evening. Little change in temperature. Winds southwest 15. Low tonight and high Saturday at Trenton 55 and 80, Kingsmere 50 and 75.

Summary for Saturday — Cloudy. Evening showers.

Fire Damages Paper In Thornbury

THORNBURY (CP)—Fire of unknown origin last night roared through the back part of the premises housing the weekly newspaper, Thornbury Review Herald. Damage was estimated at $9,000.

The fire broke out near the press, and was confined to the rear of the building.

Thornbury is 30 miles east of Owen Sound.

Strike Averted Accepts Terms

WINNIPEG (CP)—An eleventh-hour capitulation to union demands by city aldermen yesterday averted a threatened strike of 2,500 civic workers.

The strike, scheduled to begin at midnight last night, was called off by officials of the Federation of Civic Employees (C.C.L.) when aldermen granted the workers a 40-hour week and a 7½-per-cent pay boost.

Union executives accepted the city offer at 3 p.m. A straw vote of an informal city council meeting at 4:30 p.m. agreed to the concession. Officials of the union then instructed member employees to continue their shifts "as usual."

FORMAL APPROVAL MONDAY

A formal meeting of city council will be held Monday to ratify the settlement.

The 40-hour work week was the stumbling block in lengthy union-city negotiations. City council last Friday voted 8 to 7 to grant the pay increase or the 40-hour week, but not both. The union voted to strike for both.

Capitulation to union demands followed a day-long meeting of nine aldermen, members of the Civic Election Committee. Seven had opposed granting both union demands.

The 40-hour week becomes effective Dec. 31, two weeks later than demanded by the union.

EXAMINE WAGE STRUCTURE

The city also agreed to examine the civic wage structure for unfair differentials and to begin an immediate wage survey in the area. The city wage scale would then be adjusted to conform with other wage levels where necessary.

Costs of the wage increase to the city are estimated at $635,000 annually, with the 40-hour week costing an additional $492,000.

The threatened strike would have been the first tie-up of city services since the general strike in 1919. Preparations for emergency garbage services were well advanced when the city agreed to employee demands.

Lamport Launching Drive Against Crime

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Lamport is launching a personal campaign against crime in Toronto. He said yesterday he was placing the drive at the head of his business agenda and would pursue it with unrelenting vigor until "the streets are once again safe for the innocent and unsuspecting citizens."

The mayor said he would reduce the temptation awaiting law-breakers by tightening protection of properties throughout the city. He appealed to all citizens to co-operate in his drive.

Some Pacific Powers Huffed Over Pact

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States, Australia and New Zealand have set up a military organization for mutual security but there is bound to be disappointment among the Pacific powers that were excluded.

The decision not to make any formal link now with other Pacific nations was announced at the end of three days of conferences by U.S. State Secretary Dean Acheson and External Affairs Ministers Richard Casey of Australia and Clifton Webb of New Zealand.

Fred T. Rappe

The funeral for Frederick Thomas Rappe, 517 Bolivar St., who died Tuesday, was held Thursday from the Comstock funeral home.

The Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Bert McFadden, William and Ormond Sharpe, Harry Hamley, Vincent McDonald, Fred Walker. Burial was in Bowmanville cemetery.

A Masonic funeral was held for Mr. Rappe Wednesday evening.

Report Prices Mixed On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO (CP) — Prices were mixed in early afternoon stock market trading today but industrials pushed cautiously higher.

Volume for the first three hours totalled 1,017,000 shares.

Good support buoyed all industrial sections except liquors as trading became active. Textiles, banks, refining oils, manufacturing and miscellaneous issues showed strength.

Base metals drifted lower as outnumbered gains in trading that spread fairly evenly over many issues. International Nickel, Steep Rock and Rix Athabaskan showed strength but Consolidated Smelters, Falconbridge and Noranda slipped.

Senior golds and junior producers were weak and holding companies mixed but prospects drew some speculative support. Marbenor, a prospect, was the heaviest trader, losing pennies on a turnover of more than 80,000 shares in the first three hours. Gunnar and Athone showed strength.

Selected issues in western oils traded actively. Sapphire and consolidated Rochette gained pennies in heavy turnovers.

The exchange's 1 p.m. indices showed industrials up 1.84 at 332.52 golds down .18 at 93.77, base metals down .59 at 197.99 and western oils up .80 at 141.62.

C.C.F. Asks War On Poverty

TORONTO (CP)—A "spectacular program" of economic and social advance in every part of the world, was urged yesterday by the national convention of the C.C.F. In a resolution entitled "war on poverty" the convention called on Canada to spend "a larger share of its federal budget" towards such a program. It termed "a shameful pittance" money now being spent to provide technical and capital assistance to underdeveloped areas of the world. It advocated, among other things, allocation, in accordance with need, of raw materials; international action to achieve maximum production of food; increase in the scope and resources of the Colombo Plan to help southeast Asia; expansion of world trade, and higher living standards everywhere.

"The high objectives of the United Nations charter," said the resolution, "are in danger of being destroyed by the ruthless attacks of world communism and the blind greed of world capitalism."

The resolution also said: "military preparedness, necessary though it is in the present international situation, cannot take the place of positive action to end poverty and exploitation."

The convention turned down, after a heated debate, a move to delete the words, "necessary though it is in the present international situation."

Some delegates opposed any expression of sanction of "military preparedness."

Others, supported by a large majority of the convention, declared that collective security is necessary in the world of today. Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan said:

"In the kind of world we live in we must have force. But it should be constructive force. And we must remove the poverty and insecurity which inevitably lead to war."

Mrs. Gretchen Steeves of Vancouver declared: "We cannot throw away our arms. What we are saying is that a great deal more of our resources must go for economic aid."

Donald MacDonald, national organizer, said the C.C.F. will have more than 200 candidates to contest the 265 seats at the next federal election. At least 100 would be nominated by the end of this year.

Kenneth Younger, member of the British parliament and secretary of state in the last Labor government, in a dinner address to delegates, said "government planning has come to stay" in Britain.

"We are far from having created an ideal machinery of planning but much of what we did will stand, whatever our opponents may seek to do."

Rhee Sees No Hope Yet Of Any Peace For Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Syngman Rhee, still the shrewd political mastermind of the republic he helped found four years ago, sees no hope of peace for war-torn Korea in his coming second four-year term as president.

Peace will come, he told reporters today, only when Russia is "fully convinced it cannot defeat the free nations."

He hopes, however, that the United Nations forces "will be able to defeat and drive out our communist enemy" during his second term.

NO HOPE OF ARMISTICE

Rhee, 77, said he never had any hope of success for the Korean armistice talks "and I have none now."

Rhee swept to an overwhelming victory over three opponents Tuesday in South Korea's first direct presidential election. He was elected by the national assembly to his first term.

He said he didn't seek re-election but "I have to surrender my personal desires and obey the mandate of the people."

Unofficial returns gave Rhee 5,253,457 votes to 1,802,599 for his opponents. The inauguration will be next Friday, fourth anniversary of the republic.

SHOWED GRIP

It was in the vice-presidential race that Rhee showed his tight grip on Korean politics.

Rhee supporters noted that the top bid was coming from the former home minister, Lee Bum Suk, who was once a top general in the Chinese Nationalist army. The Rhee camp feared that, once in the no. 2 spot, Lee would find a way to get rid of Rhee and place himself in power.

Lee apparently believed he had Rhee's blessing. But a dozen of his workers were arrested and his campaign virtually fell apart.

Word went out that Rhee's real choice was Ham Tai Yung, chairman of the board of audit. Ham won by more than 1,000,000 votes.

Red Cross Conference Closes With New Plea For Unity

TORONTO (CP)—The three-week 20th International Red Cross conference closed here yesterday with pleas for unity among the 62 countries represented.

Almost daily since the conference opened, Communist delegates attacked the Red Cross, the United States and the United Nations. Last week James T. Nicholson, vice-president of the United States Red Cross, told delegates that the Red Cross had been placed on trial before the world by the Communist attacks. He said the Communist delegations were at the conference to create conflict.

RED DELEGATES SILENT

Yesterday the delegates of the Soviet bloc and the Peoples' Republic of China were silent as western speakers took the rostrum to ask that the Red Cross be retained as a symbol of mercy throughout the world.

The Countess of Limerick, vice-chairman of the British Red Cross, made the first and most impassioned appeal. She said:

"I believe that the world has been watching, not merely with interest, but with anxiety to see whether the Red Cross would emerge from this conference a weakened body, torn by dissensions, or a more vital body reaffirming those fundamental principles of freedom, justice and charity on which the future of the organization depends."

"Men of goodwill should unite in the service of humanity no matter what differences of politics, religion or nationality might divide them," she said. "Human welfare is above the confusion and brutality of the battlefield."

"In a world torn by dissension and unrest the Red Cross stands out as a beacon—an enduring active focus of kindness, an impartial and international bond of humanity, an ideal in which we can all share and for which no effort can be in vain."

U. S. delegate Nicholson said the conference was forced to lay aside the purposes for which it was convened.

"Instead it was forced to determine whether the Red Cross was to continue as a non-partisan instrument of mercy or whether it should lend itself to partisan aims."

Paul Ruegger, president of the International Committee of the Red Cross, was not disappointed in the conference.

BAPTISM OF FIRE

"We may be able to say one day" he said, "that the 18th International Red Cross conference was one of the great meetings that made it possible for the universal ideal of the Red Cross to be submitted successfully to its baptism of fire."

The work of the Red Cross did not depend on conferences, he said. "The idea of the Red Cross was not born at a conference, and one conference could never kill it."

Most Rev. Ildebrando Antoniutti, Apostolic Delegate to Canada and representative of the Vatican at the conference, earlier thanked the Red Cross "for the aid it has given and is continuing to give to suffering mankind."

BAN ON ATOMIC WEAPONS

Last business at the conference yesterday was the adoption of a resolution urging national societies to request their governments to support a ban on atomic weapons. The resolution, originally introduced by the Soviet delegation, had been passed by the general commission with a United Kingdom amendment.

The general commission, under the chairmanship of Andre Francois-Poncet of France approved and presented to the plenary sessions 23 resolutions during the conference.

Among them were resolutions urging ratification and application of the Geneva conventions, repatriation of victims of war, concerning international law, atomic weapons and legal assistance to refugees.

Somehow lost in the recurrent clashes between east and west were reports of work of the Red Cross. Little note was given to the news that the International Committee has sheltered 43,922 persons from Poland and 16,470 from Czechoslovakia from March, 1950, to December, 1950, until they could join relatives in Western Germany.

MUCH RELIEF WORK

The League of Red Cross Societies, the federation of national societies, reported contributions of relief for refugees in Greece, Burma, Austria, France, Germany, Italy, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Western Germany.

In Korea, league members made available more than $1,000,000 in relief supplies and provided five medical welfare teams during 1951.

Since the 17th conference in Stockholm in 1948, the league has contributed $20,000,000 in relief assistance in connection with earthquakes in Iran, Ecuador, Peru, El Salvador, Turkey, Japan; floods in Canada, the United States, Mexico, Guatamela, Italy; typhoons in the Philippines, a mining disaster in Belgium, famine in India, Pakistan and Burma, hurricanes in Jamaica, cyclones in Martinique and avalanches in Yugoslavia.

Making 9,000-Mile Tour On Bicycle

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—A 43-year-old Canadian railroad worker who has pumped his bicycle 132,000 miles today left to complete his second coast-to-coast tour of the United States.

Romeo Morin of Montreal, a Canadian Pacific Railroad employee, has spent his last 25 summers pedalling over North America and Europe.

This, his last tour, will take him 9,000 miles through the U.S. and Mexico.

Unusual Twins

GREENFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A Jersey heifer cow has given birth to twin bull calves—one a black Angus, the other a white-faced Hereford. Dr. Charles H. Bolford, Deerfield veterinarian, described the freak as "super-fecundation," explaining the heifer was made pregnant twice, by a Black Angus bull and a white-faced Hereford that grazed in the same pasture with her.

Young Heifer Found Slaughtered

COBOURG (ENS) — A new wrinkle in cattle rustling was discovered Thursday near Grafton when Roy Broomfield found one of his two-year-old heifers slaughtered and one hind quarter removed. About 400 pounds of beef were left behind by the thief to spoil.

Mr. Broomfield has a herd of ten fine Holsteins and the heifer in question had been left out to pasture. The thief tied it to a tree and cut its throat. After he had cut away a hind quarter he left the carcass where it lay.

Provincial police say it is a new one to them and that about $200 worth of heifer was destroyed. Provincial Constables Frank Clough and Stan Judson of Cobourg investigated.

11-Pound Pickerel From Round Lake.

HAVELOCK (ENS) — John Shotton, proprietor of the Havelock Creamery, caught a beautiful pickerel on Wednesday night in Round Lake that weighed 11 pounds and measured 31½ inches in length, and 16 inches in girth. Mr. Shotton was using a silver flash plug and he was accompanied by Harold Hoy, of Spencerport, N.Y., who is a summer visitor at Belmont Lake.

Shot Ends Triangle

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—What police termed "a middle-aged love triangle" was ended last night when a blast from a 12-gauge shotgun took the life of a steelworker as he sat alongside a 51-year-old widow. The victim was identified as Pasquale Trocchia, 50. Police arrested Frank J. Druzbik, 60, manager of a rooming house owned by Mrs. Apolonia Berner, the widowed mother of three children. He was charged with murder. Mrs. Berner said Druzbik had proposed to her, but that she had turned him down because of his excessive drinking.

August Dollar Days Offer Biggest Price Reductions

One of the biggest price-reducing sales in Peterborough history is being planned for the second week in August.

Peterborough retailers are preparing for what they expect will be a record number of shoppers on Peterborough Dollar Days, August 14, 15 and 16.

This is the first time in many years that a city-wide sale has been tried and the idea has the approval of the Retail Section of the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce.

Each participating merchant will be putting several selected articles on sale during Dollar Days at greatly reduced prices.

With the approach of autumn, mothers will be looking for new outfits for the youngsters when school opens in September, the man of the house will be in the market for a new fall suit and there will be outstanding clothing values for every members of the family during Dollar Days.

Dollar Days will be big news for every family—and what family isn't—faced with the problem of rising living costs and the necessity of providing clothing and other essentials for the home and every member of the family.

Advertisements will be appearing in the Examiner before the three-day mammoth sales event, to give shoppers a preview of the bargain values they can take advantage of during Peterborough Dollar Days on August 14, 15 and 16.

Legion Drumhead Set For Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD (ENS) — Branch 103 of the Canadian Legion, will be host for the district drumhead service on Sunday, Aug. 17. There will be a parade from the Legion Hall to the high school grounds, where the service will be held. The drum and bugle band from the R.C.A.F. station at Trenton, as well as the local band will take part.

The Officer Commanding Trenton R.C.A.F. will take the salute, and many dignitaries will be present, including the Provincial President of the Legion, T. A. Hulse.

Too Many Tag Days

COBOURG (ENS).—Here is one for the mayor and town council to consider. A citizen, who proposes to remain anonymous lest he be regarded as a parsimonious, has put forward the following suggestion about tag days. Quoth he:

"I am getting a little fed up with these Cobourg tag days and I propose that Council be asked to set aside some Saturday this fall on which date no tag day would be allowed to be held. Then people could go about their work, or play, on one weekend in the year without molestations from some charity-seeking organization, asking you to buy a tag. I think this would meet with hearty approval, so lets have a 'no-tag day' day."

Annual Look At The City Hall

Most Peterborough people have had a look at their new City Hall. Perhaps it is time that some took a second look. The building is a good one, an expensive one, and, we believe, well constructed. But even the best of buildings, new or old, requires an expert eye over it periodically to ensure that all is right. What provision will the city officially make to inspect the building after architect and builder are released from their contractual obligations, which will presumably be in a few months?

* * *

The Council has a property committee whose task it is to supervise city-owned properties. Whether or not this committee intends an annual or semi-annual tour we cannot say; nor can we say that it will lay down a policy to report on the state of the fabric and the condition of the interior of the most costly building and most important under its charge. We suggest that such an inspection and report be made annually, and remind the Council that by October the building will have been in use for a year.

* * *

We have in mind something like the visitation of the Grand Jury to the County Court House, but more expert. London (England) retains private architects to oversee the condition of its chief municipal buildings, to report annually on their state of preservation and to make recommendations. We believe that it would be a wise precautionary policy and a sound investment if Peterborough employed some expert to inspect and report annually on the City Hall to the Property Committee of the Council. Such a report together with the eyes of the aldermen and officials who use the building, might save many dollars and pains in the future.

By the way, may not the police wing need window screens for summer nights lest the flies make the police flee?

Egypt And The Free World

The new Egyptian government appears to be firmly in control, though even at this point there is a possibility of an attempt by the Old Guard to oust General Naguib. We do not think that a revolt would have much chance of success. The General acted with energy and determination. The Wafd party, which commands the majority of the electorate, has jumped onto the bandwagon and has already started to purge its own membership of its more obviously corrupt elements. Whether this purge has started from the bottom or the top does not appear, but we suspect that the former is the more likely supposition. It must be embarrassing to General Naguib to find himself supported by a party that was implicated in the corruption that he is trying to root out, even though it is making a belated effort to purify its ranks.

The direction of internal policy is fairly clear, and is aimed at eliminating the influence of the wealthy landowners and modernizing the Army. Steps have not yet been taken to introduce a modern system of income tax, the keystone of the fiscal system of the modern state; nor have any new measures of social service designed at improving the lot of the peasantry been formulated. It is reasonable to suppose that these will follow in due course as the new government becomes more stabilized. It must be remembered, however, that the success of income tax relies to a much larger degree than is commonly supposed on the good will of the public. In a country such as France it is quite the thing for reputable business concerns to doctor up their income tax returns. The tax bears hardest on those with pensions or fixed salaries, as there is no way of evading. The same situation would hold good in Egypt, where the standard of public morality is even lower.

The foreign policy of the government is still very much of an enigma. There are signs, however, that it will be willing to resume negotiations with Britain on the two outstanding questions, namely the defence of the Suez Canal and the sovereignty of the Sudan. There is no doubt that a settlement could be reached safeguarding the interests of the Western Powers without wounding Egyptian susceptibilities. The Sudan question could be left in cold storage for a few years until the Sudanese decide for themselves by plebiscite: Egypt could be named nominal suzerain while administration would be in the hands of the British. An international commission could exercise supervision to ensure impartiality.

It has been suggested that General Naguib is reorganizing the Army with a view to avenging the military debacle against Israel. Such a development is unlikely, because there is little possibility of it succeeding. Furthermore it would isolate Egypt entirely from the non-Arab world. Israel herself has strengthened her military position in the last three years or so and would prove an even tougher nut to crack. There is even a possibility that Israel might endeavour to expand her present borders to make room for her swollen population, which renders Naguib's action one of common prudence. The real danger, that of Communist infiltration, still remains lurking in the background, and the sooner the countries of the Middle East come to an agreement with the West in the face of the common foe the better for all concerned.

Picnic At Kingsmere

Mr. Mackenzie King was indubitably a democrat, in philosophy at least. He may have loved the common man, in the detached way of some scholars and uplifters of the public weal. But he did not really like to rub shoulders with him. We cannot help being amused therefore at the spectacle of people rubbing shoulders with his ruins—or rather grinding banana peelings and hot-dog droppings among the sacred precincts of his beloved country estate Kingsmere.

Mr. King left Kingsmere to the nation, presumably as a shrine, a place of seclusion for meditation on him (whose shade must haunt the place—was he not a spiritualist?) and on history—history whose shadow is cast right on the lawns and gardens of Kingsmere by the bits and pieces of perhaps historic stones, arches and gargoyles he gathered there (love among the ruins?). But Mr. King left Kingsmere to the nation. The part of the nation handiest to Kingsmere is the people—may we say Common People?—of Ottawa and Hull. Now Kingsmere's grace is being disgraced by the riff of raffing picnickers; Coney Island at Mr. King's mere. Yes, it's a picnic, too funny for words.

High and genteel residents of the area do not laugh at the banana peelings. When they bought property there they became neighbours of the most distinguished living Canadian, who was also perpetual Prime Minister, and cherished the beauty and privacy of the place. But Mr. King died, leaving a Last Testament. Now they are neighbours to half Ottawa and Hull. Perhaps the property values and the amenities will revive if Mr. King's spirit is called on to cry Peace, Peace over Kingsmere, and the administrators of the estate make a sharp definition of The Nation.

Uneasy Lies The Head

There are few sayings more misleading than the old phrase "happy as a king." Kingship has always been an extremely hazardous occupation from the earliest times onward. The Czarist system of government in Russia was aptly described as "autocracy tempered by assassination." The British monarchy has been a good deal more stable than most, but it has had its vicissitudes. Of eighteen monarchs up to the Tudor period no less than eight met with violent deaths. Since that date seventeen monarchs have died in harness. Of these no less than three succumbed to apoplexy. Two met violent deaths; of these one was beheaded by his loyal and obedient subjects, the other fell from a horse. Two abdicated. Even this comparatively peaceful record should make one think twice in the improbable event of a throne being offered to one.

Many crowns have toppled in the dust during the last fifty years. The historic thrones of Austria, Spain, Portugal and Russia have gone the same way as the upstarts of Italy, Germany, and a host of Balkan and Arab states. There have been assassinations of monarchs in Iraq, Siam, Persia, Afghanistan and elsewhere. Strangely enough the Japanese monarchy has survived the atom bomb. The latest to go has been Farouk, and it looks as though the Shah of Persia may follow him into exile fairly soon.

The Siamese monarchy has been of late the most uncomfortable assignment of all culminating in the mysterious death of the boy king Ananda, which was almost certainly brought about by an assassin. Small wonder, then, that the cousin of the present king, who stood next in line of succession, should express satisfaction at the news of the birth of an heir apparent. The former heir presumptive was attending a Red Cross cocktail party in the Royal York Hotel when the news came through. He told people that he felt as if a heavy weight had been taken off his shoulders: we are not surprised.

NOTES AND COMMENT

Members of the Peronista party of Argentina have been ordered to wear black ties for the rest of their lives, in mourning for the late Madame Peron. Odd that her own "Shirtless Ones" were not ordered to do likewise.

It is planned to release Bible-carrying balloons to drift through the iron curtain—pilotless missals?

THE AMERICAN SCENE:

Seaway To Be Invasion Route!

By KENNETH HARRIS

FOR THE NEXT FOUR weeks or so the Republicans and the Democrats, having chosen their candidates and drawn up their programmes for the November election, will enter a period of political truce.

The truce will resemble the kind of situation we now have in Korea. Both sides will continue to be at war and both will send out skirmishers on the ground and fast marauding bombers in the air, but neither will fail to take advantage if they can of a period in which heavy fighting might be avoided. In other words, the truce will be completely phoney.

The war will start again in big style on September 4, America's Labour Day. Both the Presidential candidates, Mr. Dwight Eisenhower and Governor Adlai Stevenson, and the Vice-Presidential candidates, Senator Richard M. Nixon (Republican) and Senator John Sparkman (Democrat) will penetrate through the country on their campaign trains, making speech after speech in the railway sidings of thousands of small towns and in the public halls of a few dozen big cities, pausing every now and again for a few days' rest at their bases.

Governor Stevenson, whose home and whose present post as Governor is in the politically important mid-Western state of Illinois, will make his own home, the Governor's mansion at Springfield, his personal headquarters.

✧ ✧ ✧

EISENHOWER is at present "holed up", as they say, in Denver, one of the agricultural West Central States, also a fairly central spot. But he may move his headquarters to Chicago, metropolis of the mid-West, the mid-West Republican vote being the one which the General does not yet command, and the one which he must grasp if he is to win the election.

At Chicago, he, too, would be in Illinois, only a short train-ride from his opponent in Springfield. If he should move to Chicago, all American eyes will be on Illinois, as they were nearly 100 years ago, when that State's greatest son, Abraham Lincoln, rose to the Presidency like a star which alone lit the spreading shadows of the coming civil war.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONE OF THE MAIN things which the American people want to find out from both parties is what its leaders propose to do to cut down the cost of living—now fifteen per cent. above what it was two years ago.

If the attitude of the two parties to the cost of living was reflected in the prices they made us pay for food and drink at their conventions, further, not less, inflation is going to be our fate. Corned beef sandwiches in the press room, usually thirty cents, were increased to fifty cents for two ordinary rounds of bread kept apart, with difficulty, by a thin slice of corned beef. For a five-cent bottle of coca-cola decanted into a cardboard cup by waitresses at the snack-bar we paid fifteen cents. An eighteen-cent bottle of beer was sold for forty cents, and ten-cent "hot dogs" fetched twenty-five cents.

✧ ✧ ✧

NEITHER PARTY made any attempt to under-cut the other, however. The inflation was bi-partisan. As an American reporter said to me, "Whoever wins in November, we shall go broke united."

Looking at the party programmes of both parties, I was unable to see very much difference between them. Having studied the vital statistics of the conventions, however, I believe that there is no ground for the common supposition at home and abroad that the Republicans are the better-fed and more prosperous party of the two.

Whereas the Republicans got along on twenty-five thousand hot dogs, the Democrats gnawed their way through thirty-five thousand of them before somebody said "Hold! Enough!" On soft drinks the Republicans ran the Democrats pretty close, getting outside of ninety-three thousand of them as compared with the Democrats' one hundred and six thousand. On ice cream the party of the people were easy winners, disposing of twenty-four thousand orders to the Republicans' rather hoity-toity twelve thousand. No statistics have been released for the consumption of alcoholic drinks.

✧ ✧ ✧

ONE OF THE MOST AMUSING incidents of the Republican Convention was a parody of the front-page of the isolationist pro-Taft "Chicago Tribune" issued in full typographical detail and to full-page size. Nobody knows quite who issued this, but it was thought that the Eisenhower headquarters did. The paper was called the "Chicago Tyfoon," and across its head-space in place of the usual little slogans were the similarly sounding "All the news that fits we print," "The world's greatest newspaper," and "An editorial in every column."

✧ ✧ ✧

TO ENJOY the excellent and extremely pertinent parodies in every inch of the "Tyfoon," the reader would need to have had the unfortunate experience of reading the Tribune for a long period, but since proprietor Colonel McCormick's extravagant pro-Americanism, anti-everybody-else-ism, and contempt for every American who is not a mid-Western Taftite, is well-known, a few examples may be worth quoting.

"St. Lawrence Seaway—possible invasion route," reads one headline in the "Tyfoon." "Enemy thrust possible. Canadian-British Armada — Rhodes scholars may lead amphibious assault." Another "story" is headlined "Republicans to ban independent votes. Plan will keep party pure." This story begins: "David Shingles (a play on the name of Mr. David Ingalls, Taft's political adviser.) "Top Republican strategist, announced at a press conference today that any attempt by independent voters to cast their ballots for Republican candidates will be rebuffed. . . . Experienced observers unanimously agree that this ruse will torpedo any attempt by the lunatic fringe of twelve million voters to capture the party and stray from the tenets of Calvin Coolidge." (A very conservative Republican, elected President in 1924.)

✧ ✧ ✧

TO TURN FROM THE parody to the parodied, a glance at some of the "Chicago Tribune's" editorials and reports outlining the extent to which American foreign policy is dominated by the British Foreign Office would give something to think about to those British and other politicians who are always complaining that the reverse is true.

For instance, writing editorially of the apology which Mr. Dean Acheson, United States Secretary of State, made to the British for the failure to consult them before the bombing of the Yalu, the Tribune said: "Mr. Acheson agreed that was a terrible oversight showing a lack of consideration by the American colonials, who ought to know better than to take the initiative without first obtaining Her Majesty's gracious consent."

"While Acheson was on bended knee beseeching the Royal pardon," continues the Tribune — not the "Tyfoon" — "Emmanuel Shinwell, Minister of Defence in the former Labour Government, boasted in the House of Commons that it was the British Government which had put the spoke in General MacArthur's wheel at the time Mr. Truman was persuaded to fire him in April 1951."

The Tribune then gave quotations from Mr. Shinwell's speech—it can quote very accurately when it wants to—and its editorial concluded: "We think that this is all that any American need know about the State Department under Truman and Acheson. It simply exists to carry out London's instructions. The British, in fact, are more firmly installed over the conduct of America's destiny than they were before the patriots of 1776 chased them out of the country."

✧ ✧ ✧

HIGHSPOT of the Democratic Convention, as far as amusement went, was the fabulous party given at the Blackstone Hotel by Mrs. Perle Mesta, the American Minister to Luxembourg, now immortalised by the trumpet-toned soprano, Ethel Merman, in "Call Me Madam."

Mrs. Mesta, a very rich lady, but a very good-natured and motherly soul, announced that the party couldn't be a "caviar" affair because it would have to be held after a late-night convention session. I was invited to the party, and went, and though there was no caviar there, it was about the only edible that wasn't.

Ethel Merman was there in person to sing Madame Mesta's theme song—"The Hostess with the Mostest"—and her own theme song, the famous "I've Got Rhythm." Dozens of radio and film people were there, and some of the big Democratic leaders, like Jim Farley, and some of the Republicans, like William Randolph Hearst, the newspaper-chain owner, sang songs. A Cabinet Minister told a funny story and the wife of one of President Truman's assistants sang a ballad.

A lot of entertainment came from the cast of "Guys and Dolls," a musical show on locally, who begged the Democrats to settle their inter-party differences soon, nominate a candidate and get the hell out of town since the Convention was driving them out of business.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE SONG that sung Eisenhower to success at Chicago was "I Like Ike" from "Call Me Madam" by Irving Berlin. Governor Stevenson's supporters adopted—and adapted,—as their theme song "I'm In Love" from "South Pacific" by Rodgers and Hammerstein:

"He's as honest as Abraham Lincoln,
He's the best guy on earth,
So let's sing of his worth,
He's our Gov . . . .
He's a wonderful guy.

"Now he's called to head up our nation,
Look at his record and you will know why.
He's the man that we need,
We'll all follow his lead . . .
He's our Adlai, our Adlai, our Adlai,
Our Adlai's a wonderful guy."

Nobody has summed up what seems to be the general feeling in America about the choice of the two Presidential candidates better than Fletcher Knebel, Washington's leading political humorist: "So it's to be Ike and Adlai—and either way we can feel grateful that we'll keep all our allies and almost half our pay-checks."

An American Opinion: LOOK AT THIS ONE FOR AWHILE!

Mr. King's Ruins

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

THE Federal District Commission has found "Mackenzie King's Ruins", the collection of handsome or historic stones the former Prime Minister put together at Kingsmere, a top attraction for Ottawa visitors and their guests. Mr. King, his friends must believe, would be happy in the knowledge that so many thousands have visited the property he left to the nation to ponder over the working of a modern and agile mind that found satisfaction in having weather-beaten coats of arms carved in stone brought from England to stand for new centuries in a Quebec glade.

The commission has done a good job in providing signs to direct the traveller to Kingsmere and the ruins. There is one omission the commissioners should quickly repair.

This is picnic weather and families going to Kingsmere on an outing often carry with them sandwiches and soft drinks. They leave their cars at the parking lot and carry their supplies along the winding trail to the old stones, looking for a suitable place to sit and eat.

At the end of the trail they find a courteous commissionaire and a firm warning that they must not attempt to eat there. The reason given is the fire hazard and any who attempted to light fires would indeed be causing serious risk, but it seems little harm could be done by those who lighted no fire. In any event there should be a sign at the parking lot saying picnics are not allowed and thus avoid the later disappointment of those who carry their lunches to the ruins.

A fleeting reflection is that Mr. King would not have liked his well-loved lookout to be littered with picnic parties. If memory of his wishes is to be the guiding rule the commissionaire had better be instructed to stop visitors smoking, because Mr. King did not favour tobacco.

With Lefty Sturgeon pitching seven-hit ball, the Sugar Bowl shut out Harrison's 7-0 in the first game of the city league playoffs.

1942 J. D. Thomas of Goderich, whose hobby is the promotion of conservation and reforestation, was a visitor to the city on his way to enquire into the progress of the Ganaraska scheme.

Plazas rallied in the ninth inning for four runs to defeat Soldiers 5-4 in the first of the softball playoffs.

Wartime houses in Peterborough are commended for flower gardens and shrubbery work to beautify housing districts.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the word of the Lord came unto Zechariah, saying, Thus speaketh the Lord of hosts, saying, Execute true judgment, and shew mercy and compassions every man to his brother. (Zech. 7: 8, 9.)

✧ ✧ ✧

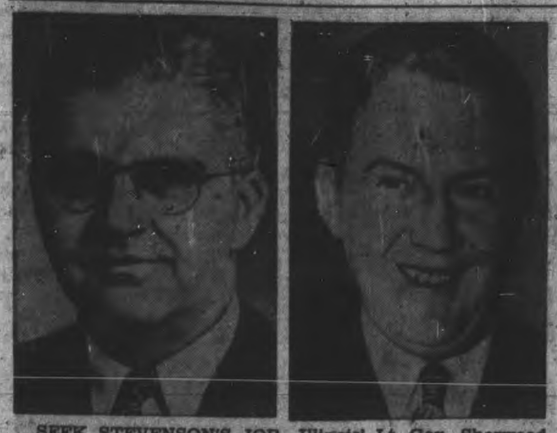
And, behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of David. And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou son of David.

And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you? They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him (Matt. 20: 30-34.)

Letter To The Editor

NOT UNVEILED



Sir: I resigned from the city council last April. At that time the council made arrangement to erect a memorial in memory of the four firemen who lost their lives doing their duty.

The bronze memorial was put on the wall in the main office in May of this year, with flags covering the memorial. To this day nothing has been done toward the unveiling. Surely our council have not forgotten these brave men already? Let us have some action and get the unveiling for this memorial.

Yours truly,
NORMAN G. GRAHAM.

MOM-WINNER

SEEK STEVENSON'S JOB—Illinois' Lt.-Gov. Sherwood Dixon, LEFT, seemed a shoo-in for the nomination to succeed Gov. Adlai Stevenson for the gubernatorial nomination. He had the Democratic presidential nominee's blessing as the "logical successor." But a roadblock was thrown by Secy. of State Edward J. Barrett, RIGHT, who announced he's after the nomination and has no intention of withdrawing from the race. The nominee is chosen by the state central committee, composed of one member from each of the 25 Illinois congressional districts.

Hospital Closes One Of Floors

NEWMARKET (CP)—The 65-bed York County hospital has been forced to close one of its two floors because of a shortage of nurses during summer vacation period.

Although it has a long waiting list of patients, the hospital lacks nurses for the rest of August. The 20 beds on the ground floor are empty. All patients are being treated on the second floor.

The hospital serves an 800-square-mile area north of Toronto.

Inspector Says Hospital InGoodCondition

WINDSOR (CP) — An Ontario government hospital inspector yesterday described maintenance and food service at the 350-bed East Windsor Hospital for Incurables as "generally good."

But he told a provincial government commission which is investigating the hospital's affairs that there are too few registered nurses on the staff and that hospital superintendent Dr. P. J. G. Morgan's duties are too heavy for one man.

Dr. M. E. J. Stalker, who inspected the hospital at the commission's request, said the hospital is well-maintained and clean throughout. There were supplies of bedding and linen adequate for any number of bed changes.

GENERALLY GOOD

He said that though there were only two registered nurses on the hospital's staff at the time of his inspection last week, the care of patients was "extremely good." He felt that a minimum of four registered nurses should be on duty at all times.

Dr. Morgan's duties, which involved administering the hospital and looking after the patients, were "too much to expect of one man."

The inquiry, now in its 11th week, is continuing.

Social Credit Gains 3 Seats

EDMONTON (CP)—The Social Credit government Thursday added three members to its already impressive majority as late returns from Tuesday's provincial election trickled in.

Two of the government members elected in Edmonton, where a Progressive Conservative and a Liberal also were returned to complete the seven-member roster in the Alberta capital.

Social Credit candidates have won 48 of the 61 seats compared to three Liberals, two Progressive Conservatives, one C.C.F. and one Independent Social Credit. Last night, six seats were still doubtful —Social Credit leading in four, a Liberal in one and a C.C.F. in one.

Settle Ore Dispute

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) The wage dispute between Algoma Ore Properties and Local 3933 of the United Steel Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) was settled yesterday. The new agreement—of which no details have been released—affects some 500 workers at Algoma Steel's iron mine at Wawa, 130 miles to the north.

Musical Ride

TORONTO (CP)—A revised version of the R.C.M.P. musical ride will be presented at grandstand shows at the Canadian National Exhibition, Aug. 22 to Sept. 6. Earlier it was reported the 32 men and the mounts would not fit into the grandstand show spot. Mayor Allan Lamport said yesterday that the ride would be cut to 24 members.

Bricklayers Return

OAKVILLE (CP)—Twenty bricklayers on the new Ford of Canada plant who quit work July 21 because the construction firm ordered them to punch time clocks will return to work Monday. Union officials announced the men will punch a clock "on their own time" in the morning and will be allowed five minutes of company time to punch out at night.

Prairie Weeklies Find Sales Tax Big Problem

REGINA (CP)—A. W. Hanks of St. James, Man., president of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association, today said that Prairie weekly newspapers are facing a costly problem in the over-payment of the federal sales tax on newsprint supplies.

Mr. Hanks told the annual meeting of the Saskatchewan division of the C.W.N.A. the sales-tax is being paid on the invoice price at Prairie wholesale distribution points. Wholesalers said they were unable to provide a breakdown between freight costs and the remaining invoice cost. Tax, therefore, was being paid on freight rates.

Mr. Hanks said the problem was peculiar to the Prairies. A cost breakdown was provided to Ontario points.

Movie Column

Curtis Makes Excellent Film Magician

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Amateur magicians and people who do card tricks have always been a bore, but my interest quickened when Tony Curtis went into his act.

"Now I take this red ball, and suddenly, it disappears. Coops, here it is."

And so he made a red ball multiply into many red balls. Not bad. Then he did a routine with some steel rings, picked some playing cards out of the air and made them vanish.

"How's that for a beginner?" Curtis asked proudly.

His performance was part of his homework for his role in "Houdini," in which he'll impersonate the famed magician.

SERIOUS WORK

"I've been practicing magic for a week and a half already," he explained. "I come to the studio for three hours to learn under George London, then I work at home for four or five hours. And I'm not even on salary yet.

That doesn't matter. I'm so nuts about this part that I want to look like a magician. I know the studio could show close-ups of some other guy doing the tricks, but I wouldn't feel right about it. It'll give the picture an added value if people see me doing the trick myself."

George London, who was stage manager for Thurston, Blackstone and other great magic acts, expressed amazement at the ability of his pupil. "Why, Tony is doing tricks after 10 days that most new magicians would have to work on for 30 weeks," he said.

London said the secret of Houdini's greatness was showmanship. "His greatest trick was the Chinese torture. He allowed himself to be shackled and lowered head down into water. We'll show that in the picture, and Tony will do it himself."

Will magical secrets be exposed in the film?

"Oh, no," London assured. "Houdini never believed in giving away his secrets. The only thing he exposed was fake spiritualism."

Vote To Strike

QUEBEC (CP) — Workers of Davie Shipbuilding company and George T. Davie and Sons, Ltd., last night voted to take strike action to enforce demands for higher wages. The workers, members of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor and its affiliated metal workers syndicate, authorized unions heads to call a strike which would throw some 2,500 employees out of work unless the companies grant a 15-cent hourly wage boost.

Tom Gard's Note Book

Sometimes little feet come home from school quite cold, or wet after snow or rain needing a quick change to something warm and dry. The answer might be found in an article used by Hurons, Iroquois and Algonquins of other days"—a pair of moccasins.

MOCCASINS

Thin leather or felt makes good working material. Departmental stores provide working kits and patterns should the craftsman wish to do a finished job. Perhaps it is best to try a pair from felt, first cutting out a pattern for guidance. The cross stitch gives strength, and tone if it is a bright colour. Insoles can be added, or stitched on the bottom of the moccasin for added strength.

BROOM AND TOOL RACK

Nothing is so exasperating to a housewife as to find equipment scattered all over the place. (We often find the gardener does the same with garden articles such as watering can, cultivator, flower pots, etc.) A good citizen of Chatham made an attractive rack for his wife, in which she placed articles she was constantly using. Now she says, "Well, at least we know where to find them".

GARDEN TOOLS

If we expect to find things decently in order indoors, then perhaps the same applies to the yard. The enemy of metal is rust, often due to excess moisture. Garden tools may be housed in a discarded packing case. The side or bottom is removed, then replaced towards the middle, forming a shelf. A slat across the front completes the assembly. If the top is covered with a piece of used linoleum it keeps out the weather. I asked the gardener "What could be more simple" and I was astonished to hear him say, "Well, the wife says I am". However, this man's work in home and garden proved him to be the good citizen.

WALL BRACKETS

If it can be said "We are nearer God's heart in a garden than any place on earth", then why not have a little of it indoors for winter. I suppose this was the philosophy of the man in Goderich who made the pair of wall brackets. Small holes were bored at the widest places, permitting a bolt to hold pots or hoop. Small blocks kept the brackets from touching the wall. Cut with a fret saw from pieces of B.C. Fir plywood, leave natural or paint to desired colour. Vines such as vince, ivy and philodendron like light, but not too much water. Lift the pots out and set them in water. When the moisture shows on the surface, let drain and replace in the bracket. Plants do not like what is sometimes called "wet feet".

AROUND THE HOME

HANDY TIPS

FOR FINISH: When sanding down a board for a smooth surface, always go with the grain. After coat of shellac or lacquer, rub with steel wool along the grain. Then give second coat.

ALWAYS OIL GOOD TOOLS for summer, so the damp basement will not induce rust. Polish them up with emery paper occasionally.

After using TROWELS, always wash off the cement or mortar to prevent hardening. This makes the next job easier. To prevent rusting, rub with oil.

Grease the SAW when not in use, as this prevents rust doing damage.

The amateur craftsman should never ruin the "set" of a saw by sharpening it himself. Let the man who knows how do the job. Knowledge of this kind of thing only comes with experience.

Stinson Gives 2 Hits But Petes Win 2-0 On Squeeze Play

For the second time within a week Joe Stewart's senior Petes eked out a win Thursday night in Riverside Park by using the old squeeze play. Facing the hitless pitching of Kingston's Wally Stinson, the Petes used the play in the sixth inning, resulting in two runs to edge the Limestone City nine 2-0. The win placed the Petes out in front in the three-team league with a margin of one-and-a-half games over the second place Kingston. Belleville Redmen follow closely in third. Kingston is host to the Petes Saturday night.

IN TROUBLE TWICE—Petes' hurler Bill Dadson (top), relieved pressure both times Thursday night to win over Kingston 2-0. Dadson with runners on board in the seventh struck the side out and then in the eighth helped pick Eric Rank off between first and second. The Petes return to Kingston Saturday where Phil Clancy (lower) will likely be nominated to take the Peterborough mound—(Examiner Staff Photos).

Last Friday night the Petes in the ninth employed the squeeze play, featuring Fred Garvey and Joe Lowrey, for a 5-4 victory over Belleville.

Again Thursday night Fred Garvey laid the wood to the ball in the squeeze with bases loaded and none out in the sixth.

Don Pagett raced across during the mad confusion with the first run. Kingston's first sacker, Don Gilmour, bobbled the ball when trying to tag out Garvey and Bill Dadson went across with the second run. That was all the Petes needed.

Actually that was the only time during the nine innings that Kingston's Stinson was in serious trouble. In fact up to then by using a slow curve Stinson had pitched hitless ball.

SCORING PLAY

Pagett singled to centre to start the sixth off and moved down to second when Kingston catcher Clark Carnegie errored on Dadson's bunt. Both runners were safe. Kingston tried to cut off Pagett when Lowrey connected but falied, loading the bases. After Bill Edger struck out, Garvey pulled the squeeze.

Immediately after that Stinson took control again, forcing the Petes to ground out twice. The only other hit off his pitching was by Edger in the eighth, but he died on first.

Backed by excellent fielding, especially by centre fielder, Joe Lowrey, Dadson threw one-hit ball in the pitchers' duel until the seventh. Then he gave up a single, followed by a fielder's choice which went amiss to leave two aboard. He struck out the side to relieve that pressure.

Kingston pressed a second time in the eighth but again Dadson removed that threat. With Stinson on third, and Rank on first, Dadson caught Rank napping off the sack. Garvey and Edger, keeping an eye on Stinson, ran down Rank. Stinson stayed on third as the Petes promptly retired the side on a strikeout and fly.

Two Coaches Acquitted In Calgary Row

CALGARY (CP) — Coach Les Lear and Assistant Coach Ed Champagne yesterday were acquitted of charges of assaulting player Mel Embree of the Calgary Stampeders football club.

Lear and Champagne were charged with injuring Embree in a dressing-room fracas July 31, after an argument concerning Embree's contract.

In a crowded courtroom today, Embree retracted part of his earlier story.

"If I said anything about being beaten up because I refused to sign a contract, it wasn't what I meant," he said.

Lineman Roy Jensen said he was responsible for facial injuries which Embree said were inflicted by Lear in the dressing room. Jensen said he had been in four fights with Embree during scrimmage.

Champagne and Lear both denied striking Embree. They said they were angry at the player for leaving the field without permission. But Embree stuck to his story.

"Champagne held the door and pushed me away when I tried to get out," he said. "Lear knocked me down and kicked me on the side of the head while I was on the floor." Then he said Lear told him he was "through" and to "get out of town."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By DON GRANT

Because a woman took over the reins of a floundering junior baseball organization, baseball in Peterborough during the next few years should flourish like in the old C.O.B.L. days.

Even the most enthusiastic ball fans don't know much about the junior club other than it's in the Lakeshore intermediate league, has won a few games, lost some and will enter Ontario junior play. A woman rescued the dying team is not widely known.

This spring Gord Snape Sr., a former Inter-County player, started to organize a junior ball club. For games the club was entered in the higher intermediate bracket, the Lakeshore League. But the team was withdrawn when there was friction between the senior and junior clubs over player-raiding.

For a while it appeared there might be no senior club, but it rallied under old stalwarts. Yet the junior club seemed doomed to die.

Mrs. Eric Frizzelle Steps Into Picture

There the woman stepped in. Mrs. Eric Frizzelle, 566 Chamberlain St., not wanting to see the junior project fall through, she went to work. She took up where Mr. Snape left off.

Mrs. Frdizzelle went out on her own and began the task of arranging sponsors for uniforms. Appealing to local merchants she managed to round up 18 businessmen to buy uniforms which cost about $25 a player. Mrs. Frizzelle also collected cash donations which helped purchase baseballs, bats, catcher's pads and other equipment.

"Mrs. Frizzelle called me about managing the club," said Shockey Mein, one of the two coaches. "Why, I hadn't been in the ball park since the stands were torn down. But things had to be done quickly and I accepted."

Mrs. Frizzelle and Shockey asked catcher Al Menzies of the senior Petes to coach; he agreed, saying that he would give "as much time as possible."

But the job of talking the juniors back into the Lakeshore League remained. Dr. Cliff McKee was elected club president and with a delegation attended a Lakeshore meeting in Port Hope.

Dr. Cliff McKee Wins His Point

After having two Peterborough teams pull out of the league midway through the season in the past four years, league members were not fussy about the juniors. But Dr. McKee talked the Young Petes in.

Mrs. Frizzelle's work was not finished there. She lined up transportation for the 12 out-of-town games. This expensive item for any team has hardly cost the club a cent.

"The cost has been very little," said Shockey, "in fact the cars are all practically donated."

At first the team lived up to the league's feeling that the juniors would be weak. But opposing teams have seen a drastic change during the schedule and are happy now that the Young Petes were in the league.

Boys Popular Players Out of Town—No Support At Home

Out-of-town the team is drawing crowds equal to any of the intermediate clubs and are popular with the fans. In Peterborough, only relatives attend; the fans haven't realized that the boys play heads up ball.

The Junior Petes stand fifth in the league, which considering the others are intermediate, is good. Their record is eight wins in 22 games, winning over all clubs but the league-leading Bowmanville Roses.

Already the effect of a junior club on baseball in Peterborough has been seen. In several games recently the seniors have used juniors, the latest in the Petes' 5-4 win over Belleville when Don Bigford pinch-hit. A good junior club will provide material for the senior club.

Shockey Mein believes a four-team junior league could be operated easily in Peterborough.

"Chaps out in the district want to play baseball, not softball, and with them a city league could be organized," said Mein. "This league could supply players for the seniors and they wouldn't have to bring in imports."

Before the Young Petes begin Ontario playoffs, baseball fans will be able to see the boys in action at a booster night similar to the senior club's. They'll then realize that the club is good.

US Team Favored To Take Tennis Match

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada and the United States meet today in singles matches in the final round of the North American zone Davis Cup tennis tie. The Americans are heavily favored to win, but the Canadians hope to come up with a few surprises.

One surprise came yesterday when short, wiry Henri Rochon was selected as a starter in place of the more powerful Brendan Macken who opened against the Mexicans last week.

Rochon takes on Herb Flam in the first match and Lorne Main meets Vic Seixas in the second.

ROCHON UNORTHODOX

Dr. Georges Leclerc, Canadian non-playing captain, and rated one of the top tennis strategists in the country, said he chose Rochon because of his unorthodox game, and left Macken out because his game, although powerful was orthodox to a degree and the Americans had the answer to it.

He said this did not mean that Macken had in any way dropped as the best player on the Canadian team.

Rochon plays all over the court. His favorite is a drop shot, but he also comes through with short-angle shots and a terrific underslice to the corners. To top it all, he is a left-hander and looks much like a table tennis player who has switched to grass courts. His ground strokes are not severe, but he volleys well though not strongly.

Flam, to counteract Rochon's game, has particularly good change of pace and a lot of touch and control. When he gets in a tough spot, his favorite tactic is to lob high.

Main too has an unusual game which could cause 29-year-old team captain Vic Seixas plenty of trouble.

For one thing he uses both hands most of the time, and is said to have one of the best returns of service in tennis. If Seixas puts his usual power behind his serve, Lorne should send it screaming back at him if he isn't aced.

UEW Capture Taylor Trophy Win 9-8 Over Seabrookes

Lakefield Trounces Revoys

U.E.W. climaxed a fine late-season drive Thursday night at the Bowl, by defeating Seabrooke Motors 9-8 in the opener of a sudden-death twin-bill to decide final standing in the men's senior softball league. The victory, U.E.'s seventh straight since July 1, enables Buck Legrow's fighting squad to win the Taylor Trophy awarded the team finishing first in the regular season schedule. Lakefield Merchants trounced Revoy Motors in the afterpiece 20-4, to snare third spot in the final standing, two points up on the latter. Prior to these games U.E. and Seabrooke's, Revoys and Lakefield, jointly shared first and second places respectively. City championship play-offs find U.E.W. opposed to Revoys and Seabrooke's versus Lakefield in the semi-finals, as a result.

Howie Dalton, veteran of many softball wars, hurled for U.E.W. opposing durable Terry Woods with honors about even, in a clean but hard fought game to the finish. Each twirler was hit hard in spots and each felt the sting of costly bobbles at vital times by his mates. Each twirled a stout-hearted game, with the issue much in doubt till Bill Lewis' fielders choice forced Ron Scriver for the final out, in the ninth. Dalton was touched for 11 hits, struck out five and walked two; Woods was nicked for 10 bingles, fanned three and passed two.

Manager Buck Legrow led his team's offensive with five solid hits for a perfect night, including a triple; he drove in two runs and scored three. Dalton hit two for four, one a long homer in the third with two aboard, while Reg Leether had a like total and scored a pair.

For the vanquished, in a tough defeat, Russ Scriver hit two for four, one a double and scored a pair; Speed Cury had two for five, with a double and triple and a pair scored; Neil Thompson belted a homer with Spencer aboard in the seventh to tie the score, but U.E. came back in their half for three and the Sullivan boys' rally for two in the eighth fell just short with no further scoring.

A bumper crowd thrilled and cheered each move by either team to the echo, in a thrilling duel. Jake Wade and Bill Lewis pulled off sparkling catches.

19 HITS

Lakefield fell on Dave Hayes for 19 bingles, as a short-handed Revoy squad had a disastrous night, both afield and at bat, to whip the hitherto pesky crew by a tidy margin. The losers kicked in 10 errors to cap off an off night and sink to fourth place in the final standing.

Kevin Heffernan (Oddfellow hockey star) hurled for Merchants, his first full game of season and turned in an effective effort after a shaky start. Each team scored a pair in the first but thereafter Merchants' defence tightened up well and the homesters found Heff's sling shots hard to hammer. He allowed but seven hits in all, with doubles by Jack Mather and Bobby Nelson, star shortstop. He fanned four and passed but two; and despite five not too seedy errors, his support held up well over the route, in a well-deserved victory.

Leading stickers for Merchants included: Jolting Joe Blewett with three for five, one a homer and two RBI's; Bill Twist with a like average; John Cupoli, Cam Wasson, Fran Loyst, John Lickley, Heffernan and Gord Henry each with two safeties with triples by Loyst and Lickley. Henry and Heffernan each drove in two runs in the wild tussle. Bob Nelson had two hits for the losers.

Fielding stars were: Red Wasson, Nelson, Ralph Clysdale, Perc Elmhirt and Doug Whalen.

Sharp Note Captures Hambletonian

By JOHN CHANDLER

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP) — Sharp Note played a sweet $47,236 tune in the 27th Hambletonian stake yesterday, and his daddy—Phonograph—isn't a failure as a sire after all.

The bay three-year-old copped the $87,637 trotting derby at Good Time Park in two straight heats after Hit Song won the first dash.

Sharp Note is owned by C. W. Clark of Dearborn, Mich., who got the colt as a yearling from the Walnut Hall Farm, Lexington, Ky., for $1,000. A year ago this month, Phonograph was discarded as a failure in the stud. He was bought for a reported $10,000 by Charles Gorman of the Riverview Farm, Marcy, N.Y.

Phonograph had raced in the 1943 Hambletonian, but could do no better than third. Since retiring to stud, Phonograph had never sired a son or daughter that did anything worth mentioning until Sharp Note number went up on the tote board yesterday.

OLDEST DRIVER

Bi Shively, 74, a veteran of the Spanish American War who served in the Philippine Islands, drove the winner—his first Hambletonian victory in three tries. In doing so, he became the oldest driver to win one.

Sharp Note, whose dam is Rose Mary Hanover by Guy McKinney, broke stride at the start of the opening heat, and finished 10th. In the second heat he took command in the stretch and bounced home a length winner over the disappointing Duke of Lullwater, pre-race favorite. In the deciding heat, Sharp Note flew to the wire a couple of lengths ahead of Hit Song, with Duke of Lullwater third.

Best time was 2:02 3-5 in the second heat.

Cards Closing On Brooks Whip Cincinnati Reds 7-4

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Eddie Stanky, the brash freshman, and Steve O'Neill, the old greybeard back for another try, are turning the National League into a four-club race while Brooklyn and New York trade punches in a private neighborhood brawl. The Dodgers and Giants seem to be concerned only with the yes or no of "a miracle of '52." The Brooks gather around Chuck Dressen to "stop the Giants" and the Giants charge at Leo Durocher's call to "remember last year." Neither pays much attention to the onrushing Cards and Phillies.

The Cards closed in within 2½ games of the first-place Dodgers last night by whipping Cincinnati 7-4, as Brooklyn rebounded from an afternoon 8-3 defeat to top New York 7-5 in the night half of their day-night doubleheader.

Philadelphia, winning 28 of 40 starts since O'Neill replaced Eddie Sawyer as manager, swept a pair from Boston Braves, 2-1 and 10-2, behind Robin Roberts and Russ Meyer. Roberts' three-hitter was his 17th victory.

Nobody gained anything in the American except seventh-place St. Louis Brownies, who are too far back to make any difference. The leading New York Yankees split with Washington, losing the first 4-2 but copping the second 7-1 on Bob Kuzava's four-hitter. Boston Red Sox dropped the first of two at Philadelphia, 7-5, but came back to break even, 8-4. The Brownies won their second straight 12-inning game from Detroit, 5-4, on Gordon Goldsberry's double.

Cleveland and Chicago in the American and Chicago and Pittsburgh in the National were not scheduled.

FAIL IN BIG FOR SWEEP

The "big" series in the Polo Grounds went to the Giants, two games to one, but their bid for a dramatic sweep fell short As a result they picked up only one game on the Dodgers and still trail by 5½.

Al Corwin, recalled from Minneapolis in time to appear in two games last Sunday, relieved in the night game in fifth appearance in five games since he joined the Giants.

Hoyt Wilhelm's dancing knuckler helped Corwin home with his second win in the day game as Hank Thompson, Al Dark and Davey Williams ripped into loser Carl Erskine and two others for 12 hits.

The Dodgers made short work of George Spencer, Durocher's second surprise starter, after the Durocher night ceremonies starting with Campanella's bases-loaded home run in the first.

Red Wings Blank Buffalo In 10-0 Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ellis (Cot) Deal, veteran outfielder-pitcher for Rochester Red Wings, almost added his name to list of International League pitchers who have hurled no-hit no-run games.

Deal missed the boat by an eyelash last night as he pitched the Wings to a 10-0 victory over Buffalo Bisons. Rookie shortstop Bill Tuttle spoiled Deal's bid by beating out an infield hit to open the fifth inning. Pete Riggan and Rip Repulski made Deal's 11th victory an easy one by pounding out homers.

Meanwhile, Montreal Royals stretched their lead to eight games over Syracuse by beating the Chiefs 5-2 in 14 innings.

LASORDA GOES ROUTE

Second-baseman Carl Bell's error admitted the tie-breaking run and winning pitcher Tom Lasorda followed with a two-run single to sew it up. Lasorda went all the way and restricted the Chiefs to eight hits. The Royals collected eight safeties off Bobo. Holoman, who worked the first seven innings, and Arnie Landeck, who finished up.

Springfield Cubs took both ends of a doubleheader from Ottawa's tail-end Athletics, 1-0 and 6-3. Dewey Adkins hung up his ninth victory in 10 decisions in the opener, winning out on Red McQuillen's scoring single in the fourth.

Spec Padget posted his 10th victory in the second game. Mickey Rocco sparked the Cubs' attack, driving in four runs on three singles.

Baltimore Orioles and Toronto Maple Leafs were idle.

Claxton Presents 2 Army Medals

OTTAWA (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton was to formally present Korea-won decorations to two of Canada's senior army officers at Kingston today.

The awards, previously announced, are Officer of the military division of the Order of the British Empire.

They go to Lt.-Col. Jacques A. Dextraze, D.S.O., 32, of Montreal, former commander of the 2nd battalion of the Royal 22nd Regiment, and Lt.-Col. Donald H. Rochester, 35, Toronto, former commander of the 57th Canadian independent field squadron, Royal Canadian Artillery.

Col. Dextraze is attending Canadian army staff college in Kingston and Col. Rochester is a member of the directing staff at the college.

SIGNING OFF—William Ball and his daughter look at a sign by a Minneapolis park lake that used to read: "Danger, No Swimming Allowed," but now conveys a different message. Police think part of the sign was erased by pranky kids carrying bathing suits.

Roses Staging Battle Before Courts

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Holm Rose, accused her showman husband, Billy Rose, of making "false and terrible" charges against her honor in the latest round of their public marriage bout.

Yesterday it was Billy's day. He claimed that the details of his married life with the former swimming star were "enough to make a strong man weep."

His outraged bellow was prompted by a criminal libel charge lodged against him Monday in California by Mrs. Dorothy Bernie, widow of radio's "Old Maestro" Ben Bernie. Mrs. Bernie based her complaint on an affidavit Rose obtained from her former New York maid, Mrs. Alberta Jones, detailing alleged events in Mrs. Bernie's apartment.

SEEKS MAINTENANCE

Rose is suing for divorce in New York State where the only ground is adultery. His wife is suing for a separation with maintenance.

Today was Eleanor's day. Through the office here of her attorney, Louis Nizer, she issued a statement which said in part:

"I can only say that my attorney and I from the first never attempted to exploit Billy's moral and financial vulnerability. It has been difficult in the light of his campaign of shocking calumny which has and still is to be exposed, to preserve a sense of dignity.

"His penuriousness is responsible for the impasse."

OFFERS MORE THAN ALY

Rose said that last October he offered his estranged wife "a darn sight more than Aly Khan offered Rita Hayworth."

"As far as I know," Rose told his interviewers, "Aly Khan hasn't even sent a box of pablum (baby food) to Yasmin (daughter of the film star and the Indian prince.)"

Rose and his wife separated about a year ago after actress Joyce Matthews, former wife of Milton Berle, cut her wrists in Rose's apartment in the Ziegfeld theatre building, which he owns.

Three Words Double Man's Jail Sentence

OAKVILLE (CP)—Three words doubled Clayton McCutcheon's jail sentence yesterday.

Convicted of causing a disturbance outside his home, he was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

McCutcheon said: "That's fine justice."

The magistrate said: "That's 30 more days."

New York Tribune Praises McCullagh

NEW YORK (CP)—George McCullagh was an influential leader whose opinions were respected in Washington and London, as well as in his own capital, the New York Herald Tribune says today in an editorial. The Toronto publisher died Tuesday night.

"The untimely death of George McCullagh at the age of 47 is a sore blow not only to his Canadian friends but also to those in the United States and Britain who knew and admired him," The Herald Tribune says.

Cattle Prices Hold Steady

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario stockyards cattle prices this week held steady on cows and bulls but sold strong on better quality steers and heifers. Calves sold $1 higher while lambs and hogs remained unchanged.

The cattle run for the week was heavy at 6,134 head with 200 left unsold at the close. Trading was generally slow for the week. Choice weighty steers sold at $27.50-$28 with a few bringing $28.50 and good steers selling from $26-$27, common sold downward to $20. Good heifers were at $25.50-$26 with a few loads bringing $26.25. Cows closed at $17.50-$19.50 for medium to good and up to $23 for heifer cows. Common cows brought $14-$15 while canners sold as low as $10.

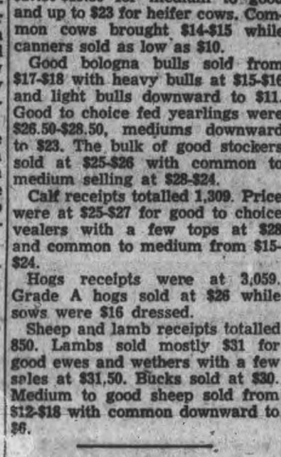
Good bologna bulls sold from $17-$18 with heavy bulls at $15-$16 and light bulls downward to $11. Good to choice fed yearlings were $26.50-$28.50, mediums downward to $23. The bulk of good stockers sold at $25-$26 with common to medium selling at $28-$24.

Calf receipts totalled 1,309. Price were at $25-$27 for good to choice vealers with a few tops at $28 and common to medium from $15-$24.

Hogs receipts were at 3,059. Grade A hogs sold at $26 while sows were $16 dressed.

Sheep and lamb receipts totalled 850. Lambs sold mostly $31 for good ewes and wethers with a few sales at $31.50. Bucks sold at $30. Medium to good sheep sold from $12-$18 with common downward to $6.

Must Label Furs Properly In U.S.



WASHINGTON (CP) — Skunk's skunk, from now on.

President Truman's fur-labeling act, signed a year ago, goes into effect today.

The law says all fur coats and other fur garments must be advertised and sold under "the true English name of the animal from which the fur was taken."

Scratched are such 'aliases' as "black marten" for skunk, or "baltic lion" for rabbit, or "blue japanese wolf" for goat.

In Canada it is the practice to bracket the correct name of the fur after the trade name.

BECOMES CATHOLIC — Dr. Bella V. Dodd, once the top woman leader of the Communist Party in New York State, has been received into the Catholic faith. She was baptized in April, but no announcement was made then as she was under subpoena to testify before a Federal Grand Jury.

Facing Charge For Bribery

TORONTO (CP)—Frank Watson, charged with possession of counterfeit money, today faced an additional charge of bribing jail guard James Morrison.

Morrison, 30, was sentenced to two years in penitentiary after he pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to facilitate the planned escape of Leonard Jackson from Don jail.

Police said Watson gave Morrison $120, of which $100 was counterfeit, to smuggle a screwdriver in to Jackson. Morrison said he had also agreed to take guns to Jackson.

Jackson, who escaped from the jail more than a year ago, is charged with murder, attempted murder and robbery.

Ford Hopes To Resume Production Aug. 18

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Company said that "still lingering steel shortages" will force a closing next week of 18 of its 19 assembly plants in the United States. The firm said, however, that it hopes to "resume and maintain uninterrupted production around the 18th of August."

The shutdown will be the third since July 13.

Polio Cases Down

BROCKVILLE (CP)—The number of polio cases reported to the Leeds and Grenville health unit so far this summer is only three compared with 17 at the end of July, 1951. Last year the total number for the season in the two counties was 63.

Edmonton Man Returns Home

MONTREAL (CP)—Robert W. King of Edmonton, whose bride of two weeks was missing from the liner Ascania when it docked in Liverpool last week, arrived here yesterday by air from London on his way back to Edmonton.

Mr. King, 26, planned to drive home in his car, left in storage here when the couple sailed on their honeymoon for a month-long visit to Britain.

He told reporters he felt authorities had searched as thoroughly as they could for his 22-year-old bride, Benita, who disappeared while the vessel was at sea.

CHEX LOSES

Defeat finally came to CHEX's softball team Thursday night, when they were soundly trimmed 14-9 by Fontaine's All-Stars. Doug Burrows and Dave Clark pitched for the losers Herbie Heffernan for the all-stars.

HUNT MISSING CAR

Provincial police are still looking for a green English-model convertible that was taken Thursday morning from a garage lot at McDonnel and Reid Sts. The car was first noticed missing by garage employees who were going to finish a repair job on it.

NEW HONEY EXCELLENT

Ontario's new crop of honey is excellent in quality, but is lighter in quantity than last year, Allan T. Brown said today. On the basis of present production, Ontario beekeepers expect the price to continue firm, probably about the same level as last year. Consumers have already found new combs in the stores.

INJURED AT PLAYGROUND

While playing at Inverlea Park on Thursday evening, six-year-old John Triggs, 265 Swanston Ave., fell off a bench and broke his left arm. Playground supervisor Charles Stoddard hailed a passing car and the injured boy was taken to Dr. Bob Young's office. After the fractured arm was set and placed in a cast, he was allowed to return home.

A 26-LB. MUSKIE

One of the proudest fishermen in the Kawarthas today is Frank Wells of Frenchman's Bay, who landed a 26-pound muskie Thursday night in Pigeon Lake, not more than 100 yards off Birch Point. Mr. Wells has been staying at Birch Point Lodge with his family since last Saturday and until Thursday night his luck wasn't too good. He had eight or nine strikes with muskies but he couldn't boat any of them until the big one was well hooked Thursday night on a Heddon vamp. The muskie was 43 inches long.

NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY THRESHING is in full swing these days and at the farm of Harold Byers, three miles northeast of Port Hope, early oats are being threshed. Mr. Byers planted the crop in March on high ground and his yield was consequently far above average late plantings. The pre-combine scene in the (left) photo shows a standard separator being driven by a 20-year-old oil-burning tractor. Mrs. Byers (top right photo) cooked for and fed the ten-man threshing crew alone; though country bred and town reared she admits a farmer's wife has to work hard but that it is a good living. Her husband (lower right) shovels back the steady stream of oats pouring from the separator through a hole in the granary wall.—(Examiner Staff Photos)

False Alarm

The fire department turned out in force shortly after 11 p.m. Thursday when a fire was reported at the rear of the Walker Stores, 351-353 George St. It turned out that the fire was only an illusion. A nearby woman resident looked out her window and saw a wisp of smoke coming from the chimney against a background of reflected red light. The light was from signs on George St.

Crash With Car Injures Motorcyclist, 17

A motorcyclist was injured in a collision with a car at George and Sherbrooke Sts., Thursday evening.

Jim Bonner, 17, R.R. 11 Peterborough, was thrown against the car, driven by Albert Thorne, 352 Wolsley St., by the force of the impact. He was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where he received treatment for a broken right arm, a cut on the left side of his neck and bruises on his legs. He was attended by Dr. H. G. Carleton.

The accident occurred as the driver of the car which was travelling south, was making a left hand turn into a groceteria parking lot.

He told Constable John Conlin who investigated that he signalled to make the turn and that his view of oncoming traffic was obscured by a bus ahead of him. He said he did not see the motorcycle which was going through the Sherbrooke St. intersection until he was across the east side of the street.

The motorcycle driver applied his brakes but could not stop in time and slid into the side of the car.

Reckless Driving Charge Faces Transport Driver

A dangerous driving charge has been laid against Toby Voth, 21, of Virgil, driver of a transport involved in a head-on collision with a car July 9, in which Mrs. Bernice Hardy, 52, R.R. 2 Bowmanville was instantly killed.

Crown attorney John A. Bradshaw announced today that the charge had been laid, as a result of the verdict of a coroner's inquest Wednesday.

The jury's verdict said fatigue of the driver, faulty brakes and excessive speed of the transport caused the accident which occurred four miles south of Peterborough on Highway 28.

Coroner Dr. Herbert N. Young presided at the inquest and drew the jury's attention to Voth's evidence in which he stated "he had driven some 525 miles in about 20 hours and could not have had more than five and probably closer to four hours sleep before the accident and still had 175 miles to go."

A Mennonite Bible student, Voth said he had driven transport for about six months and was on his way back to St. Catharines from Ottawa when he said a hydro truck ahead of him stopped. He said he could not pass the truck on the right because of a car and trailer with a boat on it parked along the right hand side of the highway. He told the jury he applied his brakes but did not know how he got onto the other side of the highway.

The truck Voth was driving was on the wrong side of the highway when it and the oncoming Hardy vehicle collided head-on, killing Mrs. Hardy and seriously injuring her son Ronald, 21, who was driving the car.

From the verdict of the jury, it seemed likely that charges might be laid against the transport company which was employing Voth. However, any charges in connection with the accident would have had to be laid against the firm within ten days of the accident.

Model 'Plane Noise Said Irritating

Armour Rd. Residents Complain Of Lack of Courtesy

Making a racket like a nest of angry hornets, gas model airplanes zoom and dive over Nicholls Oval, annoying nearby residents until dark every night and all day Sunday.

Their nerves frayed by the monotonous drone and vibrating whine of the midget motors, most people living around the park regard the model flyers as an "irritating nuisance."

Although they are fed up with the nightly noise which begins early in the evening and continues until darkness, everyone interviewed on Friday in the area emphasized they were not cranks and do not want to spoil anyone's fun.

"If it were only for an hour or so it would be all right," was the comment of several women. However, they complain that it goes on all evening and anyone who likes to knock off a few extra hours sleep on Sunday mornings is aroused by the buzz-saw wail which starts about 10 a.m. and continues with only about an hour's let-up in the afternoon until late Sunday evening.

This is what really irritates people who like to sit out on their lawns and verandahs. They point out that the model planes are so noisy that they can't carry on a conversation with friends without shouting.

SHOW NO COURTESY

Everyone interviewed said they were living near a public park and expected some noise but in the case of the model airplanes they felt that too many people were being annoyed for the convenience of the few model fans who even fail to show the courtesy of refraining from flying their planes on Sundays.

Only two women said the planes did not annoy them, and they both added it had been going on for so long that they had become used to it.

A move to circulate a petition is being rumored in the neighborhood but it is not getting much support. The feeling appears to be that petitions only stir up controversy and more can be accomplished by bringing the problem to the attention of the offenders themselves.

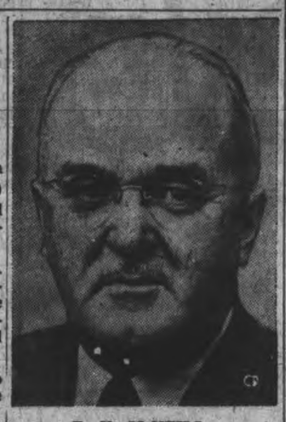
A.F.L. Council Asks For Charter

The embryo Peterborough Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.) have applied to the Trades and Labor Congress for a charter authorizing their council.

At present there are six A.F.L. unions in the group but they expect a membership of 16 when the organizational drive gets underway. About 600 workers would be represented.



Eventually, the council hope to include all A.F.L. unions in the area, including Lindsay.

A pro-tem executive has been set up with Glenn Price of Local 248 I.T.U., president. Others on the executive: Arnold Campbell, Local 520, Specialist Printers, vice-president; Cameron Wasson, Local 1655, I.B.E.W., financial secretary; Henry Nokes, Local 519, I.A.F.F., recording secretary; and Jack McEwen, Local 477, P.P.P.A.U., sergeant at arms.

The Peterborough and District Labor Council is chartered by the Canadian Congress of Labor which represents the C.I.O. in Canada. Only locals that are affiliated with or directly chartered to the C.C.L. belong to this council.

Peterborough's largest local, Local 524, representing the production workers at C.G.E., is independent.

The A.F.L. unions will likely hold their first regular meeting, and their first elections, in September.

E. V. McNEILL

Name McNeill Commissioner

Edwin V. McNeill, former provincial police inspector at district headquarters here in Peterborough, has been appointed deputy commissioner of the Ontario Provincial Police.

In June he was promoted from staff inspector to acting deputy commissioner and the rank of deputy has now been confirmed.

Deputy Commissioner McNeill has been a member of the force for 25 years, joining in 1927. He has served at detachments in Kitchener, Cornwall, Renfrew, Pembroke, Ottawa, Kitchener again, and Mount Forest.

In 1948 he was promoted from sergeant to district inspector and took over active duty at Peterborough headquarters in February of that year. He was inspector here for 18 months and then was succeeded by Carl W. Farrow.

NAMED WINDSOR CHIEF

When a scandal broke out last year in Windsor and charges of permitting gambling and corruption to go unchecked were levelled at the police of that city, the chief constable resigned. Inspector McNeill was appointed acting chief constable while an investigation was launched.

By a coincidental twist the new chief that the Windsor police commission decided on was Inspector Farrow who had succeeded Inspector McNeill in the Peterborough district. Inspector McNeill then returned to district headquarters here to head the O.P.P. until a permanent district inspector could be named.

The appointment went to Inspector J. A. Stringer who was transferred from Sudbury.

Inspector McNeill now lives in Toronto. His daughter, Mrs. Clare Galvin, lives in Peterborough.

Name Young Chemist Defence Bd. Secretary

OTTAWA (CP)—A brilliant young chemist who rose swiftly in the army in the last war today was named secretary of the Defence Research Board, the scientific arm of the Defence Department.

He is Dr. John Cameron Clunie, 34, of Sarnia, a former Rhodes Scholar who became a lieutenant-colonel at 26 and a colonel at 27 in wartime and then went to Oxford University to gain three degrees.

Dr. Clunie joined the research board a year ago. As secretary, he succeeds W.H. Barton of Ottawa who has been seconded to the department of External Affairs.

Two Peterboroughs Develop Reciprocal Interest By Visits

The two Peterboroughs appear to be developing the reciprocal interest that was initiated at the opening of the City Hall here. And with the interest are friendly ports of call at which visitors receive a special welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bunce of Peterborough, New Hampshire, accompanied by their two daughters, called Thursday at the City Hall. They had heard and read of the opening ceremony last October and of the official visit of their citizens, and after crossing the border they headed for this city.

When City Clerk Outram was informed of their presence, he undertook to conduct them through the municipal building, followed by a tour of the city and part of its outskirts, a visit of nearly two hours.

At the other end of this relationship, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown, Benson Street, recently called on Town Clerk Algie Holt on their way through Peterborough, N.H.

"It is a very charming town of about 2,500 people, set in the New England hills," Mr. Brown said.

City Clerk Outram said Mr. and Mrs. Bunce rated this Peterborough the most attractive city they had seen north of the border. They were surprised at the large proportion of houses of brick. Type of housing generally throughout the Northeastern States leans to wooden construction.
